Catalogue of Manuscripts.

1396 Gg. I. 1.

A small but very thick folio, on parchment, 633 leaves, chiefly double columns, of about 36 lines each, well written in a hand of the former half of the XIVth century; several diagrams and other illuminations; imperfect at the end.

A LARGE COLLECTION OF POETRY, chiefly in the Romance language, with some treatises in prose.

Two tables of contents are prefixed (fol. 1 to fol. 6 a); but they give a most inadequate idea of what follows.

1. 'Urbane curteis, en Romance.'

Begins (fol. 6 b):

Une sage home de graunt valour
Ki iadis uesquist en honur.

2. A few proverbs in the same metre (fol. 7 b).

3. 'Art de Kalendere, en Romance.'

Begins (fol. 8 a):

De geste ne uoil pas chaunter
Ne veilles estories cunter.

On fol. 16 a, col. 2, the author calls himself RAUF, and states that he composed his work in 1256. The colophon adds (fol. 16 b, col. 1) his surname: DE COMPOTU secundum RADULPHUM DE LYNHAM (see Oudinus, de Scriptor. III. 237). His portrait is most probably preserved in the initial letter.

4. Three short pieces in Latin, entitled De Baptismo, De Utilitate visionis Corporis Christi, Utilitates Missæ (fol. 16 b).

5. 'Lumiere as Lais, en Romance.'

Begins (after a long introductory Prayer, fol. 21 b):

Ore comence le romaunz
Qui n est pas as fous ne as enfaunz.

The first table of contents at the beginning of the volume is an analysis of this treatise. The author was Peres (Peter) de Pecchame (fol. 17 a). It is a kind of Summa Theologiæ arranged in the form of a dialogue, and divided into six books.

Ends (fol. 111 a):

Cest pater noster et aue marie
A la dame qe pur nous prie
Si issi seit sun fiz iesu Crist
Amen amen issi finist.

6. 'De les xv signes deuaunt le iour de iugement.'

Begins (fol. 111 a, col. 1):

Ciez tuz comunalment
Dount nostre sire nous reprent.

7. A short extract from Aristotle, beginning 'Quo cibo nutriatur in corpore conceptus,' is added to fill up the column (fol. 113 b, col. 1).

8. 'Romaunce de Amour' [i. e. Charity].

Begins (fol. 113 b, col. 2):

Amour, amour ou estes vous
Certes en mult poi de luys
Kar ieo ne os.

It contains many severe strictures on the morals of the times. The writer, if we may judge from the occurrence of such words as 'wapentak' (fol. 116 b, col. 1), was from the north of England.

9. 'Alcuns de les prophecies et des merueilles, qe Merlin dit en soun temps, de Engletere e des reis qe unt este puis le temps le rei Henri le derein qe nasquist a Wincestre, e de euz qe serrunt pur tuz iours mes en Engletere de lur auentures quenz il serrunt bons ou mauueis, moles ou dures:' in prose.

Begins (fol. 120 a, col. 2):

Un aiguel vendra hors qe auera blaunche laung.

Cf. Geoffrey of Monmouth, Lib. vii. c. 3. The 'late' king alluded to in the title was Henry III., born at Winchester in 1207.

10. A small Latin extract, De Perjurio.

11. 'Liure de la passioun nostre Seignur Jesu Crist, en Engleis:' the title given in the table of contents.

Begins (fol. 122 a):

Herkinth alle the wolle you telle
Of much pitie in mi spelle.

For other copies of this Passion, see above, Dd. i. 1, § 1.

12. 'Les Euangelies de tuz les Dominikes par ane od lur exposicions.'

These metrical Homilies proceed in the usual course from Advent (cf. above, Dd. I. 1, § 4). After a long dedication, 'a sa trechiere dame Aline' (fol. 135 a to fol. 139 b), the exposition commences:

Ihesus uint pres d une cite
Qui Jerusalem est apele
E quant il vint a Bethfage
Qi est al munt Oliue.

Ends (fol. 261 a, col. 2):

Ici finent les domenees
Breuement espuns e endites.
Ore prie tuz ke les vient e dient
K il pur Robert de Gretham prient
Ki Deu meintenge si sa vie
Ki par li sert en sa baillie
Amen Amen chescun en die.

Nothing more appears to be known of the author.

13. 'Septem Psalmi Penitencie:' single column.

Begins (fol. 261 a, col. 2):

Deu en tes vengemens ne me pernez Sire
En ceste siecle present si me chastiez sanz ire.

14. 'Romaunce del Aue Maria:' title in the table of contents.

Begins (fol. 264 a, col. 2):

Ave tresduce Marie, aue gloriouse.

15. 'De les cinc ioies nostre Dame.'

Begins (fol. 265 a, col. 1):

Vous ke nostre dame amez.

16. 'Del assumpcioun nostre Dame seinte Marie:' single column.

Begins (fol. 265 b):

Seignurs ore escutez ke Deu vous beneie
Pur sa mort doleruse ki nous dona la vie.

17. 'Le liure de les Lamentaciuns nostre Dame seinte Marie:' single column.

Begins (fol. 272 a):

Pur ceus et pur cels ki n'entendunt quant oient lire Latin.

This poem is substantially the same as Dd. I. 1, § 2.

18. 'Le tretiz ki mun seignur Gauter de Bitheswey fisit a madame Dyonise de Mountechensi pur aprise de langage.' This is only part of a prolix title.

(Fol. 280 a—fol. 294 a). The treatise is in French verse, so written as to admit of interlineations: and in many cases the English words corresponding to the more difficult parts of the text are inserted in red ink.

19. 'La Manuel de Pecchez.'

Begins (fol. 294 b, col. 1):

La uertu del seint espirit
Nous seit aidaunt en ceste escrit.

See, respecting the authorship, Ee. i. 20, § 1.

20. 'Le Brut, coment li bon rei Edward gaigna Escotz e Galis:' single column.

Begins (fol. 328 b):

Ky volt oyr des reys coment chescune vesquist
En le ille de Brutus Bretainne appeller feist
.....
Ki volt sauer la geste des grauntz e de petit
La pregnye de dan Peres ke lad mis en escrit.
De nostre reis Edward Schafeld li requist
Recorder la geste: escuter cum il dist.

This is the Chronicle of Peter Langtoft, which was translated into English by Robert de Brunne. The translation only is in print, ed. Hearne, 1725.

Ends with the following stanza (fol. 345 b):

For þare wer þai bal brend
He kauged ham þidre kend
And dreued to dote
For scottes at Dunbar
Haued at þayre gan char
Schame of þar note
Wer neuer dogges þere
Hurled out of herre
Fro coylthe ne cotte.

21. A few lines, in Latin, on the Joys of heaven.

22. 'Le ymage du mounde,' or 'La descripcioun de toute le mounde, en Romaunce:' sixty chapters and twenty-eight diagrams. A table of contents is prefixed: double columns.

Begins (fol. 347 a, col. 1):

Ki veot entendre a ceste liure
E sauoir coment il deit viure
E aprendre tiel clergie
Dunt meuz viuera tout sa vie.

Breaks off (fol. 389 b, col. 2):

Ac ici deuaunt vous escrit est
Coment li firmament fet est.

The diagrams, which are coloured, are very curious.

The treatise relates chiefly to natural philosophy, learning, and the liberal arts. On the English version of it printed by Caxton in 1481, see Dibdin's Typog. Antiq. i. 101 sq.

23. 'Du bounte des Femmez.'

Begins (fol. 390 b):

Cil fableurs trop me greuent
De rimeur qe ne seuent
Rimer counter for de fable
Escutez vn dist creable.

24. 'Credo in Deum, en Romance' (fol. 392 b).

25. 'Pater noster, en Fraunceis' (Ibid.)

26. 'Ave Maria, en Fraunceis' (Ibid.)

27. Prognostications derived from the day of the week on which Christmas falls. (cf. Ff. v. 48, §§ 18, 22).

Begins (fol. 393 a):

Ici comence la reison
Del tens del ane e de la seisoun.

28. A short piece in Latin, with the title Quando puer nascitur. (fol. 393 b, id. 1).

29. 'De etate hominis' (Ibid. col. 2): in Latin.

30. 'De sanguinis minucione' (Ibid.): in Latin.

31. 'De recepcione medicinarum' (fol. 394 a, col. 1): in Latin.

32. 'De tonitruo experimenta' [i.e. prognostications]: fol. 394 b: in Latin.

33. 'Sentencie Danielis,' or 'Soungarii de Daniel le prophete' [rules for the interpretation of dreams]: fol. 394 b to fol. 397 b: in Latin.

34. 'De Sacramentis Ecclesie:' in Latin.

Begins (fol. 397 b):

Quot sunt sacramenta Ecclesie? septem: que patent per hos versus...

35. 'La Romance del seinte croyz e de Adam nostre primere piere' [the common legend, connecting the wood of the Cross with the Tree of Life].

Begins (fol. 399 b):

Qui vodra sauer e oyer de la verrai croiz.

36. A short extract, entitled 'Inuenit Jeronimus in annalibus Judeorum de XV diebus ante diem judicii' (fol. 402 b, col. 2).

37. 'Compendium historiarum Biblie.'

Begins (fol. 403 a):

Vos qui concupiscitis statum vestrum scire
Hec sigina tractabitis que dant inuenire.

Ends (fol. 404 b):

De relicta repetit erit maledictus.

38. 'Miraculum sancte Marie Virginis,' or 'Une bele miracle de nostre Dame.'

Begins (fol. 404 b, col. 2):

Entre les oueraines de charite.
Ke ad fet la reyne par sa pite.

Ends (fol. 406 b, col. 2):

Benoit soit la mere nostre seignur
Par qe est acheue cele iceste labour. Amen.

39. 'Liure de la Pochalipse [i. e. the Revelation], en Fraunceis, od les exposicions,' or 'La Pocalipse, en Romance;' with fifty-five illuminations.

After the Preface (fol. 407) follows a translation of chap. 1, vv. 9 sq.:

E Johan nostre frere est parcener en tribulacioun e en regne, en pacience en Jhū Christ fu en vn ysle qe est apelee Pathmos pur la parole Dieu e testemonie Jhu Crist. E fu en espirit per vne dymaine...

At least one leaf is wanting after fol. 421 and fol. 423.

Ends (fol. 439 b):

...e nous doint issi en li viure e morir qe nous puissiun oue li en sa glorie en cors e en alme saunz fin regner. Amen.

40. 'Le Liure qe est appeleé le Set Sages, en Romaunce.'

Begins (fol. 440 a):

A Rome out vne empereour qi out a noun Dioclicien...

Respecting the nature and origin of this work, see above, Dd. i. 17, § 21.

41. 'De Phisenemie' [Physiognomy], in prose.

Begins (fol. 464 b):

Ove ceste phisenemie voudra iuger ne mette ia sa entente en vn soul significacioun...

42. 'La nature de home par sa naissaunce' [a series of prognostications]: fol. 466 b to fol. 469 a.

43. 'XVII Pointz qe deiuent estre en confession' (fol. 469 a).

44. 'Inquisiciones generales in confessionibus' (fol. 470 a): in Latin.

45. 'Expositio Orationis Dominice' (fol. 470 b): in Latin.

46. 'De Origine et Pena Pilati:' in Latin.

Begins (fol. 472 b):

Rex fuit quidam qui puellam nomine Pilam filiam cuiusdam molendinarii nomine Atus...

47. 'Quel vaut meuz a amer gentil clerc ou chiualer.'

Begins (fol. 474 a):

Ki auenturez veut oir e ver
Il ne puet touz iours demorer.

Ends (fol. 476 b):

Mieuz est li clers a amer
Qe ilī orgoillouse chiualer.

48. 'Le liure de Hending,' or 'Les Prouerbis de Hending:' in English verse.

The first proverb is (fol. 476 b):

Wel is him þat wel ende mai.

To which the following explanation is added:

Ne mai no man þat is in londe
For noþing þat he mai fonde
Wonni at home and spede
So fele þewis for to lerne
So he þat had isowt yerne
Auentures in fele dede.

Each proverb is in like manner illustrated by a single stanza.

49. 'Les Enfantesces nostre Seignur quant il esteit en tere od la uie.'

Begins (fol. 479 b):

Ore vous dirrai de vne enfaunt
Quant en tere fut conuersaunt.

50. 'Le Brute dengletere abrege:' in prose.

Begins (fol. 484 b):

Escotez beau seignurs vous qe volez oir des reis e ieo vous cunterai coment Engletere primez comenca.

This meagre abstract ends at the death of Edward I., whose merits it celebrates in verse (fol. 489). Two stanzas are added, one in French, the other in English, reflecting as it seems upon the maladministration of Edw. II.

51. On the military 'feoda' of England and the 'cantreda' of Ireland (fol. 489 b, col. 2).

52. 'Qualiter caput hominis situatur,' or 'Descripcioun del teste de home:' with a model not unlike those of modern phrenologers: in Latin.

It refers to the Summa of Aquinas, who died in 1274.

53. 'Auctoritates,' or 'Les auctoritez de Job e des autres Docturs:' in Latin (fol. 491 a to fol. 494 b).

The majority are extracts from St Augustine, St Bernard, Gregory the Great; a few being added from the sacred writers.

54. 'Liure de Sydrac le philosophe qest apele le liure de la fontaigne de toutes sciences:' or, more accurately, in fol. 496 b, 'Les Questions qe le roi Boctus demanda de Sydrac le philosophe;' [a Romance of Eastern philosophy].

After a long table of contents the treatise begins (fol. 505 a):

Av tens le roi Boctus al leuant roi de vne graunt prouince que est entre Jude e Perse...

Respecting this long and elaborate romance, see Warton, Engl. Poetry, I. 145, ed. 1840, and on its translation into English verse, Ibid. II. 305, 306.

55. 'Les propretes des Femmes, en Romaunz.'

Begins (fol. 627 a):

Oiez seignurs e escutez
E a ma parole entendez
Ki en femme trop met sa cure
Souent sera saunz honure.

56. 'Confessio,' or 'Coment home se deit confesser:' in French: (fol. 628 a).

57. 'Oratio de Sancta Maria:' in Latin: (fol. 629 a, col. 1).

58. 'Les XXXII Folies:' in French: (fol. 629 a, col. 2).

59. 'Miracula beatæ Virginis' (fol. 629 b to fol. 633 b).

A series of religious anecdotes, imperfect at the end. See Ff. I. 14, § 19.

Trace of ownership, in a hand of the XVIIth century: 'Bought of Mr Washington.'

1397 Gg. 1. 2.

An octavo, on silky paper, containing 326 leaves, paged, each page containing from 20 to 30 lines, written in a cursive Greek character of the XVth century, some pages being left blank. The larger capitals are ornamented, and, as well as the other capitals and some of the musical notes, are written in red. The Greek titles are supplied by the MS.

Some French possessor (perhaps J. B. Hautin) has prefixed a Latin syllabus of the contents.

1. 'Ἀρχὴ σὺν Θεῷ ἁγίῳ τῶν σημαδίων τῆς πενταδικῆς* τέχνης· τῶν τε ἀνιόντων καὶ κατιόντων σωμάτων τε καὶ πνευμάτων καὶ πάσης χειρονομίας καὶ ἀκολουθίας συντεθεμένων εἰς αὐτὴν παρὰ τῶν κατὰ καιροὺς ἀναδειχθέντων ποιητῶν παλαιῶν τε καὶ νέων.'

Ἀρχὴ, μέση, τέλος, καὶ σύστημα πάντων τῶν σημαδίων τὸ ἴσον ἐστί· χωρὶς γὰρ τούτου οὐ κατορθοῦται φωνή. (fol. 1.)

The work contains ὅρος μουσικῆς, ὅρος φωνῆς, ὅρος φθόγγου, several pieces set to music, tables, &c.

The last words of the treatise are set to music, and are as follows:

Πνεύματα τέσσαρα, ἑπτὰ φωναὶ, διπλασμὸς, καὶ τρία κρατήματα, ἐντέχνως συντεθεμένα παρὰ Ἰωάννου τοῦ Κουκουζέλη καὶ Μαίστορος. (fol. 2.)

For Johannes Cucuzeles, see Smith's Dict. Gr. & Rom. Biog. Vol. II. p. 594. None of his works appear to be edited.

2. 'Περὶ ἀριθμητικῆς, ἐκ τῆς τοῦ Νικομάχου μερικὴ ἐκλογή.'

Begins:

Ἰστέον ὅτι ὁ δύο ἀριθμὸς λέγεται ἄρτιος, ὁ τρία περιττός. (f. 21.)

Ends with a scale at the head of which stand the words,

Τὸ ἄρτιον διαιρεῖται εἰς ἀρτιάκις ἄρτιον, περισσάρτιον, ἀρτιοπέριττον.

3. 'Τοῦ αὐτοῦ ἀπὸ τοῦ $\overline{\beta}$. βιβλίου [π]ερὶ'...

A blank space left after [π]ερὶ not filled up.

Begins:

Ἐὰν γὰρ λάβοις (sic) δύο μονάδας, ἐπειδὴ ἴσαι εἰσὶν ἀλλήλαις, (μονάδες γὰρ καὶ ἀδιαίρετοι) καὶ πολλαπλασιάσεις αὐτὰς ἐπ' ἀλλήλας, διάστημα οὐ ποιήσεις ἄλλα τὸ αὐτὸ γενήσεται. (fol. 22.)

Ends:

...καὶ ἁπλῶς ἐξ ἐναντίων τοῦ παντὸς ἡ σύνθεσις· τοιοῦτον εἰς τὸ τῶν ἀριθμῶν γένος· τὸ γὰρ ταυτὸ ἀδιαίρετον. (fol. 24.)

Illustrated with geometrical figures. For these arithmetical works see Smith's Dict. Biogr. s. v. Nicomachus.

4. 'Συλλογὴ λέξεων ἀπὸ τοῦ νόμου.'

* Or possibly παντοδαπῆς. The MS. has παπαδικῆς.

Begins:

Βρεβείω κατὰ Λατίνους τὸ τέμνω· καὶ βρεβίτα ἡ συντομία. (fol. 24 verso.) (Cf. Boiss. Anec. Gr. T. I. p. 410.)

Ends:

...ἰμάντη, λῶρος: κόμπου χάριν πορευθῶ, δηλονότι ἐπιδείξασθαι καὶ ἐγκωμιασθῆναι ὡς λόγιος (ibidem).

5. A scale of Pythagorean numbers (ααβ, αβγ, αγδ, &c.), but having no title: arranged in four columns, headed respectively, ἦφος, μέτριος, ἔναρξις, ἀπαξάδων. (fol. 25.) This table is followed by another (fol. 29) in nine columns, headed καὶ νῦν καὶ ἀεί, which is followed by a Pythagorean letter, entitled,

'Πυθαγόρου νίκη καὶ ἥττα (MS. ἧττας): Πυθαγόρας Τηλαυγῇ χαίρειν.'

Begins (fol. 57):

Πολλὰ παθὼν καὶ πολλὰ πειράσας.

The Epistle treats of divination by numbers. It has been partially edited by Orelli in his Collect. Epist. Græc. p. 52, but his work only contains the first few lines. The remainder contains divers diagrams and mystical numbers, &c.; and ends with a magical receipt for catching a thief. See also Orelli's remarks, p. 301.

6. 'Λέξεις βραχεῖαι ἔκ τε τῶν τοῦ Χοιροβοσκοῦ, καὶ Μαξίμου, Μαγίστρου Θωμᾶ γραμματικοῦ, Λογγιβάρδου, καὶ ἑτέρων.'

Begins (fol. 32):

Ἀκρασία: πᾶν τὸ περιττόν· ἀκρασία καὶ ἡ ἀνωμαλία· ἀκρασία ἀδυναμία καὶ ἄνοια.

Ends:

...ὦκα ταχέως. (fol. 43 verso.)

This treatise seems not to be published in this form.

7. 'Θεοδοσίου γραμματικοῦ Ἀλεξανδρέως περὶ προσωδιῶν.'

The Preface begins:

Περὶ γραμματικῆς γράφειν προθέμενος, κ. τ. λ. (fol. 44.) Ἰστέον τοίνυν ὡς ὁ Θρὰξ Διονύσιος ὁ περὶ τῶν η̄ λόγου μερῶν διδάξας ἡμᾶς, κ.τ.λ. as in the MS. mentioned by Fabricius, Vol. VII. p. 34. Hamb. 1725.

The treatise itself commences thus:

Θεοδοσίου γραμματικοῦ Ἀλεξανδρέως περὶ προσωδιῶν. προσῳδίαι εἰσὶ ἱ· ὀξεῖα, βραχεῖα, κ. τ. λ.

Ends:

...τὴν ἐπιφορὰν τῶν δύο συμφώνων. (fol. 50.)

By way of appendix is given an account of Dionysius Thrax, beginning, Διονύσιος γένος μὲν υἱὸς Διονυσίου Ἀλεξανδρέως, κ. τ. λ.

Ending:

...κατὰ μέρος δεικνύει. (fol. 50 verso.)

This appears to be an unedited treatise. A Commentatio upon it by Peyron is published with Sturzius' edition of Orion Thebanus, pp. 236—242. Lips. 1820. For some further remarks see Göttling's preface to Theodosius περὶ γραμματικῆς, pp. xii—xiv. Lips. 1822.

8. 'Ονομασία μηνῶν.'

Fol. 51 consists of a catalogue of the names of Roman, Egyptian, Macedonian, and Cappadocian months, arranged in four columns: also of a catalogue of Greek, Hebrew, Bithynian, and Cyprian months, similarly arranged in four columns. Published by Cramer in Anec. Gr. Oxon. T. III. pp. 402, 403, but the Macedonian months are absent.

9. 'Λεξικὸν περὶ πνευμάτων ἐκλεγὲν ἐκ τῶν περὶ πνευμάτων Τρύφωνος, Χοιροβοσκοῦ, Θεοδωρίτου καὶ ἑτέρων, καὶ ἀντιγράφοις διαφόροις ἀντιβληθέντων καὶ ὀρθωθέντων.' (fol. 51 verso.)

Begins:

Ἀρχὴ τοῦ ᾱ στοιχείου. τὸ ᾱ πρὸ ἑαυτοῦ ψιλοῦται, κ.τ.λ.

Ends (fol. 64 b):

...τούτων δὲ καὶ ἕτερά τινα πλεῖστα εὕροις [ἂν] ἐν τοῖς ἐρωτήμασι καὶ ἐν τῷ πρώτῳ πλὴν οὐ κατὰ στοιχεῖον.

Published by Scapula at the end of his Lexicon; but this MS. has a variety of ἐπιμερισμοὶ at the end which are not contained there.

10. 'Παραγγέλματα ἰδικὰ συντελοῦντα εἰς ὀρθογραφίαν.'

Begins:

Βάλλω, στέλλω, τίλλω διὰ δύο λλ ἐπὶ ἐνεστῶτος, ἐπὶ δὲ μέλλοντος δι' ἑνός (fol. 65).

Ends:

...ἀνδράριον καὶ εἴ τι ὅμοιον (fol. 70 b).

11. 'Ἀρχὴ σὺν θεῷ τῶν ἐρωτημάτων τῶν ἐπιδιορθωθέντων παρὰ κυρίου Μανουὴλ τοῦ Μοσχοπούλου.'

Begins (fol. 73):

Τί ἐστι προσωδία;

Ends (fol. 232) with τὰ τρία μέρη τῆς ῥητορικῆς arranged in a table.

For this work see Smith's Dict. Biogr. under Moschopulus. It appears that it has been more than once printed.

12. 'Τοῦ περιτίμου ἐν φιλοσόφοις κυρίου Μιχαὴλ τοῦ Ψέλλου σύντομος ἐξήγησις περὶ συντάξεως ἢ περὶ τοῦ μὴ σολοικίζειν· καὶ περὶ βαρβαρισμοῦ ἐν τῷ μεταξὺ τούτων· καὶ περὶ συντάξεως προθέσεων καὶ ῥημάτων.'

Begins (fol. 233):

Ὀκτώ εἰσι (sic) πάντα τὰ μέρη τοῦ λόγου.

Ends (fol. 246 b):

...εἰς ᾱυ ἢ εἰς ο͞υ.

This work of Psellus appears to be unnoticed by Fabricius, and to be unedited. It consists of a variety of grammatical sections, e. g. περὶ προσώπων, περὶ τοῦ μὲν συνδεσμοῦ, περὶ τῶν γ̄ γενῶν, περὶ ἐπιῤῥημάτων, &c. After this work follows a variety of short pieces (occupying about four pages), in prose and verse, accompanied by scholia. They are by Christian authors, and relate to Lazarus, Christ, and the Apostles.

13. 'Ἀφθονίου σοφιστοῦ προγυμνάσματα· ὧν αἱ ἀρχαὶ μόνον ὧδε.' (fol. 249.)

This is merely an enumeration of the definitions and chapters of the work of Aphthonius. Their Greek titles agree with those given in Walz's edition (Rhet. Gr. Vol. I. pp. 55—120). After this (fol. 250) follows a little notice of Hermogenes, and an abstract of his στάσεις.

14. 'Περὶ λογογραφίας.'

Begins (fol. 267):

Πᾶσα λόγου ἰδέα ἐκ μερῶν ὁκτὼ συγκεῖται, ἐννοίας, λέξεως, σχημάτων, μεθόδου, κώλων, συνθήκης, ἀναπαύσεως καὶ ῥυθμοῦ· περὶ ὧν διδάξομέν σε ὡς ἐγχωρεῖ.

Ends (fol. 261):

...καὶ τὰ τοιαῦτα.

See Dd. v. 29. (Vol. I. p. 266.)

15. 'Τοῦ ἁγίου Ἐπιφανίου (sic) περὶ μέτρων καὶ σταθμῶν.'

Begins (fol. 261):

Κόρος σίτου μόδιοι λ, ὃ λέγεται χώρ· χὼρ λέγεται ἀπὸ τῆς τοῦ βουνοῦ ὑποθέσεως.

Ends (fol. 264 b):

...κουστωδία ἄνδρες?

Bears but little resemblance to the work of St Epiphanius (Vol. II. pp. 158—184, ed. Pet.); but is partially taken from it. Compare the beginning with p. 177 D.

After this work follow a variety of grammatical excerpts, or little treatises, mostly without titles, which seem to belong to the late Byzantine school, and to agree in part with the γραμματικὴ εἰσαγωγὴ of Theodorus Gaza, edited by Aldus. (Venet. 1495.)

The first is a work on the prepositions. It begins, Ἰστέον δὲ ὅτι ἡ ἐξ καὶ ἡ ἐκ καὶ ἡ ἀπὸ καὶ ἡ πρὸ καὶ ἡ ἀντὶ μετὰ γενικῆς συντάσσεται (fol. 265, cf. Theodor. Intr. Gr. sig. l. A. ii. ed. Ald.). After it follows one on the persons, beginning, Ἰστέον δὲ ὅτι πάντα τὰ ὀνόματα καὶ πᾶσαι αἱ ἀντωνυμίαι εἰσὶ τρίτου προσώπου (fol. 268): to this succeeds a work entitled ἐπίλυσις τῶν στερητικῶν μορίων καὶ ἐπιτατικῶν. It begins, δεῖ γινώσκειν ὅτι ὀκτώ εἰσι πάντα τὰ μέρη τοῦ λόγου (fol. 269 b, cf. Boiss. Anecd. Gr. T. I. p. 413): afterwards follow sections on conjunctions, and on the different significations of various Greek words (nouns, verbs, &c.), and on accents, breathings, &c. The series concludes with a section entitled Περὶ ῥημάτων αὐθυποτάκτων (fol. 278 b); commencing Ἰστέον δὲ ὅτι ὧν μὲν τὸ ῥῆμα βαρύνεται ἡ μετοχὴ ὀξύνεται. (For the last compare Boiss. Anecd. Gr. T. II. p. 461.)

16. 'Συνεσίου Κυρηναίου ἐπισκόπου Κυρήνης.' (fol. 281.)

Contains twenty-four epistles. His letters have been several times printed.

17. Epistles of Libanius and St Basil. (fol. 290.)

These are seven in number, and are all contained in Morell's edition of Libanius' Epistles.

18. Epistles of Michael Psellus, and others, some being apparently imaginary forms. (fol. 291.)

Some of these are simply inscribed ἐπίσκοπος πρὸς ἐπίσκοπον and the like. No epistles of Psellus appear to have been printed.

19. An Epistle of Apollonius (n. 33, p. 393, ed. Olear.), of Libanius to Julian (not in Morell's or Wolf's edition), and of Julian to Libanius (p. 20, ed. Heyl.) (fol. 294).

On the reverse are two scraps entitled πρόλογος διαθήκης and περὶ Ἰουδαίων.

The epistle of Libanius commences: τί ταῦτα γλώττης ἀργοτέρας;

20. 'Συναγωγὴ καὶ ἐξήγησις ὧν ἐμνήσθη ὁ θεόλογος Γρηγόριος ἱστοριῶν ἐν τῷ εἰς τὸν ἐπιτάφιον Βασιλείου λόγον.' (fol. 295.)

See Dd. XI. 54, Vol. I. p. 454.

21. 'Ἑρμηνεῖαι τῶν παλαιῶν ὀνομάτων.' (fol. 301 b.)

Consists of renderings of Old Testament proper names by their Greek equivalents, usually in a single word.

Begins:

Ἀδὰμ ἑρμηνεύεται γῆ σαρκουμένη.

22. A Collection of Short Memoirs of Illustrious Persons (historical and mythical).

Begins (fol. 303):

Μένιππος ὁ Λύκιος (sic).

Ends (fol. 313 b):

Περσέα κομίζεται.

A production very similar to n. 20. It gives accounts of Menippus the Lydian (partly taken from Philostratus, Vit. Apollon.); Nicander, author of the Theriaca; Athamas, son of Æolus, Cerberus, Hercules, Medea, &c. &c.

23. A Declamation by Nicephorus Basilaca, without his name, entitled, 'Ἀνασκευὴ τὰ κατὰ τὴν Ἀταλάντην.'

Begins (fol. 313 b):

Οὐ ζηλῶ τοῦ ψεύδους τοὺς ποιητάς.

Edited in Walz's Rhet. Gr. Vol. I. pp. 449—454.

24. Another by the same, entitled 'Κατασκευὴ τὰ κατὰ τὴν Ἀταλάντην.' (fol. 316.)

Id. pp. 454—461. At the end are two sections, which seem part of n. 22.

25. A work on various Greek Metres; with the motto, μέτρῳ γὰρ καὶ τὸν θεὸν ὁρῶμεν στοιχειῶσαι τὸ πᾶν.

Begins (fol. 320):

Περὶ μέτρου ἡρωϊκοῦ. ὁ μὲν ἡρωϊκὸς στίχος ἐπιδέχεται πόδας ἓξ.

Ends (fol. 324 b):

Οὐρανῷ ἐστήριξε κάρη καὶ ἐπὶ χθονὶ βαίνει.

26. 'Περὶ γένους Ἀριστοτέλους.'

Begins (fol. 325):

Ὁ Ἀριστοτέλης τῷ μὲν γένει ην Μακεδών.

Published in Westermann's Biogr. Gr. Min. pp. 398—401.

27. A short piece on Homer.

Begins (fol. 325 b):

Ὅμηρον τὸν ποιητὴν χρόνῳ μὲν τῶν πλείστων.

Ends (fol. 326 b):

...τέρπεσθαι ῥαδίως.

Not contained in the foregoing work of Westermann.

1398 Gg. I. 3.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 375, in double columns, with 59 lines in each column. Date, the XIVth century.

BIBLIA VULGATA SANCTI HIERONYMI.

It begins incompletely in the middle of the prologue 'hanc garrula anus hanc delirus senex.' Genesis begins f. 2*b*: S. Matthew, f. 284, and the Revelation ends f. 349, followed by the explanatory index of names: of this all after the letter S has been torn away: at the end of f. 349*b*, a later hand has written, '1591 explicit iste liber sit scriptor crimine liber,' on a small piece of parchment, which is pasted on the leaf. The books occur in their usual order except that the Acts comes after the Epistle to the Hebrews.

1399. Gg. 1. 4.

13. ff. 136—140. Sermones in double columns of 52 lines.

Begin:

Qui accipit si quem misero me recipit, &c. Ecce karissimi assero vobis...

End:

...fugetur omnis instagacio scandali.

The last leaf is torn—two parchment leaves, apparently a fragment of an Ordinale, are pasted on to the cover.

On one of them is written the name 'Robertus Chyrche.'

1401 Gg. I. 6.

A quarto, on paper, containing ff. 146, with 25 lines in each page. Date, the xvth century.

'Speculum Devotorum,' or 'A Myrowr to deuot peple.' Meditations on the life of our Lord in 33 chapters, in English.

Begins (f. 6 b, after the preface, Gostly syster in Jhu cryste I trowe hyt be not 3ytt fro your mynde..., and an index of the contents of the chapters):

Relygyus syster in the beyynnynge of these symple medytacyonys...

Ends (f. 144 a):

to whom be all worshype joye and preysynge now and withoute endynge. Amen. Deo gracias.

The treatise itself ends f. 132, the last chapter being a supplementary one about St John the Evangelist.

After some lines (finito libro sit laus et gloria xp̄o, &c.) follows in Latin the prayer O Intemerata, with an English translation, which ends the MS. f. 146*a*.

In his preface the author, a Carthusian, apologizes for his book, because 'Bonaventura a cardynal and a worthy clerke made a boke of the same matere the whyche ys callyd vita x̄pi,' and especially because 'a man of oure ordyr of charturhowse had turnyd the same boke in to englysche.' He adds, that he has chiefly followed 'tueyne doctorys of the whyche þ^t^ one ys comunely called the maystyr of storyis,' and 'that othyr maystyr Nycholas of lyre þ^e^ whyche was a worthy doctur of dyuynytee and glosyde all the byble as to the lettural undyrstandynge.'

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is written:

'Speculum Devotorum: et est liber domus J̄hu de Bethleem ordinis cartusiensis de shene et nomen scriptoris Willelmus plenus amoris.'

'Quicunque in hoc libro profecerit oret pro scriptore pure et caritative.'

and the names John Powell, Robert Tipper, and at the end John and Margarett Farmer.

1402 Gg. 1. 7.

A quarto, chiefly on parchment, 221 leaves, 30 lines in each page, mutilated both at the beginning and the end: handwriting of the early part of the xv th century.

A long Poem on the Lord's Prayer and other moral subjects, or Speculum Vitæ.

Begins abruptly (fol. 1 a):

þus sall you say and noght it heele
Vnto þe childer of Israele.

Respecting the authorship, see below, Ii. 1. 36.

1403 Gg. 1. 8.

A small quarto, on paper, written in the xviith century. Nearly a quire of blank paper is bound in at the commencement of the Volume. The remainder contains three tracts:

1. ff. 24. 'Naturall Philosophy, or a Description of the world and of the severall creatures therein contained.'

'These little leaves the world's huge load sustain
And what besides the great world can contain.'

The Author was Daniel Widdowes, alias Woodhouse. The book has been printed. The second edition is dated 1631.

2. ff. 68. Mystical Drawings.

These consist of 68 allegorical illustrations of the different stages in the processes of Alchemy.

The first is an adaptation of an ophite emblem; the second, and perhaps all the rest, seem to be intended to illustrate the Poemander of Hermes Trismegistus, treated Alchemically. They are coarsely coloured, and from the ill-written blackletter explanations, may be supposed to be copies of a work of an earlier century.

3. ff. 6. 'Thesaurus Thesaurorum. Sive Medicina Aurea.'

'A manuscript concerning the Philosophers' Elixir or their medicine both for Humane and Metalline Bodies. Incerti Authoris.'

Begins:

Many and greate are the secrets of nature...

Ends:

...to thy owne good and God's glory, &c.

1404 Gg. 1. 9.

A small quarto, on paper, of 80 leaves of writing, in good preservation.

The Register Book of the city of Westminster.

It contains: The private act of Parliament of 27 Eliz. for the regulation of the city. The Bye Laws and Rules of the city in 1585. The names of the Burgesses and Assistants in 1585, and from 1639 to 1660. It seems to have been written in A.D. 1660. On a fly-leaf at the beginning are the dates of the births of the children of Car. I.

1405 Gg. 1. 10.

A moderate-sized octavo, on vellum, of 137 leaves, consisting of two MSS.: the former contains 52 leaves, each page containing about 34 lines, neatly written in a small hand of the XIIth century. The latter is in double columns, each of which contains 41 lines, and may be assigned to the XIVth century. Each MS. is slightly ornamented and rubricated, and marginal notes occur plentifully in both.

1. CICERONIS 'SOMNIUM SCIPIONIS.'

Begins (fol. 1 a):

Cum in Africam...

Ends (fol. 3 b):

...ego somno solutus sum.

Contains the entire section of the Republic so entitled.

2. MACROBII IN SOMNIUM SCIPIONIS LIBRI II.

Begins (abruptly in lib. I. c. 2):

patefecit. Ideo et nullum, &c. p. 10. Ed. Bip.

Ends (fol. 52 a):

...continetur integritas (lib. II. c. ult.)

The beginning of the treatise has been torn out.

On the reverse are some observations relating to Macrobius and St Ambrose.

3. ff. 53—96. 'SUMMA MAGISTRI PLATEARII SUPER ANTIDOTARIUM.'

Begins:

Liber iste quem in presentiarum...

Ends:

...Aliquod pravum sinthoma generet, per duos annos servetur.

See Dd. III. 51, § 1.

4. ff. 97—136 a. 'LIBER SIMPLICIS MEDICINE,' BY PLATEARIUS.

Begins:

Circa instans negotium...

Ends:

...nisi propter diuturnam decoctionem.

Another copy of this work is in Ee. VI. 41, § 2.

ff. 136 a—137 are filled with irregular medical notes.

1406 Gg. I. 11.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 87, with 24 lines in each page. There are catchwords to every 8th leaf, and the leaves are numbered throughout. Date, the XIIIth century.

'SANCTI AMBROSII MEDIOLANENSIS EPISCOPI DE OFFICIIS.'

Begins (f. 1 a):

Non arrogans videri arbitror...

Ends (f. 87 b):

...plurimum instructionis conferet.

Opp. ed. Migne, Paris, 1845, T. II. P. I. coll. 23—184.

To each book is prefixed a richly ornamented initial letter.

1407 Gg. I. 12.

A quarto, on parchment, consisting of 59 folios, defaced and injured in some few places, but on the whole pretty legible, written in Latin, in a hand of about the latter part of the XIVth century.

REGISTRUM BREVIUM, TOGETHER WITH MAGNA CHARTA, AND SOME OTHER STATUTES.

See Ff. v. 5.

1408 Gg. I. 13.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 186, with from 33 to 40 lines in a page. Date, the XVth century.

GULIELMI DE PAGULA 'OCULUS SACERDOTUM.'

This is divided into three parts—the first is called 'Pars Prima Oculi Sacerdotum,' and begins (f. 1):

Cum ecclesie quibus preficiuntur persone...

the second, at the end of which is the rubrick, 'Explicit summa que vocatur dextera pars oculi sacerdotum,' begins (f. 61):

Multi sunt sacerdotes et pauci sunt sacerdotes...

and the third, which is called 'Sinistra pars oculi sacerdotum,' begins:

'Ignorancia sacerdotum populum decipit...'

The MS. ends:

...in presenti vita per gratiam et in futura vita per gloriam ad quam, &c.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 570.

1409 Gg. I. 14.

A quarto, on parchment, originally containing at least 239 leaves, imperfect both at the beginning and the end, damaged in several parts and some leaves displaced.

Part of the SPECULUM VITÆ.

Begins abruptly (fol. 1):

For þat langages is maste shewed
Als wele imonge lered als lewed
Latyn als I trow can nane
Bot þai þat has it of scole tane.

Respecting the authorship, see below, Ii. I. 36.

1410 Gg. I. 15.

A quarto, on parchment, 80 leaves, 25 lines in each page, handwriting of the XIVth century; imperfect at the end, and in other ways damaged and disfigured, the chief capital letters wanting.

1. On the first inhabitants of England, in French verse, written like prose: no title.

Begins (fol. 1 a):

[C]i poet home sauer coment kaunt e de quele gent granz geauntz vindrent qe Engleterre primes tindrent...

This poem was perhaps intended as an introduction to the 'history' which follows.

2. A chronicle of England (The Brut) extending from Brutus to the latter part of the reign of Edward II: in French prose, imperfect at the end.

Begins (fol. 7 a):

[E]n la noble cite de graunt Troye il y auoit vn fort chiualer e pussaunt e de graunt poer qe auoit a noun Eneas ..

Ends with an account of the pillage of the bishop of Exeter's house, in 1326 (cf. Carte's Hist. of England, II. 376).

1411 Gg. I. 16.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 171, with 20 lines in each page. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf, and a later hand has paged the MS. throughout. Date, about 1400.

An English Translation of the first three books of the treatise De Imitatione Christi.

A leaf is lost between ff. 62 and 63; 68 and 69; and 16 between ff. 128 and 129, containing B. III. ch. 26—35.

The initial rubrick in f. 1 is Here bigynneth the tretes called Musica Ecclesiastica...

B. 1. begins (f. 1 a):

...Oure lorde saith he that foloweth me goith not in darkenesse...

B. 3. ends (f. 171 b):

Defende and kepe the soule of þi litel servante amonge so many periles of þis corruptible lyue and thi grace goinge with dresse him by the wey of pees to the cuntrey of everlastynge clerenes. Amen. Amen. Amen.

Here ende the boke of inwarde consolacion.

The translation differs considerably from that printed by Wynkyn de Worde.

1412 Gg. I. 17.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 131, with 23 lines in a page. Date, the XIIIth century.

1. ff. 1—22 b. 'Liber sancti B[ernardi] abbatis de diligendo deo.'

Begins:

Viro illustri Aimerino. &c. Orationes a me et non questiones...

Ends:

The last 29 leaves are occupied by an index.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1850, T. III. & IV.

1415 Gg. I. 20.

A thick octavo, on paper, divided into two parts.

1. Of 269 leaves, numbered throughout, with about 40 lines in a page. Dated Jan. 21, 1574.

1. ff. 1—196. 'Prælectiones Gulielmi Alani in Duacensi Academia regii professoris S. Theologiæ in Sententiarum Libb. I. II.'

Begins:

Theologia quid sit. Theologia...

Ends:

...in secunda distinctione.

The Prælectiones on the second book of the Sentences begin f. 184, and are dated 1575.

Cardinal Gulielmus Alan, who had been principal of St Mary's Hall, Oxford, died in 1594.

2. ff. 196—269.

'Prælectiones Magistri nostri domini Hadriani Bessemeri in sequentes Distinctiones.'

Begins:

Tractaturus Lombardus de Angelis...

Ends:

...presumitur ante fuisse creata.

A number of blank leaves follow.

2. Of 341 leaves, numbered, with 30 lines in a page, written in a neat hand. Dated October, 1587.

'In tertiam partem D. Thomæ Commentarii a sapientissimo domino Petro Ludovico.'

Begins:

De Incarnatione disputatio prima. Antequam accedamus ad quæstiones...

Ends (apparently unfinished):

...potuit mereri beatitudinem anima per opem.

Petrus Ludovicus was a Spanish Jesuit of Valentia, who died in 1602. This work has never been printed. See Jöcher, T. II. col. 1589.

1416 Gg. I. 21.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 87, with 16 lines in each page. Date, the XIVth century.

'ACTUS APOSTOLORUM Vulgatæ Editionis cum GLOSSA ORDINARIA interlineari et marginali.'

Lucas medicus antiochensis greci sermonis non ignarus...

Ends (f. 84 b):

...xxxvii anno passionis domini, i.e. nerronis xiiii petrus et paulus martirio coronati sunt.

The text of the Acts is for the most part written in large hand down the middle of the page, with the marginal gloss on either side.

At the end of the MS. is written, 'Iste liber pertinet ecclesie eliensi.'

1417 Gg. I. 22.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 192, with 40 lines in a page. Date, the XIVth century.

'EXPOSITIO IN PSALMOS 1—134.'

Begins:

Christus vere erat lignum vite...

Ends:

...set repetita augent verecundiam.

f. 1 contains a table of subjects to be found in different psalms—and on f. 2 is written 'Liber Sancte marie de Crokesden.'

1418 Gg. I. 23.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 158, in double columns of 39 lines. Date, the XVth century. The first leaf is lost.

'JANUENSIS TABULA SUPER S. SCRIPTURAS.'

Begins (in the middle of the first title):

...solicitato vero solum demonstratur...

Ends:

...et etiam ubi passio per totum etc. Deo gracias.

An index of the titles follows by the same hand that has paged the MS.

This work is the 'Distinctiones,' or 'Tabula' of Jacobus de Voragine, or Januensis. See Oudin, III. col. 615, and also Ii. III. 22, § 6, where the work is complete.

1419 Gg. I. 24.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 204, with 31 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—167. 'S. Augustini Sermones 65 de Verbis Domini.'

Begin (after the index):

Agite penitentiam, &c. Evangelium audivimus et in eo dominum...

End:

...set erunt equales angelis.

These appear in the 'Ordo Vetus,' the 65th being the 1st of the Sermones de Verbis Apostoli. See the index to T. V. P. II. of Opp. ed. Paris, 1838, col. cxxxvii.

2. ff. 167—254. 'Ejusdem Sermones de Verbis Apostoli.'

Begin (after the index):

Audivimus veracem magistrum...

End:

...Ad eterna mereantur premia pervenire prestante, &c.

These are numbered from 66 to 88—they are Sermones 2—24 of the Vetus Ordo, although not exactly in that order. Three Sermons marked 89—91 in the index do not appear in the MS.

3. ff. 254—301. 'Ejusdem De Sermone Domini in Monte.'

Begins:

Sermonem quem locutus est...

Ends:

...si volumus edificare super petram.

Ibid. T. III. coll. 1492—1596.

The sections from the Retractationes relating to this work are inserted in their places.

1421 Gg. I. 26.

A quarto, on paper, containing ff. 158, with 23 lines in a page. Date, the XVth century. There are catchwords at the foot of every leaf.

1. ff. 1—60. S. SULPICII SEVERI 'VITA SANCTI MARTINI EPISCOPI ET CONFESSORIS.' Libb. III.

Begins:

Igitur Martinus Sabarie pannoniarum...

Ends:

...simplicem possimus historiam explicare.

The first book corresponds with the first 25 chapters of St Sulpicius Severus' Life of St Martin. The second is the 'Dialogus II. de virtutibus B. Martini,' but omits the last chapter; and the third contains 'Dialogus III.' caps. 2—21, and 'Epistola tertia,' p. 489, ed. Elzev. 1665: the last two paragraphs being caps. 4 and 5, of Lib. I. of St Gregory of Tours' life of St Martin. Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1849, coll. 918, 919.

2. ff. 61—110. 'VITA SANCTI NICOLAI EPISCOPI ET CONFESSORIS.'

Begins:

Nicolaus ex illustri ortus prosapia...

Ends:

...quatenus fideliter ihesu xpristo domino servire mereamur qui, &c.

This is divided into two parts, first the 'Vita,' and secondly, 'De Obitu S. Nicolai.'

This is unfinished, consisting of only 9 lines.

Begins:

Beatum Thomam cum reliquis discipulis...

Ends:

...unum ex septuaginta discipulis ad Abgarum.

This is the beginning of the 'Apostolica Historia de S. Thoma.' Fabricius, Cod. Apocryph. Nov. Test. II. p. 687.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is the name 'Joannis Childerley, Coll. D. Joannis Oxon. socii,' and some prayers at the end.

1422 Gg. I. 27.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 406, in double columns with 51 lines in each column. Date, the XIVth century.

Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi.

After the usual prologues, Genesis begins f. 5 b, with an illuminated I: St Matthew begins f. 325, and the Revelation ends f. 404 b. The books occur in the usual order, except that the Acts follows the Epistle to the Hebrews.

On f. 1 is written the will of Rychard Smyth of Harpolt; it is dated Dec. 1528; he leaves his 'body to be buryed yn the churchyarde of Alhalows of Harpolt:' his 'best good to be' his 'mortuary'—'to Lincolne church ii^{d}, and the resydewe of his goods to his wife Jane; it is witnessed by Rychard Surge.

On ff. 2 and 321, occurs the name John Ayllward.

On f. 406 b is written in a minute hand a commentary on Rev. xiii. 1.

1423 Gg. I. 28.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 89, in double columns of about 30 lines. Date, 1628.

An Alphabetical Index to various Works of the Fathers and other Theological Writers.

The first word is Aaron; the last, Zwingliani and Miscellanea.

On the flyleaf at the beginning is, 'Κτῆμα Marci Zigleri Palatini, die 12 Februarii, anno 1628.'

1424 Gg. I. 29.

A quarto, on paper, written from both ends, containing ff. 279, regularly paged, of which 15 in the middle are blank, with about 36 lines in each page. Written in the XVIIth century.

This will be found in Rosweyd's Vitæ Patrum. Antv. 1615, pp. 934, 935.

19. f. 221 b. Extracts from the Institutiones of Joannes Cassianus.

These begin in an extract from Lib. v. cap. xl., and end with one from Lib. x. 23.: ed. Migne, Vol. I. coll. 225, 394.

A leaf follows in double columns, containing apparently a portion of a legal document.

1428 Gg. I. 33.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 247, with 35 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century. There are catchwords after every 12th leaf.

'Distinctiones fratris Nicholai de Gorram ordinis fratrum predicatorum.'

Begins:

Abeuntium per hunc mundum alii...

Ends:

...ad nuptias cum domino ihū̄ xp̄o. Amen.

An index follows.

Nicholas of Gorram or Gorham, was Prior of the Convent of S. James at Paris, and died in 1295. This work has not been printed. See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. III. p. 76.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is written 'Liber ecclesie cathedralis sancte Trinitatis Norwici in custodia fratris...'...the name being effaced.

1429 Gg. I. 34.

A small quarto, on parchment, 385 leaves, in various hands.

1. After an 'Epygramma Joseph patriarche Constantinopolitani a Maffeo v. c. editum,' are four LATIN LETTERS occupying 115 leaves; 24 lines in a page; handwriting of the XVth century.

a. Poggius Scipioni Ferrariensi (fol. 1 a—fol. 12 b).

Printed in the Works of Poggio, pp. 357 sq. ed. Basil. 1538.

b. Guarinus Veronensis Poggio, with a preface to Leonellus Estrensis (fol. 13 a—fol 48 b).

c. Poggius Francisco Barbaro, with a preface to the same (fol. 48 b—fol. 89 a).

Printed in the Works of Poggio, pp. 365 sq.

d. Petrus de Monte, apostolicæ sedis protonotarius, Poggio (fol. 89 b—fol. 115 a).

Dated 'ex Londoniis pridie Kalendas Februarias.'

2. 102 leaves, about 30 lines in each page, handwriting of the XVth century; wants one leaf at the beginning.

MORAL SAYINGS OF PHILOSOPHERS, translated into English.

Begins (after 'Pref.' fol. 3):

Hermes the olde Philosophur...

The following account of the work is given at the conclusion: 'And this sufficethe of the translacion of the moral saiengis of philosophres and wisist clerkis yn theire daies lyving in vertue: albeit the more parte of tho clerkis were paynems and lyved before the incarnacion of Criste. LXXII endyng, after the origynall and perrafed also for more opyn and redye vndrestanding.'

'Nomen scriptoris: Johan. Fermour.'

Former owner: 'William Auerel.'

3. 'LIBER de MAWDEVILLE' [Travels of Sir John Maundeville]: handwriting of the XVth century.

The Preface begins:

For as mekyl as the land ovir the see, that is for to seye the holy land that men call the land of beheste...

After the 'Explicit' follow some loose geographical notes. Printed often, e.g. in Early Travels in Palestine. Bohn's ed. 1848.

4. 'FLOS YSTORIARUM TERRE ORIENTIS quem compilauit frater HAYTONUS dominus Curchi consanguineus regis Armenie ex mandato summi pontificis...M°CCC.VII:' 43 leaves, 40 lines in each page, handwriting of the XIVth century.

See an account of this writer and his work in Fabricius, Biblioth. Lat. ed. Mansi, under Aithonus and Hayto.

5. 'HYSTORIA DE SCIENTIA EGYPCIORUM ET DE NEPTANABO REGE EORUM, qui postea fuit uerus pater ALEXANDRI:' 35 leaves, handwriting as before.

This fabulous 'Hystoria' is in metre, although written as ordinary prose. The following account of the 'Dictator' is given at the conclusion:

Historiam dictam dictauit carmine quidam,
Qui Uilikinus nomine dictus erat;
Judex officio genitus de gente Spoleti,
Gesta ducis Macedonuersibus ipse docens.
Post natum Christum sunt anni mille ducenti
Terque duodeni, quando fit istud opus.
Et correxit opus anno durante sequenti
Vt sibi dictanti contulit ipse Deus.
Romanus princeps Fredericus sceptra tenebat,
Scicilium regnum Ierulumque regens:
Quando deuicit reprobos, strauitque rebelles,
Inter Lumbardos qui caruere fide.
Non omnes caruere fide, pars magna remansit,
Que domino proprio subdita rite fuit.
Sunt alibi scripta preconia principis hujus
Que Uilikynus edidit ipse metris.

The author is otherwise entitled Aretinus Quilichinus: see Warton, I. 135, who points out the origin of the story. A copy of the 'Gesta Alexandri' will be found in Dd. x. 24, § 1.

Trace of ownership: 'Ex dono Will. Thornton.'

Bound up with this volume is a leaf of the Latin Gospel according to St John (c. 9).

1430 Gg. I. 35.

A quarto, on paper, in good preservation, containing 46 numbered folios, and written in English in a hand of about the early part of the XVIIth century.

BACON'S 'BREIFE DECLARATION CONCERNING THE USE OF THE LAWE.'

This will be found in Montagu's edition of Bacon's Works, Vol. XIII. A former owner presented this MS. 'to the Right Honourable ffrau^{c} Lo^{d} Cottington M^{r} of his Ma^{ties} Courte of wards and livereyes and one of his Ma^{ties} privie Counsell.

Francis Lord Cottington was sworn a member of Charles II.'s privy Council at the Hague or at Breda in 1649.

1431 Gg. II. 1.

A folio, on paper, containing ff. 324, regularly paged, with 38 lines in a page. Date, the XVIIth century.

BISHOP ANDREWES ON THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

Begins:

Clemens Alexandrinus writing his παιδαγωγος in three bookes...

Ends:

...Aug. Either amor mali inflammans, or timor mali humilians.

This is the work published London 1642. The MS. gives as far only as what is paged 848 in the published edition. According to the Notice prefixed to the edition of the Pattern of Catechistical Doctrine, published in the Anglo-Catholick Library, Oxf. 1846, it consists of notes taken at Andrewes' Lectures.

1432 Gg. II. 2.

A folio, on paper, only 12 leaves of which contain any writing, in a hand of the XVIIth century.

PREPARATIONS FOR A SAXO-LATIN LEXICON, extending as far as letter B; very meagre.

From the 'Book of Benefactors,' (EB, IX. 12,) p. 21, we learn that this volume was presented to the University by Sir S. D'Ewes.

1433 Gg. II. 3.

A printed folio, interleaved, with 30 leaves partly filled with MS. appended on each end.

'DE JUDICIIS NATIVITATUM LIBRI TRES. SCRIPTI A JOANNE SCHONERO CARLOSTADIO, &c. ITEM, PRÆFATIO D. PHILIPPI MELANTHONIS. NORIMBERGÆ M.D.XLV.'

There are copious annotations on the blank pages in the handwriting of George Digby, Earl of Bristol, who lived 1612—1676.

1434 Gg. II. 4.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1435 Gg. II. 5.

A folio, on paper, 553 leaves, about 40 lines in each page; handwriting of the beginning of the XVIIth century.

REPORTS of CASES adjudged chiefly in the reigns of Elizabeth and James I.; with Index.

The running title of the first 23 leaves is, 'LES REPORTS DE SERIEANT BENDLOES;' but the present series does not correspond with that published in 1689, with the title 'Les Reports de Gulielme Benloe, serjeant del Ley.'

1436 Gg. II. 6.

A narrow, oblong folio, on paper, 395 leaves, about 50 lines in each page, handwriting of the XVth century: no general title.

LIVES OF APOSTLES AND SAINTS, in English verse.

Prologue begins (fol. 1 a):

Catone sais yat suthfaste thyng is
Yat idilnes geffis nourysingis
To vicis, yare for quha so wil be Virtuise sald idilnes fle.

The author then proceeds to say, that being unable to work as 'mynister of holy Kirke' owing to the infirmity of old age, he undertook the translation of these pieces. The substance of them was probably derived from the Legenda Aurea of Jacobus de Voragine. On other similar productions, see Warton, Engl. Poetry, I. 13 sq. ed. 1840.

The subjects appear in the following order:

1. Life of St Peter (fol. 2 b).
2. St Paul (fol. 8 b).
3. St Andrew (fol. 21 a).
4. St James the Great (fol. 32 b).

48. St Juliana (fol. 373 a).
49. St Thecla (fol. 376 a).
50. St Catharine (fol. 380 a).

Trace of ownership: 'Ketherine Grehame with my hand.'

1437 Gg. II. 7.

A small folio, on paper, 103 leaves, about 20 lines in each page; handwriting of the XVIIth century.

'A SHORTE COMPENDIUM, or BRIEFE DECLARATION of what euery officer of his Ma^ties^ Courte of Exchequer ought to doe by vertue of his office in England; as alsoe THE ARTICLES of the vnitinge of the late COURTS of AUGMENTATIONS and Revenewes of the Crowne, and the late Courte of First Fruites and Tenthes to the COURTE of EXCHEQUER att Westminister: written att the request of the Right Hono[ble] the Lord Buckhurst Lord Treasuror of England in the raigne of our late Soueraigne Lord King James.'

1438 Gg. II. 8.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 159, with 23 lines in each page. Date, the XVth century.

EVANGELISTERIUM.

The MS. begins f. 5, with the gospel for the first Sunday in Advent, with a rich illuminated border—the gospels for the Saints' days begin f. 122, with S. Andrew, and the Vol. ends f. 155 b with the gospel 'ad missam pro corpore presenti.' The MS. is very much injured by damp.

In the gospels containing the account of the Passion, portions have musical notes.

On one of the blank leaves at the beginning is written,

He that in yowthe no vertue wyll yowes in aege all honor shall hym refuse.

1439—1444 Gg. II. 9—14.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1445 Gg. II. 15.

A quarto, on paper, 128 leaves, about 20 lines in each page; handwriting of the XVIIth century.

1. 'A description or Breife Declaration of all the Antient MONUMENTS, RYTES and CUSTOMES belonging or being within the MONASTICALL CHURCH OF DURHAM BEFORE THE SUPPRESSION' (fol. 1 to fol. 80); 'transcribed Jan. 31, 1660, per J. B.,' and dedicated to Sir Gilbert Jerrard.

This was 'published' by J. D[avies] of Kidwelly, Lond. 1672, who professes to have collected it 'out of ancient Manuscripts, about the time of the suppression.'

2. 'The History of some particuler WINDOWES in the Cathedrall Church of Durham,' &c.; 9 leaves.

3. 'Origo Episcopatus Dunelmensis, anno Domini 1603;' 29 leaves.

The date of the present copy, which is in the same hand as before, was 1661. The list of bishops is carried down to Cuthbert Tunstall, the sixtieth in the series.

1446 Gg. II. 16.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1447 Gg. II. 17.

A folio, on paper, of 280 pages, in good preservation.

Headed 'De valore Episcopatus Norwici et de Primitiis et decimis ejusdem.'

It contains the names of all the ecclesiastical benefices within the diocese of Norwich, with a statement of the firstfruits, tenths and procurations due from each of them, and of the patrons and incumbents in A.D. 1632.

1448 Gg. II. 18.

A folio, containing ff. 217, regularly paged, in double columns of 46 lines. Date, the XIVth century.

Jacobi de Voragine Aurea Legenda.

Begins (after the Preface, Universum tempus presentis vite...and an index of chapters:)

Adventus domini per quatuor septimanas...

Ends, imperfectly, in the account of St Clement:

...quia enim creatorem non cognoscitis, justum est ut in cre[aturis]...

Of the 176 chapters which the index shews that the MS. once contained, the last 12 are lost. The initial letter is illuminated, and there is also a representation of the Doom on f. 1. At the foot of f. 1, is written in a contemporary hand 'Memoriale Fratris Johannis de Draytone monachi cuius anime propicietur deus. Amen;' a note which has misled Tanner, Biblioth. p. 233, who cites this MS. as a work of John de Draytone's, called 'Memoriale.'

1449—1450 Gg. II. 19 and 20.

Two folios, on paper, containing 1196 numbered pages (in addition to 24 pages of index); the manuscript is fairly written in Law-French in a hand of about the period comprised in the work.

'Reportes hors de le Banck le Roy.'

The first volume extends from Paschæ 5^to^ to Trin. 10, the second from Mich. 10 to Pasch. 13 Car. I.

Some of the cases reported in these volumes are apparently not reported elsewhere. The first case of the series is 'Jones v. Harris,' in which the plaintiff as serjeant-at-arms for the marches of Wales prefers his bill against Sir Thomas Harris for his fees. The last is an anonymous case against an executor to recover a debt.

1451 Gg. II. 21.

A folio, on parchment, 200 pages, double columns, of about 40 lines each, handwriting of the XIIth or XIIIth century.

1. 'Nomina episcoporum CENOMANNICE URBIS [Mons]; Nomina pontificum PITAUENSIUM [Poitiers]; Nomina episcoporum Nanneticensium [Nantes]; Nomina archiepiscoporum CANTUARIE; Nomina episcoporum AMSIANENSIUM [Amiens]; Nomina episcoporum BELUACENSIUM [BEAUVAIS]; Nomina archiepiscoporum SENONENSIUM [Sens]; Nomina episcoporum PARISIENSIUM; Nomina episcoporum Aurelianensium [Orleans]; Nomina episcoporum Siluanettensium [Senlis].'

These lists occupy 3 pages, and appear to have been drawn up in 1162.

2. 'HISTORIA ANGLORUM nouiter edita ab HENRICO HUNTENDUNENSI archidiacono: libri decem' (pp. 5—181).

After a summary of the contents, the 'Prologus' begins:

Cvm in omni fere litterarum studio dulce laboris lenimen...

Ends (p. 181), at the 12th year of King Stephen:

Unde comparet quante rex Stephanus audacie et animi pericula non reformidantis fuerit.

Printed, with numerous variations, in Savile's Scriptores post Bedam, Francof. 1601; according to which edition the present MS. breaks off at p. 394.

3. 'Libellus BEDE presbyteri DE TEMPORIBUS minor:' in 22 chapters.

Begins (p. 183):

Tempora momentis, horis, diebus, mensibus, annis, seculis, et etatibus diuiduntur...

Printed in Bede's Works, ed. Giles, VI. 123 sq.

4. 'Libellus BEDE de NATURA MUNDI,' or 'de NATURA RERUM;' in 51 chapters.

Begins (p. 190):

Operatio diuina que cuncta creauit et gubernat...

According to the colophon (p. 199), this tract is said to be chiefly taken 'de libro plinii secundi Naturalis Hystorie.'

Printed, as above, VI. 99 sq.

Bound up with these treatises is a leaf of some older MS. (? written in the xiith century). One of the chapters is entitled 'Item Uersiculus de transitu Sancti Martini episcopi.'

1452 Gg. II. 22.

A folio, on parchment, containing 140 leaves, in fine preservation and beautifully written in Latin (with coloured letters and illuminated initials), in a hand of the xivth century.

EXTRACTS FROM THE DECRETALS OF GREGORY.

This is a manuscript of great beauty, and contains a gloss occupying 5 folios from fol. 59—64.

At folio 9 a piece of silk has been sewn into the parchment to preserve the illuminated initial.

1453 Gg. II. 23.

A folio, on paper, containing 71 numbered pages, written in Law-French in a hand of about the commencement of the xviith century.

The volume consists of REPORTS OF CASES in all the three courts from Mich. 2 to Mich. 11th James 1st, some of which are not to be found among the published cases. Many of them have the pleadings set out very carefully.

The first case is that of Weldinge v. Coppinge in the King's Bench, the last is Chamberlaine's case in the Exchequer.

1454 Gg. II. 24.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 116, in double columns, with 28 lines in each column. It has illuminated initials and occasional borders. Date, the xvth century. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf.

PSALTERIUM CUM CANTICIS, VIGILIÆ MORTUORUM, &c.

The Kalendar occupies ff. 2—7, the next leaf containing the beginning of the Psalter is lost, and f. 9 begins in the middle of Ps. iv. 1....justitie mee: in tribulacione dilatasti michi. A leaf is also lost between ff. 41 and 42, and 67 and 68: the Psalms end f. 86, and the Canticles follow with the Litany, which ends f. 98,—after a blank leaf the Vigiliæ Mortuorum begin f. 100, and in f. 110*b* the fifteen Oos, and the MS. ends f. 115*a* with S. Bernard's Oratio devota de nomine Ihesu.

In the beginning is written 'This boke perteignyth unto Thomas More sonne of Roger More Esquyer gyvyn by his Grauntffader John Husee in November 1547.' And on other blank leaves occur the names of John Ffish, George Hussey 1643, Mary Ffarmor 1574, and Nathaniel Ffauster.

Several of the leaves have been mutilated for the sake of the initial letter.

1455 Gg. II. 25.

A folio, on paper, of 466 pages. There are no pages numbered 188, 417, 418; numbers 21—24 occur twice; 447 to the end are not paged and contain an index to the volume, of which the title is

'EXTRACTED OUT OF GENERALL HISTORIES both Divine and Hystoricall. Ano. Dmni 1663, by John Jackson.'

Most of the information here collected together was extracted from the works of well-known authors, named by the collector, and the whole seems to be an historical common-place book relating chiefly to England. The latest entry seems to have been made in the year 1694.

1456 Gg. II. 26.

A folio, on paper, consisting of 81 numbered pages, in good preservation and well written in English in a hand of about the middle of the XVIIth century.

'CAUSES IN CHANCERIE GATHERED BY SIR GEORGE DAVYS ONE OF THE MASTERS OF THE CHANCERIE ANNO 1601 OUT OF THE LABOURS OF MR WILLIAM LAMBERT.'

The treatise does not seem to be in print.

1457 Gg. II. 27.

A folio, on paper, containing 86 pages, nearly the whole of which is blank; what little manuscript there is, is in English, in a small neat legible hand of the commencement of the XVIIth century.

A LAW COMMONPLACE BOOK.

1458 Gg. II. 28.

A folio, on paper, of 91 leaves, and many more at the end which are blank. On the fly-leaf at the beginning is written 'Samuell Sandys,' and other scribbling.

The contents are

1. 'The Earle of Leicester his Common wealth.' Written and published by Parsons the Jesuit in 1641.

2. 'A short veiw of K. Henry the third his raigne, written by Sir Robt. Cotton 1624.' Printed in 1627.

3. 'Bosworth feild: by J. B.' A poem by Sir John Beaumont, Bart., published 1629.

4. 'A Speach or argument made in the Commons house of parliament at a generall Committye of the whole house concerninge the new Impositions uppon Marchandize lately imposed w^th^out assent of p^l^iam^t^, and the right and lawfullness thereof. An° 8 J. R.'

1459 Gg. II. 29.

A folio, on paper, containing 100 pages (being apparently the continuation of another MS.), written in Latin, English, and Law-French in various hands, some of which may be referred to the commencement of, and some to the end of, the xviiith century: (one document, 'a Retayner for a Nobleman's Chaplain,' contains a date, July 31st, 1660).

A Law Commonplace Book and Book of Precedents.

The name E. Barret appears on one of the pages.

1460 Gg. II. 30.

A paper-book, in folio, containing 126 numbered pages, in good preservation, and written in Law-French in rather an obscure running-hand of the period embraced in the work.

'Reports comenceant pasch. 19 Jac. et finiant pas. 3 Car.'

Nearly all these cases are in print, the greater part of the volume consisting of a transcript of Benloe's Reports. Edition, 1661.

On the fly-leaf at the commencement appears as follows:

'The Book of Robert Nicholas,' together with a note 'Mem^m^ to examine this book by the Little Book anned to it.'

The Robert Nicholas above mentioned may have been the person recorded by Whitelock (p. 405) as a Commissioner of the Great Seal, Anno 1649.

1461 Gg. II. 31.

A folio, on paper, containing 1060 pages (of which very many are blank), numbered down to 1033; well written in English in a hand of about the early part of the XVIIth century.

A Collection of RULES, ORDERS, AND FORMS OF PROCEEDING IN THE COURT OF CHANCERY, with a very complete Index appended to it.

Begins:

> There is nothing more usuall than the name of Equitie and scarce anything more obscure and difficult than the matter itself. Notwithstanding amongst divers and sundry descriptions which the civilians and canonists offer, these may serve for a generall taste of the nature and force thereof.

At the end of the treatise appears

> 'A Probleme
> whence it comes to passe that the Court of Chancerie of late is soe frequented above other the common law courts at Westminster.'

1462 Gg. II. 32.

A large quarto, on vellum, containing 113 leaves, the pages mostly in double columns, of about 45 lines each, beautifully written in a black-letter hand of the XIIIth century. The first leaf contains two curious illuminated pictures, and the larger capitals are variously coloured and ornamented throughout. The titles of the books and sections are in rubric, and there are a great variety of notes in several later and sometimes very minute hands: a hand of the XVIIth century has made references to the Grammatici Latini of Putsch, and added titles in some cases.

1. A grammatical extract of 22 lines without title or author's name. fol. 1.

Begins:

> Sciendum est quod versus totus constans sive spondeis sive dactylis unius dicitur esse figuræ.

Taken (with considerable alterations) from Diomed. Lib. III. p. 495. Ed. Putsch.

2. 'Prisciani....partitiones versuum XII. Æneidos principalium' (title in late hand).

Begins (fol. 1 b):
Arma virumque cano...

Ends (fol. 10 b, after which follows a blank leaf):
Troiugena et Graiugena faciens. (pp. 1215—1286, Putsch.)

3. PRISCIANI LIBRI XVIII. (fol. 12—92).

Contains the letter to Julianus and Patricius and the first XVII. books complete: the XVIII^th^ book ends with the words, 'qui laudibus utriusque gloriari student doctrinæ' (p. 1166. Ed. Putsch). The first XVI. books are styled Priscianus major in the MS.: the last two are entitled Priscianus minor.

4. Two folio leaves, on parchment, in double columns of 44 lines. Date, the XIIIth century.

A HYMN to S. MICHAEL, beginning 'Ad celebres rex celice.' . . . preceded by a full explanatory commentary.

The hymn will be found in Mone's Hymni Latini medii ævi, I. p. 454.

At the top of p. 1 is written, 'De libris Sancti Sulpicii Bituricensis.'

1463 Gg. II. 33.

A large quarto, on paper, consisting of 265 leaves, with 22 or 33 lines in a page. The handwriting is that of the XVth or XVIth century. The parts of this volume are much displaced in the binding.

A COLLECTION OF GREEK MATHEMATICAL TREATISES.

1. ff. 1—54. 'Κλαυδίου Πτολεμαίου Μαθηματικῆς συντάξεως βίβλια τρία.'

The third book is incomplete; the whole being only as much as is contained in the 60 first pages of the Edit. fol. Basil. MDXXXVII. There are copious marginal scholia, and schemes of the demonstrations. The figures are wanting in some parts, and the tables are mostly left unfilled.

2. ff. 57—63. 'Ἐπιτετμημένον ἐγκώμιον τῆς τοῦ Πτολεμαίου μαθηματικῆς συντάξεως.'

Begins:
ἡ μὲν δὴ πρόθεσις ἡμῖν νῦν ἐστιν κατ' ἐπιτομὴν διαλαβεῖν...

Ends:

...καὶ ἐστὶν ὁ κανὼν οὗτος·

The canon is wanting.

3. ff. 65—82. 'Πρόκλου Διαδόχου ὑποτύπωσις ἀστρονομικῶν ὑποθέσεων.'

This was published at Basle in MDXL.

Begins:

Πλάτων μὲν ὁ μέγας ὦ ἑταῖρε...

Ends:

...προβλημάτων ὧν ζητεῖν εἰώθασιν.

The tract at the end of this volume is properly the completion of this treatise, as the catchwords imply. See § 26.

4. ff. 83—102. 'Θεῶνος Ἀλεξανδρέως σχόλια πάνυ χρήσιμα εἰς τὴν Μαθηματικὴν μεγάλην σύνταξιν Πτολεμαίου.'

These are not Theon's own commentaries.

Begins:

σύνταξιν ἐπέγραψε τὴν πραγματείαν οὐκ ὡς ἄν τις οἰηθείη...

Ends (imperfect):

...ἣν τινάς φαμεν ἀνατέλλειν...

ff. 107—109 are a displaced part of Euclid's Optics. See § 24.

f. 110 is also a displaced fragment.

5. ff. 112—116. 'Ἀρχιμήδους κυκλομέτρησις.' 'Εὐτοκίου Ἀσκαλωνίτου ὑπομνήματα.'

These correspond with Torelli's edition of Archimedes. Fol. Oxon. MDCCXCII. pp. 203—216.

6. f. 121. Greek Elegiac verses.

Begins:

Εἰ κύβον ἐξ ὀλίγου διπλήσιον ὤγαθὲ τεύχειν...

Ends:

...τοῦ Κυρηναίου τοῦ τ' Ἐρατοσθενέους.

18 lines.

7. ff. 122—130 a. 'Ἀγαθημέρου τοῦ Ὀρθῶνος γεωγραφίας ὑποτύπωσις.'

This is printed in the Geographi Minores, Vol. II. Oxon. MDCCIII. Both the books there printed are in this MS., but the second is entitled here ὑποτύπωσις γεωγραφίας ἐν ἐπιτόμῳ.

8. ff. 130 b. 'Διονυσίου Βυζαντίου ἀνάπλους Βοσπόρου.'

This is only the opening of the tract, exactly as printed in the note to the Latin copy in Geogr. Minor. Vol. III. p. 1.

9. ff. 132—133 a. A Grammatical Fragment, probably of Isaac Argyrus.

Begins:

ἐν ταῖς ἐπιστολαῖς χρησιμώτατα τὰ γνώματα οἰόνται τῶν σοφῶν...

Ends:

...ταῦτα ἐπειδὴ μείζονος ἐδεῖτο βοηθήματος μείζονος καὶ τυγχάνει.

10. ff. 133 a. 'Ἰσαὰκ ἀλλῶς τοῦ Ἀργύρου σχόλια πάνυ ἀναγκαιότατα τυγχάνοντα εἰς τὸ εὑρισκόμενον ἐν τῇ γεωγραφίᾳ πρῶτον σχῆμα τῆς ἐν ἐπιπέδῳ καταγραφῆς τῆς οἰκουμένης.'

Begins:

τὸ μὲν ὑποθεῖναι τὸ μήκος τοῦ παραλληλογράμμου διπλάσιον τοῦ πλάτους...

Ends:

...δι' εὐθειῶν λαμβάνονται τὰ πέρατα καὶ οὐ περιφερειῶν.

This was to have been published by Holstenius. See Fabricius, Bibl. Gr. IV. p. 155, Harles.

11. ff. 135—137 a. 'Μέθοδος εἰς τὴν ἐν ἐπιπέδῳ τῆς οἰκουμένης σύμμετρον τῇ σφαιρικῇ θέσει καταγραφὴν τοῦ Πτολεμαίου.'

Probably by the same Isaac Argyrus. Incomplete.

Begins:

Ἐπὶ δὲ τῆς ἐν τῷ πίνακι καταγραφῆς...

Ends:

...τοῦ κύκλου τμῆμα κατὰ τό...

12. ff. 140—153 b. 'Ὑψικλέους τὰ εἰς Εὐκλειδὴν ἀναφερόμενα.'

These are the books printed in editions of Euclid for the 14th and 15th Elements. There are marginal scholia.

13. ff. 153 b—176. Scholia to the vth Element of Euclid, by Isaac Argyrus and others.

14. ff. 176—178. Πῶς τετραγωνίζειν τὸν κύκλον.

Begins:

Ἐπειδήπερ ἀποδέδεικται ἐν τῷ ιβῳ στοιχείῳ...

Ends:

...ἰσόν ἐσται τῷ τοῦ κύκλου ἐμβαδῷ ὅπερ ἔδει δείξαι.

15. ff. 179—192 a. 'Θεῶνος ὑπομνήματα εἰς τὸν πρῶτον βίβλιον τῆς μεγάλης συντάξεως.'

Theon's ὑπομνήματα are included with the μεγάλη σύνταξις in the Edition referred to in § 1. The present fragment corresponds to pp. 42—64 of that edition.

16. ff. 196—202 a. 'Ἰωάννου Ἀλεξανδρέως τοῦ Φιλοπόνου περὶ τῆς τοῦ ἀστρολάβου χρήσεως βιβλίον.'

See Dd. xv. 27.

Rather more than five chapters are wanting in the present copy, which ends:

παρὰ τὸν ιε̄ πόσων ἐστὶν ὡρῶν.

17. ff. 203—210. 'Ἀστρονομικῆς κατ' ἐπιτομὴν στοιχειῶν βιβλίον β'. προκατασκευὴ εἰς τὴν κατάληψιν τῆς τοῦ Πτολεμαίου συντάξεως.'

The latter part of this MS. is lost.

Begins:

τὰ μὲν δὴ τῆς προτέρας ἡμῶν σπουδῆς...

Ends:

...τὰ ὑστερογενέστερα εἰ δὴ παρὰ τοῦ πρῶτο...

18. ff. 211—217. 'Ἐκ τοῦ τῆς ἀστρονομικῆς βίβλου ἡ ψηφηφορίας εἰσαγωγῆς Θεοδώρου τοῦ Μελιτηνιώτου.'

The first chapter of this part, containing more than two pages, is printed in Fabricius, Bibl. Gr. Vol. x. p. 407. There are in all 10 chapters.

Begins:

ἀστρονομία ἐστιν ἡ ἐπιστήμη...

Ends:

...ἡ τῶν ἀριθμῶν καταγραφὴ δῆλον ποιεῖ, with the scheme.

19. ff. 218—222. 'Τοῦ Ἀργύρου, περὶ εὑρέσεως τῶν τετραγωνικῶν πλευρῶν τῶν μὴ ῥητῶν τετραγώνων ἀριθμῶν.'

See Fabricius, Bibl. Gr. Vol. xi. p. 129.

Begins:

τῶν μὲν ῥητῶν τετραγώνων ἀριθμῶν εὐχερής ἐστιν ἡ τῶν πλευρῶν εὕρεσις...

Ends with a table of the square roots of numbers from 1 to 102, calculated to three places of sexagesimal fractions.

20. ff. 222—225 a. 'Προλεγόμενα εἰς την Πτολεμαίου μαθηματικὴν σύνταξιν.'

Begins:

τὴν ἀστρονομικὴν ἐν τοῖς πρὸς Σῦρον γενεθλιακοῖς τέτρασι βιβλίοις...

Ends:

...σφαιροειδὴς ἡ γῆ.

21. ff. 225 a—226. 'Τάξις καὶ χειρουργία μερισμοῦ κατὰ τὸν γεωμέτρην Πάππον.'

Begins:

Δόξει μὲν οὖν τὰ ἐν τοῖς μερισμοῖς ἅπαντα...

Ends (incomplete):

...καὶ ὁμοίως τῶν λοιπῶν γραφῶν κατὰ τόν...

ff. 227—229 are displaced from § 22.

22. ff. 230—231 a. Scholia on the vth and following Elements of Euclid.

Begins:

μέρος ἐστὶ μέγεθος μεγέθους...

Ends:

...ταῦτα ἐν τούτῳ συνηρημένως.

23. ff. 232—241 a. 'Ἡρῶνος Ἀλεξανδρέως πνευματικῶν βιβλίον πρῶτον.'

This is printed in Veteres Mathematici. Folio, Paris, MDCXCIII. p. 145. The MS. is very defective: the copyist has omitted from ἔστω σμηρισμάτιον, p. 159, ed. to the same words p. 177. From this the MS. is complete to the middle of p. 195 (see ff. 227—229); all after this is lost to the foot of p. 227, ...'Υδραυλικοῦ ὀργάνου κατασκευή. The original of the present MS. seems to have wanted the end of the printed copy from Ζώον τέμνεσθαί τε καὶ πίνειν, p. 230.

24. ff. 247—250 a. 'Τὰ Εὐκλείδου ὀπτικά.'

This is an unfinished copy containing only eleven propositions, with scholia. There are no figures.

25. ff. 251—252, also ff. 107—109 a. 'Τὰ Εὐκλείδου ὀπτικά.'

This is another defective copy containing 23 propositions, with scholia and figures.

26. ff. 257—260. 'Εὐκλείδου κατοπτρικά.'

This is complete, with scholia, and figures to most of the propositions.

27. ff. 261—264 a. 'Περὶ Ἀστρολάβου κατασκευῆς καὶ χρείας.'

This tract is properly the conclusion of § 3.

Begins:

ἐπειδὴ καὶ πρὸ τὰς τῆς σελήνης τηρήσεις...

Ends:

...ἵνα γένηται καταληπτὸν τὸ μέτρον τῶν ἐν αὐτοῖς.

The names of two former owners of this book are written on f. 121 b, in the same writing as most of the volume:

Πρότερον Γεώργου. Βαλλ.
ὕστερον, Ἀλβέρτου Πίου τοῦ Καρπαίου.

The latter died A.D. MDXXIX.

1464 Gg. II. 34.

A small folio, on paper, of 16 leaves, each page containing about 29 lines, neatly written in a hand which may be assigned to the beginning of the XVIth century, or a little earlier. Ornaments and capitals rubricated.

1. 'Κλεονείδου εἰσαγωγὴ ἁρμονική.'

Begins (fol. 1):

ἁρμονική ἐστιν ἐπιστήμη...

Ends (fol. 8 a):

οὗτος ὁ ὅρος τῆς κατὰ τὸ ἡρμοσμένον ἐστὶ πραγματείας.

Commonly ascribed to Euclid, and contained in Gregory's edition, pp. 533—543. See Smith's Dict. Biogr. s. v. Cleonides and Euclid.

2. 'Εὐκλείδου κατατομὴ κάνονος.'

Begins (fol. 8 a):

εἰ ἡσυχία εἴη καὶ ἀκινησία....

Ends (fol. ult.):

ὥστε γενέσθαι τὸν PB μέσον διάτονον.

(pp. 547—556. Ed. Greg.)

In the MS. this is linked to the former as though it were one treatise; in the margin at the beginning is written περὶ φθόγγων.

1465 Gg. II. 35.

A small folio, on paper, 155 leaves, about 38 lines in each page; handwriting of the XVIth century.

'Certane PRACTICQUES drawin furth of certane processe before y^e^ Lordis of the COLLEGE of JUSTICE and SESSIONE; and DECRETIS of the same, collectit and sett furth be SIR RICHARD

Maitland, of Lethingtoun, Knyght, and of the Senatoris of the said College.'

The dates annexed to these entries all lie between 1550 and 1577.

1466 Gg. III. 1.

A folio, on paper, of 103 leaves, in good preservation.

An account of the tenure of lands, situated chiefly in Essex, from the 27 Hen. III. to the 2 Ric. III., with an index.

1467 Gg. III. 2.

A folio, on paper, containing 111 pages, of which 99 are numbered; it is fairly written in English in a hand of about the early part of the XVIIth century, and consists of

1. Cases decided in the Court of Wards and Liveries between the 13th and 20th years of James I.

2. Presentations made and granted by the Master of the Court of Wards and Liveries.

Most of the cases that are given in the manuscript will be found totidem verbis in Sir James Ley's Reports. The first three in the manuscript however are not in the printed book.

For an account of this court and its history, see Coke's second Institute, 4th part, cap. 35.

1468 Gg. III. 3.

A small folio, on paper, containing 44 leaves.

Written in Law-French in a rough coarse hand (much blotted) of about the beginning of the XVIIth century.

Cases adjudged in the Common Pleas in the 15th, 16th and 17th of Elizabeth.

1469 Gg. III. 4.

A small folio, on paper (bound up with the preceding MS.) containing 84 leaves; written in English in a clear hand of the middle of the XVIIth century.

'A true Coppie of Mr Justice Crook's Argument XIII° Aprilis Anno Dom. 1638 upon the case of the Scire Facias out of the Exchequer against John Hampden Esquire.'

1470 Gg. III. 5.

A folio, on paper, containing ff. 200, of which 190 are numbered; written in Law-French during the reign of Elizabeth. Many of the leaves are blank.

A Law Commonplace Book, with an alphabetical table of contents.

On the first leaf is the record of a money transaction between Edward Bullocke of Muche Wyborowe in the countie of Essex and William Atwood, dated 1 May. anno regni Elizabeth. xxix. To f. 70 is affixed a letter of one Jos. Wood, dated June 26, 1599, begging a friend to discharge some debts.

At the beginning is written the distich:

Sepe rogare, rogata tenere, tenta docere,
Hæc tria discipulum faciunt superare magistrum.

1471 Gg. III. 6.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 247, with 30 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

La Divina Commedia di Dante, with a marginal and interlinear Commentary in Latin, abridged from that of Benvenuto of Imola.

The Inferno begins f. 1, with a vignette in the initial letter of Dante with Virgil; the Purgatorio f. 78 b, with a similar vignette of the two poets in the boat; and the Paradiso f. 161, the initial vignette representing Beatrice shewing the Saviour in glory to Dante.

Benvenuto Rambaldo of Imola, to whom the commentary is ascribed, flourished in 1376. It has never been printed entire, but very copious extracts are given in Muratori's Antiquitates Italicæ, I. pp. 1029—1298. The commentary printed by Vendelin de Spira, Venet. 1477, purporting to be an Italian translation of this, is pseudonymous. This MS. gives the commentary in a very abridged form.

At the end of the Paradiso follow

1. f. 240 b. Dante's epitaph on himself, 'Jura monarchie superos flegetonta lacusque,' &c.

This will be found in the Life of Dante, p. 47, in the 4th volume of the edition of Lombardi's Dante, published at Rome 1817, entitled 'Le principali cose appartenenti alla divina commedia.'

2. ff. 241—243 a. 'Canto di messer Piero Aligero figluolo di Dante, nel quale sotto brevità espone, et divide la maravigliosa comedia . . . in tre parti.'

Begins:

O voie che site dal verace lume...

Ends:

...Nel mezzo del camin di nostra vita.

Ibid. pp. 113—116.

This MS. is not mentioned in Colomb de Batines' Bibliografia Dantesca.

1472—1479 Gg. III. 7—14.

A commentary on ÆSCHYLUS by THOMAS STANLEY, in eight volumes folio. Date, the XVIIth century.

These notes are written by Stanley in the margins and in blank leaves at the end of his edition of Æschylus, printed by Flesher (Lond. 1663). They are incorporated into Butler's edition. See his preface, p. v.

1480 Gg. III. 15.

A thick small folio, on paper, of 421 leaves, many of which are blank, or nearly so. Of the XVIIth century.

THOMÆ STANLEII 'ADVERSARIA.'

The authors illustrated and emendated are enumerated on the reverse of the first leaf: viz. Sophocles, Euripides, Stephanus (De Urbibus), Juvenalis, Persius, Achilles, Tatius, Longus, Parthenius, Zenobius, Theocritus, Antigonus, Carystius, Aristides, Theophrastus (Charact.), Hesychius, and the Etymologicon Magnum. In this volume are also contained fragments of Euripides and Sophocles omitted by Meursius. The volume is in Stanley's own hand.

1481 Gg. III. 16.

A small folio, on paper, of 357 leaves (many of which are blank or nearly so), partly paged, each full page containing from 30 to 40 lines. Date, the XVIIth century.

THOMÆ STANLEII OPUSCULA PHILOLOGICA.

1 'ἀκροθίνια, sive Exercitatio philologica de primitiis ac decimis prædæ ad versum IV capitis VII Epistolæ ad Hebræos: qua nonnulla S. Scripturæ loca explicantur, veteres aliquot ritus eruuntur, authores plurimi præsertim Græci partim illustrantur, partim emendantur.' fol. 1.

2. 'Notæ in Demosthenis Orationem περι συμμοριων.' fol. 108.

1486 Gg. III. 21.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 256, with 23 lines in each page. The initial letters are alternately red and blue; there are musical notes to the antiphons. Date, the XIIIth and XIVth centuries.

MISSALE formerly belonging to the ABBEY of TEWKESBURY.

After 2 leaves of prayers in a later hand than the rest of the MS., and the two sequences 'Missus Gabriel de celis,' and 'Verbum bonum et suave,' the Kalendar begins f. 4, after a table of the nones, ides, regule feriarum, &c. in each month: f. 10 contains a table 'de termino paschali:' and the Missal begins f. 11 as usual with the Office for Advent. A leaf is lost between ff. 146 and 147, containing the beginning of the Canon, which is inserted after the offices for the week following Passion Sunday. After the Canon follows the Missa in veneratione Sanctæ Trinitatis, then the Missa de sancta Maria quotidie a purificatione usque ad adventum, Missa de S. Maria a pascha usque ad festum sanctæ Trinitatis, and the offices in commemoratione sanctorum angelorum, pro indulgentia peccatorum, pro serenitate aeris, &c.

The Proprium Sanctorum begins f. 178 as usual with S. Andrew, and ends with S. Benedict, f. 205; f. 206 contains the office in annunciatione sanctæ Mariæ, and the Commune Sanctorum begins f. 207 with the office in vigilia unius apostoli, ending f. 250*b* in octavo cujuslibet sancti. Another hand gives a few additional offices for S. Anne, S. Mary Magdalene, &c., ending with S. Chad, f. 256*a*. From ff. 3—152 is in a xiiith century hand, the rest written in the xivth century.

The Kalendar contains obituary notices of Robertus filius Haimonis, founder of Tewkesbury Abbey. Æliva, uxor Ailwardi, a great benefactor to the Monastery.

Hugo de Mortuomari.

Giraldus, Robertus, Benedictus, Rogerus, Fromundus, Alanus, Gualterus, Hugo, Petrus, Robertus, Johannes de Cotes, Abbats.

Willelmus, Sampson, Alured, Bishops of Worcester.

Lanfranc, Richard, Archbishops of Canterbury.

Edwardus, Henricus junior, Henricus secundus, Willelmus senior, kings of England.

Ysabel, Mabilia, Hawyssa, Mathilda, Countesses of Gloucester.

The dedicacio ecclesie Theoks. is given June 18—no year is mentioned in any case.

1487 Gg. III. 22.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 338, in double columns of 48 lines. Date, 1484, as appears from the colophon.

'Sanctus Bonaventura super quarto Sententiarum.'

Begins (after the index of titles):

Unguentarius faciet pigmenta suavitatis...

Ends:

...sua pia misericordia cui est benedictio, &c.

Opp. Mogunt. 1609, T. v.

The first leaf of this very magnificent MS. has a rich illuminated border, and a picture of S. Bonaventura at his desk. It is apparently of French workmanship.

1488 Gg. III. 23.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 378, in double columns of 47 lines. Of the same character and date as the preceding, though in a different hand.

'Sanctus Bonaventura super secundo Sententiarum.'

Begins:

Solum modo hoc inveni quod Deus...

Ends:

...quod series manifestat duorum librorum precedentium cui, &c.

The 'Tabula' follows on 5 leaves. On the last leaf is an extract in a later hand respecting S. Bonaventura from 'Johannes a Trittonheym Abbas Spanheimensis de Scriptor. Ecclesiast.' The first leaf of this MS. also has a rich illuminated border.

Opp. Mogunt. 1609, T. IV.

1489 Gg. III. 24.

A tall quarto, on paper, of 445 leaves.

'AN ABRIDGEMENT OF THE RECORDS in the Tower of London,' from Edw. II. to Ric. III., and of all the Parliaments holden in each King's reign.

It appears to have been revised for the press, but the printed copy, edited by W. Prynne in the name of Sir R. Cotton, does not exactly correspond. Nevertheless the book and this manuscript are the same, except a very few verbal changes and the addition of marginal notes, preface and index by Prynne. Published in London 1657.

The last folio is numbered 435; there are two folios numbered 281, 306, 319, 321, 415, 416, 417, 577 and 578, and one extra folio before 412.

1490 Gg. III. 25.

A folio, on paper, containing 194 leaves, numbered inaccurately as 191, written from both ends, in Law-French, in a contemporary hand, the lines varying from 35 to 42 in a page.

LAW REPORTS FROM EASTER TERM, 37 ELIZ. TO HILARY TERM, 39 ELIZ.

Many of the cases are printed in Croke. Reversing the book, at the other end is 'Aileworth's Case,' extending over 22 leaves, and that 'Betweene Harvey pl. and Farye def.,' extending over 18 leaves.

1491 Gg. III. 26.

A folio, on paper, containing 365 numbered leaves, the lines varying generally from 26 to 30 in a page, written in Latin, English, and French, in different hands of the XVIth and XVIIth centuries. On a fly-leaf is pasted a small piece of parchment containing an incomplete and incorrect table of contents.

1. ff. 1—4*a*. 'INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE M^R^ OF O^R^ WARDS AND LYVERIES for the better authorisinge and directinge of him in the execucon of his office and performance of our service.' Date, James I., contemporary hand.

Ends:

...and soe I conclude this treatise of Mannors.

Hand, xvuth century.

10. ff. 195—348. 'Letters Pattent and graunts of Mannors and Lands, by King Henry the Eight in the xxxvijth yeare of his Raigne.'

Abstracts of grants made in different parts of the kingdom. Hand, xvith century.

11. ff. 349—352. Law Readings of William Simonds, in French, in the summer vacation 3 Edw. VI. on statute 32 Hen. VIII. c. 28, on leases. Hand, xvith century.

12. 353—364. 'Communications betweene Monsieur Du Moulin and Mons^r Balzac.'

Consisting of 2 letters of the former and 1 of the latter, occasioned by Balzac having presented to Du Moulin a copy of his 'Prince.' Contemporary hand. Balzac's letter is printed in Sir Rich. Baker's translation of his letters, 1654.

1492 Gg. III. 27.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1493 Gg. III. 28.

A large quarto, on vellum, 514 pages, of 30 lines each, generally well preserved, but imperfect at the end; handwriting not later than the XIth century. Formerly presented to Exeter Cathedral by bishop Leofric, with the title FUL SPEL-BOC WINTRES AND SUMERES (Wanley's Catal. p. 80).

WORKS OF ÆLFRIC, chiefly HOMILIES, in Anglo-Saxon.

The author describes himself (p. 2) as 'Ælfric munuc and mæsse-preost,' and says that he translated from the Latin of such writers as Augustine of Hippo, Jerome, Beda, Gregory the Great, Smaragdus and Haimo, for the benefit of his unlearned fellow-countrymen. His two Prefaces, one in Latin, the other in Anglo-Saxon, are printed at length by Wanley (pp. 153, 154), and Thorpe's Homilies of Ælfric, Vol. I. pp. 1 sq. The former preface is dedicated to archbishop Sigeric or Siricius, who was primate of all England (989—993).

The Homilies are divided into two books, of which the first commences (p. 5) with the following title:

Printed entire in Thorpe's Ancient Laws, &c. II. 342—362.

The only trace of ownership is on p. 1, 'Leo. Pylkyngton.' The volume contains a copious 'index rerum,' apparently drawn up by Wheloc. Part of it is written on two leaves of an ancient Litany.

1494 Gg. III. 29.

A folio, on paper, containing 169 leaves of 30 lines, with a good margin; written in the XVth century.

'Libri tres uricrisiarum.'

The author is Frere Harry Danyell. See Ff. II. 6, § 1, which is a rougher copy of the same work. The present MS. was formerly the property of David Harris, an apothecary of Bristol.

Some very irregular rhyming Hexameters follow the colophon.

1495 Gg. III. 30.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1496 Gg. III. 31.

A folio, on paper, containing ff. 246, regularly numbered, with 63 lines in a page. Date, the XVth century. A later hand gives the title,

Gulielmi 'Nottinghami Expositio Evangeliorum Dominicalium.'

Begins:

Cum appropinquasset ihs̄. In hoc evangelio...

Ends:

...in tristicia erit super mensam suam.

A table of the gospels follows.

William of Nottingham died in 1336. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 362.

The name of Thomas Knyvet occurs in the beginning.

1497 Gg. III. 32.

A folio, on paper, written in the XVth century, containing 224 leaves. There is a good margin, and the initials are illuminated. The number of lines in a page in most parts is 46, in some 29. The volume has suffered very much from damp, which has destroyed parts of some leaves totally, and in much of the book has obliterated the black ink, leaving only the rubrics visible. It contains five Medical Works, mostly translated from the Greek, as follows:

1. ff. 1—57. 'Oribasii Practica.'

These are six books corresponding nearly to Books VIII., I., II., IV., VII., and VI. of the Synopsis ad Eustathium Filium, edited by Rasarius, 12mo, Ven. M.D.LIV. The translation however is altogether an independent one. The prologue in the MS. seems to be the advertisement of the translator, but is nearly illegible, and much mutilated.

The treatise begins:

Si Capitis dolor ex nimio aeris calore obvenerit...

Ends:

...secundum virtutem auferendus sanguis et cetera.

2. ff. 60—93. 'Cassius Felix.'

This work does not correspond with the description of any of the known works of this author. It contains 82 chapters, each discussing a disease and its cure. There is a short prologue by the translator who professes to have undertaken ex grecis logice secte auctoribus omnia necessaria documenta in brevi eloquio latino sermone conscribere.

Begins:

Ad Cephaleam. Ad tardum sive inveteratum capitis dolorem...

Ends:

...et in fleculo apposita abstinere fluxus.

3. ff. 94—145. 'Theodori Prisciani Archiatri Libri Tres.'

These have been published in a translation substantially the same by Segismundus Gelenius. 4to, Basil, M.D.XXXII.

Begins:

Super me College Olimpi exoratione...

Ends:

...usus magis quam lectionis debebis advertere.

The copyist's errors are very numerous in this part. The colophon has been blotted out, but is partly legible as follows: 'Ex Practica—Theodori Prisciani die 13° Julii 1484.'

4. ff. 146—206. Pulcherrimum et utilissimum opus ad Sanitatis conservationem editum ab eximio artium et medicine professore Magistro Benedicto de Nursia tunc serenissimi et potentissimi ducis Mediolani medico, ad nostrum in Christo parentem et D. n. d. n. divina providentia s. pontificem [Sixtum IV].

This is a work on Diet, alphabetical in form, with an Appendix on Animæ Passiones. It does not appear to have been printed. It is the only work originally Latin in the volume.

Begins:

Summo decet studio emergentes morborum insidias deprimi...

Ends:

...moderatus vero ad sanitatis conservationem juvamentum præstat.

5. ff. 207. Hippocratis Libri Duo de Flatibus, et de Passionibus.

These are translated by Franciscus Philelphus, with epistles dedicatory ad Philippum Mariam Anglum Mediolanensium ducem. The date at the colophon is slightly mutilated, through wear and damp, but may probably be read as follows:

'Mediolani a nativitate dominica mccccxliii sexto Kalend. Januarias.'

A vellum leaf of a very ancient service-book has been used in the binding.

1498 Gg. III. 33.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 163, in double columns, with 32 lines in each column. The initial letters are green and red alternately. Date, the XIIth century.

'Pars secunda de floribus Psalterii.'

Begins with Ps. 51:

Agitur in hoc psalmo de duobus generibus hominum...

Ends with Ps. 98, (incompletely):

...In hoc nomine territi demones: possessa corpora...

It consists of a very full commentary on these psalms, each verse being inserted before its commentary.

There are the following notes of ownership:

f. 1. Liber sancte Marie de Rupe.

f. 163. Shyrbroke, 1583.

1499 Gg. III. 34.

A folio, on paper, of 367 pages, there being two pages numbered 211 and 212; the last page of writing is marked 365. After some blank leaves there follow 18 pages of writing in a later hand and one page of index.

Some pedigrees and wills of the 15th and 16th centuries are written in a much later hand upon the unnumbered pages at the end of the book. They relate to the families of Daniell, Blake, Mugge, More, Strode, and Norton. It is stated at the foot of the first page of them that 'These pedigrees are written by the hand of James Gressham of Fulham in Middl. Esq.'

1500 Gg. IV. 1.

Restored to the See of Norwich by a Decree of the Senate, A.D. 1778.

1501 Gg. IV. 2.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 278, in double columns of 42 lines. Date, the XIIIth century.

'Sancti Hieronymi Epistolæ 127.'

It begins after the 'Epytaphium de beato iheronimo presbitero,' and a table of titles of the Epistles, with the 'Symbolum fidei ad Damasum.' Opp. S. Hieron. XI. coll. 146—148. ed. Veron. 1742. The Epistles begin f. 3, with that to Pope Damasus, Ep. 35, ed. Migne, T. I. col. 451, and end f. 277 with that 'Ad rusticum monachum de institutione vite,' Ep. 125, col. 1072. This is followed by the 'Explanatio fidei ad Cyrillum,' which appears in

Migne's S. Hieronymi Operum-Mantissa, T. XI. coll. 176—181. It is incomplete, ending with the words

...omnia complet dominus sicut filius, ait P[ropheta]. Migne, col. 180, D.

Over the Greek words that occur in the Epistles, the corresponding Roman letters are written.

A fly-leaf in the beginning gives an index in a later and crabbed hand. On the leaf pasted on the cover is the note, 'Memorandum quod iste liber est datus magistro P. Carpet, monacho Sancti Antoni, ad usum scolarium predicti magistri Oxonie, ex dono magistri Nicholai Upton canonici Sarum.' Nicholas Upton was Precentor of Salisbury in 1446.

1502 Gg. IV. 3.

A folio, on paper, of the XVII th century, in Latin, containing 196 pages and 3 leaves of foolscap, besides 10 blank fly-leaves. There are about 64 lines in a page, and marginal heads of the matter.

PERSECUTIONIS CATHOLICORUM ANGLICANÆ ET CONJURATIONIS PRESBITERIANÆ HYSTORIA. AUTORE P. WARNERO, S. J. REGI JACOBO II^{do} E SACRIS (1660—1685).

The history is in eight books, with a table of contents. It does not appear to have been printed. The present copy is apparently an autograph. There is an account of the author, who died 1692, in Dr Oliver's Biography of Members of the Society of Jesus.

Begins:

Qui publicas res novare instituunt ad consilii exitum pervenire non possunt nisi...

Ends:

Unde permulti de ecclesia Catholica pessime sentientes ad eam respicere cœperunt. A Domino factum est istud et est mirabile in oculis nostris.

There are a few English notes in another hand on one of the inserted leaves.

1503 Gg. IV. 4.

A quarto, on parchment, measuring 13 inches by 9 inches, in good preservation. It now consists of 302 folios, but was imperfect long before it came into the possession of the University.

The folios are numbered in an old form of the Arabic numerals. On the inside of the cover is the old class-mark, 'BB.' At the top of fol. 26, with which the book now commences, are written 'Liber Ioannis Cradock de Rickinghall,' and '844.'

The deeds and records are arranged under the names of the places to which they relate, and those names are in alphabetical order throughout a considerable part of the book. The writing is arranged in two columns on each page.

The Book is the Cellarer's Register of St Edmund's Abbey, at Bury, as we learn from several notes accounting for the introduction or omission of documents.

1504 Gg. IV. 5.

A large quarto, on vellum, of 160 leaves (the last of which is blank), each page containing about 30 lines legibly written in a cursive hand of the XIVth century.

1. GALTERI 'ALEXANDRIDES (sic) DE GESTIS ALEXANDRI MAGNI.'

The preface begins (fol. 1):

Moris est usitati...

Ends (fol. 1 b):

...totum opus per capitula distingamus (sic).

The poem begins (fol. 2):

Primus Aristotelis imbutum nectare sacro
Scribit Alexandrum, sceptrisque insignit et armis.

Ends (fol. 112):

Fudit ut hostiles possis contempnere linguas.

After this follow 7 hexameters, being a dedication to Bishop Guillermus, beginning:

Suscipe Galteri studiosum magne laborem
Presul, et hanc vatis cinctus tua tempora sacre
Non dedigneris ederam conjungere mitre.

Then follows a note, 'Explicit liber Alexandri Magni versificatus, qui quondam dicioni sue et imperio totum mundum subiugavit, scriptus et finitus anno Domini M.CCC°. sexagesimo quarto, die IX. mensis Octobris.'

A MS. note occurs at the beginning of the volume, 'Vide Barthium (Adversar. Lib. II. x.). [Auctorem] monachum vocat non ineruditum. Citat Sylvester Giraldus.—J. WASSE.'

For an account of this production and of the editions of it, see Grässe, Lehrbuch einer allg. Literärgeschichte, Vol. II. pt. 3, pp. 443, 444. Dresd. 1842.

2. 'Lucanus de dissidio Romanorum.'

Begins (fol. 112):

Bella per Emathyos plus quam civilia campos. (Lib. I. v. 1.)

Ends (fol. penult.) abruptly:

Mille (sic: leg. milite) bella geras tantam consumere. (Lib. VIII. 324.)

The remainder of the work is wanting; and some lines of the eighth book (294—307) are also absent.

No notice is taken of this MS. in Weber's catalogue of the MSS. of Lucan prefixed to his edition. Lips. 1828.

A note at the end states that this book belonged to Rotheram.

1505 Gg. IV. 6.

A folio, on parchment, 137 leaves, double columns of about 36 lines each, well preserved and neatly written in a hand of the XIVth century: enriched in the early part by many illuminations.

The MS. has neither title nor colophon.

Le Roman de la Rose.

Begins (fol. 1 a):

Maintes gens dient qu'en songes
Ne sont que fables et menconges
Mes len puet bien tel songe songer
Qui ne sont mie menconger.

Ends (fol. 137 a):

Par grant ioliuete cueilli
La fleur du beau Rosier fleury.
Ainsi oi la rose vermaille
A tant fu iour et ge m'esuaille.

The joint authors of this poem were Guillaume de Lorris and Jehan de Meung, or Clopinel, the latter of whom flourished in the 13th century: see Roquefort's Glossaire, II. 764, à Paris, 1808.

The whole has been printed more than once. In the edition published in Amsterdam, 1735, the present text terminates at v. 22708.

1506 Gg. IV. 7.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 155, in double columns of 51 lines each. Date, the XIVth century.

'Petri Comestoris Historia Scolastica Theologie discipline.'

Begins (after the dedication, 'Reverendo patri et domino suo Willelmo dei gratia senonensi arch°.'):

Imperatorie majestatis est... (The initial I being illuminated.)

Ends:

...in loco magis honorabiliori scilicet in cathacumbis.

First printed Rutlingæ, 1473, and frequently since.

A modern hand has given at the end the place of his burial (the church of S. Victor at Paris), and the usual epitaph, 'Petrus eram quem petra tegit,' &c.

1507 Gg. IV. 8.

A folio, on paper, containing 109 leaves, paged, but after p. 106 the paging goes on to 117, apparently by an error; there is an unpaged written leaf at the beginning, and another at the end; the former has a table of contents, with incorrect references; on p. 4 the table is repeated, with correct references. Fairly written in a hand of the early part of the XVIIth century; the lines in a page varying from about 36 to 40.

1509 Gg. IV. 10.

A folio, on parchment, with the exception of some paper leaves, containing ff. 158. Date, the XVth century.

1. ff. 1—6. KALENDARIUM.

Several additional saints' days, and the obits of Henry VII., VIII., Edward VI., &c. are entered in a later hand: and on f. 1 is written, 'Memorandum that y master Roger balknell was ynducte and toke possession off the Vicarage off Est derham yn Norfolke. the vi day off September personally. anno domini 1503.'

2. ff. 7—18. A MEMORIA TECHNICA for the contents of each chapter in the Bible, consisting of Hexameter verses, each word of which gives the key to the contents of the chapter. Between the lines is an explanation of each word.

This is the Summa sive Argumenta capitum omnium Bibliorum utriusque testamenti, by Alexander de Villa Dei, a Minorite, who flourished at Paris, 1209. It is printed in the Apparatus ad Biblia maxima Johannis de la Haye, Par. 1660, and elsewhere. See Fabricius, Bib. Med. et Infim. Latin. I. p. 68.

Begins:

Sex. prohibet. peccant. abel. ennok. archa fit. intrant ..

Ends:

...Flebunt. ad cenam. surgent. sponsam. venio jam.

This is followed by a list of passages of the Bible against the 7 deadly sins.

3. ff. 19—25. 'Franciscus [de Maronis] in conflatu de Predestinatione.'

Begins:

Circa distinctiones 40 et 41. Quero utrum predestinacio sit eterna...

Ends:

...debitum ad argumentum prius.

This is an extract from F. de Maro's Commentary on the Sentences, I. 40, 41. Printed Venet. 1520.

It is written on paper, excepting the last leaf, which is on vellum. A list of the 10 plagues of Egypt, 10 commandments, extracts from SS. Augustin, Gregory, &c. follow: and f. 26 is blank.

4. ff. 27—28. 'Augustinus super oracionem dominicam:' on paper.

Begins:

Aug. super oracionem dominicam recitans apostolum. Omnis quicunque invocaverit, &c.

Ends:

...set bonum sempiternum quod concedat omnipotens. Amen.

This is Sermo 56, ed. Par. 1837, T. v. coll. 462—474.

5. ff. 29—38. 'Tractatus de septem viciis capitalibus sub compendio.'

Begins:

[I]tem septem sunt virtutes principales de quibus tres virtutes...

Ends:

...ignis infernalis in terram missus.

6. ff. 39—158. Gulielmi de Pagula 'Oculus Sacerdotis.' In double columns of 47 lines.

Begins (after the table of chapters):

Cum ecclesie quibus preficiuntur persone...

Ends:

...in presenti vita per gratiam et in futura vita per gloriam ad quam nos perducat, &c.

See Gg. I. 13.

1510 Gg. IV. 11.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 194, with 16 lines in each page. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf. Written in a fine large hand of the XVth century. A few of the initial letters are illuminated.

1. ff. 1—74. S. Bonaventuræ 'Meditaciones de Passione Domini.'

Begins:

Adveniente jam et imminente tempore miseracionum...

Ends:

...redempcionem plebis sue.

This is a portion of S. Bonaventura's Meditaciones Vitæ Christi, occupying from cap. lxxiii. to the beginning of cap. lxxxv. Opp. Mogunt. 1609, vi. pp. 382—392. See Ff. iv. 46, § 1. The next 2 leaves are blank.

2. ff. 77—88. 'Invectiones devote beati Jeronimi facte fratribus suis monachis quorum abbas ipse extiterat quum preventus erat mortis doloribus antequam spiritum suum exalavit.'

Begins:

Contra Luxuriam. Monebat ut luxuriam fugerent que est ensis et rete diaboli...

Ends:

...vix pre gaudio lacrimas continuit et hoc fratribus insinuavit. Hec Eusebius.

This is an extract from Eusebius, De Morte Hieronymi. Opp. S. Hieronymi, ed. Migne, Par. 1845, i. coll. 259—276.

3. ff. 89—109. 'Epistola sancti Augustini episcopi et doctoris ad Cirillum presbiterum de transitu Jeronimi doctoris.'

Begins:

Gloriosissime Christiane fidei athlete...

Ends:

...nullatenus possit suo desiderio defraudari. Vale et ora pro me.

Ibid. coll. 281—289.

4. ff. 109—172. 'Epistola beati Cyrilli Jerosolomitani episcopi ad beatum Augustinum Yponensis Ecclesie presulem de miraculis que acciderunt post mortem Jeronimi gloriosi.'

Begins:

Venerabili magistro, &c. Illius sequi vestigia...

Ends:

...beato Jeronimo gratias agens ortum implevit.

Ibid. coll. 289—326.

Some of S. Cyril's remarks are omitted, as the scribe mentions in f. 162 b, and the accounts of some miracles added.

5. ff. 173—194. 'Una devota Meditacio edita a Magistro Uthredo Monacho Dunelmie sacre pagine professore.'

Begins (after a preface, 'Notandum quod meditaciones sunt legende...'):

Domine recogitabo tibi omnes annos meos...

Ends:

...omniumque sanctorum qui tecum gloriantur per infinita secula seculorum. Amen.

Uthredus was a monk of Durham in 1380. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 743, who mentions this MS.

At the end of the MS. is a curious drawing of a Cross in ink and the Sacred Monogram. It formerly belonged to S. Alban's Monastery: as appears from the following notice written on a fly-leaf at the beginning:

Hic est liber monasterii Sancti Albani studio abbatis specialiter deputatus, qui alienaverit vel titulum deleverit anathema sit. Amen.

1511 Gg. IV. 12.

A folio, of the XVth century, on vellum, of 204 pages, containing 42 lines, in two columns.

It seems to be the author's autograph. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 153.

JOHN CAPGRAVE'S CHRONICLE FROM THE CREATION TO A.D. MCCCCXVII.

This MS. has been recently collated for an edition of the Chronicle. It has a dedication to King Edw. IV., which begins:

To my sovereign lord Edward...

Ends:

.. good reward in þe blys of heuene. Amen.

The Chronicle begins:

Anno Mundi 1. The first man Adam was mad on a Friday...

Ends:

And have voys in þe same election.

The author has not given any name to this work, but speaks of it as 'a schort rememberauns of elde stories.'

There are marginal annotations in a hand of the XVIth century; and in the same hand are verses, English, Latin, and French, on the fly-leaves.

1512 Gg. IV. 13.

A foolscap folio, on paper, of 260 pages, closely written. The date seems to be about 1650. By the original paging 66 pages appear to have been lost, unless 36 out of order at the end were some of these. Other pages have been torn out. They do not appear to have been missing when the MS. was catalogued for Bishop Moore.

Begins:

Sciendum est itaque vobis, fratres karissimi...

Ends:

...unde nos dominus eripere dignetur, qui vivit, &c.

This does not appear among the collection of S. Methodius' works in Galland's Bibliotheca Patrum. See Dd. xv. 15, § 2.

On the paper fly-leaves is an index to the Commentary of Bede.

1515 Gg. iv. 16.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 120, in double columns of 39 lines. Date, the xiiith century. Every 8th leaf is numbered. The initial letters are red and green.

1. ff. 1—75. 'Magister Willelmus Parvus Canonicus de Neuburg super Cantica Canticorum.'

Begins:

In primis igitur considerandum videtur quomodo carmen illud nuptiale...

Ends:

...ad gloriam et laudem eiusdem sponsi dei et domini nostri ihu̅ xp̅i qui, &c.

This is followed by a letter beginning, 'Parui jussioni tue venerabilis pater Rogere, atque opus laboriosissimum quod injunxeras cum multa tandem difficultate complevi...'

Gulielmus Parvus, the author of the treatise De Rebus Anglicis sui temporis, died in 1208. This treatise has not been printed. See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. iii. p. 156. Tanner, Biblioth. p. 595.

Some remarks on the Canticles and the beginning of Bede's Exposition follow, the last crossed through with a pen.

2. ff. 78 b—93. 'Cantica Canticorum cum glossa marginali et interlineari.'

This differs in some respects from the Glossa Ordinaria.

3. ff. 94—98 b. 'Sermo cujusdam canonici premonstratensis de canone' missæ.

Begins:

In virtute sancte crucis et sacramento altaris...

Printed in D'Achery's Spicilegium. Par. 1723. T. i. pp. 449—451.

5. ff. 102—120. 'Liber Petri [cellensis] abbatis S. Remigii de disciplina claustrali.'

Begins (after the letter, 'ad comitem Henricum Cretensium,' an index of chapters, and the prologue to Richard of Salisbury):

Igitur auctores hujus discipline in scriniis...

Ends:

...Multiplicati sunt tamen super numerum.

Ibid. pp. 452—471.

On a fly-leaf at the end are some Leonine hexameters, &c. in a different hand, e. g.

Piscator pater est, mare mundus, filius hamus.

1516 Gg. iv. 17.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 129, in double columns of from 35 to 44 lines. Date, the xivth century.

1. ff. 1—32. 'Tractus de Tropis loquendi editus a magistro petro cantore parisiacensi.'

Begins:

Videmus nunc per speculum, &c. Istud uerbum apostolicum...

Ends:

...ei attribuuntur propter signa eorum. Deo gratias.

This was Petrus Pictaviensis, Canon of S. Victor, who died in 1197. The treatise has not been printed.

2. ff. 33—44. 'Questiones 65 Orosii presbyteri et totidem responsiones beati Augustini Episcopi.'

Printed, Antv. 1532, and in the Biblioth. Vet. Patr. De la Bigne, Par. 1624, coll. 379—402.

A paragraph follows about the omission of the seventh word.

4. f. 58. Three short paragraphs headed 'Sermo de manu obedientie.'

5. ff. 59—102 a. 'Tractatus Odonis Abbatis de Bello in Libris Regum.'

Begins:

Post librum judicum sequitur regum...

Ends:

...eodem ordine per virtutum gradus ascendentibus tribuit.

This seems to be Odo Cantianus, v. Tanner, Biblioth. p. 559.

6. ff. 102 b—105. 'Sermo magistri Hugonis [de S. Victore] de laude Karitatis.'

Begins:

Tam multos jam laudatores caritas habuisse...

Ends:

Ibid. II. coll. 993—998.

1517 Gg. IV. 18.

A small folio, on vellum, 112 leaves, 34 lines in each page, very neatly written in a hand of the early part of the XVth century.

The colophon supplies the following title:

'Liber Boecii de Consolatione Philosophie, de Latino in Anglicum translatus, anno Domini M.CCCC.X. per Capellanum Joannem.'

Prologue begins (fol. 1 a):

The whyle yat Rome was regnyng in hys floures
And of ye world held all ye monarchye
She was gouerned yenne by emperoures
And was renounced wondir nobelye.

Ends (fol. 112 b):

Vnto ye presence of ye Juge on hye
Yat all thing doth behold plenerly.

The full name of the author as given in Todd's Illustrations of Gower and Chaucer, Introd. p. xxxi. is, 'per Capellanum Johannem Tebaud, alias Watyrbeche:' but Warton calls him John Walton, and says that he died sub-dean of York: see Hist. of Engl. Poet. II. 255, 256.

Former owner (fol. 54 a): 'Anne Preston.'

1518 Gg. IV. 19.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 290, in double columns of 50 lines. Date, 1425. The colophon gives the title

'Secunda pars Postille super evangelia dominicalia a festo resurrectionis domini usque ad dominicam xxiiii^{am} post pentecosten inclusive, edita a fratre Philippo de Monte Calerio ordinis fratrum minorum tunc lectore conventus sancti loci padue Anno domini 1330.'

Begins, with an illuminated initial letter:

Dominica resurrectionis domini euangelium xxviii^us^. Maria Magdalena et Maria, &c. Nos videmus per experienciam...

Ends:

...ipsi gloria in ecclesia et in christo ihesu in omnes generationes seculi seculorum. Amen.

After the colophon follows the 'Tituli evangeliorum istius partis:' each leaf is headed with the number of the gospel, and is so referred to in this list of titles.

At the end is written in a different hand a notice stating that the writing of the book was finished 'per gratiam patris et filii et spiritus sancti per Joh. Weston de linc. scriptorem x° die maii a. d. 1425,' and, nearly effaced, the 'Summa pergamini hujus libri cum suis custodibus.'

Philippus de Monte Calerio or de Janua flourished in 1340. See Ii. iv. 24, and Coxe's Catalog. MSS. Oxon. Coll. Nov. lxxxvii.

1519 Gg. iv. 20.

A folio, on paper, containing ff. 220, of which many are blank, in several different hands. Date, the xviith century.

1. ff. 1—46. 'A Treatise on the Propagation of the Soul of Man by Mr Henry Hilles of Hinxhill, Minister,' followed by his Answers to the Objections of D. de Viduis, Written in 1615.

Begins:

Ecc. 12. 7. And before this dust, &c. The former verse namely the 6...

Ends:

...should be dayly created absolutely full and intire. Finis. Henery Hills.

Prefixed is a letter in Latin and English in praise of the work, from William Fenner to Mr Richard Knatchbull, who has written his name as owner in the beginning.

The work was printed Lond. 1667. This is apparently the author's autograph.

ff. 47—112 are blank.

2. ff. 113—130. A Discourse in English on 'Psalmus 117:' unfinished.

Begins:

In the 2 Cor. 12. wee reade of a man...

Ends:

...the course of mercy or Judgement purposed by man, is, many wayes, and...

This is the same hand as the latter portion of § 1, and most probably by the same author.

ff. 130—134 are blank.

3. ff. 135—198. 'Notæ Criticæ in Novum Testamentum.' by Sir D. Norton Knatchbull.

Begins:

Matth. i. 19. Ἰωσὴφ δὲ ὁ ἀνὴρ κ.τ.λ. Josephus vero vir ejus...

Ends:

Ante ὅδον πρόσφατον subaudi κατά.

The notes are on the books of the New Testament in order to the end, those on the Apocalypse being in f. 185. Some addenda follow beginning with St Matthew. They were printed Lond. 1659, Oxon. 1677: in this last edition the addenda are incorporated with the rest. This MS., which belonged to his brother, is probably in Knatchbull's own writing.

ff. 199—220 are blank.

1520 Gg. iv. 21.

A folio, on parchment, of 23 leaves, in good preservation.

'Supervisus tam omnium et singulorum messuagiorum hospitiorum, tenementorum, cottagearum, shoparum, gardinarum, et pomerarum, quam omnium et singulorum terrarum, pratarum pasturarum et redditurum infra villam [de Abingdon] seu campos ejusdem.'

This property belonged to the dissolved monastery of St Mary at Abingdon, and the survey was taken in 2 and 3 Phil. and Mary.

1521—1522 Gg. iv. 22 and 23.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1523 Gg. iv. 24.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 225, with 36 lines in each page. Date, the xv th century.

1. ff. 1—190. 'Firmiani Lactantii divinæ institutiones aduersus Gentiles.'

Begins:

Magno et excellenti ingenio viri...

Ends:

...quod ipse promisit a domino consequamur.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1844, T. I. coll. 111—322.

2. ff. 190 b—207. 'Ejusdem de Ira Dei.'

Begins:

Animadverti sepe donate plurimos...

Ends:

...semper habeamus et nunquam vereamur iratum.

Ibid. II. coll. 79—148.

3. ff. 208—225. 'Ejusdem de Opificio Dei.'

Begins:

Quam minime sim quietus...

Ends:

...liberatos ad iter celeste direxit.

Ibid. II. coll. 9—78.

The last two treatises are entitled in the MS. Libb. 8 and 9 of the Institutiones.

This MS. does not appear to have been used by any editor. For another see Kk. iv. 17.

1524 Gg. IV. 25.

A quarto, on paper, excepting §§ 13—17, which are on parchment. Written in various hands.

A Collection of Miscellaneous Tracts.

1. ff. 1—7. 33 lines in a page. A short Chronicle from the Creation down to the year 1447, some few years after which it was probably written.

Begins:

Incipit prologus in historiam policronicam. Et hec sunt auctorum nomina de quibus hec potissime extracta est cronica...the names follow, Josephus, Ambrose, Trogus Pompeius, &c.

Ends:

Anno domini 1447 fuit obitus episcopi Wintonii et Cardinalis.

After the list of authors and the prologue, the chronicle begins with the Creation of Adam, stating him to have died in Jerusalem, and the remainder is headed 'De Sex Etatibus mundi et aliis.' It consists of a catalogue of events, with their dates, chiefly relating to the history of England down to the year 1447.

2. ff. 8, 9. 36 lines in a page. Of the same date and handwriting.

A Chronicle of the Kings of England from Brutus down to Edward IV.

Begins:

Tu quicunque leges hæc si vis noscere reges...

Ends:

A.D. 1460 coronatus illustrissimi regis Edwardi quarti post conquestum apud Westmonasterium videlicet in die sancti Adriani martiris.

3. ff. 10—12. Of the same date and handwriting.

'Linea Saxonum et Anglorum ab Adam usque ad Edwardum quartum.'

This is followed by 'Linea Britonum ab Adam usque ad Edwardum quartum,' but this breaks off with 'Eneas post destruccionem magne Troie.'

4. ff. 13—50. 34 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

'ARISTOTELIS LIBER DE SECRETIS SECRETORUM SIVE DE REGIMINE PRINCIPUM,' de lingua Arabica in Latinam translatus a JOHANNE HISPALENSI.

Begins (after the Letter of Philippus Clericus to Guido, Bishop of Valencia, an index of chapters and two prologues, Deus omnipotens custodiat Regem nostrum... and Johannes qui transtulit istum librum filius Patricii...):

O fili gloriosissime imperator justissime...

Ends:

...Semper ad meliorem et ad partem superiorem.

Concerning the translator Johannes Hispalensis or Hispanus, see Fabric. Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. T. IV. p. 84. The treatise is probably spurious. It was printed in Latin in 4to, sine loco et anno: and in English* by Robert Copland, 1528, who attributes the translation to the above-mentioned Philippus. See Gg. IV. 29, § 1.

5. ff. 50 b—53 a. Of the same date and handwriting.

'Parvus tractatus ad intelligendum quid est anima' [Alcheri Carthusiensis.] Unfinished.

* This will be found in the Library, in a volume of black-letter tracts, AB. v. 37.

Begins:

Quoniam dictum est mihi ut meipsum cognoscam...

Ends:

...nam qui in carne vivit in carne sentit carnis fugit, etc. Explicit.

S. August. Opp. ed. Par. 1837. Append. ad T. VI. coll. 1141 sqq.

6. ff. 53 b—57. Of the same date and handwriting.

'Liber de Pomo Aristotelis et de ultima fine ejus.'

Begins:

Cum clausa esset via veritatis sapientibus...

Ends:

...animam hominis discreti et perfecti sicut tu eras. Amen. Explicit.

Probably spurious. It was printed in Hebrew, in 1562: see Fabricius, Bibl. Græc. ed. Harles, T. III. p. 281.

7. ff. 58—61 a. Of the same date and handwriting.

'Liber Methodii Martiris.'

Begins (after the short preface, In nomine Dei...incipit liber Methodii episcopi Patharenis...):

Sciendum est nobis, fratres carissimi, quomodo in principio creavit....

Ends:

...unde nos dominus deus eripere dignetur, qui, &c.

See Dd. XV. 15. § 2; Ff. I. 31. § 1.

8. ff. 61 b—67. Of the same date and handwriting.

A Collection of Prophecies in prose and verse, of St Thomas of Canterbury, St Brigitta, Abbat Joachim, Merlin, &c.

Begins:

Quando ego Thomas Cantuarii Archiepiscopus exul...

Ends:

Tunc Antichristus nascetur demone plenus.

The last two prophecies are in a later hand.

9. ff. 68—71. Of the same date and handwriting.

'De Mirabilibus Rome civitatis.'

Begins:

Murus civitatis Rome habet ccc turres et lx propugnacula...

Ends:

...quam ista cartuncula possimus declarare.

10. ff. 72—83 a. Of the same date and handwriting.

'Gesta Domini Salvatoris que invenit Theodosius m[agnus] Imperator in Jerusalem in pretorio pontii pilati in codicibus p[ublicis.]'

Begins:

Factum est in nono decimo anno imperii Tiberii Cesaris...

Ends:

...et presenciam Christi vidit et exterminationem hebreorum.

This contains the Gesta Pilati, the Descensus Christi ad Inferos, with the letter of Pilate to Claudius, and the account of the death of Pilate. This last is very different from that given in Tischendorf's Evangelia Apocrypha.

11. ff. 83—85. Of the same date and handwriting.

'Qualiter crevit arbor ex qua facta est crux domini de tribus granis pomi illius de quo manducaverat Adam.'

Begins:

Post peccatum Ade expulso eodem de paradiso...

Ends:

...obediens usque ad mortem cui est laus, etc.

This is the same treatise as Ff. II. 8. § 2. There are copies in MSS. in various libraries, but it does not seem to have been printed. There is a Dutch edition of it, printed at Culemberg in 1483, for an account of which see Dibdin's Biblioth. Spencer. III. p. 348 sqq.

12. ff. 86—92. Of the same date.

'De Creatione Ade et Eve et expulsione eorum a Paradiso et de vita eorum super terram.'

Begins:

Dominus noster ihus̄ cristus natus est in Bethlem...

Ends:

...et habuit dominium omnium bestiarum.

13. ff. 94, 96*a*, (95 is blank). In double columns of 34 lines. Date, the XIIth century.

A fragment of a Sermon, probably of Bede or St Augustine.

14. ff. 96*b*—102. Of the same date and handwriting.

BEDÆ 'EXPOSITIO DIVERSORUM ERRORUM JULIANI HERETICI.' Imperfect.

Begins:

Primo admonendum putavi lectorem, ut opuscula Juliani...

Ends:

...cui misericors fuero. Non volentis igitur....

This is the Preface to Bede's Expositio in Cantica Canticorum. Opp. ed. Giles, Lond. 1844, Vol. IX. pp. 186—200.

15. ff. 103—110. In double columns of 40 lines. Date, the XIIIth century.

Extracts 'de Criminibus Simoniacis et de aliis Ecclesiæ Regulis.' Imperfect. A later hand gives the title.

Begins:

Quidam habens filium obtulit eum ditissimo cenobio...

Ends:

...permanere Christi sacramenta una...

This consists of extracts from SS. Augustine, Leo, Gelasius, Ambrose, the Council of Chalcedon, &c.

16. ff. 111—113*a*, 33 lines in a page. Date about 1500. An index, or tabula, apparently to a portion of Cicero's letters.

17. ff. 113*b*—116. Of the same handwriting and date.

'M. T. Cicero de Sompno Sipionis.'

On f. 57*b* occurs a record of the birth of William Carpenter, with the date 1573, and on ff. 92, 93 some accounts have been written, but are now nearly effaced.

1525

Gg. iv. 26.

A quarto, on paper, containing ff. 167, with from 15 to 29 lines in a page. Written in several different hands towards the end of the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—60. 'Coletus Ecclesiæ S. Pauli Decanus in Epistolam ad Romanos.'

Begins:

Primum salutat paulus Romanam ecclesiam...

Ends:

...voluntatem tamen habuimus maximam faciendi.

Oxonie is added at the end, shewing that these were Colet's Prelections there. See Knight's Life of Dean Colet, Oxf. 1823, p. 173 note.

2. ff. 61—62. 'Joannes Coletus Abbati Winchincumbensi.'

Begins:

Erat mecum heri vesperi...

Ends:

...mee erga te observantie. Iterum vale.

Printed from this MS. in Knight's Life of Dean Colet, ed. Oxf. 1823, pp. 265—268.

3. ff. 63—69. Idem 'de compositione sancti corporis Christi mystici que est ecclesia que sine anima ejus spiritu scilicet dispergitur et dissipatur.'

Begins:

Homines ex quibus ecclesia componitur...

Ends:

...una omnia et concurrant.

4. ff. 70—148. Idem 'in Epistolam Primam ad Corinthios.'

Begins (after the Summaria quedam commemoratio eorum que aguntur in prima Pauli epistola ad Corinthios):

Paulus quem Deus voluit apostolum esse...

Ends:

...asserit Paulus et affirmat dominum venisse.

5. ff. 148 b—151. Idem de angelorum ordinibus.

Begins:

Deus immensum bonum intrinsecus imbuens...

Ends:

...et seraphim in spiritu Dei perficiamur.

6. ff. 152—165. 'Idem de Angelis celestique hierarchia secundum Dyonisium.'

Begins:

Cognosco tuam sublimem et angelicam mentem...

Ends:

...servata divinarum rerum dignitate.

There are numerous corrections of this MS. in a different hand. It is mentioned by Knight, p. 173 note.

The last two leaves are occupied by a note on the 9 orders of angels, and a list of things arranged in threes, e. g. Spes, fides, caritas: radix, calamus, arista, &c.

1526 Gg. iv. 27.

A folio, on parchment, 488 leaves, about 38 lines in a page; handwriting of the early part of the xvth century, well written. The original illuminations have been abstracted, but the deficiencies thus created in the MS. are supplied in a good modern hand. In addition to the above, are inserted (after fol. 482 b) fourteen smaller leaves, also on parchment, in a hand of the xivth century. Excluding these the volume may be described as

Works of Geoffrey Chaucer, in verse and prose.

1. 'His A, B, C,' or 'La Priere de nostre Dame' (fol. 5 a). Printed among Chaucer's Works (Lond. 1687), p. 615.

1527 Gg. IV. 28.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 198, with 36 lines in a page. Date, the XIIIth century.

'SANCTUS HIERONYMUS IN PROPHETAS OSEE, AMOS, IONA, ABDIAM, MICHEAM, NAUM.'

Begins:

Si explanationibus omnium prophetarum...

Ends:

...inruit quidam, sed ingredi non potest.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1845, T. VI. coll. 815—1272.

On the last leaf is an account of a libellus of S. Athanasius read by Peter Bishop of Nichomedia at the Council of Cappadocia.

Begins:

[C]appadocie urbem permaximam convenientes...

Ends (incompletely):

...cur ihū xpi nazareni figuram....

1528 Gg. IV. 29.

A quarto, on vellum, consisting of 98 leaves, neatly written in a cursive hand or hands, apparently of the XIVth century. Each page contains from 35 to 45 lines; the pages in the latter part of the book being the fullest. A few ornamentations and rubrications, and many marginal notes occur in the MS., which is very well preserved.

1. PSEUDO-'ARISTOTELIS SECRETUM SECRETORUM.'

Begins (fol. 2):

Deus omnipotens custodiat regem...

Ends (fol. 26 a):

...et probabiliorem partem.

The colophon, which runs thus, supplies the title: 'Explicit liber Aristotelis de secretis secretorum; sive de regimine principum vel regum vel dominorum et aliorum hominum. Completus est tractatus de signis et moribus naturalibus hominum ad regem magnificum Allexandrum (sic) qui dominatus fuit toti orbi, dictus quoque monarcha in septentrione.' Prefixed is the letter to Guido of Valentia, Bishop of Tripoli, by Philippus, who translated it from Arabic into Latin. It begins (fol. 1): 'Domino suo excellentissimo in cultu Christiane religionis strenuissimo Guydoni,' &c. For an account of this production and the MSS. and early editions of it, see Fabricius, Bibl. Gr. T. III. pp. 283, 284. Ed. Harl. See also Gg. IV. 25, § 4.

2. 'Flos philosophiæ secundum MAGISTRUM WILLELMUM DE CONCHIS.'

Begins (fol. 26 b):

Queris venerande Dux Normannorum et comes Andagavensium...

Ends (fol. 63 a):

...extincto vero naturali calore desinit homo vivere.

The colophon (fol. 62) supplies the title.

See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Inf. Lat. T. I. p. 1145, and T. III. p. 423. The title usually given to it and under which it has been printed is, 'Dragmation Philosophiæ.'

3. ff. 63—73 bis. A Treatise on the text 1 Cor. ix. 2.

Begins:

[S]ignaculum apostolatus mei, &c. Hoc debet quilibet prelatus subditis suis dicere...

Ends:

...a pena corporali et spirituali ut dictum est. Amen.

It is divided into 4 parts: the first, 'quod debet in vobis primo imprimi et postea in subditis, est preceptorum dei notitia, contra que peccatur;' the second, 'de septem mortalibus quibus erratur;' the third, 'de septem sacramentis quibus culpa purgatur;' and the fourth, 'de 12 articulis fidei quos super ecclesia fundatur.'

4. ff. 74—86 a. 'Computus Magistri Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

This corresponds with the printed editions, with an addition of two lines added to the verses usually appended:

Laus salvatoris cantetur fine laboris.
Obmutescenda non est set ante canenda.

5. ff. 86 a—88. 'Kalendarius.'

Begins:

Per veterum Sagacitatem...

Ends:

...Semper quindenis ponuntur signa Kalendis.

It contains many memorial verses.

6. ff. 89—90 a. 'Liber Secundi Philosophi.'

This tract contains a Latin translation of many of the Gnomes of Secundus extracted, as it would appear, from a larger work than that printed under his name in Gale's Opusc. Gr. et Lat. 8vo. Cantab. 1671. There is a preliminary notice of the author's life, from which that in the Spec. Hist. of Vincentius Bellovacensis seems to have been abridged.

7. ff. 90 a—98. 'Tractatus de Sphera Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

This tract corresponds in general with the printed editions.

1529 Gg. iv. 30.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 214 in double columns of 36 lines. The titles of the chapters are in rubrick. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf. Date, the xvth century.

'Tractatus Moralis in Septem viciis capitalibus.'

Begins, after the list of chapters which occupies the first 6 leaves:

Dicturi de singulis viciis cum opportunitas se offerat...

Ends:

...penituit tacere vero nunquam. Explicit Summa de Viciis.

The leaves at the beginning have been much injured by damp.

1530 Gg. iv. 31.

A small folio, on paper, 105 leaves, about 35 lines in each page, written late in the xvth century.

PROPHECIES, or 'DIALOGUS' OF PIERS PLOWMAN.

Respecting the authorship, see above, Dd. i. 17, § 18.

An analytical table is added (fol. 101 b — fol. 103 a). Then follows A goodly Preaer in verse (fol. 104 a— fol. 105 b), beginning

Blessed God sovereange goodnes
Mercy to me thi synfull creature.

1531 Gg. iv. 32.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 138, with double columns of from 36 to 43 lines. Date, the xivth century. It is written in several different hands.

A miscellaneous collection of THEOLOGICAL DOCUMENTS, PRAYERS, &c. apparently collected by a clerick for his own use. A somewhat later hand has added to the table of contents in f. 1, the words Turris Sapientie, probably intending it as a title to the MS.

After 3 tables of contents to different portions of the volume, it commences as follows:

1. f. 6 b. The names of the instruments of the Passion, in French, written round 30 squares, which are put together like those of a chess-board.

2. f. 7 a. The coloured figure of A Cherub, usually prefixed to Alanus de Insulis De Alis Cherubim. See Migne's ed. coll. 267, 268.

3. ff. 7 b, 8 a. 'Arbor virtutum' and 'Arbor Viciorum:' similar to those in Hugo S. Victore. Opp. ed. Migne, II. coll. 1007—1010.

4. f. 8 b. A wheel, composed of 7 concentrick circles, which contain

(1) 7 Petitiones orationis dominice.
(2) 7 Sacramenta Ecclesiastica.
(3) 7 dona Spiritus Sancti.
(4) 7 arma virtutum spiritualia.
(5) 7 opera misericordie supplicata.
(6) 7 virtutes principales.
(7) 7 vicia criminalia.

5. f. 9 a. 'Rota altercacionis oppositorum;' a wheel divided into spokes, which contain verses alternately relating to virtues and vices.

6. f. 9 b. 'Speculum etatis hominis:' divided into 12 ages, with verses in question and answer concerning each.

It begins:

Parvule quid ploras
dum natales cupis horas.

Nascens
I.

Nudus ut est moris
terram flens intro laboris.

Ends:

Dic ubi sunt gentes
ubi cari quove parentes.

mortuus

Vermibus esca datus oleo nulli modo gratus.

7. ff. 10, 11. 'Diffinicio theologie secundum fratrem Johannem de Peccham.'

Begins:

Pauca theologica rudimenta...

Ends:

...creare multipliciter dicatur.

8. f. 12 a. 'Oracio dominica in Anglica lingua.'

Begins:

Oure fader in heuene riche...

Printed in Wright and Halliwell's Reliquiæ Antiquæ, I. p. 159.

9. f. 12 a. 'Salutacio beate virginis Marie in eadem lingua.'

Begins:

Heil marie ful of wynne...

10. f. 12 a. 'Cimbolum apostolorum in eadem lingua.'

Begins:

Ich bileue on god fader almihti...

11. f. 12. 'Speculum humani generis.'

Begins:

Sori is þe fore fram bedde to þe flore...

Printed in Reliquiæ Antiquæ, I. p. 160.

12. f. 12 b. 'Credo in Gallica lingua.'

Begins:

Ieo croi en dieu pere puissant...

13. f. 12 b. 'Pater noster in eadem lingua.'

Begins:

Nostre pere qui es en ciel...

14. f. 12 b. 'Ave Maria in eadem lingua.'

Begins:

Deu vous sant virge marie...

15. ff. 12 b—13 a. 'Cimbolum in Anglica lingua,' in verse.

Begins:

I bileue in god fader in heuene...

Printed in Reliquiæ Antiquæ, I. pp. 160, 161.

16. ff. 13—14 a. 'Quicunque vult en fraunceis.'

Begins:

Qikonkes voet salme sauuer...

17. f. 14 b. The Ave Maria in Latin, followed by a hymn in quaternions, beginning

Ave dei genitrix semper deo grata...

18. f. 14 b—15. The Ave Maria in English, followed by a similar hymn in English, beginning

Heil and holi ay be þi name...

This is followed by some Latin verses about Dismas and Jesmas (the two thieves on the Cross).

19. ff. 16—22. 'Tractatus de Confessione,' divided into 23 chapters.

Begins (after the prologue, 'Quoniam circa confessiones...' and the index of chapters):

Quo tempore incepit confessio. Videamus igitur quo tempore...

Ends:

...et est confusio adducens ad gloriam.

The table of contents gives the titles of 3 chapters, which are not found in the treatise.

20. ff. 23—38. 'Quomodo sacerdos se debet gerere in Confessione.'

Begins:

Sacerdos habens curam animarum...

Ends:

...unde alium inanem facis.

This is divided into 41 sections, giving directions as to how questions are to be asked of the Penitent on different sins, &c. and ending with the 'Absolucio post confessionem.'

The next three leaves are blank.

21. ff. 42—67. 'Liber Penitenciarum,' divided into 94 chapters, of which a list is given ff. 2, 3.

Begins:

Qui vult confiteri peccata...

Ends:

In manus tuas domine etc. Explicit.

This is chiefly from the fathers, especially St Chrysostom. The last chapter is 'De visitacione infirmorum.'

22. ff. 68—71. In a different hand from the rest.

The Prayer 'Summe Sacerdos et vere pontifex,' &c., with John XXII's promise of indulgence for using it, Bede's prayer on the Seven Words, and other prayers.

23. ff. 72—96 b. A collection of Miscellaneous Prayers, with the Abbreviated Psalter of St Jerome, a Hymn to our Lady, &c. arranged in 36 divisions, a list of them being given in ff. 3, 4.

The first is, 'De causis quare intratur in ecclesias.'

The last, 'Oratio ad Jhesum Xpistum.'

24. ff. 96 b—101. A Manual for the use of Priests.

Begins:

Quoniam circa Deum non est...

Ends:

...ut unus in secundo gradu alter in quinto.

25. ff. 102—103 a. 'Versus de Officio Ecclesiastico.'

These give symbolical reasons for the different parts of the service.

They begin:

Queque duo pueri pariter precedere curant
Que data sunt nobis duo testamenta figurant.
Solus ad altare quod presbiter ingrediatur
Quod Christus tantum fuit in cruce testificatur.

And end:

Quatuor ecclesias portis intratur in annos
Cesaris aut census sanguinis atque Dei
Prima patet magnis nummosis altera caris
Tertia set raris janua quarta patet.

Two prayers follow in ff. 103, 104, with promises of indulgence from Pope Gregory, and the 3 next leaves (ff. 105—107) are blank.

26. ff. 108—116. 'Statuta inter rectores Archidiacon. London. per dominum Rogerum bone memorie Nigrum de bileye quondam London episcopum edita et constituta.'

Begins:

Quum in civitate London. fit sepius mutacio capellanorum...

Ends:

...statuatur et corroboretur in perpetuum. Explicit.

This is followed by the 'Nomina Confederatorum 10 Kal. Decembris A.D. 1317.' The first is 'Thomas de Coldhabey,' the last 'Johannes ad Ripam.'

Roger Niger was Bishop of London from 1229 to 1241.

27. ff. 117—118. An arrangement between the Rector of S. Martin in Vinctria, London, and the chaplain of a chantry founded there, headed 'Sacramentum Capelli Parochiani,' with several paragraphs relating to the chantries in the church, with the date 1312.

See Newcourt's Repertorium, Vol. I. p. 421.

28. ff. 118 b—121. Petitions of Rectors of the city of London against chaplains of chantries for ill behaviour in church, and exciting the parishioners against them, with the date 1315.

29. ff. 121—124. 'Statuta abbreviata,' followed by 17 petitions of the Rectors of the City of London against one Hugo for adultery, and other persons for other offences, &c. with the answer of the king to them given 'antequam in Walliam gressus suo ultimo direxit.'

30. ff. 124—128. 'Peticio Rectorum London,' to the Archbishop of Canterbury against the mendicant friars.

Begins:

Venerabili in xpo patri, &c.

Ends:

...in honore concientie vestre ad suas consciencias exonerandas.

The next 5 leaves are blank.

31. ff. 134—136. The rest of the MS. is occupied with a paragraph on the Duties of a 'Predicator,' a short discourse on the Advents of our Lord, an 'Expositio istius Sequentie Alma Chorus Domini nunc pangat nomina summi,' and a short Sermon on the text 'In principio erat verbum.'

On the last leaf is a curious pen and ink drawing of the Adoration of the Magi, and the name of a former possessor of the book, Johannes Hatton.

1532 Gg. IV. 33.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 90. It has red, green and blue initial letters. § 1 is of the XIIIth century, and each page contains 35 lines: § 2 of the XIVth, with 30 lines in each page.

1. EPISTOLÆ SANCTI PAULI VULGATÆ EDITIONIS.

S. Jerome's preface begins f. 1, the Epistle to the Romans f. 2, and the other Epistles follow in the usual order, that to the Hebrews ending f. 46 b.

On f. 1 is, 'Liber sancti Cuthberti de Dunelmo.'

2. COLLECTIONS FROM S. AUGUSTINE, S. JEROME, BEDE, &c. upon miscellaneous subjects, Heathen literature, Pilgrimages, Marriage, &c.

Begins (f. 47 a):

Hominem deum dici multis testimoniis approbatur...

Ends (f. 90 a):

...anima habitante in corpore fiat incultum quod ante in gloriam.

f. 90 b contains a table of the descent of 'Eneas' from 'Noe.'

1533 Gg. V. 1.

A folio, on parchment, containing 236 leaves, with 65 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the early part of the XVth century; in good preservation, with the exception of the first 3 leaves.

YEAR-BOOK 1 TO 10 EDWARD III.

Upon a fly-leaf at the end is written, in a larger hand of a later date, 'Liber Ric̄ Atkyns fil in lege Thome Wendye Ar^{i} doctoris in medicis;' and upon a second fly-leaf, in bold characters, 'La: temps: viendra: Trevoyr:' Thomas Wendye was physician to Edward VI., and one of the royal visitors of the University of Cambridge.

1534 Gg. v. 2.

A folio, on paper, containing 183 leaves, incorrectly numbered as 202, with about 45 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the early part of the XVIIth century.

LAW COMMON-PLACE BOOK.

On the first 40 ff. the articles are numbered, and followed by an index. Ff. 90—153 are occupied with cases in the reign of Elizabeth. Throughout the book many of the titles have no entries under them. At the end is an index to the ff. after 40.

1535 Gg. v. 3.

A folio, on paper, containing 161 leaves numbered as 162, with about 31 lines in a page; written in Law-French, in a hand of the XVIIth century.

LAW REPORTS FROM MICH. TERM 37 ELIZ. TO EASTER TERM 38 ELIZ.

Most of the cases are reported in Croke.

1536 Gg. v. 4.

A folio, on paper, containing 351 leaves (many of which are blank), and about 30 lines in a page; written in Law-French, in a hand of the XVIIth century.

NOTES OF LAW CASES, decided chiefly in the later years of the reign of Elizabeth, with a very few in the reigns of James I. and Charles I. It has a table of contents at the beginning extending over 5 folios, and a still more copious one at the end.

A few of the cases are to be found in Croke.

1537 Gg. v. 5.

A folio, on paper, containing 289 leaves (many of which are blank), with generally about 30 lines in a page; the first 77 ff. only are numbered, but irregularly; written in Law-French, in a neat hand of the XVIIth century.

LAW REPORTS in the first 8 years of James I. chiefly of cases decided in the King's Bench, a few in the Common Bench, Exchequer, and Court of Wards.

The earlier part of the book is a transcript of Croke's Reports, and commences with the memorandum from Croke, that the Michaelmas Term 1 James I. was adjourned in consequence of the great plague.

1538 Gg. v. 6.

A folio, on paper, containing (after 22 blank leaves) 241 numbered ff., the lines in a page varying from 45 to 66, written in Law-French, in a hand of the xviith century. Many of the leaves are slightly wormed. Between ff. 128 and 129 a leaf has been inserted.

Common Bench Reports from Easter Term 1 James I. to Mich. Term 22 James I.

These Reports do not appear to have been printed.

1539 Gg. v. 7.

A folio, on parchment, in good preservation, containing 334 leaves, numbered (except the first 3 and the last one) in Roman numerals, with 51 lines in a page, excellently written in a hand of the early part of the xvith century, in French and Latin; but after f. clxxxix. the writing, though of the same date, is not so good. The initial letters of the Statutes are illuminated, and the chapters are marked with alternate red and blue paragraphs, both in the text and in the margin. The MS. ends upon f. cclxxxix., after which 7 blank leaves appear to have been cut out, as the next f. is numbered cclxxxxvij.: f. xxxix. (a blank) has been cut out, and two ff. are numbered cxviii. After the first 38 ff., upon which are given the subjects of the chapters of the several Statutes to the 39th Hen. VI., the numbering begins afresh with the text. F. v. of the chapters is blank, and the corresponding ff. xxxvi. b. —xl of the text are blank; as also ff. xxxvii.—viii. of the chapters, which were evidently intended to contain those of the Statutes from 39 Hen. VI. to the end of the volume.

Statutes from Edward I. to Edward IV.

1. f. i. 'Statutum de mercatoribus, 13 Edw. I.' (French.)

The name 'Cecylle' is written twice at the beginning and once at the end of the book; and upon a piece of paper, pasted upon a fly-leaf now fastened to the inside of one of the covers, is the following, doubtless in the autographs of the persons whose names it bears:

"This is a copy of a bill that I Willm̄ Rastell have made to Sr Willm̄ Cycyll:

Md̄ that I Willm̄ Rastell one of the Quenes Justices of her Benche xx die Februarii A° ij° Regine Elizabeth have borowyd and receyvyd of the right honorable Sr Wyllm̄ Cycyll knight principall secretary to the Quenes Maiesty a boke wrytten in pchment of the statuts fro the begynnynge of magna carta to the viij yeare of Edward the fourth to be deliveryd to the seid Sr Willm̄ Cycell when he shall demande it. In wytnes wherof I have wrytten this bill with my owne hand.

By me Willm̄ Rastell.

I have receaved this book by y^e^ hand of Sr Rob. Catlyn y^e^ L. Chief Justice of England.

W. Cecill.

Liber Fra: Tate, ex dono dn̄i Burleigh.
2 Febr. 1600."

Rastell in 1559 edited "A collection of all the Statutes from the begynning of Magna Carta unto the yere of our Lorde 1557, whiche were before that yere imprinted." He was mistaken at the time he made the above note in supposing that these Statutes commenced with Magna Charta. Rastell died in 1565; Sir Rob. Catlyn in 1573; Lord Burleigh in 1598; and Francis Tate (of whom see in Athenæ Oxon.) in 1616.

This copy of the Statutes does not appear to have been collated by the sub-commissioners for publishing the 'Statutes of the Realm' in 1810. Indeed, as they have omitted all mention of it, when enumerating the collections of Statutes in this Library, they seem to have been ignorant of its existence. The various readings between these Statutes and those of the Record Commissioners' edition are many.

STATUTES OF EDWARD III. AND RICHARD II.

These Statutes differ somewhat from those printed by the Record Commissioners, and from those in Gg. v. 7, in their number and order, and in the division of the chapters; there are also many variations in the text. The first page of the Statutes of Edw. III. and the first page of those of Rich. II. are beautifully illuminated in gold and colours; the initial letters of the Statutes throughout the volume are illuminated; and the chapters are marked with coloured paragraphs. This collection, like that of Gg. v. 7, appears to have escaped the notice of the Record Sub-Commissioners.

At the beginning of the volume, on the inside of the cover, is a genealogical table from Rollo, the first Duke of Normandy, to Henry II. of England. And at the end, upon the last three folios, in a different hand, is a copy of the Letters Patent of Hen. VI. (not in Rymer) directed to the Abp. of Canterbury, the Bishops of Winchester and Exeter, the Duke of Clarence, the Earl of Warwick, and others, appointing them a commission for the conservation of the peace; ending 'Teste meipso apud Westm. xv. Decembri, Anno ab inchoatione regni nostri quadragesimo nono, et readepcionis nostre regie potestatis Anno primo;' signed 'Bagott.'

1544 Gg. v. 12.

A quarto, on parchment, much worn at many of the corners, and in places discoloured by damp, but legible throughout. It contains 193 leaves, with about 29 lines in a page, and is written in French, in a nearly contemporary hand.

The Law Treatise known as 'Britton,' written in the reign of Edward I.

Ends, after the text, 'Icy finist le livr de Brectoun.'

It was printed without date in the early part of the xvth century by Rob. Redman, and in 1640, edited by Edm. Wingate. See Ff. II. 39, Cat. Vol. II.

1545 Gg. v. 13.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 179, in double columns of 38 lines. Date, the xvth century.

'Opus Imperfectum in S. Mattheum,' ascribed to S. Chrysostom.

Begins (f. 1, after the preface, 'Sicut referunt Matheum...'):

Liber generationis &c. Liber est quasi apotheca graciarum...

Ends (f. 152):

...stantem in loco sancto. Explicit liber Crisostomi de opere imperfecto.

The rest of the MS. is occupied by an index.

Opp. VI. 741—972, ed. Paris, 1835.

2. ff. 65—105. 'The Proceeding in the Starr-Chamber against Sir John Hollis and others for speeches used by them to Weston at the tyme of his Execution at Tyburne, about the death of Sir Thomas Overbury, the 10th of November, 1615, in the 13th year of our late soveraigne lord King James. In Camera Stellata.'

Begins (after the list of the Court):

There was brought to the Barr Sir John Hollis (now Lord Houghton)...

Ends (f. 91):

...therefore should not bee proceeded against in this manner.

This gives a very full report of this trial. See the State Trials, ed. 1809. Vol. II. coll. 1022—1034. It is followed by a collection of notes of trials in the Star-Chamber in the reign of Henry VII.

3. ff. 110—180.

'The manner and forme of proceedinge at the tryall of Donnald Lord Rey, and David Ramsey Esquire, upon Monday the 28th of November, anno domini 1631.'

Begins (after the list of the Court):

'The Waie of Duells before the King.'

Begins:

When upon the exhibit of the Bill in Court before the Constable...

Ends:

...the lists, barrs, seats, and other works for that spectacle.

This will be found in T. Brown's Miscellanea Aulica, or A Collection of State Treatises never before published, Lond. 1702, where it forms the 6th Tract, and is said, p. 161, to be 'out of an old MS. of Elias Ashmole, Esq.'

5. ff. 194—221. 'A discoverie of the Hollanders Trade and Fishinge, and of their circumventing us therein, and the meanes how to make profitt thereof; by which they have alreadie gathered, and still doe gather so great a benefitt; with the profitt, honor, and securitie that will redound unto his Majestie and all sortes of subjects within his three kingdoms thereby.'

Begins:

Noe man is soe void of reason that knowes not...

Ends:

...to make them profittable members, to a common wealth.

6. ff. 224—260. 'A Treatise of State Merchant and of Merchandizing State, consistinge of Commerce, Trade, and Traffique, and uphelde by the Kinge's Royall Exchanger's office. Written by William Sanderson, Gentleman, Cittizen and Merchant of London. Anno Domini MDC.'

Begins (after the dedication to the king, and the list of 'perticulars handled in this treatise'):

First of Commerce in general. Commerce properly taken is the Traffique...

Ends:

All which I humbly leave to your majesties most grave and judicious consideration.

This is most probably by the same author as the Histories of the lives of Mary and James VI., and of the Life of Charles I. In the dedication, which is headed 'a second present to the kinges most excellent memorie,' he speaks of having written a former treatise on Exchange.

7. ff. 264—350. 'Certaine observations omitted in Historie, which happened unto England, since before the yeare of our Lord God, 1558. Wherein is also sett forth the reason and forme, and by whom principally the revolt of Holland hath bene originallie accomplished.'

1553 Gg. v. 21.

A quarto, on paper, of 60 pages of writing, in good preservation.

'The foundation of the UNIVERSITIE OF CAMBRIDGE WITH A CATALOGUE OF THE PRINCIPALL FOUNDERS, AND SPECIALL BENEFACTORS, of the Colledges, publike Schooles and Librarie, now extant in the same. And the names of all the present M^rs, and ffellowes, of everie particular Colledge. Together with the number of Magistrats, Governours, and officers, thereunto belonging, and the totall number of Students now therein residing. Collected Anno Domini 1621.'

This is followed by a dedication to Thomas Paske, D.D. Master of Clare Hall, by John Scott. The legendary account of the foundation of the University by Prince Canteber is given next, followed by the accounts of the several colleges, ending with Sidney Sussex College, each headed by the emblazoned coats of the founder and the college; the Schools, Library, Magistrates and officers of continuance, Councellors at Lawe for the Universitie and the King's Publike Professors and Lecturers, each headed by the personal arms of the founder, of the then incumbent, of the office, or of the office impaling those of the incumbent.

Afterwards there is a list of 'Officers daylie imployd by the Universitie, Degrees of all orders and sciences of Scholars in the Universitie,' and a list of the Masters of Clare Hall.

Then follow copies of two letters; one addressed by the senate to king James I. and dated, '4° Nonas Febru. 1616;' the other, the king's answer, dated 'quatuor Kallendas Martias,' A.D. 1616. They are attested by John Scott as a Notary Public and 'Registrar Coll. sive Aulæ de Clare.' They are printed in Cooper's Annals of Cambridge, III. 113 and 114.

On the back of the title is a coat bearing Clare Hall impaling Paske. Quarterly, argent and sable; in the second and third quarters three fleurs-de-lis in pale of the first; a martlet sable for a difference in the first quarter. The coat of the supposed founder of the University is blazoned, azure, three crowns or.

The founder of Magdalen College is stated to have been 'Edward Stafford last Duke of Buckingham,' and his arms are given.

From the heading of the page on which the letter to the king commences we learn that the author of the book 'published to divers perticular Colledges' copies of it.

Dr Woodham has made much use of the copy of this book preserved at Jesus College in his Application of Heraldry to the illustration of various University and Collegiate Antiquities. Cambridge, 1841.

The following is written upon a piece of paper pasted in at the beginning of the book:

24 May 1656. a. w. w....

John Scot who set out this MSS. book, A° 1621 caused the same to be set out imprinted in single sheets in y^e^ yeare following A° 1622 wherein is wanting the Description of the foundation of Cambridg, wherewith this book beginnes, as likewise the names of the M^rs^ and fellows of diverse Colledgs w^ch^ are herein set downe, likewise the Lers between K. James and the Universitie at y^e^ end of this book are in the printed edition wanting.

This same John Scot in the same year 1622 set forth likewise the description of the Colledges of Oxford universitie in like manner as he did of Cambridge w^ch^ are printed in loose sheetes w^th^ y^e^ armes of every Colledg as in this, but not in colours.

Dr Woodham learned that this John Scott was the deputy of Camden, Clarencieux King at Arms (Appl. of Heraldry, p. 76). The printed copy has not been found.

2. 'Expositiones super Dominicalibus per annum,' a course of metrical Sermons on the Gospels throughout the year, with scriptural and legendary 'narrations.'

After a prologue (fol. 5 b to fol. 7 b), wherein the author gives his reasons for writing in the vernacular language, he commences at Advent Sunday:

Ar Criste God sune of tyme was comē
Sathanas alle folk had nume
For man kynde in prison he helde
W'outen help w'outen belde.

This extract will suffice to shew the close affinity between the present series and one already noticed Dd. I. 1, § 4. In this case the language is still more strongly marked by Northumbrian peculiarities.

The last of the Dominical Gospels here explained at length is that for the 23rd Sunday after Trinity, which ends fol. 136 b. But some other homilies are added, one for 'St Peter and St Paul,' reaching to fol. 149 a:

And Peter and Paule yat he slew
Her both now in blys i-nogh
Tyll yat blys he bryng vs
Our Lord dere swet Ihesus. Amen.

3. 'Passio Domini nostri Jesu Christi' (fol. 149 to fol. 171).

Begins (fol. 149 a):

Lystenys now I wyll 3owe tell
Of mykell pyte I may 3ow spell.

For other copies, see Dd. I. 1, § 1.

Gg. v. 32, 33.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1566

Gg. v. 34.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 134, with 23 lines in a page. Date, the XIIIth century. A leaf is lost between ff. 60 and 61, and the MS. is imperfect at the end.

1. ff. 1—60. S. ANSELMI MONOLOGION.

Begins (after a letter to Lanfranc, the preface, 'Quidam fratres...' and an index of chapters):

Si quis unam naturam summam...

Ends:

...solus deus ineffabiliter trinus et unus.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1853, I. coll. 141—224.

The letter to Lanfranc is Epist. IV. 103, T. II. col. 252.

2. ff. 61—117. 'EJUSDEM LIBER CUR DEUS HOMO.'

Begins (after the index of chapters):

Sepe et studiosissime a multis rogatus sum...

Ends:

...Deo non nobis attribuere debemus qui est benedictus in secula. Amen.

Ibid. I. coll. 361—432.

3. ff. 118—134. Dialogus inter Gentilem et Christianum: imperfect.

Begins:

Maiestas divina cur ad dolores mortalis nature insuper et usque ad opprobria crucis se humiliavit...

Ends:

...est et hac vita iam multa quies data sanctis...

Towards the end of the dialogue the 'Gentilis' confesses himself convinced by the arguments of the 'Christianus,' and they are afterwards styled 'Discipulus' and 'Magister.'

It is given as S. Anselm's in Dd. I. 21, § 24, but does not appear in the editions of his works.

1567 Gg. v. 35.

A quarto, on parchment, 454 leaves, 31 lines in each page (neglecting interlineations); for the most part well preserved, handwriting not earlier than the xith century (cf. fol. 440 a): defective in one or two places and at the end. Once belonging to the monastery of St Augustine, Canterbury.

Miscellanea, chiefly theological and in Latin.

1. 'Ars Jvvenci presbiteri optimi poete et oratoris, vel rethoris, urbis Rome, exametris versibus de Evangelio Domini nostri Jesu Christi pene ad verbum translata' (fol. 1 to fol. 53).

See above, Ff. iv. 42. The present MS. contains very frequent glosses, some of which are Anglo-Saxon.

2. 'Paschale Carmen Sedulii rethoris noui et veteris Testamenti' (fol. 53 to fol. 85 b): with glosses as before.

See above, Ee. vi. 38, §§ 1—3. The hymns there mentioned are also found in the present MS.

3. 'Aratoris subdiaconi aeclesiae Romae Historia Apostolica' (fol. 86 b to fol. 127 a): with copious Latin glosses.

Printed in the Biblioth. Patrum, ed. Galland, xii. 95 sq. This MS. contains also the addresses to the abbot Florian and pope Vigilius (fol. 85 b to fol. 86 b); together with verses in praise of Arator (fol. 127), which are printed for the Caxton Society, ed. Giles, 1851, pp. 67—69.

4. 'Prosperi Epigrammata super dicta S. Augustini' (fol. 127 b to fol. 147 a): 'capitula cvi' with a few Latin glosses.

Printed among Prosper's Works, fol. 161 sq. ed. Colon. 1565.

5. 'Tironis Prosperi Exortatio ad Vxorem' (fol. 147 a to fol. 149 a).

Printed, as above, fol. 177 sq. and conjecturally attributed to Paulinus, Bishop of Nola.

6. 'Prudentii Psichomachia' (fol. 149 a to fol. 165 a): with copious glosses.

Printed among the Works of Prudentius, pp. 356 sq. Halæ, 1703.

7. 'Ejusdem Tituli de Historiis ueteris et noui Testamenti per metrum quod Grece dirocheum vel tetrasticon uocatur, hoc est, opus quattuor uersuum' (fol. 165 a to fol. 168 a).

Printed, as above, pp. 491 sq.

8. 'Libellus de Fenice, Paradisi (ut fertur) habitatrice,' here ascribed to Lactantius (fol. 168 a to 170 b): a few glosses.

See Lactant. Opp. p. 531, Basil. 1563.

9. 'Boetii ex consule ordinarii patricii Philosophiae Consolatio' (fol. 171 to fol. 210 b); with very frequent glosses.

Often printed.

10. 'Rabani Mauri de Laude Sancte Crucis' (fol. 210 b to fol. 263 a).

Printed entire as early as 1503. After the prologue this copy has an 'Intercessio Albini [Alcuini] pro Mauro' (fol. 211 b); and twenty-eight illustrative plates.

11. A prose treatise on Music; no title nor author's name.

Begins (fol. 264 a):

[A]d musicæ initiamenta quemlibet ingredi cupientem...

Ends (fol. 277 a):

Ego sum ueritas et uita. alleluia, alleluia.

It is incorrectly ascribed to St Augustine in the table of contents prefixed to this volume by a later hand.

A gap, extending to three folios, occurs in the MS. (fol. 277 to fol. 281).

12. 'Althelmi [Aldhelmi] de Laude Uirginitatis' (fol. 281 to 319 b): in Latin verse, with some few glosses.

This copy contains the 'Præfatio ad Maximam Abbatissam.' The whole is printed among the Works of Aldhelm, pp. 135 sq. ed. Giles, 1844.

13. 'Eiusdem de Virtutum pugna cum uitiis' (fol. 319 b to fol. 327 a): in Latin verse.

Printed, as above, pp. 203 sq. with the title, De Octo principalibus Vitiis.

14. 'Liber Milonis monachi de Laude Pudicitie vel sobrietatis' (fol. 327 a to fol. 362 a).

The prologue, addressed 'Glorioso regi Karolo,' begins:

Principibus priscis uatum placuisse camenas
Nouimus et sumptos tali pro munere honores.

15. 'Versus de XII. Lapidibus pretiosis' (fol. 362 a).

Printed, among other Anecdota, for the Caxton Society, 1851, ed. Giles, pp. 66, 67.

16. Verses on All Saints' Day: without title.

Begins (fol. 362 b):

Aula superna poli reboet modulamine dulci.

17. Verses addressed to a clerick: no title; full of Græcisms and other peculiarities, which are explained by an interlinear gloss.

Begins (fol. 363 b):

Clerice dypticas lāti ne dempseris umquam.

18. Two Hymns, without title, beginning

(1) O Dee cunctipotens anime dator, O Dee Christe.
(2) Omnipotens solus regnas qui trinus et unus.

19. 'Irrisio cuiusdam Scolastici contra Caluos' (fol. 367 a).

'Responsio Hugbaldi de Laude Caluorum.'

Both printed for the Caxton Society, as above, pp. 70 sq.

20. 'Versus de Filomela' (fol. 369 a).

Printed, as above, p. 69.

Annexed are a few verses De Septem Diebus, also printed as above, p. 65.

21. 'Enigmata Eusebii' (fol. 370 a): with glosses.

Printed, as above, pp. 54 sq.

22. 'Enigmata Tautuini [Tatwini]' (fol. 374 b): with glosses.

Printed, as above, pp. 25 sq.

23. 'Dogmata Albini ad Carolum Imperatorem' (fol. 378 a).

24. 'Distica eiusdem ad eundem regem' (fol. 379 b).

25. 'Versus cuiusdam Scoti de Alfabeto' (fol. 381 a).

Printed for the Caxton Society, as above, p. 36.

26. 'Bonifacii Ænigmata de Virtutibus' (fol. 382 a).

Printed, as above, pp. 18 sq.

27. 'De Acerbissimis Malis' (fol. 385 a).

Printed, as above, pp. 38 sq.

28. A Hymn (fol. 388 b), commencing

Sancte Sator, Legis Lator.

Printed, as above, pp. 46, 47.

29. 'Epitaphium Alcuini' (see his Works, Vol. I. p. lxix.).

30. 'Enigmata Simphosii' (fol. 389 a): with glosses.

Begins:

Hec quoque simphosius de carmine lusit inepto.

31. 'Althelmi Enigmata mille uersibus currentia' (fol. 394 a): with copious glosses, some of which are in Anglo-Saxon.

Printed among Aldhelm's Works, pp. 248—273, ed. Giles.

32. 'Cato,' his distichs, with the 'Epistola' prefixed (fol. 407 a).

See Smith's Dict. of Greek and Roman Biog. I. 634, 635.

33. 'Versus Columbani abbatis de Bonis Moribus observandis' (fol. 412 b).

Printed among the Works of Columbanus, Max. Bibl. Patrum (Lugdun. 1677), XII. 35.

34. 'Versus Bede de Die Iudicii' (fol. 416 a).

Printed in Bede's Works, I. 99 sq. ed. Giles.

35. 'Ænigmata,' in the table of contents attributed to Bede (fol. 418 b): with copious glosses.

Begins:

Nil herebo melius celo sic peius habetur.

36. After two pieces in the Greek language, but written in the ordinary characters, are two metrical versions of the Lord's Prayer in Latin (fol. 421 a).

Printed for the Caxton Society, as above, pp. 47, 48.

37. The Gloria in Excelsis (Greek), and the Nicene Creed (Greek, with Latin interlinear version), are followed by Verses on the Creed in Latin (fol. 422 a).

This last is printed, as before, p. 49.

38. Short enigmas in Latin (fol. 422 b).

39. Latin Verses on the Te Deum (fol. 423 a).

40. 'Bibliotheca Magnifica' (fol. 423 b): a series of enigmas.

Printed, as before, pp. 50—53.

41. A prose treatise on Medicine (fol. 425 b): no title.

Begins:

[Q]ui vult potionem solutionis accipere, hoc modo id faciat...

42. Lyrics in honour of the emperors of Germany during the first half of the XIth Century (fol. 432): in double columns, damaged here and there.

Printed in Eccard, Veter. Monument. Leips. 1720, and more recently in Hoffmann's Fundgruben für Gesch. Deutscher Sprache, pp. 16, 340. Several marks of chronology are furnished by this portion of the MS., making it highly probable that the date of composition was the reign of Henry III. (1039—1055).

43. A short collection of Hymns (fol. 444), mutilated at the end, where a considerable gap occurs in the paging.

44. Certain medical prescriptions (fol. 452 b): without title; imperfect.

Judging from the table of contents prefixed to the volume, it formerly contained some Orations of Cicero.

1569 Gg. v. 37.

A small quarto, of the xvth century, chiefly on parchment, but in the latter part paper has been used with the parchment. It contains 161 leaves, with about 34 lines in a page.

1. ff. 3—105*a*. 'Epistolares Quedam formule quas correctoria vocant.' 'Extracte ex majorum literarum missivarumque colectorio Scolaribus Louvanii in pedagogio Lilii lectarum exemplorum gratia.'

The date (1475—80) of this collection may be ascertained by a reference in one of the last letters, 'Me pie subjiciens vigilantissimo pastori nostro domino Thome [Rotheram], Dei gratia Lincolniensi episcopo hujus alme universitatis totiusque regni meritissimo cancellario.' The letter is dated from St Michael's house in the University of Cambridge.

The heading of the first is,

Intimatur amico impletio sue petitionis quoad collectionem epistolarum.

The dating, &c. of the last letter (addressed to Richard Duke of Gloucester) are as follows:

E Cantabrigiâ vii Idibus Aprilibus. Et congregatione regentium et non regentium Cantabrigiensis. Subscriptio. Principis invictissimi Gloucestrie duci et inclitissimi exarata hec benignissimo offerantur aspectui.

2. ff. 107—160 a. 'Egidius de Urinis.'

See Ee. II. 20, § 12.

The poem is accompanied with copious notes in prose.

Beginning:

In prima parte incipit autor dare tres expositiones...

Ending:

...et caloris mitigacio.

3. ff. 160 b—161. A Medical Tract on Planetary Influences.

Begins:

Prima secundum sententiam Ptolemei in suo sentilogio...

Ends:

...in mediocriter vero mediocris est, &c.

There is the commencement of a contemporary table of the letters in the first section, on the first fly-leaf.

1570 Gg. VI. 1.

A small quarto, on paper, of three several sizes, containing 244 leaves, many of which are blank.

1. The Note Book of an Attorney (whose name does not appear, but who probably resided in Essex), on 145 leaves, badly written in a contemporary hand.

With the exception of a very few references to the Statutes and to reported cases, it consists of notes of actions in which the writer was engaged, in which are given the names of the plaintiff and defendant, the nature of the action, statement of the case, amount of damages, plea of the defendant, names of the witnesses on his own side (which is noted) with the points which they were to prove. In hardly any case is the verdict given. It contains also lists of the actions at the Essex Assizes (held at Chelmsford, Witham, and Brentwood,) from August, 1633, to March, 1669—70, at which it frequently gives the names of the Judges. The number of cases at an assize sometimes exceeds 80. The Judges are, Justice Mallet, K.B., Francis Bacon, K.B., Serjeant Cressheld, (afterwards J.C.P.), Serjeant Keble, for Peter Phesant, C. P., sick, Serjeant Greene for the same, Baron Gates, Edward Atkins, C.P., Baron Rigbey, John Puliston, C.P., Peter Warberton, C.P., Richard Aske, K.B., Oliver St John, Ch. C.P., Serjeant Newdigate, Baron Pepys, Serjeant Steele (Recorder of London), Sergeant Crooke, Serjeant Hill, Matthew Hale, C.P., Chief Baron Widrington, Orlando Bridgeman, Ch. C. P., Samuel Browne, C.P., John Keeling, Ch. K. B., Serjeant Browne, and William Morton, K.B.

2. A Guide to Courts Leete and Courts Baron.

Written in a very small neat hand, in the reign of Elizabeth, on 24 leaves, with about 60 lines in a page. On the first page was written, in a contemporary hand, 'John Ellease,' to which an r has been added in a differently coloured ink, making the name 'Elleaser.' It is divided into the following chapters:

'The causes why court leete and courte baron were ordeyned.'

'The manner of keeping y^e^ veiw of frank pledg.'

'Le precepte.'

'The entry of the court role.'

'An exortation to y^e^ inqueste in courte leete.'

'An exhortation to y^e^ inqueste in courte baron.'

'An exhortation to the inquest in court leete and court baron.'

These exhortations are quaint and interesting. They are of some length, and treat of the duties of piety and virtue in the various relations of life, abounding in illustrations from the Sacred Scriptures, as well as from Plato, Quintilian, and other moral writers. In the last, the assembly is exhorted to do good in imitation of Abraham, Daniel, and the Apostles; and that 'the ready way to doe this good is to eschew three things,

Envye Flatterye & Briberye	and to cleave to	Love Just dealing & A cleare conscience.'

'The Articles of y^e^ charge in courte leete.'

'Authoritye of y^e^ stewarde.'

'In what place and at what time y^e^ leete shall be kept.'

'XII shal be of the inquest in leete, otherwise the presentments not traversable.'

'Bilawes.'

'The articles of y^e^ charge in court Baron.'

After 8 blank leaves are

Six Addresses of a similar nature, and evidently intended for a like occasion, as the 'Exhortations' above noticed. They are written in a similar though not identical hand, of the same date, and extend to 16 leaves. The last 'intreates of Judgment and Justice,' and begins:

'Masters, I have shewd you your duty toward God, your duty toward prince and country, the duties of superiors and inferiors'...

Ends:

'When, sayth the Evangelist, they shall shine as the sunne in the kingdom of their father. (Matth. xiii.)'

After many blanks is a page containing the commencement of a charge, with erasures and interlineations, followed by two pages of unconnected notes.

3. 'Les divisions del title destates,' and 'Les divisions de le title de distresse en le grande Abridgment de Mr Brooke.'

The latter does not go beyond the first division. The two occupy six leaves, in a handwriting of the xviith century.

4. Forms of proceedings in actions of Trespass, Replevin, and Assise of Novel Disseisin.

These occupy 8 leaves, in a handwriting of the xviith century, in Latin and French.

1571 Gg. vi. 2.

A small octavo, on vellum, containing 205 leaves (excluding blanks), each page containing about 30 lines neatly written in a small distinct hand of the xvth century. The capital letters are illuminated in gold and colours and are manifestly of French work.

'Valerii Maximi factorum et dictorum memorabilium.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Urbis Rome (Lib. i. Præf.)...

Ends (fol. 203):

...supplicio coegit (Lib. ix. c. 15).

After these follow the Capitula, being 82 in all, the MS. ending thus: 'Expliciunt capittula ix. librorum Valerii Maximi.' On the first leaf is written: 'A Brodeau S^r. de la Chastiere.' His name and also that of J. B. Hautin are written inside the cover.

1572 Gg. vi. 3.

An octavo, on parchment, containing 382 leaves, besides 18 fly-leaves. The writing is of various hands, but all of the xivth century.

A Collection of Astronomical Tracts, and Almanacks.

Many of these are imperfect. Few have been printed. The leaves are much displaced by the binder.

The first 80 leaves contain chiefly the Treatises and Tables of John Manduth (see Tanner, p. 506), with Tracts on the Catha conjuncta, and Catha disjuncta, and rules, &c. assigned to Campanus, Gebir, Ptolemy, and others. After 10 blank leaves, ff. 90—138 contain 9 Canons for the calculation of Eclipses, Figures of Constellations, Almanacks, and Tables. At f. 139 begins, Liber Mgri Rogeri de Hereford de Judiciis siderum et Astrologie (Quoniam regulas artis Astronomice...), see Tanner, p. 641. f. 154*b* begins, Liber Zael in Astronomia et Judiciis. f. 201, Tractatus de Sphera editus a Magistro Roberto de Grosteste (see Ff. vi. 13, § 2). ff. 206—229, Astronomical Tracts and Tables. f. 230, A Tract on Squaring the Circle, by Campanus, printed in Margarita Philosophica, Basil, 1535, p. 1239, concluding with the verses 'Rem novam mirabilem.' See Ee. iii. 61, § 21. Following this are tracts with figures, giving the elements of the epicyclic orbits of the superior planets, by John de Lineriis. f. 273, Tractatus novi Quadrantis, and of the instrument Albyon. See Ee. iii. 61, § 2. f. 309, Tracts on Mensuration and Trigonometry. f. 323, On the Instrument called Semissis. f. 378, An incomplete work, wanting its commencement, on Arithmetic. There are also several Trigonometrical Tables.

The writing and compilation are very careless, and parts of the volume are nearly illegible through fading of the ink.

1573 Gg. vi. 4.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1574 Gg. vi. 5.

A quarto, on parchment, of 135 leaves of 29 lines. The writing is of the xv th century.

Liber de Bestiis et aliis rebus.

This work is that published with the above title under the name of Hugo de S. Victore [Opp. iii. p. 9, &c. Migne]. The arrangement in the present MS. is very different from that of the printed edition. It contains the first three books, and a large appendix on trees. There are many references in the work to S. Isidorus, Etym. lib. xii. which do not appear in the printed copies. The illustrations are curious.

The book has formerly belonged to George Williams, in whose writing there is a Welsh inscription on the first fly-leaf, 'Gwithred yellifir lium a berthin ye thangos natyriathe,' &c.

1575 Gg. vi. 6.

A moderate-sized octavo, on paper, in bad condition, consisting of 200 leaves, a few of which are blank: number of lines in a page very various: written in a neat small hand of the xviith century.

1. 'M. Valerii Martialis Epigrammaton liber primus: ab altero Constructiones.'

Contains a paraphrase of a great many epigrams of Martial.

2. 'Ad genus omne scriptionis preceptiones et exempla servato ordine rerum quæ in vita geruntur.' fol. 158.

Begins:

Initium ducetur a colloquio proci cum puella.

The work contains 23 chapters.

3. 'Collectiones ex M. T. Cicerone de Officiis; Terentio et Seneca; Ciceronis libro de amicitia; Martiali; Velleio Paterculo;' aliisque scriptoribus. fol. 170.

Contains a multitude of small extracts, without notes.

1576 Gg. vi. 7.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing 151 leaves (the last 8 of which are blank) partially numbered, with 33 lines in a page, written in Law-French and Latin, in hands (with the exception of No. 9) of the xvth century. The initial letters through about half the volume are in gold and colours.

Law Tracts.

1. A Book of Tenures, in French, extending over 9 leaves, with a continuation, upon 2 leaves, in Latin. This is the same as that in Gg. vi. 44. It was printed in London, in 1532, by Rob. Redman, under the title of 'The old Tenures.'

2. 'Brevia originalia et officialia Judicialia,' in French.

This title is supplied from the colophon to the same Tract in Gg. vi. 44, No. 4, where it is attributed to John Stafford, of Tolston, in the county of York. It was several times printed anonymously by the early printers. Richard Pynson (who issued more than one edition) so printed it in London in 1528, with additions, under the title of 'Natura Brevium.'

It commences with a table of writs, and is preceded by 2 leaves containing notes on Dower and other legal subjects, verses for remembering the common-days in Banco, and a list of Return-days in the Common Bench.

3. Forms of Petitions, in French, occupying 37 leaves.

4. 'Proprietates Narracionum,' in Latin, 6 leaves.

5. 'Notabilia Statutorum, et de Dampnis,' in Latin, 3 leaves, on the last of which are some verses headed 'Ordo instructionis cartarum.'

6. 'Actus inter Henricum VI.^m Regem Anglie et Excellentem Principem Ricardum Ducem Ebor. in ultimo Parliamento tempore ipsius Regis, et immediate post bellum de Northampton, Anno regni sui tricesimo nono, apud Westmon. inter alia editus, &c.' In English, 4 leaves.

At the end is a note, in Latin, of the succession of the kings of England, from William the Conqueror to Edw. IV., serving as an introduction to the following,

7. Genealogical Tables, in medallions, of the royal family of England, from Henry III. to Edward IV., in whose reign it appears to have been written: in Latin, 4 leaves.

8. 'Forme Excepcionum omnium Brevium,' in Latin, 8 leaves, on the last of which is a note, 'Essonie calumpniande,' and 'Statutum de Emptoribus terrarum.'

9. A table of the kings of England, from Alfred to Edward VI., with the number of years of their reign. Written in the reign of Queen Mary.

1577 Gg. VI. 8.

A small quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 172 in double columns of 37 lines. Date, the XVth century.

THE NEW TESTAMENT, IN THE LATER VERSION OF WYCLIFFE.

This MS. is marked t in Forshall and Madden's edition of Wycliffe's Bible, Oxf. 1850. See p. liv. It contains the ordinary prologues: the initial letters are illuminated.

On a fly-leaf at the end, in a hand of the XVIth century, is the Epistle to the Laodiceans with its prologue: the various readings of this are given in the Oxford edition, T. IV. pp. 438, 439.

1578 Gg. VI. 9.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 178, with about 22 lines in a page. Written in London, in 1589.

1. ff. 1—135. 'FASTI TRIUMPHORUM ET MAGISTRATUUM ROMANORUM ab U. C. ad Augusti obitum, additis nummorum descriptionibus. Ex HUB. GOLTZIO, opera J. C. O. [i.e. Jacobi Colii Orteliani] anno 1588, Antverpiæ.'

Begins:

Primum quod ad nummos attinet, lectori sciendum est...

Ends:

...Placuit itaque cum ipso statim Augusti decessu, summam huic operi manum imponere. Hæc H. Golzius.

Full indexes follow.

2. ff. 138—178. 'Græca Numismata Externorum Regum ac Populorum descripta et exposita. Opera Jac. Colii Orteliani. Anno 1588. Antverpiæ.'

Begins:

Quis cuique genti populove typus in suo nummo usui fuit...

Ends:

...Pallas dextra victoriolam cum corona, sinistra hastam tenens.

This has also full indexes. The descriptions of the coins are arranged alphabetically. This work, like the former, is written out carefully for the press, but does not seem to have been published.

1579 Gg. vi. 10.

A small octavo, of 42 leaves (three both at the beginning and end being blank), each page containing about 14 lines, neatly written in a hand of the xvth century.

'Μιχαὴλ τοῦ Ψελλοῦ εἰς τὴν ψυχογονίαν τοῦ Πλάτωνος.'

Begins (fol. 4):

τὸ μὲν λεγόμενον.

Ends (fol. 39):

ὡς θείας φωνὰς ταῦτα ἐδέξαντο.

This treatise has been edited by Linder at Upsal, 1854: see Cambridge Journal of Classical and Sacred Philol. for 1854, p. 424; also Fabr. Bibl. Gr. Vol. x. p. 66. (ed. Harl.)

1580 Gg. vi. 11.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 67, of which many are blank, with about 35 lines in a page. Date, about 1680.

1. ff. 2—33. A transcript of the letters that passed between Dr H. More, and Mr H. H., about the Encheiridion Metaphysicum of the former.

Begins:

Honoured Sir,

Soon after the receipt of your Enchiridion Metaphysicum...

Ends:

...I take leave and rest, deare Sir,

Your affectionate servant, H. M.

These letters are dated from Aug. 1671, to March 167½. Dr More's are all dated from C. C. C. i.e. Christ's Coll. Cambridge. His correspondent writes from P. G. near London. The name has been filled up in f. 1 in the MS. and is apparently Harn; but it has been run through with a pen. The letters chiefly contain corrections of Dr More's Latinity.

2. ff. 36, 37. 'Isaacus Vossius Excellentissimo Domino Magno Angliæ Cancellario, de lite sua cum D. Heveninghamio.'

Begins:

Quod jam pridem in vobis fuit ut litis quæ est cum D. Heveninghamio...

Ends:

...causæ meæ æquitate apud te consequar gratiam.

This letter is dated xxv Maii. 1676. Londini.

3. ff. 39—48. Theological notes: in a different hand.

These are very scanty, and concern 'The general proposition to be proved in Mr Dodwell's discourse of Schism,' 'Of Purgatory and Paradise, and the state and place of souls departed,' and 'Of Moses' law, and whether it required obedience absolutely perfect.'

The rest of the MS. is blank.

1581 Gg. vi. 12.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 60, in double columns of 41 lines. Some leaves are lost at the end of the 'Dextra Pars,' between ff. 14 and 15. The initial letters are gilt. Date, the xvth century. It is bound up with the preceding MS.

Gulielmi de Pagula 'Oculus Sacerdotis:' imperfect.

Begins (f. 1 in the middle of B. II.):

...in fine. ideo job 27. diues cum dormierit...

Ends (f. 5):

...in presenti vita per gratiam in futuro per gloriam. Ad quam perducat, &c.

See Gg. I. 13.

This is followed by a paragraph on penitence, 'pena dampnatorum,' &c. headed 'Ad Thes. v,' occupying f. 59 b—60.

1582

Gg. vi. 13.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 54, with 32 lines in a page; and many more blank leaves at the end. Date, the xviith century.

'The Historie of Dr Martyn Luther, with his life and doctrine described.'

Begins:

Martyn Luther after he was growne in yeares...

Ends:

...vid. the manner and forme of degradading [sic] a preist ibidem [i. e. Foxe's Acts and Monuments], pag. 107, 108.

ff. 47—52 are blank, f. 53 contains a letter without any signature, in a different hand from the rest of the MS., announcing to a lord, that the writer sends as a 'small toaken of his love, a choyne of Bacon, a fatt Turkey, and two fatt geese.' f. 54 gives an attempt to defend Luther as to what he said of St James's epistle. The rest of the volume is blank.

Gg. vi. 14.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 41, with 19 lines in a page. Written out for Edward VI., whose arms and initials E. R. are stamped on the binding.

1. ff. 1—40. Articuli xii in Joannem Barthoreum propter quos Cardinalis episcopi et Abbates Scotici in eum mortis tulerant sententiam, cum sui ipsius vindicatione.

Begins (after the dedication to Edw. VI., Non existimes, rex charissime... which occupies 6 leaves):

Amici cujuspiam opera, aliquot articuli propter quos Scoticus cardinalis...

Ends:

...a tam sancta pia atque Christiana pertinacia deflectere sinant.

This is the same person as Sir John, or Captain Borthwike, concerning whom see Foxe, Acts and Monuments, Vol. v. pp. 607—621, ed. 1846, where both the articles against him and his answers, as in the present MS., are given at length in English. The MS. is mentioned by Tanner, Biblioth. p. 78.

2. ff. 42—51. 'The manner of Adam Wallace's accusacion in the black fires [friers] of Edinbourge the 17 of July, 1550.'

Begins:

Ther was a scaffolde made harde to the chancerie wall of the blacke frires churche of Edinbourge...

Ends:

...the fire was kindeled and so departed to God constantelie in good countenance in ower syght.

This is in a different hand from the former treatise: it will be found in Foxe's Acts and Monuments, Vol. v. pp. 636—641, ed. 1846.

1584 Gg. vi. 15.

A small quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 506, in double columns, with 47 lines in each column. The initial letter to each book contains a miniature picture of some event in that book. Date, the xivth century.

Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi.

After a blank leaf and the usual prologues, Genesis begins f. 5, the initial I representing the 7 acts of creation. St Matthew begins f. 384 b, and the books occur in the usual order, except that the Acts follows the Epistle to the Hebrews. The Revelation ends f. 473 b, and is followed by the explanatory index of Hebrew names, with which the MS. ends f. 505 b.

The binding is stamped with the letters E O, and has clasps.

1585 Gg. vi. 16.

An octavo, on paper, containing ff. 59, with 32 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

Sermons for Sundays and Festivals in English: imperfect.

Begins (f. 8):

Diliges dominum deum tuum m^t^. xxii. cap. [37] the helpe ande the grace of godde þat is almyghtye...

Ends (f. 59):

...gapynge with his mowthe havynge thee in scharpe tethe...

The first 7 leaves contain a sentence from each Apostle and Prophet, three short addresses, one on the Gospel for the first Sunday in Lent, a story of incest and murder ff. 5, 6, an account of the Last Supper, &c.

Among the sermons are inserted two on the occasion of marriage, the first entitled 'in nuptiis sollacio,' the second 'in solemnizatione matrimonii.'

1586 Gg. vi. 17.

A quarto, on paper, 90 leaves, 28 lines in each page, hand-writing of the xvi th century.

'The vertuouse doctrine of Hoccleue vpon the Rewle of Princes.'

This is the well-known translation of Ægidius Romanus, De Regimine Principum, by Occleve: see Warton, II. 259, new ed.

1587 Gg. vi. 18.

A quarto, on paper, the latter part discoloured by damp and charcoal, containing 70 leaves (a few of which are blank) written in the xvi th century.

1. Readings on Magna Carta, in Law-French.

2. Magna Carta Edwardi I. Anno Regni XXVIII°. In Latin.

3. Readings, in Law-French.

'En queux cases sont apte parolls de faire choses appendaunt de passer par graunt le Roy, et en queux nemy.'

'Le second livr.—Coment les parolls de cest Article del prerogative le Roy seront entend, et ou le graunte sera void dins chose append.'

'Coment et en queux cases un felon ou fugytyve perdra ses biens, et en queux nemy.'

'Lecture 1, 4° die Augusti 6 Edw. VI.—Queux discentes et morrant seisie tollerent entrees le disseisie et ses heires par le commen leye.'

'Queux discentes et morant seisie tollent entr nient obstant lestate, et queux nemi.'

'Queux persons serront remedies per cest estatute nient obstante le morant seisie et le discent, et queux nemye.'

'Le tierce livr en iij vacacon, A°. 1553.—En queux cases home serra d' felon par son act demeasne sans ascun chose prender.'

'De ingressibus manuforti in terris et tenementis, et de remissione partis in possessione ejusdem.'

1588 Gg. vi. 19.

A small quarto, on paper, of 194 pages, (of which two are numbered 83) and a large genealogical table at the end. The title is "La Anatomia de Espanna, 1598."

The title-page is illuminated at the margins, and has emblazoned there the shields of arms of the chief states of old Spain, the following words inserted under each coat being severally its supporter; viz. Bastardia, Homocidia, Tirania, Vsvrpacion, Hipocresia, Perfidia.

It contains an elaborate attempt to prove that the Austrian Kings of Spain had no claim to that dignity, and seems especially directed against Philip II. The genealogical tables are very full, amply illustrated by Heraldry, and neatly executed. On page 292, there is the device of a peacock standing upon a pomegranate with its tail expanded. On each feather one of the shields claimed by Philip is blazoned. The device is ingenious and well executed.

The Manuscript commences:

'Aun que los Emperadores, Reyes, y Monarchas, cuyos setros se estienden sobre todo el universo, an de ser sagrados, por quanto nos representan, &c.'

And ends as follows:

'Contra este perfido Felipe, gran Hipocrita, yncestuoso Rey, nefando Homecida, Ynjusto Usurpador, detestable Tirano, y Monstruo Castellano. Laus Deo.'

1589

Gg. vi. 20.

An octavo, mostly on paper, though with some parchment leaves, containing ff. 143, with 32 lines in a page. Written in the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—115. 'Thomas Waleys de Modo componendi Sermones.'

Begins (after the preface, 'Reverendo, &c. Theobaldo de Ursinis, &c. Desiderium vestrum...'):

Cum predicacionis officium sit pocius angelicum quam humanum ...

Ends (f. 111 b):

...pro me insuper fratre Galfrido Schale misso peccatore exoro quod preces pie porrigat uti ad summum gaudium ipsum et me deus omnipotens precibus sue matris ac sancti doctoris augustini patris nostri finaliter perducat. Amen. Finis.

Galfridus Schale was probably the scribe of the MS.

This is followed by a sermon on the text 'Redde quod debes. Matt. xviii. [28].'

Thomas Waleys or Guallensis died in 1340. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 750, who refers to this MS.

2. ff. 116—127. A Theological Treatise on various Vices and Virtues: imperfect.

Begins:

De Superbia. Vesica inflata dum ungitur...

Ends:

...amicos invenit alium quem...

3. ff. 128—143. An explanatory index of things alphabetically arranged.

Begins:

Angelus. Purus in natura...

Ends:

Vultur...in cadaveribus sociatur, pedibus libenter graditur.

This consists chiefly of several properties of each word that is explained. In f. 115 occurs the name W. Worde.

1590 Gg. VI. 21.

A quarto, on paper* (with two leaves of parchment at the end), in good preservation, containing 181 leaves, with from 32 to 35 lines in a page, written in hands of the former half of the XVth century; the initial letters, through nearly all the book, are blue, ornamented with red, and the paragraphs are marked in red and blue. There are 'signatures' nearly throughout, upon the left-hand corner of the leaves, in sets of alternate sixes, as in a duodecimo.

Wilkins collated the Constitutions in this volume, and refers to it as the MS. Elien. n. 235, it being at that time in Bishop Moore's Library, and bearing that number in Moore's Catalogue *. He has for the most part noticed the variations as far as No. 21 in the following description.

I. CONSTITUTIONES PROVINCIALES ANGLICANÆ.

1. 'Constituciones provinciales in concilio Oxon celebrato edite per dnm Stephanum [Langton] Cantuar. Archiepiscopum Anno Dni MCCXXII., et Anno Regni Regis Henrici, filii Johannis, octavo.'

2. 'Constituciones dni Bonefacii Archiep. Cant. in concilio Westmon.'

3. 'Constituciones seu declaraciones de Redyng edite ibidem per fratrem Johannem Peecham Cantuar. Archiep. A.D. MCCLXXIX. super certis articulis prius editis in conciliis Oxon.'

4. 'Constituciones provinciales dni Roberti Wynchelsey Cantuar. Archiep. apud Merton edite A.D. MCCCLX.'

Only 4 Articles are given here. Wilkins assigns 1305 as the date of this council, but does not note the variation.

* In Cat. Vol. I. p. 390, it was erroneously said that Dd. IX. 38, was the MS. which Wilkins collated and referred to as above.

5. 'Constituciones de Lameth per dnm Stephanum Cantuar. Archiep. edite, et in quibus libris habentur iste constituciones ante constituciones de Merton de modo dandi mortuarium.'

Spelman and Wilkins ascribe these Constitutions to Stephen Langton, but Johnson (English Laws and Canons) gives reasons for assigning them to Simon Langham.

6. 'Constituciones Fratris Johannis Peccham Cant. Archiep. apud Lameth edite, A.D. MCCLXXVI.'

In the last article of these Constitutions they are dated VI. Id. Oct. MCCLXXXI., which date is given in the printed copies.

7. 'Constitucio Johannis Peccham, secundum aliquos libros, de mutando crismate singulis annis.'

This is the second of certain statutes of Peccham, dated 1280, given in Wilkins (II. 43) 'ex MS. Colleg. Baliol. Oxon.'

8. 'Constituciones dni Simonis Mepham Cant. Archiep. in concilio provinciali apud S. Paulum London celebrato, A.D. MCCCXXVIII.'

9. 'Constituciones provinciales, secundum libros aliquos, Johannis Stratford Cant. Archiep. edite London in concilio provinciali xx° die Octobr. A.D. MCCCXLII.'

Wilkins gives Oct. 10 as the date of these, but makes no note of the variation.

10. 'Celebratum concilium apud Westmon. tempore Ricardi Archiep. Cant. A.D. MLXV.'

Wilkins gives as the date of this council, 1175, and notes the variation from this MS. It is a manifest error on the part of the writer of the MS., as Stigand was Abp. of Canterbury in 1065.

11. 'Constituciones provinciales Sti Edmundi Cant. Archiep.'

12. 'Constituciones provinciales dni Stephani Mepham Archiep. Cant. edite apud Lameth.'

The scribe has committed another palpable error here. Mepham's name was Simon, and he is so called in an earlier part of this MS. Wilkins ascribes none of these Constitutions to Mepham. The first six he attributes to Abp. Raynold, mentioning in a note that Spelman and the Lambeth MS. give them to Mepham; and in reference to this MS. he says, 'Codex Eliensis, n. 235, autem Stephano (Langton) Archiep. Cantuar. attribuit.' Wilkins was evidently led into this mistake by the scribe having written Stephen for Simon, and he has supplied Langton in brackets, as if the Christian name only had been given in the MS., whereas Mepham is plainly written both in the text and in the margin.

13. 'Constituciones Roberti de Wynchelsey, et secundum quosdam, Simonis Yslep, Archiepiscoporum Cant.'

Only one article is given, 'Quid parochiani invenire debeant, et quid rectores.'

14. 'Constituciones dni Simonis Yslep quondam Cant. Archiep.'

15. 'De juramento sacerdotum et obedientia rectoribus et vicariis prestandis, etc., ex constitucione dni Roberti Wynchelsey Cant. Archiep. facta in visitacione, A.D. MCCCV.'

16. 'Constituciones Johannis Stratford Cant. Archiep. edite A.D. MCCCLXXX. die Marc. [Mercurii] proxima post festum Sti Edwardi, in ecclesia Sti Pauli London.'

Wilkins gives 1342 as the date of this council, but makes no note of the variation.

17. 'De collacione officii aquebaculatus' [holy-water beadle].

This is the 29th article of the Synod held at Exeter, April 16, 1287, by Bishop Quivil. See Wilkins, II. 147.

18. 'De decimis lactis solvendis a primo tempore innovacionis, et aliis tam de proventibus boscorum warennorum quam artificiorum.'

This is not in Wilkins. Johnson, following Lyndwood, ascribes it to Abp. Winchelsey, and gives it as the sixth article at Merton, A.D. 1305. Spelman assigns it to Abp. Mepham, A.D. 1332.

19. 'Constitucio dni Roberti Wynchelsey Cant. Archiep. de stipendiariis presbyteris, innovata per dnm Courtenay Cant. Archiep.' Et 'Litera directa ad exequendum dictam constitucionem.'

20. 'Constituciones provinciales per reverendum in Christo patrem dnm Thomam [Arundel] Cant. Archiep. in concilio Oxon edite, A.D. MCCCCVII.'

Wilkins gives 1408 as the date of these Constitutions, and notes the variation.

21. 'Constitucio dni Simonis Islep Cant. Archiep. de stipendiariis presbyterorum perochialium.'

This is the re-enactment of the Constitution at Gloucester by Abp. Sudbury, 16 Nov. 1378.

22. 'Constitucio dni Rogeri Walden Cant. Archiep. super indiccione festorum David, et Cedde, et Wenefede, et commemoracione Sti Pauli.'

23. 'Constitucio dni pape Urbani [VI.] pro festo Ste Anne matris Marie celebrando.'

24. 'Constitucio facta pro festis celebrandis.'

This is dated at Lambeth 13 Dec'. 1362, that is, in the archiepiscopate of Simon Islip, to whom Spelman refers it; but Wilkins ascribes it to Simon Mepham in 1332.

25. 'Constitucio dni Roberti Wynchelsey Cant. Archiep. de abjuracione concubinarum.'

26. 'Constituciones domini Henrici Chichele Cantuar. Archiep. facte in concilio provinciali celebrato London in ecclesia Sti Pauli [1° die] mensis Octobr. A.D. MCCCCXIV.'

Wilkins records this Synod (ex Reg. Chicheley, f. 126), but does not speak of any Constitutions passed in it. Some of these articles he gives as emanating from Chicheley in other years.

II. Extravagantes.

1. 'Extravegans Bonifacii VIII. Quod nullus locus auctoritate ordinaria vel delegata supponatur ecclesiastico interdicto pro debito pecuniario, nisi de Apostolice sedis licencia speciali. Dat. Auvinon die Ascensionis Domini Pont. nostri, anno VIII.'

2. 'Extravegans Urbani IV.' Ad evitandas lites et contenciones inter rectores ecclesiarum super decimis animalium.

3. 'Extravegans Johannis Pape XXII. De secundis nupciis.' 'De numero sacramentorum.'

Upon the back of the f. on which the last named article ends is a list of six cases in which absolution can only be obtained by dispensation from the Apostolic See. Also 'Modus celebrandi Synodus,' in 6 lines.

Upon one side of a fly-leaf which follows is,

'De Absolucione Solemni et ejus forma.'

The last two are in a different handwriting, but of about the same date as the body of the book.

Then follows an Alphabetical Table of the principal matters in the Constitutions, upon 18 leaves, in a different handwriting, and paler ink, at the end of which is written in the same hand and ink, 'Ex' [explicit] in vigil. Ste Anne A° Dni MCCCCXXXII.

G[loria] D[eo] S[oli].'

III. 'Canones Provinciales de Penitentiis et Remissionibus.'

IV. 'Tabula Johannis Aton super Constituciones dominorum Othonis et Ottobonis legatorum dni Pape.'

Aton (de Aton, or de Athon) was a canon of Lincoln about the close of the XIIIth century, and wrote a Gloss upon the Legatine Constitutions (to which this is the Table), which has been often printed.

V. 'Articuli in quibus Archidiaconi habent inquirere in Visitacione sua.'

VI. De Absolucione.

VII. De Abbate, Abathia, et Abatissa.

1591 Gg. VI. 22.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 125, with 28 lines in each page. It had illuminated initials, but they are mostly cut away. Date, the XVth century.

Psalterium cum Canticis, Vigiliæ Mortuorum, &c.

The Psalter begins f. 1 with Ps. i. 2, 'et in lege ejus med[itabitur],' half the leaf being cut away with the initial letter, and ends f. 88; then follow the Canticles and Litany. In f. 102 begin the Vigiliæ Mortuorum, in f. 114 'Commendatio animarum,' and in f. 115 'Incipiunt matutine de sancto spiritu;' after which, f. 123, the MS. ends with a prayer in English in a later hand, 'O the moder of God, the virgyn of virgynse, scheu to me thy moste swettest sone,' &c.

A leaf is lost between ff. 111 and 112.

1592 Gg. vi. 23.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 177, in double columns of 27 lines. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf. Date, the xvth century.

THE EPISTLES, ACTS, CATHOLICK EPISTLES AND APOCALYPSE IN WYCLIFFE'S LATER VERSION, with the usual prologues.

It is defective at the commencement, beginning Rom. viii. 35, 'or perel or swerd as it is writen.' A hand of the xvith century has supplied from 2 Thess. ii. 10 to Acts vii. 17, a considerable portion of which is on paper.

At the end, in a hand of the xviith century, is written: 'Memorandum that I tooke M^r^ Jones vi^s^ in pawne for this book, to be paid agayne when I bring him to his shoppe agayne, & I to pay him j^d^ a daye so long as I have him, the xxi^st^ of June. Richard Jones.'

See Forshall and Madden's edition of Wycliffe's Bible, Oxon. 1850, T. i. p. liv.

1593 Gg. vi. 24.

A small quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 293, in double columns of 30 lines. Date, the xvth century.

'PETRI COMESTORIS HISTORIA SCHOLASTICA.'

Begins (f. 1):

Imperatorie majestatis est in palatio...

Ends (f. 289):

...in loco magis honorabili scilicet in catacumbis.

The remaining four leaves are occupied by an index.

First printed Reutlingæ, 1473. It is in Migne's Patrologia, Par. 1855. A former possessor was William Walker, S.T.B. 1626. See f. 289.

1594 Gg. vi. 25.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 141, with 16 lines in each page. It has a few illuminated initials and borders. Date, about 1400.

HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS.

The Kalendar occupies ff. 3—9, and the Hours begin as usual f. 10, the Penitential Psalms follow f. 62, the 15 Psalms f. 74, Litany f. 78, Vigiliæ Mortuorum f. 88, and the Commendatio animarum f. 104, with which the MS. ends f. 140 a.

In the Kalendar are notices of the marriage of Thomas Derham with Isabell Pagnell, whose father was John Pagnell, Esq. and mother the daughter of Phylyppe Tylney, the births of their children, their deaths and of others of the Pagnell family, in the reigns of Henry VII. and VIII.

On f. 2 is written, 'Est liber iste mei Frederici de Tilney,' and on the fly-leaves at both ends are accounts relating to lands in a hardly legible hand.

1595 Gg. vi. 26.

An octavo, chiefly on paper, though with some parchment leaves, containing ff. 167, with from 27 to 61 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—118 a. Sermones Dominicales.

Begins:

Tria debemus domino deo nostro persolvere...

Ends:

...tenetur sibi restituere pietatem.

This is followed on f. 118 b by a list of the titles of our Lord, and a letter of Alexander VI. 1493. id. April. pontif. anno primo.

In f. 16 is a form of a letter of commendation from one rector to another of a member of his flock, stating that he and his wife had confessed once in Lent, and paid his tithes in full. On f. 22 is an exhortation to confession in a very minute hand in English. On f. 28 b is a testimonial to a pilgrim, with the date 1494 in a later hand; f. 104 gives the 'Wylys of kyng farrowe' in English.

2. ff. 119—153. Gesta Romanorum.

Begins:

Anselmus in civitate romana regnavit...

Ends:

...propter que relinquimus et pervenire ad eternum bravium poterimus ad quod, &c.

This is the 'English' Gesta, which though frequently printed in English, is still unprinted in Latin. See Dunlop's History of Fiction, II. p. 170.

3. ff. 155—166. Another series of 'Gesta Romanorum.'

Begins (after the 'Tabula'):

Damacenus in civitate romana...

Ends (imperfect):

...viderunt et homo imperatori nunciavit...

The last leaf contains a paragraph about 3 masses being celebrated 'in natali domini,' and other scribbling: and on f. 4 is the memorandum of a former possessor of the MS., 'Sciant presentes et futuri quod ego Johannes

Dolmotte de lewes in com. Sussex dedi concessi et hac presenti charta confirmavi Johanni Dayme in donum xx^{ti} lib.'

1596 Gg. vi. 27.

A 12mo, on paper, containing ff. 91 numbered, with 11 lines in a page. Date, the xviith century.

'Curieuses Recherches tres necessaires a ceux qui veulent sçavoir ce qui est remarquable en l'estat de France.'

Begins:

Le Royaume de France autrefoys democratique...

Ends:

...le poitral, le troue de la queue.

An index follows.

This gives short accounts of the government and country of France, apparently written out for a child's instruction.

1597 Gg. vi. 28.

A small quarto, on parchment, 113 leaves, 30 lines in each page, handwriting of the early part of the xvth century, defective both at the beginning and the end, and damaged elsewhere.

1. Fragment of a metrical Romance, in French.

Ends (fol. 8 a):

Priom hore donz Ihū que tote rien poet fere,
Qe il nous doyne sa grace taunt com sumus en terre;
Cele veye a tenir e cele part a trere,
Qe venir pussom an pays ou james ne auera guerre.
Amen.

2. 'Le Ordre de Chiualers.'

Begins (fol. 8 b):

Iadis estoyt en Paynye
Vn roy de mout graunt seygnurye.

On Caxton's translation entitled The Boke of the Ordre of Chyvalry [? 1484], see Dibdin's Typog. Antiq. i. 221 sq.

3. A poem, without title or colophon, in some respects not unlike the Image du Monde, above noticed, Gg. i. 1, § 22.

Begins (fol. 15 b):

Li sage gens iadis esteynt
De grant sauer s'entremeterent,
E mult estreitement enquisterent
Les choses dount il plus escritrent.

4. An Itinerary of Jerusalem: without title, in prose.

Begins (fol. 52 a):

Ki dritement veut aler en Ierusalem primerement deit aler...

5. The Customs of the Saracens, a report furnished by the Latin patriarch of Jerusalem at the request of Pope Innocent [i. e. III.]: in prose.

Begins (fol. 57 a):

Li apostle de Rome Innocent vout sauer les custumes de la tere de Sarazins...

6. Description of Jerusalem: in prose, written during its occupation by the Latins.

Begins (fol 61 b):

La terre de Ierusalem est assise en un liu le mund, ceo est a sauer en un liu la terre ke est habitable...

7. The Legend of the Seven Sages; in French prose, mutilated.

See above, Dd. I. 17, § 21.

1598 Gg. VI. 29.

A quarto, on paper, containing 152 leaves (many of which are blank), numbered irregularly, with about 46 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the beginning of the XVIIth century.

LAW REPORTS FROM 36 TO 40 ELIZABETH.

At the end is a very incomplete index of subjects, according to which they are partly arranged. Most of these cases are printed in Croke and in Moore.

1599—1610 Gg. VI. 30—41.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1611 Gg. VI. 42.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 236, with 26 lines in a page. Date, the XVth century.

1. ff. 1—211. A THEOLOGICAL TREATISE COMPOSED OF EXTRACTS FROM THE VARIOUS WORKS OF ALEXANDER NECHAM, here called 'Abbas Cyrencestrensis,' in three books.

Prefixed is an epistle from one Galfridus, beginning:

Sol meldunensis et cinthia lux monachorum
Suscipiat tua queso novum dignatio carmen
Quod tibi Galfridi devotio simplicis offert.

The treatise begins:

Festiva solempnitas lucis hodierne...

Ends:

...refugium nostrum, adjutor noster, spes nostra, xp̄s īhs, qui &c.

The titles of the works whence the extracts are taken are written in red in the margin throughout. ff. 67—70 contain extracts from Necham's poem 'Laus divine sapientie:' and in f. 71 the second book begins 'in quo agitur de misericordia et de suggillatione quorundam viciorum.'

A leaf is lost between ff. 91 and 92, where probably a third book begins. There are other extracts in verse in the body of the treatise, and at the end are 12 lines beginning:

Hunc pater et domne tu videris hic liber omne...

Ending:

...Et bona cuncta deus det tibi domne meus.

Almost all Necham's works, as given in Bale and Tanner's lists, seem to have been used.

f. 3 contains figures of St Francis and 3 monks, very well executed.

2. ff. 213—221*a*. 'Epistola magistri Galfridi monumutensis directa Alexandro Lincolniensi episcopo' De propheciis Merlini.

Begins:

Coegit me Alexander lincolniensis presul nobilitatis tue dilectio prophecias Merlini de britannico in latinum transferre...

Ends:

...et sonitum intra sidera conficient.

This forms one of the books of the 'Historia Britonum.' See ed. Giles, Lond. 1844, pp. 119—130. It was published separately at Frankfort, 1608.

3. f. 222. 'Versus magistri Petri Blesensis de commendatione vini.'

Begins:

Felix ille locus quem vitis amenat amena...

Ends:

...Quam tibi cum potu de furfure fercula dena.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, coll. 1155, 1156.

4. f. 222. 'Versus Roberti de Bellafago de commendatione cervisie.'

Begins:

Eloquio dulci vernans et voce serena...

Ends:

Donec subveniat morbo frix sive lacena.

These do not appear to have been published. The author was a Canon of Salisbury in 1190. See Bale, c. III. 36.

5. ff. 222 b—223 a. 'Responsio magistri Petri Blesensis.'

Begins:

Scribo set invitus invitat enim grave vitis...

Ends:

Jocunde admittas et sine felle jocum.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, coll. 1157, 1158.

6. ff. 223—231 a. 'Versus magistri Alexandri nequam de vino,' in 3 books.

Begins:

Dum corpus curas studeas subducere curas...

Ends:

Ipse deus perpes gloria vera quies.

Prefixed is an epistle 'Magistri Alexandri domino T. Abbati Claudie,' beginning:

Numus set munusculum tibi mitto thoma...

Ending:

...Recreent ut celicum sentias aroma.

It consists of 20 lines, all with the same rhyme. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 540, who refers to this MS.

7. ff. 231 b—233. Ejusdem 'Novus Anianus.'

Begins:

Vincere quos levis nequit exhortatio vincit...

Ends:

Si conferre potes omnibus ergo tibi.

8. f. 234. A short poem containing anagrams on the name Roma, headed

'Divisio hujus nominis Roma.'

Begins:

In dabit absque mora celsus rome tibi mora...

Ends:

Te facit insignis cultu sapientia dignam.

9. ff. 234—235 a. 'De vase aureo in quo continetur Eucharistia,' followed by anagrams on the words vires, laboravi, &c.

Begins:

Non manus artificis non auri gloria dignum...

Ends:

...Hic hinnulus li. est filius cerve in gallico foim.

10. f. 235 b. A poem in a later hand consisting of prophecies respecting the state of Europe.

Begins:

Cesaris imperium per tempora longa latebit.

11. f. 236. A poem 'De passione Salvatoris.'

Begins:

Splendor patris fons sol ares...

Ends:

...Et cum ipso coronemur.

This is divided into portions varying from 8 to 24 lines, the same rhyme in each being continued throughout the portion.

1612 Gg. vi. 43.

A small quarto, on paper, consisting of 82 leaves, excluding blanks, each page containing about 32 lines, neatly written in a hand of about the end of the xviith century.

'Ἀχιλέως (sic) Ἀλεξανδρέως Τατίου τῶν ἐπὶ Λευκίππην καὶ Κλειτοφῶντα.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Σιδὼν ἐπὶ θαλάττῃ πόλις...

Ends (fol. 81):

...ἐπανελθεῖν εἰς τὸ Βυζάντιον. Τέλος τῶν περὶ Λευκίππην καὶ Κλειτοφῶντα ἐρωτικῶν πλασμάτων.

The handwriting very much resembles that of H. Wanley. See Dd. v. 29.

1613 Gg. vi. 44.

A small square book, on parchment, containing 169 leaves, with about 24 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the xvth century. The initial letters and the heads of the chapters are rubricated.

1. A Book of Tenures.

This was printed in London in 1532, by Rob. Redman, with the title of 'The old Tenures,' and is like that in Gg. vi. 7.

2. A short French Accidence and Vocabulary.

3. 'Curia Baronis, et eciam Regalis.'

The former contains some account of the proceedings in Courts Baron; the latter contains instructions for pleadings in the superior courts.

4. 'Brevia originalia et officialia Judicialia, per Johannem Stafford de Tolston in comitatu Ebor.'

This title is supplied from the Colophon. The Tract was several times printed anonymously by the early printers under the title of 'Natura Brevium.' See Gg. vi. 7, where it occurs also anonymously.

1614 Gg. vi. 45.

A 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 538, in double columns, with 52 lines in each column. There are a few illuminated initials. Date, the xivth century.

Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi.

After 4 blank leaves and the usual prologues, Genesis begins f. 8, the initial I representing the creation in 7 miniature compartments. St Matthew begins f. 391, and the books occur in the usual order except that the Acts comes after the Epistle to the Hebrews. The Revelation ends f. 490 b, and is followed by the explanatory index of Hebrew names. The leaves are numbered throughout, and a list of the books with reference to these numbers is inserted at the end of the MS.

1615 Hh. i. 1.

An octavo, on parchment, with a few leaves on paper, containing ff. 77, with 25 lines in each page. It has red and blue initial letters, and musical notes. Date, the xivth century.

A mutilated missale, formerly belonging to the church of Rykel.

The original MS. begins, f. 9, in the middle of the Canon:

Quam oblationem tu olens in omnibus...

a later hand having inserted on paper, ff. 5—8, the earlier portion of the Canon. In f. 21 the same hand begins on paper the 'Officium pro defunctis in præsentia funeris,' the parchment MS. beginning again f. 29. The rest of the MS. is occupied by the offices for various saints' days and other feasts, the last being 'in die omnium sanctorum,' which ends f. 68.

On the fly-leaves, at the beginning and end, are various documents respecting the church of Rykel, the 'Condicio fratrum presbiterorum,' 'Registrum benefactorum,' a list of the persons belonging to the guild (bruderscap) of St Anne, mostly in Dutch of the xvith century.

At the foot of f. 74 it is stated, that on Feb. 18, 1521, while the exequies of Henry Stultetus were being celebrated, a loud voice was heard crying 'ad modum morbi sancti Egidii,' though no one could be seen in or out of the church.

1616 Hh. i. 2.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 80, with 16 lines in each page. Date, the xiith century.

Daniel Propheta Vulgatæ editionis cum glossa interlineari et marginali.

Begins (f. 1 a):

Danielem prophetam juxta lxx interpretes domini salvatoris ecclesie non legunt...

Ends (f. 80 a):

...Explicit Daniel propheta.

The text of Daniel is for the most part written in large hand down the middle of the page, with the interlinear gloss between the lines, and the marginal gloss on either side. The gloss is the 'glossa Ordinaria.'

On f. 1 is the name Sampson Rennard, and on f. 49, Edward Johnson.

1617 Hh. i. 3.

A quarto, on parchment, containing 367 leaves, in double columns, with 52 lines in each column. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. Date, the xivth century.

1. Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi.

On three fly-leaves, at the commencement, are written part of a sermon on Christian duties in English, of the xivth century, and on the same page reversed a mention of an edict of Gregory X. 'in the þride 3er of his popehed, at þe conceyl of Lugdune,' 1272, respecting tithes: various extracts from the works of St Augustine, the Creed with each sentence assigned to one of the Apostles, and the corresponding prophetical allusion, a note 'de ymaginibus ecclesie,' and the 'venalitas in quibusdam ecclesiis.'

The Bible begins, f. 4, in the middle of the prologue:

...hoc legem deputant [sic]: nec scire dignantur quid prophete...

Genesis begins f. 6; and the books occur in the usual order of the Vulgate. Maccabees ends f. 268 b, and the whole of St Matthew and St Mark as far as c. ix. 22, 'possibilia sunt credenti,' is torn out; there is also a gap from 1 Cor. x. 14, 'Propter quod karissimi mihi.. ,' to 1 Tim. iv. 1, ['dæmo]niorum in ypocrisi loquentium mendacium.' The Acts occurs after the Epistle to the Hebrews; the Revelation ends f. 316 b. The index of Hebrew names occupies ff. 319—336. There are many scholia in a minute hand, and in the Psalms, many of the ecclesiastical hymns are written in the margin with the dates prefixed when they are to be used.

2. Missale.

The canon Missæ is inserted immediately after the Revelation, the 'Te igitur...' being preceded by the Invocations to be used on particular days, beginning with that in Nativitate domini, and ending with the prefatio de Trinitate. The directions in the canon are very full, and differ from all given by Maskell. The offices begin as usual with Advent Sunday, 'Ad te levavi...,' f. 336 a; they are written in 3 columns, after which each page contains 2 columns only.

The Kalendar occurs, ff. 350, 351, occupying 3 pages after the offices for the Sundays after Trinity; that for the vigil of St Andrew begins the Sanctorale, f. 352, which ends with St Katharine, f. 360, when the Commune Sanctorum follows, ending, f. 367 b, with the 'Officium de beata virgine maria in tempore paschali.'

In f. 350 a is written in English a recipe to make 'god ynke.'

1618 Hh. i. 4.

An octavo, on paper, containing ff. 98, with 35 lines in each page. Date, the xivth century.

1. ff. 1—15 a. 'Passionarium.'

Begins:

Inspice et fac secundum exemplar quod tibi in monte monstratum est...

Ends:

...et devocio sanctarum Theoriarum ministrabit. Explicit passionarium.

This is 'The History of our Saviour's Passion, divided into 65 parts or sections, with a short prayer between each, referring to and grounded upon the various details.'

See Maskell's Monumenta Ritual. Eccl. Angl. i. p. ciii.

2. ff. 51 b—58. 'Omelie beati Eusebii [Gallicani] de Paschate.'

Begins (f. 51 b):

Exulta celum et letare terra...

Ends (f. 58 b):

...domine nos gratie semper commendemus.

See Magn. Bibl. Vet. Pat. Col. 1618, T. v. Pars i. pp. 556 sqq. The MS. does not, however, give all the homilies in the printed collection, and also contains some that are not there.

3. ff. 59—62. 'S. Augustinus de Tribus Habitaculis.'

Begins:

Tria sunt sub omnipotentis dei manu habitacula...

Ends:

...Deum omnipotentem benignum misericordem cujus est honor etc.

S. August. Opp. Par. 1837, Vol. vi. App. coll. 1443—1450.

See Ee. v. 32, § 5; Dd. xi. 83, § 3.

ff. 63 and 64 are blank.

4. ff. 65, 66. 'Sermo Bernardi de sponso et sponsa.'

Begins:

Ibo ad montem mure et ad colles libani...

Ends:

...quanto magis mundum fugiendo deo appropinquare incipimus tanto magis in unum congregamur.

This sermon, here ascribed to St Bernard, was written by Hugo of St Victor. It will be found in Vol. ii. of Migne's edition of his works, Paris, 1854, coll. 987—994.

5. ff. 66 b—86 a. 'Liber Soliloquiorum beati Isidori.'

Begins:

Venit nuper ad manus meas quedam cedula...

Ends:

...tu mihi supra vitam meam places in secula seculorum. Amen.

S. Isidori Hispalensis Opp. ed. Areval. Rom. 1802, T. vi. pp. 472—523.

6. ff. 86 b—89 a. 'Sermo Augustini de beato latrone.'

Begins:

Deus erat in Christo mundum reconsilians sibi...

Ends:

....memento mei domine cum veneris in regnum tuum.

7. ff. 89 b—97 b. 'Monita sancti Basilii Capadocie episcopi.'

Begins:

Audi fili admoniciones patris tui...

Ends:

...nec in cor hominis ascendit que preparavit deus diligentibus se.

Opp. S. Basil. ed. Paris. 1618, Appendix, pp. 208—216, where it is called 'Admonitio ad spiritualem filium.'

8. ff. 97 b—98. 'Sermo beati Augustini de imagine.'

Begins:

Quanta dignitas humane condicionis...

Ends:

...qui mirabiliter ad similitudinem suam in primo adam condidit mirabilius in seculo reformavit. Amen.

This will be found in S. Ambrosii Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1845, T. I. P. 2, col. 1015.

1619 Hh. I. 5.

A moderate sized octavo, partly on vellum, partly on paper, consisting of 192 leaves, mostly in double columns (except from fol. 149—156, which seem to be written by another hand), each column containing between 40 and 50 lines neatly written in a hand of the XIVth century, which however is often difficult to decypher from the great number of contractions. The capitals are rubricated, and occasionally ornamented, but in a bad style of art. Various marginal notes occur up and down the MS., which is on the whole in good condition. The first three leaves are reversed, and contain scraps about the alphabet, &c., and also a précis (in a contemporary hand) of the contents of the volume. The titles of the works are mostly taken from their colophons, and from the précis.

1. 'Memoriale Juniorum, auctore Thoma de Hanneya.' (See colophon and précis.)—fol. 4.

Prefixed is a table of contents occupying five leaves of three columns each: at the end of which occurs the following note, 'Expliciunt intitulaciones hujus tractatus, quem de quatuor partibus grammatice compilavit Thomas de Hanneya. Inchoavit autem illum apud Tholosam, duodecimo Kal. Mayi anno gratie 1313, et consummavit eundem apud Lewes ad instanciam Magistri Johannis de Chelesya rectoris scolarium loci illius, quarto Kal. Decembris eodem anno, favente Domino, cui est honor et gloria in secula seculorum. Amen.'

Begins:

In qualibet arte diffusio fastidium procreat...

This work is mentioned by Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Inf. Lat. s. v. Thomas de Hanneia.

2. 'De cognitione generum nominis secundum [Johannem] L[eylond].'—fol. 95.

Begins:

Omnia nomina terminata (?) in a in nominativo....

The title is so given in the précis. The colophon calls it Tractatus generum. The name of Johannes Leylond occurs in some verses after the colophon: and in a foot note. This work is mentioned by Pits. de ill. Angl. Scr. p. 612. For a notice of this once famous grammarian (who died 1428) see Fabr. Bibl. Med. et Inf. Lat. s. v. None of his works seem to have been printed.

3. 'Pratum florum.'—fol. 98.

Begins:

Grammatice flores presens liber insinuabit.

This work, the body of which is in prose, is divided into five parts: and a table of contents is added. At the foot of fol. 129 b is a note almost obliterated: 'Johannes Huls(?) Canonicus(?) de Wyrkesopp assidue...(?)' The title occurs several times, but the author's name is not added.

4. 'De nominibus Etheroclitis (Heteroclitis) secundum Leylond.' (Précis.)—fol. 130.

Begins:

Quot modis fit etheroglisis (sic)....

The colophon has merely, 'Expliciunt etheroclita.'

5. 'De regimine casuum secundum Leylond.' (Précis and colophon.)—fol. 131.

Begins:

Secundum Catholicon in quinta parte....

6. 'Libellus parvulorum.' (Précis and colophon.)—fol. 137 b.

Begins:

Ut artis metrice cognitio iuuenibus elucescat....

After it follows a postscript, or appendix, beginning, 'Ad habendam rithmicam scientiam, fol. 148, having its own colophon, 'Explicit.'

7. 'De declinationibus nominum secundum L, (i. e. Leylond,).' (Précis.)—fol. 149.

Begins:

De declinationibus....

The colophon runs thus:

Cy finyst les declenysons solonc lusage doxenford.

8. 'De preteritis et supinis verborum secundum L[eylond].' (Précis.)—fol. 157.

Begins:

Prima coniugatio....

9. 'De difficultatibus questiones auctore Ricardo Henbury.' (See 'Tabula,' fol. 171)—fol. 160 b.

Begins:

Ego Ricardus Henbury, deo dante, difficultates...

The colophon (fol. 171) runs thus: 'Explicit tabula libelli vocati Hembyry tradita per Willelmum F[orster.]' Possibly this is the same author as the 'Hentisberius' of Bale (Cent. IV. fol. 171), who wrote Sophismata Subtilissima.

10. 'Boetii de disciplina scolarium, liber qui à commentariis speculum scolarium nuncupatur.' (Colophon.)—fol. 171 b.

Begins:

Vestra novit intentio...

Very copious notes and interlineations accompany this treatise. The true author is Thomas Brabantinus. See Smith's Dict. Gr. and Rom. Biog. s. v. Boethius, Fabr. Bibl. Lat. Suppl. ad Ed. IV. p. 649. It was printed in 1492 by Jacobus de Breda.

11. 'De concordantiis grammatice secundum magistrum Joh. Leylond.'—fol. 186 b.

Begins:

Quot sunt concordancie in grammatica....

12. 'De impersonalibus auctore Ricardo Henbury.' (Title and colophon.)—fol. 187.

Begins:

Fortis ad bella....

Apparently only a fragment.

13. 'De comparatione.'—fol. 188.

Begins:

Quid sit comparatio....

On the comparison of irregular adjectives: a table is given at the end.

14. 'Libellus de dubio accentu editus ab Ugucone,'—fol. 190.

Begins:

Sapientis est desidie non succumbere...

Unless this be a portion of his Dictionary, the present work of Uguccione is unnoticed by Tiraboschi (Storia d. Lett. Ital. Lib. III. c. 14).

15. 'De pronominibus sibbilicatis auctore W. Forster.' (See title and foot-note.)—fol. 191 b.

Consists of a series of declensions of pronouns, beginning with egomet.

The following note occurs at fol. 3 b.

Orate deuote pro anima Wilh. Forster in grammatica magistri, quondam recepti in canonicum et confratrem monasterii prioratus de Wyrkesopp Ebor. dioc., qui paulisper scolatizans Oxonii mortalitate preventus habitum regularem se non induit, qui legavit istum librum canonicis dicti prioratus Deo servientibus. Anno Domini MCCCCI^mo^.

1620 Hh. I. 6.

A small quarto, partly on paper, partly on vellum, consisting of 157 leaves, each page containing about 25 lines, written in a hand of the XVth century.

'LIBER ETHICORUM ARISTOTELIS SECUNDUM NOVAM TRANSLACIONEM EX CL. PYKARD.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Cum omnis ars omnisque doctrina...

Ends (fol. ult.):

...legibus et moribus. Amen.

The colophon supplies the title.

An ample commentary written in a very small character accompanies the first 36 leaves. Nasmyth ascribes it to Thomas Aquinas, but the edition of Remigius (Venet. 1563) has a very different text.

1621 Hh. I. 7.

A small quarto, on paper, containing 227 leaves (a few of which are blank), the number of lines in a page varying from 14 to 45, written in Latin, in various hands of the latter part of the XVth century, some of them bad and hardly legible. Two leaves at the beginning and end are partly destroyed, and the tops of the leaves throughout are discoloured by damp. The capital letters are slightly rubricated. At the beginning is a table of contents, from which some of the titles in the following description have been taken. In the margin of the first page of the first Tract is a shield bearing these Italian arms, Party per pale, az. and ar., a pile reversed counterchanged.

A Collection of Tracts, chiefly historical.

1. 'Johannis de Castalino, Episcopi Papiensis et comitis, summi pontificis ad Imperatorem in Dieta Nove civitatis legati, exhortacio in turckos, die xxii Marcii, Anno 1422.'

Begins:

'Supervacuum puto sive Imperator...'

Ends:

...'benedictus in secula seculorum, Amen.'

2. 'Oracio in facto thurcorum.'

Begins:

'Si michi, Reverendissimi patres, nobiles ac magnifici proceres...'

Ends:

...'desperanda victoria satis fuerit esse locutum, Amen.'

8. 'Oracio Nicolai Petrotti in Adventum Federici Augusti Invictissimi Imperatoris Bononeam, vii Kal. Februarii MCCCCLII.'

Begins:

'Si qua fides veri perferri, maxime Cesar...'

Ends:

...'Dii michi dent, et tu quod volo, si mereor.—Dixi Bononie.'

9. 'Versus Nicolai Petrotti extempore recitati cum post habitam oracionem Imperator eum laurea coronasset.'

Begins:

'Cinxisti viridi, Cesar, mea tempora lauro,
Ecce meas ornat sacra corona comas...'

Ends:

...'Ast ego quo tanto tibi sim pro munere gratus,
Cantabo laudes dum michi vita tuas.'

10. 'Exemplum literarum Reverendissimi in Christo patris et domini domini Cardinalis Ruteni, de expugnacione Constantinopolitane urbis.'

Begins:

'Isidorus, miseracione divina, sacrosancte Romane Ecclesie Episcopus...'

Ends:

...'magnam hanc coronam a Deo dignemini suscipere.—Dat. Crete, 8 Julii, MCCCCLIII.'

11. 'Pogii oracio ad Romanos in ludis publicis.'

Begins:
'Si vellem, Quirites, recensere principia ludorum...'
Ends:
...'quem et vos altissimus conservet.'

12. Epistola Poggii 'de eleccione virtutum et aspernandis voluptatibus.'
Begins:
'Poggius plurimam salutem dicit Cosmo de Medicis...'
Ends:
...'juxta veteres sentencias qui in paucioribus deliquerunt. Vale.'

13. Epistola Poggii 'de detraccione animi erga studia, et exhortacio ad ea.'
Begins:
'Poggius plurimam salutem D. Francisco de Padua...'
Ends:
...'omnibus imperiis anteferendam judicabis. Vale, et me ut soles ama.'

14. 'Epistola Francisci patricii Senensis de animi natura.'
Begins:
'Franciscus patricius Senensis Achilli Petrucio s. p. d...'
Ends:
...'Vale. Ex Corphinio idibus Februariis, iterum vale.'

15. 'P[oggius] P[etro] de Monte de disputacione rei uxorie.'
Begins:
'Recepi una cum muneribus tuis literas quoque jocundiores...'
Ends:
...'aliquod dignum conjugio moliemur. Tu vale et mei memor.'

16. 'P[oggius] plurimam salutem dicit Leonardo extensi virtutis cultori epistolam de studio humanitatis.'
Begins:
'Nonnullis factum est occupacionibus meis ut tardius...'
Ends:
...'et tu de tua industria comparasti. Vale et me ama.'

17. 'P[oggius] plurimam salutem dicit Leonardo Aretino.'
Begins:
'Liberarius meus jam dudum vacat a scribendo...'
Ends:
...'diligencius cum se offert facultas. Vale, manu veloci.'

18. 'P[oggii] Guarino Veronensi [epistola] incitatoria ad nova opuscula conficienda.'

Begins:

'Philippus tuus Archipresbyter Veronensis reddidit michi abs te literas...'

Ends:

...'Alexandrum ita bonum appello, ut nullum malum facinus nullum, etc.'

This is printed in the edition of Poggio, Basil, 1538, page 308, where the '&c.' of this MS. is expanded into 6 lines.

19. Epistola Poggii 'excusatoria ab officio scribendi.'

Begins:

'Poggius plurimam salutem optimo Candido suo cum ex Ferraria...'

Ends:

...'scripsit enim que sue dignitati et communi utilitati apta videbantur.'

20. 'Epistola Poggii Francisco de Padua, pontificis cubiculario, retractoria a curia pontificis.'

Begins:

'Scripsissem ad te antea ex nostra amicicia, mi Francisce...'

Ends:

...'tu cura ut continuo valeas. Aluero insuper vestram mecum memoriam.'

21. 'Congratulacio super nato Poggii.'

Begins:

'Cincicius [? Cincius] Poggio S. D. N. pape Secretario Salutem plurimam...'

Ends:

...'exterminandum esse censui, fortasse eandem in graciam profitebor.'

22. 'Poggius Francisco Barbero s. p. d. de bono pacis per eum facte.'

Begins:

'Postea quam a nobis recessisti nichil de te intellexi...'

Ends:

...'non ut eloquenter sed ut amice videat scripsisse. Vale.'

23. 'Poggius Francisco Barbero s. p. d. de nomine Jesu.'

Begins:

'Jam tandem gaudeo te factum esse Christianum...'

Ends:

...'vale, mi Francisce, me ama. Rome, die xviii Decembris.'

24. 'Poggius Leonardo Aretino s. p. d. Detestacio discordie Nicolai.'

Begins:

'Reddidit michi Cosmus noster literas tuas quas legi...'

Ends:

...'nichil michi jocundius esse poterit tuis literis. Rome, xvii° kal. Aprilis.'

25. 'Poggius Leonardo Aretino, viro clarissimo, s. p. d. contra epistolam detractoriam.'

Begins:

'Oblata est michi nuper, mi Leonarde, insulsi ac ridiculi...'

Ends:

...'cepit ad te destinaverit. Vale. Ferrarie, pridie Kal. Aprilis.'

This, with some verbal variations, is in Poggio's printed Works, p. 330.

26. A fresh handwriting.

'Poggius Johanni Splembergen,—epistola brevis brevitatem excusans.'

Begins:

'Confisus dudum non eloquencia, que nulla in me est...'

Ends:

...'parabo interim aliqua que ad te deferantur. Vale.'

In Poggio's printed Works, p. 332, where the letter is addressed to Spelmibergen.

27. 'Poggius plurimam salutem dicit Guarino suo. De eodem.'

Begins:

'Hodie accepi a te litteras, et simul a doctissimo viro Jo. Spelembergen...'

Ends:

...'pocius pauca scriberem quam nichil. Vale, mi suavissime.'

Printed Works, p. 332.

28. 'Poggius plurimam salutem dicit Cincio Romano, asecretis Pontificis, viro clarissimo. De educandis filiis.'

Begins:

'Cum essem nuper ruri apud patrios lares reddita est michi epistola...'

Ends:

...'quicquid sors tulerit equo animo feremus. Vale.'

29. 'Epistola [? Poggii] pro Johanne Decrivellis.'

Begins:

'Memini me recommendasse tibi dum hic eras...'

Ends:

...'vale, et me ama. Rome, die vii° Marcii, LV.'

30. In the same handwriting as the greater part of Poggio's Letters.

'Oracio coram domino Calisto facta per dominum Eneam [Sylvium—Pius II.] in obediencia, nomine Cesaris.'

Begins:

'Solent plerique omnes, beatissime maxime pontifex...'

Ends:

...'cum tue pietati videbitur lacius exponemus.'

This Oration, delivered in 1455, was printed by Planck before the end of the xvth century. See Dibdin's Biblioth. Spencer. It is also to be found in Reusner, Vol. II. p. 9, printed at Leipsig in 1596.

31. A fresh handwriting, and very illegible.

'Copia litere diffidacionis regis Aragonie contra Florentinos.'

Begins:

'Rex Aragonie utriusque Sicilie...'

Ends:

...'die ii mensis Junii anno a Nativitate Domini MCCCCLII.'

32. 'Oracio cujusdam militis Senensis ad Fredericum Romanorum Imperatorem in introitu ejusdem civitatis Senarum.'

Begins:

'Jam ad tumulum summi gaudii...'

Ends:

...'et vestre serenissime majestatis gloriam.'

33. 'Pogius in laudem legum.'

Begins:

'Si quis ea esset facultate doctissimi...'

Ends:

...'manu ac pedibus sive jure ac legibus decertabit.—Rome, xxvi. Augusti, 1422.'

34. In a better handwriting.

'Poggius in laudem medicine.'

Begins:

'Vellem, patres prestantissimi, tantam esse in me dicendi copiam...'

Ends:

...'assumptus in cetum vestrum quibus me humiliter recommendo.'

But few of the writings of Poggio Bracciolini contained in this volume are to be found in his printed works, the most complete edition of which is that of Basle, 1538. Many of his unpublished letters are said to exist in the Ricardi Library at Florence, and in other Continental collections. See Tonelli's translation of Shepherd's Life of Poggio.

35. 'Oracio pro laudibus nupciarum Imperatoris et uxoris.'

Begins:

'Optarem impresenciarum, invictissime Cæsar...'

Ends:

...'queque in posterum accidunt sub stellato solio gubernantur.'

36. Badly written, but some portions are in a better hand. 'Fabula de Tancredo principe et ejus filia, in Latinum ex Bochacio per Leonardum Aretinum conversa.'

Begins:

'Tancredus fuit princeps Salarnitanus...'

Ends:

...'in eodem sepulcro sepelire ambo fecit. Finis.'

This is a translation of the first novelle of the fourth day in Boccaccio's Decameron, and was repeatedly printed towards the close of the xvith century.

It is preceded by an 'exordium' by Leonardus, in the form of a letter addressed to Bindasius Ricasolanus (whose name is variously spelt in the printed copies,) dated xv Jan. 1436.

37. 'Ieronimus de honorandis parentibus.'

Begins:

'Parentum meritis subjugans filios omnipotens Deus...'

Ends:

...'cum patribus a domino coram angelis coronari. Finis. Deo laus. —Rome, secunda Septembris, A° LV.'

This is followed by five short extracts from Ieronimus, the first of which is: 'Sapiencia hujus mundi est cor machinacionibus tegere, sensum verbis velare, falsum verum ostendere, et verum falsum demonstrare.'

38. 'Oraciuncula ad principem pro commendacione perorantis.'

Begins:

'Mirari poteris fortasse, dux inclite, justissime princeps...'

Ends:

...'et genitorem meum commendatum facio. Deo laus.'

39. 'Ephitavium Alde virginis.'

Begins:

'Hic quacunque via tendis, studiose viator,
Disce graves casus [et] miserare meos...'

Ends:

...'Sic meus in tenues evasit spiritus auras,
Ossa remanserunt nostra inhumata feris.
D[eo] l[aus]. Rome.'

This is followed by Virgil's

'Nocte pluit tota, redeunt spectacula mane,' etc.

40. A fresh handwriting.

'Quinque historie Rome in capella domini Nicolai pape quinti, in capella ejusdem in dorsali quodam sacri textus.'

The first begins:

'Octavianus, Romanorum Imperator, rexit imperium cum Anthonio...'

Ends:

...'veneno mortua est, anno vite Augusti xxxiii, Imperature xii, Monarchie anno primo.'

The second begins:

'Octavianus, Imperator Romanorum, cum esset tante pulchritudinis...'

Ends:

...'in capitolio anno vite sue lxiii, Imperature xlii, Monarchie anno xxxiii.'

The third begins:

'Octavianus Augustus Imperator fuit forma corporis eximius...'

Ends:

...'qui obiit anno vite sue lxxvii, Imperature lvi, Monarchie xliiii.'

The fourth begins:

'Quodam tempore Trajanus, Romanorum Imperator, ritu paganus sed autem justicie cultor...'

Ends:

...'in lignea sua percoluit, pie creditur contigisse.'

The second part of this history is placed before the first, as is explained in a note.

The fifth begins:

'Hertrinbaldus, vir magnificus prepotens et illustris...'

Ends:

...'ad aures Christo fidelium pro vigilia mea deduxit.
Rome, xi Septembris, LIII. M. Ramung. D[eo] L[aus].'

41. A fresh handwriting.

'Oracio Jordani Ursini habita pro universitate Juristarum Padue ad Fredericum III. Romanum Imperatorem.'

Begins:

'Si quos decet, invictissime Cesar, colere sanctissimum numen...'

Ends:

...'orbe pacato ferrea belligeri claudentur limina.'

This is followed by four unconnected Latin verses.

42. 'Oracio Jordani Ursini ad S. D. N. [Nicolaum] papam V^{tum}.'

Begins:

'Quum animadverto, beatissime pater, apud inclitos...'

Ends:

...'nullum laboris aut difficultatis genus recusabo.—Acta Rome, MCCCCLI.'

43. A fresh handwriting.

'Panormita ad Lamolum.'

Begins:

'Desine me placida verbis abducere terra,
Desine me domina dissociare mea...'

Ends:

...'Ergo vale, et nostro si scribis quodque Gwarino,
Quum salvum nostro nomine redde meum.
Rome. Finis. D[eo] L[aus].'

44. A fresh handwriting.

'Epistola Enee Silvii de miseria vite curialis.'

Begins:

'Eneas Silveus salutem plurimam dicit domino Johanni de Aich...'

Some leaves, which contained the latter part of this and the beginning of the next Tract, having been cut from the book, the MS. abruptly ends:

...'Nunc vitandos lapides nunc sagittas timendas.'

45. The former part of this Tract is wanting, for the reason just assigned. The title here given is taken from the table of contents.

'Epistola Invectiva contra Stephanum, in peccantiis sacrilegii.'

Begins abruptly:

'maximi Jacobo maximi cognatus Nicolao de galis...'

Ends:

...'tu ipse me ex corde commenda. Vale iterum, ut me soles ama.—Ex urbe, Yd. Januarii, MCCCCLIII.'

This was repeatedly printed by the early printers.

46. 'Ad Sigismundum Cesarem Augustum Oracio Leonelli Estensis, iiii ydus Septembris, in fontis porticu, dum Ferrariam e Roma divertisset.'

Begins:

'Cum tui celeberrimi nominis splendor atque gloria, serenissime Cesar...'

Ends:

...'claves suppliciter offert et in manibus collocat tuis.'

47. 'Ejusdem oracio ad pulcherrima habita in protestacione sibi facta a M. D. dum esset capitanius Florencie.'

Begins:

'Cum hoc temporis quo mihi a nobis hic honoratissimus locus...'

Ends:

...'hunc mihi diem faustum et felicem.'

48. 'Epistola ducis Venatorum [Venetiarum in the table of contents] Summo pontifici domino Nicolao V. destinata,' in destructione Constantinopolis.

Begins:

'Quamque existimemus, beatissime pater, jam literis Reverendi patris domini Archiep. Saragosiensis...'

Ends:

...'opem feramus, ac votis omnibus vestris brevissime morem geramus. Ultima Junii, anno LIII°.—Scriptum Rome prima Augusti, anno 1453, per me Mathiam Ramung.'

49. 'Carmen Cesaris Augusti per quod rumpitur testamentum Virgilii, in quo mandabat ipse Virgilius sua opera igne destrui, cum nondum forent per ipsum correcta Rome.'

Begins:

'Ergo ne supremis potuit vox improba verbis...'

Ends:

...'Laudetur vigeat placeat relegatur ametur.'

50. 'Carmen Moreti Virgilii.'

Begins:

'Jam nox hibernas bis quinque peregerat horas...'

Ends:

...'Atque agit in segetes et terre condit aratrum.'

51. 'Virgilii Maronis Publii, poete clarissimi, de viro bono et prudenti.'

Begins:

'Vir bonus et prudens qualem vix repperit ullum...'

Ends:

...'Offensus pravus dat palmam et premia rectis.

Finis. D[eo] L[aus]. Rome.'

This, and the other poetry in this volume, is occasionally interlined with various readings and verbal explanations.

52. 'Oracio domini Leonardi habita coram Rege per dominum Julianum de antefatis.'

Begins:

'Si ad alium principem veneremus, gloriosissime rex...'

Ends:

...'que alias cum locus tempusque dabitur referemus. Finis.'

53. 'Oracio Petri de Monte Veniti pro sapientissimo viro Johanne, et funebris.'

Begins:

'Luctuosam accerbamque provinciam clarissimi Patris ad me...'

Ends:

...'si posteriorum etati clara et insignis perpetua futura est.'

54. 'Oracio facta in presentacione ad examen.'

Begins:

'Insigne ac amplissimum dierum mortalium...'

Ends:

...'dignissimo rectori et vobis domino preposito famose urbi doctores tales et talis et ego pariter presentamus.'

55. Oratio.

Begins:

'Si quis fructus est, patres amplissimi, quem ego judicem...'

Ends:

...'consecutus sum, non premium mihi fuisse virtutis, at studii documentum, etc.'

56. Epistola.

Begins:

'Scis enim quantus angor in componendis versibus meis...'

Ends:

...'ut uno die multorum dierum leticiam acceperim, etc.'

57. 'Oracio facta principi ob venacionis commodum destinatum.'

Begins:

'Nulla fere dies illucescit qua non aliquid novum virtutis periculum...'

Ends:

...'id est virtute precellentibus bene mereri. Feliciter vale, etc.'

58. 'Relacio graciarum pro nato filio facta altissimo.'

Begins:

'Desiderio magno desideravi, vir inclite et generose Marchio...'

Ends:

...'Deo gracias age, qui tecum graciam suam sic partire dignatus est.'

59. 'Oracio Thobie de matrimoniali contractu.'

Begins:

'Non eram nescius, viri magnifici ac cives ornatissimi...'

Ends:

...'ambo pares, ambos ergo Deus longevos servet in annos,' etc.

60. 'Oracio domini Petri, legum doctoris, Padue exposita coram serenissimo domino Ruperto de Bavaria, Romanorum rege semper Augusto, anno Domini MCCCC°., die dominica, xx^ma^ mensis Novembris.'

Begins:

'Clari tui nominis, principum serenissime, sola fama...'

Ends:

...'ad laudem individue trinitatis tueque majestatis. Amen.'

61. 'Oracio nupcialis.'

Begins:

'Magnum et singulare munus hodierno die suscepisse me...'

Ends:

...'hunc diem carminibus, ludis, ac coreis concelebranto, etc. etc. etc.'

62. 'Doctrina ut auditores nobis assenciant:'—præcepta rhetorica.

Begins:

'Si quid rhetorice dicere volumus, atque auditoribus ita suadere ut nobis assentiant...'

Ends:

...'periculosissimo bello nemini vestrum jam dubium esse arbitror.'

At the upper corner of the first page is written, in a hand somewhat later than that of the tract itself, 'Manu Petri Luder.'

63. 'Epistola Petri Blesensis [Archidiaconi Bathoniensis] de miseria vite Curialis.'

Begins:

'Dilectis dominis et amicis Clericis de Capella domini Regis...'

Ends:

...'quorum non erit intermissio neque finis.'

In the margin of the first page is written, in a later hand, 'Epistola sequens scripta est manu domini Mathie Ramung, Episcopi Spirensis.'

64. 'Epistola Petri Blesensis in laude vite Curialis: Responsio cuidam qui vitam Curialem dampnabat.'

Begins:

'Magistro Radulpho Belnarensi Petrus Blesensis salutem...'

Ends:

...'et adolescentie vestre florem in rebus nugatoriis expendistis.'

This is followed by a recipe 'Contra Raucedinem,' of the efficacy of which the writer seems not to have been satisfied. It begins:

'Jejuna, vigila, parce bibe, sepe labora,
Calidum te serva, si vis vitare Reümo.' } Dubium.'

Upon the last leaf are written some remarks upon the education of youth, in which Peter Luder is quoted as an authority, which begin:

'S. P. Q. R. adulescentes, vicio juventutis flagrantes, cum a studio literarum optimis quoque moribus aversos conspexisset....'

End:

'...verbis Esopi respondeatis, dicentes, Stolido nil sapit ista seges.'

1622 Hh. 1. 8.

A quarto, on paper, containing ff. 328, with 17 lines in a page. Date, the end of the xvth century.

1. 1—3*a*. 'Baptiste Mantuani ad Divam Virginem votum.'

Begins:

...ut corruptus homo penitus et ignorans.

A treatise in defence of Christianity.

At the end is this note:

Nota quod iste libellus videtur fuisse occultatus per Judæos ultra ducentos annos et triginta: quod conjicitur ex hoc: quia, cum iste doctor Samuel scriberet Rabbi Isaac solum dixit fluxisse mille annos à tempore quo per Titum expugnantem sanctam civitatem Judæi sunt dispersi: et ideo videtur, quod statim post illos mille annos captivitatis et dispersionis Judæorum iste liber fuerit conscriptus...qui translatus est sub annis Domini 1239. [1339.]

See Steinschneider, Jewish Lit. p. 127, Engl. Transl. 1857; and Anton. Bibl. Hisp. Vet. T. II. p. 3. The book has been printed several times. Translated about 1338 by Alphonso Buen-hombre, a Spanish Dominican, according to Antonio, p. 157, who assigns the conversion of Samuel to the year 1187.

At the end is the date of the MS. 'Anno 1523 sexto Kalendas Octobris.'

See Gg. I. 23.

1629 Hh. II. 1.

A folio, on paper, containing 241 leaves, numbered as 256 (the leaf after f. 102 being without a number, and 15 leaves having been cut out between ff. 165 and 181), the lines in a page varying from about 35 to 50, written in Law-French, in hands of the latter part of the xvith and former part of the xviith centuries.

1. Law-Readings.

ff. 1—26. Froweke's, upon the Statute 17 Edw. II. on the King's Prerogative.

The writer has erroneously called this Statute the 10 Eliz. Sir Thomas Froweke (or Frowycke) was Chief Justice of the Common Pleas in the reign of Hen. VII. and one of the arbitrators between the University and Town of Cambridge, (Cooper's Annals, I. 259).

ff. 28—45. Nine Readings of John Denishill, Serjeant-at-law, upon the Statute 4 Hen. VII., beginning with the Second Reading.

Denishill (or Densell) was called to the degree of Serjeant-at-law 23 Hen. VIII. (Dugd.) ff. 46—55. Six Readings of Mr Anslowe, upon the Statute 32 Hen. VIII. c. 36, on Fines.

Richard Onslow (who, it is presumed, is here intended) was Reader in the Inner Temple, 4 Eliz. (Dugd.) ff. 57—69. Seven Readings of Ambrose Gilbert, upon the Statute 34 and 35 Hen. VIII. c. 5, on Wills.

Gilbert is not mentioned in Dugdale.

ff. 71—80. Eleven Readings of Mr Blanchard upon the Statutes 32 and 34 Hen. VIII., on Wills.

Blancher was Reader in the Middle Temple, 23 Eliz. (Dugd.)

ff. 107—119. Eight Readings of Mr Bell, upon the Statute 21 Hen. VIII. c. 19, on Avowries.

The names and arguments of some of the Moot-men (Fleetwood, Farmer, and Nicholls,) are given.

Robert Bell (afterwards Chief Baron of the Exchequer) was Reader in the Middle Temple, 7 Eliz. (Dugd.)

ff. 121—126. Five Readings of Mr Dyer, upon the Statute 34 Hen. VIII., on Wills.

James Dyer (afterwards successively Chief Justice of the King's Bench and Common Pleas,) was Reader in the Middle Temple, 6 Edw. VI. (Dugd.)

2. Reports of cases adjudged between 24 Eliz. and 4 Charles I., chiefly in the King's Bench, a few in the Common Pleas, Exchequer, and Star-Chamber.

Between the Readings of Blanchard and Bell (ff. 83—106) are some cases adjudged between 27 and 33 Eliz., amongst which is Chudley's case, and that of Harris v. Winge. The latter is reported at great length, with the arguments of Counsel, Sir John Popham, Attorney-General, Sir Thomas Egerton, Solicitor-General, Coke, Evans, and Whight.

Most of these cases are printed in the Reports of Coke, Croke, Popham, Rolle, Hutton, Palmer, or Latch.

1630 Hh. II. 2.

A folio, on paper, much injured by damp, containing 184 leaves partially numbered in pages, with about 60 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the XVIIth century.

REPORTS OF CASES ADJUDGED IN THE COMMON PLEAS AND EXCHEQUER FROM 7 TO 13 JAMES I.

Some of these cases are printed in Coke, Croke, and Brownlow.

1631 Hh. II. 3.

A folio, on parchment, in bad condition, the former part much injured by damp, containing 78 leaves, illegibly numbered, with 64 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the XIVth century.

YEAR BOOK FOR 15 AND 16, AND 19 AND 20 EDW. III.

It was originally two books, the former ending with 16 EDW. III.

1632 Hh. II. 4.

A folio, on parchment and paper, containing 274 leaves of the former and 35 of the latter, exclusively of 2 or 3 fragments of leaves, the blank part of which has been cut away. It is of several different sizes, the number of lines in a page varying from 45 to 72, written in Law-French, in hands of the XIVth century, a few of the leaves in double columns. Much of it is in bad condition, particularly the paper portion at the end, no entire page of which is legible.

YEAR-BOOK FOR PART OF THE REIGN OF EDW. III.

It begins abruptly in the middle of Easter Term, 3 EDW. III., and goes on regularly to the end of the 7th year, then come the 1st and 2nd years, and Hilary and the first part of Easter Term of the 3rd year; we have then the 12th to the 17th inclusive, the 19th, 23rd, to Trinity Term in the 24th, and the 36th, the last being upon the paper portion.

Between the 24th and 36th years are cases decided by the Justices Itinerant at Nottingham, 3 EDW. III. Also before William de Herle (Chief Justice of the Common Pleas) and his Associates at Derby, about the same period. (See Foss, Lives of the Judges, III. 442.)

1633 Hh. II. 5.

A folio, on parchment, containing 95 leaves, with about 60 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the XIVth century.

YEAR-BOOK FROM MICH. TERM 39, TO MICH. TERM 45 EDW. III.

1634 Hh. II. 6.

A folio, on paper, containing 266 leaves (a few of which are blank) numbered irregularly, with about 36 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the beginning of the XVIth century.

LAW-READINGS.

ff. 1—27. On Magna Carta.

ff. 29—38. On the Statutes of Merton, 20 HEN. III.

ff. 39—99. On the Statutes of 'Marlebrigge,' 52 HEN. III.

ff. 100—115. On the First Statute of Westminster, 3 EDW. I.

ff. 123—150. On the Statutes of Gloucester, 6 EDW. I.

ff. 152—269. On the Second Statute of Westminster, 13 EDW. I.

Upon folio 58, in a handwriting of the same character as the rest of the MS., are two sets of satirical verses on the times. They have a striking resemblance to the style and conceits of Skelton, in his 'Maner of the world now a dayes,' and in 'Colin Clout,' though in a different measure, but are not to be found in his published works. The latter part of the longer one is diverted from satire, and gives instruction to 'Who so wille be wise in purchesyng lond.'

1635 Hh. II. 7.

A folio, on paper, containing 172 leaves, with about 42 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in hands of the XVth century.

YEAR-BOOK FROM 40 TO 46 EDW. III., with the exception of the 42nd year.

At the end are two leaves inserted, in a handwriting of the beginning of the XVIIth century, containing an alphabetical index of subjects in the year-books, and in Fitzherbert's Great Abridgement, from 33 to 50 EDW. III., and from 1 to 3 HEN. VI.

Between the 40th and 41st years are 16 leaves containing the mode of proceeding in the COURT OF HUSTINGS, in the City of London. This is to be found in a small quarto printed in 1647, entitled 'The City-Law, or the course and practice in all manner of juridicall proceedings in the Hustings in Guild-Hall, London. Englished out of an ancient French Manuscript.' Our MS. commences in the printed copy at the bottom of page 21, and there is some difference in the arrangement.

6366 Hh. II. 8.

A folio, on paper, containing 141 leaves (two of them towards the end being of parchment), irregularly numbered, with about 40 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in hands of the xvth century. It is in bad condition, and imperfect both at the beginning and end.

1. Law-Readings.

Upon the Statutes of Merton, Marlborough, Gloucester, and Second of Westminster, with a table of subjects.

These are preceded by some forms of Appeal, in Latin, and a few notes.

2. Part of a Year-Book, for Trinity Term, 2 Rich. II., Trinity Term, 2 Hen. V., and Mich. Term, 2 Rich. II.

1637 Hh. II. 9.

A folio, on paper, containing 440 numbered leaves (a great many of which are blank), written in Law-French, in neat hands of the xviith century. Ff. 8, 16, 79, 334, 335, 410, and 411 (all blank) have been torn out. At the end a slip is pasted in, numbered 444, containing the case, 'Gresham et Digby.'

Reports of Cases in the King's Bench, Common Bench, and Court of Wards, between Mich. Term 13 and 14, and Trinity Term, 30 Eliz.

It contains also, at the beginning, one case in the 7th, and one in the 10 and 11 Eliz. And on f. 285 is 'A Coppie of an exemplification of an act of parliament, 50 Edw. III., exemplified anno 13 Eliz. and 29° die Novemb. touchinge the Charters of the tinners in Devon.'

Most of the cases in the earlier years are anonymous: in the later years nearly all of them are printed in Croke.

1638 Hh. II. 10.

A folio, on paper, containing 145 leaves irregularly numbered, with from 27 to 42 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in hands of the xvth century.

YEAR-BOOK FOR 31 EDW. III. AND 22 HEN. VI.

At the end the name of Thomas Bromley is written twice, in a hand of the XVIth century. He was Lord Chancellor, and died in 1586.

1639 Hh. II. 11.

A small folio, on parchment, containing 95 leaves, with 31 lines in a page, written in Latin, in an excellent hand of the XIVth century. The initial letters are mostly coloured yellow, and the pages are ruled.

REGISTRUM BREVIUM.

At the end, upon a fly-leaf, now pasted to the cover, is a memorandum written in a court-hand by Walter Aclond, dated 3 August, 24 HEN. VIII., that he had received of John Awdelet, of Abyngdon, the sum of £117 in Angells, &c., £17 in Docatts, £161 in old Crownys, and £5 in new Crownys, and that the bond for the repayment of the said sum remained 'in papiro in cista.'

1640 Hh. II. 12.

A folio, on paper, in bad condition, containing 216 leaves (a few of which are blank), with from 30 to 40 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in hands of the XIVth and XVth centuries. It is made up of portions of old which are arranged in the following order:—3 HEN. IV., 1 HEN. V., 2 HEN. VI., 5 HEN. V., 1 HEN. VI., 2 HEN. V., 19 HEN. VI., 21 EDW. III., 11 HEN. IV.

YEAR-BOOKS,

In different places in the book are scribbled the names of Robert Stele, William Prudhom, Thomas Denton, and Thomas Marrowe.

1641 Hh. III. 1.

A folio, on paper, containing 57 leaves (a few of which are blank), with about 52 lines in a full page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the XVIIth century.

It comes down to the 20 Eliz., but on the last page is a note, in the same handwriting, of a grant made by K. James to Lord Wallingford.

1642 Hh. iii. 2.

A folio, on paper, containing 283 leaves (many of which are blank), with about 40 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the early part of the xviith century.

Readings of Sir Francis Moore in the Middle Temple, 5 James I., upon the Statute 43 Eliz. c. 7, an Act to redress the misemployment of lands, &c., given to charitable uses,—in 8 divisions. To them is prefixed, 'My speach at the beginninge.'

These Readings appear to be throughout in the handwriting of the author, and were edited (abridged by himself) in 1676 by George Duke, of the Middle Temple, Esq., who has erroneously dated their delivery 4 James I. Moore was in Parliament in the 43rd year of Elizabeth, and is said to have drawn up the Act which is the subject of his Readings. He died in 1621. See Wood's Athenæ Oxon.

At the beginning of the volume are two leaves of curious notes by Moore, in which he says he 'began his Readings on Mondaye, 3° August, 1607, Anno 5° Jac., and ended them the 14 August, in respect the plague much increased, the certificate beinge 77.' He gives the names of the Benchers who were his assistants, amongst whom was Sir Henry Montague; the names of the 'Cubbardmen' assigned to him; of the utter barristers called by him; of the stewards of his feast; of those admitted to the house in his Readings, amongst whom were his eldest, second, and third sons; of the Readers in the other Inns of Court; of the preachers upon 8 August, 'the daye of the Kinge's delivery from the treason of Earl Gowrey in Scotland.' He enumerates the Gifts at his Readings, with the names of the donors. These consisted of 6 hoggesheads of wyne, at the cost of £6. 5*s.* per hhd.; £44 in money, in sums varying from £10 to 20*s.*; 26 loaves of sugar; 24lbs of pepper; 3 firkins and 2 keggs of sturgeon; 7 swannes; 4 cakes of salmon; 13 trowtes; 5 marchpanes; 22 chickens; 68 capons; 14 pullets; 16 tirkeis; 22 partriges; 1 fesant; 1 pehenn; 5 geese; 26 quails; 5 dosen pigeons; a fatt shepe; a fatt lambe; a banbury cake; and 18 cheses.

Upon a slip of paper found loose in the book, and now pasted in at the end, is a memorandum that the writer, 'Thomas Pacy the elder, had dely-vered to Wyllyam a Powell the deeds of two houses in Bristow, held of the Abbot and Convent of Tewkysbery, he (Pacy) being so byssy that he was unable to apere by for the ummage at the Corte: dated 4 Dec. [blank year] Hen. VIII.'

1643 Hh. III. 3.

A folio, on paper, containing 20 leaves, with from 30 to 40 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the xvth century: 18 leaves of coarse paper have been bound up with it to give thickness to the book.

He is not mentioned by Dugdale.

1648 Hh. III. 8.

A folio, on paper, containing 166 leaves (some of which are blank), irregularly numbered, written in Law-French, Latin, and English, in hands of the latter part of the xvith and the beginning of the xviith century.

LAW COMMON-PLACE BOOK.

Upon the leaves left unoccupied by the legal subjects, a later possessor of the book has written:

'Jewel's Repli unto M. Harding's answeare,' being extracts from Whitaker's Latin translation:

Short passages, on religious and moral subjects, from St Augustine and others:

And a table of contents of some system of divinity, extending over 11 leaves.

In another handwriting, in the middle of the book, is 'The true opinion of Devines concerning man's beginninge:' 'The faulse opinion of the heathens concerninge man's beginninge:' and, 'Of the situacion and particion of the earth.'

Begins:

'When God in the fyrste daie of his creation had fynished heaven and earth, which [by reason] of the beautie and elegant forme therof was called Mundus...'

The third part breaks off abruptly in the middle of the sixth line:

—'flowinge through Egypt, wateringe the same also with a wounderfull frutfulnes, fauleth into the sea...'

1649 Hh. III. 9.

A folio, on paper, containing 114 leaves (many of which are blank), with about 45 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in hands of the latter part of the xvth and the beginning of the xvith century.

The last two articles are written very closely, with 70 lines in a page. The back of the last leaf contains some geometrical instructions. At the beginning and end of the volume is written, in a hand of the time of ELIZABETH, the name of F. Tate. He was reader in the Middle Temple, 5 JAMES I., and one of the Justices itinerant for S. Wales, and died in 1616. See Wood's Athenæ Oxon. Upon a fly-leaf are scribbled some Latin verses, the last of which is,

'Da tua dum tua sunt, post mortem tunc tua non sunt.'

1652

Hh. III. 12.

A folio, on paper, containing 140 leaves irregularly numbered, with about 36 lines in a page, written in Latin, in a hand of the XVIIth century.

1. 'Praxis Francisci Clarke, tam jus dicentibus, quam aliis omnibus qui in Foro Ecclesiastico versantur, apprime utilis.'

This title (the MS. being without one) is given from the edition printed in Dublin in 1666, under the editorship of Dr Bladen, Dean of Ardfert. The Epistle Dedicatory in the MS. differs very considerably from that in the printed copy, and there are occasional verbal variations throughout the work. The index, by a blunder of the binder, is placed between ff. 24 and 25 of the next article.

2. Ejusdem 'Modus procedendi in Curia Admiralitatis Anglie.'

This was first printed in 1667, and has passed through several editions.

At the end of the volume are two leaves containing a list of fees in the Ecclesiastical Courts; immediately preceding which, are five leaves (written with the book reversed) containing entries of the acts of court in the case of Burley and Fishe.

Upon a fly-leaf at the beginning is written, 'Liber And. Bart, Script. p. eum, Anno Dni 1629°.'

1653 Hh. III. 13.

A folio, on paper, with a few parchment-leaves, containing ff. 113, in double columns of 45 lines. Date, the xv th century.

1. ff. 1—8. A fragment of 'Johannis de Burgo Pupilla Oculi.'

Begins:

Humane condicio nature jam senescente mundo...

Ends:

...debet quilibet presbiter parochialis a suo [episcopo]..., (Pars 2 cap. 7).

Printed, Paris, 1510. See Ee. v. 15.

2. ff. 9—108. Sancti Bonaventuræ 'Liber de Vita Christi.'

Begins (after the Prologue, 'Inter alia virtutum et laudum preconia...,' and the list of chapters):

Cum per longissima tempora...

Ends:

...utriusque decorem substantie designavit. hec Bernardus.

Opp. Mogunt. 1609, T. vi. pp. 334—401.

3. f. 109 a. 'þ^e x commowndments of god,' in English, 'vii dedly synnes,' 'vii bodyly dedis of mercy,' &c.

4. ff. 109*b*—110*a*. 'A devoute meditacion,' in English.

Begins:

Blessid lorde þat madest all þings of no3t...

5. ff. 110*b*—111 a. Verses in Latin and English, on Melchisedech and the Sacrament.

The Latin begin:

Melchisedech Rex et Sacerdos panem et vinum optulit...

And end:

Quos christus confactores sui sacramenti dignatus est ordinare.

The English begin:

Ye cristen peple baptised in the faithe...

And end:

As doctours declare in many sondry place.

6. ff. 111*b*—112. 'Alia dicta sanctorum doctorum de virtute altaris et de fructu et effectu devocionis misse.' In English.

These are from SS. Bernard, Augustine, Chrysostom, Ambrose, Gregory, Jerome, &c.

They begin:

The Apostel Poule saith expresse
As crist which is oure hede and governour
Excellith us in price and worthynesse
So doth the masse and is most digniour.

And end:

Wherfor to him be glory and preisyng
For our weele that so ordeyned has. Amen.

On fol. 113 is a short sentence from Bede respecting those who have the opportunity of celebrating mass and do not; and the lines,

Quinquies ecce pater et ave mihi dicere qui vis
Tot dilecte frater annos indulgeo si vis.

1654 Hh. III. 14.

A folio, on paper, containing 406 leaves, irregularly numbered, written in Law-French, in the beginning of the XVIth century, the greater part in double columns. Some of the leaves have been injured by fire.

I. Law-Readings.

1. Thomas Tempest's, on parts of the Statutes of Merton and Westminster.

He was Reader in Lincoln's Inn in the 5 and 8 Hen. VIII. (Dugd.)

2. Anonymous, on Magna Carta, and on the Statutes of Merton and Second of Westminster.

These Readings occupy 25 leaves.

II. Law Common-Place Book.

1655 Hh. III. 15.

A quarto, on parchment, injured by damp, containing 64 leaves, with about 40 lines in a page, written in Latin and Law-French, in hands of the XIVth century.

A Collection of Statutes, and Tracts (with the exception of Article 14) on Legal Subjects.

1. 'Registrum Brevium.'
2. 'Summa que dicitur Judicia Essoniorum.'
3. 'Excepciones pro brevibus cassandis ut eciam prorogandis.'
4. 'Parva Heyngham.'
5. 'Summa Cadit Assisa.'
6. 'Statutum de conspiratoribus.'
7. 'Visus Franci-Plegii.'
8. 'Articuli Corone.'
9. 'Statutum de Scaccario.'
10. 'Districciones de Scaccario.'
11. 'Statutum de Wyncestre.'
12. 'Statutum de Bygamis.'
13. 'De Dote,' in re Egeline, Humfredi de Bassingburn uxoris.
14. Leonine Latin verses (without title) in which the same rhyme is continued at the end of every four lines, written upon the occasion of the author being deterred from matrimony.

They begin:

'Sit patri gloria, laus, benedicio,
Johanni pariter, Petro, Laurencio,
Quos misit Trinitas in hoc naufragio,
Ne me permitterent uti conjugio.'

End:

'Post hec Angelico finito nuncio,
Tactis epistolis et Evangelico,
Ipsis trahentibus me de incendio,
Respondi breviter, vobis consentio.'

They are printed in the Camden Society's Publication for 1841 (page 77), among the Latin Poems commonly attributed to Walter Mapes, with the title 'Golias de conjuge non ducenda.' They consist of 192 lines, but in the printed copy they extend to 212, and there are a great many various readings. Mr Wright, the editor, mentions several MS. copies, but does not notice this. A French imitation of it, of the beginning of the 14th century, and an English one, of the 15th century, are printed by the Camden Society in the same volume.

These are followed by 40 lines of verses of similar construction, which begin:

'Roma caput mundi, sed non caput mundum;
Quod pendet a capite totum est immundum;
Trahit enim vicium primum et secundum,
Et de fundo redolet quod est juxta fundum.'

End:

'Divites divitibus dant, ut sumant ibi,
Et concurrunt munera respective sibi;
Lex est ista celebris, quam fecerunt scribi,
Si tu mihi dederis, ego dabo tibi.'

These also are printed in the same volume of the Camden Society's Publications (page 36), with the Poems attributed to Mapes, entitled 'Golias in Romanam Curiam.' The MS. begins at line 13 of the printed copy, which contains nine more tetrastichs, and has many various readings.

They occur also among some Latin Poems 'de corrupto Ecclesiæ Statu,' edited by Mat. Flacius at Basle, in 1557, where they are entitled 'De Sceleribus Romæ,' and begin as in this MS., but have six tetrastichs more.

15. 'De essoniis, plegiis,' etc.

At the end of the Verses, which was originally the end of the book, is written in an ancient hand,

'Iste liber constat Thome Barton,
Si quis sentiret quo tendit et unde.'

1656 Hh. III. 16.

A quarto, on vellum, 83 leaves, 26 lines in each page, written at the opening of the XVth century, several fine illuminations, well preserved.

'Le Liure de Pontus filz du roy Thibor de Galice, et comment en armes et amours il souffrit moult de pestilences, de mauls et de douleurs,' in French prose.

For a description of a metrical version of the same romance, see above, Ff. III. 31.

Former owner of the MS., 'James Morrant.'

1657 Hh. IV. 1.

A narrow quarto, on parchment, containing 187 leaves, numbered as 186 (a leaf between ff. 133—134 being without a number), the lines in a page varying from 25 to 35, written in Law-French and Latin, in hands of the XIVth century. The initial letters and paragraphs are red and blue.

This volume is noticed in the edition of the Statutes of the Realm, published by the Record Commission.

A Collection of Statutes and Law-Tracts.

1. f. 1. 'Registrum de Cancellaria.'

43. f. 180 b. 'Tractatus Corone.'

44. f. 182 b. 'Placita Corone.'

At the end of the book is written the name of F. Tate; see Hh. III. 11.

1658 Hh. IV. 2.

A quarto, on parchment, containing 40 leaves, numbered as 64 (24 leaves being wanting between ff. 24 and 49), with about 36 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the latter part of the XIVth century.

Short notes of cases adjudged in the reign of Edw. III., apparently from the 12th to the 18th year, arranged under 10 heads.

1659 Hh. iv. 3.

A quarto, on paper, containing ff. 182, with 37 lines in a page. Date, the xv th century.

1. ff. 1—49. EADMERUS DE SANCTI ANSELMI SIMILITUDINIBUS.

Begins:

Voluntas tripliciter intelligitur...

Ends:

...ne nobis noceant in quantum volunt.

The title of this is given in the MS. 'Anselmus de similitudinibus,' and 'A. de viciis et virtutibus.'

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1854, coll. 605—702. The last chapter is Cap. cxcii. of Migne's edition: then follows the 'Confessio infirmi vel morientis,' i. e. St Anselm's 'Admonitio Morienti,' Migne, i. coll. 685—688.

2. ff. 49—50 b. 'CONFESSIO GENERALIS VENERABILIS ANSELMI.'

Begins:

Ante conspectum immense pietatis tue...

Ends:

...qui es creator omnium et dominus tibi semper omnis honor et gloria, etc.

3. ff. 50 b—52 b. 'ANSELMUS DE VANA VOLUNTATE ET CONTRA VANAS COGITACIONES.'

Begins:

Omnis accio laudabilis...

Ends:

...set que ihū x^{i} domini nostri qui, etc.

This is attributed to Hampole by Tanner. See Ff. i. 14, § 18.

4. ff. 52 b—95 a. 'PROSOLOGION BEATI ANSELMI.'

Begins (after the prologue, 'Oraciones sive meditaciones...,' and the index of chapters):

Excita te, o anima mea, et erige totum intellectum tuum.

This, which is divided into 19 chapters, is made up of different parts of St Anselm's works.

The Prologue is that to the Liber Meditationum (Migne, i. col. 709). Cap. 1 is similar to Meditatio prima, though not the same. Cap. 2 is Cap. 1 of the Proslogion (Migne, i. col. 225); the remaining chapters contain Meditationes 11, 3, 2; Orationes 7, 9, 22, 41, 34, 50, 51, 52, 62, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 71, 72, 74; as they appear in Migne's edition, Vol. I., excepting that St Augustine is put in the place of St Benedict, in Cap. 17: Cap. 9 contains an 'Oratio ad proprium Angelum' different from the Oratio 62 of St Anselm: and Cap. 19 is a repetition of § 3, to which the MS. refers, only giving the first two lines in this place.

5. ff. 95 b—96 b. 'ANSELMUS AD EXCITANDUM TIMOREM.'

Begins:

Terret me domine quod tam divites quam pauperes...

Ends:

...et tecum esse in regno tuo qui vivis, etc.

6. ff. 96 b—97 a. 'MEDITACIONES ROBERTI GROSTEST LINCOLNIENSIS EPISCOPI.'

Begins:

Meditari debes quia mortaliter peccaveris...

Ends:

...ubi intolerabile est apparere, etc.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 348, note h, who refers to this MS.

7. ff. 97 a—98 a. 'MEDITACIO SIVE ORACIO ANSELMI AD BEATUM MARTINUM.'

Begins:

Sancte et gloriose confessor christi confessor Martine...

Ends

...idem judex et redemptor noster ihs christus qui vivit, etc.

8. ff. 98 a—102 a. 'ANSELMUS DE CHRISTI PASSIONE,' partly in verse.

Begins:

Vide homo que pro te pacior; ad te clamo qui per te morior...

Ends:

...et benedicant te cui sit gloria, etc.

9. ff. 102 a—112.

'Quo studio et quo affectio sit deus a nobis orandus.'

Begins:

Quo studio, etc. Ex nostra miseria simul et ex conditoris misericordia.

This is by Hugo de S. Victore. See Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1854, II. coll. 977—988. It is followed by Orationes 'Ad Patrem et Trinitatem,' and 'Ad Jhm Christum,' 'Oratio devota ad filium Dei et ad matrem ejus,' (in verse, 'Summa summi tu patris unice...' Opp. S. Bernard. Par. 1839, II. coll. 1781;) 'Confessio generalis,' and 'Oratio de omnibus sanctis.'

10. ff. 113—121.

'Quomodo monachus expendet tempus suum,' followed by 'Meditaciones Horarum cum suis orationibus de passione Christi.'

Begins:

Cadente orilogio. Mox in momento quasi in ictu oculi consurgeris...

Ends:

...Fac me indignum missum ad tuam pervenire visionem. Amen.

The concluding part of this section consists of the same prayers and meditations as in § 9. Thus the 'Oratio devota ad filium Dei et ad matrem ejus,' which occurs in f. 108, is repeated again, f. 118.

The next leaf is blank.

11. ff. 123—134.

'Stimulus Peccatoris secundum Willelmum Rymtoun.'

Begins (after the Prefaciuncula versificata, Qui vacat in cella cupit hostis vincere bella...):

Memento miser homo quod cinis es et in cinere verteris. Et ut hoc clarius consideres...

Ends:

...et sic memento mei deus pro amore tuo langueo.

This treatise consists of Meditations compiled from Scripture and the Fathers, chiefly SS. Augustine, Bernard and Anselm.

The author seems to be the same as William Rimston, or Remington, a monk of Salley, who flourished in 1390. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 633, who refers to this MS.

12. ff. 135—154 a.

'Liber Sancti Edmundi qui nuncupatur speculum ecclesie.'

Begins (after a short preface, In nomine dulcissimi domini,... and a list of chapters):

Videte vocationem vestram. Ista verba apostoli pertinent ad vos homines religiosos...

Ends:

...quod pro nobis est paratum ab origine mundi. Amen.

Biblioth. Vet. Patr. Paris, 1624, T. v. coll. 767—788.

13. ff. 154 b—156 a.

'Epistola Sancti Macharii ad monachos.'

Begins:

In primis quidem si cepit homo semet ipsum agnoscere...

Ends:

...non poterit precepta servare spiritus sancti.

See this in English, Ff. vi. 33, § 8, and see Oudin, iii. col. 474.

14. ff. 156.

'Nota de paciencia,' and 'Nota secundum Lincolniensem, [Grosteste] quod octo sunt signa humilitatis.'

15. ff. 157—175.

'Libellus Hugonis [de S. Victore] de instructione novitiorum.'

Begins:

Quia fratres largiente domino de vana conversacione hujus seculi...

Ends:

...bonitatem vero orate ut vobis det Deus. Amen.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1854, II. coll. 925—952.

Two notes follow, one on Ps. cxl. 3, the other pointing out the passages in the Bible from which the two following lines are taken.

Clamitat intra polum vox sanguinis et Sodomorum
Vox oppressorum mercesque retenta laborum.

The remaining leaves of the MS. are blank.

1660—1661

Hh. IV. 4, 5.

Two quarto volumes, on paper, the first containing 491, and the second 438 leaves (a few of which are blank), numbered irregularly, written in Law-French, in a neat hand of the latter part of the XVIth century. The pages are ruled in red ink.

Law Common-Place Book.

The first volume commences with Damages, and ends with Mortmayn. The second commences with Nativo habendo, and ends with Waste. Each volume has its own index.

In the Catalogue of the MSS. of Bishop Moore, to whom this work formerly belonged, it is said that 'it is believed to be made by the Lord Chief Justice Cooke, and to be written with his own hand.' At the beginning of both volumes is written, 'MSS^{a} Edoardi Coke, Mil. &c.,' and, apparently in the same ink, 'Sum Antonii Irbei, 1694,' and on the inside of the cover of Vol. I., 'Anthony Irby, March 9th, 1694.' He was grandfather of the first Lord Boston; see Pishey Thompson's History of Boston.

Hh. IV. 6.

A quarto, on parchment, containing 206 leaves, with from 30 to 36 lines in a page, in double columns, written in Law-French, in hands of the XIVth century. The initial letters and paragraphs are in red and blue. The former part is in good condition; towards the end some of the leaves are stained, and others have been repaired at the outer margin.

I. The Law Treatise known as Britton.

See Ff. II. 39, with which this appears to correspond.

II. In a fresh handwriting.

A Collection of Statutes.

1. Magna Carta Edwardi I.
2. Carta de Foresta.
3. Statutum de Merton.
4. Statutum de Marleberge.
5. Statutum de Viris Religiosis.
6. Statuta Gloucestr.
7. Explanaciones Stat. Gloucestr.

This is the only Statute in this collection written in Latin.

8. Statutum Westmon. Primum.
9. Statutum Westmon. Secundum.
10. Districtiones Scaccarii.
11. Statutum de Mercatoribus (Acton Burnell).
12. Statutum Edw. I. de terris vendendis et emendis.

This collection is noticed in the edition of the Statutes of the Realm published by the Record Commission.

Upon the first and third leaf of 'Britton' is written (evidently an autograph) 'Ro. Cotton, 1598.' Sir Robert Cotton commenced the collection of MSS. designated by his name in the British Museum.

1663 Hh. IV. 7.

A small quarto, on paper, in good preservation. Contains,

1. Regulations and decrees of the Court of Wards and Liveries. 8 pages, followed by a blank space and then 80 pages.

2. 'A brief discourse of the descents and genealogies of all the Kings and Princes of England from the Conquest' to the reign of Elizabeth. 12 pages.

3. 'Questions and answeres tending to discover the impedyments that doe hinder and decay the making and the profitts of the Queen's Majestie's Liveries.' 16 pages.

1664 Hh. iv. 8.

An octavo, on paper, containing ff. 58, with 31 lines in each page. Date, the xvth century.

'COLLACIO PRECEPTORUM ET EXHORTACIONUM SACRE SCRIPTURE.'

Begins:

Reperire namque distinctionem claram inter illa que per seriem sacre scripture proponuntur per modum precepti et que per modum exhortationis.....

Ends:

.....rex super omnes filios superbie.

This goes through the books of the Old Testament and Apocrypha, with the exception of the books of Solomon and the Psalter, for omitting which the author gives his reasons in the preface, f. 2. The last book is that of Job.

1665—1666 Hh. iv. 9 and 10.

Small quarto, on paper, bound in two volumes of 200 and 205 leaves respectively.

Extracts from the RECORDS RELATING TO THE COUNTY OF SURREY during the reigns extending from John to Edw. III. inclusive.

1667 Hh. iv. 11.

A small quarto, on parchment and paper (2 leaves of each alternately), containing 97 numbered folios, with 28 lines in a page, written in English, in a neat hand of the xvth century. Sixteen of the pages are profusely decorated, in colours, with human figures, animals, flowers, foliage, and scrolls with mottos. The initial letters of each stanza, of seven lines, are alternately red and green.

'DE REGIMINE PRINCIPUM,' A POEM BY THOMAS OCCLEVE.

It is without title and author's name; but the former is supplied by the colophon, and the latter by two lines in the poem on f. 33*b*.

'What shall I calle the? what ys thy name?
OCCLEVE, fadyr myn, men calle me.'

Begins:

'Musing upon the restles besinesse,
Which this troubly world hath ay in honde ..'

Ends:

'To the that all seest of love's fervence,
And that knowith he that nothing is hyd soo.'

Amongst the illustrations the following arms are introduced: On f. 10, France and England quarterly; f. 21, quarterly, 1st and 4th, ar. a chev. sa., 2nd and 3rd, gu. a St Andrew's cross or, on a chief gu. 3 plates; f. 52, a plain shield ar. impaled with ar. a chev. sa. betw. 3 escallop shells; f. 68 b, a chev. between 2 roses in chief and a fish in base, impaled with a plain shield, which arms were borne by Roscarrock of Cornwall. F. 94, in the initial letter, ar. 2 chev. gu.

Upon the first and last page is written, in a somewhat later hand, the name of Nicholas Roscarrocke, the arms of whose family are introduced on f. 68 b.

Warton (Hist. of English Poetry, II. 39) calls this poem a sort of paraphrase of part of a Latin tract of Ægidius of Rome, bearing the same title. (See above, Ff. III. 3.) It has never been printed. Two copies of it are among the Harleian MSS. in the British Museum. Occleve died in 1454.

1668 Hh. IV. 12.

A quarto, chiefly on paper, 99 leaves, about 30 lines in each page, handwriting of the XVth century.

1679 Hh. vi. 3.

A small quarto, on paper, containing 32 leaves, with about 25 lines in a page, written in Latin and English, in the latter part of the xvith century.

'Liber Epistolarum,' Auctore Carolo Blaknye, e D. Petri Domo Cantabr. Necnon versiculi et alia ejusdem.

These letters are mostly dated from Peter-House between 1540 and 1568. The first in the collection was written at Reepham School, Norfolk, and is dated 1598, which is probably an error for 1538; but it may be doubted whether Blaknye was the author of them all. They do not contain much that is interesting, though occasionally allusion is made to the unsettled state of the times, and the great diversity of religious opinions.

1680 Hh. vi. 4.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 139, with 21 lines in a page. Date, about 1600. The title, which is rudely painted and ornamented, is given on f. 1.

'Tractatus de censuris ecclesiasticis.'

Begins:

De Censura in communi. Dico 1° censura lata sepe.....

Ends:

.....dispensat in omnibus. Finis.

This seems to be an abridgement of J. de Dicastillo's Tractatus de Censuris et Pœnis Ecclesiasticis. Antv. 1562.

It is bound up with the preceding MS.

1681 Hh. vi. 5.

An octavo, on parchment (discoloured in places by damp), containing 62 leaves, with an average of 30 lines in a page, written in Latin, in a hand of the latter part of the XIIIth century.

REGISTRUM BREVIUM.

1682 Hh. VI. 6.

A small quarto, on paper, containing 70 leaves partially numbered, with from 24 to 30 lines in a page, written in English, in a hand of the XVIth century.

1. RULES AND MAXIMS OF THE COMMON LAWS OF ENGLAND, BY SIR FRANCIS BACON.

It has been often printed, and will be found in Montagu's edition of Bacon's Works, XIII. 131.

2. A PREPARATION TOWARD THE UNION OF THE LAWS OF ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND, BY SIR FRANCIS BACON.

This is not complete, but breaks off in the chapter on 'The punishment, triall, and proceedings, in cases of felonye.'

It has been often printed. See Montagu, V. 83.

This is followed by eight leaves (partly blank), containing unconnected notes.

1683 Hh. VI. 7.

An octavo of 29 leaves, on paper, in bad condition, each page containing between 20 and 30 lines written in a hand of the XVIth century.

'THE EXHORTATION OF ISOCRATES TO DEMONICUS.'

Begins (fol. 2):

In manie thinges undoubtedly....

Ends (fol. 23):

...by nature.

The remaining leaves of the book contain scraps of English verse, &c.; the first two and the last are subscribed Ro. Phipps: the first begins, 'The souldier that in bloddie field.' On the first leaf is written 'R Phipps me sibi vendicat 1578.' Nasmyth observes of the translation, 'Ascribed in the former catalogue to R. Phipps, who was owner of this MS. in 1578, and whose handwriting it seems to be: but whether he was the translator, or only the copyer, I am unable to determine.'

Appears to have been printed in 1690 by Morgan.

1684 Hh. vi. 8.

A small quarto on parchment of 209 leaves. The writing is of various characters, but all of about the end of the xiiith century.

A Collection of Astronomical Tracts.

1. ff. 1—76. 'Tabule revolucionis solis et lune aliorumque Planetarum varie, cum aliis.'

The above title is that which was formerly affixed to the binding, with the headword of the second leaf (2nd fol. tabula), preserved on the fly-leaf. They are calculated for the latitude of Toledo, and many of them are referred to Samuel Magister Indorum. Among these tables are the latitudes and longitudes of several towns.

2. ff. 78—93 a. 'Canones de equatione planetarum et eclipsium solis et lune,' &c.

Begins:

Quicunque vult planetas equare oportet eum primo...

Ends:

...hoc non impedit eclipsari solem in sequenti conjunctione vel 2ª vel 3ª et sic de aliis.

On f. 93 b is a blank horoscope and an astrological note. 'Dicit Abraham...'

3. ff. 94—122. The same Treatise continued (imperfect).

The first leaf is wanting.

Ends:

...et ejus gradus sicut ostensum est in precedentibus. Expliciunt canones, incipiunt tabule.

An ancient hand refers from the lacunæ to the preceding copy, § 2, and has appended on f. 118 the definition, 'Buth, i.e. motus equinoctialis qui fit in orbe signorum.'

4. ff. 123—141. 'Tabule' Astronomice.

These belong to the preceding section.

5. ff. 142—144. Astronomical Notes, with comparative table of the Arabic and Christian years from A.C. 1316 to 1378.

6. ff. 145—180. Lunar and Planetary Tables.

There are some foot-notes in a different hand, made between the years 1256 and 1325. The last leaf is imperfect. These tables are similar to those in § 1.

7. ff. 181—188. 'De Astrolabio Compendium.'

Begins:

Scito quod Astrolabium sit nomen Grecum...

Ends:

...policsque omnia perfecta politione eritque tunc astrolabium perfectum.

The reverse of f. 188 is filled with a drawing of the astrolabe, and cylinder.

8. ff. 189—194. 'De nominibus variorum Instrumentorum.'

There are also instructions in their use.

Begins:

Nomina instrumentorum sunt hec...

Ends:

...scies altitudinem turris. Explicit.

9. ff. 195—209. Astronomical Tables, with rules for their use, and irregular notes.

Among these are memorial verses, a multiplication-table, &c.

1685 Hh. vi. 9.

A small quarto, on paper, containing 185 leaves, with about 26 lines in a page, written in English, in a hand of the latter part of the xvth century. The titles of the chapters are in red ink, and the initial letters in red and blue.

THE Brute CHRONICLE OF ENGLAND, TO THE 12TH YEAR OF HENRY VI.

It has neither title nor colophon. There are three prefatory chapters: the first begins:

'The first inhabytynge of the lande how women first inhabit it. And after that BRUTE inhabit it, and conquered the giauntes...'

In this chapter the authorship of the Chronicle is thus alluded to: 'This booke compiled grete clerks, as Abbotes and Priores, and men of religion.' And it speaks of 132 kings to Edward III., so that the Chronicle originally ended with that reign.

The second chapter begins:

'The prologe of this booke declareth how this lande was callid Albion after the eldest daughter of the Royall Kyng Dioclecian, the which was called Albyne...'

The third chapter begins:

'Some tyme in the lande of Surrey there was a myghty and a roial kyng callid Dioclisian ..'

And ends on page 4, with this rubric:

'Her endith the prolog of this boke, And how Brute was begoten, And how the lande was callid Albion, now ye shal here of the susters, how thei demenyd theme.'

The first chapter of the Chronicle begins on page 4:

'In the noble cite of grete Troy there was a noble knyght...'

It ends with chapter 287, 'How the Duke of Bedford and his Wife went into Normandy.'

At the end of this chapter is written 'Chapter 228,' as if the Chronicle had been continued later, but this is erased with a pen, apparently in the same ink as the body of the MS.; and at the bottom of the page the word finis, cut from a printed book, has been pasted.

The story relative to the death of king John by poison is related in chapter 160; and after chapter 247, which gives an account of the siege of Rouen in 1418 (with which most of the copies of this Chronicle end), is part of the old English poem on that siege, the whole of which was communicated to the Society of Antiquaries by Sir Fred. Madden, and printed in the twenty-second volume of the Archæologia. In this MS the poem begins at verse 1161 of the printed copy, and is continued to the end.

See a Dissertation upon this Chronicle by Sir Fred. Madden (who considers it a translation from the French), in his Introduction to Havelok the Dane, edited for the Roxburghe Club; and more recently, with additions, in Notes and Queries, Vol. I. second series, pp. 1—4.

On the upper margin of the first page is written, 'This olde Cronicle was geven to me Jasper Bridgeman of Exceter by M^r^ John Pylle of the same Citty in December, A.D. 1594.' And: 'Tho. Bridgeman me possidet, A.D. 1617.

1686 Hh. VI. 10.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 78, with 36 lines in a page. Date, 1588.

1. ff. 1—59 a. 'A briefe report of a DISPUTACION held amongst certaine ministers of y^e^ churches of London touching the Viage which should be taken in hande for the RESTORING OF THE KING OF PORTUGAL into his kingdome in November 1588.'

Begins (after two introductory letters to Sir John Norris and Sir Francis Drake, and Mr Nicholas, 'Preacher of god his word to that most christian-like Army which her ma^tie^. sendeth forth against the enemies of Christ which dwell in the Southerne partes of Europe,' and the list of quæstions (42) which were disputed upon in the consultation):

ffirst we all agreed in this that the ende why we should seeke...

Ends:

...when they see y^t^ smoke of Rome reaching up into y^e^ heavens. Amen. Amen. Amen.

2. ff. 59 a—78. An abridgement of CARTWRIGHT's Preface to his 'Confutation of the Rhemists' Translation.' Printed in 1618.

Begins:

The true religion being like y^e^ heavenly bodies.....

Ends:

Luke doth more properly and naturally set forth y^e^ pedigree of Christ than Matthewe. Look A where this cometh in.

This is an abridgement of both the 'Preface to the Reader,' and the discussion of the passages from the Fathers, that precedes the text of Cartwright's book, and which occupies signatures B to F in the printed edition.

Hh. VI. 11.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 71, in double columns of 27 lines. Date the XIIIth and XIVth centuries. A large portion of the MS. has been lost between ff. 12 and 13, and also after f. 64. The volume was given by Frater R. de Alneye to the 'Armariolus' of Ramesey monastery, as appears from f. 2.

Its contents are as follows:—

1. f. 1. NOTES relating to the MONASTERY OF RAMESEY.

These are:

1. Concerning the siege of Bedeford by the king. A. D. 1224.

2. An order from John [Peccham] Archb^p^. of Canterbury to the Abbat and Convent of Ramesey to convoke a general chapter. 1280.

3. A letter from the Abbats and Presidents of Evesham and Winchecumbe, in a general chapter of the order of S. Benedict, held at Oxford in 1271, to W. de Gumecestre, Abbat of Ramesey.

4. A memorandum of the monks of Ramesey that 'A. D. 1276, in die natalis domini intravimus primo in novum refectorium quod fuit in constructione per x annos et amplius:' and that in the same year the Abbat 'W. de Gomecestre emit a Berengario milite cognomento le Moyne totum manerium suum de Bernewelle et totum manerium suum de Hemingthon cum crowethorp et little thorp et advocacionem ecclesie sancti Andree de Bernewelle.' See Dugdale's Monasticon. ed. nov. II. 581.

There is also a list of 'Effectus Maratri' [fennel].

2. f. 2 a. A LIST OF THE TOWNS on the way 'a mari usque Lugdunum,' and 'per pontem usque Paris.'

3. f. 2 b. A note respecting the DESTRUCTION OF THE TOWN OF RAMESEY by fire and sword by Nicholas de Segrave in 1266, while Hugo de Sulegrave was Abbat. It is added that 'nullus de monachis neque de villa neque de baronibus periit excepto uno valetto qui fuit ex parte baronum qui stulte se in marisco demersit.'

4. f. 3. A BIDDING PRAYER IN FRENCH.

Begins:

Prium pour la pes de seinte eglise et pour la pes de la tere...

The local petition is, 'pour la mesun de teins de Burc de wirecestre de la houme.'

5. ff. 5—12. 'DOCTRINALE VEL DISCIPLINALE MAGISTRI HUGONIS DE S. VICTORE.' Imperfect.

Begins:

Quia largiente deo fratres de vana conversacione...

Ends:

...prius apostatam nomina[vit]...

This is the treatise usually called De Institutione Novitiorum. Opp. Migne, Par. 1854. T. II. coll. 925—935.

6. ff. 13—28. 'LIBER AURELII AUGUSTINI DE VERA ET FALSA PENITENTIA.'

Begins:

Quantum sit appetenda...

Ends:

...in odorem suavitatis. Amen.

Opp. Par. 1837. T. VI. Append. coll. 1621—1644.

The next leaf is blank.

7. ff. 30—51. 'Tractatus DE DUODECIM ABUSIVIS dompni HUGONIS DE FOLIETO prioris canonicorum sancti laurentii in pago ambianensi.'

Begins (after the prologue, Locuturus karissime de hiis...and the list of the 12 abusivæ):

Sunt quidam qui sciunt et possunt et volunt preesse...

Ends:

...pendet summa tocius religionis.

This consists of caps. 12—23 of Hugo de Folieto's Treatise 'De Claustro Animæ.' Opp. Hugonis de S. Victore, Migne, II. 1058—1086.

A paragraph follows about a rich man's son, when thinking himself likely to die, wishing to enter a monastery.

8. ff. 51 b—64. 'Turpinus Archiepiscopus Remensis' De gestis Karoli magni.

Begins (after the 'Epistola Turpini ad leoprandum decanum,' and the list of chapters):

Gloriosissimus namque apostolus iacobus ..

Ends (at the beginning of cap. xix.):

Tunc dimissis majoribus exercitibus suis Karolus in hispa[nia].

This has been frequently printed. See Reuberus' Vet. Scriptores. Francof. 1584, p. 67, and see Dd i. 17. § 3.

9. f. 65. A leaf, taken from another MS. with a portion of a discussion on the right of the Pope to the first-fruits of vacant benefices.

10. f. 66 b. 'Carta W. Abbatis Ramesye suis liberis nativis de Gravenhirst,' stating that he had appointed Robert le Vaudre and Roger Faber 'ballivos et alternatos nostros ad custodiendum manerium nostrum et conventus nostri de Gravenhirst,' 1282.

11. f. 67 a. Signs of the weather, attributed to the prophet Ezra.

Begins:

Signum quod ostendit dominus Hesdre prophete...

Some Latin verses on death, &c. follow, beginning, 'Vive dies quasi te semper vocet ultima vite.'

12. f. 67 b. 'Carta pie memorie Hugonis abbatis Ramesey cognomento de Sulegrave,' respecting the increase of the manors belonging to the monastery.

Below is a note respecting the 'feretrum Sancti Ivonis' erected by this Abbat. See Dugdale, II. p. 581.

13. f. 68 a. 'Nomina arborum per versus.'

Begins:

Fraxinus et corulus planus et salix acer ornus...

Ends:

Fucus avellana glans nux castanea barra.

14. f. 68 a. Verses on 'Quod nummus ubique regnat et imperat.'

Begins:

Captivata largitas longe relegatur
Exulansque probitas misere fugatur...

Ends:

Nisi rursus sequitur muneris oblacio
Frustra gemens vidua partes fundit hodie.

15. f. 68 b. 'Olim dictum est in Gallia quod spiritus nequam de quatuor filiis Henrici ii taliter creditur prophetasse. Li plus beaus: a Martheus. Le Marchis: a Paris. Li Petevin: a limozin. Li sanztere: mora en bere. Nomina eorum quatuor. Henricus, Gaufridus, Ricardus, Johannes.'

16. f. 68 b—69 a. Verses containing prognostications respecting thunder.

Begin:

Accedens quicunque cupis cognoscere verba
Lucida laudanda vera probata bona...

End:

Esto memor quod si tonitru duo signa ministrat
Indicium primum non feret immo sequens.

Another set of verses follows, beginning:

Cui satis est quod habet satis illum constat habere
Cui nichil est quod habet satis illum constat egere...

And then a list of the number of quarters of flour, beer, &c. used in the year at the monastery.

At the bottom of the page is a note on the symbolism of the pastoral staff.

17. f. 69 b—70 a. A Hymn with Musical notes.

Beginning:

Quantum floris concinat laus oris
Vas dulcoris miri flos odoris...

18. f. 70 a. Carta 'Willelmi [de Gomecestre] Abbatis Ramesey,' appointing 'Hugonem de Banham clericum procuratorem nostrum in cura Romana' to obtain certain privileges and indulgences. 1275.

This is followed by some notes respecting the declination of the words 'Cherub' and 'Seraph,' a derivation of 'Adam' from the first letters of the four words Anathole, Dysis, Arthos, Mesymbrios, and a statement that in the year 1277, and from the creation of the world 6477, Robertus de Chuluartby (Kilwarby according to Le Neve), archbishop of Canterbury, visited the convent.

19. f. 70 b. The Pater Noster and Ave Maria in English verse.

The Pater Noster begins:

Hure fader þat art in hevene blesced be þi name...

And the Ave Maria:

Heyl Marie of grace ifild...

These have been printed from this MS. in Wright and Halliwell's Reliquiæ Antiquæ, I. p. 169.

20. f. 70 b. A Hymn to our Lady.

Beginning:

O cunctis excelsior angelorum choris
Flos humani generis lilium pudoris
Rosa paciencie mater salvatoris
Audi queso domina vocem peccatoris...

The last leaf, f. 71, contains a variety of notes, several pairs of Latin verses, a remedy against fevers, a prayer to St Edmund, the difference between the compounds of loquor, &c.

From the table of contents in f. 2 it appears that this MS. formerly contained the following treatises in addition to those described above:

De quatuor virtutibus cardinalibus.
Formula vite monachorum secundum beatum Bernardum edita.
Regule sancti Benedicti.
Bernardus de precepto et dispensatione.
Meditaciones ejusdem.
De vii mortalibus et eorum speciebus.
Decem precepta decalogi.
Septem sacramenta.
Templum domini a magistro R. cognomento Grosseteste compilatum.
Donatus.

1688 Hh. VI. 12.

A small quarto, on silk paper, of 182 leaves, with about 24 lines in a page. Date, the XVth century.

THE FOUR GOSPELS IN GREEK.

Written very clearly throughout, almost without contractions. The writing varies considerably in different parts of the volume, but the gradation is complete. The iota subscript is not used. The text does not appear to differ from the Constantinopolitan family of MSS. generally, but the great carelessness of the scribe has introduced a number of obviously accidental variations; especially unintelligible omissions. Some of these have been supplied by a modern hand, which has likewise numbered the chapters and verses, and written on the first and last blank leaves. On 1 b an older hand has written 'Poyntz. dominus regit me et nihil mihi deerit.'

At the end are lists of the chapters of the first three Gospels, with prefaces to S. Mark and S. Luke, chiefly from Theophylact.

This MS. does not appear to have been examined by any editor, unless it be No. 443 of Scholz, which he describes thus, 'Cantabrig. ol. Askew.

624, membr. in fol., ev. cont.' The material of the MS. is paper, not parchment: but Scholz likewise has 'membr.' in the notice of his 441 (ψ 2622), which is merely Hervagius's edition of 1545 with MS. notes. It is however at least equally probable that the word 'Cantab.' was inserted at random, from a vague impression that 'Askew.' denoted a College in Cambridge. Scholz in like manner (p. cxi.) includes a 'Lambeth' MS., the Codex Ephesius, under 'Cantabrigienses.'

1689 Hh. vi. 13.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 83, with 32 lines in a page. Written, as appears by the colophon in f. 75, by Thomas Syngulton of Newerke in 1442.

1. 'Conclusiones Sacramentorum de scriptis fratris thome de alquino et aliorum doctorum extracte.'

Begins, (after a full table of contents,) f. 6:

Quoniam me sepius rogasti petre...

Ends (f. 75):

...quo omnia sacramenta virtutem optinent dominum videlicet ihm xpm qui &c.

This is a dialogue, the interlocutors being Silo and Petrus.

A medical recipe for 'a sowr leg' follows the colophon: and on f. 75 b, a collection of saws, some in leonine verses, e.g. 'Timor mentis est obstaculum veritatis.'

2. A portion of a treatise, De Penitentia, divided into chapters.

Begins (f. 76):

Penitentia fornicanti. Qui fornicationem fecit debet penitere per x annos...

Ends (f. 83):

...eadem pena et paulo minore punire.

On two fly-leaves at the beginning, and one at the end, is what seems to be a portion of the accounts of a monastery, giving the list of the food distributed to the poor on various occasions, the expense of the wine, salt-fish consumed, &c.

1690 Hh. vi. 14.

A thick 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 287 with 25 lines in a page. Date the xvth century. Each book has an illuminated initial.

'Liber Eruditionis Religiosorum' Humberti de Romanis.

Begins (after the Prologue, Erudire iherusalem...and the index of chapters):

Qui gratiam acceptam non agnoscit...

Ends (f. 252):

...O quam gloriosa dicta sunt de te civitas dei.

The rest of the MS is occupied by an index.

This has been printed frequently: at Paris by Jehan Petit., Lovan. 1575, &c. The authorship has been attributed by some to Gulielmus Peraltus See Cave, II. p. 303. Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. III. p. 286.

On the fly-leaf at the beginning is the name of Thomas Knyvet.

1691 Hh. VI. 15.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 97 with 20 lines in each page. It has rubricks and blue initial letters. Date the XIVth century.

SANCTORALE, or offices for the Mass for Saints' days and certain other festivals in the year.

There are catchwords after every eighth leaf; a leaf is missing after ff. 24, 30; two after f. 52, and one after f. 78, and two after 81: and the last leaf is torn away.

The MS. begins f. 1 with the rubrick, 'Missa de sancta Trinitate. Officium,' then follow 'missa de Spiritu Sancto, in commemoratione corporis christi, sancte crucis, de nomine Jesu,' with a promise to whoever celebrates this that 'triginta dies post obitum suum ad gaudium sempiternum perveniet,' and an indulgence of 3000 years from Pope Boniface, 'Missa de quinque vulneribus,' preceded by an account of a mission of St Raphael to Pope Boniface, 'de sepulcro Domini, de eterna sapientia, de transfiguratione, de Spinea Corona, etc.' then the offices on the feasts of the Archangels, and St Osmund, and then on particular occasions, 'in tempore pestilentie, pro pace, pro quacunque tribulacione,' etc.—to that 'in tempore pestilentie' is added a rubrick, with the promise that all who carry for five continued days a lighted candle in their hands while the mass is being said, shall avoid sudden death, which was proved 'in aumiana civitate et in partibus Zaracenis; afterwards the 'Missæ' for various saints, the 'Trigintale S. Gregorii, pro infirmis, pregnantibus,' etc., the last being 'In commemoracione omnium Sanctorum Officium.'

1692 Hh. VI. 16.

A quarto, on paper, containing 19 leaves, with about 30 lines in a page, written in English, in a neat hand of the latter part of the XVIth century. A quantity of coarse paper has been bound up with it to give thickness to the book.

'A Discourse with certain Reasons to move her majestie to erecte ane Office for the Registringe of the names of all Straungers and free denyzens inhabitinge within this Realme Quarterlie, and to prove that the same is necessarie and maye be graunted with a Fee incydent thereunto, and be charged upon the sayd Straungers.'

Begins:

'The multitude of Straungers borne receved into anye Common Wealthe have proved prejudiciall to the State, and the cause of muche Sedition...'

Ends:

'Therefore requysite is suche an office within the Realme, especiallye the same beinge soe muche for Straungers' good and benefitt.'

1693 Ii. 1. 1.

A small quarto, on parchment, of the xivth century, containing 126 leaves, in double columns of about 35 lines. The beginning of the volume is much injured by damp.

A Collection of Scientific Tracts.

1. ff. 1—12. 'Libellus de graduatione editus in Montepessulano per Magistrum Bernardum de Gordon.'

See Tanner. Also Coxe's Catal. Merton Coll. ccxxv.

Begins:

Doctrinam de gradibus triplicem ordinemus ordinare.

Ends:

Sunt igitur plures sapores, sed non bene sensu distinguibiles.

2. ff. 13—24. 'Robertus Anglicus Perscrutator Eboracensis, de Impressionibus Aeris.'

See Scriptores Ord. Prædic. i. 625 b. Echard, however, was not acquainted with any copy of this work.

Prologue begins:

De Aeris Impressionibus. Anno Christi 1325. In civitate Eboraci Anglie, &c.

Treatise begins:

Ante tamen ista oportet motores elementorum admixtionem cognoscere...

Ends:

...ratione experimento Deo dante denudavi qui vivit, &c.

3. ff. 25—39. 'Exafrenon Ricardi de Wallingford, sive de Judiciis Astronomie.'

See Tanner. Also Ee. III. 61, § 2.

Begins:

Ad perfectam noticiam Judiciorum artis Astrologie...

Ends:

...ad pristinam se transtulit paupertatem.

Explicit exaffrenon.

4. ff. 40—51. 'Liber Magistri Rogeri de Herfordia de judiciis Astronomie.'

See Tanner. The explicit makes it appear to be but the first book of a larger treatise.

Begins:

Quoniam Regulas artis Astronomice judicandi...

Ends:

...oportet inspicere diligenter, et completur Liber primus.

5. ff. 51—59. 'Liber de Tribus generalibus Judiciis Astronomie ex quibus cetera omnia defluunt editus a Magistro Rogero de Herfordia.'

Only the Prologue to the first book appears.

Begins:

Quoniam circa tria sit omnis Astronomica consideratio...

Ends:

...minimus vero septem horarum et 20 minutorum, &c.

6. ff. 61—104. 'Zael de Judiciis Astrorum.'

See Gg. VI. 3. f. 154 b.

7. ff. 104—109. 'Liber Jergis de significatione Planetarum in Domibus.'

Begins:

Sol cum fuerit in ascendente significat...

Ends:

...nec preferas aliud et invenies si deus voluerit.

8. ff. 108—111. 'Liber Messahala.' De ratione Circuli et Stellarum et qualiter operantur in hoc seculo.

The following is the Colophon:

Perfectus est liber Messehalle translatus a Johanne Hispaniensi translatus in Latinum cum laude Dei et ejus adjutorio.

Printed in the volume with the Astronomica of Julius Firmicus. Fol. Basil. 1551.

9. ff. 112—126. A tract on Astronomy.

Begins:

Tempus est mensura motus ut vult Aristoteles.

Ends:

...figuram autem facies secundum doctrinam Magistri Johannis de Lineriis a quo habeo scientiam meam.

A short chapter has been added in a similar handwriting, but with other ink, ending:

...pro communibus indiciis facere non oportet.

At the foot of the first page is written:

De communitate Fratrum Minorum Bakewellie. Ex dono Fratris Richardi de Hepworth.

In the binding:

Ex dono ornatissimi simul et doctissimi viri Johannis Rant olim Collegii Gonville et Caii socii dignissimi. 1655.

1694 Ii. 1. 2.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 135, in double columns of 28 lines. The heads of each chapter are in rubrick. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. Date, the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—112*a*. 'Of þe sacrament of Penaunce.'

Begins (after the table of chapters, and the Prologue, 'In the name of oure Lord'...):

Lavamini mundi estote. Beth waische and beth cleene. A gracious medicyne...

Ends:

...bi whom and in whom is everlastyng lyf. Amen.

This treatise is divided into three parts: 'Of Contricion,' 'Of Confession,' and 'Of Satisfaction.' After this is a chapter headed 'Recapitulation of alle þre parties: and hou a man may be refoormed in mynde, reson and wil.'

2. ff. 112*b*—135. 'A Cristen Mannes bileeve declarid bi holi writt and doctouris sentence.'

Begins:

Credo in deum, &c. Þat is I trowe in god euer wiþ trewe bileeve...

Ends:

...fro þe which ihesu crist us schilde. Amen.

At the end is written the name Thomas Norgate. In the fly-leaves at the beginning and end of the MS. are portions of a lease.

1695—1696

Ii. 1. 3, 4.

A quarto, on vellum, of the XIVth century, of 294 pages, containing 30 lines, with a broad margin. It is defective at both ends.

De Institutione Reipublicæ.

Parts of nine books or rubricks appear. One leaf is lost at the beginning. At the end of the sixth book two leaves appear substituted by the original scribe for the two original leaves, but only one page of the four has been filled. The rubrick headings also are wanting at the end of the volume. At the end the hiatus seems more considerable. It was originally in one volume. It is well written, and except for the lacunæ in good preservation.

The first words appearing are:

Nobis verificetur id dictum viri eloquentissimi Marci Varronis Canale scissum, &c.

The second rubric begins:

Est Respublica secundum Plutarchum Imperatoris Trajani institutorem...

The eighth rubric ends:

Item dicebat ungues si acriores fuerint non evellendos sed resecandos.

The last words in the volume are:

...pectore enim illa gestabat non humeris nec oculis [videndum.]

1697

Ii. 1. 5.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 89, in double columns of 34 lines. Date, the XIVth century. Some leaves are lost between ff. 26 and 27, and between ff. 30 and 31.

A Collection of Theological Tracts.

1. ff. 1—4 b. Alanus de Insulis 'De Alis Cherubim.'

Begins:

Prima ala est confessio, non laudis...

Ends:

...eternaque fruetis beatitudine. Amen.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, coll. 273—280.

The title is given by a later hand, who ascribes the treatise to Clement of Lanthony.

2. ff. 4 b—7 a. Martini Dumiensis 'Formula Vite honeste.'

Begins:

Quatuor virtutum species multorum sapientium...

Ends:

...insaniam aut deficientem devitet ignaviam.

This will be found in Migne's Patrologia, Vol. LXXII. coll. 23—28. See Dd. xv. 21, § 4.

3. ff. 7 b—26. Hildeberti Cenomannorum Episcopi 'Liber Moralis Philosophie.'

Begins:

Moralium dogma philosophorum...

Ends:

...ante oculos versamini judicis cuncta cernentis.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1854, coll. 1007—1056.

At the end are the lines

Laus tibi sit criste, per quem finit liber iste
Hic liber explctur, alius post hunc renovetur.

4. ff. 27—30. Dialogus inter virtutes et vitia. Imperfect at both ends.

Begins:

...vel terrenis negociis implicare...

Ends:

...Ecce ut ad vicinos nostros veniamus...

The remark of each vice is answered by the corresponding virtue.

5. ff. 31—39 b. Reformationes regulæ S. Benedicti ab Abbatibus in provincia Cantuarensi, A. D. 1278.

Begins:

De Sancto Augustino Cantuarensi et de Glaston dei gratia abbates generalis capituli ordinis sancti Benedicti...

Ends:

...sigilla nostra presentibus sunt appensa. Dat. Rading. Anno gratie, MCC septuagesimo octavo. Die Veneris prima post festum exaltacionis sancte crucis.

6. ff. 39 b—61 a. 'Ammonicio Benedicti ad Monachos.'

Begins:

Ausculta o fili, precepta magistri ..

Ends:

...facientibus hec regna patebunt eterna.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1847, coll. 215—930.

7. ff. 61 a—66. Extracts from various Councils and decretals 'De Statu Monachorum.'

Begins:

De statu Monachorum ex Concilio Lateranensi. Monachi non precio recipiantur...

Ends:

...circa id faciat emendari.

8. ff. 67—89. Expositio Canonis Missæ.

Begins:

De vestimentis sacerdotalibus. Amictus est primum vestimentum...

Ends:

...veritas sine errore, vita sine dolore, ad quem nos ducat, &c.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is a definition of apostasia.

1698 Ii. 1. 6.

A quarto, on paper, containing ff. 452, with from 20 to 30 lines in a page. Date, 1630.

'Casus Conscientiæ dictati a reverendo patre Jacobo Himmioben excepti a M. Joanne Weickardt.'

Begins:

Prolegomena in decem præcepta. Cum decalogi a Deo facta promulgatio...

Ends:

...unde carcer quoque est incertus et tortura injusta.

After ff. 352 and 365 are tables of kindred and affinity, in Latin and German. On the inside of the cover is written, 'Ex dono Guilielmi Nealand Bibliopolæ Cantabrigiensis, 1655.'

1699 Ii. 1. 7.

An octavo, on paper, consisting of 79 leaves, excluding a few blanks at the beginning and end, each page containing about 20 lines, distinctly written in a hand of the beginning of the xvith century (a.d. 1503).

1. 'Sexti Rufi Breviarium' (title in a later hand), fol. 1.

Begins:

Divo Valentiniano Imp. Aug. Sex. Ruff. f Brevem fieri...

Ends:

...inspiciantur queso.

Often printed. See Biogr. Univ., and Smith's Dict. Gr. and Rom. Biogr. s. v.

2. 'Cor. Nep[otis] illustris. Ro. Equitis in Attici Pomponii vitam exordium.'

Begins:

Pomponius Atticus ab origine...fol. 21.

Ends:

...Cecilii avunculi sui.

3. 'Rei militaris Modesti ad Theodosium Aug. libellus,' fol. 37.

Begins:

Res militaris in tres dividitur partes...

Ends:

...ducta olim cognoscitur.

Edited in Veget. et al. Script. Ant. de re milit. pp. 362—376, Vesal. 1670.

At the end is this note:

Militaris rei a me Timocosmo e confusissimis exemplaribus transcriptæ finis.

The same note recurs at the end of both the following tracts, the date (1503) being added on the last leaf.

4. 'Ejusdem de urbis magistratibus et primo de Rege,' fol. 48.

Begins:

Urbis Romæ et imperii Romani...

Ends:

...dictum ab avibus.

This tract is by Pomponius Lætus: it is edited by Leewius, De orig. et progr. Juris. Civ. Rom. p. 169 sqq. Lugd. Bat. 1672.

5. 'Antiquarum legum urbis Romæ Pomponii libellus,' fol. 73.

Begins:

Jus pluribus modis dicitur...

Ends:

...ad populum Romanum provocare.

Edited by Leewius, as above, p. 199—212.

1700 Ii. i. 8.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 90, with from 28 to 34 lines in a page. Date, the xviiith century. It is paged throughout.

'Opera Evangelica, or St James'es and Nicodemus'es Gospel, with some other pieces of Antiquity. Done into English.

To which is added a PRELIMINARY DISCOURSE concerning y^e^ following treatises together with the Latine copy, from which they were translated, annexed unto them.' Apparently written out for the press.

Begins:

There is no doubt to be made but that our Saviour...

Ends:

...the History of the Crucifixion of our Lord in the Hebrew tongue.

The contents are as follows:

1. pp. 3—24. 'The Preface, concerning the following Treatises.'

2. pp. 25—38. 'The Gospel of Saint James the brother of our Lord, concerning the Nativity of the Mother of God.'

3. pp. 39—72, and 141—146. 'The Gospel of Nicodemus, concerning the Passion and Resurrection of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.'

4. pp. 73, 74. Letter of 'Lentulus, governour of Jerusalem, to the Senate and people of Rome.'

5. p. 75. Description of our Lord 'Out of Nicephorus' Ecclesiastical History, Lib. 1. c. 40.'

6. p. 76. 'A letter of Pontius Pilate to the Emperour Tiberius, concerning Christ.'

7. p. 77. 'The account that Josephus the Jew gives of our Saviour Christ.'

8. p. 78. 'Out of the Letter of Dionysius to Polycarp.'

9. p. 79. 'Ignatius to John y^e^ elder.'

10. pp. 81, 82. 'Exemplar Epistolarum Abgari Regis et Christi Jesu per Ananiam cursorem hinc inde missarum.'

11. p. 83. 'Lentulus Hierosolymitarum Præses S. P. Q. Romano.' This is the Latin of § 4.

12. pp. 84, 85. 'Pontii Pylati Præsidis Syriæ de Christo Testimonium.' The Latin of § 6, preceded by an Argument also in Latin.

13. pp. 89—107. 'Protevangelium Sancti Patris nostri Jacobi fratris Domini Sermo Historicus de Nativitate Deiparæ.' The Latin of § 2.

14. pp. 108—127. 'Nicodemi discipuli de magistri et Salvatoris nostri Jesu Christi Passione et Resurrectione, Evangelium.' Unfinished. The Latin of § 3.

pp. 87, 88, 128—140, and 147 to the end are blank.

§§ 1, 2, 5, 7, 10, 12, are written in imitation of print—a remarkable specimen of calligraphy,—and the rest in an extremely good and clear hand.

On the title-page is written 'E libris Thomæ Davies,' who may possibly have been the translator.

1701—1703

Ii. 1. 9—11.

Three quartos, on paper, containing respectively ff. 552, 445, and 487, with 12 lines in a page. Date, the xviith century.

Michaelis Serveti 'Christianismi Restitutio.'

Begins:

Qui nobis hic ponitur scopus...

Ends:

...ab æterno in Deo relucentem et in æternum regnantem. Amen. Amen. M. S. V. [i. e. Michael Servetus Villanovanus.] 1553.

The contents of the treatise are given in p. 2:

1. De Trinitate Divina quod in ea non sit Invisibilium trium rerum illusio, sed vera substantiæ Dei manifestatio in Verbo et communicatio in Spiritu Libri septem.

2. De fide et justitia regni Christi Legis justitiam superantis et de Charitate Libri tres.

3. De Regeneratione et manducatione superna et de regno Antichristi Libri quatuor.

4. Epistolæ Triginta ad Johannem Calvinum Gebennensium concionatorem.

5. Signa Sexaginta regni Antichristi et Revelatio ejus jam nunc præsens.

6. De mysterio Trinitatis et veterum disciplina ad Philippum Melanchthonem et ejus collegas Apologia.

This is apparently a MS copy of the printed work of Servetus. See Drummond's Life of Servetus. Lond. 1848, p. 35.

1704

Ii. 1. 12.

A quarto, on paper, containing ff. 55, with 34 lines in a page. Date, 1622.

'Summulæ, auctore Reverendo in Christo Patre, Patre Valentin de Cespedes e societate Jesu Censore apud Logicæ quæsitores ejusque apud Albanenses Professore. Cum regis privilegio. Vallisoleti apud N. N. Anno 1622.'

Begins (after a page containing the alphabet in several different characters):

Ad artis dialecticam introductio prævia: vulgo summulæ. In Publica Divi Ambrosii Vallisoletani Schola, Anno 1621. Præfatio.
Quemadmodum gladiosi quando hæbetati sunt...

Ends:

...ea nullatenus prætermittenda judicavi. Laus Deo.

This is apparently a MS. copy of a printed book.

1705 Ii. 1. 13.

An octavo, on parchment, of 111 leaves, mostly written by one hand in the XIVth century. The number of lines in a page averages about 50.

A COLLECTION OF MATHEMATICAL TRACTS.

The several tracts in this volume do not commence on new leaves, but seem to have been written out by the copyist for his own use, continuously.

1. ff. 1—7. A Tract on Planetary Influences, and on Palmistry.

There is one table, and two drawings of the hand, with the lines explained. Imperfect at the beginning.

Begins:

Quarta tabula subsequente docetur qualiter omnis planeta...

Ends with a figure thus explained:

Ista figura docentur proprietates 4 partium mundi et 4 ventorum principalium et collateralium viz. 8 et de 4 elementis et 4 humoribus et 4 etatibus et 4 complexionibus.

On the same page are the elements of certain eclipses.

2. ff. 8—12. 'Algorismus in metro cum commento.'

Begins:

Hec Algorismus ars presens dicitur in qua
Talibus Indorum fruimur bis quinque figuris...

Ends (f. 11 b):

.. Si par per medium sibi multiplicato propinquam.
Expliciunt versus Algorismi.

This poem is printed in Halliwell's Rara Mathematica, and attributed by him to Alexander de Villa Dei. The comment follows the verses.

Ostendente Boicio in primo Arsmetrice sue.

3. ff. 12—14. 'Algorismus Minuciarum.'

Begins:

Quoniam cujuslibet quantitatis notitia ex sui relatione ad aliam noticiam maxime consistit...

Ends:

.. ideo jam eam dimitto. Explicit Algorismus minuciarum.

4. f. 14 a. 'Cautele Algorismi.'

Begins:

Si tu divinare velis quot denarios socius tuus habet...

Ends:

...et de similibus simile est inveniendum.

On the same page and the following are an old table of contents for the whole volume, referred to by a pagination by which it appears that 129 pages are lost from the beginning of the volume.

5. ff. 15—22. 'Compotus Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

Printed in Milan, 8vo, 1561, pp. 49.

6. f. 23. 'Regule Algorismi ad solvendas questiones.'

Begins:

Sunt autem quedam subtilia universis numerandi quæstionibus...

Ends:

...13 panes, quod est propositum. explicit, &c.

7. ff. 24—26 b. 'Liber Quantitatum Mensurandarum per numeros.'

Begins:

Quia cujuslibet quantitatis notitia ex numerorum relatione consistat...

Ends:

...de mensurationibus igitur quantitatum dicta sufficiant.

8. ff. 26 b—28. 'Compositio astrorum speculi generalis.'

Begins:

Ad laudem et honorem Dei nostri...

Ends:

...situatio perpendiculi, &c. datur.

9. ff. 29—33 a. 'Tractatus de Sphera Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

Printed frequently, e.g. fol. Ven. 1449.

10. ff. 33 b—36 b. 'Tractatus de Sphera Roberti Lincolniensis.'

Printed in the volume named in § 9.

On f. 37 a is a table for finding the moon's place.

11. ff. 38, 39. 'Practica Geometrie.'

A work on practical trigonometry, with figures.

Begins:

Geometrie due sunt partes formales...

Ends:

...tanta est putei profunditas.

12. ff. 40, 41 a. 'Compositio Speculorum Mirabilium.'

Begins:

Preparatio speculi in quo videas alterius imaginem et non tuam...

Ends:

...simul non visa et id est quod demonstrare voluimus.

13. f. 41 b. Tractatus 'de Multiplicatione specierum in visu secundum omnem modum.'

By Walter of Evesham.

See Tanner, under Odingtonus, who however makes no mention of this book.

Begins:

Hic investigantur condiciones et proprietates requisite ad visum...

Ends:

...propter egressum medii a temperamento raritatis.

14. ff. 48 b—52 b. 'Ars metrica Walteri de Evesham.'

Not named by Tanner.

Begins:

De proprietatibus numerorum secundum Boecium et Euclidem summa...

Ends:

...28^{m} qui est aggregatus 7^{rii}. Explicit.

15. ff. 52 b, 53. 'Liber Quintus Geometrie (Euclidis) per numeros loco quantitatum.'

By Walter of Evesham.

Not named by Tanner.

Begins:

Est prima questio quinti; Si fiant...

Ends:

...et numerorum quorum proportio 24 ad 8.

16. ff. 54, 55. 'Tractatus de Magnete.'

Begins:

Iste Tractatus de magnete quatuor partes continet...

Ends:

...in parte sui casus ut demonstrat figura.

Three figures follow, two belonging to the next treatise.

17. ff. 56—58 b. 'Theorica Planetarum Johannis de Sacro Bosco, correpta secundum Lincolniensem [Grosseteste].'

Begins:

Circulus excentricus dicitur...

Ends:

...planete et non corporaliter.

18. ff. 58 b—60 a. 'Liber Gaphar de temporis mutatione qui dicitur Gtazar Babiloniensis.'

Gaphar is probably Geber or Giaber, or Abou Moussah Djafar al Sofi. See Biogr. Universelle, where, however, this work is not named. See also Mm. II. 18, § 1.

Begins:

Superioris discipline inconcussam veritatem...

Ends:

...ita inter Austrum et Eurum Aquarius et Pisces locantur.

On f. 60 b are a few rules in trigonometry: 'Sinum rectum per versum invenire, &c.'

19. ff. 61—74 a. 'Tractatus quadripartitus de corda recta et versa,' &c.

Begins:

Quia canones non perfecte tradunt noticiam sinus...

Ends:

...ratio et solertia in Cathis.

20. ff. 74 b—76 b. 'Liber de Ascensionibus Nubium.'

Begins:

Ostendere quid sit crepusculum et que causa necessaria...

Ends:

...et illud est quod voluimus.

21. f. 76 b. 'De Terre occultationibus et apparitionibus stellarum.'

Begins:

Si autem de temporis mutatione...

Ends:

...id est canis ante unam diem.

22. ff. 77—80 b. 'Canones Fratris Rogeri de Cotum.'

The author is named in Tanner, p. 203, but he mentions only the second book of this work.

Begins:

Quelibet pars aliquota totius fractio sive minucia dicitur.

Ends:

...et supra terram fore non dubitabis.

The second book, 'Qui voluerit planetas equare...' is that described in the old index as 'Expositio quorundam terminorum Astronomie.'

23. ff. 81 b—91 b. 'Compositio et operatio Astrolabii Messahale.'

Begins:

Scito quod Astrolabium sit nomen Grecum...

Ends:

...computatio stature tue ad planitiem.

See Hh. VI. 8, § 4, which corresponds with the present tract as far as it extends. The figures have not been supplied here.

24. ff. 91 b—93 a. 'Tractatus de Chilendro' (Cylindro).

Begins:

Investigantibus Chilendri compositionem...

f. 93 b is a rough copy of a page of an almanack.

ff. 94—96, contain irregular astronomical notes. Three leaves following are cut out.

25. ff. 97—106. 'Theorica Alfragani.'

This appears to be an abridgment of the work translated and published by Christmann, 8vo, Frankf. 1618.

Begins:

Differentia prima in annis Arabum et Latinorum...

Ends:

...solis et lune; quod sufficiat. Deo gratias.

Expletus est Liber Alfragani in scientia astrorum et radicibus motuum celestium interpretatus a Johanne Hispalensi atque Lunensi et expletus est 24° die 5^{i} mensis lunaris anno Arabum 529. Exeunte 11° die mensis Martii. Era 1173, sub Dei laude et ejus auxilio.

26. ff. 106 b—117. 'Centilogium Ptolemei cum commento Haly.'

This translation does not appear to have been ever printed.

Begins:

Scientia stellarum ex te...

With comment:

Dixit Ptolemeus scripsi tibi Jesue...

Ends:

...et si non ambulaverit rebellis est de eodem climate.

The comment ends:

17 die mensis Martii, 12 die mensis Gumedi 2^{a}. anno Arabum 532.

Explicit Centilogium Ptholomei cum commento Haly perfectum die Veneris 2° Mensis Augusti, Anno Dni, M.CC.79.

27. ff. 118—123 a. 'Liber Florum Albumasar.'

Begins:

Hic est Liber que collegat Albumasar...

Ends:

...si Deus voluerit ipse est auxiliator.

28. ff. 123 b—125 a. 'Bernardus de Gordon de Astronomia Medicorum.'

It does not appear in his published works. This copy must have been made in his lifetime.

Begins:

Notandum quod sicut aries est...

Ends:

Omnino vani et nichil scientes reperiuntur.

29. ff. 125 a, 126 a. 'Epistola Messehalach in Eclipsibus Lune.'

Begins:

In nomine Domini salutem, Incipit Epistola Messehalach in rationibus eclipsium lune...

Ends:

...et ex secretis scientie astrorum. Perfectus est liber cum laude ejus et ejus auxilio.

30. ff. 126 a—132. Irregular Fragments.

These are omitted in the original table. The first is a commencement of 'Astronomia Hypocratis.'

31. ff. 133—156. Short astronomical extracts from Omar, Hermes, Alkindus, and Dorotheus.

These are as follows:—

Aomar de omnium planetarum conjunctionibus. Hermes de conjunctionibus planetarum in signis, De revolutionibus annorum mundi, De pluviis, tonitruis coruscantibus et ventis, De epidimiis siccitate et habundantia. Combustiones et submersiones, De pretio Rerum. Hermes de sciendo Dominum Anni. Aomar de qualitatibus aeris et temporum. Aomar de pluvia fulgure tonitruis et vento. Aomar de pestilentia guerratione submersione et exustione. Alkindus de aeris qualitate per singulos annos. Alkindus de annorum peste et salute. Dorotheus de Imbribus. Amphorismi in discordanciis Sapientum. De Amphorismis et regulis, verba abbreviata de Alcochoden. De partibus planetarum, de partibus XII domorum, de partibus extraneis. Amphorismi in natis et temporibus nativitatis. De existentia Planetarum in angulis. De Electionibus. Idem secundum Indos et Dorotheum. De 50 rebus astronomie. De visionibus sompniorum.

32. ff. 157—177 a. An Almanack, beginning from the year 1301, for Evesham, by Walter Odington.

A foot-note to the month of May by a later hand records the terrible pestilence at Avignon, and in other parts, in MCCCXLVIII. [sic].

33. ff. 177 a, 177 b. 'Radices Stellarum fixarum.'

Begins:

Stelle fixe alium habent motum...

Ends:

...per motum capitis draconis.

34. ff. 177 b, 178 b. 'Theorica de motibus Lune et Planetarum.'

Begins:

Luna 4 habet circulos et 5 motus.

Ends:

.. ista debent sufficere pro Theorica Planetarum.

35. ff. 178 b—181 a. 'Annotatio temporum pro ratione annorum mundi et Christi.'

Begins:

Ait Solinus in libro de mirabilibus mundi...

Ends:

...omnes dies a primo mundi usque ad incarnacionem 1577849. Explicit.

36. ff. 181 b—183. 'Albertus de naturis signorum.'

Not among the printed works of Albertus Magnus.

Begins:

Deus utitur corporibus celestibus...

Ends:

...Saturnus enim tenebras significat.

37. ff. 184—209. A Tract of Astrology or 'Geomancy.'

This is in a hand of the xvth century.

Begins:

Fortiores conjunctiones in arte Geomantie sunt...

Ends with diagrams.

38. ff. 209—211. A fragment of another copy of § 2, with a marginal comment.

A former possessor has been Antonius Rous. The name 'Symond Ockey off Hyngham' also occurs.

1706 Ii. 1. 14.

A small quarto, on parchment, written in the xiith century. There are twenty-two lines in a page, and 128 leaves. The initials are alternately green and red.

GALFRIDI MONUMETENSIS HISTORIA BRITONUM.

This copy must have been made before the author's death, and apparently also before the author's last recension, as it wants the last chapter and the last sentence of the preceding chapter. It ends thus:

sub duce Adelstano qui primus inter eos diadema portavit. Explicit.

A late hand (one Mark Broughton) has written marginal headings through much of the volume, and has scribbled moral sayings on the fly-leaf at the end.

1707

Ii. 1. 15.

A small quarto, on parchment, by various hands, mostly written in the XIVth century. There are 88 leaves. The number of lines in a page is very various.

TREATISES IN ARITHMETIC AND ASTRONOMY, &c.

1. ff. 3—7 a. 'Compositio Novi Quadrantis Magistri Profacii Judei Marsiliensis sapientis astronomi in Monte Pessulano editi.'

The author flourished 1350.

Prohemium begins:

Quoniam scientia Astronomie non completur nisi debitis instrumentis...

The treatise begins:

Describe circulum a b c d super centrum e...

Ends:

...nisi ut queras doctrinam illam. Explicit, &c.

ff. 7 b—9 are blank.

2. ff. 10—14 a. 'Quadrans Magistri Johannis Anglici in Monte Pessulano.

Begins:

Geometrie due sunt partes ..

Ends:

...et productum dabit capacitatem. Explicit Quadrans.

See Ii. III. 3, § 9

3. ff. 14 b—17 b. 'Tabule ad inveniendum locum Solis.'

4. 17 b. De cylindro.

Begins:

Cum volueris figurare chilindrum qui dicitur horologium viatorum...

Ends:

...et fac puncta. Explicit.

5. 18—25 b. 'Tractatus de Spera Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

This is the treatise as usual. The figures are peculiar.

6. 25 b—38 a. 'Compotus Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

This also is as usual.

7. ff. 38 b—43 a. 'Compotus Manualis Garlandi.'

See Tanner, p. 309. See also Ii. III. 3, § 2.

At the Explicit of the preceding section this is assigned to Johannes de Sacro Bosco, possibly as Editor.

8. ff. 43 b—46 a. A concise Calendar, by Grosseteste.

Grates Roberte tibi dentur episcope certe.

9. f. 46 b. Tabula ad sciendum quis planeta dominetur omni hora cujuslibet diei.

10. ff. 47—51. 'Algorithmus in Metro.'

See Ii. I. 13, § 2.

11. ff. 52—74. 'Notabilitates et questiones diverse necessarie.'

These are religious aphorisms, &c. The treatise is much mutilated. It is written in double columns in a peculiarly small and delicate hand of the XIIIth century.

Begins:

Quatuor sunt genera nominum regnum celorum possidentium...

The last aphorism appearing entire is:

In valle humilitatis divinarum stillicidiis Scripturarum pudicicie lilium ne marcescat irrigare memineris.

12. ff. 75—88. On the Sacraments.

Begins:

Cum Miserationes Domini sunt super omnia opera ejus...

Ends:

...propriam sequi opinionem.

In the binding is written:

Ex dono ornatissimi simul et doctissimi viri Johannis Rant, Olim Collegii Gon. et Caii Socii dignissimi 1655.

On the original fly-leaf:

Liber Fratris Michaelis de Northgate de Librario Sancti Augustini Cantuariensis. Dist. xiii. gradu. IIII. In quo continentur subscripta, etc. Liber cum P.

1708 Ii. I. 16.

An octavo of parchment, of 218 leaves, in various hands, written early in the XIVth century.

A Collection of Medical Treatises.

1. ff. 1—51. 'Practica Richardi Anglici.'

This title is in a hand of the XVIIth century, which has also added as follows: 'Est et alius liber compendium Ricardi inscriptus. Habeo practi-cam Anglicam M^re^ Rogero ascriptam que cum hac non ordine solum sed et sententiis convenit.'

The present tract is that commonly called Roger Bacon's, or Rogeriana, see Ee. II. 20, § 19, but it wants the conclusion that appears in that copy, De Medicinarum exibitione et earum preparatione. The order of chapters is also different.

Begins:

Habemus ab antiquis autoribus...

In Ee. II. 20, Sicut ab antiquis autoribus habemus...

Ends:

...Hec de sinthomatibus dicta sufficiunt.

The early part, ff. 1—39, of this part seems to have been copied after the latter.

2. ff. 52—58. 'Tabula ingeniorum curandi.'

Begins:

Regimen acutarum egritudinum consistit in tribus...

Ends:

...de crisi et criticis diebus breviter et cum integritate sicut scitis.

3. ff. 59—107. 'Glossa super Viaticum.'

This is in a close crabbed hand; the last leaf is torn out. The Viaticum is in seven books. It does not appear to be Constantine's.

Begins:

Ante omnem purgacionem particula est...

Ends (imperfect):

...unde fit febris continua.

4. ff. 108—157. 'Tractatus de simplici Medicina.'

See Ee. VI. 41, § 2. From which however the present copy has many variations. The last leaf is filled with ill-written notes.

5. ff. 158—176 b. 'Ricardus Anglicus de Signis.'

See Ee. II. 20, § 6, which, however, differs from this considerably, and seems to have been collated with it by the original scribe.

The present copy begins:

Vis medicine laudabilis ita duntaxat existit...

Ends:

...corruptionem jam conformatam in corde et in aliis membris.

See Ee. II. 20, f. 53 a, but what follows there occurs in this copy, transposed, down to 'visis his collige sarcinillas et fuge relicto egro.'

6. ff. 176 b—181 b. 'Ricardus Anglicus de Urinis.'

Begins:

Presentium corporis dispositionum...

Ends:

...inferius minus obscura.

7. ff. 181 b—193. 'De Divisione Practice secundum Avicennam.'

This is incomplete.

Begins:

Quod vult Avicenne Practica...

Ends:

...tamen si sunt acute et multum furiose non debet expectare.

8. ff. 194—218. 'A Treatise on Scientific Medicine.'

Irregularly written. Many names of the herbs are in English.

Begins:

In omnibus doctrinis que secundum ordinem currunt...

Ends:

Perspicaria, herba sicca et amara.

The fly-leaves at either end are fragments of an etymological MS. of the xvth century.

Ex dono ornatissimi simul et doctissimi viri Johannis Rant olim Collegii Gonvil et Caii Socii dignissimi. 1655.

1709 Ii. 1. 17.

A small quarto, on parchment, of the early part of the xivth century, of 154 leaves, containing 29 lines of text.

ASTRONOMICAL TRACTS.

At the beginning of the volume are appended 12 fly-leaves of paper containing a very careful table of the contents of the volume, made probably by Antony Rous, in the xvith century, also one of parchment which contains, besides a more concise list, some memorial tables in Astronomy.

1. ff. 1—7 a. 'Kalendarius Lincolniensis.'

The usual Calendar by Grosseteste, with the preface, 'Ad notitiam istius Calendarii...'

2. ff. 7 b—15 b. 'Ars Algorismi.' By Johannes de Sacro Bosco.

See Bale, p. 502.

Begins:

Omnia que a primeva origine rerum...

3. ff. 15 b—39 b. 'Compotus de Sacro Bosco.'

This is the Computus as usual.

4. ff. 39 b—42 a. Garland's Astronomical Tables, with a preface.

See Ii. i. 15, § 7.

5. ff. 42 b—56. 'Tractatus de spera Magistri Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

This is the treatise as usual, with figures.

6. f. 57. 'Tractatus Quadrantis.'

Begins:

Debes scire quod circulus solis 2 habet medietates...

Ends:

...de practica quadrantes dicta sufficiant.

7. ff. 61, 62. Tables of the place of the sun every day from leap year to leap year.

8. ff. 63—70 a. 'Theorica Planetarum,' by Johannes de Sacro Bosco.

See Ii. i. 13, § 17.

9. ff. 70 a—89 a. 'Canones Azarchelis super Tabulas Astronomie.'

Begins:

Quoniam cujusque accionis quantitatem...

Ends:

...precognitis ascencionibus precedentis anni.

Then follows an Appendix, ff. 89 a, 90 a. Quia in hujus operis inicio.

10. ff. 91—154. The Astronomical Tables of Azarchel.

ff. 149—154 are inverted by the binder.

Previous owners have been Antony Rous, see above, who bought the volume for 2*s*. 4*d*., and John King.

1710

Ii. i. 18.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 138, regularly paged, besides 4 fly-leaves at each end, with 34 lines in a page. Date, the XIVth century.

A Collection of Theological Tracts.

1. pp. 1—101. S. Bonaventuræ 'Stimulus Amoris.'

Begins (after a table of chapters on the fly-leaves, and the Prologue, 'Ad te levavi animam meam...'):

Currite gentes undique et miremini...

Ends:

...set nostram devocionem excitare quam nobis prestet et donet qui est benedictus in secula seculorum. Amen.

Opp. Mogunt. VII. pp. 193 sqq.

The chapters are a good deal misplaced. A 'Pars quarta' is begun after cap. XV. headed 'De operibus Pietatis,' ending with cap. XI. of Pars II., after which comes the Explicit, and the 'Descriptio beatitudinis,' i.e. cap. XIII. of Pars II.

2. pp. 102—131. 'Meditationes beati Anselmi.'

Begins:

Terret me vita mea tota...

Ends:

...occupet me totum et possideat me, quia tu es cum patre, &c.

This contains only some of the Meditations: the first is Med. 1, the last Med. 10, as they appear in Migne's edition, Par. 1853, I. coll. 722 sqq.

3. pp. 132—147. 'Hugo [de S. Victore] de arra anime.'

Begins:

Loquar secreto anime mee...

Ends:

...hoc totis precordiis concupisco.

Opp. Migne, Par. 1854, T. II. coll. 951—970.

4. pp. 148—247. Tractatus de Beatitudinibus.

Begins:

De Paupertate. Beati pauperes, &c. Paupertas alia mala alia bona ..

Ends:

...non advertit corporis sordem Deus, set immundiciam anime.

5. pp. 248—259. S. Bonaventuræ 'Meditacio super Antiphona beate Virginis Marie genetricis Dei et Domini nostri ihu xpi refugii omnium peccatorum.'

Begins:

Ad salutandam beatam virginem primo debes...

Ends:

...O dulcis anima mea virgo Maria. Amen.

This is cap. XIX. Pars III. of the Stimulus Amoris. Opp. VII. pp. 231—233.

6. pp. 260—269. S. Bonaventuræ Meditatio in Orationem Dominicam.

Begins:

Pater noster, &c. O immensa clementia. O ineffabilis benignitas...

Ends:

...totaliter in te ferar in vita eterna quam nobis concedas qui, &c.

This is cap. XVII. Pars III. of the Stimulus Amoris. Ibid. pp. 228—231.

7. pp. 269—276. Ejusdem Meditatio in Ave Maria.

Begins:

Ave Maria, &c. Tibi domine deus meus gratias quas possum...

Ends:

...et in eternum glorificata.

This is cap. xvi. Pars iii. of the Stimulus Amoris. Ibid. pp. 227, 228.

In p. 147 is written by the scribe, 'Ora obsecro pie lector pro anima fratris Ricardi de Cantebrigg. qui hunc librum scripsit pro excitanda tue mentis devocione in deum.'

On a fly-leaf at the beginning are some leonine hexameters, beginning:

Qui librum legis memorare novissima Regis
Pendentis Christi sic propter crimina mundi, and on a fly-leaf at the end is a conversation of 'quidam' with 'Abbas Antonius.'

1711 Ii. 1. 19.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 212, in double columns of 35 lines. Date, the xivth century.

1. ff. 1—183. 'Liber Rabbi Mosse [Maimonidis] qui dicitur Dux dubiorum vel Dux neutrorum qui etiam ab aliquibus dicitur mater philosophie.'

Begins:

In nomine Domini, &c. Notam fac mihi viam, &c. Istius libri prima intencio...

Ends:

...sedentibus in regione umbre mortis lux orietur eis.

This translation is by Augustinus Justinianus, Nebiensium Episcopus: it was printed by Johannes Badius Ascensius, Par. 1520.

The prologue and last two chapters are wanting in the MS., as has been remarked, on f. 1, by Babington, a possessor of the book in 1562.

2. ff. 184—201. 'Tractatus Magistri Petri de Arvernis, Episcopi Parisiensis, Cur Deus Homo.'

Begins:

Ponam ad has quatuor radices...

Ends:

...ad suam gloriam et gaudium et acceptissimum famulatum.

This is probably the same person as Petrus de Alvernia, who flourished in 1275: his title of Bishop seems to be incorrect. See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Inf. Latin. T. v. p. 239.

3. ff. 201—208. 'Tractatus de Scala Paupertatis domini Lyncolniensis' [Grosteste].

Begins:

Beati pauperes spiritu, &c. Vos omnes et singuli hujus sancte congregationis...

Ends:

...subjecta figura visibiliter descripsimus.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 349.

4. ff. 208, 209. A Letter of Innocent III. respecting the appointment of an Italian to a canonry of Lincoln, with the Answer of Bishop Grosteste.

This is not in the collected editions of the letters of Innocent III.

5. ff. 209—211. 'Tractatus Lincolniensis [Grosteste] de dotibus.'

Begins:

Primo dicendum est de dote...

Ends:

...Ysai. ii°. Quid ultra debui facere vinee mee et non feci.

This is in a different hand from the rest of the MS.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 349.

6. ff. 211, 212. 'Tractatus domini Lincolniensis de Potentia.'

Begins:

Omne ens aut est ens actu...

Ends:

...de potentia ad effectum.

This is in a third hand.

1712 Ii. i. 20.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 251, with 38 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century. The MS. is imperfect at the end.

Sermones fratris Jacobi de Losano.

Begins:

Propior est nostra salus, Rom. 13. In morbo qui sequitur cursum solis...

Ends:

...vix fuit in inferno qui...

The volume is divided into two parts: ff. 133—136 containing an index of the Sermons in a hand that has added marginal notes throughout. This is followed by a Sermon on Advent in the same hand, and the original scribe begins again f. 140.

Jacobus of Lausanne flourished in 1317. These Sermons were published, Par. 1530.

On f. 1 is the name of 'R. Catton.'

1713 Ii. i. 21.

An octavo, on vellum, containing ff. 56, with 38 lines in each page. Date, the XIIIth century.

'[D]E INICIIS LEVITICI ET DE SACRIFICIORUM RITU, hoc est muneribus et salutaribus, et pro peccatis: et quomodo affert pontifex pro peccato suo, et pro peccato sinagoge vel pro anima quæ ex populo terræ peccaverit, non voluntate.'

Begins:

Sicut in novissimis diebus verbum dei ex Maria virgine...

Ends:

...fidei et caritatis et spei ac tocius sanctitatis; ipsi gloria in eterna secula seculorum. Amen.

This treatise is divided into 16 books.

1714 Ii. i. 22.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 214, with 29 lines in a page. Date, the XIVth century. The headings are rubricated throughout the MS.

A COLLECTION OF THEOLOGICAL TRACTS; chiefly of BISHOP GROSTESTE.

1. ff. 1—101. 'Liber Hugonis de Sancto Victore de Penitentia.'

Begins (after a table of heads):

Cum miseraciones domini sint super omnia opera ejus...

Ends:

...et hec ad presens de prima sufficiunt.
Hic liber est scriptus qui scripsit sit benedictus
Explicit hic Hugo studentibus ocia fugo.

This is given to Grosteste by Tanner, Biblioth. p. 349.

There are many marginal notes, and some at the end of the treatise. In f. 102*b* are five hexameters, containing the Ten Commandments; the first is,

Disce Deum colere, nomenque Dei revereri.

2. ff. 103—113. Tractatus in 1 Cor. iii. 17. 'Templum Domini sanctum est, quod estis vos.' Roberti Grosteste.

Begins:

Templum Domini, &c. Sermo iste quamvis omnes tangat...

Ends:

...quam rite poterit romam adeat.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 350.

3. ff. 113—117. 'Ordo qualiter penitentia sit danda.'

Begins:

Primo jubeat presbiter penitentes...

Ends:

...quam suscepit aqua per invocationem trinitatis.

4. ff. 117—124. 'De Conjugio.'

Begins:

Conjugium quod etiam matrimonium appellatur...

Ends:

...homines ad nuptias frequenter iterandas.

This is given to Grosteste by Pitseus. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 350.

5. ff. 125—132. 'Qualiter debet fieri inquisicio in confessione a sacerdote.'

Begins:

Si autem penitens sumptus fuerit...

Ends:

...ut recipiatur et gravius puniatur.

6. ff. 132—142. 'Prognostica Juliani Toloptane sedis Episcopi.'

Begins:

Peccato primi hominis actum...

Ends:

...edomaverit ingluviem.

Julianus, sometimes incorrectly called Pomerius, was Bishop of Toledo from 680 to 690. This treatise was printed, Lips. 1535, and frequently since.

7. ff. 142—150. 'Meditaciones beati Bernardi.'

Begins:

Multi multa sciunt et seipsos nesciunt...

Ends:

...et omni populo amabilis appareas.

Opp. ed. Paris. 1839, T. II. coll. 661—991.

8. ff. 151—174. 'Innocencius papa tertius de officio missæ.'

Begins:

Tria sunt precipue quibus lex divina consistit...

Ends:

...et continue totum censui subscribendum.

This is a partially abridged edition of the treatise usually called De Sacro Altaris Mysterio.

Opp. ed. Migne, Paris. T. IV. coll. 774—916.

A paragraph in a different hand, about Nero, follows.

9. ff. 175—193. 'Lucidarius. Dialogus inter Magistrum et Discipulum de rebus divinis in S. Scriptura contentis.' This explanatory title is given in a modern hand on a fly-leaf at the beginning of the MS.

Begins:

Gloriose magister rogo ut ad quesita...

Ends:

...et videas bona Jerusalem omnibus diebus vite tue. Amen.

This is the treatise usually called 'Elucidarium,' and printed in the editions of St Anselm's works, e. g. Par. 1675, pp. 457—487. For some account of it, see Migne's edition, I. col. 39.

10. ff. 193—203. 'Liber beati Bernardi Abbatis super Missus Gabriel.'

Begins:

Scribere me aliquid et devocio jubet...

Ends:

...opusculum devotissime destinavi.

This contains the four Homilies 'De Laudibus Virginis Matris.'

Opp. Par. 1839, T. I. coll. 1665—1705.

After some notes, f. 205 contains a story of a certain 'armiger,' who seduced the daughter of 'quidam judeus valde dives.'

f. 206 is blank.

11. ff. 207—214. Summa de electionibus Episcoporum auctore L. de Sumercote.

Begins:

Omnibus sancte matris ecclesie filiis ad quos presens scriptum pervenit...

Ends:

...cum dilectus.

The reverse of f. 214 contains a list of particular cases of elections.

A fly-leaf at the beginning gives a partial table of contents, a note about the English translation of § 7; a list of the things 'attendenda in Elemosina,' &c.

On f. 1 is the name 'Robertus de Rochewelle, monachus.'

1715 Ii. i. 23.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 69, in double columns of 34 lines. Date, the xvth century.

Nicholæ de Lyra 'Postilla super Apocalipsin.'

Begins:

Oportet te iterum prophetare, &c. Sicut dixi in principio...

Ends:

...oratio pro omnibus fidelibus cum dicitur Gratia domini nostri, &c.

On f. 1 is the name 'R. Catton.'

This is printed in the editions of the Bible which contain the Glossa or Postilla of Nicholas de Lyra, e.g. Basle, 1522.

1716 Ii. i. 24.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 228, in double columns of 42 lines. Date, the xivth century. The MS. is paged throughout: pp. 213—228 are misplaced. Two leaves are lost between pp. 346, 347.

A Collection of Theological Tracts, chiefly Sermons.

1. pp. 1—113.

Anonymi cujusdam Sermones Dominicales et de Sanctis.

Begins:

Salomon sedens super ligna disputavit...Dominus noster, karissimi, aliquid precipit...

Ends:

...ut ad illam plenam et veram pervenire valeamus.

2. pp. 114—145.

'Sermones Magistri Rogeri Tancrei.'

Begins:

Cum audisset iohannes, &c. Precursor domini ihesu christi...

Ends:

...non voluptatis lubrico resolutus.

A table of our Lord's earthly relations follows.
The next leaf is blank.

3. pp. 149—202.

'Sermones Magistri Guillelmi de Montibus.'

Begins:

Constituit dominus populum suum...

Ends:

...datur ad beatificandum ut ad fruicionem.

Guillelmus de Montibus flourished in 1217. See Dd. IV. 27; Ii. I. 26, § 1.

4. pp. 213—228 and 203—211.

'Tractatus Magistri Alani Porretani [i.e. A. de Insulis] de arte predicandi.'

Begins:

Vidit Jacob scalam a terra usque ad celum...

Ends:

...in christo vitam invenies et illam habebis in ipso, domino prestante, &c.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, coll. 111 sqq.

5. pp. 229—240.

'Sermones Magistri Hildewini.'

Begins:

Celi enarrant gloriam dei, &c. Ecce hic Eleazer descendit...

Ends:

...precibus et meritis genitricis sue. Qui &c.

This Hildewinus was an Englishman, known only by these sermons. See Pitseus, p. 864, who mentions this MS.

6. pp. 241—248.

Sermones 'Magistri Alexandri Nequam.'

Begins:

Convertimini ad me, &c. Juxta est dies perditionis fratres mei...

Ends:

...plenus ager cui benedixit dominus.

7. pp. 248—257.

'Sermones Magistri R. Tancrei de Spiritu Sancto.'

Begins:

Spiritus domini replevit orbem terrarum. Quadremus...

Ends:

...et in cathedra pestilencie non sedit cum quo regnare, &c.

8. pp. 257—273.

Sermones 'magistri Hildewini.'

Begins:

Ascendisti in altum, &c. Fratres mei karissimi, hodie non audictis...

Ends:

...et advocatus noster ihesus christus dominus noster qui venturus, &c.

9. pp. 273—278.

Sermones 'Magistri A. Nequam.'

Begins:

Si panes comedis et panem comedes...

Ends:

...qui carnem pro nobis assumere dignatus est Jhesus Christus dominus noster qui, &c.

10. pp. 279—331.

'Sermones Magistri Hildewini.'

Begins:

Meliora sunt verba tua, &c. Filii si in patris solempnitate...

Ends (unfinished):

...set tam asine pullo quia nec vigo...

11. pp. 332—339.

'Prior de Essebi de Artificioso modo predicandi.'

Begins (after the prologue 'Venerabili abbati, salutem...Jocundum humane infirmitatis...):

In omni scriptura et sermone...

Ends:

...visio pacis eterne, in qua vivis domine rex glorie ihesu, cum patre, &c.

Most probably this is Guillelmus of Esseby, who flourished in 1227. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 265, who refers to this MS.

This is followed by three sermons, the last two headed 'Sermo ad eruditos' and 'Sermo ad prelatos,' occupying pp. 339—346.

12. pp. 347—363.

'Sermones Prioris de Essebi.'

Begins:

Vigili cura, mente sollicita, summo consensu...

Ends:

.. digneris domine ihesu rex glorie, qui &c.

See Gg. I. 32, § 15, where this is given to St Augustine.

13. pp. 367—414. The colophon gives the title.

'Liber de Tropis' Petri Pictaviensis.

Begins:

Videmus nunc per speculum, &c. Hoc verbum apostolicum...

Ends:

...Memores estote uxoris Loth.

See Gg. IV. 17, § 1.

14. pp. 415—457.

Tractatus de variis dictis Domini in Evangelio.

Begins (after a table of heads):

Dominus dicit in evangelio. Majorem caritatem nemo habet...

Ends:

...interior homo nutritur ac pascitur.

This is a collection of common-places on different words of our Lord, on 80 subjects, of which a list is given; the first is, 'De caritate,' the last, 'De lectione.'

Two leaves at the beginning contain a collection of proverbs and moral sayings, &c., some in leonine verses; the first is,

Fortunam reverenter habe quicunque repenter
Dives ab exili progrediere domo.

The reverse of the last leaf contains an account of different kinds of engraving.

1717

Ii. 1. 25.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 312, in double columns of 37 lines. Date, the xvth century. A later hand has paged the MS.

'Legendæ Sanctorum quas compilavit frater Jacobus nacione Januensis de ordine predicatorum.'

Begins (p. 4, after the prologue, 'Universum tempus presentis vite...' and the index of chapters):

Adventus domini per quatuor septimanas...

Ends (p. 614):

...ut tandem in eo habitare dignetur per gloriam, quod ipse nobis, &c.

Three leaves follow with some legends, 'De lilio in ore clerici invento,' &c. in a different and very minute hand.

This MS. of the 'Aurea Legenda' corresponds with the printed editions. On f. 620 is the first line of a will of 'Beatrix, quondam uxor Willelmi Gilbert.'

1718

Ii. 1. 26.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 187. Written in various hands, in the xvth century. A later hand has paged the MS.

A Collection of Theological Tracts.

1. pp. 1—6. Compendium Pœnitentiale 'secundum Magistrum W. de Montibus, cancell. Lincoln.' glossatum.

The gloss is written irregularly between the verses, references to it being marked by a letter in red being placed over the word to be explained. The beginning is injured. The author is Gulielmus Montanus, or de Montibus, or Leycestrius, who flourished in 1217. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 361, and Dd. iv. 27.

The next leaf, which is almost illegible, seems to contain some remarks on original sin.

2. pp. 9—55. 41 lines in a page.

52 Sermones Dominicales.

Begins:

Rex tuus venit. Math. Ne desperare possit genus humanum...

Ends:

...fides tua te salvum fecit. Explicit.

pp. 56—69 contain explanations of various texts, chiefly connected with the Advent of our Lord, in the same hand as the Sermons.

3. pp. 69—74.

The Hymn to our Lady, 'Salve virgo virginum stella matutina,' with the words of the antiphon, 'Salue regina, mater misericordiæ,' &c. prefixed to each quatrain. This is followed by the hymn, 'Ave digna dulcior melle venerari,' with the words of the angelick salutation prefixed in the same way.

4. pp. 75—137. 39 lines in a page.

Tractatus 'in Mandata per Lincolniensem,' i. e. Grosteste.

Begins:

Sicud dicit Apostolus, plenitudo legis...

Ends:

...exprimitur in istis sex mandatis.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 348, note b, who mentions this MS.

5. pp. 138—173. In the same hand as the preceding.

'Tractatus ejusdem de veneno.'

Begins:

Racio veneni potissime convenit...

Ends:

...pro magno omnibus aliis derelictis.

This is a treatise on the seven deadly sins.

At the end a different hand has added the note, 'Alii dicunt quod iste sit tractatus moralis de veneno magistri Johannis Acton canonici Lincolniensis.'

6. pp. 174—180. 29 lines in a page.

Anonymi 'de x preceptis.'

Begins:

Contra ignorantes per prophetiam dominus dicit...

Ends:

...in tranquillitate contempnit.

This consists of extracts from St Augustine, St Ambrose, Bp Grosteste, &c. The commandments themselves are given in English rhyming verses.

Then follow paragraphs, 'Contra desperacionem,' p. 180, 'Contra presumpcionem,' p. 181, and 'Contra curatos si non faciant officia sua,' pp. 182—186. This last is unfinished, and a note refers to the end of the volume, p. 363, § 10.

7. pp. 187—246. Written in a very clear hand, with 40 lines in a page.

'Sancti Ysidori Episcopi Junioris Testimonia de Christo.'

Begins (after the table of chapters):

Domine sancte sorori florentine Ysydorus. Quedam que diversis temporibus...

Ends:

...in quibus habitat in eternum. Amen.

This is the treatise usually styled 'De fide catholica contra Judæos.' S. Isidor. Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1850, T. VI. coll. 449—538.

Three paragraphs on the Incarnation from St Augustine follow.

8. ff. 247—257. Written in a minute hand, with 51 lines in a page.

'Augustinus de spiritu et anima.' [Alcheri Carthusiensis.]

Begins:

Quoniam dictum est mihi ut meipsum cognoscam...

Ends:

...aliud non sit quam racio.

This contains only the first 33 chapters. Opp. S. Augustin. Par. 1837, T. VI. coll. 1141—1172.

The headings to the chapters are given in rubrick; 5 pages of what appear to be a commentary on the treatise follow.

9. pp. 263—362. About 28 lines in a page.

'Postillæ Ricardi Heremite de Hampole supra ix lectiones mortuorum.'

Begins:

Parce michi Domine, &c. Exprimitur autem in hiis verbis humane condicionis...

Ends:

...inhabitans in eternum.

Four hexameter lines follow, ending:

Quem geris in jubilum tu Christe corona Ricardum.

Printed by Rembolt, Par. 1510, Colon. 1536.

10. pp. 362—371. In the same hand as § 6.

Paragraphs from the Fathers, 'Contra religiosos de austeritate religionis murmurantibus,' 'Testimonia scripture contra curatos negligentes,' the rest of the treatise in § 6; and 'Testimonia scripture contra septem peccata mortalia.' This last is written in the margin of a few leaves of what has been a collection of Canons Ecclesiastical of various English Bishops.

1719 Ii. i. 27.

A quarto, on parchment, of 178 leaves; the handwriting is the same throughout, but of various size; dated 1424.

A Collection of Astronomical Tracts.

1. ff. 1—6. 'Tabula Minutiarum Proportionalium.'

This gives the products of integers up to 60×60.

2. f. 7. 'Canon super predictam tabulam de minutiis proportionalibus.'

Begins:

Circa predictam tabulam...

Ends:

...predicte sufficiunt.

3. ff. 7 b—9. 'Canones super tabulas Magistri W. Reed.'

William Reade was consecrated Bishop of Chichester, 1369.

Begins:

Volentibus pronosticare futuros effectus planetarum...

Ends:

...sed istud pro communibus judiciis facere non oportet.

4. ff. 10—15 a. 'Tabule Magistri Willielmi Reed.'

'Expliciunt tabule M^{i} Willi Reed, et nota quod sunt calculate de tabulis Alfonsii regis.'

5. ff. 15 b, 16. 'Tabule Latitudinum Planetarum, sequente canone.'

6. f. 17 a. Two tables.

7. ff. 17 b, 18 b. '(A.D. 1348). Canon super Almanak editum pro civitate Oxonie.'

See Tanner, sub Redaeus.

Begins:

Vera loca omnium planetarum...

Ends:

...vel dubium alicubi inveniatur.

8. ff. 18 b—39 a. 'Tabule Almanak pro civitate Oxon. cujus longitudo est 15 graduum.'

9. ff. 39 a—41. 'Canon super Kalendarium Curiosum.'

Begins:

Kalendarium istud dividitur in duas partes.

Ends:

...ascendit ad sidera separatus.

10. ff. 41—54 a. 'Kalendarium Curiosum.'

There are considerable annotations to the tables.

11. ff. 54 b—56 b. 'Canones Magistri Johannis de Lyneriis Picardini Diocesis Ambianensis super Tabulas Alfonsii olim regis Castelli.'

Other works of this author are to be found in Ee. III. 61.

Begins:

Quia ad inveniendum loca planetarum...

Ends:

...dic eclipsym lune possibilem in illo mense.

12. ff. 56 b—61 a. 'Canones Eclipsium cum aliis diversis Johannis Lynerii.'

Begins:

Utrum planeta sit statorius directus aut retro...

Ends:

...qui fuit in radice et sic post propositum.

Expliciunt canones, &c. ordinati per Magistrum Johannem de Lyneriis Picardinum Diocesis Ambianensis anno Incarnationis Christi 1322°. Restat in honore et pace perpetua. Amen.

13. ff. 61 a—140. 'De Judiciis Eschendenensibus.'

The name Eschenden through the first pages is written over a contemporary erasure; a modern hand has added the surname Estwood. See Tanner under Æschendenus, and below. The beginning is transposed to the end, commencing at f. 134 a, as the scribe has noted.

Begins (fol. 134 a):

Incipit summa judicialis de accidentibus mundi quam compilavit Magister Johannes Eschendenus. Intentio mea in hoc libro...

Begins (fol. 61 a):

Qualiter sit pronosticandum de accidentibus mundi quæ significantur...

Ends (fol. 134 a):

...finem posui gratias referrens deo patri, cui &c....

Explicit—per Fratrem Thom. de Wyndele qui summam inceptam compilavit Magistri Johannis de Eschenden quondam socii Aule de Mertone in Oxoniis cujus summa finem fecit a. d. 1348.

14. ff. 141—148. 'Canones super Tabulas Alfonsii.'

Begins:

Tempus est mensura motus ut vult Philosophus...

Ends:

...figuram autem facies secundum doctrinam Magistri Johannis de Lyneriis, etc.

15. ff. 149—170. 'Tabulæ Alfonsii.'

The original figures for Toledo are reduced to the true longitude, &c. of English towns by Thomas de Wyndele.

16. ff. 171—178. 'Theorica Planetarum Lincolniensis.'

See Ii. 1. 13, § 17. This last is dated by the scribe A.D. 1424, and is coarsely written.

Great part of this volume is punctuated in red ink. It is in good preservation, but has suffered in binding.

1720 Ii. 1. 28.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 178, in double columns of 43 lines. Date, the xvth century.

'S. Augustini Sermones de Verbis Domini et de Verbis Apostoli.'

Begins (after the list of titnli):

Evangeliam audivimus et in eodem Dominum...

Ends:

...ego erogem, veniet qui excitat. Amen.

These contain the Sermons, 'De Verbis Domini,' and 1—24 of those 'de Verbis Apostoli,' according to the 'vetus ordo.' Opp. ed. Par. 1838, T. v. They are divided into four sections, headed, 'De Verbis Domini secundum Matheum,' 'secundum Lucam,' 'secundum Johannem,' and 'De scripturis veteribus et novis et de verbis apostoli contra Arrianos.'

Between those 'secundum Lucam' and 'secundum Johannem' is an Index to the Sermons, and to a few other tracts of SS. Augustine and Ambrose, occupying ff. 62—76.

On a fly-leaf at the end is written: 'Liber beati Augustini, etc., donatus communi librarie scolarium Universitatis Cantabriggie per Magistrum Walterum Crome sacre Theologie Professorem, anno Domini millesimo quadrin-gentesimo quadragesimo quarto; studentes orate pro eo et anima ejus. Primus liber donatus in ordine, 2us donatus liber Armakanus cum Augustino contra Donatistas.'

1721 Ii. 1. 29.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 258, written in various hands in the xvth century.

S. Augustini Opuscula, with a few other treatises.

1. ff. 1—5. 'Tabula super libros Augustini de spiritu et anima per Crome compilata.'

This is followed by a single leaf, containing a portion of a sermon.

2. ff. 7—38. Tractatus 'De penitentia,' 'de verbo domini et efficacia ejus,' &c.

Begins:

Hugo de sacramentis...

Ends (incomplete):

...per omnia e quali et quo...

This is a compilation from St Augustine, &c. The name Crome occurs several times on the top of the page, he being probably the scribe. See below, § 32, and also Ii. 1. 28.

3. ff. 39—61. Eustacii versio Latina Tractatus 'S. Basilii in Exameron.'

Begins:

Eustacius sincletice germane diaconisse salutem in Christo...

Ends (unfinished in the middle of the seventh book):

...diutius ore subacta diffluerct.

This is Eustachius, or Eustathius Afer, who flourished in 440. This translation is printed in the edition of St Basil, published at Paris in 1721. See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Inf. Lat. II. p. 130.

Nempe gerit flores Bernardus nobiliores.

Printed by Matthæus Audebertus, Lugd. 1579.

The author of the Catal. MSS. Coll. Oxon., who does not seem to be aware that this work has been printed, suggests (Oriel, xlvii.) that Bede may have been the compiler.

2. ff. 203—211. 'Liber Bede de natura rerum.'

Begins (after the list of chapters):

Operacio divina que secula creavit...

Ends:

...usque ad occidentem extenditur.

Opp. ed. Giles, Lond. 1843, T. vi. pp. 100—122

3. ff. 211—214 'Tractatus de Speculatione Dei.' Unfinished.

Begins, after a list of chapters:

Beatus vero cujus est auxilium abs te...

Ends:

...per speculum videre Deum ubi ad modum.

The first chapter is 'De gradibus ascensionum in Deum,' which in consequence has been given as the title of the treatise in an old table of contents at the beginning.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning are paragraphs about Alexander magnus and quidam rex.

On f. 3 is the name 'Henricus de Lakeham, prior Norwyci.'

1725 Ii. i. 33.

A quarto, on vellum, 450 pages, of 24 lines each, handwriting Normanno-Saxon, and ascribable to the early part of the xiith century.

Homilies, Passions of Saints, and other sacred pieces, in Anglo-Saxon.

1. Twenty-four Chapters of Ælfric's translation of Genesis. (pp. 4-44.)

The text, though somewhat modernized, is substantially the same as that printed in the Heptateuchus, ed. Thwaites, Oxf. 1698. Ælfric's dedicatory letter to the ealdorman Æthelweard is prefixed.

2. 'Homilia in Dominica Passionis:' title by a later hand.

1726 Ii. 1. 34.

A quarto, on parchment, containing 150 leaves, with 31 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in an excellent hand of the xivth century. The initial letters of the chapters are coloured, that on f. 8 containing the figure of a doctor.

'Rolandini summa' Artis Notariæ cum Notulis.

The first 7 leaves are occupied with a table of heads, and the last 16 with the notes.

Begins (after the list of heads):

Antiquis temporibus super contractuum...

Ends:

...soli bonorum omnium tribuatur auctori, cujus, etc.

This was printed Taurin. 1479, Spir. 1590, &c.

The author is Rolandinus Rodulphinus de Passageriis, of Bologna, who flourished about 1300.

1727 Ii. i. 35.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 90, with 24 lines in a page. Date, the xiith century. The MS. is imperfect at the beginning. There are several very curious initial letters.

Sancti Augustini Opuscula.

þ' aren o God as we trow most

Ends (fol. 226 a):

To qwilk blis he vs alle brynge
Þat an þe crosse for vs wold hynge.
Amen.

Four other copies, more or less perfect, of this MS. exist in the Library.

In Ll. I. 8, § 1, the authorship is assigned to Richard of Hampole, who died in 1348. The work, however, was not originally composed in English; for the author (fol. 225 b) asks the prayers of old and young 'for hym, þat turnyd þis boke to Englis tonge.' In the MS. Reg. 17, c. VIII. cited in the additions to Warton's Engl. Poet. (ed. 1840) II. 368, the translator is said to have been 'William of Nassyngtone,' and the true author, 'freere Johan of Waldby,' an opponent of the Wycliffites. Possibly one of Hampole's Latin prose treatises may have supplied the original basis of the work.

The following entry on the first page and in the same handwriting contains the formal approbation of the University of Cambridge, and throws some light on the history of the poem:

'Anno Domini MCCC^mo^ octogesimo quarto, compilacio ista hoc modo Cantebr. erat examinata, dum a quodam sacerdote ad ligandum ibidem fuit posita, a quibusdam scolaribus erat intuita atque perlecta et cancellario Universitatis eiusdem consilio presentata propter defectus et hereses[1] examinanda, ne minus literati populum per eam necligenter fallant et varios errores necligenter inducant. Tunc jussu Cancellarii coram eo et toto consilio Universitatis per quatuor dies cum omni studio et diligentia fuit examinata atque in omni colegio vndique comprobata. Die quinto omnibus doctoribus utriusque iuris et magistris theologie, cum Cancellario, dicentibus et affirmantibus eam de sacris legibus et libris divinis bene ac subtiliter tractatam et ex autoritate omnium doctorum sacre pagine sapienter allegatam, id est affirmatam necnon et fundatam. Ideo quicunque fueris, O lector, hanc noli contempnere, quia sine dubio si aliqui defectus in ea inventi fuissent, coram Universitate Cantebr. combusta fuisset.'

On fol. 226 b occurs the following trace of ownership: 'ȝe þat redo þis boke or here it redde, I pray ȝow praith for Sir Roberte soule, and alle cristen soulis, þ^t^ gaf þis boke to þis place: for wo so praith for anoþer laburse for hym selfe and schal haue grete mede.'

And on a blank page at the end of the volume the precise date of the MS. appears to be given: 'In die sanctorum Crispini et Crispiniani [Oct. 25] incepi, et 3° die post sanctam Annunciationem beate Marie [March 28] finem habui, 1° dom. 1423°.'

1729 Ii. 1. 37.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 242, in double columns of 40 lines. Date, the XIIIth century. The initial letters are curiously drawn, and some have been silvered. A leaf has been lost at the end. The title is given in a later hand on f. 1.

'PETRUS LOMBARDUS IN OMNES EPISTOLAS DIVI PAULI APOSTOLI.'

Begins:

Principia rerum requirenda sunt...

[1] Wycliffe died at the close of the same year, 1384. The Chancellor of the University was John Nekton.

Ends:

...quia dator est pacis ut...[Heb. xiii. 20.]

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1854, I. col. 1297.—II. col. 518 B.

1730

Ii. 1. 38.

This volume consists of two independent MSS.

I. A quarto, on parchment, 69 leaves, about 35 lines in each page, handwriting of the XIVth century.

THE TRANSLATION OF BOETHIUS DE CONSOLATIONE PHILOSOPHIÆ, in English prose, usually ascribed to CHAUCER.

Begins (after 'Metr. I.' fol. 1 a):

'In þe mene while þat I stille recordede þese thynges wiþ myself and merkid my weply compleynte...'

Printed by Caxton.

II. A small quarto, bound up with the preceding, on vellum, containing 90 leaves (excluding a blank at each end), each page containing from 30 to 35 lines, exquisitely written in a hand of the latter part of the XVth century. The titles and initial letters are in red, and the latter are ornamented by means of spaces left uncolored within the letters.

ORATIONS OF DEMOSTHENES AND ÆSCHINES, AND LETTERS ASCRIBED TO PHILIP AND ÆSCHINES, TRANSLATED BY LEONARDO BRUNI OF AREZZO..

Prefixed is a dedication to Niccolo dei Medici, beginning:

Leonardi Aretini prefacio in Oraciones Demosthenis ad Nicholam Medicem. Quod sit optimum ac probatissimum dicendi genus...

1. 'Demosthenis Oratoris disertissimi oracio prima contra Philippum. (Leonardus Ar. traduxit).'—(fol. 3.)

Begins:

Pre multis o viri Athenienses pecuniis susciperetis...

This is in fact the First Olynthiac Oration. The Abbé Méhus, in his catalogue of the works and translations of Bruni (prefixed to his Letters, Florence, 1741,) has not mentioned this. Prefixed is a brief argument, probably composed by Bruni; different, at all events, from that of Libanius. The same remark is to be made of the other arguments which follow.

2. 'Demosthenis Oracio secunda in Philippum.'—fol. 6 b.

Begins:

In multis, o viri Athenienses, ut michi quidem videtur...

The second Olynthiac Oration. Unnoticed by Méhus.

3. 'Demosthenis oracio tercia in Philippum.'—fol. 10.

Begins:

Nequaquam eadem michi videor intelligere...

The third Olynthiac Oration. Noticed as existing in the Laurentian library in MS. by Méhus (Leon. Bruni scripta, p. lxxix).

4. 'Demosthenis oracio de pace servanda.'—fol. 16 (p. 57, Reiske).

Begins:

Video, Athenienses, presens quidem tempus...

Unnoticed by Méhus.

5. Demosthenis 'oracio pro Diopythe.'—fol. 18 b.

Begins:

Par quidem fuerat, o viri Athenienses, eos omnes...

The oration de Chersoneso (p. 90, Reiske). Exists in MS. in the Laurentian library. Méhus, p. lxxix.: who adds that the translation was made in 1406.

6. 'Æschinis oracio contra Ctesiphontem.'—fol. 26 b (p. 53, St.)

Begins:

Quanti conatus parentur, viri Athenienses, ad hoc judicium oppugnandum, quantisque precibus...

The argument supplies the title. The MSS. and editions of this translation are mentioned by Méhus, p. lxxviii.

7. 'Demosthenis oracio pro Ctesiphonte.'—fol. 55 b (i. e. De Corona, p. 225. Reiske).

Begins:

Primum quidem, viri Athenienses, Deos atque Deas omnes...

The argument supplies the title. The MSS. and editions are mentioned by Méhus, p. lxxix.

8. The twelfth letter of Pseudo-Æschines.—fol. 86 b (p. 694, Reiske).

Begins:

Æschines Atromiti senatui populoque Atheniensi salutem. Ego me ad remp. contuli trigesimo tercio etatis anno...

Not mentioned by Méhus.

9. The Epistle professing to be written by Philip II. of Macedon to the Athenians.—fol. 88 (p. 158, Reiske).

Begins:

Rex Macedonum Philippus Atheniensium senatui plebique salutem. Quoniam persepe iam legatos ..

Ends:

...diis testibus invocatis pro rebus meis pugnabo.

It appears from Bruni's own letters (Lib. ix. Ep. iv.) 'satis multas Demosthenis orationes e græco traduxisse...ut satis grande volumen earum à nobis traductarum existat.'

See Méhus, p. lxxx.

1731 Ii. i. 39.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 118, with 34 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—103.

'Speculum Juratoris.'

Begins:

In nomine sancte Trinitatis...

Ends:

...nos omnes perducat Trinitas increata. Amen.

An index of contents follows.

2. ff. 111—118.

'Summa que dicitur templum domini, scriptum per Ricardum Fferrs.'

Begins:

Templum dei sanctum est...Sermo iste quamvis omnes...

Ends:

...liberari ab ejus servitute est esse in temperancia.

1732 Ii. i. 40.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 211, in double columns of 28 lines. Date, the xivth century. Several of the initial letters are illuminated. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf.

Wycliffe's Sermons on the Epistles and Gospels for Sundays throughout the Year.

Begins:

Here bien þe sondai pistles þorou3 þe 3eer bigynnyng at advent. We taken as bileve...

Ends:

...his lyf is saumplid after þe Trinite.

There is an illuminated border to f. 1, and also to f. 106, where the sermons on the Gospels begin.

One 'T. Russell' has inserted a note in the beginning to mention his idea that Wycliffe was the author, and that other MSS. exist in the King's Library, Westminster, and the Bodleian. At the end is a paragraph fr m S. Augustine on the dignity of priests.

See Vaughan's Life of Wycliffe, cap. xi. for some account of these sermons.

On a fly-leaf at the end is a note dated May 25, 1628, comparing the two houses of Parliament to the summit and foot of Mount Sinai where the law was given, Exod. xxxi. 18.

1733

Ii. 1. 41.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 152, in double columns of 25 lines. Date, the XIIIth century. The initial letters are varied and beautiful.

1. ff. 1—82.

'PROSPER [JULIANUS POMERIUS] DE VITA CONTEMPLATIVA ET ACTIVA.'

Begins (after the list of chapters):

Diu multumque renisus sum voluntati...

Ends:

...pro rebus enunciandis verba sunt instituta.

Printed separately, sine loco, 1487, and in the editions of S. Prosper's works, e. g. Lugd. 1539, sig. A—G. Respecting the authorship, see Migne's ed. of Prosper, Par. 1846, col. 47.

2. ff. 82—94.

'DE DUODECIM ABUSIVIS SECULI.'

Begins (after the list of abusiva):

Primo si sine operibus bonis sapiens...

Ends:

...ne sine nobis Christus esse incipiat in futuro.

Opp. St Augustini, T. VI. Append. coll. 1569—1582.

3. ff. 94—133.

'Liber HUGONIS DE FOLIETO prioris canonicorum regularium sancti Laurentii in pago Ambianensi DE CLAUSTRO MATERIALI.'

Begins:

Locuturus, karissime, de his que ad edificationem claustri...

Ends:

...Ex his igitur observantie mandatis pendet summa totius religionis.

This is Lib. II. of the treatise De Claustro Animæ. Opp. Hugo de St Victore, Migne, Par. 1854, T. II. coll. 1051—1086.

4. ff. 133—152.

'EJUSDEM DE CLAUSTRO ANIME.'

Begins:

Nosti karissime quod ea que de ordinatione claustri...

Ends:

...tolle grabatum tuum et ambula.

This consists of the first 8 and part of the 9th chapters of the treatise De Claustro Animæ. Ibid. coll. 1085—1104 C.

1734 Ii. II. 1.

A folio, on vellum, now consisting of 162 leaves, excluding two blanks at the beginning (on one of which a few grammatical lines are written in a later hand), each page containing about 42 lines, beautifully written in a hand which seems at least as old as the XIIth century. Various marginal notes occur throughout, and the initial letters are beautifully ornamented in red, blue, and green. Various other letters are written in colours.

PRISCIANI LIBRI XVIII, IN FINE MUTILI.

Divided into two parts in this MS.

1. 'Priscianus in Majori,' containing the first XVI books.

Begins (fol. 1):

Cum omnis eloquentiæ...

Ends (fol. 121):

...Siderea polus.

2. 'Priscianus in Minori,' which originally contained Books XVII. XVIII.

Begins (fol. 122):

Quoniam in ante expositis... (Lib. XVII. 1.)

Ends (fol. 162):

...Quo te, Mœri, pedes? an quo via ducit [in urbem].

Lib. XVIII. p. 1200, ed. Putsch.

After these words seven leaves are cut away, and the last leaf is a fragment of Priscian's treatise de Accentibus, beginning 'nominativi casus preferri: Larinatis,' and ending, 'in cæteris autem temporibus breviantur: sic: Sedeo: di: ram: ro. &c.' See Putsch's Edition, pp. 1293, l. 21—1297, l. 24.

1735 Ii. II. 2.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 263, with 27 lines of text in each page. Each book has an illuminated initial, containing a vignette. Date, the XIVth century.

LIBRI JOB, PARABOLARUM, ECCLESIASTÆ, CANTICORUM, SAPIENTIÆ ET ECCLESIASTICI VULGATÆ EDITIONIS CUM GLOSSA ORDINARIA marginali et interlineari.

The MS. begins, f. 1, with the prologue to Job:

Cogor per singulos scripture libros...

And ends, f. 263, with the last verse of Ecclesiasticus.

1736

Ii. ii. 3.

A folio, on parchment and vellum, of the xiith century, containing 409 leaves, besides a fly-leaf at either end, written with two columns in a page, and a broad margin; in the first work there are 40 lines, and in the second 53 lines in a column. Mutilated, but with the deficiencies supplied.

1. ff. 1—290 a. 'Wilhelmus Malmesburiensis de Gestis Regum Anglorum.'

The dedication is supplied in a clear hand by Archbishop Parker's scribe, as appears by his arms inserted in the initial D. The same hand has supplied 8 leaves at the end.

The coloured initials of the original scribe are of very beautiful design.

The text seems to correspond most nearly with that marked L in Mr Hardy's edition of the author. 8vo, London, 1840.

2. ff. 291—409. 'Historia Anglorum Contextu ab Henrico Huntendonensi Archidiacono. Anno Gratiæ m°.c°.xxx° quinto.'

This part is in a later and smaller hand than the former.

1737

Ii. ii. 4.

A folio, on vellum, 288 pages of 26 lines each, beautifully written in the former half of the xith century, and extremely well preserved.

Gregorii Magni de Cura Pastorali Libb. iv., translated paraphrastically into Anglo-Saxon by King Ælfred.

Begins (p. 1):

'Ðis is seo fore-spræc hu Sanctus Gregorius þas boc gedihte þe man Pastoralem nemnað...'

Ends (p. 286):

'Ac ic þe bidde þæt þu me on þam scip gebroce þises andweardan lifes sum bryd geræce þinra gebeda, þæt ic mæge on-syttan oð ic to lande cume.'

Prefixed to this treatise in a modern hand is the 'Præfatio ostendens quemadmodum S. Gregorius hunc librum fecit quem homines Pastorale nuncupant.'

The present copy appears to be identical with one sent by Ælfred to Wulfsige, bishop of Sherborne, (cf. Wright's Biograph. Britan. i. 393, 394).

It was presented to Archbishop Parker in 1568, and by him to the University of Cambridge. The originals of two letters addressed to Parker by Bishop Jewel in January 1568 [1569] are preserved at the end of the volume, and printed among Jewel's Works, ed. Jelf, VIII. 193, 194. From the earlier of them we learn that the present MS. was discovered by Jewel in his 'poore librarie of Sarisburie.'

1738 Ii. II. 5.

A folio, in parchment, of the XIV th century, containing at present 101 leaves. The several treatises bound together in this volume are all medical. Most of them are imperfect. The number of lines in a page is various.

1. ff. 1—16. 'PRONOSTICA YPOCRATIS CUM COMMENTO GALIENI.'

This is incomplete. It is a Latin version of the treatise by Hippocrates, and of Galen's comment, with a paraphrase added of Hippocrates' text. The present copy contains the first book, and 46 chapters of the second. The last words of the comment appearing are:

Et egro quidem jam ostendi in alio...

2. ff. 17—24. 'TEGNI GALIENI CUM COMMENTO HALY.'

The text is as much of the Tegni (τέχνη) of Galen as is found in Kühn's edition in Vol. I. pp. 305—320. The comment begins:

Intendimus edere sermonem exponentem

Ends (imperfectly in the catchword):

...ab illo malitia in complexione ejus.

3. ff. 25—34. A MEDICAL TREATISE WITH A COMMENT.

Imperfect at both ends.

The first words appearing are:

[Is]te egritudines sinunt...

The last:

Est species crisis cognita propter humorem at sub partem.

On f. 31 a there is the commencement of a new division of the work, as follows (after the conclusion of the former part, 'omnia contingentia istius scientie replevit'):

Ista Pars dividitur in 2 partes primo narrat signa...

4. ff. 35—42. 'CANTICA AVICENNE CUM COMMENTO AVERROYS.'

This corresponds very nearly with the edition printed at Venice, 1553. It is incomplete, containing the first book entire, and the first 34 sections of the second book, which are contained in ff. 101—126 of the above edition. The last words occurring are:

...inmense est erroneus quoniam vinum teste...

5. ff. 43—64. 'Thesaurus Pauperum editus per Petrum Hispanum.'

This is of an earlier and better hand than the preceding. It has been printed. Frankfort, 12mo, 1576. See Dd. xi. 45. The scribe has concluded it with the motto:

Scriptoris munus sit bos bonus.

In the same hand there follows a brief note de coloribus urinarum. The first leaf of this part has been cut out.

6. ff. 65—101. 'Tacuynum sive regimen sanitates editum per Albuchasim.'

This work is not mentioned in the Biog. Univ. under the author's name. The present copy is very carefully written; the arrangement of the lines of writing is such as to give most of the pages a latticed appearance.

Begins:

Tacuynum sanitatis in medicina ad narrandum res necessarias...

Ends:

...oleum violaceum.

1739 Ii. ii. 6.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 289, with 25 lines of text in each page. Each book has an illuminated initial, containing usually a vignette. Date, the xivth century.

Libri Tobiæ, Judith, Esther, Maccabæorum et duodecim Prophetarum minorum Vulgatæ Editionis cum glossa ordinaria marginali et interlineari.

The MS. begins, f. 1, with the prologue to Tobias:

Chromatio et helyodoro episcopis iheronimus presbiter in domino salutem...

And ends. f. 289, with a list of the kings of Judah and Israel in parallel columns at the end of Malachi.

1740 Ii. ii. 7.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 246, in double columns of 48 lines. Date, the xvth century. A modern hand has paged the MS. throughout. In the margin of the first 160 pages are a number of curious and grotesque pen and ink drawings, which has caused the MS. to be shamefully mutilated, though the text has been spared.

1. pp. 1—7. 'Taxatio legitima juris testimonio roborata pro peccatis confessis.'

Begins:

Arte illa qua reguntur anime sicut nulla est utilior...

Ends:

...hec omnia tue discrecioni commendo.

2. pp. 8—370.

Gulielmi de Pagula 'Oculus Sacerdotis.'

Begins (after the Kalendarium):

Cum ecclesie quibus persone preferuntur...

Ends:

...in presenti vita per gratiam et in futura per gloriam. Ad quam, etc.

See Gg. I. 13, and Tanner, Biblioth. p. 570.

The leaves of each 'Pars' have been separately numbered by the original scribe.

3. pp. 371—379.

'Tractatus Johannis Andree de sponsalibus et matrimoniis super quarto libro Decretalium.'

Begins:

Christi nomine invocato ipsius reverentissimi patris...

Ends:

...partem Rubrice et non ad prepositum.

This will be found in the collection 'Tractatuum ex Variis Juris interpretibus collectorum.' Lugd. 1549. T. XVI. ff. 2, 3.

4. pp. 379—385.

'Statuta Synodalia.'

Begins:

Debentes de vobis bonam rationem reddere...

Ends:

...data Lugduni Kal. Februar. Pont. nostri anno primo.

The first of these consists of decrees of Walter and Simon, Bishops of Norwich in 1257, Wilkins, Concilia, I. pp. 731—735, though their names are not mentioned in the MS. The next is a 'decretum Gelasii Pape,' 'que scripta approbantur et que reprobantur.' Then a 'Prohibicio contra exhe-renteracionem corporum defunctorum,' dated Anagnie, x°. Kl. Oct. Pont. nost. anno quinto, and therefore of Alexander IV., and then two of Clement III., dated Lugduni, Pont. nost. anno primo.

5. pp 386—412.

'Statuta Ottoboni.'

Begins:

Ottobonus permissione divina sancti Adriani diaconus Cardinalis... Inaudita Dei et lex altissimi...

Ends:

...qui non frequenter celebrant firmiter observari.

These will be found in Wilkins, Concilia, II. pp. 1—19.

6. pp. 412—421.

'Constitutiones Oxonie edite per dominum Bonefacium Canthuariensem Archiepiscopum.'

Begins:

Ex auctoritate Dei Patris et beate Virginis...

Ends:

...inter canonicos regulares et moniales observari.

These are erroneously given to Boniface. They are the Constitutions of the Oxford Council in 1222 under Stephen Langton.

They will be found in Wilkins, I. pp. 585—593.

7. pp. 421—441.

'Constitutiones Johannis de Peccham quondam Canthuariensis Archiepiscopi edite apud Reddinge et Lambeth.'

Begins:

De Baptismo. Ingredientibus hoc mare...

Ends:

...in casu consimili exhiberi.

Ibid. II. pp. 33—36, and 51—61.

The order of the Constitutions at the Reading council differs slightly from that in Wilkins.

8. pp. 442—453.

'Constitutiones domini Johannis de Strathforde Archiepiscopi Canth.'

Begins:

Sponsam Christi sacrosanctam ecclesiam...

Ends:

...concordiam foveat et confiemet.

These were promulgated at the council of London, 1342.

Ibid. II. pp. 702—709.

9. pp. 453—462.

'CONSTITUTIONES OTONIS.' [A.D. 1237.]

Begins:

Quoniam decet domum Dei sanctitudo...

Ends:

...decernimus fore privatum.

Ibid. I. pp. 649—656.

10. pp. 462—465.

'CONSTITUTIONES edite per SYMONEM Archiepiscopum Cantuariensis in consilio Londonensi apud Sanctum Paulum. A. D. 1328.'

Begins:

Zelari oportet pro domino...

Ends:

...ipsius arbitrio moderandum.

Ibid. II. 552—554.

11. pp. 466—475.

'STATUTA de LAMETH a BONEFACIO quond. Cant Arch.'

Begins:

Universis sancte matris ecclesie filiis...

Ends:

...censura ecclesiastica coartari.

Ibid. I. 746—755, excepting the last chapter, 'De Petitione decimarum et oblationum et lact. et animalium ac pastorum et mortuariorum.'

12. pp. 476—479.

'CONSTITUTIO DE FRATRIBUS concordans cum illo capitulo Dudum in Clementinis de Sepulturis.'

Begins:

Benedictus Episcopus etc. Ad perpetuam rei memoriam inter cunctas sollicitudines nostras...

Ends:

...data Lateran xiii Kl. Marcii Pont. nostr. anno primo.

This is most likely Benedict XI.

13. pp. 480—489. In a later hand from the rest of the MS. 'ELUCIDARIUM.' Imperfect at the end.

Begins:

Sepius rogatus a discipulis...

Ends:

...vere sit illud quod maria...

This tract was first published with S. Anselm's name in 1560 at Paris, and will be found in the edition of S. Anselm's works published at Cologne, 1573, T. III. p. 250 sqq.

On p. 9 is written the name 'Dominus Robertus Catton.' There is a table of contents on the last leaf.

1741 Ii. II. 8.

A folio, on vellum, consisting of 127 leaves (excluding blanks), in double columns, each column containing 54 lines, neatly written in a hand very full of contractions, belonging to the earlier half of the XIVth century. Very fine ornamentations and illuminations occur in the volume.

1. 'BURLEY IN OCTO LIBROS POLITICORUM' ARISTOTELIS.

Begins (fol. 1):

Subjectum libri politicorum...

Ends (fol. 58 b):

...sint gratie infinite.

The title is written in a later, but early hand (of the XVIth century?) inside the cover: the colophon has only 'Explicit liber octavus Politicorum.' This work (perhaps not printed) is mentioned by Fabricius, Bibl. med. et inf. Lat. Vol. I. s. v. Burlæus: and by Tanner, Bibl. Brit. p. 141.

2. 'LIBER DE REGIMINE PRINCIPUM EDITUS A FRATRE ÆGIDIO ROMANO ORDINIS FRATRUM HEREMITARUM SANCTI AUGUSTINI.'

Begins (fol. 59):

Rex regia ac sanctissima prosapia...

Ends (fol. 126 b):

...benedictus in secula seculorum. Amen.

The colophon supplies the title: from which it also appears that the MS. was written 'per manus Magistri Ricardi Bury.' For an account of this work, which was printed as early as 1473, see Biogr. Univ. s. v. Colonne (Gille). Richard de Bury died in 1345, and was the friend of Burlæus. See Fabr. Bibl. med. et inf. Lat. Vol. I. s. v. R. de Bury.

1742 Ii. II. 9.

A folio, on paper, consisting of 79 leaves, each containing about 34 lines, beautifully written in a hand resembling Roman types, of the XVth century. The initial letters have been cut away, and the work seems to be imperfect.

A COMMENTARY ON THE XVIIth AND XVIIIth BOOKS OF PRISCIAN.

Begins (fol. 1):

In hoc opere non est requirenda principalis materia sive intentio, quia hoc opus idem est et continuum cum præmisso volumine...

Ends (fol. 79 b):

...hodie concidit.

This work is only a part of a larger commentary on Priscian, whose name occurs p. 76 a. (Dicit Priscianus in supradictis libris, etc.), and the present volume begins by commenting on the beginning of Book XVII.

Various MSS. of the apparently unedited commentary of Remigius on Priscian are extant, which was anciently used in Cambridge (see Craik, Lit. and Learn. in Engl. Vol. I. p. 53): whether this commentary be his must be determined by comparison. See Fabric. Bibl. med. et inf. Lat. s. v. Remigius, Vol. VI. p. 187.

1743 Ii. II. 10.

A moderate sized folio, on vellum, consisting of 313 leaves, in double columns, of which the last three are blank, each column containing about 35 lines, neatly written in a hand of the XIVth century. The volume is, on the whole, in good preservation (some few leaves being mutilated), and contains many fine illuminations. A great number of notes in early but later hands occur throughout and at the end. The titles of the works are supplied by the MS. The name of Aristotle is not always mentioned.

A LATIN VERSION OF VARIOUS TREATISES OF ARISTOTLE, AND OTHER WORKS.

1. 'Physicorum libri VIII.'—fol. 1.

Begins:

Quoniam quidem intelligere et scire contingit...(Vide Aristot. Opera, pp. 1—52. Ed. Weise.)

2. 'De Cœlo et Mundo libri IV.'—fol. 52.

Begins:

De natura scientia plurima videtur circa corpora...(pp. 127—155, Weise.)

3. 'De Generatione et Corruptione libri II.'—fol. 80 b.

Begins:

De generatione autem et corruptione natura generatorum...(pp. 156—171, Weise.)

4. 'Meteoron libri IV.'—fol. 96 b.

Begins:

De primis quidem igitur causis naturæ...(pp. 172—204, Weise.)

5. 'De Anima libri III.'—fol. 129 b.

Begins:

Bonorum honorabilium notitiam opinantes...(pp. 402—422, Weise.)

6. 'De Sensu et Sensato.'—fol. 149.

Begins:

Quoniam autem de anima secundam ipsam determinatum est... (pp. 423—430, Weise.)

7. 'De Memoria et Reminiscentia.'—fol. 156.

Begins:

De memoria autem et memorari dicendum quid...(pp. 430—433, Weise.)

8. 'De Somnio et Vigilia.'—fol. 158 b.

Begins:

De sompno autem et vigilia considerandum est quid sint...(pp. 433—440, Weise.)

This treatise also includes the De Somniis and the De Divinatione ex Somniis of Weise's Edition.

9. 'De Motu Animalium.'—fol. 165.

Begins:

De motu autem eo qui animalium...(pp. 394—398, Weise.)

10. 'De longitudine et brevitate vitæ.'—fol. 169.

Begins:

De eo autem quod est hæc quidem esse longæ vitæ animalium... (pp. 448—450, Weise.)

11. 'De Juventute et Senectute.'—fol. 170 b.

Begins:

De juventute autem et senectute et vita et morte nunc dicendum... (pp. 440—442, Weise.)

12. 'De Spiritu et Respiratione.'—fol. 172 b.

Begins:

De respiratione enim aliqui quidem pauci...(pp. 442—447, Weise.)

13. 'De Morte et Vita.'—fol. 177.

Begins:

Est autem omnibus animalibus commune...(pp. 447—448, Weise.)

14. 'Phisionomia.'—fol. 178.

Begins:

Quoniam et animæ sequuntur corpora...(pp. 972—979, Weise.)

15. 'De lineis indivisibilibus.'—fol. 184.

Begins:

Utrum sunt indivisibiles linee...(pp. 955—958, Weise.)

16. 'De inundatione Nyli.'—fol. 187.

Begins:

Propter quid aliis fluminibus in hyeme.. (The Greek text is lost, but 'Latine in veteribus editionibus Aristotelis extat libellus de Nilo.' Fabr. Bibl. Gr. Lib. III. c. 7.)

17. 'De causis et proprietatibus rerum.' [Auctoris incerti opus infimi ævi.] fol. 188 b.

Begins:

Postquam præmissus est sermo a nobis in Cœlo et mundo et determinavimus illud determinatione sufficiente...volumus ergo nunc determinare ceteras proprietates quæ sunt in alto et infinito (fol. 183).

Ends:

Hoc est ergo illud cujus volumus declarationem, (fol. 194).

This cannot possibly be a treatise of Aristotle's, notwithstanding the opening sentence: for the word Constantinopoli occurs at fol. 194 a, col. 2, where mention is also made of Terra Romanorum (i. e. the Lower Empire) thus: Exitus Tygris est ab oriente terræ Romanorum et aggregatur cum Euphrate sub Bagdeb et cadit in mare Persicum. The occurrence of the name of Bagdad here (in a crude form) makes it not altogether unlikely that this is a Latin version of some Arabic commentator on Aristotle's Physical works: but the number of those who wrote on them is very large. (See Weise's Ed. pp. 1015, 1016.) Probably this work may be the same as the 'De proprietatibus elementorum,' for which see Fabric. Bibl. Gr. Vol. III. p. 280. Harl.

18. 'De coloribus.'—fol. 194 b.

Begins:

Simplices colores sunt quicunque elementis consequuntur...(pp. 967—972, Weise.)

19. 'De progressu animalium.'—fol. 198 b.

Begins:

De partibus autem optimis animalium ad motum...(pp. 387—393, Weise.)

20. 'De mundo.'—fol. 204 b.

Begins:

Mihi tociens (sic) divina quædam ac mirabilis... (pp. 841—847, Weise.)

21. 'Epistola ad Alexandrum discipulum suum.'—fol. 211.

Begins:

Aristoteles Alexandro. Misisti mihi quod sæpe sustinuisti multos...

Ends:

ex hiis libris tibi scriptis. Vale.

This is the beginning of the Rhet. ad Alex. in Weise's edition (pp. 916, 917). A few sentences of c. 2 follow the letter.

22. 'Vita Aristotelis' [auctore Ammonio].—fol. 212.

Begins:

Aristoteles philosophus de gente quidem fuit Macedo...

This is a translation in great part of the Life of Aristotle, composed by Ammonius (or rather by Philoponus). See Weise, p. lxiii. and Fabr. Bibl. Gr. Vol. II. p. 174, note.

23. 'Liber de Morte, sive de Pomo Aristotelis principis gloriosissimi philosophorum' [auctoris cujusdam Christiani].—fol. 214.

The prologue (falsely inscribed Prologus Aristotelis) begins thus:

Cum homo creaturarum dignissima similitudo sit omnium ad imaginem Dei factus.

The author reveals himself in these words: 'Quapropter nos Manfredus Divi Augusti Imperatoris Frederici filius Dei gratia Princeps Tharentinus.' This work of Manfred is mentioned by Fabricius (Bibl. Gr. Vol. III. p. 281, ed. Harles.)

The work itself (by an unknown author) begins (fol. 214 b):

Cum clausa esset via veritatis sapientibus...

Ends (fol. 218 a):

Et dixerunt: Ille qui recolligit philosophorum animas tuam recolligat animam, et reponat eam in thesauris suis: sicut dignum est animam hominis directi et perfecti sicut tu es.—This and the following are printed in the old editions of Aristotle. See Fabricius, as above.

24. 'De Intelligentia Aristotelis' [auctoris incerti.]—fol. 218.

Begins:

Cum rerum quidem omnium esse...

This is a kind of prologue to the following work.

It ends thus:

Et ob hoc brevissimum prologum fecit. Explicit Prologus.

25. 'De Plantis libri II.'—fol. 220.

Begins:

Tria ut ait Empedocles...

The Greek text does not contain the first column, but begins to correspond with the words (col. 2):

Vita in animalibus et plantis...(pp. 979—990, Weise.)

26. 'De differentia spiritus et animæ' [auctoris incerti sequioris ævi].—fol. 229.

Begins:

Interrogasti me de differentia spiritus et animæ et ut tibi scriberem et quid dixerunt antiqui in ea...(fol. 229).

Ends:

Hæc sufficient tibi in hoc de quo interrogasti. Auferat a te Deus omnem tristitiam et expellat a te quicquid fuerit timendum, et det tibi fortunam in hoc sæculo et in futuro (fol. 233*b*).

The 'ancients' whom the author consulted are mentioned at fol. 229, viz. Plato, Aristotle, Theophrastus, and Galen. This is a totally different work from that ascribed to Augustine, having nearly the same title, and may very possibly be a translation of some late Greek writer. Ascribed by some to Alexander Neckham. See Coxe, Cat. Cod. Oxon. pp. 39, 40. (C. C. C.) At the end, in a later hand (of the xvth century?), is a disquisition about 'corpora cœlestia,' occupying about two columns.

27. 'Liber de causis cum commento editus ab Avicenna.'—fol. 235.

Begins:

Omnis causa primaria plus est influens super causatum suum.

This commentary of Avicenna may possibly be unpublished. It opens with the words, 'Cum enim removet causa secunda.' See Coxe, Cat. Cod. Oxon. p. 109. (Coll. Mert.) For the pseudo-Aristotelian work de Causis (printed in the early Latin editions), see Fabr. Bibl. Gr. Vol. III. p. 282. Ed. Harl.

28. 'Metaphysicæ libri XIV. novæ translationis.'—fol. 240*b*.

Begins:

Omnes homines natura scire...

Ends:

...neque hæc esse principia (pp. 53—126, Weise.)

On the blank leaves at the end are various notes on logical subjects.

1744 Ii. ii. 11.

A folio, on vellum, 402 pages of 23 lines each, well written in a hand of the xith century, imperfect at the end. Presented to the cathedral church of Exeter by bishop Leofric and by archbishop Parker to the University Cambridge (1574).

1. The Four Gospels, in Anglo-Saxon.

Begins (p. 1):

Æfter Matheus gerecednesse, her is eneorisse bóc Hælendes Cristes, Dauides suna, Abrahames suna.

Ends (p. 343):

...gif þa ealle awrytene wæron, ic wene ne myhte þes myddan-eard ealle þa bec befon. Amen.

This MS. was collated for Thorpe's edition of the Anglo-Saxon Version of the Holy Gospels, Lond. 1842: cf. his Preface.

2. Gesta Salvatoris nostri, or the Pseudo-Gospel of Nicodemus.

Begins (p. 344):

On þære halgan þrynnysse naman...

Published at the end of Thwaites's edition of the Heptateuchus.

3. The embassy of Nathan the Jew to Tiberius Cæsar.

Begins (p. 383):

On Tiberius dagum ðæs miclan Caseres hyt gelamp bynnan lytlum fyrste æfter þam þe ure heofenlica Hlaford ahangen wæs...

Ends (p. 401):

...þam sig wuldor and wurðmynt á in ealra worulda woruld. Amen.

On p. 402 is a fragment of some form of manumission. An erasure, which occurs in the entry respecting Bp Leofric's presentation of the MS. to the Church of Exeter, may have originally contained a malediction similar to that noticed in Nasmith's Catalogue of the MSS. in C. C. C. C., p. 26.

1745 Ii. ii. 12.

A folio, on vellum, containing 147 leaves in double columns of about 50 lines each, well written in a hand of the former half of the xvth century: slightly imperfect at the end.

An Exposition of St Matthew's Gospel, in English prose.

The author, or compiler, of this work was a contemporary of Wycliffe, though apparently unconnected with the Lollard movement. The first prologue is printed in the Preface to the Wycliffite Versions, Oxf. 1850, p. x. note. The following insertion is made on fol. 1 a, in a hand almost coeval with the MS.: 'A man of þe north cuntre drogh þis in to Englisch.'

Mark of ownership: 'Matth. Saunders' (fol. 1 a).

1746 Ii. II. 13.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 181, in double columns of 34 lines. Each book has a very curious initial letter, and the first few words are rubricated. Date, the XIIIth century. A leaf has been lost at the end.

'AURELIUS AUGUSTINUS DE TRINITATE.'

Begins (after the extract from c. xv. of the 'Retractationes' and the letter to Pope Aurelius):

Lecturus hec que de Trinitate...

Ends (in the last chapter of Lib. XV.):

...quale sit nescit, non tamen esse...

Opp. ed. Par. 1837, T. VIII. coll. 1150—1514 D.

1747 Ii. II. 14.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 253, with 23 lines in each page. Date, the XIIIth century.

LIBRI ISAIÆ, CANTICORUM, ECCLESIASTÆ, PARABOLARUM, SAPIENTIÆ ET ECCLESIASTICI VULGATÆ EDITIONIS cum GLOSSA ORDINARIA marginali et interlineari.

The prologue to Isaiah begins f. 1, to the Canticles f. 93, to Ecclesiastes f. 113, to the Parables f. 127, to the Book of Wisdom f. 169, and to Ecclesiasticus f. 191. The MS. ends f. 250 b. The book of Isaiah is written in a different hand from the others, and they have alternately red and blue initial letters to the verses, which it has not.

On f. 1 is the name of Mag^{r} Reginaldus de Gressenhale.

1748 Ii. II. 15.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 298, in double columns, for the most part of 43 lines. Date, the XIVth century.

1. ff. 1—8. Tabula in Libros Decretalium.

Begins:

Utilitati lectorum meorum pro posse meo...

2. ff. 9—10*a*. 'Constituciones Redingie edite a domino F. [i. e. Frater J. Peccham] Archiepiscopo Cantuariensi.'

Begin:

Audistis, fratres conscripti, constitucionis tenorem...

End:

...scripta substituatur eidem.

Wilkins, Concilia, II. pp. 33—36.

3. ff. 10—12*b*. 'Capitula Lugdunensis concilii' [secundi A. D. 1274].

Begin:

Ut circa electiones, postulationes...

End:

...suaserint, jejuniorum indicant.

Mansi, Concilia, T. XXIV. coll. 81—102.

The address 'Gregorius episcopus...,' and the first two chapters as they appear in Mansi, are placed last in the MS.

4. ff. 12, 13. 'Proemium concilii Lugdunensis.'

Begins:

Zelus fidei fervor devocionis et compassionis pietas...

Ends:

...nostra remedium apponatur.

5. f. 13. 'Allegacio magistri S. de Mepham pro ecclesia Anglicana in concilio Lugdunensi.'

Begins:

Inter alia opera magnifica...

Ends:

...cardinalium ei concedatur.

6. ff. 14—275. PETRI LOMBARDI SENTENTIÆ.

Begins (after the list of Chapters, Omnis doctrina..., and the Prologue, Cupientes aliquid de penuria...):

Veteris ac nove legis continentiam...

Ends:

...ad pedes usque via duce pervenit.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, T. II. coll. 521—962.

There are scholia in the margins throughout.

7. ff. 276—298. An index of passages of Scripture, digested under heads, the commencing words of each passage being given.

This is sometimes in three and sometimes in four columns, and in the same hand as the last section.

The first five sections are in a different hand from the rest of the MS., and merely prefixed to it.

1749 Ii. II. 16.

A folio, on parchment, containing now 118 leaves, of 35 lines in two columns. Date, XIIIth century.

'LIBER HISTORIARUM FRECULPHI.'

This is imperfect, and contains not quite all the first volume, viz. to near the end of the 16th chapter of the 7th book.

It has been printed in the Nova Bibliotheca Veterum Patrum, fol. Paris, 1639, Tom. II. p. 122.

1750 Ii. II. 17.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 109 in double columns of 35 lines. Date, the XIVth century.

'AURELII AUGUSTINI doctoris Yponiensis episcopi de GENISI AD LITERAM, Libri XII.'

Begins (after the paragraph from the Retractt. 'Per idem tempus...'):

Omnis divina scriptura bipartita est...

Ends:

...iste tandem fine concludimus.

Opp. ed. Par. 1836, T. III. coll. 201—514.

1751 Ii. II. 18.

A folio, on vellum, containing 622 pages, of 47 lines in two columns. Date, XIVth century.

'MEMORIALE HISTORIARUM A DILUVIO IN ANNUM DOMINI, 1321.'

This is one of Archbishop Parker's books, whose secretary, Joceline, has written on the fly-leaf:

Hic Liber quamvis in principio differt a libro qui Historia Universalis Johannis Parisiensis dicitur tamen in fine habentur eadem verba, et sic fere in medio processu omnia consimilia.

The MS., pp. 19—24, agrees perfectly with an extract in Du Chesne's Hist. Franc. Scriptores Coetanei, Vol. I. pp. 128—133 (from Memoriale Historiarum Joannis Parisiensis Canonici Regularis apud S. Victorem, MS.). Cave mentions the present MS. The first initial is illuminated.

It begins:

Labilis est hominum memoria ut sapientes testantur...

Ends:

...multas penurias et injurias perpeti sine causa.

On the first fly-leaf, in a hand of the xvith century, is written:

Carmen Johannis Leylandi Londinensis
Historiæ quicunque velit...
...Usibus hoc tribuit.

1752 Ii. II. 19.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 237, in double columns of 40 lines. Date, the xiith century. The volume is paged throughout. The initial letter in f. 1 is very curious.

I. pp. 1—430. Sermones Dominicales Diversorum.

Hom. 6. [S. Matth. viii. 23]. Ib. f. cxxv.

II. pp. 431—473. In a different hand from the rest of the MS.

'Sermones Venerabilis Herberti Episcopi.'

Begin:

In die natalis Domini. Convenistis dilectissimi fratres...

End:

...concedit omnibus sanctis amatoribus suis. Prestante domino etc.

In a note in the beginning Herbert is called 'fundator hujus ecclesiæ.'

This is Herbert Losinga, who in 1091 removed the see of Thetford to Norwich, of which he was the first Bishop.

1753 Ii. II. 20.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 199, in double columns of 44 lines. Written in three hands of the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—76.

'Libellus de exemplis naturalibus contra curiosos qui THESAURUS ECCLESIE dicitur.'

Begins (after the prologue, Quum solus in cella sederem...):

Occurrit itaque primum discutere uterum sit necesse ponere deum esse...

Ends:

...quodam stimulo me cogente sum aggressus. Deo gracias. Amen.

This treatise is in three books, the first 'de articulis fidei,' the second, 'de dominicis sacramentis,' and the third, 'de virtutibus sive donis et viciis illis contrariis.'

An index of chapters follows.

The next two leaves contain an account of the crucifixion in the same hand as the last.

2. ff. 78—120. In a second, but similar hand.

'SANCTI AUGUSTINI CONFESSIONES.'

Begins (after the list of chapters and the extract from the Retractationes, Confessionum mearum...here called the 'Prologus'):

Magnus es domine valde; magna virtus tua...

Ends:

...sic invenietur, sic aperietur. Amen.

Opp. ed. Par. 1836, T. I.

3. ff. 121—162. In a later and cursive hand. The breadth of the leaves is also less than the rest of the MS.

'COMMENTARIUM SUPER FULGENCIUM continens picturas virtutum et viciorum sub ymaginibus deorum et dearum quos colebat vana superstitio paganorum editus a fratre J. DE RIDEVALL de ordine fratrum minorum.'

Begins:

Intencio venerabilis viri Fulgencii...

Ends:

...de quo infra habetur.

This is divided into two parts, the second beginning f. 154:

A veritate quidem auditu...

The author flourished in 1330. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 631, who refers to this MS.

4. ff. 162—199.

'Ovidii Metamorphoseos fabule ccxviii. moraliter exposite.'

Begins:

In nova fert animus etc. Ponit Ovidius...

Ends:

.. estimati sumus sicut oves vicisionis.

This treatise may also be by J. de Ridevall, as it is in the same hand as the last section, and evidently a continuation of it. Tanner does not hesitate to impute it to him, Biblioth. p. 631. But in p. 750 he attributes it to Thomas Waleys, and states it to have been printed Par. 1509, 1515.

1754 Ii. ii. 21.

A folio, on parchment, of the xivth century. It contains 231 leaves, in double columns, of 13 lines, besides 4 annexed at the beginning for a table of contents.

'Bartholomeus de Proprietatibus Rerum.'

This has been repeatedly printed both in the original Latin and in translations. There is a translation into English by Wynkyn de Worde, which states that there was a Latin edition printed at Cologne by Caxton. No copy of this is known to exist.

The table of contents is in a hand of the xvth century. The author's name appears in the Explicit. 'Explicit tractatus de proprietatibus secundum Fratrem Batholomeum Anglicum de ordine fratrum minorum.'

1755 Ii. ii. 22.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 307, in double columns of 48 lines. The initial letters are very elegant. Date, the xivth century.

'Gregorii Papæ Moralia in Jobum.'

Begins:

Reverendissimo atque sanctissimo &c. Dudum te, frater beatissime...

Ends:

...pro me lacrimas reddat, deo et domino nostro ihū̄ xp̄o, cui etc.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1849, T. i. & ii.

The last four leaves contain an alphabetical index, in 4 columns, in a later hand.

1756 Ii. II. 23.

A folio, on vellum, of 207 pages, containing 36 lines. The initials are alternately red and green. Date XIIth century.

'MARTIANI MINNEI FELICIS CAPELLE AFRI CARTAGINENSIS DE NUPTIIS PHILOGIE ET DE SEPTEM LIBERALIBUS ARTIBUS.'

The following note on this MS. is in p. viii. of Kopp's edition of the Author. Frankf. a. Moenum; 4to, 1836:

5. Cantabrigiensis, cujus lectiones a Bentleio editioni Grotianæ ascriptæ invenit Federus hac nota addita: MS. Bibl. Publ. Cantab. 500 Annorum, unde colligit eum esse qui in Catal. MSS. Brit. et Hibern. I. 3, num. 2434, sive publ. 254 insignitus est, &c.

This very beautiful volume formerly belonged to Archbishop Parker, 1547. The Greek quotations in the work are written in characters phonetically imitated from the uncial.

1757 Ii. II. 24.

A folio, on parchment, of 315 pages, containing 55 lines, in double columns. There is a richly illuminated initial and border on p. 19, where the work commences, containing a representation of a monk (the scribe, named Arnold, as a scroll signifies) in an attitude of prayer before St Catharine. At the commencement of every book also the initials are illuminated.

'CHRONICA QUE DICUNTUR CHESTER,' RANULPHI HIGDEN.

The parts of this work relating to English History, up to the Conquest, are printed in Gale's Hist. Angl. Script. Vol. I. p. 179. For the rest he says, 'Inferiora jam pridem in manus eruditorum pervenerant,' alluding probably to Trevisa's translation for Caxton. At the end of the first paragraph of the 43rd Chap. Lib. VII. p. 297, in the text, appears, Explicit Historia, but the work goes on afterwards in the same handwriting. A marginal note (XVIth century) observes here, 'Nota quæ sequuntur in codice isto et altero diversos habuerunt scriptores, ut in hac proxima sententia plane cernitur de Morte Edw. II.' There is also a note ex vetere quodam libro concerning the author in the margin of p. 299, stating that he continued the history usque ad tempora Ed. Reg. III. post conquestum, making the work to consist of seven books ad exemplum primi Opificis. In the present copy there are eight books (the last brief), and the history is continued to 1381, ending:

Mense Martii ejusdem Anni Dominus Thomas Hatfield Episcopus Dunelmensis moritur senex multorum dierum.

On the second fly-leaf is the following: Presentem C[h]ronicam conpilavit frater Ranulphus Cestrensis Monachus, with numerals in order over every letter, and the following note: 'Hic titulus texitur ex literis initialibus capitum Primi Libri; et vulgo vocatur Pelichronicon sive Policraticon.' Through the annotator's blunder in inserting and numbering the h in Chronicam, the numeration is false. Of the first eighteen pages three are blank, and the others contain the Table of Contents.

This is one of the volumes given to the library by Archbishop Parker.

1758 Ii. II. 25.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 289, in double columns of 38 lines. The initial letters throughout are alternately red and blue, and there are very elaborately ornamented letters in ff. 1, 7, 8. A second hand begins at f. 198, and a third at f. 217. The last leaf has been cut in two. Date, about 1400.

'Magni Aurelii Cassiodori senatoris jam domino prestante conversi Exposiciones in Psalmos 1—100.'

Begins:

Repulsis aliquando in ravennati urbe...

Ends:

...qui liberare solus prevalet confitentes.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1847, T. II. col. 704.

Prefixed is a short list of explanations of the marks used in the MS. beginning 'Diversas notas more majorum...,' but without the marks themselves, as a former possessor has remarked, 'Hic enim ponuntur explaciones notarum sine ipsis notis.' Also on f. 1 is 'Liber beate Marie de Coggeshall.'

1759 Ii. II. 26.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 108 in double columns of 30 lines. There are many very beautiful initial letters. Date, the XIIIth century.

'Augustinus de Trinitate.'

Begins (after the letter to Pope Aurelius, 'Domino beatissimo...' and the list of chapters of Lib. I.):

Lecturus hec que de Trinitate...

Ends:

...et tu ignosce et tui.

Opp. ed. Par. 1837, T. VIII. coll. 1149—1516.

1760 Ii. II. 27.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 204 in double columns of 56 lines. Date, the XIVth century.

1. ff. 1—107 b.

'TRACTATUS MORALIS SUPER QUATUOR ELEMENTA.'

Begins (after a prologue, 'Pulsante fratrum instantia qui me dormitantem peticionum stimulo excitant...'):

In scriptura sacra quoniam nomine terre signatur...

Ends:

...sompnus est comes motus.

A full alphabetical table follows.

2. f. 107 b. A note De positura.

Begins:

Positura est figura ad distinguendos sensus...

3. f. 107 b, 108 a. 'De notis sententiarum xii.'

This is a list of marks, such as asterisks, obeli, &c. used 'apud celeberimos auctores.'

4. f. 108 a.

'Capitula Tractatus de Oculo morali.'

This is a list of the first words of each chapter of this treatise of Grosteste. The treatise itself will be found in Ll. I. 15, § 4.

5. ff. 109—203 a.

'DICTA LINCOLNIENSIS' [Grosteste].

Begins:

Amor multipliciter videtur dici...

Ends:

...justicie et misericordie. Amen.

Immediately after these words, f. 196 b, follows the paragraph 'In hoc libello' &c. as in Tanner, Biblioth. p. 348, note m, who refers to this MS.

A table of chapters follows, and then an alphabetical index.

6. ff. 203, 204.

An alphabetical index to the sermons of Jacobus Januensis.

This is imperfect, going only as far as the letter I, 'facit dominica' is the catchword for the next leaf.

From an old table of contents on a fly-leaf at the beginning, it appears that this volume formerly contained several other treatises.

1761 Ii. II. 28.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 147, in double columns, with 71 lines in each column. Date, the XIVth century.

1. CONSTITUTIONES JOANNIS PECCHAM ARCHIEPISCOPI CANTUARENSIS 1278.

A fragment of 3 leaves; the numbers have been marked in a contemporary hand, and shew a gap of 7 leaves between ff. 2 and 3. f. 2 is headed 'Redyng,' and begins, 'Quia in presenti constitucione cavetur de puris baptizandis...' It contains the Constitutions of the Council of Reading, 1279. Wilkins, Concilia, II. pp. 36, 33; ff. 3, 4, contain part of Peccham's Constitutions at the Council of Lambeth, 1281. Wilkins, II. pp. 53—57. The fragment ends, 'vel asportari faciunt vel qui talem asportationem...' Wilkins, p. 57.

2. 'RATIONALE DIVINORUM OFFICIORUM COMPILATUM A DOMINO WILLELMO DURANTI DECRETORUM DOCTORE EPISCOPO MIMATENSI.'

Begins (f. 5):

Quecunque in ecclesiasticis officiis rebus ac ornamentis consistunt...

Ends (f. 146):

...mercedem expectans ut apud misericordissimum judicem pro peccatis meis devotas orationes effundant.

This is followed by a 'Tabula' of the contents of the work, half of which has been cut away.

On f. 4 is written,

Liber Universitatis Cantebr. ex legato Magistri Johannis Salle decretorum doctoris nuper socii Aule Sancte Trinitatis de eadem: cuius anime propicietur deus. Amen.

Durandus was born in 1220, became Bp of Mende in 1286, and died at Rome in 1296. The Rationale was published before 1295. It was first printed by Fust and Schœffer at Mentz in 1459. There are said to have been 14 editions of this work in the XVth and 18 in the XVIth century.

1762 Ii. II. 29.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 224, in double columns, with 53 lines of commentary in each column. Date, the XIVth century. The initial letters are blue throughout.

LIBRI PSALMORUM VULGATÆ EDITIONIS CUM GLOSSA.

The MS. begins, f. 1, with the words 'Cum omnes prophetas spiritus sancti revelatione constat esse locutos...' and ends, f. 224 b, with the last verse of Ps. cviii.

The gloss is compiled from St Jerome, Augustine, Cassiodorus, Ambrose, and Alcuin, whose names are placed at the top of each page. It is much fuller than the ordinary gloss.

1763 Ii. II. 30.

A folio, on parchment, containing 245 leaves, with about 65 lines in a page in double columns, written in Latin, in a hand of the XIVth century. The initial letters are red and blue. A few of the leaves are stained, and the corners are in many places eaten away by mice.

1. 'LECTURA CARDINALIS HOSTIENSIS SUPER QUARTO DECRETALIUM. De Sponsalibus et Matrimoniis.'

2. 'LIBER QUARTUS SUMMÆ AUREÆ HOSTIENSIS SUPER DECRETALIBUS. De Sponsalibus et Matrimoniis.'

3. 'REPERTORIUM [JURIS] MAGISTRI WILLIELMI DURANDI.'

The three preceding articles have been often printed.

4. 'TRACTATUS MAGISTRI BERNARDI COMPOSTULANI SUPER DECRETALIBUS.'

At the top of the first page of the MS. is written: '...Johannis Lowe, Archidiaconi Roffēn. 1466:' and on the fly-leaf is a shield bearing the arms of Lowe—on a bend 3 wolves' heads erased.

1764 Ii. II. 31.

A folio, on parchment, of 910 pages, of 68 lines, in double columns. Date, the XIVth century. The whole is in one handwriting.

1. pp. 1—45. 'METALOGICON JOHANNIS SARESBIRIENSIS.'

Begins:

In humanis rebus nichil fere...

Ends:

...amatorem pariter et cultorem.

From this MS. the Editio Princeps was printed, 8vo. Paris, MDCX.

2. pp. 46—59. 'EUTETICUS METRICUS EJUSDEM DE DOGMATE PHILOSOPHORUM.'

Begins:

Dogmata discutiens veterum, fructumque laboris
Quem capit ex studiis Philosophia suis...

Ends:

Ut valeas memor esto tui: signatus haberi
Vis, cura semper vivere lege Dei.

This appears to have been printed by Andreas Rivinus, 8vo. Lips. 1655. (See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Inf. Lat. IV. 132,) not at Leyden, 1595, as Tanner believed.

3. pp. 61—237. 'EJUSDEM POLICRATICUS.'

This treatise begins with a poetical proemium.

Si mihi credideris linguam cohibebis et aule
Limina non intret pes tuus: esto domi.

Printed at Leyden, 8vo, MDXCV.

4. pp. 238—264. EPISTOLÆ EJUSDEM.

This part is incomplete at the end. All of the letters will be found in the volume with Epistolæ Gerberti, 4to, Paris, 1611, except the following:

25. Nunquam satisfiet in carne desiderio meo nisi ..
31. Amor fiduciam parit et apud eum quem ardentius...
32. Experiit ut audiistis hostis antiquus integritatem ecclesie...
55. Apostolice sedis mandata filii obedientie...
60. Ab ordine vestro de novo apud nos scandala...
51. Commonuimus scripto nostro fratres qui...

5. pp. 265—910. 'ALEXANDER NEQUAM SUPER CANTICA.'

Begins:

Humilitas vera gloriam...

Ends:

...ut pro me misero misericordie mater intercedas ad Dominum nostrum, &c. Amen.

This MS. is referred to by Cave.

1765 Ii. III. 1.

A folio, on vellum, of 273 leaves, containing in the former part of the volume 32, in the latter 44 lines. Date, XIVth century.

'RANULFI [HIGDEN] CESTRENSIS POLYCHRONICON.'

See Ii. II. 24, which copy however is continued further than the present; both have the explicit in the same place of Lib. VII. c. 43. The present MS. ends with the account of the great mortality in MCCCLII.

The writing of the last two books is closer than the others, and perhaps by a different hand. In this latter hand appears at the end the following note:

Usque hic scripsit Ranulphus Hykedon Monachus Cestrensis istorum chronicorum compilator qui obiit in senectute bona;

and on the reverse of this leaf,

Iste liber constat Broke monacho ecclesie Christi Camb.

At Lib. II. c. 5, are two sections of Noah's Ark, according to St Augustine, and according to others.

1766 Ii. III. 2.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 253, numbered, excepting the first two, in double columns of 36 lines. Date, the xvth century. Four leaves have been lost between ff. 28 and 33.

S. Augustini Opera Varia.

1. The first two leaves, not numbered, and in a different hand from the rest of the MS. The first leaf is much injured, and the treatise is without title.

De Cura pro mortuis gerenda. Imperfect.

Begins:

[D] iu sanctitati tue, coepiscope venerande Pauline,...

Ends:

...propter quod et greci consmion [sic pro μνημεῖον.]

Opp. ed. Paris, 1837, T. VI. coll. 865—871 c.

2. ff. 1, 2. 'Sermo Arrianorum.'

Begins:

Dominus noster ihesus christus..

Ends:

...potestatem habens omnium cui &c.

Ibid. VIII. 953—960.

3. ff. 3—15 b. 'Liber contra Arrianorum perfidiam in sermone.'

Begins:

Eorum precedenti disputacioni...

Ends:

...hoc fine concludimus.

Ibid. VIII. 961—994.

4. ff. 15 b—28. 'Contra Felicem in Actibus.'

Begins (after the paragraph from the Retractt. Contra Manicheum..):

Honorio Augusto sexies consule...

Ends:

...Felix hiis gestis subscripsi.

Ib. VIII. 725—766.

5. ff. 33—41 a. 'Actus contra Fortunatum.'

Begins:

Quinto kalendas septembris...

Ends:

...Augustinus. Deo gracias.

Ib. VIII. 172—194.

6. ff. 41—92 a. 'Contra Maximinum hereticum altercatio.'

Begins:

Cum Augustinus et Maximinus...

Ends:

.. de tua fraternitate gaudeamus.

Ib. VIII. 1001—1138.

Prefixed is the extract from Possidius' Life of St Augustine. Ib. coll. 999, 1000.

7. ff. 92—116 a. 'Liber contra Pelagium et Celestium de gracia Christi et de originali peccato.'

Begins (after the paragraph from the Retractt. Posteaquam Pelagiana...):

Quantum de corporali vestra...

Ends:

...aliquando finiendus est.

Ib. X. 529—596.

8. ff. 116—229 b. 'Contra Julianum.'

Begins (after the epistle to Claudius, 'Beatissimo fratri...'):

Contumelias tuas et verba maledica...

Ends:

...poteris tenere qua vinceris.

Ib. X. 915—1210.

9. ff. 229 b—254. 'Contra Achademicos.'

Begins:

O utinam, Romaniane...

Ends:

...quam speraveram facimus.

Ib. I. 421—490.

The fly-leaf at the end contains another leaf of § 1, beginning where it terminated, and ending 'post mortem viventium perveniret' (almost effaced), VI. col. 873 c.

1767 Ii. III. 3.

A folio, on parchment, of 283 leaves, with 40 lines in a page. Date, 1276. It has coloured figures.

A Collection of Astronomical Tracts.

1. A Kalendar, with a preface explaining its use.

2. ff. 11 b—12 a. 'Compositio 2 tabularum Garlandi.'

See Ii. I. 15, § 7.

3. ff. 12 a—19 a. 'Tractatus compoti manualis Magistri Baldwini de Marrochio.'

The author was a native of the Netherlands.

Begins:

Ad habendum in manu prompte in quo die mensis...

4. ff. 20—25 a. 'Algorismus.'

Begins:

Omnia quo a primeva rerum origine...

Ends:

...tam in numeris quadratis quam cubicis.

5. ff. 25 a—36. 'Tractatus de Spera Magistri Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

See Ii. I. 13, § 9.

6. ff. 37—55. 'Compotus Magistri Johannis de Sacro Bosco.'

See Ii. I. 13, § 5.

7. ff. 56—60. 'Tractatus Quadrantis Editus a Magistro Johanne in monte Pessulano.'

See Ii. I. 15, § 2.

8. ff. 61—79 a. 'Tractatus Astrolabii edicionis Messehillath.'

See Ii. I. 13, § 23. The figures of the Astrolabe, Alidade, Cuneus equus, and Almucanthar, wanting in that copy are well-finished and coloured in this.

9. ff. 79 b—86 a. 'Theorica Motuum Planetarum.'

See Ii. I. 13, § 17.

10. ff. 86 a, 87. 'Thebit de motu octave spere.'

The author, a Jew, flourished at the end of the XIIth century. The country of his birth is uncertain.

Begins:

Ymaginibus speram equatoris diei...

Ends:

...illud est quod volumus declarare.

11. ff. 88, 89 a. 'De quantitate longitudinis capitis Arietis et Libre.' Ejusdem.

Begins:

Cum volueris scire...

Ends:

...cum quo intrasti in lineam numeri.

12. ff. 90—94 a. 'Liber Thebit de expositionibus eorum que requiruntur ante Almagesti.'

Begins:

Equator est circulus major...

Ends:

...Hec sunt que introducendis primo ymagimenda occurrunt.

13. ff. 94 b—96 a. 'Liber Thebit de quantitatibus stellarum.'

Begins:

Ptholomeus et alii sapientes posuerunt...

Ends:

...potest videri in spera.

14. ff. 96 a—116. 'Liber Alfragani de astris et eorum motibus.'

Substantially the same as Ii. 1. 13, § 25.

15. ff. 117—216. 'Canones et Tabule' Azarchelis.

See Ii. 1. 17, §§ 9, 10.

16. ff. 220—239. 'Liber 100 verborum Ptholomei cum commento Haly.'

See Ii. 1. 13, § 26.

17. ff. 240—276. 'Liber 4 Partium Ptholomei.'

The following is the colophon:

Explicit liber 4 partium Ptholomei in judicandi discretione per stellas de futuris in hoc mundo constitutionis et destructionis contingentibus, Deo gratias. Et perfecta est ejus translatio de Arabico in Latinum Auburtino Palatone, cui Deus parcat, die Veneris hora tertia 2° die mensis Octobris Anno Domini 1138, decima quinta die mensis Saphar Anno Arabum 533 in civitate Barchmona: et Deus nos custodiat et actus nostros dirigat Amen. Explicit liber Ptholomei 4 partium dictus arabice Alarba.

This anonymous translation will be found in the same folio volume with Julius Hyginus, Basil, 1570.

18. ff. 277—282. Notes on the Planets and Signs of the Zodiack.

These are written in a minute hand.

19. f. 283. 'Judicium de stella Cometa [1298] a Magistro Petro Lemoniacensi canonico Ebroicensi.'

1768 Ii. III. 4.

A moderate-sized folio, on vellum, now containing 176 leaves, in double columns, each column containing about 36 lines, (about 42 in the latter part of the MS.) neatly written in a hand which may be referred to the XIIIth century. The initial letters are coloured. The first few leaves of the MS. are wanting. The two portions of the MS. seem to be in different hands.

1. The First Eighty-eight Epistles of L. Annæus Seneca.

The MS. begins abruptly (fol. 1):

Scribis amico tuo... (Senec. Ep. III. Op. Vol. I. p. 8, ed. Fick.)

Ends (fol. 129):

...nobis reliquerunt nichil scire. Vale. (Ep. 88, p. 445, ed. Fick.)

2. 'L. Annei S. Moralium Epistolarum, Liber XIIII.' (i. e. Lib. XIV—XX. comprising Ep. 89—124.)

Begins (fol. 130):

Rem utilem desideras... [Lib. XIV. Ep. I. (89), p. 446, ed. Fick.]

Ends (fol. 174):

...cum intelleges infelicissimos esse felices. Vale, Lucili karissime. [Lib. XX. Ep. 7 (124), p. 737, ed. Fick.]

3. 'Seneca ad Gallionem de remediis fortuitorum.'

Begins (fol. 174):

Licet cunctorum poetarum...

Ends (fol. 176):

...sit ista felicitas. Vale.

'In variis Codd. MSS. sub Senecæ nomine obvius est, sed verum auctorem habet Martinum Abbatem Dumiensem.' Fabric. Bibl. Lat. (Vol. II. p. 118, ed. Ern.), where an account of the editions of it may be seen.

After this follow in the MS. two scraps from Boethius (de Consol.) and Augustine (de Civ. Dei), occupying about a column.

Very probably this MS. may have been used by Erasmus. See Fick. Præf. p. XIV.

1769 Ii. III. 5.

A folio, on paper, containing 176 leaves of writing.

WARRANTS of the LORD TREASURER and other COMMISSIONERS for the disafforesting of lands. A.D. 1637—1639.

1770 Ii. III. 6.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 180, in double columns of 40 lines. The initial letters are alternately red and green. Date, the XIIth century.

1. ff. 1—167. 'LIBER TESTIMONIORUM veteris [et novi] testamenti quem PATERRUS de opusculis SANCTI GREGORII Papæ cum summo studio excerpere curavit.'

Begins:
Dum beatissimi atque apostolici Gregorii...

Ends:
...quod temporaliter prevalet nequiter ostendit.

Printed Rom. 1553. See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. v. p. 201.

2. ff. 167—180. 'S. AUGUSTINI LIBRI II. QUESTIONUM EVANGELIORUM.'

Begins (after the index of chapters):
Cum diceret, nemo novit filium...

Ends:
...non verum corpus habuisse set fictum.

Opp. ed. Par. 1837, T. III. coll. 1599—1654.

1771 Ii. III. 7.

A folio, of 156 leaves of parchment, the former part containing 29 lines in a page. Written in the XIVth century.

I. ff. 1—88. 'MARTINI POLONI CRONICA.'

The first 14 leaves contain a summary of the history of Rome till the birth of Christ. From this period the alternate leaves contain the histories of Rome Ecclesiastical, and Rome Imperial. The copy corresponds very nearly with that in Dd. I. 17, § 4, and differs, especially in the dates, from that part of the Chronicle printed with the History of Æneas Silvius, fol. Argent. 1685.

II. A Collection of Ecclesiastical Instruments and Tracts. They are written in different hands of the xivth century, and the lines in a page vary from about 35 to 50.

1. f. 89. Johannis Andreæ, Doctoris Decretorum, Summa brevissima super quarto libro Decretalium—De Sponsalibus et Matrimoniis.

Andreas died in 1348. His complete Gloss upon the Decretals was printed in 2 vols. fol. at Venice, in 1505 and 1581.

2. f 96. 'Casus in quibus absolucio sedi apostolice reservatur.'

3. f. 102. Decretum Raymundi, Abbatis Cluniacensis, prioribus et conventibus ordinis Cluniacensis in Anglia directum, de Corrodiis non concedendis. 'Datum apud Guaticuriam, xvi Kal. Januarii, A. D. MCCCXIX.'

4. f. 103. 'Constitutiones Clementine edite in Concilio Viennie.' A. D. 1311.

These begin in the middle of Cap. 2, Tit. 12, Lib. III., where the Constitutions in Article 7 terminate; the two Articles together form a complete copy of the Clementines. They are printed in the Corpus Juris Canonici.

5. f. 117 b. Bulla Johannis Papæ XXII. pro canonizatione Thomæ (de Cantilupe) Herefordiensis Episcopi. 'Dat. Avinion, xv Kal. Maii, Pontificatus nostri Anno quarto.'

This is printed in the Bullarium of Cherubini, I. 199. Thomas Cantilupe died in 1282.

6. f. 118 b. Constitutio Johannis, Episcopi Norwicensis, contra distributionem panis et vini vel cervisiæ die Paschæ in Ecclesiis suæ Dioceseos fieri consuetam.

It is without date, but is most probably to be ascribed to John Salmon, who came to the See in 1299.

7. f. 119. Constitutiones Clementinæ.

This is the former part of the Clementines, to the middle of Cap. 2, Tit. 12, Lib. III., which are continued in Article 4 (q. v.). The Preface of Pope John XXII. is placed at the end of this Article.

8. f. 130. Bulla Johannis Papæ XXII. pro legatis in Angliam destinandis ad pacem inter regna Angliæ et Scotiæ reformandam. 'Dat. Avinion, xiiii Kal. Decembr., Pontificatus nostri Anno quarto.'

9. f. 131. Literæ Apostolicæ Johannis Papæ XXII. de Primitiis. 'Dat. Avinion, vi Id. Octobr, Pontificatus nostri Anno primo.'

10. f. 132, col. 2. Constitutio Johannis Papæ XXII. contra pluralitatem beneficiorum.

This is in substance the same as Article 12, but has neither address nor date.

11. f. 132 b, col. 2. Constitutiones tres factæ per Johannem Papam XXII. A.D. 1317.

Printed in Wilkins, II. 465.

12. f. 133 b. Constitutio Johannis Papæ XXII. contra pluralitatem beneficiorum. 'Dat. Avinion, xiii Kal. Novembr., Pontificatus nostri Anno secundo.'

13. f. 134 b. Bulla Johannis Papæ XXII. Archiepiscopo Cantuar. directa, ut Clerum Angliæ a vexationibus per Regem illatis liberare conetur. 'Dat. Avinion, Kal. Augusti, Pontificatus nostri Anno primo.'

14. f. 135. Letters Apostolic of John XXII., relating to Robert Bruce and the Scots, in which, after allusion to the contemptuous treatment of the Pope's legates by Robert, his violation of the truce, and many other matters, he is cited to appear, by himself or a sufficient proctor, before the Pope at Avinion on the Kalends of the following May.

It is imperfect at the beginning, and at the end has neither date nor address. Baronius (XXIV.'121) gives the part relating to the Pope's citation of Robert as a distinct instrument, and dates it 'Avinion, xiv Kal. Decembris, Anno IV.'

15. f. 136 b. 'Copia Consultacionis Regis de Wes Walton.'

It is addressed, in EDWARD'S name, 'Symoni de Clare, persone medietatis Ecclesie de Wes Walton,' and relates to the tithes, offerings, and mortuaries, which his parishioners had refused to pay, and for which he had instituted a suit in the court of Chancery. It is without date, but Blomefield's Norfolk (IV. 737) gives 1334 as the date of de Clare's incumbency.

16. f. 137. Tractatus de separatione virorum ecclesiasticorum a laicis.

The greater part of the first line has been cut off by the bookbinder, and what is left of it is illegible. The Tract ends:

Pietas sanctitatis consistit in { Maturitate conversacionis, ut sit, / Attencione lectionis, / Jugitate caritatis, } { Gestus humilis. / Sermo affabilis. / Accio irreprehensibilis. }

This is followed by what appears to be a memorandum, extending over half a page, in an illegible handwriting, dated A.D. 1312.

17. f. 139. 'Constituciones nove Dni Johannis Pape XXII. edite A.D. MCCCXXII.' De voto, et De Fratribus Minoribus.

18. f. 141. Sententia Apostolica adversus errores Johannis de Poliaco.

Printed in Baronius, XXIV. 172.

19. f. 141 b. Sententia Judicum delegatorum a Sede Apostolica, et Certificatio Prioris Lewensis de duabus Vicessimis concessis in subventionem Abbatiæ Cluniacensis. 'Dat. apud Ebor. xxiii die Novembr., A.D. MCCCXXII.'

20. f. 143 b. Constitutio Synodalis Dni Walteri de Suthfeld, Norwicensis Episcopi, de libera dispositione primorum fructuum, A.D. 1255.

Printed in Wilkins, I. 708.

21. f. 144. Bulla Johannis Papæ XXII. ad Archiep. Cantuar. directa, ut Clerum Angliæ a vexationibus per Regem illatis liberare conetur.

This is the same as Article 13, f. 134 b.

22. f. 144 b. Bulla Johannis Papæ XXII. ad Archiep. Cantuar., de Johanne de Stratford in Episcopum Wynton. promoto. 'Dat. Avinion, xiii Kal. Septembr., Pontificatus nostri VII°.'

Begins:

Sequitur modo de illis qui sunt...

Ends:

Vicinique thorum resque caveto suas.

3. ff. 18 b—31 a. 'Tractatus de decem mandatis et cetera etc.'

Begins:

Fabrica Jeronimi de doctrina ..

Ends:

...ad percognoscendum domini beneplacitum.

4. ff. 31 b—36. Tractatus de decem mandatis.

Begins:

Aperiat dominus cor...

Ends:

...in singulis preceptis secunde tabule, etc. Amen.

5. ff. 37—40. 'Ars Predicandi.'

Begins:

Ad erudicionem simplicium. Ut per se ipsos in collacionibus...

Ends:

...in spirituali etc. Explicit.

6. ff. 41—169. SERMONES in three different hands.

Begin:

Apprehende arma &c. Ps. xxxiv. 2. Si debilis quisquam...

End:

...delectabimus in omni bono quod nobis concedat etc.

A different hand has written on a fly-leaf at the beginning the first words of all these sermons. English sentences and verses are frequently introduced, e.g. f. 42, 'For I am dughti of dede wo so will me knowe be þe kyte he may se þe pecok and þe crowe.'

On the parchment fly-leaves, at the end, besides some rude drawings, is a list of the chapters of the Bible.

1773 Ii. III. 9.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 165, in double columns of 33 lines. Date, the XIIIth century.

S. AUGUSTINI OPERA VARIA.

1. ff. 1—3. In a different hand from the rest of the MS. Epistolæ ad S. Ieronimum cum responsionibus et ad Præsidium.

These are Epistles 67, 68, 39, 74, and a fragment of 73, as they appear in the Paris edition, 1836, T. II.

This is followed by Lives of St Blasius and St Gregory.

2. ff. 4—66. 'Liber de doctrina Christiana.'

Begins (after the prayer 'Dixi domino deus meus...' and the extract from the Retractt.):

Sunt precepta quedam tractandarum...

Ends:

...quantulumcunque potui facultate disserui.

Ibid. III. coll. 14—152.

3. ff. 66—85. 'De fide ad Petrum' [Fulgentii].

Begins:

Epistolam fili Petre tue caritatis...

Ends:

...illi deus revelavit.

Ibid. VI. Append. 1101—1135.

A paragraph, 'Qualiter Christus sedeat ad dexteram Dei Patris,' and an extract from the 'Liber Quæstionum Evangelii de fide,' follow.

4. ff. 86–89. 'Contra Manicheos de duabus animabus.'

Begins:

Duo animarum genera esse dicunt Manichei...

Ends:

...penitendum esse peccatum.

The last paragraph alone of this treatise agrees with that under the same title in St Augustine's works, VIII. coll. 160 D—163 A.

5. ff. 89—95. 'De Simbolo.'

Begins:

Sacramentum symboli quod accepistis...

Ends:

...perpetuo conjungi mereamur. Amen.

Ibid. VI. 951—964.

6. ff. 95, 96. 'Sermo de Baptismo.'

Begins:

Cum per sacratissimum crucis signum...

Ends:

...securi eritis de tanto memore per etc.

7. ff. 96—101. 'Sermo de Cathaclismo.'

Begins:

Quoniam in proximo est dies...

Ends:

...vestris orationibus pascar.

Ibid. VI. 1009—1020.

8. ff. 101—105. 'Sermo ad populum in parasceue.'

Begins:

Admonet dominus deus noster...

Ends:

...in tabernacula eterna. Amen.

This is the 'Sermo de Tempore Barbarico.' Ibid. VI. 1019—1030.

9. ff. 105—107. Alius 'Sermo ad populum in parasceue.'

Begins:

Celesti gratie et spirituali plurie...

Ends:

...gloria cum spiritu sancto in secula seculorum. Amen.

This is the 'Sermo de quarta feria.' Ibid. VI. 999—1010.

10. ff. 107—109. 'Explanatio fidei Sancti Ieronimi.'

Begins:

Credimus in Deum...

Ends:

Begins:

Mulierem fortem quis invenit...

Ends:

...cujus hec donante gratia profecit.

This, though here called St Augustine's, is Bede's Libellus de Muliere forti. V. Opp. Migne, Par. 1850, T. II. coll. 1039—1052.

16. ff. 138—145. 'De Sancta Trinitate.'

Begins:

Indubitanter credo unum esse Deum...

Ends:

...cui humana ratio prebet experimentum.

17. ff. 145—150. 'Magistri Vacarii Tractatus de assumpto homine.'

Begins:

Suo B. suus V. salutem. Post collationem de homine assumpto...

Ends:

Vacarius, a Lombard, taught Roman Law in England in 1147. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 730.

18. ff. 150—157. 'Ejusdem summa de Matrimonio.'

Begins:

Duo sola sunt que audacem me...

Ends:

...forte peritus lector poterit invenire.

Short paragraphs on Sapientia, and 'De Miraculis Sancti Andree Apostoli, follow.

19. ff. 158—165. 'Expositio simboli Sancti Episcopi Augustini contra Judeos, Paganos, et Arrianos hereticos.'

Begins:

Inter pressuras atque angustias...

Ends:

Ipse est enim qui vivit et regnat, &c.

Opp. VIII. Append. 1549—1568.

Paragraphs on the Annunciation, an extract from St Augustine's 'De libro diffinitionum recte fidei,' on 'Presumptio,' follow.

On f. 1 is written,

Liber magistri Walteri Crome sacre Theologie Professoris emptus ex magistro Willelmo Lavender, pret xxvi*s* viii*d*, solutum ex pecuniis dicti Walteri dicto Willelmo per manus magistri Willelmi Lacebi, Capellani Margarie Sparwe de Colcester A. D. 1432 juxta festum exaltationis sancte crucis.

Donatur iste liber Augustini de doctrina Christiana per M. Walterium Crome Communi Librarie Universitatis Cantabriggie, A. D. 1444 in festo Sancti Hugonis Episcopi, et est sextus liber in ordine donatorum.

And below:

Liber M. Thome Thurkell.

This name and also Crome's occur again on the reverse of f. 165.

1774 Ii. III. 10.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 177, numbered, with 44 lines in a page. Date, the XIV th century.

I. A Collection of Documents and Tracts respecting POPE JOHN XXII. and THOMAS WALEYS, ARMAND, &c., concerning the Visio Beatifica.

1. ff. 1—36. 'Sermo in die Omnium Sanctorum factus per dominum Johannem Papam XXII. A. D. 1331.'

Begins:

Mementote operum patrum...1 Mach. ii. 51. Beatus Bernardus in quodam sermone.

2. ff. 3 b—10 a. 'Sermo secundus ejusdem domini Johannis Pape in tertia dominica de adventu de eadem materia.'

Begins:

Gaude semper in domino. Philipp. iv. 4. Karissimi, sicut scitis...

These are the Sermons 'Circa visionem beatificam,' respecting which see Baluzius, Vitæ Paparum Avenionensium, I. col. 788—790.

3. ff. 10 a—39. 'Responsiones magistri Armandi, magistri sacri Palacii, de ordine Predicatorum, ad 10 articulos ex parte beatitudinis apostolice missas fratri Armando Rectori sacri palacii.'

Begins:

Sanctissime pater et beatissime super 10 articulos de vestro mandato...

Ends:

...A. D. 1323 die Jovis ante sacros omnes.

Dated Avinion. Dec. 23, 1333.

This is Armandus de Bello Visu, who, according to Fabricius, died about 1334. See Cave, II. p. 441, note d, who mentions this MS. of these 'Responsiones.'

4. ff. 40—48 b. 'Epistola fratris Thome Waleys de instantibus et momentis.'

Begins:

Non est vestrum nosse, &c. Acts i. 7. Secundum Augustinum in epistola...

Ends:

...a scola theologie communiter approbatur.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 750, who mentions this MS.

5. ff. 48 b—53 b. 'Sermo fratris Thome Waleys. Aviniony.'

Begins:

Implebit illum spiritum, Eccl. xv. 5. Advertendum est hic quod verba ista...

This is the sermon preached at Avignon before John XXII. in which the latter was accused of heresy. At the end of the sermon follows the note about the author, 'Ego frater Thomas Waleys Anglicus...' printed from this MS., in Tanner, Biblioth. p. 749, who expresses his belief that it is in Thomas Waleys' own handwriting. For this, however, there seems no ground, as the entire MS. is in the same hand.

6. ff. 53 b—91 b. Actus inquisitionis 'contra fratrem Thomam Waleys Anglicum ordinis predicatorum' et Responsiones ejusdem.

Begins:

In Christi nomine. Amen. Anno nativitatis ejusdem, 1333...

Ends:

...domini nostri pape et sancte matris ecclesie.

This is styled by Tanner 'Articuli hæreticales et responsa.'

7. ff. 91 b—95 a. 'Epistola magistri Johannis Lutterell, Anglici doctoris sacra theologie ad quemdam D. et curie Romane disputantem,' de visione faciali.

Begins:

Seipsum attencius supplicastis...

Ends:

...ne nimis epistolam dilatarem. Valete.

This is followed by a list, 'Ista sunt que opponuntur domino,' and 'responsiones domini.'

Bale, p. 420, supposes this tract to have been addressed to J. Baconthorp. Tanner, Biblioth. p. 489, has made two separate treatises out of it. Lutterell, who was Prebendary of Salisbury and Chancellor of Oxford, died in 1335.

8. ff. 95 a—118. 'Epistola magistri Armandi predicatoris magistri sacri palatii' de beatifica visione.

Begins:

Illa qui sursum est Ierusalem. Gal. iv. 26. Scilicet a peccato et...

Ends:

...ubi istam determinat questionem.

This is mentioned by Cave. The next two leaves are blank.

II. ff. 121—177. Jacobi de Vitriaco 'Historia Ierosolomitana abbreviata.'

Begins:

Terra sancta promissione deo amabilis...

Ends:

...de die in diem expectantes.

An index of chapters follows.

This will be found in the Gesta Dei per Francos, Hanov. 1611, pp. 1051—1124. It is in the same hand as the rest of the MS.

1775 Ii. III. 11.

A small folio, on parchment, containing ff. 85, in double columns of 38 lines. Date, the XIVth century.

'OMELIE BEATI GREGORII PAPE.'

Begin (after the Epistola Reverentissimo et sanctissimo fratri Secundino ...and the list of chapters):

Dominus ac redemptor noster paratos...

End:

...in vestris mentibus loquatur, qui vivit, &c.'

These are the 'Homiliæ in Evangelia.' Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1849, II. coll. 1075—1312.

At the end are 14 Verses on the Beatitudes;

Beginning:

Cum dicis pater inde datur sapientia que te...

And ending:

Prestat et efficeris pauper, tua premia regnum.

1776 Ii. III. 12.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 137, with 32 lines in a page. Date, the XIth century. The diagrams are coloured throughout, and executed with great care; the initial letters also are remarkable, especially those in ff. 62, 65, 93. There are two figures in f. 1, and in f. 61; besides a portrait of Boethius, are three other figures, coloured, one of them striking a series of bells with a hammer, in order to try the tone.

1. ff. 1—60. 'BOETII DE ARITHMETICA.'

Begins:

In dandis accipiendisque muneribus...

Ends with the diagrams of Arithmetick, Geometrick, and Harmonick Proportion, and 'Consonantiæ.'

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1847, I. coll. 1079—1168.

2. ff. 62. 'EJUSDEM DE MUSICA.'

Begins:

Omnium quidem perceptio sensuum...

Ends:

...generibus nusquam una.

A list of chapters follows each book.

Ibid. coll. 1167—1300.

Several times 'De claustro ecclesie Christi Cantuar.' is written on the margins. The last three leaves contain a catalogue of books, most probably belonging to this monastery. A great many copies of Horace, Virgil, Lucan, Persius, Juvenal, and Boetius de Consolatione are mentioned.

1777 Ii. III. 13.

A small folio, on vellum, now containing 153 leaves, each page containing about 32 lines, neatly written in a hand which may be referred to the XIVth century. Many notes in later hands occur throughout the volume. The initial letters of the lines are rubricated.

'STATII PAPINII SURSULI THEBAYDOS,' Libri XII.

Begins (fol. 2):

Fraternas acies alternaque regna profanis... (Lib. I. v. 1.)

Ends (fol. ult.) abruptly:

Cuius in Ogigio stet princeps lancea muro. (Lib. XII. v. 664.)

Prefixed (on fol. 1 and 2) are four introductory pieces of a few lines each, the first and last in prose, the other two in hexameter verse. The first words of each of them are as follows: (1) Intencio hujus auctoris est; (2) Associat Tideum profugum (printed in the Paris edition of 1825); (3) Thesiphonem vocat; (4) Quæritur quo tempore.

This MS. was partially collated for Lemaire's edition (Paris, 1825—1830), who refers to it, Vol. IV. p. 66, under the title of the 'Excerpta Cod. Cantabr. penes editorem.' He describes the present MS. Vol. IV. p. 57.

1778 Ii. III. 14.

A tall quarto, on parchment, containing 226 leaves numbered irregularly, with from 40 to 50 lines in a page, written in Latin, in a hand of the early part of the XVth century. The initial letters are red and blue. Towards the end of the volume the titles in the margins have been mutilated by the binder in cutting the edges.

CONSTITUTIONES PROVINCIALES ANGLIÆ.

1. pp. 1—343. Constitutiones Legatinæ Othonis et Othobonis, cum Annotationibus Johannis de Athon.

See Lyndwood's Provinciale.

At the end of the Constitutions of Atho, on p. 200, is an article, in a different handwriting, 'De Denariis beati Petri,' which concludes with the Bull of GREGORY VI., giving the amount of Peter-pence to be levied in the several dioceses.

2. p. 344. Constitutiones in Concilio Lambethensi per Bonifacium, Cantuar. Archiep. 'Dat. apud Westmon. VII Junii, MCC.'

The date of the year is undoubtedly an error. Wilkins (I. 755) dates this Council, VI. Id. Junii, MCCLXI.

3. p. 353. Constitutiones Johannis Peccham, Cantuar. Archiep., 'ed. apud Lambeth, A.D. MCCLXXXI.'

See Wilkins, II. 51.

4. p. 367. 'Concilium factum apud Reding [A.D. MCCLXXIX.], celebratum per Johannem Pecham, assistentibus sibi suis suffraganeis et aliis procuratoribus ibidem, de institucionibus.'

Wilkins, II. 33.

5. p. 372. Constitutiones Simonis Mepham, Cantuar. Archiep., apud S. Paulum London. A.D. MCCCXXVIII.

See Wilkins, II. 552.

6. p. 375. Constitutiones Johannis Stratford, Cantuar. Archiep., in Concilio Londinensi editæ, A.D. MCCCXLII.

Wilkins, II. 702.

7. p. 386. 'Constituciones Dni Roberti Wynchilse, Cantuar. Archiep. Apud Merton.' [A.D. MCCCV.]

This title, given in the margin, is incorrect. They consist of three articles,—De mortuariis, De prohibitione Scotallarum, and De bis in die missam celebrantibus. The first two are given by Wilkins (II. 718) as Constitutions of Giles de Bridport, Bishop of Salisbury, A.D. 1256: but all three are by Spelman (II. 133) ascribed to Stephen Langton, A.D. 1206.

8. p. 387. Constitutiones Roberti Winchelsey, de ornamentis &c. ecclesiæ ad parochianos spectantibus. A.D. MCCC.
Spelman, II. 433.

9. p. 388. Ejusdem Constitutio de obedientia Sacerdotum Rectoribus &c. A.D. MCCCV.
Wilkins, II. 280.

10. p. 388. 'Statutum Johannis Peccham, Cantuar. Archiep., de eucharistia custodienda, &c.' [A.D. MCCLXXX.]
Wilkins, II. 48.

11. p. 390. 'Statutum factum a Dno Symone [Mepham, in Concilio Maghfeldensi, A.D. MCCCXXXII.], de diebus festis celebrandis.'
Wilkins, II. 560.

12. p. 392. Breve Regis Edw. II. de bonis ecclesiasticarum. A.D. MCCCXVI.
Wilkins, II. 460.

13. p. 392. 'Concordia inter regem Anglie et episcopos, de regia prohibicione.' A.D. MCCCXIX.
Wilkins, II. 497.

14. p. 394. 'Constituciones in Concilio Mertonensi.'
Wilkins, II. 278.

15. p. 396. 'De visitacione Archidiaconorum, et in quibus debent inquirere in visitacionibus eorum, prout pater in...'

16. p. 405. 'Concilium Oxon̄ celebratum a Symone, Cantuar. Archiep., A.D. MCCXXII.'
Simon is doubtless a clerical error for Stephen [Langton].
Wilkins, I. 587.

17. p. 416. 'Nova Constitucio quantum solvi debeat pro probacione testamentorum.'

18. p. 418. In a later handwriting.
'Constitucio edita per dnm Henricum Chichelee, Cantuar. Archiep., publicata ad magnam crucem infra magnum cimiterium ecclesie cathedralis S. Pauli London̄, XXVIII Octobris, A.D. MCCCCXIV.' De clericis conjugatis.
Wilkins, III. 370.

1779 Ii. III. 15.

A folio, on paper, with a few parchment leaves, containing ff. 204, numbered, with 49 lines in a page. Date, the XVth century.

1. ff. 1—8. 'TRACTATUS S. THOMÆ AQUINATIS DE REGIMINE REGUM ad regem Cypri.'

Begins:

Cogitanti mihi quid offeram regie celsitudini...

Ends:

...ut animi hominum recreentur et cetera.

This contains only Lib. I. and part of Lib. II., ending in the fourth chapter.

Opp. T. XVII. Opusc. XX.

2. ff. 8, 9. 'EJUSDEM DE REGIMINE SUBDITORUM ad Ducissam Brabantie.'

Begins:

Excellentie vestre recepi literas...

Ends:

...per tempora longiora, etc. Et in hoc finitur tractatus.

Ib. Opusc. XXI.

The next two leaves are blank.

3. ff. 12—204. JOANNES DUNS SCOTUS IN LIBRUM QUARTUM SENTENTIARUM. Imperfect.

Begins:

Samaritanus ille piissimus spoliatum videns...

Ends:

...nolito quia quilibet artus...

Opp. ed. Wadding. Lugd. 1639, T. VII.

1780 Ii. III. 16.

A small folio, on vellum, containing 148 leaves, (of which the first and last are blank,) each page containing about 39 lines, neatly written in a hand of the XIIIth century. The initial letters are finely ornamented, and coloured in red, blue, and green. Remarks in later hands occasionally occur in the volume. The title is given in a later hand.

'ARISTOTELES DE ANIMALIBUS, Libri XIX.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Quedam partes corporum animalium dicuntur non composite... (De Anim. Hist. Lib. I. c. 1.)

Ends (fol. penult.):

...et propter causam finalem, et propter causam moventem. Explicit. (De Anim. Gener. Lib. V. c. ult.)

A few lines at the head of the first book state that this is a translation of the work which Aristotle composed on the nature, parts, and generation of animals.

The opening words are:

In nomine Domini nostri Jesu Christi omnipotentis, misericordis, et pii. Translatio tractatus primi libri quem composuit Aristoteles in cognicione naturarum animalium agrestium et marinorum.

For the division into nineteen books see Dd. IV. 30, Vol. I. p. 233. This translation is by Michael Scott. See Coxe, Cat. Cod. Oxon. p. 110. Coll. Mert.

1781 Ii. III. 17.

A small folio, on parchment, of 137 leaves of about 37 lines, written in the XVth century.

A Collection of Tracts and Recipes in Alchemy and Astrology.

From original defect of the material as well as from dirt the first two leaves are nearly illegible. Among the Tracts are some by Theodoric, Avicenna, and Rasis. The volume is incomplete at the end. The two final fly-leaves consist of pages of Philosophical Dicta, written in the XIVth century, with a very wide margin. The names of former owners of the volume are Wylhelmus Chausey, Wylhelmus Martyn and Johannes Rant, 'olim collegii Gon. & Cai. socius dignissimus,' who presented it to the Library in 1655. An old title of the volume is given in the beginning, 'Rosarium Medicum.'

1782 Ii. III. 18.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 150, with 19 lines in each page. Date, the XIIIth century.

Libri Deuteronomii, Parabolarum, Ecclesiastæ et Canticorum Vulgatæ Editionis cum glossa ordinaria marginali et interlineari.

In f. 1 are some notes on the emblems, &c. of the four Evangelists, in a different hand from the rest of the MS. The prologue to Deuteronomy begins f. 2; to the Proverbs, f. 66; to Ecclesiastes, f. 111; and to the Canticles, f. 131. The MS. is paged throughout.

1783 Ii. III. 19.

A folio, on parchment, of 126 leaves, in double columns of 40 lines. The first initial is richly illuminated.

'Summa Philosophie Lincolniensis.'

This work of Robert Grosteste on natural philosophy and its history consists of 19 tractatus or 284 chapters. Tanner mentions the present MS. p. 347, n. The treatise begins:

Philosophantes famosi primi fuerunt Caldei...

Ends:

...et colorem ipsorum pariter mixtorum.

Explicit Summa Philosophie Domini Roberti quondam Episcopi Lincolniensis et dividitur secundum quosdam in tractatus 19 cujus summe tractatus primus intitulatur de ortu Philosophorum ut prius.

Then follow in the same writing Quotationes et capitula totius summe.

1784 Ii. III. 20.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 133, in double columns of 39 lines. Date, the XIIth century.

'Defloraciones ex libris beati Gregorii Papæ a Willelmo monacho Meldunensi.'

The prologue begins:

Dominis suis et fratribus meldunensis cenobii...

The work begins:

Dominus dicit in evangelio...

Ends:

...in ipso fonte biberimus.

This is divided into four parts.

1785 Ii. III. 21.

A magnificent MS., in folio, containing ff. 298, in double columns of from 21 to 42 lines. Each book has an illuminated initial; that to the first probably contained a picture of the Vision of Boethius, but it has been shamefully cut away. Date, the XIVth century.

1. ff. 1—180. 'Boetius de Consolatione Philosophiæ,' with the English Version ascribed to Chaucer.

The first eight leaves are occupied by an index. The translation alternates with the text, something in the same way as in Caxton's edition. At the end occur the lines

Explicit expliceat ludere scriptor eat.
Finito libro sit laus et gloria Christo.
Corpore scribentis sit gratia cunctipotentis.

2. ff. 181—298. 'Exposicio preclara [in librum Boetii de Consolatione] quam Johannes Theutonicus prescripsit et finivit a. d. 1306, 8 Idus Junii.'

Begins:

In libro Boetii de consolatione philosophie...

Ends:

...judicis cuncta tuentis, cui laus etc.

Besides the above title, which is taken from the colophon, at the end are the lines,

Hec lectura petit quisnam sit lector et unde
Ne careat tytulis ut peregrina suis
Hic est Willelmus medicine sorte magister
Regis Arogonie de dicione fuit.

1786 Ii. III. 22.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 270, in double columns of 46 lines. Date, the xiv th century.

1. ff. 1, 2. 'Capitulum Dudum in quo patet auctoritas fratrum de confessione audienda.'

Begins:

Bonifacius episcopus servus servorum...

Ends:

...dat. Lateran. xii. kl. Marcii pontificat. nostri anno sexto.

This is Boniface VIII. and therefore in the year 1300.

2. ff. 2, 3. 'Epistola Aristotelis ad Alexandrum magnum.'

Begins:

Alexandro regi Aristoteles, cum sit corpus...

Ends:

...debilitant corpus et siccant.

See Fabricius, Bibl. Gr. T. III. pp. 283, 284, ed. Harles.

3. f. 4. 'Decretum generalis Synodi Basiliensis confirmans Bullam Eugenii Papæ concessam Magistro et Sociis Collegii

Corporis Christi et beatæ Virginis Mariæ Universitatis Cantabrigiæ super veneratione sanctissimi Corporis Domini nostri Jesu Christi.'

Begins:

Sacrosancta generalis sinodus Basiliensis...

Ends with a list of indulgences given by different Popes.

This is dated 5 non. Jul. 1434. It is printed in Masters's History of Corpus Christi College, Appendix, p. 1.

4. ff. 5—40. 'MORALITAS SUPER JOHANNEM.'

Begins:

In principio &c. In istis verbis secundo tanguntur primo datur nobis intelligi...

Ends:

...pastores veri qui pascunt agnos.

An index follows.

5. ff. 43—140. A Compilation of SERMONES DOMINICALES from JACOBUS JANUENSIS, ODO, &c.

Begins:

Dicite filie Syon, &c. Sciendum quod gratiam Dei...

Ends:

...laus requies amor concordia dulcis. Ad illa gaudia eterna perducat nos, etc.

Prefixed is the following preface:

'Penuria studencium in materia morali paupertasque juvenum qui copia privatur librorum ut importuna sociorum meorum instancia, non temeritatis audacia, induxerunt me ut de singulis evangeliis dominicalibus que per anni circulum leguntur aliquam facerem compilacionem sermonum.' They are described as being by 'Januensis, Parisiensis, Lugd. [i. e. Joannes Lugdunensis], Odo, atque ceteri quorum nomina communiter scribuntur in margine libri.'

There is an index at the end.

6. ff. 144—227. 'TABULA FRATRIS JACOBI JANUENSIS SUPER HISTORIA BIBLIE.'

Begins with 'Abstinencia' and ends with 'Christi Clementia.'

A list of the chapters which the several heads contain follows.

7. ff. 227—252. 'FIGURE BIBLIE SECUNDUM ALPHABETI ORDINEM.' In 129 chapters.

Begins (after a prologue, Tanta pollet excellencia predicacionis officium...):
De abstinencia et jejunio. Precepit dominus Ade...

Ends with Zelum indiscretum.

The next four leaves are blank.

8. ff. 257—265. A Supplement to the TABULA OF JACOBUS JANUENSIS.

Begins with Recidinacio and ends with Zelus.

This is written in exactly the same manner as § 6.

9. ff. 265—267. 'Meditacio de passione beate Virginis Marie in passione fili sui, vel lamentaciones beati Bernardi.'

Begins:

Quis dabit capiti meo aquam...

Ends:

...super omnia benedictus sit filius ejus dominus noster ihesus christus. Amen.

10. ff. 267—270. 'Origenis Homilia de Maria Magdalena.' [St John xx. 11.]

Begins:

Maria stabat, &c. Audivimus fratres Mariam...

Ends:

...quia vidi dominum et hec dixit mihi, cui, &c.

Opp. Par. 1512, T. III. ff. cxxix—cxxxi.

On f. 5 is written, 'Ex dono fratris Johannis Folsham monachi Norwyci.'

1787 Ii. III. 23.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 243, in double columns of 33 lines. The initial letters are varied and highly ornamented. One of the headings, f. 42 b, is in green. Date, the XIIth century.

1. ff. 1—218. 'S. AUGUSTINI SERMONES DE VERBIS DOMINI.'

Begins (after a list of the texts):

Evangelium audivimus et in eodem dominum...

Ends:

...veniet qui exigat. Amen.

These are the sixty-four sermons 'De verbis Domini,' and the first twenty-four 'De verbis Apostoli,' according to the vetus ordo. V. Opp. ed. Par. 1838, p. cxxxviii.

The next two leaves are blank.

2. ff. 221—243. 'Ejusdem Enchiridion.'

Begins:

Dici non potest dilectissime fili Laurenti...

Ends:

...de fide et spe et caritate conscripsi.

Ib. vi. coll. 343—410.

1788 Ii. iii. 24.

A large folio, on parchment, containing ff. 220, in double columns of 44 lines. Date, the xiith century. Many of the initial letters are illuminated. The verses of the Psalms are throughout in rubrick.

Petrus Lombardus in Psalmos.

Begins (after a prologue, Cum omnes prophetas sancti spiritus revelatione)...

Beatus, vir, &c. Beatus cui omnia optata succedunt...

Ends:

...omnis spiritus laudet dominum. Finito libro rex Christus sit benedictus. Amen.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1854, T. i.

On f. 2 is written, 'Orate pro anima magistri Johannis Steward, rectoris de Marisco, qui hunc librum attulit ecclesie Cath. Sancte Trinitatis Norwyci, A.D. 1495.' This occurs again at the end.

On the two fly-leaves at the beginning are a number of Latin verses containing events of Scripture history, e. g.

De Nativitate Christi:

Obsequitur parit exoritur stupet inspicit orat
Preco virgo deus mula juventa Joseph.

De Divite et Lazaro.

Dives habet pauper querit negat exit uterque
Dives ad interitum Lazarus ad requiem.

1789 Ii. iii. 25.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 145, in double columns of 27 lines. Date, the xivth century.

Τοῦ ἁγίου Ἰωάννου Χρυσοστόμου ὁμιλίαι 13.

Begins:

Εὐλογητὸς ὁ Θεὸς, ὅτι καὶ ἐπὶ τῆς γενεᾶς...

Ends:

. . .ὅτι αὐτῷ πρέπει ἡ δόξα εἰς τοὺς αἰῶνας. ἀμήν.

These are the Homiliæ in Oziam, in the order 3, 4, 1, 2, 5, 6, Opp. ed. Par. 1834, T. VI.; the Conciones de Lazaro, 1, 2, 3, 5, 4, 7, T. I.; and the Oratio in Kalendas, T. I. col. 854.

1790 Ii. III. 26.

A folio, on parchment, containing 237 leaves, with 43 lines in each page. Date, the XVth century.

1. Imperfect at the beginning, but a colophon supplies the title:

'LIBER GALFRIDI CHAWCER DE GESTIS PEREGRINORUM VERSUS CANTUARIAM,' or Chaucer's CANTERBURY TALES (fol. 1 to fol. 234).

Begins in the 'Prologues,' v. 67, the remainder of the text being added by a later hand in the margin. On fol. 234 b are some historical notes.

2. 'BONA CARTA GLORIOSE PASSIONIS DOMINI NOSTRI JESU CHRISTI:' double columns.

Begins (fol. 235 a):

Hho so euyr will rede this boke
And with gostly ey ther yn loke...

Ends (fol. 237 a):

To that blysse he may vs bryng
That made of noȝt all maner thyng.

See Ee. II. 15, § 7.

Two small fragments fill up fol. 237 a.

Trace of ownership: 'Thys ys George Towkars bowke, lentt to hyme by George Harollde surgentt the fyrst day of August, Anno Domini 1558.'

1791 Ii. III. 27.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 296, with 45 lines in a page. Date, the XVth century. The initial letters of ff. 1, 2, are illuminated with a rich border. In that in f. 1 there is a coat of arms effaced. The lower part of the border in f. 2 has been cut away.

PROSÆ SUPER PSALMOS, in order, arranged under heads, which are written in rubrick.

The prologue begins:

De bonis et malis et eorum edificio. Quoniam salvam faciet dominus Syon...

The work begins:

De paterna et materna generacione Christi. Exurge psalterium et cythara...

Ends:

...fac me audire vocem tuam.

There is an index at the end. On a fly-leaf is the name Aron Capell.

1792 Ii. III. 28.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 239, in double columns of 40 lines. Date, the XIIth century. The initial letters are alternately red and green. Two leaves have been torn out between ff. 221 and 222.

'S. AUGUSTINI TRACTATUS 124 IN EVANGELIUM S. JOHANNIS.'

Begins:

Intuentes quod modo audivimus...

Ends:

...meum terminare sermonem.

Opp. ed. Par. 1837, T. III. coll. 1677—2474.

1793 Ii. III. 29.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 90. Date, the XIVth century. The initial letters to each treatise are illuminated. A leaf is lost between ff. 88 and 89.

1. ff. 1—14. In double columns of 51 lines.

EXPOSITIO IN DECEM MANDATA [a fratre Joanni de Waldeby?]

Begins:

Detectis ut cumque parumper arris quibus debemus...

Ends:

...ista contempta discitur aliena et cetera. Decalogus nunc explicit hic.

At the foot of f. 1 are the lines,

Effigiem Christi qui transis pronus adora
Non tum effigiem sed quem designat honora.

2. ff. 45—64. In single columns of 57 lines.

JOANNIS DE WALDEBY IN ORATIONEM DOMINICAM.

Begins:

Ends:
...similitudinem in moribus invenire.
Ib. viii. Append. 1693—1704.

19. ff. 140—144. 'Exceptiones de tribus libris contra Parmenium.'
Begins:
Sacrilegium scismatis omnia scelera...
Ends:
...angeli in messe facturi sunt.
These are taken from the three books, 'Contra epistolam Parmeniani.' Ib. ix. coll. 61 sqq.

1799 Ii. iv. 2.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 237, in double columns, of 41 lines. Date, the xvth century. ff. 203—207 are blank.

1. ff. 5—121. 'Summa super sermonibus dierum dominicalium et festivalium totius anni compilata per fratrem Bone Fortune de ordine fratrum minorum Parisiensis.'

Begins:

Dominus judex noster...Isai. xxxiii. [22.] In verbis prepositis duo...

Ends:

...Sancti Stephani.

Two sermons follow, ff. 122—124, written in a very bad cursive hand, on Ceci vident, Matt. xi. 5, and Nunc tempus acceptabile, 2 Cor. vi. 2.

2. ff. 125—235. Sermones alii in the same hand as § 1.

Begins:

Sermo de gloriosa virgine. De qua natus est...

Ends:

...hic venit.

The last three leaves are in a different hand.

Prefixed is a full list of the titles of all the sermons in the volume, 287 in number. On f. 1 is the name of R. Catton, and on f. 5 that of Henricus de Lakenham.

1800 Ii. iv. 3.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 109, numbered, in double columns of 34 lines. The initial letter contains a shield gules, three crowns or; and there is an ornamented border round the page. Date, the xvth century.

'Rogerus Dymmok contra xii errores et hereses Lollardorum.'

Begins (fol. 8):

Est autem in primis hic notandum...

Ends:

superna providentia preservantur. Amen.

Prefixed is a dedicatory epistle, 'Gloriosissimo et metuendissimo principi ac domino nostro Domino Ricardo Regi Anglie...' and a prologue, 'Progenies viperarum...'

Dymmok flourished in 1390. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 243, who refers to this MS.

At the end is the name Richard Carter, and at the beginning a note to the effect that 'alterum exemplar MS. hoc multo vetustius et splendidius' is in the library of Trinity Hall.

1801 Ii. iv. 4.

A small folio, on parchment, containing ff. 133, in double columns of 30 lines. Date, the xiith century.

1. ff. 1—57. 'Fulcherius Presbyter de Captione Jerusalem.'

This is printed in Du Chesne's Francorum Historiæ, fol. Paris, 1541, Tom. iv. pp. 816—868 B. The edition is carried on much further than the MS. which however, besides a prologue and table of contents not printed, contains the following notice at the conclusion:

Tunc temporis Girardus Hospitalarius Jerusalem obiit. Cujus est hoc epitaphium:

Girardus jacet hic vir humillimus inter eos [sic]
Pauperibus servus et pius hospitibus
* * * *
Septies et decies orto sub Virgine Phebo
Ad superos vehitur angelicis manibus.

The Prologue begins:

Placet equidem vivis, prodest etiam mortuis...

Ends:

verba historica que secuntur declarabunt.

There is no trace in this MS. of the division into three books which is made in Du Chesne's edition.

2. ff. 58—133. Galfridi Monumetensis 'Historia Britonum.'

Begins:

Cum mecum multa et de multis...

Ends:

...sermonem transferre curavi.

See ed. Giles, Lond. 1844.

1802 Ii. iv. 5.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 83. § 1 is dated 1338, the rest is of the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—14. In a minute hand, with 47 lines in a page.

'Compilacio fratris Simonis de Borastona de ordine judiciario, circa crimina corrigenda.'

Begins:

Corripiet me justus in misericordia...

Ends:

...meruisse credunntur.

A note at the end states that this Compilacio was completed 'In domo fratrum predicatorum Oxon. A.D. 1338, mense Augusto,' and that the initial letters of the chapters give the title and author's name when put together.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 143, who refers to this MS.

2. ff. 15—33. This and the remaining sections are in a hand of the XVth century, in double columns of 47 lines.

'LIBELLUS DE CONFESSIONIBUS EDITUS A FRATRE ROGERO CONWAY CONTRA RICARDUM ARCHIEPISCOPUM ARMACHANUM.'

Begins:

Confessio et pulchritudo in conspectu ejus...

Ends:

...et aliis similia perpetrandi.

For Conway or Chonoe, see Tanner, Biblioth. p. 197. This treatise was published at Paris, 1496, and will be found in Goldast's collection, Monarch. II. pp. 1410 sqq.

3. ff. 33—70. 'Tractatus qui vocatur DIETA SALUTIS editus a fratre PETRO AUREOLI excellentis doctoris Parisius ordinis minorum.'

Begins:

Hec est via ambulate in ea &c. Magnam misericordiam facit...

Ends:

...omnes peccaverunt et indigent gloria Dei que est infinita ad quam, &c.

Petrus Aureoli flourished in 1316. See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. V. p. 243.

This treatise is given to Guillelmus de Lancea in Ee. IV. 23, § 3. It is usually ascribed to S. Bonaventura, and will be found in the Mayence edition of his works, 1607, T. VI pp. 272—325.

4. ff. 70—74. 'COLLATIONES EJUSDEM DE TEMPORE ET DE COMMUNI SANCTORUM.'

Begins:

Abiciamus opera tenebrarum...

Ends:

...quere de contemplatione.

This is the Appendix Dietæ Salutis. S. Bonavent. Opp. T. VI. pp. 325—332.

5. ff. 74, 75. 'Libellus de mutabilitate mundi a Symone de Borastona.'

Begins:

Cum omnibus mobilibus nobilior sit sapientia...

Ends:

...frequencius celebrantur etc.

This is mentioned by Tanner, Biblioth. p. 143.

6. f. 75. 'Declaracio quomodo ducatus Aquitanus sit ad regem Angliæ devolutus.'

Begins:

Sciendum quod A.D. 1136 Willelmus dux aquitanus ..

8. ff. 76, 77. 'Declaracio justitie regis Anglie ad Walliam et ejus dominium.'

Begins:

Circa A.D. 470, ix^{m} Sept. in antiquis cronicis Britonum...

9. ff. 77—83. 'Tractatus de Unitate Ecclesiastice Potestatis a Symone de Borastona.'

Begins:

Fiet unum ovile et unus pastor...

Ends:

...si opus sit revocare.

This treatise is mentioned by Tanner, p. 143.

§§ 2—9 are portions of a larger MS. as the columns are numbered by the original scribe, beginning with 323.

36. 'De Dominica Oratione.'

Begins (p. 583):

Se Hælend Crist, syþþan he to þisum life com...

The latter part of the Homily has been neatly restored by a modern hand, and the whole is printed, in Thorpe, I. 258 sq.

The history of the present MS. is interesting. It was found in Tavistock, to the monastery of which it belonged, by R. Ferrar, a servant of the Bedford family, in 1566. Thence it passed to archbishop Parker, who received it from 'Franciscus comes Bedfordiæ 29° Decemb. anno 1567 in camera stellata' (p. 602). The archbishop presented it to the University of Cambridge in 1574.

An 'index rerum' is appended to the volume, probably the work of Wheloc.

1804 Ii. iv. 7.

A small quarto, on paper, containing 495 leaves, each page containing about 50 lines, written in a cursive hand of the early part of the xviith century. The different tracts are bound up in one volume, but are separately paged.

COMMENTARIES OF CORNELIUS LERY ON VARIOUS WORKS OF ARISTOTLE.

1. 'Commentarii in octo libros Physicorum Aristotelis' (302 leaves).

Begins:

Prætermittemus et excellentiam...

2. 'Commentarii in libros Aristotelis de Cœlo' (30 leaves).

3. 'Commentarii in duos libros de Generatione et Corruptione' (38 leaves).

4. 'Commentarii in libros de Anima' (90 leaves).

5. 'Commentarii in omnes libros Metaphysicorum Aristotelis' (37 leaves).

Ends:

...ab ipso rerum authore abducamur. Cornelius Lery.

At the end of the volume is inserted a printed leaf containing 'Conclusiones ex universa philosophia.' 'Has conclusiones Deo favente propugnavit Cornelius Lery Hibernus Aghideoensis in Collegio Rhedonensi Soc. Jesu.... Aug. MDCXXXV.' The present volume seems to contain many of these disquisitions. Lery's name occurs at the beginning of the volume, with the date 1639. Also these words, 'Ex dono Gulielmi Welles Bibliopolæ Londinensis. 1656.' Various dates occur at the ends of the treatises.

1805 Ii. iv. 8.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 171, in double columns of 47 lines. The headings of the chapters are in rubrick. Date, the XIVth century.

1. ff. 1—147. 'SUMMA DE VICIIS ET EORUM REMEDIIS.'

Begins (after the account of the chapters, 'Tractatus iste continet ix partes...'):

Dicturi de viciis incipiemus a vicio gule...

Ends:

...penituit tacere vero nunquam.

2. ff. 147—171. SUMMA 'DE VIRTUTIBUS.'

Begins:

Postquam dictum de morbis anime...

Ends:

...ave mediatrix dei et hominum. Amen.

These are perhaps by Gulielmus Parisiensis. See Ff. i. 17, § 3, which is the same treatise as this last.

3. f. 171. 'Incipiunt PENITENTIE TAXATE SECUNDUM CANONES.'

Begins:

Qui vult confiteri...

Ends (imperfect):

...ignominiosus pergat, ut...

A fragment of 15 lines.

1806 Ii. iv. 9.

A quarto, on paper, containing 197 leaves, with about 28 lines in each page; handwriting of the xvth century.

1. 'The Passyoun of our Lorde Cryste Jhū:' so reads the colophon (fol. 42 a).

On other copies of this poem, see above Dd. i. 1, § 1.

2. 'Feoffoment Jhū,' according to the colophon (fol. 47 a). Otherwise called The Charter: Cf. above Ee. ii. 15, § 7.

3. 'Lamentacio Sancte Marie,' according to the colophon (fol. 51 b): in English prose.

Begins (fol. 47 a):

Whanne I Mary Jhū modyr sate in icrusalem in y^e^ holy feste of Estern...

Printed by Wynkyn de Worde: see Dibdin, ii. 355.

At the conclusion the scribe has added 'Quod Ambroos.'

4. 'The Mawndy of our Lorde,' so runs the colophon (fol. 55 a): in English prose.

Begins (fol. 52 a):

The tyme nyghyng and comyg of the reuthes and mercyes of the Lorde...

5. Meditations at the celebration of Mass: neither title nor colophon: in English verse.

Begins (fol. 55 b):

I knowe to the God ful of myght
And to hys modyr mayden bryght
And to al halwyn hye
And to y^e^ fadyr gostlye.

6. Short Reflections on the Ten Commandments, the Seven deadly Sins, &c., to which are added the Lord's Prayer, the Ave Maria and the Apostles' Creed, in English prose.

7. On the Nine Virtues; neither title nor colophon.

Begins (fol. 63 b):

Here bethe ix poyntys of gret vertu
That our Lorde tolde swete Jhū.

Sometimes ascribed to Richard of Hampole.

8. 'De tribulacione secundum vi. Doctores:' in prose.

Begins (fol. 65 b):

Here begynyth a lytyl schorte tretys y^t^ tellyth how ther were vi maystres, doctorys of devynyte'...

Cf. a kindred treatise mentioned in Dibdin, i. 331.

9. A poem on Mortality, without title or colophon.

Begins (fol. 67 a):

Erthe vpon erth is waxe and wrought
Erthe takys on erth a nobylay of nought.

A rough coloured illustration is added, fol. 68 b.

10. 'The Abey of y^e^ Holy Goste:' in English prose.

Begins (fol. 69 b):

Thys ys y^e^ abey of the Holy Gost y^t^ is foundyd in a place that is clepyd the conscience...

The author of this work was Alcock, bp. of Ely. It was printed (? 1531) by Wynkyn de Worde, as we know from the copy extant in the Camb. Univers. Library, AB, iv. 58: cf. Warton, ii. 427, note; ed. 1840.

11. 'Kynge Roberd of Cysyle;' so runs the colophon (fol. 93 b): a metrical romance.

See above, Ff. ii. 38, § 42.

12. 'Narracio de Sancto Edwardo' [the Confessor]: in English prose.

Said to be extracted from the work of 'the wurthy clerke and holy abbot of Ryuaus [Rievaulx], seynt Alrede.'

13. Short Meditations on the Eucharist, and also on the Divinity and Humanity of Christ (fol. 95 a to fol. 96 a): in English prose.

14. 'Decem Precepta,' or an exposition of the Ten Commandments illustrated by stories, of which the first is said to be 'in y^e^ book of Vitas Patrum:' cf. Dibdin, ii. 42.

Begins (fol. 97 a):

The fyrste commawndmet of ycheone
Thou xalt haue none God but one.

15. A continuation of the above (f. 142 b), comprising lessons on the seven deadly sins, the five senses, the seven virtues, the seven sacraments, and the seven gifts of the Holy Ghost.

Ends (fol. 190 a):

To receyuyn hem boy° day and nyth
Therto God graunt grace and myth.

The scribe adds: 'Nunc finem feci, da michi quod merui.'

16. 'Informacion of Richerd [i. e. Hampole] the ermyte,' so runs the colophon (fol. 197 b), adding that the treatise was addressed 'to an ankyr' [or recluse], and 'translate oute of Northarn tunge in to Sutherne, that it schulde the bettir be vnderstondyn of men that be of the selbe countre. Amen.'

Begins (fol. 190 a):

In iche man or woman y^{t} is boundyn in dedly synne...

This appears to vary considerably from the treatise entitled Forma Vivendi: cf. Tanner, p. 375.

On a blank leaf (fol. 195 b) occur several traces of ownership.

1807 Ii. iv. 10.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 346, in double columns, with 55 lines in each column. It has blue and red initial letters. Date, the xivth century.

Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi.

The first 24 leaves contain the explanatory index of names, the usual prologues begin f. 25, and Genesis f. 27. St Matthew begins f. 289, and the MS. ends incompletely in the middle of Rev. xi. 11, 'Et post dies tres et dimidium spiritus vitæ a Deo intravit in eos et ste...'

The books occur in their usual order except that the Acts comes after the epistle to the Hebrews.

1808 Ii. iv. 11.

A small quarto, on vellum, of 167 leaves, in double columns, each containing about 40 lines, written in a hand of the xivth century. The initial letters are coloured, and variously ornamented. The title and some remarks at the end are written in a later hand.

'Liber Etymologiarum.'

Begins (fol. 5):

Litera, sicut dicit Ysidorus, in primo libro Ethymologiarum, in omnibus linguis...

Ends (fol. 160) with an article on Zorobabel, adding 'verba sunt Ysidori Ethimologiarum sept.' (See Isid. Etym. VII. c. 6. T. III. p. 325, ed. Arev.)

Another and an earlier MS. of this work is described under Dd. XV. 1.

At the beginning and end of the work are a few hexameters: the first set commencing thus:

Difficiles studeo partes quas biblia gestat.

The last thus:

Hic ego doctorum compegi scripta sacrorum.

The first four and the last seven leaves consist only of a list of Latin words partly obliterated; three of which, in a different hand, add brief explanations: e. g. Bethel: domus Dei.

1809 Ii. IV. 12.

A quarto on parchment, containing ff. 213, paged throughout. Date, the XIVth century.

1. pp. 1—4 and 423—426. In double columns of 32 lines. A fragment of a Breviary.

2. pp. 5—186. In double columns of 31 lines. 'SUMMA MAGISTRI RICARDI' [WETHERSET.]

Begins:

Qui bene presunt presbiteri, &c. 1 Tim. v. [17]. Presbiter Grece senex Latine dicitur...

Ends:

...hic ergo erit consummatus.

A list of chapters follows.

This is Richardus Wetherset or Withringsete, Chancellor of Cambridge in 1349. It is the same treatise as the 'Speculum Ecclesiasticorum.' See Bale, cent. v. 88, Tanner, Biblioth. p. 759.

The next four leaves are blank.

3. pp. 196—421. In single columns of 31 lines. 'GALFRIDI MONUMETENSIS HISTORIA BRITONUM.' A later hand has added the title.

Begins:

Cum mecum multa et de multis...

Ends:

...in Latinum transferre curavi.

In p. 3 occurs the name 'Richardus Salthowus,' and on p. 7 that of 'Roger Blicklingge monachus.'

See ed. Giles, Lond. 1844.

1810 Ii. iv. 13.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 113, with 32 lines in a page. The initial letters are red and green. The headings are in rubrick. Date, the xiith century.

'Origenis Homiliæ in Libros Judicum, Regnorum, Isaiæ, Jeremiæ.'

Begins:

Lector quidem presentis lectionis...

Ends:

...populum suum omnipotens deus cum xp̄o ih̄u cui &c.

Opp. ed. Par. 1512, T. i. ff. clxxvii—cxc. & ii. pp. c—cxxxi.

On a fly-leaf at the end is written:

Liber Walteri Crome emptus de Magistro Waltero Dubler, rectore ecclesie Sancte Marie juxta muros Colcest. per x*s*.

And on f. 113 b:

Datur liber iste Origenis communi libraric Universitatis Cantabrigie per Crome, A.D. 1444, in festo Sancti Hugonis episcopi.

1811 Ii. iv. 14.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 182 in double columns of 38 lines. Date, the xvth century. It is in two distinct hands, the second, a very inferior running hand, beginning at f. 133. The MS. is very imperfect.

'Nicholai de Lyra Postilla super Evangelistas.'

Begins:

Quatuor facies uni. Ezech. i. Secundum quod scribit beatus Gregorius...

Ends:

...non indigebant sic querere sicut antea...

The commentary on St Matthew is complete; that on St Mark begins f. 77, but goes only as far as c. i. 9, all the rest having been torn out. That on St Luke, which begins f. 81, goes to c. xi. 17, being unfinished. The commentary on St John begins f. 108, and goes to c. xvi. 22, the MS. being imperfect at the end.

Nicholas de Lyra's Commentary was published at Basle in 1502.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is written:

Liber iste constat Thome Scroppe episcopo Dromorensi cujus precium est quinque solidos. empto de decano capelle beate marie de campis in Norwic. A.D. 1462. Johann. Nelle.

1812 Ii. iv. 15.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 123, in double columns of 42 lines. The headings of the chapters are in rubrick: the initial letters alternately red and blue. Date, the xivth century.

'Liber Eruditionis Religiosorum' [Humberti de Romanis?]

Begins (after the prologue, 'Erudire Jerusalem ne forte,' and the list of chapters):

Qui gratiam acceptam non agnoscit...

Ends:

...o quam gloriosa dicta sunt de te civitas Dei.

An index follows.

Printed frequently. See Hh. vi. 14.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is a fragment of a Logical Treatise, with a diagram representing a Syllogism. At the end is a list of Fast Days. On f. 1 is the name of R. Catton.

1813 Ii. iv. 16.

A small quarto, on vellum, of 153 leaves, of which the first two are blank, each page containing between 20 and 30 lines, neatly written in a hand of the latter part of the xvth century. Various parts of the MS. are rubricated and ornamented.

'Θεοδώρου γραμματικῆς εἰσαγωγῆς τῶν εἰς τέσσαρα' (α, β, γ, δ).

Begins (fol. 3):

Περὶ τῶν ὀκτὼ τοῦ λόγου μερῶν. Τῶν τεσσάρων καὶ εἴκοσι γραμμάτων φωνήεντα μὲν ἑπτά...

Theod. Gaz. Intr. Gr. Sig. a ii. ed. Ald.

Ends (fol. penult. 6):

...μετὰ ταῦτα δὲ, ὅπως δεῖ ἐρωτηματίζειν κατὰ τὴν ἐκτεθεῖσαν τήνδε ἡμῖν μέθοδον, λέγομεν.

Id. Sig. 1λ vii. ed. Ald.

At the end are the following notes:

'Μετεγράφη ἡ παροῦσα γραμματικὴ τοῦ σοφωτάτου κυρίου Θεοδώρου διὰ χειρὸς ἐμοῦ Ἰωάννου πρεσβυτέρου Ῥώσου τοῦ Κρητός, ἔτει ἀπὸ τῆς Χριστοῦ γεννήσεως χιλιοστῷ τετρακοσιοστῷ ἑβδομικοστῷ (sic) ἐνάτῳ μῆνος νοεμβρίου δεκάτῃ ἐν Ῥώμῃ.'

'Liber Jo. Shirwod sedis apostolicæ protonotarii, scriptus emptusque Romæ, A.D. 1476.'

Also on the blank leaves at the beginning and end,

'Tho. Gale pecuniis Haketianis redemit ex reliquiis Merici Casauboni.' 'Iste liber pertinet ad me Walterum Hartonum filium Richardi Hartoni.' 'Gabriel Applebie me nunc possidet. Jun. 1614.'

This work of Theodorus Gaza was printed by Aldus at Venice in 1495; and there are various later editions.

1814 Ii. iv. 17.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 90, paged, with 28 lines in a page. Date, the xivth century.

'Galfridi Arthuri Monumethensis de gestis Britonum in Anglia.'

Begins:

Cum mecum multa et de multis...

Ends:

...in Latinum sermonem transferre curavi.

See ed. Giles, Lond. 1844.

A table of measures is given in the same hand on p. 181.

On the fly-leaves at the beginning and end is an index in a later hand. On a slip of parchment at the beginning is the account of the author 'E Pitsio.' And on the cover at the end is written 'Mr Hali Burton.'

1815 Ii. iv. 18.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 50, in double columns usually of 49 lines. Written in a minute hand of the xvth century.

Tractatus de Virtutibus. Imperfect.

Begins:

Caritas est mentis affectus ad Deum...

Ends:

...aqua forte exciderunt reinvenire.

This consists of extracts from S. Augustine, Gregory, Bernard, Bede, &c., whose names are given in the margin.

1816 Ii. IV. 19.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 111, with about 40 lines in a page. Date, the XIIth century. § 4 is in double columns of 39 lines, and later.

A COLLECTION OF THEOLOGICAL TRACTS.

1. ff. 1—10. Sermones. Imperfect at the beginning.

Begins:

...hystoria, ubi ipso resurrectionis die...

Ends:

...proxime dilectione sullevatur.

2. ff 10, 11. 'De Regulis Ticonii.'

See S. Augustin. de Doctrina Christiana, Lib. III. cap. XXXI. sqq.

3. ff. 12—23. 'Quidam Sermones.'

Begins:

[I]bat Ihesus in civitate que vocatur Naim. Humane nature deus pater...

Ends:

...que nobis tribuat ipse christus, qui cum &c.

4. ff. 24—28. A Sermon, beginning 'Judea et Jerusalem nolite timere,' with a paragraph at the end headed 'Que scripture sunt Apocriphe,' and giving a list of Apocryphal Scriptures and Apocryphal works of the Fathers.

5. ff. 29—73 'LIBER SCIENTIALIS ET SACRAMENTALIS. Compilaciones AILMERI.'

Begins:

[A]ssertio nostre fidei est hec...

Ends:

...tanto plus est potenter.

Ailmer or Elmer was a Benedictine monk of Canterbury, who died in 1130. See Pitseus, p. 201, who mentions this MS.

6. ff. 74—91. 'TRACTATUS DE DEO ET ANGELO ET HOMINE.'

Begins:

[A]rchiforans theologia quattuor motuum genera esse definita...

Ends:

...cum spoliis inferorum qui trinus et unus Deus regnet in nobis per omnia secula seculorum.

A later, though ancient hand, has affixed the title 'Liber Tertulliani' to this tract: this is erroneous, as Tertullian, S. Augustine, Cassian's collations, &c. are quoted in it. In f. 89 is the following marginal note:

> Quamvis in hoc libro quedam sanctorum patrum sentencie ponantur, sicut mel e veneno, tamen apocrifus est et a simplicibus minime legendus.

In ff. 89, 90 a sermon on S. Michael is introduced.

7. ff. 91—110. 'Monologion Anselmi Archiepiscopi.'

Begins:

> Quidam fratres sepe me studioseque...

Ends:

> ...ineffabiliter trinus et unus.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1853, T. I. coll. 141—224.

8. ff. 110, 111. 'Ejusdem Epistola de sacrificio azimi et fermentati.'

Begins:

> Anselmus servus ecclesie Cantuariensis...

Ends:

> ...rationabiliter repudiandum judicatur.

Ib. coll. 541—548.

1817 Ii. iv. 20.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 304, in double columns, with 33 lines in each column. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. Date, the xvth century.

Breviarium et Missale secundum usum Sarum.

The top of f. 2, which begins the office for the Dominica prima adventus, has been cut away for the sake of the initial letter, which then go regularly through the year to f. 135. f. 136 contains a series of hexameters on the chief feasts, beginning 'Omnipotens dominus sua gratia nos benedicat.'

In f. 137 begin the offices for the Mass, beginning as usual with the first Sunday in Advent. In f. 160 is the 'Exorcismus salis et aquæ,' followed by (f. 161) the 'Ordo ad introitum misse;' the Canon begins f. 165, the beginning being cut away for the sake of the initial T, as is also the greater part of f. 164, and the leaf between ff. 169 and 170. The offices then go on as usual, the Proprium Sanctorum (for the Mass) beginning f. 172 b, followed by the Commune Sanctorum, f. 184. In f. 194 begins the Proprium Sanctorum for the Breviary, beginning with S. Sylvester, and ending with S. Thomas Apostle: followed by the 'Commune Sanctorum,' f. 281: with which the MS. ends, f. 304 b.

1818 Ii. iv. 21.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 229, in double columns of 48 lines. Date, the xivth century.

'Petrus de Tharentasia [i. e. Innocentius V.] in Epistolas S. Pauli.'

Begins:

Dedite in luce gentium ut sis salus...

Ends:

...de mortalibus non de venialibus proprie.

This is the Commentary published under the name of Nicholas de Gorran, Hagenoæ, 1502.

To the commentary on the Epistles to the Romans and Hebrews is a full marginal gloss in a later hand.

1819 Ii. iv. 22.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 175, numbered, in double columns of 45 lines. Date, the xivth century.

1. ff. 1—18. 'Liber de Regimine Principum editus a fratre Egidio Romano ordinis fratrum heremitarum Sancti Augustini.'

Begins:

De regia et sanctissima prosapia...

Ends:

...deus ipse suis promisit fidelibus, qui est benedictus, etc.

Printed Rom. 1482, &c.

After the explicit are the lines:

Scripserat Egidium regum regimen referentem
Swantoun, presidium poscendo cuncta regentem.

The name of Jon Swantoun, the scribe, occurs at the end of each book.

The next 7 leaves contain a 'tabula' and 'contra-tabula,' at the end of which are the lines

Egidii tabula finit, dentur modo vina
Et sine qua fabula Swantoun pincerna propina.

2. ff. 125—175. S. Thomas Aquinas 'De Regimine et Regno.'

Begins:

Cogitanti michi quid offerrem regie celsitudini...

Ends:

...et est contra normam docendi.

This is Opusc. 20 of Opp. T. XVII.

1820 Ii. IV. 23.

Opp. Hug. de S. Victor. Migne, Par. 1854, T. II. coll. 977.

62. f. 79 a. 'Sermo beati Cypriani super Orationem Dominicam.'

A later hand has altered the name from Augustine to Cyprian, to whom a note at the end gives the Sermon,

'Evangelica preparatio fratres.'

It is not found in S. Cyprian's works.

63. f. 83 b. 'Sermo Augustini de muliere forti.' 'Prestabit nobis Dominus.' Sermo 37.

64. f. 88 a. 'Expositio Bede presbyteri de muliere forti.'

Begins:

Mulierem fortem quis inveniet, &c. Mulier fortis ecclesia catholica.

This is Bede's exposition of Proverbs xxxi. Opp. ed. Giles, T. IX. pp. 171—185.

65. f. 92 a. 'Augustini Episcopi liber de Mendacio.'

Magna questio est de mendacio.

Opp. S. Augustin, VI. col. 709.

66. ff. 101—104 and f. 118. 'Bernardus de conversione.'

Begins:

Ad audiendum ut credimus verbum Dei.

Opp. S. Bernardi, Par. 1839, I. coll. 1132—1164.

67. ff. 105—116. 'Augustinus contra mendacium.'

Begins:

Multa michi legenda...

preceded by the extract from the Retractt.

Opp. VI. col. 753.

A table of contents and beginnings of each sermon, &c. follows this, and after f. 118, which contains the end of § 66, the next two leaves are blank.

68. f. 121 a. 'S. Augustinus de sex questionibus Paganorum.'

Begins (after the letter 'Sincerissimo fratri...'):

Movet quosdam et requirunt...

This is Epistola 102, T. II. col. 409.

69. f. 125 a. 'Liber ejusdem contra Adversarium legis et Prophetarum.'

Begins:

Librum quem misistis fratres...

Opp. VIII. col. 849. This only contains the first and a small portion of the second chapter.

70. ff. 126, 7. Extracts from S. Bernard, De Confessione, de Eucharistia, &c.

71. f. 127 b. 'Sermo beati Augustini de non Jurando.' This is Sermo 307. 'Cum sanctum Evangelium.'

The next two leaves are blank.

II. 'Sermones De Nativitate Domini.'

1. ff. 129—142. S. Augustini Sermones 20.

These are Sermones 117 Append., 370, 195, 118 Append., 184, 191, 127 Append., one beginning 'Clementissime pater,' 195 Append., 194, 193, 187, 120 Append., 192, 360, 123 Append., 124 Append., 188, 186, and one beginning 'Omnes Scripture quas.'

2. ff. 142 b—144 a. 'Eusebii sermones duo.'

These begin 'Audivimus prophetam de nativitate,' and 'Quis tanta rerum verborumque copia.'

3. f. 144. 'Faustini Episcopi.' 'Legimus et fideliter retinemus quæ sub ipso principe.'

4. ff. 144 b—148 a. 'Gregorii Nazianzeni.' 'Christus nascitur gloriemur.'

5. ff. 148 a—153 b. 'Beati Johannis Crisostomi Sermones 5.' These begin 'Quoniam tempus venit,' 'Dominus virtutum,' 'Nobilis genere,' 'Omnem creaturam,' and 'Semper quidem karissimi.'

6. ff. 153 b—158 a. 'Beati Maximi episcopi Sermones 4.' These begin 'Justissime, fratres,' 'Hodierni mysterii sacramentum,' 'In adventu dominico,' and 'Oportet nos hodie.' The first three are Homiliæ 11, 13, 12, of ed. Migne.

7. ff. 158 a—160. 'Petri Ravennatis Sermones 4.'

These are Sermones 145, 146, 147, 148 of S. Peter Chrysologus' Sermones, ed. Bonon. 1643, pp. 352—360.

The last is imperfect, ending with the words 'potestati subjacere non arti.' One leaf is lost at the end, which apparently contained the rest of this sermon and another.

III. In double columns of 62 lines. Written in a minute and very different hand from the rest of the MS.

'Glossa super Epistolas Pauli.'

Begins:

Sicut veteris testamenti series in tres ordines distinguitur...

Ends:

...ut omnis nostra actio.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is written a note stating that the volume was given 'Communi librarie scolarium Universitatis Cantabrigiensis per Crome, A.D. 1444, in festo Sancti Hugonis manu propria scripta, et est decimus in ordine librorum donatorum.'

1821 Ii. iv. 24.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 270, in double columns of from 47 to 57 lines. The initial letters are blue. The MS. has lost a leaf at the beginning.

'Postilla super evangelia dominicalia ab adventu Domini usque ad Pascha edita a fratre Philippo de monte Calerio ordinis fratrum minorum.'

Begins (in the postilla for the Gospel for the first Sunday in Advent):

...[veni]ent in nomine meo dicentes ego sum Christus...

Ends:

...quod nobis concedat qui sine fine vivit et regnat. Amen.

At the end of the colophon is written 'Emanuel nunc et semper. Amen, quod Thomas Hay monachus de Evesham vestre sanctitatis servus humilis et minister.' See Gg. IV. 19.

1822 Ii. IV. 25.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 295 in double columns of 54 lines. Date, the XIVth century.

A Collection of INDEXES to various works.

1. ff. 1—50. 'Tabula auctoritatum et sententiarum Biblie inductarum in compilacionibus Decretorum et Decretalium cotatarum excellentissimi doctoris domini Johannis Calderini.'

This title is given in the colophon. After it is 'cujus anima requiescat in pace. Amen, quod...' the name being effaced.

This was printed by Drach. Spir. 1481.

2. ff. 50—142. 'Tabula Librorum S. Thomæ de Alquino famosiorum.'

3. ff. 142—164. 'Tabula Sermonum optimorum Bernardi super Cantica.'

4. ff. 165—172. 'Tabula super Glossam ordinariam prime quinquagene psalterii.'

5. ff. 173—188. 'Tabula super communem Glossam epistolarum Beati Pauli apostoli.'

6. ff. 189—198. 'Tabula super epistolas Hieronimi.'

7. ff. 199—247. 'Tabula Librorum Senece.'

8. ff. 247—259. 'Tabula super dictis phisicis cum moralizatione eorundem.'

The moralizatio begins a second alphabetical table, f. 258.

9. ff. 260—295. 'Tabula super toto corpore decretorum fructuosa.'

This list of titles is given in a fly-leaf at the beginning.

1823 Ii. IV. 26.

A small folio, consisting of 74 leaves, of vellum, with 24 lines in a page. It is incomplete at the end. Date, XIIth century.

There are numerous figures of the animals described, for the most part in outline.

'LIBER BESTIARUM' HUGONIS DE S. VICTORE.

See Gg. vi. 5, to which this book is very similar in the text, but the order of chapters is different, and there are both large omissions and insertions. The outlined figures are remarkable for their finish and vigour. Only those on the first leaf are coloured. The last part appearing is in the chapter 'de Gradibus etatis,' ending:

...ubi comparativus gradus minus significata [sic] a positivo. Ergo sinus...

A former owner has been Jacobus Thomas Herison. The volume was presented to the Library ex Dono integerrimi ornatissimique viri Osberti Fowler Collegii Regalis Registrarii, 1655, July 16.

1824 Ii. iv. 27.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 187, with 30 lines in a page, written in a beautiful hand of the xiiith century.

1. ff. 1—128. 'Liber de Homoysyon et Homoeysion' [Anselmi Havelbergensis?]

Begins (after a preface, 'Sanctus Hylarius Pictavorum episcopus in libro de Synodis...'):

Substantia est primum nomen naturalium...

Ends:

...intelligi vel ostendi potest.

The author in his preface states that he has divided his treatise 'in quatuor distinctiones: 1. de substantie ambiguitate; 2. de unitatis multiplicitate; 3. de similitudinis et equalitatis varietate; 4. de consubstantialitate et homoysii atque homoeysii proprietate.'

2. ff. 129—176. 'Liber de diversitate nature et persone proprietatumque personalium non tam Latinorum quam ex Grecorum auctoritatibus extractus.'

Begins:

Circumspicienti mihi quanta sit in humanis studiis...

Ends:

...maneat quicquid eternaliter existit.

3. ff. 177—187. 'Liber de Ignorantia.'

Begins:

Quid ignorantia sit multi ignorant...

Ends:

...delinquere venialiter dicetur.

The above three treatises are all in the same hand, and on vellum of the same age and condition; the quires are numbered, and the numbering begins again at § 2; they are most probably by the same author. The conjecture as to their author has been drawn from the prefatory chapter to § 2, ff. 129, 130.

The author states that he was sent by the Emperor Frederick to Manuel Emperor of Constantinople, and that he collected his Greek authorities there: when he returned into Germany, he shewed these 'Petro, venerabili Tusculano episcopo,' who expressed his surprise that these works were unknown to one so well skilled in Greek as Gisilbert, Bp. of Poitiers. Anselm, Bp. of Havelberg, was sent on the above embassy in 1153. See Otto de Gestis Frideric. I. Imp. in the Germanici Scriptores Urstisii, Francofurt. 1585, p. 451. For an account of him and his writings, see Oudin, II. col. 1428. He died Bishop of Ravenna.

Two leaves from a very beautiful missal are bound up with this MS. which is bound in boards leathered over, and has clasps.

1825

Ii. iv. 28.

A small folio, on parchment, containing ff. 92, numbered, with 40 lines in a page. The initial letters are red, blue, and green. Date, the XIIIth century.

1827 Ii. iv. 30.

A quarto, on paper, of 231 leaves, containing 39 lines, written in the xvith century.

'Geographia Edwardi Higgons Anglici.'

In the beginning of the volume the initials are illuminated. The work is a description geographical, physical, and historical of the old world. There are very well-executed drawings of many flowers in the margins towards the end of the book. The work is incomplete, ending in the history of England in the reign of Henry the Second; but the history of France concludes with the defeat of Frederick the Third of Naples in 1501, which probably gives the date of the work. There are some maps, intended to represent the positions of countries, but not their forms.

Begins:

Capitulum primum de creatione machine tocius mundi. In principio creavit, &c.

Ends:

...quo patris animum graviter offendit.

The initials R. S. occur under the title.

1828 Ii. iv. 31.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 262, with 32 lines in a page. Date, the xiith century.

1. ff. 1—23. 'Jeronimus super Marcum.'

Begins:

Ends:

...cum Matheo et Luca concordans enarrat. Explicit.

This will be found in the S. Hieronymi Operum Mantissa. Opp. ed. Migne, T. xi. coll. 589—644.

The next leaf is blank.

2. ff. 25—136. 'Ejusdem super Matheum.'

Begins, with a highly-ornamented initial letter:

Plures fuisse qui evangelia scripserunt...

Ends:

...in qua se scit futurum cum apostolis.

Ibid. T. vii. coll. 15—218.

The next two leaves are blank.

3. ff. 139—222. 'Sanctus Ambrosius de Officiis.'

Begins:

Non arrogans videri arbitror...

Ends:

...plurimum instructionis conferat.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1845, ii. coll. 23—184.

4. ff. 223—245. 'Origenes de singularitate clericorum.'

Begins:

Emiseram quidem vobis ante tempus...

Ends:

...deus pacis et dilectionis sit vobiscum.

The next leaf is blank.

5. f. 247 a. 'Duodecimus abusionis gradus. Populus sine lege.'

S. Augustin. Opp. T. vi.-Append. coll. 1581, 2.

6. ff. 247 b—258. 'Augustinus de Penitencia.'

Begins:

Quam sit utilis et necessaria...

Ends:

...ergo dimitte incertum et tene certum.

This consists of Sermones 351 and 393 of Opp. T. v.

Four leaves follow in an illegible hand.

On f. 137 is the name Johannes de Mendham.

1829 Ii. iv. 32.

A small folio, on paper, consisting of two treatises bound together, but separately paged, the former of which comprises 160 leaves (excluding blanks), and the latter 39 leaves (excluding blanks), written in a scrawling hand of the early part of the xviith century. The title is written inside the cover in a later hand.

'Corn. Lery Quæstiones in Aristotelis Logicam et Ethicam.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Introductio ad logicam Aristotelis. Procemium. Dignitas logicæ. Qui philosophica spatia ingreditur...

Ends (fol. ult.):

...logica et ethica.

Inside the cover we have 'Ex dono Gulielmi Welles Bibliopolæ Londinensis, 1656:' also on a blank leaf at the beginning, 'Hic liber est Cornelii Lery...1639.'

Between ff. 12 and 13 is inserted a printed table of 'Clara modorum imperfectionum trium figurarum reductio ad quatuor primæ perfectos." Rhedonis, 1630.

See Ii. iv. 7.

1830 Ii. iv. 33.

A small folio, on paper, of 146 leaves, in various hands, and the sections differing in size. Date, the xviith century.

A Collection of Political Tracts, chiefly relating to the Stuart Succession.

1. ff. 1—28 a. Leicester's Commonwealth.

'The Coppy of a Letter wrytten by a Mr. of Arts in Cambridge to his freind in London concerning some talke passed betweene two worshippfell and grave men aboute the presente state and some proceedings of the Earle of Lecistre and his freinds in England.'

This is a careless copy of the anonymous book with the above title, published London, 1641. See Ff. ii. 3. Some of the copyist's blunders are corrected in red chalk.

2. ff. 31—39. 'A Tetrase declaring, and conferminge against all objections the just title and right of the excellent and worthie prince James, King of Scotland, to the Succession of the Crowne of England. Whereunto is added a dyscorse shewing how necessarye yt is for the realme of Ingland that he be in due tyme accknowledged and admytted to the succession of ye kingdome.'

The name Jeremias Philodicaios appears at the head of the treatise.

The Preface begins:

Seing of greate Diversytye of opinions...

Ends:

...beseching God to endewe you I hartylie bid you fare well.

The Treatise begins:

The right of the King of Scotland by desent of kindred...

Ends:

...by the dyscourse followinge shal bee mad manefeste.

The Discourse begins:

Having hetherto sufficiently declared...

Ends:

...admytte and receive him to the Succession of the kingdome.

3. ff. 41—48 a. 'A Booke conteyninge a declaration of the Succession of the Crowne Imperiall of England.'

Begins:

In so greate and waighty a matter as we have in hand...

Ends:

...to yield to the truth quickly.

This is followed by a tract, or second chapter of the foregoing, ff. 50—60, 'Off the five principall howses or Lynages that doe or maye pretend to the Crowne of England, which are the howses of Scotland, Suffolk, Clarence, Brytany, and Portingale, and first of all of the house of Scotland, which contanyeth the pretensions of the King of Scotts and the Lady Arbel'a.'

Begins:

Fyrst having declared in the former chapter...

Ends:

...their heads full of tytles and tytlers to the Crowne.

4. ff. 61—64 a. 'Two books of the Histories of Ireland, compiled by Edmunde Campion, feloe of Seint John the Baptistes Colledge in Oxforde.'

This fragment answers to the first seven pages of the history as printed in Sir J. Ware's collection, fol. Dublin, 1633.

5. ff. 76—123. The Genealogy of the Kings of England from William the Conqueror to Queen Elizabeth.

The date 1584 appears on a fly-leaf of this part.

6. ff. 124—143. 'Statuta Academiæ Cantabrigiensis data per Reginam Elizabetham Anno regni 12mo.'

These are printed in Documents relating to the University and Colleges of Cambridge, Vol. I. p. 454. At the end the name Gulielmus Cecilius is written apparently in imitation of the autograph.

f. 144 contains seven suggestions or propositions for reforming the constitution of the English Church.

1831 Ii. iv. 34.

A small folio, on vellum, of 190 leaves, each page containing nearly 40 lines, neatly written in a hand which seems to be at least as early as the xiith century. Very fine illuminations, coloured letters and later notes occur in the volume. The colophon supplies the title.

'Prisciani Grammatici, Libri i—xvi.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Cum omnis eloquentie... (Præf. p. 534, ed. Putsch.)

Ends (fol. antepenult.):

...lucidus ethra siderea polus. (Lib. xvi. in fin. p. 1034, ed. Putsch.)

The antepenultimate and penultimate leaves contain also various grammatical scraps: the last leaf is wholly blank.

1832 Ii. iv. 35.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 163, numbered throughout, in double columns of 25 lines. Date, about 1400.

'Hugonis de Foliere' [Folieto] De Claustro Animæ.

Begins:

Rogasti nos, frater amantissime, quatinus...

Ends:

...fortitudinem immortalitatis. Benedictus Deus. Amen. Explicit, Explicit.

Opp. Hugo de S. Vict. ed. Migne, Par. 1854, T. II. coll. 1017—1182.

On f. 1 is written 'Henrici de Lakenham prioris Norwyci.'

1833 Ii. iv. 36.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 139, with 29 lines in a page. Date, the xiith century.

1. ff. 1—61. 'Regule pastoralis Gregorii Papæ urbis Romæ.'

Begins (after the list of chapters):

Pastoralis curæ me pondera fugere...

Ends:

...tui meriti manus levet.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1849, T. iii. coll. 13—128.

2. ff. 61, 62. 'Decretum Gregorii papæ, ut episcopi nullam molestiam abbatibus vel monasteriis monachorum inferre presumant, sed sub perpetua securitate et quiete domino adjuvante absque ullius gravamine permaneant.'

This is followed by the answer of the Bishops, 'Libertati monachorum congaudemus,' &c., eleven Latin elegiac verses, beginning, 'Eripe, caute piis monitis precibusque sacratis,' and a prayer.

3. ff. 63—139. 'Heraclidis Liber qui dicitur Paradisus.'

Begins (after the prologue 'In hoc libro quem de vita sanctorum patrum...'):

Multi quidem multos variosque libros...

Ends:

...si me prorsus volueris adorare.

Printed by Jehan Petit, Par. 1504. The MS. places the 'Peroratio libri ad Lausum,' which appears at the end of the treatise in the printed edition, f. 35, before the actual beginning of the work, 'Cum primum Alexandriam attigi civitatem...'

Heraclides was a monk of Cyprus, and afterwards Bishop of Ephesus.

1834 Ii. iv. 37.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 143, in double columns of 40 lines. Date, the xivth century.

'Liber de Regimine Principum editus a fratre Egidio Romano ordinis fratrum heremitarum Sancti Augustini.'

Begins (after a list of chapters):

Ex regia ac sanctissima prosapia...

Ends:

...deus ipse suis promisit fidelibus qui est benedictus, &c.

Printed, Rom. 1482, &c.

On f. 1 is the name R. Catton.

1835 Ii. iv. 38.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 145, in double columns of 36 lines. Date, the xivth century.

PETRI LOMBARDI SENTENTIARUM PARTES II, III, IV.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, T. II. coll. 651—962.

ff. 74—76, between Parts 3 and 4, are blank. The MS. is considerably injured at the end by damp.

1836 Ii. v. 1.

A folio, on paper, of 190 leaves, of 24 lines, with a broad margin, written in the xviith century.

'LEICESTER'S COMMONWEALTH.'

This copy bears date 1648. See Ff. II. 3, and Ii. IV. 33, § 1. The title-page seems to be taken from that of the suppressed edition of 1584.

1837 Ii. v. 2.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 257, in double columns, with 53 lines in each column. Date, the xivth century.

The latter half of a

BIBLIA VULGATA SANCTI HIERONYMI,

containing the books of the Old Testament in their usual order from Proverbs to Maccabees, and the New Testament, as usual, except that the Acts comes after the Epistle to the Hebrews. S. Matthew begins f. 131, and the Apocalypse ends f. 211, and is followed by the explanatory index of Hebrew names, which ends f. 255 b with the rubrick, Expliciunt interpretationes nominum hebraicorum secundum Remigium.

On the last leaf is written,

Obitus Wheram 1419 anno bisextili littera dominical. ff. 2° nonas Martii.

And below,

Caucio magistri Stephani Tyler exposita in cista lincoll. a. d. 1455, 27 martii et habet supplementum 2° fo. tum dicere, et jacet pro xxvi*s.* viii*d.*

This is repeated several times, the dates and amounts being changed; the last date is May 12, 1467.

1838 Ii. v. 3.

A folio, on paper, stained throughout, containing 96 numbered leaves, written in Latin, in foreign hands of the xvith century. They are all original documents except article 6. The table of contents, from which the following titles are taken, is written in an English court-hand.

The Case of 'the Marriage betweene the Earle of Hertford and the Lady Katheryn Gray.'

1. f. 1. 'A discourse written by Johannes Oldendorpius concerning the former mariage of Henry Earle of Pembroke with the said Lady Katherine.'

At the end is written (evidently in the autograph of Oldendorp, with his seal affixed): 'Ita Johannes Oldendorpius, Juris Doctor, ex jure et equitate respondebat. Salvo meliore judicio.'

2. f. 3. 'One other discourse written by Jacobus Omphilius concerning the said mariage.'

It bears his signature at the end.

3. f. 8*b*. 'One other discourse written by three of the said doctors of the Imperiall chamber of Spires, viz. Chilianus Sinapius, Marcus Ludovicus Ziegler, and Georgius Brunner, concerning the said marriage.'

Their signatures are subscribed.

4. f. 19. 'A lardge discourse made by Robert Beale concerning the mariage betweene the Earle of Hertford and the Lady Katheryn Gray.'

To this is subscribed the initials 'R. B.'

5. f. 47. 'One other lardge discourse written by fower doctors of the Imperiall chamber of Spires, viz. Chilianus Sinapius, Marcus Ludovicus Ziegler, Georgius Brunner, and Johannes Michaell Ficlerus, concerning the said mariage.'

It bears their signatures at the end.

6. f. 81. 'The copie of one other discourse made by five doctors of the Universitie of Parris, concerning the said marriage.'

The names of these doctors were, Laurentius Riviere, Jacobus De la Croix, Joannes Ramatus, Petrus Pillaguetius, and Martinus Gilbertus.

1839 Ii. v. 4.

A folio, on paper, of 158 leaves, in good preservation.

That part of the 'LIBER FEODORUM militum comitatibus Ebor. Lincoln, Suff. et NORF.' which relates to Norfolk. A. D. 1585.

1840 Ii. v. 5.

A folio, on paper, containing 93 leaves (the first 5 of which are blank), with from 25 to 30 lines in a page, written in English, in a slovenly hand of the beginning of the XVIIth century.

NOTES OF PETITIONS TO CHANCERY, WITH THEIR ANSWERS, FROM JULY 1622 TO MAY 1623.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning are written the names of Rob. Coytmor and R. Salisbury.

In the Catalogue of Bishop Moore, who was a former owner of this book, it is said to be 'Archbishop Williams's original book of Causes tryed before him when Lord Keeper.'

1841 Ii. v. 6.

A small folio, on paper, containing 24 leaves of 22 lines, bound up with Ii. v. 5: written in the XVIIth century.

1. ff. 1—13. 'THE NARRATIVES OF PRINCE RUPERT AND THE DUKE OF ALBEMARLE CONCERNING THE MISCARRIAGES IN THE LATE WARR.'

Concerning these, see Parliamentary History, Vol. IV. col. 404, where the Duke of Albemarle's report is printed.

2. ff. 14—24. 'ORDERS OF THE COMITTEE APPOINTED TO INQUIRE INTO THE MISCARRIAGES OF THE LATE WARRE.'

The last leaf contains the summary of matters discussed under seven principal heads.

1842 Ii. v. 7.

A folio, on paper, containing 188 numbered leaves, with about 24 lines in a page, written in English, in a hand of the XVIIth century.

'Five severall Exercises or Expositions on the Commission and Statute of Sewers [23 Hen. VIII. c. 5], expressing the Extent of the authoritie thereof, and written for Commissioners' direction in the execution of theire dutie.' [The Readings of Robert Callis at Gray's Inn, in August, 1622.]

The first edition of this was printed in 1647, the fourth (edited by W. J. Broderip) in 1824.

The exordium of the first reading is omitted in this MS.

1843 Ii. v. 8.

A folio, on paper, containing 120 numbered leaves (a few of which are blank), with from 25 to 30 lines in a page. Written in hands of the xviith century. It is bound up with the preceding MS.

Historical Tracts.

I. ff. 1—19. 'A Discourse written by Sir Henrie Manwairing; and by him presented to the King's Majestie, A°. 1618, wherein are discovered the beginnings and proceedings of the Pyrats, who nowe so much infest the Seas: Together with his advise and direction how to surprise and suppresse them.'

Begins:

Daielie experience proves it to be undoubtedlie true, that English Pyrates doe first arme and horse themselves...

Ends:

I humbly commend this to your highnesse' remembrance; deliberare lentè; quod decreveris, constanter urge.

After six blank leaves,

II. ff. 26—43. 'The Manner of the proceedings in Parliament against Francis, Viscount St Albans, late Lord Chancellor of England, together with his true Confession and humble Submission.'

Begins:

On Monday the 19th day of December, 1620, in the afternoone, the Commons had a Conference with the Lords...

Ends:

That hee shall never sitt in parliament, nor come within the verge of the Courte.—This is the Judgment and Resolucion of this high Courte.

This will be found in the Journals of the House of Lords.

After five blank leaves, in a fresh handwriting,

III. ff. 49—63. 'Of the Election of the Kinge of Poland, December, 1632, by waie of letter, dated ut supra.'

Begins:

My laste unto you was the thirteenth day of December: Nowe these are to lett you understand of some passages concerning the Election of the Kinge of Poland...

Ends:

...God in his good time will send a man, that shall roote uppe this generation of Locusts from the face of the earth.

This is a familiar description of the journey of the writer and Mr Gourden from Dantzic to Warsaw, with an account of the proceedings at the election of Vladislas VII.

In a fresh handwriting,

IV. ff. 64—119. 'A Record or memoriall of divers excellent Orations and pollitique Consultacions in manie exigents and waightie points of state, delivered at sundry times, and upon severall occasions, by that famous Councellor to Queene Elizabeth, Sir Nicholas Bacon, Knight, Lord Keeper of the Greate Seale of England.'

1. ff. 65—68. 'An Oration made by the Lord Keeper to the Queene's Majestie in her Gallerie at Westminster, exhortinge her to marriage.'

Begins:

May it please your Majestie to understand, that all my Lords here present, and all the rest, both Spiritual and Temporal...

Ends:

...and on th'other side, If I have performed my Commaundement, that soe they would affirme it.

This, though not mentioned in the journals, was probably delivered upon the occasion of presenting the petition of the Lords, Nov. 10, 1566. See Parl. Hist. of England, I. 710.

2. f. 68*b*. 'The Answer given in the Queene's presence to the Lord Maior, when hee was presented.'

Begins:

The Queene's Majestie hath heard, and doeth very well understand, your humble suite and peticion...

Ends:

...nor you, my Lord Maior, in receiveinge the charge, nor your brethren the Aldermen, in their eleccion.

3. f. 69. 'His Speech used to a Serjeant at Lawe called to be a Judge.'

Begins:

Mr Serjeant.—Your wisdome and my weaknes requireth fewe words, and in very deed, fewe words bee best remembred...

Ends (after the oath taken, 'upon the deliverie of the pattent'):

...reward for the execucion of the same, as ever happened to anie that ever occupied this place.

4. ff. 70—75. 'An Oration made to the Queene's Majestie by the Lord Keeper concerninge her marriage and the succession of the Crowne.'

Begins:

Humbly beseechinge your most excellent Majestie, your faithfull, loveinge, and obedient subjects...

Ends:

...since the beginninge of your Raigne, which I pray God long to continue to his honor with all felicitie.

This, with a few verbal variations, is printed in Parl. Hist. of England, I. 710—714, as 'The Petition of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal,' presented to her Majesty, Nov. 10, 1566.

5. ff. 75, 76. 'The effect of the Speech used by the said Lord Keeper unto the Queene's Majestie at such times as her highnes first called him to serve.'

Begins:

I wishe, for service' sake (seeing it pleaseth your Majestie to call mee to serve), that those things which your highnes by report supposeth to bee in mee, were mine in very ded...

Ends:

...Soe, for duties' sake, I shall with good contencion enter into such callinge as your Majestie shall commaunde mee.

6. ff. 76*b*—81. 'Used by the Lord Keeper amonge the Lords of the Starr Chamber, An°. 1568.'

Begins:

The cause of your callinge together at this time is this, The Queene's Majestie is given to understand that sundrie of her lawes...

Ends:

...as thereby wee may in part satisfie for our negligence and default past, and avoid the perills and dangers to come.

7. ff. 81—83. 'The Lord Keeper's Speeche to Sir Thomas Gargrave, elected Speaker for the House of Commons.' [1559.]

Begins:

Sir Thomas Gargrave.—Your comly and modest manner in disabling yourselfe in this office and roome...

Ends:

...unto further occasion wee have thought good to dismisse you.

See D'Ewes's Journals.

8. ff. 83—96. 'The Speech used by my Lord Keeper, Tenne daies before [Christmas] An°. 1559, at the Councell Table, concerninge an Aide required by the Scotts for the removeinge of the French out of Scotland.'

Begins:

My Lords and Masters.—For that in soe greate and waightie a cause as this is...

Ends:

...as upon the first breakers of the treaty betweene both the Realmes.

9. ff. 96—101. 'A Speech used by the Lord Keeper in Councell in the end of Midsomer Terme, 1582 [1562, see Burghley's State Papers, pp. 388—393], when it was brought in question whether the Enterviewe betweene the Queene's Majestie and the Scottish Queene were convenient to bee allowed of or not; the effect whereof he spake in July to the Queene att Greenewich.'

Begins:

My Lords.—To my understandinge the best way to judge whether the Enterviewe shall bee good and profitable...

Ends:

And therefore for my part I cannot allowe of it.

10. ff. 102—110. 'A Speech used by the Lord Keeper to the Lords and others assembled in the Parliament house.'

Begins:

My Lords and Masters all.—The Queene's most excellent Majestie, our naturall and most gratious Sovereign Lady...

Ends:

...and for your day of presentation, the Queene's Majestie giveth you, &c.

Delivered upon the opening of Parliament, Jan. 25, 1558-9, and printed in Parl. Hist. of England, I. 637—642.

11. ff. 110—118. 'An Oration made by the Lord Keeper the eight of March, the Parliament then endinge, to the Nobles and Commons, in the presence of the Queene's Majestie.'

Begins:

Mr Speaker.—The Queene's Majestie hath heard you how discreetly and wisly you have declared...

Ends:

...accordinge to the auncyent order shal bee made and declared, as I have saide.

It does not appear that any one of the Parliaments of Elizabeth ended on the 8th of March. This is given, with very considerable variations, in D'Ewes's Journals (p. 151), as the Lord Keeper's Speech at the close of the Session, May 29, 1571. See also Parl. Hist. of England, I. 766—772.

12. ff. 118—120. 'The effect of his Speech to Mr Bell, when hee was called to bee Judge, descrybinge the quallities requisite to bee in a Judge.' [24 Jan. 19 Eliz.—Dugdale.]

Begins:

That the Queene's Majestie, through the good opinion which shee had conceived of Mr Bell...

Ends:

...and satisfyinge her people whom he hath to judg by her authoritie.

This gives the purport only of the speech, in the third person.

Then follow the lines,

Sic puto, sic scripsi: sic vivam, sic volo cuncta:
Sic mediocre placet. Numquid magis omnia possunt?
Des igitur, Deus, hoc medium: mea vota tenebo.

Beneath these is written the name of Bacon, apparently an imitation of his autograph.

1845 Ii. v. 10.

A folio, on paper, containing 94 numbered pages of MS. (and 137 leaves of blank paper), with from about 30 to 40 lines in a page, written in English, in hands of the latter part of the XVIIIth century.

A COLLECTION OF LAW PRECEDENTS.

Near the end was commenced an Index, but it contains references under the word Conditions only.

1846 Ii. v. 11.

A folio, on vellum, in 84 leaves of 29 lines. Written in French, late in the XVth century.

A TREATISE 'DU GOUVERNEMENT DE CORPS DOMME.' In French.

This volume has belonged to Henry VII., whose arms impaled with those of Elizabeth of York, are richly illuminated on the fly-leaf. The initial letters of the articles contain drawings representing the subject of the article, all coloured, and with gilded foliations. There is no title-page, nor does there seem to have been any, but in the colophon the description of the book appears as follows: Cy fine ce livre qui traicte de tout ce qui necessaire pour le gouvernement de corps domme et de pluseurs remedes contre pluseurs et diverses maladies.

The work is in four books, with a proemium.

Proemium begins:

Dieu qui par sa grant puissance tout le monde establi (with a large representation of the Creation):

The treatise begins:

Lair est un des quatres elemens...

Ends:

...et qui se delicte en oir parler de femmes.

There is a contemporary table of contents on three leaves inserted before the treatise. On the last there are some recipes in Latin and English: also the name Walterus, and the couplet,

Cuspite cultelli perierunt ambo remele,
Amne soror, mater fune, dolore pater.

And,

Roy Henry VII. a qui dieu doint bonne vie et paradis.

1847 Ii. v. 12.

1848 Ii. v. 13.

A folio, on paper, containing 129 leaves (a few of which are blank), numbered as far as 107, with between 50 and 60 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the beginning of the xviith century.

Reports of Cases adjudged in the King's Bench, Common Bench, and Exchequer, between 36 and 40 Elizabeth, with an Index.

Most of the cases are printed in Croke.

1849 Ii. v. 14.

A folio, on paper, containing 148 leaves, numbered as 146 (two folios being numbered 36, and two 146), with from 40 to 50 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the xviith century. It is slightly stained nearly throughout, and between ff. 116—131 the upper corners are eaten away by mice.

Reports of Cases adjudged chiefly in the King's Bench, from Easter Term, 7 James I., to Trinity term, 10 James I.

Many of these cases are in Brownlow, Coke, and Croke.

On f. 143 is written a list of 'the judges of the 4 Courts of Westminster in the 10 James I.'—the fourth Court being that of Wards and Liveries.

1850 Ii. v. 15.

A folio, on paper, containing 351 leaves, the greater number of which are blank, written in Law-French, in a hand of the latter part of the xvith century.

A Law Common-place Book, arranged alphabetically.

A great many of the titles have no entries under them.

1851 Ii. v. 16.

A folio, on paper, containing 265 leaves, numbered irregularly (the first folio being numbered 44), with from 45 to 50 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the latter part of the xvith century.

Law Reports from Mich. Term, 32 Eliz., to Hilary Term, 36 Eliz.

Many of the cases are in Coke and Croke.

1852 Ii. v. 17.

A folio, on paper (bound with the preceding), containing 50 leaves, partially numbered, with about 50 lines in a page, written in Law-French and English, in a hand of the xviith century.

'Un breif collection de touts tiels decrees fayt in le Court de Gards queux decydent ascuns doubt in ley,' &c.

It commences with Trinity Term, 7 Edw. VI., and ends with Mich. Term, 10 James I.

1853 Ii. v. 18.

A folio, on paper, in bad condition, containing 325 leaves (a few of which are blank), very irregularly numbered, with from 30 to 40 lines in a page, written in Latin, in hands of the xvth and xvith centuries. It consists of various MSS. collected into one volume.

Extracts from the Close, Fine, and Patent Rolls, from Edw. III. to Hen. VIII.; chiefly in the time of Hen. VI. and VII.

Ff. 244—253 (f. 249 is torn out) contain two-part vocal Music, probably of about the time of Queen Mary; the cantus and tenor upon opposite pages, written upon 5 lines, with open notes, and without bars.

1. f. 244 b. 'Kyrie rex, genitor ingenite, vera essencia, eleyson...'
2. f. 246 b. 'Et in terra pax hominibus...'
3. f. 248 b. 'Patrem omnipotentem, factorem celi et terre...' [The Nicene Creed.]
4. f. 250. 'Sanctus Dominus Deus Sabaoth...'
5. f. 250 b. 'Benedictus qui venit in nomine Dei...'
6. f. 251 b. 'Qui tollis peccata mundi...'

Upon some of the fly-leaves are written notes upon tenures, with references to Littleton. The names of Henry Byllinge, William Ravenscroft, and Thomas Rauncraft, occur as former owners of the book, or part of it.

1854 Ii. v. 19.

A folio, on paper, containing 135 numbered leaves, with from 30 to 40 lines in a page, badly written, in a hand of the xviith century.

1. f. 1. 'The Case of Shippe-money, Mich. 13 Caroli, in the Exchequer Chamber, argued by Mr St John of Lincoln's Inne, Utter-Barrister, on the behalfe of Mr Hambden.'
2. f. 21. 'The Argument of Sr. Edward Litleton, knight, Sollicitor for the King, of the Inner Temple, made in the Exchequer Chamber pro Rege.'
3. f. 52. 'The Replye of Mr Holborne of Lincolne's Inne to the Argument of Mr Sollicitor, 20 Octobris, 13 Caroli, in Camera Scaccarii.'

On the fly-leaf is the name of Robert Hales.

1872 Ii. v. 37.

A quarto, on silk paper, in 110 leaves of 27 lines. Date, 1572.

'Giardino Cosmografico da Bartholo Sylva.'

This is a work on Natural History in general, in eight books, with pictorial illustrations. The title-page describing the author, &c. is as follows:

'Gia Sylva Hor Giardino Cosmografico Cultivato da Bartholo Sylva Cittadino di Turino Medico Phisico et Chyrugico; Per quelli, che non hanno tempo di far longo studio; opera non meno utile, che molto necessaria per conoscere il Mondo, e le co se continenti in quello; Perche Chi non conosce il Mondo non merita star nel Mondo.'

Here follows a figure, well drawn and coloured, of a man, probably Nebuchadnezzar in the days of his punishment, standing on thorns, and holding a serpent, which is biting his body, looking up at the Sun. The picture is surrounded with a border, containing the words of Ps. cxx. 2, in Hebrew. There is also a portrait, coloured, on a copper engraving, of the Author, in his 30th year. Among other illustrations is one representing Chaos, a remarkable specimen of colouring, and views or maps of Temistitan, Metropolitana Chiesa della Spagna Nova; and Cusco Metropole del Peru.

The work is preceded by a number of sets of complimentary verses addressed to the Author, in Greek, Latin, Italian, and French, by various personages of rank, and is dedicated to the Earl of Leicester.

Begins:

L'onnipotente Dio creò un gran corpo...

Ends:

...accio ch'io possa meglio el tutto confermare con l'esperienza; alla cui gloria sia, &c.

A Table of the Chapters follows, signed Wlhiamo Haguins. The scribe's name is given as follows:

A questi e ill piu eselente livro escrito di mano D. M. Pettruccho Fiorentino.

Former possessors have been Johannes Sloughter, Sir Ihoon Blount, and Richard Latewarr, Chaplain illustrissimo Carolo Mountoys, to whom he presents it.

1873 Ii. v. 38.

A folio, on paper, containing 271 leaves, numbered as 267, with about 45 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in a hand of the latter part of the XVIth century.

LAW REPORTS IN THE REIGN OF ELIZABETH, chiefly from the 24th to the 30th year, with an Index of Cases.

Many of them are in Leonard, Moore, and Croke.

1874 Ii. v. 39.

A folio, on paper, containing 356 leaves (about one-third of which are blank), partially numbered, written in English, in hands of the former part of the XVIIth century.

LAW PRECEDENTS.

It has a table of contents at the beginning. Upon the first fly-leaf is written, 'Joh. Rastell hunc librum mihi dedit.—J. Levitt.'

1875 Ii. v. 40.

A folio, on paper, of 158 leaves, in good preservation.

'AN ALPHABET OF GENTRIE, by P. C. 1655.'

In the manuscript catalogue this P. C. is stated to have been Philip Constable, but the authority for that identification is not apparent. Under the above title there is written 'Initium sapientiæ timor Domini.' On the flyleaf is 'William Blith's booke. Remember Shipman, 1656. Paid 4*s*.'

1876 Ii. v. 41.

A folio, on paper and parchment; properly forming two books.

1. 'Liber Bartholomei Angeli de Proprietatibus Rerum. S. R.'

This part is in double columns, with about 56 lines in a page. It consists of 343 leaves of paper, written in the xvth century. It is John Trevisa's translation of Bartholomew Glanville, which was printed by Wynkyn de Worde, but somewhat differently from the text in the present MS. The first book is here translated in full, not in the abridged form printed. The verbal inflections are also more regularly preserved. The chapter on Milk, in the xixth Book, seems to have been originally in an abridged form in the MS., and afterwards supplied, in a minute hand, on a pasted slip, in its full extent.

2. 'Arsmetrica Demonstrativa Jordani.'

This is on parchment, containing 24 leaves of 44 lines, not in double columns. Written in the xivth century.

Begins:

Unitas est esse rei per se discretio...

Ends:

...duos numeros quorum proportio non sit data * * hoc est quod ostendimus.

There is a brief running commentary with the text. The work has been printed with another fuller comment by Jacobus Stapulensis. Folio. Paris, 1496.

1877 Ii. v. 42.

A folio, on paper, containing 601 leaves, written in Latin, in a hand of the latter part of the xvith or the beginning of the xviith century.

Calendar of the Patent Rolls from the first year of Edward III. to the last year of Richard II.

With the exception of a few transpositions and verbal variations, this appears to correspond with the Calendar printed under the direction of the Record Commission in 1802.

1878 Ii. v. 43.

A folio, on paper, containing 201 leaves, with from 35 to 45 lines in a page, written in Law-French, in hands of the xivth century.

1879 Ii. v. 44.

A moderate-sized quarto, on vellum, of 147 leaves, each page containing about 26 lines, written in a cursive hand of the latter part of the xiiith century, abounding with contractions. Various ornaments and other parts of the MS. are rubricated, and numerous remarks in later hands (Greek and Latin) occur throughout the volume. From fol. 86—90 the MS. is written in a different hand, which appears to belong to the xvth century.

1. 'Ἀριστοτέλους ἠθικῶν Νικομαχείων μεγάλων.' (α, β.)

Begins (f. 1):

ἐπειδὴ προαιρούμεθα λέγειν. (Lib. i. c. 1, Aristot. Op. p. 848, ed. Weise.)

Ends (f. 30 b):

ἐν τῇ ἐν ἴσοις φίλοις φιλίᾳ. (Lib. ii. c. 17, p. 870, Weise.)

2. Ἀριστοτέλους 'ἠθικῶν Νικομαχείων μικρῶν.' (α—κ.)

Begins (f. 30 b):

πᾶσα τέχνη καὶ πᾶσα μέθοδος. (Lib. i. c. 1, p. 588, Weise.)

Ends (f. 106 b):

λέγωμεν οὖν ἀρξάμενοι. (Lib. x. c. 9, p. 644, Weise.)

3. Ἀριστοτέλους 'ἠθικῶν Εὐδημίων.' (α—ε.)

Begins (f. 106 b):

ὁ μὲν ἐν Δήλῳ παρὰ τῷ θεῷ τὴν αὐτοῦ γνώμην. (Lib. i. c. 1, p. 871, Weise.)

Ends (f. 138 b):

τῶν ἁπλῶς ἀγαθῶν ἔστω εἰρημένον. (Lib. VII. c. 15, p. 913, Weise.)

4. 'Ἀριστοτέλους οἰκονομικός.' (α ,β.)

Begins (f. 138 b):

ἡ οἰκονομικὴ καὶ πολιτικὴ διαφέρει. (Aristot. Œcon. c. 1, p. 936, Weise.)

Ends (f. 147 b):

στεφάνους δὲ λευκίνους περιτίθει (sic). (Anon. Œcon. c. 42, p. 943, Weise.)

The first book in this MS. comprises the 'Aristotelis quæ feruntur Œconomica' of the same edition.

At the end is a note giving the date:

ἐγράφη τὸ παρὸν βιβλίον τῆς ἠθικῆς τοῦ Ἀριστοτέλους διὰ χειρὸς Νικολάου εὐτελοῦς ἀναγνώστου τῶν ὡρῶν αἰτήσει τοῦ θεοτιμήτου μοναχοῦ κυρίου Ἰακὼβ, σκευοφύλακος μάνδρας ἀκρωτηρίου μηνὶ Ἰουνίου (?) ις, ἰνδ. β, ἔτει ,ς ψ π β. (i. e. A.D. 1274)· οἱ ἀναγινώσκοντες εὔχεσθε ὑπὲρ αὐτῶν.

1880 Ii. VI. 1.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 150, with 30 lines in a page. Date, 1449. The leaves are numbered throughout by the original scribe, and it hence appears that 40 have been lost at the beginning.

1. ff. 41—45, as numbered. An account of the Apparition of Guido de Corvo after his death.

Begins (imperfect):

Cum ergo tales pontifices vel doctores...

Ends:

...in celis cum aliis sanctis ad quod nos secum perducat qui &c.

This is a mere fragment of the whole legend. The apparition took place at Aleste in Provence, 1334, as appears from another MS. account in the Library. See Dd. IV. 26, § 2. The presence of the spirit is described as being a gentle wind, 'talem sonum faciens ac si esset scopa tergens pavimentum.'

2. ff. 45—48 a. 'Tractatus de ignorancia sacerdotum.'

Begins:

Ignorancia sacerdotum populum precipitat...

Ends:

...si sincero animo conturbatur. Amen. Christus laudetur hujus quia finis habetur.

3. ff. 48*a*—150. 'Gesta Romanorum et moralis exposicio eorundem.'

Begins:

Anselmus in civitate Romana regnavit...

Ends:

...pro quibus malis nos conservat qui sine fine &c.

This is the English Gesta. See Dunlop's History of Fiction, II. p. 170.

4. ff. 151—188. Miracula de beata Virgine Maria.

Begins:

Quidam miles habens uxorem. .

The chapters of this section are numbered; chaps. 18, 19, and 20, are De hoc nomine Ihesu et de virtutibus ejus, Quomodo Sanctus Bartholomeus liberavit sacerdotem suum a dyabolo, De invencione celebracionis hujus festi omnium sanctorum et omnium sanctarum animarum.

See Gg. VI. 26, § 19.

5. ff. 188—190. 'Qualiter Pater noster est intelligendum.'

Begins:

Pater noster, &c. Unusquisque homo qui patrem...

This is marked chapter 21 of § 4. It is followed by two paragraphs (marked chapter 22), giving the 'Indulgentiæ Evangelii In principio erat verbum,' and 'nominis Ihesus in salutacione angelica.'

At the end of § 3, and also at the end of the volume, is the name of the scribe, Hermannus de Gripeswaldis, and the date 1449; the day of the month on which § 3 was finished being Aug. 14, and in the second instance being Aug. 26.

Below at the end is Dominus Water canonicus de Esluye est possessor istius libri. Qui rapit hunc librum demon frangat sibi collum. Finivi librum scripsi sine manibus ipsum.

And on f. 1 is the name

Eduardus Alchorn.

1881 Ii. VI. 2.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 98, with 24 lines in each page. It has illuminated initials, borders, and large illuminated pictures. Date, the XVth century.

Horæ beatæ Mariæ Virginis.

ff. 3—8 contain the Kalendar, ff. 20—28 contain commemorations and hymns to the Holy Trinity, the Facies Redemptoris, S. Michael, S. Christopher, SS. John B. and E., S. George, S. Katharine, S. Margaret, and S. Ann, each with an illuminated picture occupying an entire leaf. The Hours begin f. 30, with before each hour a picture of the Annunciation, Visitation, Nativity, a hermit playing on the bagpipes, f. 43, the Adoration of the Magi, Massacre of the Innocents, Flight into Egypt, and Presentation in the Temple: then f. 56, preceded by an illumination of the B. V. and Child in glory, the hymn, Salve virgo virginum stella matutina, O Intemerata, the Septem Gaudia; in f. 65, after a picture of the Crucifixion, the prayers to the Wounds, and Bede's on the Seven Words; f. 71, the Seven penitential Psalms after the usual representation of our Lord with the instruments of the Passion followed by the Litany, and in f. 80, the Vigiliæ Defunctorum, and f. 90, the Commendatio Animarum; after which the MS. ends, f. 97 b, with a prayer about S. Etheldreda.

The MS. formerly belonged to Edmond Roberts (the son of the owner of Ii. vi. 7, q. v.), who besides his name in various parts of the book, and hymns and prayers in English and Latin on the blank side of the illuminated pictures, has given a list of Thomas Roberts' 24 children, and the dates of their births, ff. 28, 29.

In f. 27 is a curious 'Oratio bona pro febribus,' beginning:

Theobas Ruith et Ruth Kanai per veritatem dn̄i n̄ri, &c.

In f. 28 is the mention of Edmond Roberts' death, June 1, 1585, 'who lies buryed in the upper end of the chaunsell in Willesdon church.' See Burke's Extinct Baronetcies—Roberts of Willesdon, p. 446. And at the end is a memorandum that 'Anne Barnesdale was borne Sept. 16, 1588'

f. 1 contains Roberts' coat, and below another coat of arms emblazoned, and the promise to one always saying an Ave before the Virginis egregie faciem of an indulgence

Anni milleni trescenti septuageni
Per quintum urbanum papam [altered to episcopum] tibi dico romanum.

In f. 2 are the lines 'papa Alexander:

Vendit Alexander cruces altaria Christum
Emerat ipse prius vendere jure potest.'

The Kalendar contains the following obituary notices:

March 4. Obitus domine margerie Carbonell uxor. d. J. C. 1426.
Sept. 1. Obitus margarete heuenyngham 1432.

Throughout the word 'papæ' is carefully erased, and 'epi' substituted.

1882 Ii. vi. 3.

An octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 168, with 32 lines in a page. In a secretary hand of the xvth century. The MS. is in a miserable state from dust and damp, and is mutilated at the end.

1. ff. 1—27. 'Expositio Magistri Petri Blesensis super Job.'

Begins:

Henrico Dei gratia illustrissimo anglorum...

Ends:

. per omnia secula seculorum. Amen.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, coll. 795—826.

A note about the Henries who reigned in England follows, signed Gascoigne.

2. ff. 28—38. 'Tractatus de spiritualibus medicinis, in quo invenies summum remedium contra nostri adversarii temptaciones.'

Begins:

Sicut apostolus ait sine fide impossibile...

Ends:

...liberabit eos Dominus, cui sit &c.

Two paragraphs follow, the first from S. Bernard.

3. ff. 40—138. '13 Sermones Michaelis de Ungaria.'

The first words of the Sermons are given in the two hexameter lines

Sequitur humiliat Dominus filius voca sevit
Stans moritur diligit venit ambula surge resurge.

An index follows, ff. 138—146.

These sermons were printed, Colon. 1496.

The next two leaves are blank.

4. ff. 149—168. 'Sermones alii.'

Begins:

Hugo de Vienna super illo genere...

Ends:

...qui recte eris presens cum illo in gloria. Amen.

There are many extracts in these from Holcote.

1883

Ii. vi. 4.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 155, with 14 lines in each page. There are a few illuminated initials and borders. Date, the xvth century. There are catchwords at every 8th leaf.

Horæ beatæ Mariæ Virginis.

After a blank leaf, and two containing prayers in a different hand from the rest of the MS., the Kalendar follows, occupying 6 leaves, and the Hours begin as usual, f. 10, the initial D containing an illumination of the Annunciation. Between ff. 59 and 60 four leaves are lost, containing the end of compline and the beginning of the seven penitential Psalms; the fifteen Psalms and Litany begin f. 68; the 'Officium Defunctorum' in f. 78; the 'Commendatio animarum,' f. 106 b.

In f. 125 begin the Psalms of the Passion; f. 140, Bede's prayer on our Lord's seven words; f. 143, an antiphon and prayer in honour of S. James; f. 144, the prayer after the elevation of the host, with Boniface VIth's grant of 2000 years of indulgence at the request of Philip king of France; f. 146, the 'Nomina dñe nr̄e beatissime virginis marie,' given by her 'uni clerico sibi devoto, qui erat epūs unius civitatis que vocatur sclavonia;' then f. 149, 'Incipiunt matutine de lamentacione be marie virginis,' ending f. 153 b, with the lines

Est primum durum quia nosco me moriturum,
Est aliud dando planctum quia nescio quando,
Et tercium flebo quod nescio quo remanebo.

f. 154 contains Ps. cxxxii. in a later hand. ff. 138—154 are bound at random; they are spoken of here as if in their correct order.

On f. 2 are the lines

Whoso euer thys booke fynde
I pray hym have thys in hys mynde
For hys love that dyed on tre
Saue thys booke and bryng yt to me
Wylliam Barbor off New Bokenham.

The Kalendar contains the following obituary notices:

March 5. Obitus Aliciæ uxoris meæ.
March 8. Et patris.
March 25. Obitus Margaretæ Colman 1494.
May 11. Obitus Johannis Colman 1495.
Sept. 9. Obitus Thome Edwarde et Cecilie uxoris ejus.

And to Sept. 24 is the addition Dedicacio ecclesie cathedrl. Nor^{c}. 'papæ' is effaced as usual.

1884 Ii. vi. 5.

A small quarto, on parchment, of 125 leaves, in various hands, of the xiiith century.

1. ff. 3—85. 'Liber Constantini Monachi Cassinensis qui dicitur Viaticum.'

See Ii. i. 16, § 3, the text of which gloss corresponds very closely with the present MS., differing from Ee. ii. 20, § 1. This part is written small, with a broad margin and 33 lines in a page.

Begins:

Quoniam quidem ut in Rethoricis Tullius omne inquit...

Ends:

...nec moveatur nisi in fine dierum.

2. ff. 85 b—88 a. Rogeri Bacon 'De sompno et vigilia.'

This is written close in double columns, with 56 lines in a page.

Begins:

Sompnus ergo et vigilia describuntur multis modis..

Ends:

...et admirata de illa spiritualitate subtili. Explicit.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 64.

3. ff. 89—96. Various mutilated fragments of medical works.

4. ff. 97—100. On Practical Medicine.

Begins:

Cum medicinalis artis due sint partes...

Ends:

...data in mane cum aqua calida.

5. ff. 102—109. A Treatise on Algorithm.

In this part there are 33 lines in a page.

The author (Qu. Leonardo Pisano?) seems to be citing a former work of his own, and professes to have discovered the Indian system of numeral notation. The forms of the numerals are omitted by the scribe, only 1, 2, and 3 appearing in the text. The work is incomplete, ending in the rule for the division of fractions. A short extract has been transcribed, somewhat incorrectly, by Mr Halliwell, p. 73 of his Rara Mathematica.

Proemium begins:

Dixit Algorizmi. Laudes Deo rectori nostro...

Treatise begins:

Dixit Algorizmi. Cum vidissem Yndos constituisse...

Ends:

...et sub eis tres, et sub tribus xi.

6. ff. 110—125. De 'Guazal Cora.'

A treatise on an astronomical instrument. There are 21 lines in a page. The handwriting is large.

Begins:

Est quidem Guazal Cora tabula ad celi rotunditatem conformata...

Ends:

.. et transductæ lineæ justissime transeat.

There follows an unfinished figure.

An old table of contents on the first fly-leaf makes it appear that the volume has formerly belonged to the monastery at Bury St Edmund's. It includes several theological works not now in the book.

1885 Ii. vi. 6.

A small octavo, on vellum, consisting of 88 leaves, followed by three blanks, each page containing about 31 lines, very neatly written in a hand which may be assigned to the xiith or xiiith century. The initial and larger capitals are finely illuminated in gold and colours. Some parts of the MS. as fol. 45, 46, are in a somewhat later hand.

1. 'Vetus Rhethorica Tullii.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Sepe et multum hoc mecum cogitaui... (Cic. de Invent. Lib. i. c. 1.)

Ends (fol. 41 b):

...in reliquis dicemus. (Id. Lib. ii. c. ult.)

The colophon supplies the title.

2. 'Quartus liber Thopicorum Boecii.'

Begins (fol. 41 b):

Si quis operis titulum... (Boetius, de Diff. Top. Lib. iv. Op. p. 880, ed. Basil. 1570.)

Ends (fol. 46 b):

...in hiis commentariis quos in Aristotelis Topica à nobis translata conscripsimus expeditum est. (Id. p. 887.)

3. M. Tullii Ciceronis Rhet. ad Herennium, Libb. i—iv.

Begins (fol. 47):

Etsi in negotiis familiaribus .. (Lib. i. c. 1.)

Ends (fol. 88):

...diligentia consequemur et exercitatione. Explicit. (Lib. iv. c. ult.)

1886 Ii. vi. 7.

A small octavo, on parchment, containing ff. 131, with 20 lines in each page. There are a few illuminated initials and borders. Date, the xvth century.

Horæ Beatæ Mariæ Virginis.

The first 6 ff. contain the Kalendar, f. 7 is a picture of the Annunciation, and the Hours begin as usual, f. 8. The seven penitential Psalms begin f. 45, after a picture of S. Christopher, then the fifteen Psalms and Litany. f. 62 b is a representation of a priest consecrating the elements with an apparition of our Lord in the midst of the instruments of the Passion, and then follow the Psalms of the Passion. f. 63, 'O Intemerata,' 'Obsecro te domina,' and the prayer on the seven words. In f. 74 b, eight verses of the Psalms preceded by the rubrick 'Invenitur in libro bernardi quando diabolus dixit ei quis sciebat octo versus psalterii quos qui dixerat omni die salvaretur et sunt isti versus. Then some wretched lines, beginning 'Non turbet te res que fers est celitus heres,' some lines about S. Christopher, and the fifteen Oos. After two blank leaves and a picture of S. Margaret, begins the 'Officium Defunctorum,' f. 85, headed 'Dicatur pro defunctis,' and the 'Commendatio Animarum' in f. 114; the MS. ends f. 127 b, with a hymn to the B. V. from the angelick message, 'Dominus tecum rosa sine spina, Dominus tecum stella matutina, Dominus tecum stella maris.'

In the Kalendar, July 17, is the notice 'Obitus Constancie Coldhill, A.D. 1409;' and on a blank leaf at the end are the dates of the births of Dorothy, Ann, Alice, Michell, Edmond and John Roberts, all between 1508 and 1523. Below is Thomas Roberts had by God's will in all xxiiii childern.

[See a list of them in Ii. vi. 2, f. 28.]

1887 Ii. vi. 8.

A small quarto, on parchment, of 184 leaves, much torn, of 24 lines. Written in the xvth century.

A Chronicle of England in French.

This is identical in facts with Caxton's Chronicle, as far as his chap. ccxxiv., at the battle of Halidon Hill, July 19, 1333. The division of chapters is different.

On f. 184 is a fragment in Latin.

Begins:

En la noble cite de Sirye regna un noble roi e poestifs...

Ends:

...les garceons Engleis pristrent lez espoyles des Escotz occis chescun solonc ceo qil poet conquere sanz chalenge de nully.

1888 Ii. vi. 9.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1889 Ii. vi. 10.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing 187 numbered leaves, with about 25 lines in a page, written in Law-French and Latin, in a hand of the xivth century. Blanks were left for the initial letters, which have not been filled up.

A Collection of Statutes.

1. ff. 1—11. A Table of the Chapters of the several Statutes from 9 to 42 Edw. III., in Latin.

2. f. 13. Statutum Westm. 'Quartum.' 14 Edw. II.

3. f. 14. Statutum Westm. 'Quintum.' 1 Edw. III.

4. f. 19. Statutum Westm. 'Sextum.' 1 Edw. III.

5. f. 22 b. The Form of renunciation of homage and fealty to Edward II. upon his deposition, pronounced by William Trussel, Procurator of the Parliament.

Begins:

Jeo William Trussel, procuratour des Prelatz, Contes, Barons, et altres...

Ends:

...einz vous tiegnent desore privee persone saunz nule manere de Roial power.

See Fœdera, II. 650, and Twysden's Hist. Ang. Script. col. 2550. For a notice of Trussel, see Foss's Judges, III. 307.

6. f. 22 b. Statutum editum apud Northamp. 2 Edw. III.

7. f. 28. Statuta Westm. 'Septima.' 4 Edw. III.

8. f. 33. Statutum Westm. 'Octavum.' 5 Edw. III.

9. f. 38. Statutum editum apud Ebor. 9 Edw. III.

10. f. 42. Statutum Westm. Primum, 14 Edw. III.

11. f. 52. Statutum Westm. Secundum, 14 Edw. III.

12. f. 55. Statutum Westm. Tertium, 14 Edw. III.

13. f. 55 b. Statutum 17 Edw. III.

The date of the year has evidently been altered, both in the title and at the end of the Statute, but 'de France quart' in the text, which corresponds with the 17th year, is unaltered. The Ordinances contained in this Statute are dated in the edition of the Record Commission (I. 302) the 18th of Edward over England and 5th over France.

14. f. 57 b. Statutum [Secundum] 18 Edw. III.

15. f. 60. Statutum contra Justiciarios, 20 Edw. III.

16. f. 62 b. Statutum de Servientibus, 23 Edw. III. (Latin.)

In the edition of the Record Commission (I. 307) this is addressed to the Sheriff of Kent, with a note that the name of this County is interlined on the Roll, and that in the old printed copies it is addressed to William [Edington], Abp. of Canterbury. In this MS. it is addressed to H. [Haymo de Hythe], Bp. of Rochester.

17. f. 64 b. Statutum de Servientibus, 25 Edw. III.

In all the previously printed copies this is the First Statute of this year, but in the edition of the Record Commission (see I. 311, note) it is the Second.

18. f. 67 b. Statutum de Stapula. 27 Edw. III.

19. f. 81. Statutum contra adnullatores Judiciorum Curie Regis. 27 Edw. III.

This title (the MS. is without one) is given in the edition of the Record Commission (I. 329) from the margin of the Roll; but in the previously printed copies it is entitled 'Statutum de Provisoribus Ecclesiasticorum.'

20. f. 85. Statutum 28 Edw. III.

In the old printed copies this is entitled 'Statutum apud Westm. de libertatibus Londoniarum.'

21. f. 91. Statutum de anno sexto Edw. III.

This consists of nine Chapters, and relates to the Staple of Wool. It is addressed to the Mayor of London, and ends, 'Done a Westm. le xvi jour de Septembre lan de notre regne sisme.' It is not found in the printed copies.

22. f. 94. Adnullacio Statuti prescripti, Anno viii°. (Latin.)

Addressed to the Sheriff of York, and dated 'Apud Westm. Anno octavo.' It is not found in the printed copies.

23. f. 95 b. Statuta lata in communes malefactores. (Latin.)

Addressed to S. [Stephen de Gravesend], Bp. of London, and dated 'Apud Glocestre, Anno octavo.' It is not found in the printed copies.

24. f. 96 b. Litera Proclamacionis.

Addressed to the Sheriff of Lincoln, and dated 'Apud Warham, xvi die Decembr, Anno nono.' It is not in the printed copies.

25. f. 97 b. Statutum de Moneta, apud Ebor. 9 Edw. III.

26. f. 100. Breve de Proclamacione facta eodem Anno. (Latin.)

Addressed to the Mayor and Bailiffs of Kingston-upon-Hull, and dated 'Apud Novum Castrum super Tynam, xxx Junii, Anno nono.' See Hawkins's Statutes, I. 205.

27. f. 100 b. Statutum 10 Edw. III.

28. f. 101 b. Statutum apud Notingham eodem Anno. [De Cibariis utendis.]

29. f. 103. Statutum de Provisionibus, 10 Edw. III.

30. f. 105. Statutum apud Westm. de lanis non carriandis extra regnum, 11 Edw. III.

Upon the fly-leaves are scribbled some Latin verses, &c.

1890 Ii. vi. 11.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 118, in double columns of 38 lines. Date, the xiiith century. The initial letters are alternately red and green.

1. ff. 1—46. 'Speculum futurorum temporum sive Pentacronon super prophetiam beati Virginis Hildegardis compositum per fratrem Gebenonem, priorem Cisterciensium in Herberbac.'

Begins (after the dedicatory epistle to Reymundus scolasticus and Magister Reynerus, Canons of S. Stephen's in Mayence, Honorabilibus viris..., two prologues of Gebeno, and S. Hildegard's own prologues,) (f. 4):

Vidi ad aquilonem et ecce ibi quinque bestie stabant...

Ends:

...et esto robustus in certamine in deo. Amen.

The second part, which begins f. 32, contains the Epistolæ of and to S. Hildegard.

Gebeno, a monk of Eberbach, in Germany, flourished in 1220. Concerning the numerous MSS. of this work, see Oudin, T. III. col. 51, 52, who mentions this MS. as one of Bishop Moore's.

2. ff. 47—60. 'Sermones Augustini Yponensis episcopi.'

f. 47. 'De igne purgatorio.' Sermo 104. Append. T. v. col. 2601. A paragraph follows, 'De sanctis si sciunt invocacionem hominum,' and another from 'Innocentius,' i. e. Inn. III., 'Papa' being effaced.

f. 49. 'Quod nihil est gloria mundi.' 'Apostolica lectio, fratres karissimi, hunc sonitum reddit.' A paragraph follows, headed 'Similitudo de illis qui vanam gloriam adquirunt.'

f. 50. 'De sancto Vincencio.' Sermo 277, T. v. col. 1635. Three short paragraphs follow.

f. 55. 'De Joseph.' Sermo 13. Append. T. v. col. 2328.

f. 56. 'De Excidio urbis Rome.' Opp. T. VI. col. 1045.

This is followed by a collection of paragraphs from Innocent III., 'De Balaham,' 'De propria voluntate,' 'De Deo creatore,' 'De creacione mundi, angelorum, &c,' 'De libero arbitrio,' and 'De habitatione spirituum malignorum.'

In f. 61, col. 1, are three short paragraphs, headed 'De fide Britonum,' 'De adventu Anglorum,' and 'De adventu Augustini.'

3. ff. 61, 62. 'Quedam capitula in Ystoria Romana.'

Begins:

Primus in Italia ut quibusdam placet regnavit Janus...

Ends:

.. cum his qui in agris erant.

4. ff. 63—70. Nennii Historia Britonum.

The title given in the MS. is 'Quedam historia a Gilda sapiente composita.'

Begins (after the paragraph De etatibus mundi):

Britannia insula a quodam Bruto...

Ends:

...predicare fidem dei. (Cap. lix. p. 72, Monument. Hist. Brit.)

This has four passages inserted in caps. 2 and 3 from Henry of Huntingdon.

This MS. is marked M. in the Preface to the Monumenta Historia Britannica, p. 67. Respecting the authorship, see pp. 62—64 of this preface. The MS. is also mentioned by Mr Stevenson in the Preface to his edition, p. xxx.

The next two leaves are blank.

5. ff. 73—86. 'Petrus Blesensis super Job.'

Begins (after the dedication 'Henrico dei gracia,' &c.):

Vir erat in terra, &c. Tria hic ponuntur...

Ends:

...triumphat et regnat per omnia secula seculorum. Amen.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, coll. 795—826.

6. ff. 87—94. 'Sermo Magistri Achardi prioris de sancto Vitore super euuangelium Ductus est Jhesus.'

Begins:

Ductus est Jhesus in desertum a Spiritu. De serie lectionis euuangelice...

Ends:

...se coram dei facie habeat.

This is the tract styled 'De Christi tentatione.' See Bale, II. 67. Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. I. p. 5.

Achardus died in 1162.

At the end is in rubrick, 'Dimidia pars deficit hujus sermonis.'

7. ff. 95—116. 'Liber Petri Amphulsi ex dictis philosophorum quem transtulit in Latinum.'

Begins:

Dixit Petrus Amphulsus, servus Jhesu Christi Henrici primi Regis Anglorum medicus compositor hujus libri, Gratias ago Deo...

Ends:

...poterit nil sentienti.

The author of this work, Petrus Alphonsi, a Spaniard, was converted from Judaism in 1144. See Oudin. II. col. 992.

This is the treatise usually called 'Disciplina Clericalis.' It has been printed in German, Berlin, 1827. See Coxe's Cat. MSS. Oxon. Coll. Nov. CXLV. 3.

8. ff. 117, 118. The prologue and part of Lib. I. cap. 1, of 'Aurelii Augustini contra Pelagianos et Celestinos hereticos hyponesticon.'

Begins:

[A]dversarii Catholice fidei...

Ends:

.. que est enim perdicio vivorum nisi mors?

Opp. T. X. Append. coll. 2193—2195 D.

Besides various Latin verses and other scribbling on the fly-leaves, on the cover at the beginning are some curious prophetick lines, beginning:

When Sonday gothe by D and C
And the prime by i and ii

After schall kumme, this maye men see,
That semes not to be soo.
Every sixe that best of the dise
When ase bereth uppe syse,
Then ys England paradise, &c.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is the name Burham Raymonel.

1891 Ii. vi. 12.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 469, in double columns of 50 lines. The initial letters are red and blue, and two or three illuminated. Date, the xivth century.

Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi.

The volume is mutilated at the commencement, and begins in the middle of Genesis xxxi. 7, 'Et tamen non dimisit eum deus ut noceret mihi.' S. Matthew begins f. 378, and the Revelation ends f. 469 b, with 'Explicit bibliotheca.' The books occur in their usual order, except that the Acts follows the Epistle to the Hebrews.

At the end is written :

Will and Walke aright
Will. Walker.

1892 Ii. vi. 13.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing 64 leaves, with 31 lines in a page, written in Latin, in a neat hand of the xiiith century. The initial letters are coloured, and the titles are rubricated.

1. 'Tractatus de legibus et consuetudinibus regni Anglie, tempore Henrici regis secundi compositus, justicie gubernacula tenente illustri viro Ranulfo de Glanvilla, juris regni antiquarum consuetudinum eo tempore peritissimo.'

First printed in 1554. This MS. appears to correspond with the printed copy of 1604, except in some verbal variations, and in the position of the Table of Chapters. An English translation, by John Beames, of Lincoln's Inn, was printed in 1812. In favour of the title of Glanville to the authorship of this Treatise, see Lord Campbell's Chief Justices, I. 29, and Foss's Judges, I. 180—183.

At the end, in the same handwriting, is a numerical table, and a table of the Assize of Bread.

2. Registrum Brevium.

It consists of 14 pages only.

1893 Ii. vi. 14.

A small octavo, on vellum, containing ff. 184 (of which the first 6 and the last 7 are blank), with 18 lines in each page. It has rich borders, illuminated initials, and miniature and other pictures. Date, the xvth century.

'Hore beate Marie Virginis secundum usum Sarum.'

The fifteen Oos begin f. 7, then f. 14, 'Memorie de Sancta Trinitate, S. Johanne B., S. Georgio, S. Christofero, S. Thoma Cant., S. Anna, S. Maria Magd., S. Katherina, S. Barbara,' each, excepting S. Ann, with an illuminated picture; that to S. Thomas represents his martyrdom: he is kneeling, holding the Host, and two assassins (one in chain-armour), attack him from behind. The floor of the church in this, as in most of the other illuminations, is represented paved with encaustick tiles. The Hours begin, f. 31, with an illumination of a point in the Passion before each (three have been cut away), and miniatures in the initials of the Commemorationes Sanctorum. After the Hours, follow, f. 74, the hymn 'Salve virgo virginum stella matutina,' 'O Intemerata,' and 'Obsecro te Domina;' f. 83, the seven joys of the B. V., the prayers to the Ymago and Wounds of our Lord, each with a miniature, Bede's on the Seven Words; f. 97, the penitential Psalms, with the usual illuminations, followed by the fifteen Psalms and Litany; f. 115, the 'Vigiliæ Mortuorum;' f. 141, 'Commendationes Animarum;' f. 156, the Psalms of the Passion, with the usual illumination; and f. 165, the abbreviated Psalter of S. Jerome, preceded by the usual rubrick and a picture of him, as a young man, with which the MS. ends, f. 177.

On the first leaf is written 'Ex dono nobilissimæ Heroinæ Elizabethæ Comitissæ Carnarvan.'

1894 Ii. vi. 15.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 210 with 30 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century. The MS. has signatures, but very irregularly inserted.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1896 Ii. vi. 17.

A small quarto, in 117 leaves of paper and parchment, of the xvith century.

A Collection of Miscellaneous Tracts and Documents.

1. ff. 2—29 a. 'Tractatus Magistri Bartholomei ordinis Sancti Francisci et composuit breviter in lingua materna magis plane ad intelligentiam laicorum ad eos gubernandum prout placet Altissimo ad requisitionem Regis Ricardi secundi et Anne Regine.'

This is not named among the works of Bartholomew Glanville, the author of the book 'De proprietatibus Rerum,' who was a Franciscan.

Begins:

This boke that we have now in hande to turne in to Englisch, is of the craft of Urines...

Ends:

...and use it in thie potage.

Two short paragraphs follow in Latin, and 8 hexameter lines 'de Quatuor complexionibus hominum et moribus eorundem:'

Largus amans ilaris ridens rubeique coloris...

2. ff. 30—41. 'Brevis tractatus et utilis medicinarum, &c.'

Begins:

Hec sunt herbe contra discrasiam capitis...

Ends:

...super pannum et mirabile est effectu.

This is chiefly in Latin, except a few lines in English in f. 41.

3. ff. 42—47 a. 'De Urinis.'

Begins:

Urina ruffa significat salutem...

Ends:

...significat perfectam digestionem.

4. ff. 47 b—55. Recipes in English.

This first part of the volume is on paper, with parchment guards. The following are on parchment.

5. ff. 56—75. 'Summa de Electionibus Episcoporum Auctore Laurentio de Somercote.'

See Bale, Script. p. 285, and Ii. 1. 22, § 11.

Begins:

Omnibus Christi fidelibus Sancte Matris Ecclesiæ filiis...

Ends:

...Ibi eciam loquitur de formis et Electionibus faciendis. D. G.

6. ff. 76—79. Regulæ Juris.

Begins:

Sen. Op. sig. p. 3. Ed. Trev. 1478.

Ends (fol. 89 b):

...Zelari hominibus viciosum est. Id. sig. p. 5 b.

The colophon supplies the title. See Fabr. Bibl. Lat. Tom. II. p. 118, Ern. for an account of this spurious production.

8. 'Lucii Annei Senece ad Gallionem de remediis fortuitorum malorum.'

Begins (fol. 90):

Licet cunctorum poetarum...

Ends:

...in aliqua domo ista felicitas. (fol. 97.)

See Ii. III. 4.

After this occur two pages of doggerel verses, entitled 'Quatuor humores in homine secundum quatuor elementa:' of which the first is 'Quatuor humores in humano corpore constant.'

9. Two letters in French, one from Isabella, Queen of France, the other from the Duchess of Burgundy to Beaufort, Cardinal of Winchester.

The former (dated Paris, Sept. 25) begins (fol. 98 b):

Isabel par la grace de Dieu Reyne de France. Tres reuerende Père en Dieu, tres cher et tres ame cousin, pource que nous sauons...

Begins (fol. 109 b):

En ego qui totum mundum certamine vici...

Ends (fol. 110):

...Quis sum et qualis lector et ipse videt.

After which follow a few lines of remarks about Alexander, beginning, 'Alexander iste qui magnus.' These pieces relating to Alexander bear the appearance of being extremely late productions. Perhaps they have not been printed.

14. Interpretations of prognostications ascribed to the Prophet Daniel.

Begins (fol. 112):

Ego sum Daniel unus de filiis Israel qui captivi ducti sunt de Jerusalem in Babilonem. Hæc omnia a Domino cepi et nihil de meo ipso addidi.

Arma tractare mutacionem significat...

Ends (fol. ult.):

...Manus suas ligatas videre damnum significat.

See Fabric. Cod. Pseud. Vet. Test. Vol. II. p. 1130. Perhaps it has not been printed.

1897 Ii. vi. 18.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 136, with 22 lines in a page. Date the XIVth century.

1. ff. 1—127. 'Liber Penitentialis Magistri R. de Flamesborch canonici Sancti Victoris Parisiis.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Res grandis immo...):

Quomodo suscipiendus sit penitens. Penitens. Suscipe me domine...

Ends:

...et sic ut puto tu securus eris.

Robertus de Flamesburia flourished about the end of the XIIth century. The Prologue to this treatise will be found in Baluzii Miscellanea, Par. 1715, T. VII. p. 345. The treatise is still unpublished. This MS. is mentioned by Tanner, Biblioth. p. 286.

2. ff. 128—131. 'Tractatus Urinarum.'

Begins:

Sciendum quod urina duarum rerum est significativa...

Ends:

...vitam longam significat.

The next two leaves are blank.

3. ff. 134—136. In a different hand, with 32 lines in a page.

'Sermo beati Augustini de reddendis decimis.'

Begins:

Propicio Christo, fratres karissimi...

This is Sermo 277, Append. of Opp. T. v. col. 3089.

1898 Ii. vi. 19.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 177, in double columns of 32 lines. There are signatures in eights, and also catchwords. Date, the xvth century.

'Rosarium Theologie.'

This is a collection of common-places, arranged in alphabetical order, beginning with Absolucio and ending with Zelus: possibly by Alanus Rupensis, of whom see Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. I. p. 38.

1899 Ii. vi. 20.

A duodecimo, on vellum, of 32 leaves, in double columns, each column containing about 35 lines, neatly written in a hand which may be assigned to the xiith or xiiith century. The first leaf is in bad condition, and the MS. is mutilated at the end.

1. 'Salustii Crispi Bellum Catilinarium.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Omnes homines qui sese... (c. 1.)

Ends (f. 16):

...luctus atque gaudia agitabantur. (c. ult.)

2. Ejusdem 'liber secundus,' i. e. de Bello Iugurthino.

Begins (fol. 16 b):

Falso queritur de natura sua... (c. 1.)

Ends (abruptly, fol. 32):

...lasciuiam magis ostendebat quam formidinem. (c. 66.)

1900 Ii. vi. 21.

A 12mo, on paper, containing ff. 335, with 36 lines in a page. Date, the xviith century.

A Miscellaneous Collection of Theological Notes and Extracts.

Begins:

Tractatus de Sacramentis, &c. Sacramentum hic instituitur...

Ends:

...fidei auctoritatis publicæ ad vitandum scandalum.

1901 Ii. vi. 22.

A 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 299, in double columns, with 55 lines in each column. Written in a very minute and beautiful hand of the xivth century. The initial letters to each book are usually green and orange. The MS. is a most curious example of minute calligraphy.

BIBLIA VULGATA SANCTI HIERONYMI.

The usual prologues begin f. 1, headed,

Incipit epistola Sancti Hieronimi presbyteri super libros novi et veteris testamenti.

Some leaves are lost between ff. 2 and 3, and Genesis begins in the middle of ch. iv. 17, 'ejus ex nomine filii sui enoch.'

The Psalms, Ezra, and Nehemiah are omitted entirely, and a short summary supplies the place of the Chronicles. The books occur in the following order:

Genesis...Kings, Tobias, Judith, Esther, Summary of Chronicles, Proverbs...Ecclesiasticus, Job, Isaiah...2 Maccabees. S. Matthew begins f. 202 b, and the books of the New Testament follow as usual, except that the Acts is between S. Jude's epistle and the Apocalypse. This ends f. 276, and after the explanatory index of Hebrew names the MS. ends f. 299 b.

1902 Ii. vi. 23.

A small 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 101, with 16 lines in each page. It has rich borders and illuminations, of French workmanship. Date, the xvth century.

It contains,

1. f. 1. A COLLECTION OF PRAYERS to be used privately before each of the canonical hours, each preceded by an illumination of a point in the Passion.

2. f. 31. The Verses of Petrus Comestor, in praise of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Begins:

Si fieri posset quod harenæ pulvis et unde..., the initial S representing the resurrection.

See Oudinus, Comment. de Script. Eccl. II. p. 1526.

3. f. 44. The fifteen Oos (omitting the second), with an illuminated pietà, and other prayers and hymns on the Passion, and before the Sacrament.

4. f. 66. After an illumination of the Blessed Virgin and Child in a glory of angels, the prayers 'Obsecro te domina,' 'O Intemerata,' the hymn usually called 'Stabat mater,' though here beginning 'Salve mater dolorosa,' &c., followed by the hymn 'Gaude virgo mater Christi que per aurem concepisti Gabriele nuncio,' &c., other prayers, and then f. 78, 'Oroison de nostre dame en francois,' more Latin prayers, and in f. 84, 'Ethimologia istius vocabuli maria,' beginning,

Mater admirabilis maria nomine
Multo lucidior quocunque lumine
Muni me miserum mortis in limine
Malignis obvians tuo juvamine, &c.

followed by other prayers to her and to the Holy Trinity; and in f. 92, 'Ung tractie damour en rime,' beginning,

Selon que dit sainete escripture
Amour est fort amour est dure
Amour soutient amour endure
Amour remaint et tousiours dure, &c.

After this is also in French, f. 96, 'parvus tractatus beate virginis,' beginning,

De Jesse issera virge qui florira savons dysaye, &c.

and the MS. ends f. 99, with an antiphon and prayer about S. Apollonia.

On f. 6 is the name Edw̄ Barriffe, 1600, and p. 5, M^cMilles Marien.

The illuminations in ff. 44 and 66 are of a higher character than usual, and the borders very rich and beautiful.

1903 Ii. vi. 24.

A small quarto, on parchment, of 141 leaves, with 24 lines in a page. Date, the xiiith century.

1. ff. 1—18. A Kalendar from the Year ccxix. to mcclvi.

The calendar has lost some part at the beginning, and is torn at the end. The entries in the latter part refer chiefly to French history.

2. ff. 19—49. A History of the Dukes of Normandy in French.

This is unfinished. The first part, viz. the History before the Norman Conquest, is mainly abridged from William of Jumieges. The latter part appears to be an original compilation. It ends in the early part of the reign of John Lackland.

Begins:

Par la division ke li ancien firent de totes les terres...

Ends:

...Locis nel volt por lui lesser anceis ala passer...

3. ff. 50—69 a. 'La Geste de France.'

This is carried down to the same date as § 2.

Begins:

Si come nus trovom es anciens livres Troie fu...

Ends:

...Donc eslurent Engleis Locis fiz le roi de France a seignur.

4. ff. 69 b—94. Lestoire de Torpin Arcevesque de Rems.

This is a French translation of Turpin De Gestis Caroli Magni, with many variations from the original Latin. Another translation into French is in print, 4to, Paris, 1527. The beginning has been mutilated for the sake of the initial letter.

The second chapter begins:

Icist reis puis qui ot conquise Engleterre, Tiescheterre, Bawire, Alemaingne...

Ends:

...Ceste est la fins de la vie mon seignor lempereor Karl. Cujus anima requiescat in pace. Amen.

5. ff. 95—100. A Brief Sketch of the lives of the Kings of England, from Will. I. to Ric. I.

Begins:

Guillame le reis ot iii fiz, Willame, Robert, Henri...

Ends:

...e Henri Dus de Suave ot le reigne.

6. ff. 101—141. A Religious Poem in French.

Begins:

Chier frere or oiez ma reson
Que Deus vus face veir pardon
De vos pechiez a icel jor
Ke tot li mund ert en dolor
* * * *

Ends:

Merci ai a cels qui lorront
E qui bone essample prendront.

The author's account of this poem is:

En un livre trovai lautrier
Ce que je vus voil pronuncier
Ke un saint fist de grant bonte
Plein de vertu e de honeste.

He goes on to relate how the matter of the poem was the answer of this saint to a young man who came to question him and learn from him.

1904 Ii. vi. 25.

An octavo, on parchment, containing 182 numbered leaves (a few of which are blank), with 32 lines in a page, written in Law-French and Latin, in a hand of the xivth century. Folio 25 is mutilated. The initial letters are coloured.

1. A Collection of Statutes.

Ff. 1—12 contain a table of chapters to 14 of the Statutes. On f. 13 is an imperfect index of the Statutes.

Ff. 13 b—14 contain a Writ of Assise de Mort d'Ancestor (15 Edw. III.), addressed to the Sheriff of Lincoln, on the behalf of Gilbert, the son of Gilbert Hodel, of Surfleet, in that County, to recover a messuage and 6 acres of land in Swineshead.

F. 16 b. Statutum et Breve de Conspiratoribus. (Latin.)

This has been usually printed as the second part of the Statute of Champerty. See Record edition, I. 216, note, where also the various readings are given.

The two preceding Instruments are written upon leaves originally left blank, in a hand of the same date as the body of the MS.

1. f. 17. Magna Carta de Libertatibus Anglie. 28 Edw. I. (Latin.)
2. f. 22. Carta de Foresta. 28 Edw. I. (Latin.)
3. f. 24 b. Sentencia Excommunicationis in Transgressores Cartarum. A.D. 1253. (Latin.)
4. f. 25. Statutum de Merton. 20 Hen. III. (Latin.)
5. f. 27 b. Statutum de Marlebergh. 52 Hen. III. (Latin.)
6. f. 33 b. Statuta Westm. Prima. 3 Edw. I.
7. f. 46 b. Statuta Gloucestrie. 6 Edw. I.
8. f. 51. Explanaciones eorundem. (Latin.)
9. f. 52. Statuta Westm. Secunda. 13 Edw. I. (Latin.)
10. f. 74. Statutum de Religiosis. 7 Edw. I. (Latin.)
11. f. 75. Statutum Westm. Tercium. 18 Edw. I. (Latin.)
12. f. 75 b. Statutum de Mercatoribus. 11 Edw. I.
13. f. 78. Statutum de Finibus. 27 Edw. I. (Latin.)

14. f. 81 b. Articuli super Cartas. 28 Edw. I.

15. f. 86*b*. Statutum Wynton. 13 Edw. I.

16. f. 88*b*. Statutum de vocatis ad Warantum. 20 Edw. I. (Latin.)

17. f. 89. Statutum Lincoln. 9 Edw. II.

18. f. 90. Articuli novi pro Clericis. 9 Edw. II. (Latin.)

These are tested at York, 24 Nov., 10 Edw. II. See Record edition, I. 174, note.

19. f. 93. Statutum de Ebor. 12 Edw. II.

20. f. 95. Statutum Lincoln de Escaetria. 29 Edw. I. (Latin.)

21. f. 96. Statutum de Recognicionibus et Juratoribus. 21 Edw. I. (Latin.)

Tested 'Apud Turrim London, 13 Decembr. Anno regni nostri xxii°.'

22. f. 96*b*. Statutum de Conspiratoribus. 33 Edw. I.

23. f. 97. Modus faciendi Homagium et Fidelitatem. [Temp. incert.]

This is inserted in the printed copies as a Statute of 17 Edw. II., and has many various readings. See Record edition, I. 227.

24. f. 97 b. Dies Communes in Banco. [Temp. incert.] (Latin.)

25. f. 98. Dies Communes in Placito Dotis. [Temp. incert.] (Latin.)

This and the preceding Instrument have been usually printed as of 51 Hen. III. See Record edition, I. 208.

26. f. 98*b*. Statutum de conjunctim Feoffatis. 34 Edw. I. (Latin.)

27. f. 100. Addicio Foreste. 34 Edw. I. (Latin.)

28. f. 101*b*. Statutum de Aportis Religiosorum. [Stat. Karlioli. 35 Edw. I.] (Latin.)

29. f. 103*b*. Prerogativa Regis. [Temp. incert.] (Latin.)

Inserted in the printed copies as a Statute of Edw. II. See Record edition, I. 226.

30. f. 106. Statutum de Chaumpart. [Temp. incert.]

This has been usually printed as of 33 Edw. I. See Record edition, I. 216.

31. f. 106. Articulus Statuti Gloucestrie per dnm E. quondam Regem Anglie, patrem dni E. Regis nunc, Anno regni sui nono, et Consilium, correctus pro quibus [Civibus] Lond. de forinsecis vocatis ad Warrantum in Hustenge London.

At the end of the French text it is stated (in Latin) that a Writ from the King, dated 2 May in the same year, was issued, commanding the observance of the Article, notwithstanding that it did not in all respects agree with the Statute of Gloucester. See Record edition, I. 52.

32. f. 106*b*. Modus calumpniandi essonia. [Temp. incert.] (Latin.)

Inserted in the printed copies as a Statute of 33 Edw. I. See Record edition, I. 217.

Then follows, at the bottom of f. 107, a short form of prayer, at the end of which is,

'Papa J. XXII. concessit III. dies venie omnibus hunc ordinem dicentibus; et fuit pupplicatum Avinon, Die Jovis, in Festo Corporis Christi, Anno Dni MCCCXXXII.'

On f. 107 b. 'Joachim in majori libro De Concordanciis.'

Then follow five prophecies, for the years 1350—54—57—60—65 respectively.

Joachim, Abbot of Corazzo, distinguished for his pretended prophecies, died in 1202.

This is followed by a paragraph of seven lines, explaining the value of the ten numerical figures according to their relative position.

33. f. 107 b. Statutum de prisonis prisonam frangentibus. 22 Edw. I.

The Record edition assigns this to 23 Edw. I.; the old printed copies refer it to 1 Edw. II.

Between this and the succeeding Statute come the following:

'Sunt in Anglia ecclesie parochiales xlv. $\overset{l}{m}$. et xi. ecclesie. Item ville $\overset{l}{lii}$. $\overset{xx}{m}$. $\overset{}{iiii}$. Item feoda militum $\overset{l}{lx}$. m. ccxv. e quibus Religiosi habent $\overset{l}{xxviii}$. m. xv.'

And the partition of the earth by Noah between his three sons.

34. f. 108. Statutum novum de terris Templariorum. 17 Edw. II. (Latin.)

Little more than one-fourth of this Statute is given, two blank leaves being left apparently for its completion.

35. f. 111. Consuetudines Foreste. [Temp. incert.] (Latin.)

This MS. does not give the entire Instrument, and ends with the same sentence as the MS. Cott. Vesp. B. VII.

36. f. 111 b. Statutum Exonie. [Temp. incert.]

Ascribed in the printed copies to 14 Edw. I. See Record edition, I. 210.

37. f. 114 b. De Anno Bisextili. 44 Hen. III. (Latin.)

The old printed copies ascribe this to 21 Hen. III.

38. f. 115. Statutum de Bigamis. 4 Edw. I. (Latin.)

39. f. 116. Statutum de Prohibicione. [Circumspecte Agatis. 13 Edw. I.] (Latin.)

40. f. 116. Articuli contra Prohibiciones. (Latin.)

Some MSS. give the two preceding Instruments as one Statute. See Record edition, I. 101.

41. f. 116 b. Statutum de Ponderibus. [Temp. incert.] (Latin.)

42. f. 117. Statutum de Scaccario. [Temp. incert.]

43. f. 119. Districtiones Scaccarii. [Temp. incert.]

The two preceding Instruments have generally been attributed to 51 Hen. III. In the Record edition (I. 197) they are printed as one Statute.

44. f. 119 b. De Moneta. [Temp incert.]

This consists of what are entitled in the printed copies 'Statutum de Moneta Magnum,' and 'Articuli de Moneta,' and attributed to 20 Edw. I. The latter is in Latin, and dated 'Apud W. anno regni nostri xii.' See Record edition, I. 219, note.

45. f. 121. Pena Pistoris. [Temp. incert.] (Latin.)

In various printed copies ascribed to 51 Hen. III. and 13 Edw. I.

46. f. 122. Officium Coronatoris. 4 Edw. I. (Latin.)

Without title in the MS.: this is supplied from the Record edition, I. 40.

47. f. 123. De Perambulatione. [Statutum Secundum] 1 Edw. III.

48. f. 125. Statutum Primum, 1 Edw. III. [Come Hugh le Despencer.]

49. f. 128. Statutum de Northampton. 2 Edw. III.

50. f. 132. Statutum apud Westm. 4 Edw. III.

51. f. 135. De Drawelatches. [Statutum apud Westm.] 5 Edw. III.

2. A Collection of Writs.

These are in French, and occupy ff. 142—182.

Upon a fly-leaf at the beginning of the volume is the name of 'Tho: Palmer, Arm.' in a handwriting of the latter part of the xvith century.

1905 Ii. vi. 26.

A 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 101, with 26 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century. There are signatures in eights. A later hand has numbered the pages.

1. pp. 1—158. A Series of Tracts in English on having the Scriptures in the Vulgar Tongue, &c.

There is a notice concerning this volume, and some pages are printed at p. xiv. Preface, of the Wycliffe Bible, edit. Forshall and Madden, 4to, Oxford, 1850.

15. f. 83. 'Warde, Marriage, Reliefe, and the King's Wydowe.'

The Author's name (spelt Lambeord), preceded by the words σὺν θεῷ, is written in Saxon characters, with the date 1590, at the beginning and end of the first Discourse, and also upon f. 36*b*.

This MS. is mentioned by Tanner (p. 462). It has not been printed. For a notice of Lambarde, see Biblioth. Top. Brit. I. 493—530.

1909 Ii. vi. 30.

A 12mo, on paper, with parchment-guards inserted in the middle and at the beginning and end of each quire, containing ff. 120, with 27 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century. The initial letters are blue.

1. ff. 1—69. Summa Theologiæ.

Begins:

Ad instructionem juniorum quibus non vacat ..

Ends:

...tunc foret mortale.

A list of beatitudines, preparaciones, dona, &c., follows.

This is stated at the beginning to be a compilation 'de dictis Catholicorum magistrorum' for the use of 'Juniores' who have not leisure 'opusculorum variorum prolixitatem perscrutari.' It treats of Articula fidei, Decem precepta, 7 petitiones, 7 sacramenta, 7 virtutes, 7 dona, 8 beatitudines, 7 vicia tam nature quam voluntatis.

2. ff. 69—74. 'Libellus magistri Hugonis de Sancto Victore de studio sive virtute orandi.'

Begins:

Quia sicut ait apostolus sine fide...

Ends:

...ad sua secretissima introducet quod ipse dignetur facere qui, &c.

W. Flete flourished in 1380; see Tanner, Biblioth. p. 288, who mentions this MS.

5. ff. 117—119. Tractatus magistri Hugonis de oblivione malorum preteritorum et memoria et ira.

Begins:

Incipientem doctus interrogas...

Ends:

...ad bonum nostrum non disponat.

The first part of this is Miscell. Tit. lxxiv. Lib. I. of Hugo of S. Victor, Opp. T. III. coll. 509, ed. Migne.

It is followed by short extracts de amore Dei, de abstinentia, &c., from SS. Augustine, Gregory, Jerome, &c. The last is De Caritate from S. Augustine.

1910 Ii. vi. 31.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 64, with 15 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century. A modern hand has numbered the leaves, and written some marginal notes.

'The Pystle of Pryvate Cowncelle.'

Begins:

Goostly frende in god as towchyng thyn inwarde occupacyon...

Ends:

...bowght w^t^ hys precyous blode. Amen.

This is the same treatise as that in Ff. vi. 41, § 1. It is perhaps by Walter Hilton.

In the last leaf is the name Peeter Hooker, 1613.

1911 Ii. vi. 32.

A very small quarto, on parchment, containing 86 leaves, the 1st and 28th single, the rest in eight quires of six sheets each, except the first, which has but one sheet, and the last, which has five. A full page contains from 22 to 26 lines.

I. Quatuor Evangelia secundum versionem B. Hieronymi cum Symbolo Apostolorum. The handwriting is the set Irish character of the viiith or ixth century, and the volume has all the marks of the Irish school as described in Westwood's Palæographia. The first three Gospels and some of the illuminations are unfinished.

1. ff. 1—3. St Matth. i. 1—17, 'Liber—generationes xiiii,' with the colophon, 'Finit prologus. Item incipit nunc euangelium secundum matheum.' This prologue begins on f. 2 a, with an illuminated initial and border, facing a picture of the four evangelists on 1 b (1 a is blank): and ends half way down 3 a; the rest of the page, and 3 b, originally left blank, are now occupied by the documents described below, No. III.

2. ff. 4—15. St Matth. i. 18—vii. 23, 'Christi—iniquitatem.' This begins on f. 5 a, with an illuminated initial and border, facing a picture of St Matthew on 4 b (4 a was left blank); and ends on 15 a; 15 b is blank. At the top of f. 5 a, outside the border, are the words 'innomine sce trinitatis' in the original scribe's handwriting.

3. ff. 16—27. St Mark i. 1—v. 35, 'Initium—archisinagogo.' The text begins on f. 17 a, with border, &c. as in Nos. 1 and 2, and ends on 27 b.

4. ff. 29—40. St Luke i. 1—iv. 2, 'Quoniam—diabulo.' The text begins on f. 30 a, as the former gospels, and ends half way down 40 a; the rest of the page, and 40 b, were left blank.

5. ff. 41—86. St John complete, and the Apostles' Creed. St John begins on f. 42 a, as the former gospels, and ends half way down 84 b, with the colophon, 'Explicit euangelium secundum iohannem;' the rest of the page is filled up by a rude illumination. On f. 85 a is the Creed, and immediately below it the colophon in Gaelic, 'Ferchubus caichduin imbia arrath inlebrán collí· aratardda bendacht foranmain intruagain rodscribai.' ff. 85 b and 86 a are filled with illuminations; 86 b is blank.

II. The concluding portion of a MASS, ACCORDING TO THE ANCIENT SCOTTISH RITE; handwriting, Irish, of the XIth century.

This occupies the verso of the inserted leaf 28 (28 a is blank), and f. 29 a. It contains 'Item oratio ante dominicam orationem. Creator naturarum...;' the Post dominicam orationem, 'Libera nós Domine a malo Amen christe ihesu custodi nos...;' the Communio, in the words 'Corpus cum sangine Domini nostri ihesu christi sanitas sit tibi in vitam perpetuam et salutem,' preceded by a rubric in Gaelic; then the anthem 'Reffecti christi...,' and the Consummatio Missæ, 'Deus tibi gratias...Finit.' Compare the Missæ Dominicales in the Missale Gothicum pr. by Thomasi (Codices Sacramentorum, Romæ, 1680, 4°); the Missa de infirmis in the Book of Dimma (Betham's Ir. Ant. Researches, Dubl. 1826-7, 8°), and Dr Todd's paper on the E. of Ashburnham's Sacramentary, in Vol. XXIII. of the R. I. A. Transactions.

III. A small CARTULARY OF THE CLERICS OF DEER, written by several hands, in GAELIC and LATIN, about the middle of the XIIth century.

1. Legend of the mission of St Drostan, beginning, 'Columcille acas drostán mac cósgreg adálta tangator áhí...;' and list of early grants of lands and immunities, beginning, 'Cómgeall mac éda dórat úaorti nice fúrené docolumcille acas dodrostán....' These are both in Gaelic, in one handwriting, and occupy the lower half of f. 3 a, 3 b, and the upper half of 4 a.

2. Two grants of 'Gartnait mac cannech acas éte ingen gillemíchel,' with names of witnesses; the first is dated the 8th year of King David (A.D. $11\frac{31}{32}$). Both are in Gaelic, in one handwriting, and occupy the lower half of f. 4 a.

3. Grant of 'Donchad mac mec bead mec hídid,' with names of witnesses, followed by an account of some more donations; without date, but a few years later than No. 2. These are in Gaelic, in one handwriting, and fill the outer and lower margins of f. 4 b.

4. Grant of 'Colbain mormaer buchan acas eua ingen garnait aben phústa acas donnachac mac sithig tocsech clenni morgainn,' with names of witnesses; without date, but shortly after the death of David I. It is in Gaelic, in a handwriting in which additions have been made to Nos. 1 and 3; and fills the outer and lower margins of f. 5 a.

5. Grant of David I. to the clerics of Deer, with names of witnesses; dated at Aberdeen, without year, but clearly of the very end of his reign. This is in Latin, in the ordinary character of that date, and was probably written in at the time. It refers to previous grants, 'sicut in libro eorum scribtum est,' probably alluding to the Gaelic entries in this very volume.

1912 Ii. vi. 33.

A 12mo, on paper, of 71 leaves, in writing of the xvth and xvith centuries.

Two Medical Tracts on the Diseases of Women.

1. ff. 1—32. 'A boke mad by a woman named Rota of the prive sicknesses that long to a woman with medicynes to helpe them in ther neade.'

This part is in a large bad hand.

2. ff. 33—68 a. A Treatise on the same subject.

This is well written, with red initials, &c., and 21 lines in a page. The author professes to have selected and translated 'out of French and Latyn into Inglysh, be cawse that women of oure tunge canne bettir reede and understonde this langage than ony other.'

Begins:

Oure Lord God whan he had storid the wor[l]d of all creatures...

On the last two leaves are some receipts in the same hand as § 1.

1913 Ii. vi. 34.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 56, with 25 lines in a page. Date, the xvith century. It is bound up with the preceding MS.

1. ff. 1—36.

'Sompniale dilucidarium Pharaonis compositum per Johannem Lemovicensem.'

Begins:

Glorioso principi potestates aereas...

Ends:

...gratiarum actio et vox laudis.

This will be found in Fabricii Codex Pseudepigr. Vet. Test. I. pp. 441—496. See also Dd. IV. 35, § 9. Both these MSS. contain two additional Letters besides what Fabricius gives: they are headed E. 19, Detractorum ad J[oseph.] super regali reformacione. E. 20, J. super detractorum sedacione.

2. ff. 37—44.

CICERONIS SOMNIUM SCIPIONIS.

3. ff. 45—56.

'EXORDIA SENECE CUM CONCLUSIONIBUS.'

Begins:

Ordo racionis expostulat...

Ends:

...vivere possitis in statu debito et honore.

1914 Ii. VI. 35.

A small 12mo, on paper, containing 87 leaves, with about 28 lines in each page, in a handwriting of the XVIIth century.

LATIN PLAYS AND ODES.

1. 'Fratrum Concordia sæua, siue Zeno tragœdia, R. P. I. S. anno 1631 acta.'

Begins ('Protasis, Scen. Prim.' fol. 3 b):

Begins:

Cum die quadam corporali manuum labore...

Ends:

...delicatus est, sponsus est, nobilis est.

This treatise will be found among the spurious works of S. Augustine, T. VI. Append. col. 1452 (Scala Paradisi), and S. Bernard, T. II. col. 647, ed. Par. 1839, where it is given to Guigo Carthusiensis. This MS. differs considerably from the printed editions.

This is followed by a prayer, and two hymns.

The first begins:

Omnibus consideratis paradisus voluptatis es Ihesu piissime
In te fons paternitatis omnes fructus suavitatis plantavit plenissime.

The second.

O crux frutex salvificus vivo fonte rigatus.

This is the ‘Planctus Bonaventuræ de Christo.’ See Mone's Hymni Latini Medii ævi, I. p. 150.

14. ff. 196—211. ‘Tractatus de duodecim utilitatibus tribulacionis’ Adami.

Begins:

Da nobis auxilium in tribulacione...

Ends:

...nos introire in regnum celorum. Ad quod nos perducat qui, &c.

Printed, Lond. 1530. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 7.

A hymn follows, beginning:

Sponsa Joseph dia genetrix lux virgo Maria
Primula virtutis rosa, nostre porta salutis.

The next 3 leaves are blank, excepting that one containing the beginning of an indenture made in the reign of Elizabeth.

15. ff. 216—221. 'Hieronimus contra Jovinianum de castitate mulierum.'

Begins:

Satis habundeque christiane pudicicie...

Ends:

...Epicuri luxuriam susceperunt.

This contains Lib. I. capp. 41—49, Lib. II. capp. 6—14, I. cap. 28, and the last chapter of Lib. II. Opp. T. II.

The explanation of the word 'Rome' follows.

Various notes follow, one about a village near 'Wudestoke,' where S. Augustine preached; and some lines giving a list of words which are used in two or more senses, beginning:

Augustus-ti-to Cesar vel mensis habeto, &c.

1919 Ii. vi. 40.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 219, with 23 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 375, who mentions this MS.

In f. 186 the name 'Edmund Bramptone' is written.

1920 Ii. vi. 41.

A duodecimo, on paper, consisting of 90 leaves (excluding blanks at the end), each page containing about 28 lines, very beautifully written in a hand which seems to belong to the xviith century. The titles of the works are written within ornamented shields, and other parts of the MS. are rubricated and coloured. The different treatises are paged separately.

1. 'Ἐπικτήτου ἐγχειρίδιον.'

Begins (fol. 2):

τῶν ὄντων τὰ μέν ἐστι... (c. 1.)

Ends (fol. 22 b):

Ἄνυτος καὶ Μέλιτος ἀποκτεῖναι μὲν δύνανται, βλάψαι δ' οὔ. (c. ult.)

Finis capitum 79.

2. 'Αἰσώπου μῦθοι.'

Begins (fol. 25 b):

Ἀετὸς καὶ ἀλώπηξ φιλιωθέντες... (Æsop. et al. Fab. fol. 64 b, ed. Par. 1549).

Ends (fol. 79 b):

οὕτω νεότης πονεῖν οὐκ ἐθέλουσα παρὰ τὸ γῆρας κακοπραγεῖ. (Id. fol. 145.)

3. 'Μῦθοι Γαβρίου Ἕλληνος, τετράστιχα.'

Begins (fol. 80 b):

Ἀνδρὸς ποσὶν πατεῖτο πέτρινος λέων... (Id. fol. 146 b.)

Ends (fol. 89 b):

συνοικεῖν ἐν πόλεσι τοῖς κακοῖς. (Id. fol. 158 b.)

1921 Ii. vi. 42.

A duodecimo, on parchment, containing 151 leaves, with about 30 lines in a page, written in Latin, in a hand of the early part of the xivth century. The last 5 leaves are badly written in a later hand.

Registrum Brevium.

Upon a fly-leaf at the beginning is a list of 37 Counties, arranged in six groups, with the names of 3 persons connected with each group,—they appear to have been the Judges of Assize for those Counties, and probably for about the year 1340. See Foss's Judges.

1922 Ii. vi. 43.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 156, with 21 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

A Manual of Prayers, Hymns, and Meditations in Latin and English.

The contents are as follows:

f. 1. 'þe ten commaundementys of almyȝty God, wyche he comaundid us to kepe up on peyne of euerlastynge dampnacioun.'

f. 7. 'þe seven dedly synnis:' followed by 'þe seven werkis of bodely mercy, seven werkis of gostely mercy, seven gyftis of þe holy gost, seven blissed virtuis, fyve bodely deittis, fyve gostely wittis, fyftene condicionis of cherite.'

f. 13. 'þe gospell of Allhalowen Day' [S. Matt. v.]

f. 14. 'Seynt Edmunde's expocicioun of oure Pater noster.'

f. 17. Directions to a person in dedly synne, with the hymn

Almyȝtty God fadyr of heven
For Cristis love yᵗ dyde on rode...

And the hymn to S. Ciricus,

Salve decus parvulorum
Miles regis angelorum
O Sancte martir Cirice...

followed by various prayers to the Saviour and our Lady, and various Saints in English and Latin.

f. 31. 'Oraciones sive meditaciones ab Anselmo Archiepiscopo Cantuariensi.' The first of these, Oratio valde bona, is Or. xx. Opp. col. 902, ed. Migne. The rest are not among S. Anselm's Orationes.

f. 77. The Hymn Stabat Mater.

f. 78. A legend (in rubrick) of a 'squyer of ȝoorkschyr, the wheche squyer was woundyd to þe deþ at the bateyll of Scrowysbery,' and appeared after death to his sister, 'a religyous woman of þᵉ norþe of Hampulle,' with a form of prayer for the dead.

f. 79. A vision (in rubrick) that S. John had of our Lady after her death, with five orisons to her.

f. 84. Two Orationes valde bonæ.

They begin:

Pater fili et spiritus sancti tres persone
Deus unus ordinans cuncta ratione...

And:

Noli me relinquere, Paule, desolatum
Cum Saulus existeras elasti peccatum.

After a Prayer, the 'Nomina beate Marie' follow, and a hymn to S. Katharine.

f. 87. A series of metrical prayers in English to our Saviour, our Lady, &c., with others in prose.

f. 98. A legend (in rubrick) about 'femina solitaria et reclusa numerum vulnerum Christi scire cupiens.' Prayers and meditations in Latin and English, prose and verse, on the Seven Words of our Lord on the Cross, follow.

f. 114. The legend of S. Bernard and the Devil, respecting certain verses of the Psalter, followed by prayers and hymns, with promises of Indulgences on their use.

f. 119. Oratio devota de Sancto Johanne baptista, in verse, with other prayers.

f. 125. Canticum gloriose genetricis domini.

This is the adaptation of the Te Deum of S. Bonaventura, followed by 'Oracio devota de Sancta Maria,' Ave mundi spes maria.

f. 128. Passio Sancti Bernardi, with Prayers.

f. 131. A number of letters which Pope Leo wrote Karolo magno regi, by means of which whoever has them 'super se scripta,' need not fear sword, enemy, &c., followed by the Confession, Confiteor tibi pater celi et terre.

f. 133. Oracio de S. Christoforo, de Trinitate, de S. Barbara (this is in verse) &c., the last being an 'Oracio valde devota' to the Trinity.

f. 145. Other prayers in a later hand.

The last four leaves (beginning from the other end), contain some medical receipts.

1923 Ii. vi. 44.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 264, in double columns, of 33 lines. Date, the xvth century. The leaves are numbered throughout, and two are missing between ff. 242 and 245, which is torn.

'Sermones quadragesimales fratris Servi Dei.'

Begins (after the 'Tabula Distinctionum per Alphabetam'):

Convertimini ad me in toto corde vestro...

Ends:

...ad gaudia munerosa paradisi. Amen.

On f. 250 b the scribe has written: 'Deo gratias ac domino immensissimas refero. Set pro me scriptore Deum exorare velitis qui hunc librum estis post meam mortem habituri, quia multum laboravi diebus ac noctibus. Je me ci estu.' [Probably an anagram of his name.] There are several fly-leaves scribbled over at both ends. At the beginning are the names 'Morden' and 'Edm. Castell.'

1924—1929 Ii. vi. 45—50.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1930 Ii. vi. 51.

A duodecimo, on paper, containing 94 leaves, badly written in a hand of the xviiith century.

NOTES OF CASES IN THE STAR-CHAMBER, 17—20 JAMES I.

Amongst them is the case of Sir John Bennet, Judge of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, for corrupt practices in the administration of his office.

Upon the last leaf is written, in the same hand,

'A parcel of a pamphlett cast in the courte by Williams, bearinge the title of Balaam's Ass, for which hee were after executed.

4 letters doe the personn shewe,
The place, the tymes, the tymes of woe.
H E E I
H sheweth the churche's first defection,
E brought the churche to laye protection,
E gave a woman churche subjection,
I shewes sinn ripe and at perfectione.
Now putt togither 3, they crie
Alas, 'twas hee, the 4th, 'twas I.
Thus these 4 letters shewe the fall
Of them and of there generall.

Advesperascit vita mea:
Domine, suscipe vitam meam:
Post has tenebras spero lucem.'

The four letters evidently designate HENRY, EDWARD, ELIZABETH, and JAMES.

It is believed that no printed copy of Williams's pamphlet exists. A MS. copy is in this Library (Dd. III. 84, § 2), which, however, does not contain the above; but when arrested, a copy was found upon the Author with new annotations. (There is also a copy in the Lansdowne MSS. CCXIII. 59.) Williams, a Roman Catholic, had been a member of the Middle Temple, but was expelled for his religion. For writing this pamphlet, and another entitled Speculum Regale, he was convicted of high treason, and executed at Charing Cross on Wednesday, May 5, 1619. See Lorkin's and Chamberlain's Letters in The Court and Times of James I., pp. 147, 157, 158, 160. For a report of his trial, in which the law of libel was strained to the utmost, see Rolle's Rep. II. 88.

1931 Ii. vi. 52.

A small octavo, on paper, in 28 leaves, dated 1593. Bound with the preceding MS.

'Liber quarundam Questionum omnium Auctoribus bonis tractarum.'

The compiler's name appears to be J. Clark.

Begins:

Quare scintillatio oculorum in catis et lupis non apparet in luce sed in tenebris. (Aristot.)

Ends:

Causa cause est etiam causa causati.

1932 Ii. vi. 53.

A duodecimo, on parchment, containing 43 leaves, with 19 lines in a page, written (with one exception) in Latin, in a beautiful Italian hand of the latter part of the xvith century. The pages are ruled with red ink.

Forest Laws and Ordinances from Canute to Henry VIII.

The only article in English is the curious Charter of Edward the Confessor, beginning,

'Iche Edward Kinge have given of my forest kepeinge...'

which is printed in Camden's Britannia, I. 351 (ed. 1772), and in Weever's Fun. Monuments, p. 603, also in Beckwith's Fragmenta Antiquitatis, p. 665, where a doubt is cast upon its authenticity.

At the end of the volume is a folding leaf containing a Table of the Sovereigns of England from Edward the Confessor to Elizabeth, giving the period of their respective reigns, date of their death, and place of sepulture.

1933 Ii. vi. 54.

A duodecimo, on paper, containing 58 leaves, partially numbered, with about 14 lines in a page, written in a hand of the xviith century. Twenty-nine blank leaves are bound up with it.

A Treatise of the Jurisdiction of the Star-Chamber, with 'the generall practicall proceedings' therein.

The Treatise begins:

To sette forth exactly the dignity of the high Court of starre Chamber would require the penne of a deep judgment...

Ends:

...the Court itself, that beyond all memory hath received such complaints and redressed them. Finis.

The 'proceedings' begin:

All suites which frequent this Courte are brought hither, either by some perticular person complayning, or else by the very vigilant eye of state...

End:

...for in such cases no costs at all are to be allowed to either party. Finis.

Upon a fly-leaf at the beginning are stamped the following arms: Ar. a bull passant sa., within a bordure of the second bezantée; in chief a crescent. Crest—Out of a ducal coronet a demi dragon, holding in its dexter claw a dart. Motto—'Cole Deum.' These arms are borne by more than one branch of the Cole family.

1934 Ii. vi. 55.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 100, with 27 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century. Several leaves are lost at the beginning.

A Collection of Theological treatises in English, chiefly translations of S. Augustine.

1. ff. 1—9. The Treatise called Forma Vivendi of Richard Hampole, in English.

An abridgement of the present Treatise by another translator has been printed by Erhard Ratdolt. Augustæ Vindelicorum, 7 Idus Februarii, 1489.

2. ff. 62—96 a. PTOLEMÆI LIBER QUADRIPARTITUS.

Begins:

Rerum Yesure in quibus est pronosticabilis scientie rerum profectio.

See Ii. III. 3, § 17.

There follows on f. 96 a, col. 2, a short extract commencing:

Cum projectionem radiorum stellarum.

3. ff. 97, 98 a. A fragment of a Treatise on Animal Life.

The first pages are wanting.

The first words appearing are, 'elevatione fieri signum. Quoniam...'

The last chapter (on f. 97 a) begins:

Motus et sensus, i. e. vite animalis principium in corde sint...

Ends:

...et hoc est quod a principio expleti laboris pollicebatur intentio.

4. ff. 98 a—115 a. De Creatione Mundi.

The author, Daniel Morley, claruit MCXC. See Tanner, sub nom.

Begins:

Cum dudum ab Anglia me causa studii excepissem, et Parisius aliquamdiu moram fecissem, videbam quosdam bestiales in scolis gravi auctoritate sedes occupare...

Ends:

...qui Deo serviunt reges sunt, quare servire Deo regnare est.

5. f. 115 a, 115 b. A Tract on the Obliquity of the Ecliptic.

Written in a careless hand.

Begins:

Si esset centrum solaris circuli in medio celi...

Ends:

...et tunc respondebit elevationi solis astrolabium circa meridiem.

6. ff. 115 b—119 b. 'De Astrolabio.'

See Hh. VI. 8. The present MS. answers to ff. 181—186 in that Volume.

7. ff. 119 b, 120. A Tract on the Stereoscopic projection of the Sphere, with a Comment, and figures.

Begins:

Spera in quolibet polorum planum contingente...

Ends:

...et in plano situs cognitus erit.

The comment ends, ...hoc est in o erit situs illius: quod proponebatur.

8. ff. 120, 121 a. A Tract on Proportion, with a Comment.

This part is written in single column.

Begins:

Proportio est rei ad rem determinata secundum quantitatem habitudo...

Ends:

...ex proportione primi ad tertium et quarti ad secundum.

The Comment ends:

...et omnes pariter fiant, &c.

9. ff. 121 a—126. De usu Astrolabii.

This work is in 40 chapters, whose contents are prefixed.

Begins [rubr.]:

Primum Capitulum astrolabii in inventione nominum super illud cadentium. Primum horum est Armilla per quam suspenditur...

Ends:

...de annis Christi ex annis Arabum si Deus voluerit.

10. ff. 127, 128 a. 'De inventione sinus et declinationis per Kardagas.'

At the foot of the page is Tabula Kardagarum. 'Kardaga est portio circuli ex 15 gradibus.'

Begins:

Cum cujuslibet gradus scire volueris sinum vel declinationem...

Ends:

...et sic habebis elevaciones ipsorum graduum cum suis minutis.

11. f. 128 b. 'Liber Thebit de Ymaginibus.'

This is written in a close hand of the xvith century, on parchment, from which some former writing in much the same hand has been sponged out.

Begins:

Dixit Tebit Bencorat. Dixit Aristoteles, &c....

Ends:

...intellige quod exposui tibi et Deo gratias.

The following four leaves are prepared for rewriting by sponging. On f. 134 b, are notes on Zodiacal Influences.

12. ff 135—171 a. 'Lectiones Tabularum secundum Arzachel.'

Written in single column; 51 lines in a page: with a broad margin and frequent annotations.

Begins:

Scite quod annus lunaris sit ex cccliiii diebus et quinta et sexta diei parte...

Ends:

...diversitatis diametri circuli brevis.

13. ff. 171 b—181. Tabule Arzachel.

The Almanack and Planetary tables.

These tables are similar to those in Hh. vi. 8. In many of them the numbers are expressed in Roman figures. Eclipses of the sun are recorded in the forenoon of August 2, 1231. Also prid. id. Jan. 9^{h}. 31′. 21″ p. m. ad meridiem civitatis Wintonie.

14. ff. 182—185. Tractatus Patris Asseti Filii Chore Thebith in Motu Accessionis et Recessionis.

There is a long notice of the life and writings of this author in Casiri, Bibl. Arab. Hisp. T. i. p. 386, where this work is mentioned.

Begins:

Imaginabor speram equationis diei...

This is incomplete.

15. ff. 187—200. De arte Computi per Robt. Grosteste.

See Tanner, p. 346, note a.

Begins, after the table of Capitula:

Compotus est scientia numerationis et...

Ends:

...Petrus et Andreas Paulus, cum Simone Judas
Ut jejunemus nos admonet, atque Matheus.

With a perpetual table of moveable feasts.

16. ff. 201—220. Theorica Planetarum.

This would seem to be Grostete's by comparison with the abridgement of Grostete's Theorica by Johannes de Sacro Bosco, li. i. 1, § 317. The commencement, however, of the treatise as given in Tanner and Bale varies, reading lunæ for solis. The present copy is defective of the end.

Begins:

Circulus solis dicitur esse ecentricus, non quia centrum non habet...

Ends:

...et circumducatur circulus adbe ubi ..

17. ff. 221—231 b. Muhamedis Alfragani Arabis Chronologica et Astronomica Elementa.

Another translation of this work has been published with a comment by M. J. Christmann, 8vo. Francof. mdcxviii. It is divided into 30 Differences, or Chapters.

Begins:

Numerus mensium Arabum et Latinorum est duodenus.

Ends:

Jam patefecimus de eclipsi Solis et Lune quod sufficiat, Amen, &c.

18. ff 231 b—248 a. Compotus Ecclesiasticus.

Proemium begins:

Presentis operis triplex est materia.

Treatise begins:

Artis extrinsece notitiam interioris cognitionem precedere nequaquam ambigitur...

Ends:

...sive a nobis apposita, Gratie Divine attribuantur.

The §§ 15—18 are written continuously and fairly, generally with rubrics, and with figures and tables carefully executed. Some parts are palimpsest.

There is an incomplete table of contents in a hand of the xvith century, on one of the initial fly-leaves.

1936 Kk. 1. 2.

A large quarto, on paper, with two parchment fly-leaves at the beginning, containing ff. 509, with 40 lines in a page. There are catchwords after every tenth leaf. Date the xvth century.

1. ff. 1—457. 'Augustini de Ancona doctoris eximii de ecclesiastica potestate summa.'

Begins:

Quia de potestate ecclesiastica tractare sermonem assumpsimus...

Ends:

...ut satiemur cum apparuerit nobis gloria ejus qui benedictus est in secula seculorum.

Printed, Colon. 1475, &c.

This is by Augustinus Triumphus, who died in 1328.

ff. 458—471 are occupied by a table of contents, and the next two leaves are blank.

2. ff. 474—509. 'Responsio in blasphemam et sacrilegam invectivam ad sanctissimum canonem justissime condempnacionis dampnatissime congregationis Basiliensis composita per dominum Johannem de Turrecremata.'

Begins:

Dissimulare non possumus quod pertinet ad omnes...

Ends:

...caput ecclesie et salvator corporis ejus qui est in secula benedictus.

This treatise of Torquemada seems to be still unprinted. See Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. T. iv. p 163.

1937 Kk. 1. 3.

A folio, consisting of several volumes, of various dates and kinds.

1. Collections concerning the Earl of Essex, &c.

These are on paper, written circ. 1600. There are about 50 lines in a page.

i. 9 leaves. Speeches in the Star-Chamber on the impeachment of Robert, Earl of Essex. Nov. 29, 1599.

A digest of some of these speeches will be found in the Sydney Letters, Vol. ii. 148. They are speeches of the Lord Keeper Egerton, the Lord Treasurer, the Lord Admiral, Mr Secretary, and the Lord Chief Justice.

Also 'there were present theis Lords under-written, whereof some spake so softly as I could not heare them; the others briefly concurring in effect with those that went before them: Lord Chamberlaine, Lord North, Mr Comptroller, Sir John Fortescue.'

ii. 2 leaves. 'A Lettre written by the Lord Keeper to the Earle Marshall (Essex).' Also, 'Therle Marshal to the Lord Keeper.'

These letters will be found in the Cabala, pp. 27, 28; and more correctly in Birch's Mem. Eliz. Vol. II. 384.

iii. FORTY-THREE ENGLISH EPIGRAMS: no title.

The author was Sir John Davis, whose Epigrams were printed about 1596: cf. Warton, III. 92, note †, ed. 1840.

iv. 11 leaves. 'An apologie of the Earle of Essex against those which falsely and maliciously taxe him to bee the onely hinderer of the peace and quiet of his countrie. To Mr Anthony Bacon.'

Printed, 4to, London, 1603. 'Penned by himselfe in Anno 1598.'

v. 3 pages. Letter from Mr Antony Bacon to the Erle of Essex, and his answer.

Printed in Cabala, pp. 31—34. This and the following are in a different hand from the other articles in this Collection, with 56 lines in a page.

vi. 3 pages. An account of the death of Essex.

This seems to be a copy of Camden's authority for his account of the event.

2. 21 leaves. Thirty-five lines in a page.

'SUMMARIE COLLECTIONS OF TRUE NATURAL MAGICK grounded upon PRINCIPLES DIVINE and from the writinges of HERMES TRIMEGISTUS AND OTHERS THE LEARNED AUNCIENTS: conteining the true Philosophie and Physick drawen into commune places:' by Samuel Rynevile and Norton.

There is an epistle dedicatory to Lord Burleigh, dated from 'my house at Ligh.'

The dedication begins:

I think it no offense or unmeete...

The treatise begins:

Magick we define to be an Art and faculte...

Ends:

...the benefit of his church and profit of his people. Amen.

3. 40 leaves, with 50 lines in a page, written about the beginning of the XVIIth century.

'Two Bookes of the Histories of Ireland, compiled by Edmund Campion, feloe of Seint John Baptistes Colledge in Oxforde.'

Printed, fol. Dublin, 1633. The MS. contains 40 numbered leaves.

This is the copy to which Baker refers, MS. note to Wood's Athenæ, col. 164: 'It (Campion's History) is extant in MS. [probably the original] in the public library at Cambridge, dedicated to Robert, Earl of Leicester, in an epistle dated from Dublin [MS. Dyvelin] Maii 27, 1571, being then upon the point of his departure to leave the Land, as he there says.'

In this the words [probably the original] are cancelled, and over them is written only in part. The clerical blunders and the spelling of the proper names, both incorrect and inconsistent, shew that the copy cannot be autograph. It is all in one hand, and is complete. There is a geographical table of Munster on the last page.

4. 11 leaves. 'A Brief Collection of all such severall and Ordinarie Fees or Charges as (by Suites in the Common-Lawe) are defraied or paid out into diverse Courtes or offices thereunto appendant everie Terme tyme. Opto placere probis. 1609.'

5. 16 leaves, written in the xviith century.

'Oratio penitentis humilis et devota pro peccatorum remissione et gratia.'

This consists of verses of the Psalms put together, with headings to each in the margin.

6. 50 leaves, written in the xviith century.

'An Exposition upon the nynthye psalme off David.'

Begins (after an Argument, 'The prophett in this psalme...'):

Qui habitat, &c. In this psalme god is praysed for the benefites...

Ends:

...and cannot lye or deceve, to whom, &c.

7. 22 leaves, in the same hand as the last.

'An Exposition upon the 129 psalme.'

Begins:

The title of the psalme, &c., For explication of this title we may understand...

Ends:

...the reward hoped for shall succede through, &c.

A prayer follows.

8. 30 leaves, in a hand of the same date.

'DEVOUT AND GODLY PRAYERS made off the preface and seaven peticions of the Pater noster.'

These are followed by 'One prayer made at large of the holl Pater noster.'

9. 10 leaves, in the same hand as the last.

'A SERMON OF SAINT CYPRIAN the Martyr concerning the SUPPER OF OUR LORD, truely translated by Doctor WATSON Bisshoppe of Lincolne.'

Begins:

When the rumor of Lazarus which was raysed...

Ends:

...which meate and drinke is our Lord Jhesus Christ to whom, &c.

Thomas Watson, Master of St John's College, was Bishop of Lincoln in 1557. This translation has not been printed.

10. 13 leaves, of which 5 are blank, in the same handwriting.

i. 'A PARABLE OF FAITHE, HOPE, AND CHARITIE.'

Begins:

A certaine noble and mightie kinge had three daughters...

Ends:

...in vayne that keepeth it.

See Ec. II. 12, § 18.

ii. 'A PARABLE concerning the retournyng of a Synner from the captivitie of the Devill to God agayne, written by SAINT BARNARD.'

Begins:

Betwene Babilon and Hierusalem there is no peace...

Ends:

.. fall att the right hand of charitie.

11. Ninety-three leaves, on different paper and in a hand of the XVth century.

A LONG ENGLISH POEM, much damaged, beginning and end as well as the upper part of all the leaves rendered almost entirely illegible by damp. The last rubric indicates the general nature of the work: 'Here endith The Boke of the Natiuite of our Lady, and of the birth of our Lord Jhū Criste.'

The second book relating to 'the Counsell of the Trynyte,' begins:

Who that is bound and fetherid in prysoun
Thynkith long aftir delyveraunce...

The poem ends:

To kepe and save from all adversite. Amen.

This appears to correspond in many respects with the work known as Lydgatis Lyf of our Lady, printed by Caxton: see Dibdin, I. 336 sq. Another copy is marked Mm. VI. 5.

12. Eighty leaves, of the same date and in a similar handwriting. 'A tretys wiche is callid [the rubric here breaks off: but an addition follows in a later hand] a vieu of the instabilitie of the worlde with a reproof of thexcesse therein vsed,' by Occleve.

This poem appears also in Hh. IV. 11, and Gg. VI. 17. In both of these copies the colophon styles the poem 'De regimine principum.' See also Harl. MSS. 116. But Gg. VI. 17 is referred to by Tanner, Occleve (=More, 427), as 'Consolatio sibi a Sene oblata.' None of the three MSS. in the Cambridge University Library contains the stanzas given in Warton.

Begins:

Musi[ng upon] the resteles busynesse
Wic[he that t]his troubli world haþ ay in honde...

Ends:

To wiche 3ow bringe the Auctore of Pees.

A kind of epilogue or 'envoye' is appended, beginning:

[O] lytill booke who gafe the hardinesse
Thy wordes to pronounce in þe presence
Of kynges ympe and princes worthinesse.

There are several stanzas both in this MS. and in Hh. IV. 11, not in Gg. VI. 17.

13. i. Nineteen leaves with the next section, in a small hand of the XVth century.

'Vita trium Regum Colonie,' in English prose.

Prologue begins:

With hit is lo that of this thre kynges...

The history begins:

The mater of this blessid kynges of the Est betokened...

Ends:

...to the whyche he brynge us unto the felishippe of them. Amen.

Printed, with slight variations, by Wynkyn de Worde, Lond. 1511; copy in the Camb. Univ. Library, AB. IV. 60.

ii. 'Versus Barnardi;' an English version of a short poem attributed to St Bernard. Imperfect.

Begins:

O sothefast sonne of all bryghtnesse
Enlumyne with thy clere lyghte.

Ends:

...Make me a sygne through þy godenesse,
And marke me yn my forhede.

14. Historical Collections of Queen Elizabeth's reign.

The following documents, ff. 38, are in the same hand as § 1, v. vi. and contain 44 lines in a page.

i. 23 leaves. A Justification of the Execution of the Queen of Scots.

Begins:

There hath not happned sithence the memorie of man...

Ends:

...in the defence of trouthe yt selfe ther is a certane measure to be used. Finis.

No fayer signe can creditte wynne
Yf that the substance faile within.

ii. 3 leaves. Queen Elizabeth's Instructions to Sir Philip Sidney, sent as Embassador to the Emperor Rodolph on the death of Maximilian.

See Camden, p. 216; Sidney Letters, i. p. 100. Also Gg. v. 36, § 16.

Begins:

Wee thinke it verie convenient that in your waie...

Ends:

...to our prince or province with convenient speed.

Fran. Walsyngham.

iii. 9 pages. A letter dissuading the Queen from the marriage with the Duke of Anjou.

Begins:

Most feared and beloved, most sweet and gracious Soverayne to seeke out excuses...

The next 11 leaves are blank.

15. 15 leaves, with 41 lines in a page, badly written. A Translation of Queen Elizabeth's confirmation of King Henry II.'s Charter granted to the towne of Nottynghame.

Dated Westminster, 'the seaventh day of February, in the secounde yere of her Majestie's Reigne.'

16. 33 leaves. Narrationes sive Declarationes in Placitis.

Law Pleadings, from Hen. IV. to Eliz., in a handwriting of the time of the latter.

17. 14 leaves. Instructions for holding Courts Leete and Baron.

18. 40 leaves, with 41 lines in a page.

'Epistola ad Potentissimum Philippum Austriacum Regem Hispani, &c. De Tumultibus Belgicis componendis. Vernaculo sermone conscripta et nunc calamitosissimo hoc tempore Latine publicata, &c.'

This has been published in Latin, French, and English. It is subscribed 'Antverpiæ, 15 Martii, Anno 1577, &c. Antonius de Corra Hispaliensis.'

This copy seems to have been corrected by the author's own hand. A paragraph to be inserted is stitched into the volume, written on the fragment of a letter directed to the author, 'S. Theologiæ Professori, Oxoniis.'

19. 11 leaves. Prognostications.

These are tables, some of Planetary conjunctions, some of throws of three dice, &c.

20. 'The Priouresses Prologue,' and a small portion of the tale by Chaucer, on a single leaf of parchment, of the xvth century.

21. 20 leaves, with 32 lines in a page, of the same date as § 20.

A Fragment of a Chronicle of England.

It consists only of three sheets, of which the second and third are transposed. On the first sheets are chapp. lxviii—lxxxiii. entire, out of the History of King Arthur; on the second, chapp. clxii—clxxxiv.; on the last, chapp. cxli—clv. The chapters on the last two sheets are identical with those in Hh. vi. 7, except for a few verbal differences, as if they were both translated from the same work.

22. 12 parchment leaves of the xvth century.

An Exposition of the 10 Commandments, in English, imperfect at the beginning.

It is followed by the Pater noster, Ave Maria, Credo, þe xii Articles of þe faith; and (also in English) a paragraph De septem peccatis mortalibus.

23. A single parchment leaf, of the xvth century.

'The vii dedes of mercy bodily and gostely,' and 'The v wittes outwarde and inwarde.'

On the last two leaves are tables of the times of the sun's rising and setting.

At the head of a page in § 11 is written in a hand of the xvith century:

Lansselat Welles, the son of Wyllam Welles.

1938 Kk. i. 4.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 157 in double columns of 51 lines. Date, the xivth century. There are catchwords at every 8th leaf, and signatures. Two leaves are lost at the beginning, and one after ff. 54 and 136. ff. 89 and 131 are injured.

'Tractatus qui dicitur PUPILLA OCULI editus a magistro JOHANNE DE BURGO Cancellario Universitatis Cantebrigg. et sacre pagine professore, A.D. 1385.'

Begins (after the alphabetical index of contents, of which the first two leaves are lost, and which now occupies ff. 1—10):

Humane condicio nature jam senescente mundo...

Ends:

...partium terminatur. Laus deo in excelsis.

Printed, Paris, 1510.

At the end is a list of 'Casus quos reverendus pater dominus lincolniensis sibi soli reservat.'

1939 Kk. i. 5.

A folio, on paper, containing in itself several parts of different dates, as follows:—

1. 'THE BOKE OF POLOCYE,' by CHRISTINE DE PISAN.

This is written in a hand of the xvth century on 108 leaves, with rubricks and a good margin, and about 38 lines in a page. This is an English translation of an original which will be found in the Brit. Mus. Harl. MS. 4410, but is not among the works of the authoress enumerated in Biogr. Universelle. Translations of two other works of this lady were printed by Caxton.

In the initial H of the Incipit the following arms are emblazoned:—

Quarterly 1 and 3 or. a cross engr. gu. 2 and 4 per pale az. and gu. a lion rampant, doublequeued, erm.

The following is the Incipit:—

Here begynneth the Boke whiche is called the body of Polocye, and it speketh of vertues and of good maneres. And the said boke is devyded in thre parties. The firste parte is addressed to Princys, the second to Knyghtes and Nobles, and the thyrde to the universall people.

The Preface begins:

If it be possible that of vyce myght growe vertue...

The first book begins:

Than now we have for to trete of vertu...

The third book ends:

...ben many solempne persones in clennesse of lyf. Here Xpine concludeth her boke.

L'envoy follows, beginning:

Now I am comen...

Ends:

...all perfection of soule and body.

2. The Countess of Pembroke's Arcadia, by Sir Philip Sidney.

On 208 leaves, numbered, with about 48 lines in a page, dated 1584. The first edition was printed in 1590. This is an unfinished copy, blanks are left for most of the proper names in the latter part of the volume, those in the former part being inserted in a careful Italic hand. Most of the verses, and all the Eclogues, are omitted, spaces being left for the verses left out, and some of those inserted being written in a peculiarly ornate style of calligraphy. The arrangement is that of the first edition, excepting the division into chapters, which is omitted. The MS. breaks off at fol. 350 a, line 30, 1st edition.

3. 'Ye grete lawis of Scotland of ye gude king David, the quhilk lawes are conteint in ye buke the quhilk he callit Regiam Magestatem.'

It is written in Lowland Scotch, upon 39 leaves (some of which are much decayed), in a hand of the early part of the xvith century. It is not the same version that was edited by Sir John Skene; and contains only the first three parts, divided into 135 chapters (in the index 139), the titles of some of which are misplaced.

The first part, after the Introduction, begins with the Chapter 'Of the muts yat pertynys to ye King's croun:' the second part begins with C. 43, 'that spekis of Arbotry:' the third begins with C. 119, 'Of detts to be mot in ye court,' and ends with C. 135, 'Of Recognicion of Richt that upon lauchful sesing is givin.'

It appears to correspond generally with the R. M. in the Marchmont Manuscript, as described in the Record Ed. of the Acts of Parl. of Scot. I. xxxvi., where also this MS. is noticed, I. xxv.

For an account of the Regiam Majestatem see Bp. Nicholson's Scott. Hist. Libr., pp. 75—78, and Dalrymple's Ann. of Scot. III. 275—326.

4. 'Ye Copiis of ye Roll of Ulerioun [?] and ye Jugement of ye lawis of ye see' [sea].

Upon 3 leaves, in the same handwriting and language as the preceding section.

It contains 21 chapters,—the first, 'Of ye makyn of a man maister of a schip,' the last, 'Of a yong man mayde lodys man of a schippe.'

This is also in the Marchmont MS., where it is entitled, 'The copyis of the Rollis of Admirall,' &c.

5. 'The law of Burch [Burgh] mayde throw king Davide, Malcolme Sone, and Saynt Margeret.'

Upon 19 leaves, in the same handwriting and language as the two preceding Articles.

It has a preface, neither in Skene nor in the Record Ed., and 107 chapters only, whilst in the former there are 143, and in the latter 119.

6. A short Latin Poem, without title.

Begins (fol. 61 b):

Taurus cornutus ex patris germine brutus
Anglicus est natus Gallus de matre creatus...

It is extracted from the poem described below, Kk. VI. 16, § 2.

7. A prophecy, without title, in Scotch verse.

Begins (fol. 63 a):

Qwhen the koke in the northe halows his nest...

8. Becket's prophecy, with a Scotch metrical version (fol. 70 a).

Cf. below, Kk. VI. 16, § 3.

9. 'A shorte extracte and tellyth how yar ware six masterys asemblede...to spek of tribulatioun' (fol. 72 b).

See above, Ii. IV. 9, § 8.

10. 'Bernardus de cura rei familiaris;' handwriting changes.

Begins (fol. 75 a):

Awtentyk bukis and storis alde and new,
Be wyss poetys ar tretit y^e^ quhilk trew...

Ends (fol. 83 b):

Be this vertew na sampylle may be tane.

This is a metrical paraphrase of St Bernard's epistle 'to Reymunde knyght of chewalry y^e^ rose.' The Latin text is also given, sentence by sentence, in red ink.

11. 'The Craft of deyng;' in prose, title supplied from the first paragraph.

Begins (fol. 84 a):

Sen the passage of this vrechit warlde the quhilk is callit Dede semys harde perelus...

Ends:

...as God grant us al to do for his mikill mercy. Amen.

Cf. Dibdin's Typog. Antiq. I. 279 sq.

12. Verses, intended, it would seem, as an introduction to the following discourse.

13. 'Dicta Salomonis;' such is the colophon, a prose treatise on the book of Ecclesiastes.

Begins (fol. 88 a):

[K]ynge Salomone sais in his buk of his contemplacioune and detestatioune of this warld...

14. Advice of a Father to his Son; in verse, neither title nor colophon.

The 'Prologue' begins (fol. 95 a):

[M]y dere sone wnderstande this buk
Yow study and reid it oft and luk...

The Poem begins:

Fore thi my suet sone procur
To be so seuand of thi pathes.

Epilogue ends (fol. 118 a):

And gyf hyme grace sa here to do
The blys of hevyne that he cum to. Amen.

In the same epilogue the author says that his work

Is rate raving cald,
But for na raving I it hald.

15. 'The foly of fulys and the thewis of wys men:' so reads the colophon.

Begins (fol. 118 b):

Sen vys men that before our dawis
Studyt in prophesy and in lawis...

16. 'The consail and teiching at the vys man gaif his sone.'

Begins (fol. 125 a):

[Q]whay take plesans in ȝouthage
Off gud and ill to have knawleg.

17. 'The thewis off gud women.'

Begins (fol. 131 a):

[T]he gud wyf schawis fore best scho cann
Quhilk ar thewis of gud women...

The following colophon is added: 'Explicit Liber moralis secundum dicta antiquorum Patrum, &c. &c. &c. Amen,' applying perhaps to other articles in the above series.

18. A short prose treatise on 'The Vertewis of the Mess' (fol. 135 a to fol. 136 a), consisting chiefly of extracts from the Fathers.

19. Sir Lancelot of the Lake; an English metrical Romance, in three books, of which the last is imperfect at the end.

In a Prologue, extending from fol. 138 a to fol. 142 a, the author says that he will confine himself chiefly to the adventures of Lancelot in the war of King Arthur against Galiot.

Breaks off (fol. 179 b):

' [A]nd Galiot he can his folk exort
Beseching them to be of good comfort.

Cf. Warton, II. 234, ed. 1840.

20. 'Ye extract of ye lawis of Regiam Majestatem.'

Upon 5 leaves (misplaced), written in Lowland Scotch, in a hand of the XVIth century, as are all the following Articles, with one exception.

Many of the succeeding leaves have been misplaced by the binder.

21. Proceedings of the Parliament of Scotland in the reign of JAMES III.

Upon 3 leaves. Said in the Record Ed. to be 'hitherto unprinted.'

Between this and the following are 2 leaves, in an earlier handwriting, containing transcripts of law-deeds of the XIVth century, mutilated by the binder.

22. Further Proceedings of the Parliament of Scotland. A.D. 1469.

Printed in the Record Ed., II. 94, col. 2, line 3 to p. 97, col. 2, line 6.

23. 'Quhat sal be done efter yat the partiis resonis ar red and ye partes has inforsit yair object against utheris.'—And 'Of Remede of domys geven in absens of party.'

Upon one leaf.

24. 'Extract out of the barone lawis.'

Upon 6 leaves.

25. 'The lawis extract of ye burow lawis.'

Upon 5 leaves.

26. A fragment relating to 'Brevis of Mortancistri.'

Upon one leaf.

27. 'Ye manner ande fourme ande ye ordour of falsing of domys.'

Upon 3¼ leaves.

28. 'Extract out of King David Statutes.'

Upon 2½ leaves.

29. 'Ye lawis extract of king Robert ye bross Statutes.'

Upon 3 leaves.

30. 'Extract de Statutis Regis Willielmi.'

Upon 2½ leaves.

31. 'The feis of ye king's officiars.'

Upon 3 leaves.

On the last leaf of the volume is written, 'Liber Jacobi Logan.'

1940 Kk. 1. 6.

A quarto, on paper, with parchment guards at the beginning, middle, and end of each quire, containing 245 leaves, with about 30 lines in each page, in various handwritings of the xvth century.

1. [Prose Exposition of] 'the vii Psalmes, the whiche dame Alyanore Hull transelated out of Frensche into Englesche;' so runs the colophon.

Begins (fol. 2 a) after a prayer:

Domine ne in furore, &c. This tytle is seyd in the end of the psalme of David...

Ends:

...sey to his chosyn in þe day of streyte Jugement, Venite Benedicti, &c.

On the preceding leaf is written, among other entries: 'Thus endith the contentes of this Booke: Quod Richard Fox.' But the treatise thus referred to is lost. The remainder of the leaf is covered with a string of portents, in a hand of the xvith century. The name of 'Alinor Hull' occurs also in fol. 148 a.

2. 'Meditacyons vpon the vii dayes of the woke,' so runs the colophon; in English prose.

Begins (fol. 148 a):

Thes orysons and thes meditacions þ^t^ folowen here ben in party takyn of seynt Austyn, party of seynt Ancelm, party of seynt Barnard, and party of oþer wrytynges, for to enflawme the hert and the corage of hem þ^t^ redyn in the love of God...

6. 'Another.'

Begins (fol. 197 a):

Almiȝti God maker of heuene
Erthe and eyre, watur and wynde ..

7. 'The ymne Vexilla regis prodeunt;' by Lydgate.

Begins (fol. 198 a):

Royal baneris vnrolled of the Kyng.

This is a paraphrase of the famous hymn of Venantius Fortunatus; Daniel, Thesaur. Hymnol. I. 160, Hal. 1841.

8. 'An holy prayer to our most blesset lady seynt Mari of here v. joyes:' by Lydgate.

Begins (fol. 199 a):

Quene of heuene, of helle eek emperesse
Lady of this worlde, O verrey loode-starre.

9. 'A preyere to our lady' (fol. 200 b): so runs the colophon.

10. 'Regina celi letare' (fol. 201 b).

12. 'A song of vertu of þe seyde John Lydgates makyng.'

Printed, with variations, among his Minor Poems, ed. Percy Society, 1840, pp. 216 sq.

13. 'The dite on þis worde, He hasteth weel þat wysely can abyde:' by Lydgate.

Begins (fol. 205 b):

Alle haste is odious where as discression...

14. The Chorle and the Bird: no title; five stanzas wanting at the end.

Printed, with variations, in Lydgate's Minor Poems, as above, pp. 179 sq.: cf. Hh. IV. 12, § 9.

15. 'A fewe of the Tales [32 in number] of GESTUS ROMANORUM;' so runs the colophon; in prose; handwriting different.

Begins (fol. 216 a):

Inclides in the cite of Rome regnyd a full wyse man...

See Warton, II. 235 sq. ed. 1840.

The stories are somewhat abbreviated in this MS., and the Moralities are omitted. This MS. has been collated for Sir F. Madden's edition of the Gesta, published for the Roxburghe Club in 1838.

16. Story of a Pope and his mother, no title.

Begins (fol. 244 b):

Sum tyme in Rome a pope þer was
That hadde a moder fayr of face...

At the end (fol. 245 b):

Quod Ric. Fox.

Four pages of sacred music are appended.

Owner's name (fol. 242 b), 'Arturus Hopton.'

1941 Kk. I. 7.

A quarto, on parchment, 122 leaves, about 30 lines in each page, neatly written in a hand of the early part of the XVth century, richly illuminated throughout; a few of the leaves have been displaced.

'Liber qui nuncupatur GRACE DIEU,' or, as the colophon runs, þe Drem of þe Pilgrimage of þe Soule:' partly in prose, partly in verse.

Begins (fol. 1 a):

As I lay slepyng in my bed in a seynt Lawrence nyȝt, I fel in a ful merveylous dreme...

Ends (fol. 122 b):

Wherfore ȝiff ouȝt in þis processe be founden vntrewe, wyte it my sweuene, and so byseke I alle þat schul redyn it or hiren.

Caxton's edition of this work (Dibdin, I. 152 sq.) is said to be translated from the French prose of Gallôpes, who wrote in the XVth century, and in his turn translated from a poem of Guilleville. But the close affinity subsisting between the text of this MS. and that printed by Caxton, especially in the metrical portions, proves that he had before him the older English version of the work.

Mark of ownership (fol. 35 a), 'Thys ys Jhone Games bouke,' &c.

See the edition of Guileville's Poem, Le Pelerinage de l'homme, published London, 1858.

1942 Kk. 1. 8.

A quarto, on parchment, 188 leaves, double columns, of about 47 lines each, in a hand of the former half of the xvth century.

The New Testament, in the later of the Wycliffite versions, with the usual Prologues.

Prefixed is the General Prologue to the Bible (fol. 1 to fol. 29), printed in the Wycliffite Versions, Oxf. 1850, 1. 1—60: and to it is added the 'Reule þat tellip in whiche chapitris of the Bible,' &c. (fol. 31 to fol. 37 b): cf. above, Dd. 1. 27.

The New Testament is followed by a 'Tabula Noui Testamenti, metrice tractata' (fol. 180 b to fol. 181 b). Then after two blanks, and in a later hand, are certain 'Lectiones et Epistolæ Veteris Testamenti,' commencing, 'feria vi^ta^ prime ebdomade Aduentus Domini.' This piece is left unfinished.

This MS. is numbered 110 in Forshall and Madden's list. See p. liv.

1943 Kk. 1. 9.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 136, numbered, in double columns of 50 lines. Date, the xivth century. The MS. is imperfect at the beginning, and f. 31 is lost.

A Collection of Theological Tracts, chiefly Manuals for the use of Priests and Confessors.

1. ff. 1—17 b. 'Remundi [de Pennaforti] summa' cum glossa.

126. f. 423. 'My declaration touchinge my journay to Tyrone, the thirde tyme of my going thither since the departure of the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, xiiii^to^ Novembr., 1599.'

An original in the handwriting, and bearing the signature, of Sir William Warren.

127. f. 425. 'Instructions for my Lieutenant, Thomas Leicester, and my servant, Matthewe Archbould, to treate and parlie with Tyrone, by vertue of the right honorable the Lord Lieutenant of her Majestie's Armie's authority. Dated xxv Novemb. 1599.'

These were the instructions of Lord Delvin.

128. f. 426. 'The Proceadings of us, the said Thomas and Matthew, with Tyrone, the xxvith of November, 1599, by warrant from the Lord of Delvyn, granted by the authoritie of the right honorable the Lord Lieutenant of her Majestie's Army, with Tyrone his Answeres.'

129. f. 427. An original Letter of Lord Delvyn to the Lords of the Council, dated xxixth of November, 1599, relating to the preceding.

130. f. 428. 'Copie of a Letter from the Earl of Tyrone, primo Decemb. 1599.'

It is very short, and merely desires the person to whom it was written, to tell Sir William Warren where the writer might be found. It has no address.

131. f. 428. 'Tirone's Letter to Con Oneill.' Dated from 'Loughsworrane, the xxixth of March, 1599.'

Expressing his opinion that Con Oneill was taking an unwise course with the Archbishop of Cashel.

132. f. 429. 'A Letter from Tyrone to Con Oneill.'

Relating to the same subject.

133. f. 429. 'An Indenture of Covenants betwene Con Oneill and the Archbishop of Cashell. The xiiith of Aprill, according to the Church; the iiide of Aprill, according to the English; 1599.'

Being 'the condicion that Con Oneill enlargeth Moylemorre Mc Grogh and his sonne, with the delivery of his Townes of Ballymakin and Anlin.'

134. f. 431. An original Letter to the Lords of the Privy Council, concerning three intercepted Letters of the Earl of Tyrone (to the King of Spain, the Archduke of Austria, and Sir William Warren); signed by Adam

Abp. of Dublin, and Sir George Cary (Lords Justices in the absence of the Earl of Essex), Anthony Sentleger, and four other members of the Irish Council; and dated from Dublin, 24 December, 1599.

135. f. 432. 'Copie of Tyrone's Letter to Sir William Warren.' Dated 'Dungenan, the xxvth of December, 1599.'

136. f. 435. 'Copie of Tyrone's Letter to the Kinge of Spayne. Datum Dongannon, ultimo Decembris, 1599.'

137. f. 435. 'Copie of Tirone's Letter to the Archduke [of Austria]. Datum Dongannon, ultimo Decemb. 1599.'

The three preceding were the intercepted letters alluded to in Article 135.

138. ff. 436—441. 'Considerations toucheinge Ireland causes. January 1599.'

They consist of orders for the better regulation of the army.

139. f. 443. 'Orders sett downe by the Lords, the Lord Mounjoy and divers Capteynes beinge presente. January 8, 1599, at Richmond.'

Relating to the transport of additional forces to Ireland.

140. f. 445. 'The manifold benefites like to ensue by stopping of Rivers, and surrownding of the lowe Bogges, which in Ireland doe abounde, and may (as is conceived) with noe great charges, be made strong defences to all the Contries of Ireland; which, if upon view had, it shall soe fall out, may be keapt in safetie with smaller forces to the utter ruyning of Rebells, to the honor and profitt of her Majestie, and to the perpetuall tranquillitie of that kingdome.'

141. f. 446. 'The humble Petition of Edward Hayes, Commissarie of the Army in Ireland.'

Praying to be associated with two other Commissioners in the discharge of his office.

The numbering of the ff. here leaps from 446 to 463.

142. ff. 463—465. 'Instruccions geven by us, the Lord Deputie and Councell, to our trustie and welbeloved Sir Henry Dockwray, Knight, appointed cheife Commaunder and governor of all her Majestie's forces of horss and foote assigned for Loughfoile and the parts mencioned and lymited in her Majestie's letters pattents, under the great seale of this realme, made to him, and dated — Martii, 1599 [1600], in the xliith yere of her Majestie's raigne.'

Subscribed are the names of Mountjoy (Lord Deputy) and nine members of the Council.

143. ff. 467—475. 'Instructions for the Lord Mountjoye, sente to be Lord Deputye of Ireland.'

The Patent of Mountjoy's appointment was dated 21 January, but he did not land in Ireland till 24 February, 1599-1600.—Liber Hiberniæ.

144. ff. 477—486. 'A Breviat of graunts passed by hir Majestie's warrant to servitors in Ireland since the 20th yeare of hir Majestie's raigne.—Dublyn, 26 October, 1600.'

It begins with the grant of the religious houses of St Francis, St Augustine, and St Dominick, &c., to the Town of Gallway, 8 July, 1578; and ends with a grant in fee-simple of lands to the value of £20. per annum to Sir Geff. Fenton, 24 July, 1599; but there are some grants of a later date than the last, a strictly chronological order not having been observed.

145. ff. 489, 490. 'Certen Ordinances to be observed during the warres of Ireland.—Anno 1600.'

146. ff. 492—495. 'A Coppie of the Instructions geven unto Captain Humfrey Covert, being sent unto Loughfoile, in the north of Ireland, for the servises following, as Comptroler generall of the Musters for Loughfoile, and Survieor generall of the vittells for Loughfoile.—Att the Court att Otelands, the 29 of September, 1600.'

147. f. 503. 'The mayne strengthe of the Rebells in Ireland.—Anno 1600.'

The total was 23000 foot, and 1550 horse.

148. f. 504. 'A breife estimate, as well othe charges of her highnes' Armye in the Realme of Ireland, paid in the newe moneys, as alsoe of the estate of the exchange from the first of Aprill, 1601, untill the laste of December followinge, beinge the space of nyne whole Calendarre Monthes.—Anno 1601.'

149. ff. 507—512. 'A relation of certaine services done by a Scottishman with Tyrone.—May, 1601.'

It is written in the first person, and ends:

> ...'I came to Knockfergus to Sir H. [? Arthur] Chichester, to whome I delyvered your honor's letters; whoe alsoe gave me 4£. to pay for poste horses till I came to London. I cum from thence upon Monday, the 13th of Aprill, A°. 1601.'

150. f. 513*b*. 'Letters prooving Florence Mc Carty his Treasons.'

151. f. 514. 'Examinations prooving Florence Mc Carty his Treasons.' See Cox, I. 422—441.

152. f. 515. 'Thinges to be considered by your Lordship for your better satisfactione touching the state of her Majestie's charge in Irelande.—1 November, 1602.'

It is without address, but appears to have been written from the Privy Council to the Lord Deputy, concerning the victualling the army, and the musters.

153. ff. 517—520. 'A draught for a generall pardon for the province of Munster.—1603.'

154. f. 521. 'The Kinge's Majestie's benefitte by the payement of the Armye in base moneys for twoe yeares and a halfe ended the laste of September, 1603.'

The title in the margin is: 'The late Queene's and the Kinge's Majestie's charge in the Realme of Ireland for twoe yeares and a halfe begonne the first of Aprill 1601, and ended the laste of September, 1603, besides the Apparell.'

The amount saved is stated as 202047*£*. 11*s*. 7¾*d*.—For a notice of the debasing the coin, see Bp. Nicholson's Irish Hist. Libr. p. 61, and Simon's Irish Coins, pp. 38—43.

155. f. 523. 'The monethly charge of the Armye in the saide Realme [of Ireland], as it is now reduced, the xxixth of July, 1604.'

1958 Kk. I. 24.

A large quarto, on thick vellum, now containing 118 leaves (five of which have been almost entirely cut out), with 21 lines on a page, written in a very beautiful hand, in Irish characters of the VIth or VIIth century, with erasures and corrections in another, but similar hand. The initials are surrounded with red dots.

EVANGELIA SECUNDUM VERSIONEM B. HIERONYMI.

The text of St Luke, the 'prologus' and 'capitula,' and the text of St John, are all that now remain; but it is clear from the remaining signatures that originally the other two Gospels must have preceded St Luke; and one quire is wanting at the end to complete St John.

1. ff. 1—68. St Luke i. 15 to the end; and the 'prologus' and 'capitula' of St John.

The 'prologus' and 'capitula' of St Luke must have been contained on the vacant leaves at the end of St Mark. ff. 1 and 2, which have been cut out, contained (1) the illuminated frontispiece, and (2) first page of the Gospel. The text ends on f. 66 a, with the words (in alternate red and black) 'Expliciunt evangelium secundum lucam incipit prologus secundum iohannem.'

On f. 66 b the 'prologus' of St John begins: 'Johannis euangelista unus exdiscipulis...,' and ends on the next page with the words, 'Expli: praefatio incipiunt capitula.' It is remarkable that these fourteen 'capitula,' beginning 'Pharisaeorum leuitae...,' are the same as those in the Evangelia Augustini Gregoriana in the Bodleian, and C. C. C. Library, MS. 286: they end on f. 67 b; and f. 68, which is cut out, was most probably blank.

2. ff. 69—118. St John i. 18—xx. 7. 'Deum nemo uidit noli me tangere.'

ff. 69 and 70 form one sheet. The first is blank; the second, which is cut out, contains slight remains of the illuminated frontispiece. f. 71, which is cut out, contained the illuminated first page of the Gospel; of this the outlines are visible on the next leaf, from the pressure of the style.

The text accords mainly with the Codex Amiatinus, and frequently gives the readings of the old version as printed by Sabatier: a careful collation would probably bring to light a strong resemblance to the Gregorian Gospels mentioned above. The copyist was an ignorant one, as sometimes marginal notes are introduced into the text, and the readings of the old and new versions mixed up together so as to make no sense. The initial letters point sometimes to the divisions of the 'capitula' prefixed, and occasionally numbers occur in the text, corresponding to the 'capitula lectionum' in the Codex Amiatinus. There are no regular marginal notes, but here and there rubrics pointing out the lections for different days, and giving the number of the Ammonian section in which the lection begins. In the accounts of the passion, the narrative portions are distinguished from our Lord's words by the letters C and L respectively. The Irish character is precisely that of the Book of Kells, and very like (only written with more care) the fragments at C.C.C., MS. 197; both MSS. ascribed with good reason to the vith century. See Westwood's Palæographia, and Goodwin's paper in the C. A. S. Publications, No. xiii. Cambridge, 1847, 4to.

1959 Kk. i. 25.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 221, with 45 lines in each page. Date, the xivth century.

1. ff. 1—12. A Commentary on the 118th [119] Psalm, imperfect.

Beginning, v. 40:

Quia autem invidorum est libenter suspicari...

And ending, v. 137:

...hac eadem confessione sua cum augmento sibi restitui obtinuit. Sequitur...

2. ff. 13—221. Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi, imperfect.

After the usual letter 'Desiderii mei desideratas accepi epistolas,' Genesis begins f. 13 b. After f. 22 there are some leaves lost, containing from Gen. xxviii. 43 to Lev. vii. 3, and the books of the Old Testament go only as far as the end of the Chronicles. S. Matthew begins, after a prologue, f. 158: this gospel, as far as c. xxiii. 19, appears to be in a different hand from the rest of the MS., and ends abruptly in the middle of a column with this verse. The original hand begins on a fresh page, repeating the last three words 'donum an altare quod sanctificat donum,' and continues to f. 218 b, which concludes with Acts xii. 25. There is then a gap till Apocal. xvi. 13, f. 219. The Apocalypse ends f. 221 b, and is followed by a note on the mystick number 7, reckoning up the seven sacraments, orders, deadly sins, &c.

On f. 1 b is the note, Nov. 14, 1656: 'Ex dono reverendi doctissimique viri Roberti Morgan. S. Theol. Bac.' [probably R. Morgan, of S. John's College, S.T.P. 1667.]

1960 Kk. i. 26.

Three folio volumes of heraldic notes, in good preservation.

Vol. I. consists of three parts.

1. On paper, 137 leaves, some few of them blank.

'The names of certayne places of Barrons after the manor of the alphabet,' with initials of the sovereign's name under whom they were acquired.

After this follows genealogical notes; also a Peerage of 115 leaves, with an index prefixed, and the arms inserted: drawn up in the reign of Jac. I.

2. On vellum, of 43 leaves.

The first leaf is scribbled over, the second bears the title of this part of the book, 'KNIGHTS OF THE GARTER.'

The next seven, followed by one blank, and the succeeding 31, are covered with the coats of arms of the knights. After these there are two leaves concluding the book, on the first of which besides other scribblings is written:

I singe the civill warres tumultuous broyles
And bloody factions of a mighty lande.

On the other there is the continuation:

Whose people warlike proud with forren
Spoyles upon themselves turne backe there
Quonqueringe handes wheare...'

Completed soon after the year 1553.

3. On paper, 55 leaves.

'An industrious collection of all the NOBLEMENS CREATIONS, ARMES AND PRINCIPALL DESCENTE in every Kings dayes since the conquest.'

It ends in the end of James I.

Vol. II. On paper, of 280 leaves, and also many blank leaves at the beginning and end.

THE ARMS OF NOBLEMEN drawn in the time of Jac. I.

Vol. III. On paper, of 139 leaves, most of which are blank.

THE ARMS OF NOBLEMEN AND GENTLEMEN neatly tricked with a pen.

1961 Kk. I. 27.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 132, in double columns of 33 lines. Date, the XIIIth century. A leaf is lost at the end.

'SANCTI EGESIPPI HISTORIA DE MACHABEIS ATQUE JUDEIS.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Quecunque scriptura complexa est facta...):
Bello Parthico quod inter Machabeos duces...

Ends:
...pro peccatis nostris infestus sit qua... (in the middle of the last chapter of Lib. V.)

This is the history usually styled 'De excidio Hierosolymitano,' the translation of which is ascribed to S. Ambrose, partly on the authority of this MS.; see f. 42, where the rubrick at the end of the second book is, 'Beatissimi Ambrosii episcopi translatio ex Josepho;' see Fabricius, Bibl. Med. et Infim. Latin. T. III. p. 196. There is another MS. in the Library, Dd. IX. 4. It is contained in most of the editions of the Biblioth. Patrum.

1962 Kk. I. 28.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 172, in double columns of 40 lines. Date, the XIIIth century.

1. ff. 1—61 a. 'ALLEGORIE YSIDORI SUPER PENTATHEUCUM ET SUPER LIBROS JOSUE, JUDICUM, RUTH.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Historia sacre legis..., and the list of chapters):

Creatura celi et terre quomodo hystorialiter...

Ends:

...his quibus pollicitus est per filium suum &c.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1850, T. V. coll. 207—392.

Short sentences, occupying about one column and a half, follow on various points.

2. ff. 61 b — 111 b. 'LIBRI QUATUOR DE EXCEPTIONIBUS RABANI.'

Begins:

Adam sicut beatus Ieronimus tradidit homo...

Ends:

...de rebus execrandorum fiebant.

Extracts from various works of Rabanus Maurus.

3. ff. 111 b — 118 b. 'HUGO [DE S. VICTORE] DE ARRA ANIME.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Dilectissimo fratri G...):

Loquar secreto anime mee...

Ends:

...hoc lotis precordiis concupisco.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1854, T. II. coll. 951—970.

4. ff. 118 b—139 b. 'EJUSDEM DE ARCHA NOE.'

Begins:

Cum sederem aliquando in conventu fratrum...

Ends:

...si nostrum studium non timerem.

Ibid. II. coll. 617—680, the last three lines of the MS. not being in the printed text.

5. ff. 139 b—144 b. 'Ejusdem de quatuor judiciis.'

Begins:

Quatuor sunt judicia secundum prescientiam ..

Ends:

...sicut anime que unum sunt.

6. ff. 144 b—170. 'Tractatus magistri P[etri] Precentoris Parisiensis de Tropis Loquendi.'

Begins:

Videmus nunc per speculum...

Ends:

...que ei attribuuntur propter signa eorum. Deo gratias.

See Gg. iv. 17, § 1.

On one of the two fly-leaves at the beginning, which give a list of chapters of §§ 1 and 2, and the contents of the MS., is written

'Simonis supprioris ecclesie christi cantuariensis.'

1963 Kk. i. 29.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 188, with from 38 to 46 lines in a page. A second hand begins at f. 24. There are catchwords after every twelfth leaf. Date, the xvth century.

'Expositio super Apocalipsin secundum Parisiensem.'

Begins:

Vidit Jacob scalam, &c. Quatuor sunt cause hujus operis...

Ends:

...quicquid viderit corrigendum. Benedictus sit Deus. Amen.

The above title is given in the colophon. Below 'Parisiensem' a different hand has written 'Viennam.' In the rubrick at the beginning the name after 'secundum' has been effaced. In Coxe's Catalogue of Oxford MSS. Coll. Merton, xlii. there is a work on the Apocalypse ascribed to Gulielmus Alvernus, who is perhaps the author.

Ff. 177—184 are occupied by an alphabetical table, and the remaining leaves are blank.

1964 Kk. ii. 1.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 310, in double columns of 59 lines. Date, the xvth century. The MS. is imperfect at the end.

1. ff. 1—105. 'Radulphi Flandrensis monachi Expositio in Leviticum.'

Begins (after a list of chapters, and the Prologues, [Cum inter] socios aliquando—and, Tertius in Moysi...):

De holocausto bovis. Vocavit autem Dominus &c. Hujus libri initium...

Ends:

...ad filios in monte synay.

Radulphus Flandrensis, or Flaviacensis, flourished in the xiith century.

This commentary on Leviticus, which is in 20 books, will be found in the Magna Biblioth. Vet. Pat. Colon. 1618, T. x. pp. 30—215.

2. ff. 106—179. 'Liber testimoniorum veteris ac novi testamenti quem Patricius de opusculis sancti Gregorii Pape cum summo studio excerpi curavit.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Cum beatissimi atque apostolici Gregorii... and a list of chapters):

Virtutes angelice que in divino amore...

Ends:

...directa lumine superne locutionis.

See Ii. iii. 6, § 1.

The next 3 leaves are blank.

3. ff. 183—304. 'Compendium Moralitatum domini Lincolniensis [Grosteste] super Evangelia continens quatuor partes.'

Begins:

Intentioni quatuor evangelistarum nichil...

Ends:

...ut cum christo ascendere possimus: quod nobis prestare &c.

This MS. is mentioned by Tanner, Biblioth. p. 347, note [r].

A table of contents follows, the texts written in red, and the other headings in black interlinear with them.

4. ff. 308, 309. 'Tractatus Ejusdem de penis purgatorii.'

Begins (after the Prologue, In omnibus operibus tuis memorare novissima tua...):

Intelligatis modo karissimi devotissime...

Ends:

...de quo dolore nos defendat qui &c.

See Tanner, ibid. p. 350, col. 1.

Some verses follow, beginning:

Cantemus domino socie cantemus honore
Dulcis amor christi personet ore pio.

5. f. 310. 'Ejusdem Exameron,' imperfect.

Begins:

Omnis scientia et sapientia...

Ends:

...de dictis primordialibus aquis.

See Tanner, ibid. p. 347, note [p].

1965 Kk. II. 2.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 183, in double columns of 44 lines. Date, the XIIIth century.

'ZACHARIÆ EPISCOPI CHRYSOPOLITANI UNUM EX QUATUOR SIVE DE CONCORDIA EVANGELISTARUM, LIBRI QUATUOR.'

Begins (f. 16) (after a table of chapters twice over, which occupies ff. 15):

...evangelistarum et eorum modo scribendi...

Ends (f. 181):

...Hoc non post parvum tempus ascensionis.

'Interpretationes nominum in Evangelio' occupy the last three leaves.

This MS. has been shamefully mutilated for the sake of its initial letters, which have been curious and beautiful. One only still remains, f. 150.

Zacharias Chrysopolitanus, or of Goldsborough, an Englishman, flourished in 1150.

This treatise will be found in the Magn. Bibl. Vet. Pat. Colon. 1618. T. XII. pp. 1—214.

1966 Kk. II. 3.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 280, numbered, in double columns of 40 lines. Date, the XIVth century. The initial letters are highly ornamented.

'AURELII AUGUSTINI YPPONIENSIS EPISCOPI EPISTOLE' 146.

Begins:

Domino illustri &c. Volusiano, Augustinus episcopus. De salute tua quam...

Ends:

...vel faciendum esse reperias.

These are arranged neither according to the 'novus' or 'vetus ordo.' The first is Epistola 132, the last 80, as arranged in the Paris edition 1836, T. II.

1967 Kk. II. 4.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 320, with 25 lines in each page. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. There are catchwords after every 10th leaf. Date, the XIVth century.

QUATUOR EVANGELIA Vulgatæ Editionis cum GLOSSA ORDINARIA marginali et interlineari.

S. Matthew begins f. 3, S. Mark f. 103, S. Luke f. 164, and S. John f. 251. The MS. ends f. 316.

1968 Kk. II. 5.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 268, in double columns of 37 lines. Date, the XIVth century. There are catchwords after every 12th leaf. Some leaves are lost after f. 206.

1. ff. 1—74. 'AURELII AUGUSTINI Libri Confessionum.'

Begins (after the sentence from the Retractt. 'Confessionum mearum liber...'):

Magnus es domine et laudabilis valde...

Ends:

...sic invenietur, sic aperietur. Amen.

Opp. Par. 1836. T. I. coll. 133—410.

2. ff. 75—117. Ejusdem 'de doctrina' Christiana.

Begins (after the sentence from the Retractt. 'Libros de doctrina Christiana'...):

Sunt precepta quedam tractandarum Scripturarum...

Ends:

...quantulacunque potui facultate disserui.

Ibid. T. III. coll. 14—152.

3. ff. 117—153. Ejusdem 'Quæstiones 83.'

Begins:

Omne verum a veritate...

Ends:

...si fideles ambo essent.

Ibid. T. VI. coll. 25—138.

4. ff. 153—162. Ejusdem 'de bono conjugali.'

Begins:

Quoniam unusquisque homo...

Ends:

...propter Christum patres fuerunt.

Ibid. T. VI. coll. 541—570.

5. ff. 162—175. Ejusdem 'de adulterinis conjugiis.'

Begins:

Prima questio est frater dilectissime...

Ends:

...probationis occasio castitatis.

Ibid. T. VI. coll. 659—704.

6. ff. 175—188. Ejusdem 'de Sancta Virginitate.'

Begins:

Librum de bono conjugali...

Ends:

...superexaltate eum in secula.

Ibid. T. VI. coll. 579—618.

7. f. 189. Ejusdem Sermo de beato Joseph.

Quoticus nobis karissimi lectiones. Sermo 13. Append. v. 232.

8. ff. 190, 191. Ejusdem Sermo in 1 Cor. iii. 11.

In lectione apostolica que nobis paulo ante. Sermo 104. Append. v. 2601.

9. ff. 191—205. Ejusdem de Beata Vita.

Begins:

Opitulante Dei misericordia diruptis...

Ends:

...vel magis credere cogeremur.

Ibid. VIII. coll. 141—162 c.

11. 205, 206. Ejusdem 'Enchiridion,' imperfect.

Begins:

Dici non potest dilectissime fili Laurenti...

Ends:

...nec sine amore spes, nec utrumque...

Ibid. VI. col. 341—348 c.

12. ff. 207—268. In a different hand.

'LIBER PROBLEMATUM ARISTOTELIS SECUNDUM SPECIEM COMPILATIONIS.'

Begins (after a list of the subjects of the Problems):

[P]ropter quid magne habundantie...

Ends:

...facile est consumere humidum.

The last is Prob. XXXVII. 3.

On a fly-leaf at the beginning is:

'Iste liber fuit quondam fratris Roberti de Holcote cujus anime propicius esto, Christe.'

The running title 'De Sancte Virginitate' is incorrectly continued through §§ 7, 8, 9, 10.

1969 Kk. II. 6.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 245, with 31 lines in each page. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. Date, the XIIIth century.

MISSALE SECUNDUM USUM SARUM.

The Kalendar mentions June 7 as the 'Dedicacio Ecclesie Wygorn.,' the MS. having belonged to a chapel in Worcester diocese.

After the 6 leaves of the Kalendar, the Missal begins f. 7, as usual: a leaf is lost between ff. 104 and 105, most probably containing the illumination before the Canon Missæ, which begins f. 105, in the usual place. The Canon is followed, f. 108, with proper prayers, &c. to be used on certain feast-days, S. Oswald, S. Chad, S. Wulstan, &c., and in f. 114 begins the SEQUENTIALE, 'Salus eterna indeficiens mundi vita,' the sequence for Advent Sunday, ending f. 134 with 'Verbum bonum et suave.' Then the office 'in die pasche' begins f. 135, the office for the Last Sunday after Trinity ending f. 175 b. The Sanctorale follows, beginning, f. 176, with S. Silvester, and ending f. 244 b with a 'Missa generalis pro vivis et defunctis;' the 'Ordo Sponsalium' follows, in the middle of which the MS. ends (incomplete) f. 245 b, with the words 'qui intueris abyssos equi sedes super cherubim. v. Benedicite.' The Canon Missæ and Sequentiale are in a later hand. The Gradalia and Antiphons have musical notes.

In f. 104 b is the name 'Thomas Corser,' and in f. 133 b 'Thys is the prystys bocke of Hanley Castell in the county of Woster.' See Beauties of England and Wales, Worcestershire, p. 347. It belonged to the Nevilles, Dukes of Warwick.

1970 Kk. II. 7.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 156, with 30 lines in each page. It has illuminated initials and rich borders. Date, the XVth century.

1. ff. 1—96. PSALTERIUM CUM CANTICIS, &c.

f. 1 contains some verses in honour of S. Sitha, beginning:

Ave sancti famula citha Jesu Christi
Que cum tota anima Deo placuisti...

the next 6 leaves contain the Kalendar, then follow the Hymns Primo dierum omnium and Nocte surgentes; and in f. 9 the Obsecro te domina, with an illumination of the Annunciation and a rich border: then 'Iheronimus de laude dei super psalterium,' and the exhortation to read the Psalter, beginning, 'Canticum psalmorum corpus sanctificat,' &c. followed by several prayers; after which the Psalter begins f. 13. The usual hymns, antiphons, and canticles are inserted; but the common order of the Psalms is preserved. The Psalter ends f. 83 b, and after the Te Deum, Benedicite, Benedictus, &c. and Litany, there follows the office for the First Sunday after the octave of Epiphany, &c., with Benedictiones, &c., ending f. 96.

2. ff. 97—156. Horæ beatæ Mariæ Virginis.

The Hours occupy ff. 97—122; then follow the seven penitential Psalms, with the Litany, then the fifteen Psalms, in f. 132 the Vigiliæ Mortuorum f. 142 b, Commendaciones animarum f. 147, the Psalms of the Passion, f. 152 b the Psalterium Sancti Jeronimi, with which the MS. ends, f. 155 b. The last leaf contains a list of books in a xvith century hand, with the names of Francis Marburn and Richard Starke.

1971 Kk. II. 8.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 236, with 18 lines in each page. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. Date, the xivth century.

Evangelia Sanctorum Matthei et Marci Vulgatæ Editionis cum glossa Ordinaria Marginali et Interlineari.

The initial letters of the Prologues and of the Gospels have small vignette illuminations.

S. Matthew occupies ff. 1—147 a, and S. Mark the rest. A later hand has paged the MS. throughout.

1972 Kk. II. 9.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 296 numbered, in double columns of 52 lines. A second and better hand begins at f. 284 b. Date, the xvth century. The MS. has lost a leaf at the end, also ff. 274, 275 are wanting. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf.

A Commentary in English on the Gospel of S. Luke.

Begins:

þe Prologe of Luk. Forsoþe for manye, &c. Luk signifieþ bi þis prologe...

Ends:

...vertu 3ede out of me. bede here."

This Commentary is chiefly compiled from the Fathers, whose names are given after each paragraph extracted. It is apparently by a Wyckliffite. A long account of the struggle between Pope Innocent III. and King John is introduced in f. 209.

On the fly-leaves at the beginning are some notes of a former possessor, giving a few historical events chronologically arranged, some in Anglo-Saxon, a list of translators of the New Testament, expositors of the Bible &c. Another name, Thomas Erle, is written below four Latin verses.

1973 Kk. II. 10.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 316, in double columns. Date, the XVth century.

1. ff. 36—112. 43 lines in a column. Catchwords after every 8th leaf.

'HOMELIÆ SANCTI GREGORII SUPER EZECHIELEM.'

Begins:

Et factum est, etc. Dei omnipotentis aspiracione...

Ends:

...ad hereditatem perpetuam erudit. Sit itaque gloria, &c.

Opp. ed. Migne. Par. 1849. T. II. coll. 785—1072.

The next six leaves contain an alphabetical index, and f. 120 is blank; the homilies are preceded by the texts, and Epistola Gregorii, occupying ff. 1—3*b*.

2. In a different hand, with 41 lines in a column. Catchwords after every 12th leaf.

'EJUSDEM REGISTRUM' EPISTOLARUM.

ff. 121—130 contain a table of contents, and two blank leaves follow.

Begins (f. 133) after the 'Simbolum fidei dictatum a beato Gregorio papa:'

Valde necessarium esse perspeximus...

Ends:

...servare concedat. Amen. Data Kalendas Novembris Indict. XII.

Ibid. T. III. coll. 441—1328.

3. f. 316. Written as if a portion of the last section.

The abjuration of his heresy by Berengarius. A.D. 1079.

Begins:

Anno ab incarnacione, etc. Omnibus igitur in ecclesia...

Ends:

...qui per ejus doctrinam ab ea recesserant.

This will be found in Migne's edition of S. Gregory VII.'s Works, coll. 809—812 from Mansi Concil. xx. 523.

1974 Kk. II. 11.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 209, with additional fly-leaves at both ends, in double columns of 51 lines. Written in three hands of the xvth century. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf. A leaf is lost between ff. 90 and 91.

1. ff. 1—45. 'Opus Thome de Alquino de opere manuali et de aliis per que religio impugnatur.'

Begins:

Ecce inimici te sonuerunt, &c. Omnipotens Deus amator hominum...

Ends:

...hec dicta sufficiunt Domino adjuvante, cui sit, &c.

This is the treatise usually called 'Contra impugnantes religionem.' Opusc. 19, of T. xvii. of the Roman edition of S. Thomas Aquinas's works.

2. ff. 45—61. 'Ejusdem de perfectione spiritualis vite.'

Begins:

Quoniam quidam perfectionis ignari...

Ends:

...homo exacuit faciem amici sui. Amen. Amen.

Ibid. Opusc. 18.

A table of the chapters in the two treatises follows.

3. ff. 63—189. 'Liber de Regimine Principum editus a fratre Egidio Romano.'

Begins:

Ex regia ac sanctissima prosapia...

Ends:

...promisit suis fidelibus qui est benedictus in secula seculorum.

Printed, Rom. 1482, &c.

4. ff. 190—209. 'Summa compilata a fratre Johanne Walense' [de republica is added in a table of contents at each end].

Begins:

Distinctio ergo prima prime partis....

Ends:

...structure lapidis.

This is Johannes Guallensis, of whom see Tanner, Biblioth. p. 434, who mentions this MS., as quoted by Pits.

1975 Kk. II. 12.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 239, in double columns of 41 lines. Date, the beginning of the XIVth century.

'PETRI COMESTORIS SCOLASTICA HISTORIA TOTIUS VETERIS ET NOVI TESTAMENTI.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Amice accomoda mihi..., and the list of chapters in Genesis):

Reverentissimo patri et domino suo Willelmo. Imperatorie majestatis est...

Ends:

...honorabiliter scilicet in cathacumbis.

The epitaph 'Petrus eram, &c.' follows.

First printed Ruttingæ 1473.

The initial I. to Genesis is illuminated, and contains several curious figures.

1976 Kk. II. 13.

A moderate-sized folio, on vellum, of 167 leaves, in double columns of 48 lines each, neatly written in a hand of the XVth century. The initial letters are much ornamented.

1. A Glossary of Legal and other Words.

Begins (fol. 1):

Calumpniari est falsa crimina scienter intendere...

Ends (fol. 3):

...bene proferre quod elegeris.

2. Certain Epistles of Isidore of Seville.

The collection begins (fol. 3 b):

Domino meo et Dei seruo Braulioni Episcopo Ysidorus. Omni desiderio...

Ends (fol. 5):

...remittantur facinora. Item manu mea. Ora pro me, beatissime Domine frater.

These epistles (IX—XIII) occur in Isidore's Works, Tom. VI. pp. 574—581, ed. Arev.

3. 'Libri Ethimologiarum XX cum tabula compositi a S. Ysidoro Hyspalensi Episcopo.'

A note in a different hand (fol. 3 b) supplies the above title.

Begins (fol. 5 b):

Domino meo et filio Braulioni Episcopo Ysidorus. En tibi. (Præfat. Tom. III. p. 1, ed. Arev.)

Ends (fol. 143):

...ut uis morbi ignis ardore siccetur. (Lib. xx. c. ult. Tom. IV. p. 519, id.)

4. A Grammatical Treatise on the Inflections of Nouns and Verbs.

Begins (fol. 143 b):

Credo nonnullos hoc mecum miraturos opusculum, quod in tanta doctissimorum copia qui uarie diligenterque emendati sermonis precepta tradiderunt, ego potissimum ausus sum.

Ends (fol. 147 b):

...ut uigilanda uiris, et hiis similia sunt.

A few elegiacs are prefixed, of which the first couplet is this:

Ars mea, multorum es, quos secula prisca tulerunt:
Sed noua te breuitas asserit esse meam.

5. Isidori Hispalensis de Natura Rerum ad Sisebutum Regem liber.

Begins (fol. 148):

Domino et filio Sisebuto Ysidorus salutem. Dum te prestantem ingenio. (Præfat. Tom. VII. p. 1, ed. Arev.)

Ends (fol. 158):

...geometrici clxxx milium stadiorum estimauerunt. (Id. c. ult. in fin. p. 62, id.)

After this follows a brief description of Asia, Asia Minor, Africa, occupying about a page, and separated after the third line from the body of the work by the space of a few lines. It begins:

Cuius terre expositionem.

And ends:

...circa occasum in Mauritania.

After this follows the index and the Breviarium of the books on Etymologies.

At the top of fol. 1 is written, Rogeri de Botone (?) monachi.

1977 Kk. II. 14.

1979 Kk. II. 16.

A folio, on paper, 270 leaves (of which the first five and the last but one are displaced), double columns of about 60 lines each, handwriting of the XVIth century: much worn in several places, and two leaves wanting at the commencement.

'THE BUIK OF THE CRONICLIS OF SCOTLAND:' so reads the colophon: a metrical history in XVII books.

The second book begins (fol. 8 b. col. 2):

Efter ye tyme y^{t} King Fergus was deid,
Tua ȝoung childer he left into his steid...

This Chronicle, which is a translation of Hector Boece's History, begins with the pre-historic period of the Scottish nation, and ends in the reign of James II. who died 1460. The last chapter relates to an embassy sent 'out of France to King James for mariage of Margaret the Kingis dochter.'

The Prologue, of which only a small part remains, is addressed, 'Madame' (perhaps Margaret, eldest sister of Henry VIII.).

The work, the author informs us, was commenced on the 18th April, 1531, and ended 29th September, 1535.

This has been edited by Mr Turnbull among the Rerum Britannicarum Medii Ævi Scriptores. London. 1858.

1980 Kk. II. 17.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

1981 Kk. II. 18.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 243, in double columns, with 28 lines in each column. Date, the XVth century.

EPISTOLÆ SANCTI PAULI VULGATÆ EDITIONIS CUM GLOSSA ORDINARIA.

The MS. begins with the Prologue attributed to S. Ambrose; the Epistle to the Romans begins f. 3, and the other Epistles follow in the usual order, that to the Hebrews ending f. 239. Each Epistle has an illuminated initial; those to the Philippians and Hebrews (ff. 159, 208) have been cut out. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. The authors' names whence the glosses are taken, are usually written in red in the margin. There are also scholia in minute writing; f. 239 b contains an extract from S. Augustine, 'De vita Christiana,' and the last 3 leaves contain some notes in a very obscure hand.

1982 Kk. II. 19.

A large folio, on parchment, containing ff. 388, in double columns of 62 lines. Date, the xvth century. The initial letters of § 2 are curious.

1. ff. 4—101. 'Expositio Psalmorum sancti Hieronymi.'

Begins:

9. f. 365. 'Ejusdem de Caritate Liber.'

Begins:

Meminit sanctitas vestra...

Ends:

...quem tu credas Christo predicanti.

This is the 'Decem tractatus in Epistolam Joannis ad Parthos.'

Opp. ed. Par. 1836. T. III. coll. 2479—2592.

An alphabetical table follows.

ff. 1—3 contain a fragment of some Legal Commentary, in a different hand from the rest of the MS.

1983 Kk. II. 20.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 275, numbered (the two treatises separately), in double columns of 53 lines.

1. 'Haymo super Epistolas Pauli.'

Begins:

Ab Achaia regione Grecorum scripsit...

Ends:

...unius spiritus est et sic est finis.
Explicit hic Haimo sit laus et gloria Christo
Exponens scripta sancti Pauli benedicta.

Haymo was Bishop of Halberstadt in the IXth century. This Commentary was printed Colon. 1539, and elsewhere.

Prefixed is a 'Tabula' written by Thomas de Hyndringham, a monk of Norwich, a former possessor of the book.

2. Pseudo 'Chrysostomi Opus Imperfectum in S. Matthеum.'

Begins:

Referunt quidam Mattheum conscribere...

Ends:

33. ff. 285 a—289 a. 'Ejusdem Expositio super Tota pulchra es.'

Begins (after the prologue 'Accipe frater karissime...'):

Verba ipsa nota sunt et magna dulcedine...

Ends:

...veni de libano veni coronaberis.

This is the Sermo De Assumptione beatæ Mariæ. Ibid. III. coll. 1210—1222.

34. f. 289. De tribus modis in quibus res subsistunt.

Begins:

Tribus modis res subsistere habent...

Ends:

...quorum pars finem accipit.

35. ff. 289 b—308 b. 'Ejusdem Didascalion.'

Begins:

Omnium expetendorum prima est sapientia...

Ends:

...ad puram et sine animalibus cenam.

Ibid. II. col. 741—809. It contains the first 6 books, omitting Lib. I. cap. 1, and Lib. VI. cap. 14 and 15.

36. ff. 308 b—309 b. 'Ejusdem Expositio super Prologum Jeromini in Pentateuchum.'

Begins:

Desiderius proprium nomen est...

Ends:

...quam latina, et ebrea quam greca.

Ibid. I. 29—32.

37. ff. 309 b—326 a. 'Note ad litteram de Genesi, Exodo, Levitico, Judicibus.'

Begins:

In principio, etc. Tria superiora elementa...

Ends:

...tolle calciamentum.

The notes to Exodus begin f. 316 b, on Leviticus f. 320 b, and on Judges f. 323 a.

Ibid. I. 35—84, and 87—96.

38. ff. 326 a—329 b. 'APULEIUS DE DEO SOCRATIS.'

Begins:

Qui me voluistis dicere ex tempore...

Ends:

...sirenas audit nec accessit.

1986—2003

Kk. III. 1—17.

Seventeen quartos, on paper, written in various hands in the XVIIIth century.

The PRELECTIONS of JOSEPH BEAUMONT, Regius Professor of Divinity in the University of Cambridge, on S. Paul's Epistle to the ROMANS, and on chap. ii. vv. 5—11, of that to the PHILIPPIANS.

Joseph Beaumont was Master of Jesus College in 1662, of Peter-House in 1672, and Regius Professor of Divinity in 1674. He died in 1699. Some account of these Lectures will be found in p. xlii. of the account of his life prefixed to the Collection of his Poems, Cambridge, 1749. One volume appears to be missing, as Vol. XVI. ends abruptly, and the Prelections to the Colossians, of which mention is made in the life, are not among them. Some specimens of these are given in the Appendix to the Poems, pp. 122—139. The transcripts have been very carefully executed.

2004 Kk. III. 18.

A folio, on parchment, 193 pages of 30 lines each, well preserved, neatly written in a hand of the former half of the XIth century. Presented to the University by Archbp. Parker, 1574.

BEDE'S CHURCH-HISTORY, epitomized and translated into Anglo-Saxon by Ælfred the Great.

Title added in a modern hand:

Historicus quondam fecit me Beda Latinum
Ælured rex Saxo transtulit ille pius.

Begins (fol. 1):

Ic Beda, Cristes ðeow and mæsse-preost, sende gretan þone leofastan cyning and halettan Ceolwulf...

Edited by Wheloc, chiefly from this MS., in 1644. In several places Latin words, explanatory of the text, are interlined.

2005 Kk. III. 19.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 236. Date, the XIVth century.

1. ff. 1—197. In double columns of 57 lines.

'SANCTI AUGUSTINI LIBER DE CIVITATE DEI.'

Begins:

Gloriosissimam civitatem Dei...

Ends:

...gracias congratulantes agant. Amen.

Opp. ed. Par. 1838. T. VII.

2. ff. 199—228. In a different hand, in double columns of 60 lines. 'JOHANNIS DAMASCENI vocati makur [i. e. μακάριος] editio diligens DE ORTHODOXA FIDE.'

Begins (after the list of chapters):

Deum nemo vidit unquam...

Ends:

...ab ipso letitiam fructificantes.

The colophon is 'Explicit liber logices heresium et sententiarum Damasceni.'

Opp. Basil. 1575, pp. 1—326.

3. ff. 228, 229. 'Ejusdem Introductio dogmatum elementarium ad Johannem sanctissimum episcopum Laodicie.'

Begins (after an invocation of the Trinity):

Substantia et natura et forma...

Ends:

...possumus et opposita ipsis.

This is the 'De Decretis et placitis primæ institutiones.' Ibid. pp. 459—467.

4. ff. 229—233. 'Ejusdem de duabus voluntatibus in Christo.'

Begins:

Qui duas naturas et unam ypostasim...

Ends:

...set irrationalem Dominus assumpsit.

Ibid. pp. 467—488.

5. ff. 234—236. Ejusdem 'de hoc secundum quod facti sumus secundum ymaginem Dei.'

Begins:

Secundum rationale et intellectuale...

Ends:

.. sequens vestigia semper cum, &c.

Ibid. pp. 489—499. The last paragraph is in a third and later hand. This translation differs from that given in the Basil edition of the works of John Damascenus.

2006 Kk. III. 20.

A moderate-sized folio, on vellum, of 226 leaves, in double columns, each column containing from 40 to 60 lines, written in a hand of the XVth century, abounding with contractions.

1. 'DICTA GUIDONIS.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Reuerendis parentibus a. et b., c. eorum deuotus filius, salutem cum reuerentia filiali. Cum uictualia...

Ends (fol. 24 b):

.. aura prospera perduxit tranquilla.

The work consists of formulæ for epistles of various kinds. The author is probably the same as 'Magister Guido Fabe, scriptor Dictaminum, vel summæ Dictaminum,' mentioned by Fabricius, Bibl. med. et inf. Lat. (Tom. III. p. 385), without further notice.

2. 'KILWARBY IN MAGNO.'

Begins (fol. 25):

Sicut scribitur in primo Posteriorum...

Ends (fol. penult. b):

...sed hoc in omnibus tribus personis; hoc ergo modo de significatione et constructione interiectionum probabiliter dici potest et cætera. Explicit iste liber.

This is a commentary (unpublished, as it appears) on the Priscianus Major, here called Magnus, (which comprises Books I—XVI. of Priscian,) as Nasmith truly observes by way of correcting Tanner (Bibl. Brit. p. 456) and others. The commentary ends with disquisitions about the interjections (Prisc. Lib. XV. in fine). Portions of Priscian's text occur up and down in a larger hand. See fol. 35 b, which contains the beginning of Priscian's dedication.

After this follows in a different hand a grammatical fragment of about three pages, beginning Vocalis tertio infert, which seems to be an omitted portion of the preceding work: and this again is succeeded by a few lines beginning, Nota quod quatuor sunt differentie vocis, taken from Priscian, Lib. I. c. 1.

2007 Kk. III. 21.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 104, with 22 lines in a page. Date, the XIth century.

'BOETHII PHILOSOPHIÆ CONSOLATIO' cum GLOSSA marginali et interlineari.

Begins:

CARMINA QUI QUONDAM, &c. Ordinarius dicebatur qui indignitate...

Ends:

...judicis cuncta cernentis.

The initial letters are usually alternately red and black. Those at the beginning of each book are illuminated.

At the end is an acrostick composed in seven concentric circles, between which some verses in honour of the Blessed Virgin are written; and arranged in the form of a Cross, dividing these verses in four, is 'Assumpta est Maria ad cœlestia, Alleluia.' Above are some lines addressed 'Sipearde pater.' The last leaf contains a List of Winds in Latin and Anglo-Saxon, and some other words in Anglo-Saxon.

2008 Kk. III. 22.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 160, numbered, in double columns of 51 lines. There are catchwords after every 12th leaf. Date, the XVth century. The MS. has lost a leaf at the end.

'SERMONES DOMINICALES FRATRIS JACOBI ARCHIEPISCOPI JANUENSIS.'

Begins (after an alphabetical index):
Humane vite labilis decursus...
Ends:
...finis nostrorum laborum sicut...
Printed Venet. 1544, &c.

2009 Kk. III. 23.

A moderate sized folio, on vellum, containing 96 leaves, in double columns of 39 lines each, beautifully written in a hand of the XIIIth century. Various parts of the MS. are finely illuminated, coloured, and rubricated.

'VALERII MAXIMI MEMORABILIUM FACTORUM ATQUE DICTORUM.' LIBRI IX.

Begins (fol. 1 b):
Urbis Rome exterarumque gentium... (Præfat.)
Ends (fol. ult. b):
...impendi supplicio coegit. (Lib. IX. c. ult.)
Prefixed are the Capitula. It is incorrectly stated in Valpy's edition that this MS. contains only four books.

2010 Kk. III. 24.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 157, with 44 lines in a page. Date, the XIIth century. A later hand has paged the MS.

1. pp. 1—13. 'APOLOGETICUS beati JHERONIMI ad Pamachium' pro libris contra Jovinianum.
Begins:
Quod at te hucusque non scripsi...
Ends:
...cubitare non possunt, uxores ducere.
This consists of Epistolæ 48—50. Opp. ed. Migne, I. coll. 493—516.

2. pp. 13—81. 'Ejusdem Libri duo adversus Jovinianum.'
Begins:
Pauci admodum dies sunt...
Ends:
...epycuri luxuriam susceperunt.
Ibid. II. 211—338.

3. pp. 81—92. 'Ejusdem ad Damasum Papam de filio prodigo.'

Begins:

Beatitudinis tuæ interrogatio disputatio fuit...

Ends:

...panibus sit vita sustentanda non siliquiis.

This is Epistola 21. Ibid. I. coll. 379—394.

4. pp. 92—99. 'Ejusdem exortatoria ad Susannam lapsam.'

Begins:

Quid taces, anima...

Ends:

...in eternum te confitear domine Deus meus.

This is the 'Liber de lapsu Virginis Consecrate,' usually ascribed to S. Ambrose, v. Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1845, T. II. coll. 367—384.

5. pp. 100—104. 'Ejusdem exortatoria ad matrem et filiam inter se dissidentes.'

Begins:

Retulit michi frater a Gallia...

Ends:

...ignoscat vel tempori.

This is Epistola 117. Opp. I. coll. 953—960.

6. pp. 104—106. 'Ejusdem ad Thirasium de transitu filiæ.'

Begins:

Benedicto et...Caritatis tue scripta...

Ends:

...adducet Deus cum illo.

This is Epistola 40 of the 'Mantissa Operum S. Hieronymi.' Ibid. T. XI. coll. 278—282.

7. pp. 107—109. 'Ex decretis Gelasii pape de libris autenticis et apocrifis.'

Begins:

Sancta Romana ecclesia post illas...

Ends:

...confitemur esse damnata.

This is a list of the Fathers, and of the spurious Gospels, &c.

8. pp. 109—132. S. Augustini Liber Retractationum.

This is abridged, and preceded by an extract from the 'De Trinitate.' At the end is a short extract from 'Gregorius in Registro.'

9. pp. 132 –156. 'Petri Abaelardi Liber Sic et Non.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Cum in tanta verborum multitudine...):

Gregorius in Omelia xx. Sciendum nobis est quod...

Ends:

...divine cognitionis intentione defluxerit.

The title to this is, 'Sententiæ ex divinis scripturis collectæ, quæ contrariæ videntur, pro qua quidem contrarietate hæc compilatio sententiarum sic et non appellatur.'

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, coll. 1339—1610.

2011 Kk. III. 25.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 163 (paged by a later hand), in double columns of 40 lines. Date, the xvth century. f. 1 has an illuminated border, but the initial letter has been cut away. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf.

1. pp. 1—200. 'Liber Omeliarum [in Evangelia] beati Gregorii Pape.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Reverentissimo...Secundino..., and the list of Homilies):

In illo tempore, &c. Dominus ac salvator noster...

Ends:

...in vestris mentibus loquatur. Qui vivit, &c.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1849, T. II. coll. 1075—1312.

2. pp. 201—304. 'Ejusdem Liber Pastoralium.'

Begins (after the list of chapters), the initial letter being illuminated, and containing a portrait of S. Gregory):

Pastoralis cure pondera...

Ends:

...tui meriti manus levet.

Ibid. III. col. 13—128.

3. pp. 304—306. Ejusdem Bulla de immunitate Monasteriorum.

Begins:

Quam sit necessarium monasteriorum...

4. pp. 306—311. 'Passio Sancti Thome Martiris.'

Begins:

Digne fratres hujus diei preclara festivitas...

Ends:

...ad regnum cum eo lucis et glorie in qua regnat, &c.

5. pp. 311—323. The initial letter, which was illuminated, has been cut away.

'Visitatio infirmorum Sancti Augustini.'

Begins:

[Visit]ationis gracia nepo[ti] meo...

Ends:

...justificatus ab ipso qui vivit, &c.

Opp. S. Augustini, Par. 1837, vi. Append. coll. 1671—1688.

Two paragraphs follow, one against 'Mollities,' the other on the ornaments of the Altar, with explanations of some portions of the Eucharistick Service.

On a fly-leaf at the end is a document dated May 3, 1482, respecting the marriage of Robert Brame and Katharine Plattyng, of the parish of Redenhale (in Norfolk).

A fly-leaf at the beginning contains a fragment of a treatise on the Procession of the Holy Spirit, perhaps that of Anselm of Havelberg. On this leaf is also,

'Liber domini Thome de Elsyngge monachi Norwyci.'

2012 Kk. III. 26.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 165, in double columns of 45 lines. The columns are numbered by the original scribe. Date, the XIVth century.

1. coll. 1—351. 'Flores beati Bernardi.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Cum essem alicui exercitio, magno opere..., and the list of chapters):

Quis est Deus qui est...

Ends:

...denique corpori claritatis.

A marginal note at the end refers to col. 477 below for 'Verba dulciflua de gloriosa virgine que hic deficiunt.'

A later hand has prefixed to col. 1 the usual verses, 'Par est in verbis...'

Printed Lugd. 1579. See Ii. 1. 32, § 1.

2. coll. 351—383. 'Liber florum collectus et continuatus de diversis libris summi et incomparabilis doctoris Augustini.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Prologus in verbis exhaustis fonte beato...):

Da mihi domine scire et intelligere...

Ends:

...sic aperietur. Te prestante qui, &c.

This collection of 'flores' of S. Augustine is attributed to Bede in many MSS. See Coxe, Cat. MSS. Coll. Oxon. Oriel, No. 76.

3. coll. 384—429. 'Summa Theologie magistralis.'

Begins:

Fides est substantia... Substantia in subsistentia vel existentia...

Ends:

...duo ultima carnalia.

4. coll. 429—472. Ricardi de S. Victore de gratia contemplationis.

Begins:

Misticam illam Moysi Archam...

Ends:

...otiosi otiosus locuti sumus. Explicit tractatus magistri, [the name and the rest of the column being cut away].

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855, coll. 63—192. The treatise is considerably abridged.

The next tract, which consisted of about one column and a half, has been cut out. A list of contents on a fly-leaf at the beginning shews that it was 'Augustinus de penis purgatorii."

5. coll. 477—490. 'Exceptiones' florum Bernardi de beata Virgine Maria.'

Begins:

Non est quod me magis delectat...

Ends:

...emulatores perfidi.

These are the 'verba dulciflua' referred to in § 1. The rubrick at the beginning is cut away. They contain also the spurious Epistles 'Ignatii beatæ Mariæ,' and 'Beata Virgo Ignacio,' and the 'Conquestus beatæ Mariæ de cruce,' and 'Responsio crucis.' See Fabricius, Codex Apocryph. N. T. p. 841 sqq.

6. coll. 491—536. S. Benedicti 'Regula Monachorum.'

Begins (after the Prologue, Ausculta o fili precepta...):

Monachorum quatuor esse genera...

Ends:

...regna patebunt superna.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1847, coll. 215 sqq.

7. coll. 537—599. 'Tractatus de Professione Monachorum.'

Begins (after the list of chapters):

Cum displiceat Deo stulta et infidelis...

Fnds:

...qui autem requirunt Dominum animadvertunt omnia.

8. coll. 599—602. In a different hand. Bulla Alexandri [IV.] De Priveligiis monasterii S. Benedicti Norwyci.

Begins:

Alexander episcopus servus, &c. Solet annuere sedes apostolica...

Ends:

...datum Anagnie pridie nonas augusti pontificatus nostri anno secundo [1256].

The fly-leaves at the beginning contain the chapters of the Regula Monachorum, and an alphabetical index to the Flores Bernardi.

2013 Kk. III. 27.

A quarto, on paper, containing ff. 191, with 37 lines in a page. There are catchwords after every 12th leaf, and signatures from a to q, these being occasionally cut off in the binding. Date, the xvth century.

'Notyngham super textum omnium evangeliorum totius anni que leguntur in ecclesie Sarum in dominicis diebus.'

Begins:

Cum appropinquaret ihesus. In hoc evangelio in litera...

Ends:

...require in quarta dominica quadragesime.

The original scribe had given 'Gorham' as the author's name, which a later hand has corrected to 'Notyngham.'

See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 362 e, who mentions this MS. An Index to the Sermons will be found in Ff. iv. 38, § 5.

2014 Kk. III. 28.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 100, with 33 lines in a page. Date, the xiith century. The initial letter in f. 2 is coloured. The last leaf has been patched with fragments of another MS.

'Commentarium in Evangelium Sancti Johannis.'

Begins (after some prefatory remarks, In principio, &c. Verbum substantiale...):

In principio erat verbum. Filius verbum vocatur...

Ends:

...videantur excedere fidem: per hiperbolem.

The preface, 'Omnibus diviuæ scripturæ paginis...,' which is given in f. 1, will be found prefixed to S. Augustine's Tractatus in S. Johannem, as the work 'Incerti Auctoris.'

Several names are scribbled on the last leaf.

2015 Kk. III. 29.

A small folio, of parchment, of 218 pages, numbered by a hand of the XVIth century. The MS. is of the XVth century, and contains 43 lines in a page, in double columns.

'Bonum Universale de Proprietatibus Apum.'

By Thomas Cantipratensis.

The Book has been printed four times, but only the last two editions give the author's name. The author himself withheld it, beginning his Epistle dedicatory thus:

Reverendo in Christo patri, Fratri Humberto Magistro ordinis predicatorum: Frater humilis quem ad presens non urget necessitas nominari.

After the Capitula, prefatiuncula. &c. the Textus begins:

Rex inquid apum mellei coloris est...

Ends (on p. 193):

...illos tamquam me participes faciat Jesus Christus Dominus Noster, Cui cum Patre, &c. Amen.

Two paper fly-leaves at the beginning are prepared for a Table of Contents.

2016 Kk. IV. 1.

A large folio, on vellum, of 136 leaves, excluding blanks at both ends, in double columns, each column containing 66 lines, neatly written in a hand of the XIVth century. The initial letters are variously coloured and flourished. Later hands occur in various parts of the volume.

'Elementarium Papie secundum ordinem alphabetice orthographie.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Fili uterque karissime, debui si potuissem...

Ends (fol. ult.):

...cum Patre et Spiritu Sancto per infinita secula. Amen.

The colophon supplies the above title.

For an account of this Dictionary and of the various editions of it see Biogr. Univ. Suppl. s. v. Papias.

2017 Kk. IV. 2.

A large folio, on vellum, consisting of 211 leaves, each page containing 38 lines, most beautifully written in an Italian hand of the XVth century. The illuminations have been cut away; the larger capitals are simply coloured.

A LATIN VERSION OF THUCYDIDES BY LAURENTIUS VALLA.

Begins (fol. 2):

Thucydides Atheniensis bellum Peloponnensium Atheniensiumque, quod inter se gesserunt, conscripsit... (Lib. I. c. 1.)

Ends (fol. ult.):

...dum hyems æstatem hanc insecuta finiet, primus quoque ac vicesimus annus finiet. (Lib. VIII. c. ult.)

The colophon is as follows:

Octavus et idem ultimus Thucydidis liber finit. MCCCLII° Domini, Nicolai Pape Quinti anno sexto. Deo gratias. Amen.

Prefixed is a dedication to Pope Nicolas V. beginning, Quod Eneas apud Virgilium, Nicolae Quinte, &c. The name of Valla does not occur in the MS.; the date is the year in which the version was made: it may or may not be the date of the present MS. It has been several times printed in its original form, and in an amended one by H. Stephens in his edition of Thucydides.

2018 Kk. IV. 3.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 386, with 26 lines in each page. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. Each book has an illuminated initial. There are catchwords after every 12th leaf. Date, the XIVth century.

Libri JOSUÆ, JUDICUM, RUTH, REGUM, PARALIPOMENON, ESDRÆ ĕt NEHEMIÆ cum GLOSSA ORDINARIA.

Begins (fol. 3):

Gaudemus finito pentateuco Moysi velut grandi fenore liberati...

Ends (fol. 386):

...Explicit Esdras.

On fol. 2 is written:

Liber communitatis monacorum ecclesie sancte Trinitatis Norwyci ex dono domini W. de Ormesby rectoris sancte Marie de Marisco.

2019 Kk. IV. 4.

A tall thin quarto, on paper, (excepting f. 64, and the fly-leaves, which are on parchment,) containing ff. 76, in double columns of 53 lines. Date, the XVth century. Several leaves have been lost between ff. 1 and 2, and 32 and 33, one between ff. 46 and 47, and several between ff. 55 and 56.

1. ff. 1—20. 'LINCOLNIENSIS [GROSTESTE] DE CESSATIONE LEGALIUM.'

Begins:

Fuerunt plurimi in primitiva ecclesia...

Ends:

...ad langoris et infirmitatis medicinam. Amen.

Printed, London, 1652. This MS. is mentioned by Tanner, Biblioth. p. 347n[t].

2. ff. 21—32. 'S. HIERONYMUS IN ECCLESIASTEN,' imperfect at the end.

Begins:

Memini ante hoc ferme quinquennium...

Ends:

Quomodo enim quidquid manu...

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1845, T. III. coll. 1009—1115 A.

Fol. 33 contains the end of a Treatise on the different kinds of Fallaciæ.

3. ff. 34—41. 'SPECULUM ECCLESIE JUXTA MAGISTRUM HUGONEM DE S. VICTORE.'

Begins (after the prologue, 'De Sacramentis Ecclesiasticis...' and the list of chapters):

Ecclesia igitur inquam populus convenit...

Ends:

...invenit amans quam disputans.

Opp. ed. Migne, III. coll. 335—380.

4. ff. 42—43 a. 'Tractatus ROBERTI ALYNGTONE' DE IMAGINIBUS.

Begins:

Utrum ymagines et picture sint a fidelibus licite adorande...

Ends:

...confortatus sicut prius dicitur, etc.

Robertus Alyngtonus was Chancellor of Oxford in 1394. See Tanner, Biblioth.

A paragraph follows fol. 43 b, 'Quod Maria peperit stante integritate carnis sue.'

5. ff. 44—48. 'Dionisius Ariopagita de Mistica Theologia cum Commento Domini Lincolniensis.'

Begins:

Trinitas supersubstantialis...Mistica Theologia est secretissima...

Ends:

...a perfectis benivole supleri.

Printed in the edition of Dionysius Argent. 1502. ff. cclxiv—cclxxi.

6. ff. 49—54 a. 'Speculum Edwardi Regis tertii per Simonem Yslep Archiepiscopum Cant.'

Begins:

O Domine mi rex, ex quo respublica...

Ends:

...beneplacitum creatoris que nobis concedat qui, &c.

This, which is still unpublished, is an expostulation with the king respecting the oppressions of the tax-gatherers.

7. ff. 54 a—55 a. 'Nota de indulgentiis et remissionibus.'

Begins:

Quia circa sacerdotalem ordinem...

Ends:

The tract begins:

Hunc Librum intellexerunt Romani quoniam quidam eorum rex...

Ends:

...et piscium vilitas et mors animalium. Explicit hoc opus.

On the next leaf is a fuller glossary.

7. ff. 118—125. Centilogium Ptolemei; cum commento Haly.

These were published together by E. Ratdolt. Ven. 1484.

There is a fragment on Canon Law, on two leaves in double columns, in a hand of the xivth century, bound in at the beginning of this volume.

This is followed by an incomplete Table of the Contents.

2023 Kk. iv. 8.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 340, in double columns, with 58 lines in each column. Each book has an illuminated initial. Date, the xvth century.

Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi.

The MS. is imperfect at the commencement, beginning, f. 1, with Gen. v. 20:

Mortuus est. Porro Enoch vixit...

St Matthew begins f. 247, and the Apocalypse ends f. 306 b, followed after two blank leaves by the Index of Hebrew names, which occupies ff. 309—340.

The books occur in the usual order, except that the Acts is after the Epistle to the Hebrews.

2024 Kk. iv. 9.

A folio on vellum, containing ff. 292, in double columns, with 50 lines in each column. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. Date, the xivth century.

PSALTERIUM VULGATÆ EDITIONIS CUM GLOSSA.

The MS. begins, f. 1, with a Prologue, beginning:

Cum omnes prophetas spiritus sancti revelatione constet esse locutos...

The gloss is written after each verse, regularly down the column. The last leaf is wanting, the MS. ending with Ps. cxlix. 2, 'filii syon exultent in rege suo.'

2025 Kk. iv. 10.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 242, with 24 lines of text in each page. Date, the xivth century.

LIBRI GENESIS ET EXODI VULGATÆ EDITIONIS CUM GLOSSA ORDINARIA.

The MS. begins, f. 1, with the Prologue, beginning:

Cum omnes divinos libros legimus...

And ends, f. 242 b:

...explicit Liber Exodi.

To the book of Exodus are many additional glosses in a later hand.

2026 Kk. iv. 11.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 245, in double columns of 58 lines. The initial letters are illuminated, and have curious borders, with figures, &c., but have been cut out in many instances. There are catchwords after every 12th leaf. Date, the xvth century. Several leaves have been lost between ff. 234 and 235.

Begins:

Quam minime sim quietus...

Ends:

...ad iter celeste direxerit.

This MS., though it has been collated as affording a fresh text, in the edition published at Cambridge in 1685, is a mere transcript of the editio princeps, even the colophon, with its date, being copied exactly. Compare Dibdin's Bibliotheca Spenceriana, T. I. p. 204. There are blanks for all the Greek words and quotations. Fabricius perceived that the various readings of this MS. given in the 1685 edition were identical with those of the Subiaco edition. See Biblioth. Med. et Infim. Latin. T. IV. p. 231, '1685. Cantabrigiæ, cum variis lectionibus Sublacensis editionis, quam pro MSto editor venditat.' On the other hand Dufresnoy, in the preface to his edition, denies that the readings are the same as those of the editio princeps. It is plain that he has not compared them, as the MS. actually coincides with the ed. pr. in its minutest details, excepting that the Errores Lactantii follow the list of chapters instead of being placed at the end of the book. The following note is written in rubrick on f. 1: 'Loquitur lector ad Vindelinum Spirensem, artificem qui epistolas Beati Cypriani reddit in lucem. 1471.'

The beginning is a specimen of a somewhat curious error. The scribe had left out the first line, 'Magno et excellenti ingenio viri quam se doctrine pe-' and had begun with the second '-nitus dedidissent, &c.' as above. The illuminator, not knowing this, filled up the initial blank with the letter U, and thus the first word in the MS. is Unitus!

2034 Kk. IV. 19.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 58, in double columns of 57 lines. Written in a small current hand of the XVth century.

'SUMMA [GULIELMI ALVERNI] PARISIENSIS DE FIDE ET LEGIBUS.'

Begins:

In ordine sapientialium divinaliumque scientiarum...

Ends:

...nostris hoc defectibus imputantes.

Opp. ed. Rothomagi, 1674. T. I. pp. 1—102.

2035 Kk. IV. 20.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 78, in double columns of from 42 to 60 lines. Written in various hands of the XIVth century.

1. ff. 1—25. 'PENITENTIA REMUNDI' DE PENNAFORTE.

Begins:

Post abissum et laqueos babilonis...

Ends:

...venite benedicti percipite regnum.

See Kk. I. 9, § 1. This is not the 'Summa Remundi' published Lovan. 1480, &c.

Various paragraphs follow, extracted from different authors, S. Anselm, S. Augustine, Albimasar, &c. 'De hiis qui nimis de facili excommunicant,' 'De incommoditate senectutis,' &c. The last is S. Anselm's 'Admonitio Morienti' in a different hand.

2. ff. 26—42. 'LIBER PENITENTIARUM JOHANNIS DE DEO HYSPANO.'

Begins (after the Prologue 'Venerabili patri ac Domino A....' and the list of chapters):

Sic tene quod subtiliter et astute...

Ends:

...caritatis acquiritur regnum Dei.

The colophon gives 1247 as the date of the author, who was a Canon of Bologna. This MS. is mentioned by Cave.

3. ff. 43—47 a. 'PENITENTIA VENERABILIS DOMINI ROBERTI LINCOLNIENSIS EPISCOPI.'

Begins:

Ne tardes converti, etc. Peniteas cito peccator cum sit miserator...

Ends:

...nisi restituetur ablatum.

Prefixed is a list of 42 Sins, derived from Superbia.

A Lambeth MS. styles this 'Canones Pœnitentiales.' See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 348, n. [n], who mentions this MS.

4. ff. 47 b—56 a. 'Ejusdem Templum Domini.'

Begins:

Templum Domini sacrum...Sermo iste quamvis omnes tangat...

Ends:

...a quinque membris in tempore passionis.

Tanner, Ibid. p. 347, n. [a].

5. ff. 56 a—58 b. A Sermon on Mercy and Truth, Justice and Peace.

This represents one of each of these pairs of qualities as making an 'allegacio' against man, and the other answering in his defence.

Begins:

Misericordia et veritas obviaverunt...In versiculo isto insinuat propheta...

Ends:

...qui facit utraque unum.

6. ff. 58 b—60 a. 'De eodem in Gallico.'

Begins:

De quatre sorurs vus voil dire
Ke filies sunt deu nostre sire...

Ends:

Ke lunges avant furent dites
E verreiment en liure escrites.

This is a French versification of the allegory in the previous section.

Some paragraphs follow, containing a Bishop's Oath of fidelity to the Papal See, De Officio Judicis, De Legitimacione, &c.

7. ff. 62—77 a. Quædam de Dictis Anselmi.

Begins (after a preface 'Cum quedam de dictis...' and a list of heads):

Dominus et redemptor noster spiritus septiformis...

Ends:

...in amore oraciones incendamus.

8. f. 77 b. Verses and prayers respecting Simon de Montfort 'Comes Leicestrie martyr.'

Begins:

Rumpe celos et descende capud Jhesu martirum
Signis sacris et ostende comitis martyrium...

Ends:

...qui celebri martyrio meruit consummari per.

f. 78 contains some notes as to when a Bishop may be disobeyed, the number of masses on Christmas Day, &c.

On f. 1 is the name 'Radulphus de Fredenham monachus,' and on f. 26, in blue, 'Willelmus de Gipvyc' [Ipswich].

2036 Kk. iv. 21.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 107, with 16 lines in each page. Date, the xiith century.

DUODECIM PROPHETÆ VULGATÆ EDITIONIS CUM GLOSSA INTERLINEARI ET MARGINALI ORDINARIA.

Begins (f. 4 a):

Non idem ordo est duodecim prophetarum apud hebreos qui et apud nos...

Ends (f. 107 a):

...helyas quidem veniet et jam venit in helya iohannem intelligens.

The text of the prophets is written in the middle of the page with the interlinear gloss between the lines, and the marginal gloss on either side. The initial letter to Hosea is illuminated, and those to the other prophets coloured and richly ornamented.

On f. 36 is written:

Hunc librum dedicavit ecclesie sancte marie huntendone
Laurencius bedefordensis Archidiaconus.

Laurence was Archdeacon of Bedford in 1181.

2037 Kk. iv. 22.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 50, with 37 lines in a page. Date, the xiith century. A leaf is lost at the end. Each book has a curiously coloured initial.

'BEATUS AMBROSIUS DE OFFICIIS MINISTRORUM.'

Begins:

Non arrogans videri arbitror...

Ends (imperfect):

...quia non pecunia paritur set gratia...(Lib. iii. cap. xxi. § 133.)

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1845. T. II. coll. 25—182 B.

On f. 1 is written 'Hic est Liber Sancti Albani quem qui ei abstulerit aut titulum deleverit Anathema sit. Amen.'

2038 Kk. IV. 23.

A quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 200, numbered, (besides fly-leaves at both ends) in double columns of 34 lines. [There is no number 112.] Date, the XVth century. Each section had an illuminated initial and border; but that belonging to § 2 has been cut out.

1. ff. 1—111. 'SANCTI BONAVENTURÆ LIBER DE VITA CHRISTI.'

Begins (after the Prologue 'Inter alia virtutum...' and the list of chapters):

Cum per longissima tempora ultra spatium...

Ends:

...decorem substantie designavit. Hec Bernardus.

Opp. Mogunt. 1609. VI. pp. 334—401.

2. ff. 111—199. 'LIBER QUI VOCATUR PAUPERTAS.'

Begins:

[O]ptatus mihi dies advenerat in quo visitante me divina clemencia exoneratus sum ab ecclesiastici regiminis gravissima cura...

Ends:

In manus tuas commendo spiritum meum. redemisti me Domine. Amen.

This is divided into 22 books.

Some outline drawings of Saints follow. The fly-leaves contain a portion of the Services for Advent from a Missal, and a fragment of what is apparently a treatise on some portion of Canon Law.

At the end are the names of 'Robert Steward' and 'Wellis.'

2039 Kk. IV. 24.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 306, in double columns of 46 lines. Date, the XVth century.

1. ff. 1—116. 'EXHORTACIONES FRATRIS JOHANNIS BROMEYARD.'

Begins:

Induimini dominum Ihesum Christum...

Ends:

...electionem in nobis impleat et ad illam repletionem nos perducat qui, &c.

A 'Tabula Thematum' follows.

2. ff. 123—304. Sermones de Tempore et de Sanctis.

Begins:

Mulier sapiens edificat sibi...

Ends:

...populus meus, dicit Deus omnipotens.

These are possibly also by Johannes Bromeyard, a Dominican, who flourished in 1390. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 129, who mentions this MS.

2040 Kk. iv. 25.

A folio, of parchment, consisting at present of 126 leaves, much stained and mutilated. It is in double columns of about 32 lines, and in a hand of the end of the xiiith century.

1. ff. 1—17 a. A Tract on the Universe.

This is incomplete at its commencement. The first words occurring are:

Ab Aquilone fulgur ab Euro Tonitru, &c.

It contains an abstract of Physical Astronomy. At f. 4 b. Libellus ii. begins:

Priori libello globum totius mundi oculis corporis representavimus; sequente jam tempus in quo volvitur oculis cordis anteponamus. Evum est, &c.

On f. 11 b begins:

Cronica vi. m. et ccc$^{\text{orum}}$ annorum. Non arbitror infructuosum seriem temporum huic operi inserere.

These Chronicles begin from the fall of the Angels, and are brought down to about a.d. 1125.

The tract ends:

Hic [Hen. V. Imper.] quinto anno imperii sui accepit Matillam filiam Henrici regis Anglorum in conjugium.

The scribe has omitted a few words in copying, as if his original had been illegible.

2. ff. 18 a—25. Epistola Alexandri ad Aristotelem doctorem suum scripta de mirabilibus Indie.

This is preceded by 12 hexameter lines on Alexander 'Armipotentis Alexandri hic conscripta tenentur;' accompanied by a large illuminated representation of the King sitting on a throne.

The letter begins:

Semper memor tui etiam inter dubia bellorum.

See Dd. x. 24, § 3, and Kk. II. 22, § 1. The next treatise is commenced in the last column of this part, but begins again on f. 26.

3. ff. 26—37. HISTORIA ALEXANDRI MAGNI REGIS MACEDONUM.

Begins:

Egyptii Sapientes sati genere divino...

Printed, Milan. 1817. See Dd. x. 24, § 1.

4. ff. 38—40. 'ALANUS DE INSULIS DE SEX ALIS CHERUBIM,' imperfect.

Begins:

Prima ala est confessio...

Ends:

...quod aspiciendum est.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1855. coll. 273—278 D.

A leaf is lost between ff. 40 & 41.

5. f. 41. A fragment of 'Revelatio Sancti Michaelis Archangeli in monte Gargano.'

6. ff. 41 b—44. 'Ejusdem revelatio in monte Tumbra xvii Kal. Novembris.'

Begins:

Postquam gens francorum christi gratia...

Ends:

...divina beneficia, adjuvante domino, &c.

7. ff. 44 b—48. De naturis Angelorum, with three coloured and illuminated representations. The first two are the Annunciation, and S. Raphael curing Tobit.

Begins:

Ad Mariam Virginem Matrem Domini...

Ends:

...non intrabitis in regnum celorum.

8. f. 48 b, col. 1. A short Note on the Praise of Wisdom.

Begins:

Omnia cedunt in usum sapientes...

Ends:

...facilius explicat res cujus fructus agnoscitur.

The first part of this passage is from the Prologue to the 2nd Book of the Polycraticon.

9. ff. 48 b, col. 2, 49. 'Excerpta ex libro Isodori.'

Nearly the whole of f. 49 is torn out. The excerpta have been notes out of the Etymologiæ of Isidore, concerning the Antipodes, Bragmanni, Macrobii, &c.

10. ff. 50—93. 'De Natura Animantium.'

This treatise is substantially the same as that of Hugo de S. Victore, De Bestiis et aliis rebus. The arrangement, however, is very irregular. The sections are as follow:—De Bestiis et reptilibus, ff. 50—70. De avibus, ff. 71—81. De natura Piscium, Amphibiorum, Insectorum, &c. ff. 82—93.

There are large coloured drawings of all the animals, some with groups of figures, interesting as illustrating costume, &c.

11. f. 94. 'De septem Mirabilibus Mundi.'

Begins:

Primum de septem mirabilibus mundi...

Ends:

...copiosus ex ambobus ignis resurgit.

12. ff. 94 b—97. Extracts from the Polycraticon of Johannes Sarisburiensis.

These refer to auguries and necromancy.

13. ff. 98—100 a. Philosophical Dialogues and Notes.

Begins:

De remediis fortuitorum bonorum conferunt inter se Callio et Seneca.

One leaf is lost in this part between ff. 99, 100.

14. ff. 100 b—105. De generibus Arborum et Lapidum.

This section is properly the conclusion of Section 10, as appears from the Colophon.

Explicit liber de Naturis Bestiarum et de qualitatibus eorundem.

Begins:

Arborum nomen sive herbarum, ab arvis inflexum creditur...

Ends:

...urinatores qui sursum ferunt chorum sanctorum signant.

Then follow some hexameter verses 'de vii Artibus,' &c., and a drawing of a king writing, probably 'Evax rex Arabum,' for the next section.

15. ff. 106—112. Versus Marbodi de Lapidibus numero sexaginta.

Begins:

Evax rex Arabum legitur scripsisse Neroni ..

See Dd. xii. 51, § 2. The same poem is assigned to Gaufridus Physicus in the title to Dd. x. 52, § 5.

An unfinished drawing of a man writing follows the text, representing probably Macer, the author of the next article.

16. f. 113. 'Liber Macri de Naturis Herbarum.'

See Ff. vi. 53, § 10.

This is again followed by a picture of a monk writing, probably Bernardus Silvester.

17. ff. 119—126. Bernardus Silvester Carnotensis de Megacosmo et Microcosmo.

This is defective at the end, not more than five lines of Lib. ii. de minori Mundo, i.e. Homine, remaining. This is a work in mixed prose and verse. Lines are quoted by Johannes Sarisburiensis and others, but the book has never been printed entire. See Fabricius.

Prologue begins:

...Gervico variis scientiarum titulis doctorum famosissimo...

Lib. i. begins:

Consilium tamen fuit ut, perfecta minus tabula...

2041 Kk. iv. 26.

A small folio, on vellum, consisting of 190 leaves, excluding a blank leaf at each end, in double columns, each column containing 37 lines, neatly written in a hand of the xvth century. The initial letters are handsomely illuminated, and the capitals variously coloured. Various later hands occur throughout the volume.

The Represser of over myche blamyng the Clergie compiled by Bysshope Pecoke.

The title is added by a later hand: the author's name does not occur in the body of the work.

Begins (fol. 1):

Vndirnyme þou, biseche þou, and blame þou...

Ends (fol. ult.):

...And þus y eende þis present book clepid Þe Represser of ouer myche blamyng the Clergie: for which book to þee, Lord God, be preising and þanking: and to alle the seid ouer myche vndirnemers and blamers ful amendement. Amen.

At the end is this note in a later hand:

Exhibit. coram Domino in Capella sua apud Lamhith (i. e. Lambeth) xi. Novembr. Anno Domini mccccclvii^mo.

The names of 'Atkyns, Lyncoln Colledge in Oxforde,' of 'John Stowe,' and of 'Johannes Heppington,' occur in the blank leaves.

Presented to the Library by Archbishop Rotheram.

This MS. was consulted by Waterland, who made copious extracts from it and remarks on it, (see his Works, vol. x. pp. 208—274,) which were used by Lewis in his life of Reynold Pecock. (Lond. 1744.) It is now being edited by Mr Churchill Babington, Fellow of St John's College, Cambridge, in the series of English historical works published by the authority of the Lords of her Majesty's Treasury, under the direction of the Master of the Rolls.

2042 Kk. iv. 27.

A quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 170, in double columns of 54 lines. Date, the xvth century. The MS. is imperfect at both ends, and the leaves are all more or less imperfect, and have been mended.

An Alphabetical Index to various works of the Fathers, especially S. Anselm.

The first head that remains is on the second page, 'Beatitudo angelorum:' the last 'Trinitas.'

2043 Kk. v. 1.

A folio, on paper, containing 458 leaves, irregularly numbered, written in Law-French, in a hand of the xvth century.

Nicholas Statham's Abridgment of the Year Books, to the end of the Reign of Henry VI.

Printed (without the Author's name) at Rouen, by W. Tailleur, with the mark of R. Pinson, about the year 1519.

Statham had a grant in reversion of the office of second Baron of the Exchequer, dated 30 October, 1467; but whether he ever filled the office is uncertain. See Foss's Judges, IV. 454.

At the end of the index is a memorandum of an order to a brickmaker for 100,000 bricks, half at the rate of xv*d.* and the other half at xvii*d.* the thousand, in the 25 Henry VIII.

2044 Kk. v. 2.

A folio, on paper, of 167 leaves, with 34 lines in a page, and a good margin. Dated at the end, Mount Orgueil Castle in the Isle of Jarzy, 1 January 1618.

'The First Part of the Observations of Sir John Peyton the yonger Knight, Lieutenant Gowrnor of Jersey, duringe his travailes.'

The contents are given on the title-page as follows:

The view of Germany. F. 7 [Germanye by wryters hath bene and is...]

A discourse of the Hans Cittyes. F. 100 [The Hans cyties for their power], to which are annexed:

The Emperor's Edict against the English. F. 109.

The Emperor's Propositions at the Dyet. F. 111.

Extractus Propositionum Dietæ Hungaricæ. F. 114.

Conditiones fœderis a Polonis Imperatori exhibitæ. Ib.

Extractus Legationis Regis Poloniæ in Suetiam. F. 116.

A Relation of Bohemia and of the United Provinces of that Crowne. Anno 1598. [Bohemia by nature verie strong as enskonsed...] F. 120.

Contents, &c.

The Author addresses his book to his Father, S^r^ John Peyton, Knight, Lieutenant of the Tower, in a letter dated from Basill, 27 Nov. 1599. It is dedicated to Sir George Calvert, Principall Secretary to his Majesty [no date], and commended to his eldest and deare sonne Robert Peyton. 1 Jan. 1618.

2045 Kk. v. 3.

A folio, on paper, of 56 leaves, some of which are blank, the 23rd leaf is larger and folded, the last 2 are blank.

'A book conteyninge such CUSTODYE LANDE, tenemente and other hereditamente remayninge IN CHARGE IN THE PIPES OFFICE, which usually have ben and are graunted in lease by the right honorable the Lord Treasurer of England for the time beinge by virtue of his office.'

Drawn up shortly after 1620.

2046 Kk. v. 4.

A folio, on paper, of 143 numbered pages, and a leaf containing the index, in a hand-writing dated 1660.

'MY LORD HADINGTOUNE HIS BOOKE OF PRACTICKS ALPHABETICALLIE DIGESTED INTO TITLES.'

It contains Decisions of the Lords of Council and Session in Scotland, from about 1606 to 1624, and does not appear to have been printed. A copy in MS. is in the Advocates' Library, Edinburgh.

The Author, Sir Thomas Hamilton, first Earl of Haddington, died in 1637.

2047 Kk. v. 5.

A folio, on paper, of 75 pages, and 2 of index at the beginning. At the end, after a few blank pages, there is half a page of writing.

A 'supervisus' of MANORS and tenements belonging to Queen Elizabeth, situated IN THE ISLE OF WIGHT, taken in October, 1583.

It contains the survey of the manors of Thorley and Wellonge (fol. 1); Hyton parcel of the late Preceptory of Badsley and more recently the property of Lord Seymor attainted (f. 7); 'ffraric Butte' (f. 9); Nyton part of the crown lands (f. 11); Arreton and its dependent manors, parcel of the late monastery of Quarr (f. 15); Aspe parcel of the late Priory of Christ Church (f. 30); Bowcumbe with its dependencies (f. 34); ffreshwater with its dependencies part of the crown lands (f. 45); the 'Chauntrie' of Newporte (f. 51); 'portions of Tithes and Tenthes' (f. 60); lands given for the maintenance of 'obitte lampes and lighte' (f. 63); Borwood Forest (f. 64); the manors of Whitfeild part of the crown lands (f. 67); Wroxall part of the crown lands (f. 71); the farm of the site of the monastery of Wroxall (f. 74 b); Carebrook Priory (f. 75 b); Appledercombe (f. 75 b).

2048 Kk. v. 6.

A folio, on paper, of 68 leaves, (not excluding intermediate blanks, but only those at both ends,) each page containing about 30 lines, neatly written in a hand of the XVIth century. After fol. 55 the MS. is written in a different and somewhat later hand.

1. 'Ἀριστείδου τοῦ Κοιντιλιανοῦ περὶ μουσικῆς.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Ἀεὶ μὲν ἐμοὶ θαυμάζειν... (Arist. Quint. de Mus. Lib. I. princip. in Meibom. Antiq. Mus. Script. Vol. II. p. 1.)

Ends (fol. 55 b):

...μιᾶ (sic) καταθέσθαι πραγματεία. (Id. Lib. III. in fin. u. s. p. 164.)

2. 'Diagraphæ Musicæ,' taken from the 'ἁρμονικὰ' of 'Michael Bryennius.'

They occupy fol. 58—62; and their places in Manuel (not Michael) Bryennius' work are indicated. It was edited by Wallis, and is contained in his Op. Math. Tom. III. p. 359—589. (Oxon. 1699.)

From fol. 65—68 are rough memoranda on Aristides Quintilianus, &c.: the same hand has written notes in the margin of the early part of the MS. The last words of the MS. are, Nota etiam τριάδα vocari a Nicomacho γάμον ἐν τοῖς θεολογουμένοις, pag. 18, ver. 10; ut legitur in MS. vet. The contents of the volume in Latin are written in a blank leaf at the beginning, in the hand of J. B. Hautin.

2049 Kk. v. 7.

A moderate-sized folio, on paper, of 20 leaves, each page containing about 30 lines, neatly written in a hand which may be referred to the end of the xvth or beginning of the xvith century.

'Ἐρωτιανοῦ τῶν παρ' Ἱπποκράτει λέξεων συναγωγή.'

Begins (fol. 1):

τὴν Ἱπποκράτους πραγματείαν, ἀρχιατρὲ Ἀνδρόμαχε.

Ends (fol. 20):

ὠτίδα καὶ ὀτίδος (sic), ἑκατέρως γὰρ γράφεται· ἔστι δὲ ὀρνέου εἶδος, ὁ πλεῖστον μάλιστα ἐν Θράκῃ καὶ Μακεδονίᾳ εὑρίσκεται.

At the top of the first page is written:

'Ex bibliotheca Jacob. Mentelii. V.P.C. 1670. mens. Apr.' For an account of this learned scholar and physician, see Biogr. Univ. s. v. Mentel (Jacques).

For the editions of this Glossary see Smith's Dict. Gr. and Rom. Biogr. s. v. Erotianus.

2050 Kk. v. 8.

A small folio, on paper, of 38 leaves (excluding pure blanks), each page containing about 40 lines, neatly written in a hand of the end of the xvith century.

1. 'Scholia in Oppiani Halieutica.'

Begins (fol. 2):

Γένος Ὀππιανοῦ ποιητοῦ. Ὀππιανὸς ὁ ποιητὴς πατρὸς μὲν ἦν Ἀγησιλάου... (Schol. in Oppian. p. 243, ed. Bussem. Paris, 1849, Didot.)

Ends (fol. 27):

...ῥιζοῦχος δὲ ὁ συνέχων τὰς ῥίζας τῶν οἴκων. Τέλος τοῦ πέμπτου τῶν ἁλιευτικῶν τοῦ Ὀππιανοῦ. (Id. p. 361.)

The Greek title Ὀππιανοῦ ἁλιευτικῶν βιβλία πέντε is erroneous. The Latin title seems to be in the hand of J. B. Hautin.

2. 'Θεοκρίτου βίος.'

Begins (fol. 27):

Θεόκριτος ὁ τῶν βουκολικῶν ποιητὴς... (Poet. Min. Gr. Vol. II. p. li. ed. Gaisf.)

Ends (id. p. lii.):

...ταῖς ἀγροικοῖς ᾠδαῖς τόπον ἔδωκαν.

3. 'Αρχὴ σὺν θεῷ ἁγίῳ τῶν ἐρωτημάτων Θευδοσίου γραμματικοῦ Ἀλεξανδρέως περὶ προσωδιῶν.'

Begins (fol. 29):

Προσωδίαι εἰσὶ δέκα· ὀξεῖα, βαρεῖα, περισπωμένη, μακρὰ, βραχεῖα...

Ends (fol. ult. b.):

...γλυκίονος, αἰσχίονος, κρείττονος. Τέλος τῶν ἐρωτημάτων Θεοδοσίου γραμματικοῦ περὶ προσωδιῶν.

See Gg. I. 2, § 7 (Vol. III. p. 10).

At the head of this treatise occurs the following note:

'Transcripsi ex veteri codice MS., cum nondum typis excusus in lucem prodiisset hic Theodosius, mense Novembri, 1592.'

2051 Kk. v. 9.

A small folio, on paper, of 85 leaves (excluding pure blanks at both ends), each page containing about 30 lines, neatly written in a hand of the XVIth century. A few blank leaves occur throughout the volume.

1. 'Σχόλια εἰς τὸ μῦ τῶν Ἀριστοτέλους μετὰ τὰ φυσικά.'

Begins (fol. 4):

Ἐν τῷ λάμβδα τῆς προκειμένης πραγματείας... (Schol. in Aristot. p. 813, ed. Brandis.)

Ends (fol. 55 b):

...συμπεράσματα καθόλου εἰσίν. ὧδε μὲν οὖν πεπεράτωται τὸ μῦ τῆς μετὰ τὰ φυσικὰ πραγματείας. (Id. p. 823, but the text differs.)

2. 'Σχόλια εἰς τὸ νῦ τῶν Ἀριστοτέλους μετὰ τὰ φυσικά.'

Begins (fol. 56):

Ἐν τῷ πρὸ τούτου βιβλίῳ ζητήσας εἰ δυνατὸν εἶναι τὰ μαθηματικὰ... (Id. p. 823.)

Ends abruptly (fol. 77 b):

...ἀλλὰ τὰ συγκείμενα ἀνάγκη κεῖσθαι. Καὶ χωρὶς ὁ νοῶν νοήσει τὸ ἓν... (λείπει in marg.)

The last words do not occur in Brandis' edition.

3. 'Θεοφιλάκτου (sic) σχολαστικοῦ τοῦ Σιμοκάτου (sic) διάλογος.'

Begins (fol. 80 b):

'Αρισταγόραν τὸν Τιμοκλέα (sic) πολλοῦ γέ που, Πολύκρατες, οὐχ ἑώρακα χρόνου.... (p. 5, ed. Boiss. Paris, 1835.)

Ends (fol. ult. b):

...τὴν ἐπιστήμην ἀπειληφα. τέλος. δόξα τῷ μόνῳ Θεῷ. (Id. p. 28.)

Prefixed is an argument (beginning Τὰς χελιδόνας φασὶν ὑπὸ τῶν μητέρων), as well as the heads of the chapters. See Boissonade's edition, pp. 1—4.

At fol. 2 is a fragment of 26 lines, beginning 'Επειδὴ ἡ γνῶσις τελειώτης (sic) ἐστὶ τῆς ψυχῆς, and ending τιμιωτέρα ἐστὶ γνῶσις πράξεως.

2052 Kk. v. 10.

A folio, containing ff. 361, in double columns, with 57 lines in each column. Date, the xivth century.

1. Biblia Vulgata Sancti Hieronymi.

ff. 1—8 contain Aptationes veteris et novi Testamenti, Coloquium Gabrielis et Virginis de Incarnatione, in pairs of Leonine hexameters. These are verses exhibiting the Scripture types.

The first of these with its rubrical reference is:

Dicit Deus serpenti de muliere, ipsa conteret capud tuum.
Viperei cerebri vas calce perit muliebri
Cum generat verbum meditans nil virgo superbum.

The last is:

Reponunt triticum in horreo et zizania comburuntur.
Agmina salvata sunt messis in horrea lata:
Agmina dampnata sunt noxia grana cremata.

The prologue begins f. 9, and Genesis f. 11, the initial I containing a vertical series of vignettes of the creation. The books occur in their usual order, excepting that the Acts is placed after the Epistle to the Hebrews. Each book has an illuminated initial letter. S. Matthew begins f. 233, and the Apocalypse ends f. 285, followed by the 'Interpretationes hebraicorum nominum,' which are written in triple columns, and the 'Abbreviatio interpretationum,' written in four columns and occupying ff. 309—317.

2. 'Summa Magistri A[lexandri] Nequam.'

Beginning (f. 318):

Super Bibliothecam. De singulis libris bibliotece aliquas dictiones proferre licet...

Ending (f. 361, incompletely):

...et mandata ejus non...

Alexander Nequam or Neckam was Abbat of Exeter, and died 1227. This work is mentioned by Cave (Vol. II. p. 286), under the title of 'Elucidarium bibliothecæ,' who quotes an extract from it on S. John vi. 52.

The MS. formerly belonged to a monastery, but the name has been carefully effaced from f. 1. In f. 8 b is the note, 'Iste liber assignatur almariolo noviciorum per magistrum Thomam Wastwell sacre theologie professorem. an. d.' the date effaced. On f. 1 is written the name of Walter Stonehouse. In f. 82 is a note relating to an argument between one Robert Mawes and John Colman.

2053 Kk. v. 11.

A moderate-sized folio, on paper, of 289 leaves, each page containing 32 lines, neatly written in a hand of the XVIth century, abounding in contractions. The heads of the treatises are handsomely ornamented in vine-leaf and other patterns.

1. 'Ἐκλογὴ καὶ σύνοψις τῶν Βασιλικῶν ξ̄ βιβλίων σὺν παραπομπαῖς κατὰ στοιχεῖον, τοῦ περὶ πίστεως μόνου τίτλου προτεθέντος πάντων τῶν στοιχείων διὰ τὸ τίμιον.' (fol. 11 b.)

After the above-named title περὶ τῆς ὀρθοδόξου πίστεως, which begins Χριστιανός ἐστιν, and forms the opening of the First Book of the Basilica, follows:—ἀρχὴ τοῦ ᾱ στοιχείου. περὶ ἀγγαρειῶν καὶ παραγγαρειῶν καὶ τίνες καὶ πότε ἀγγαρεύονται ἢ οὐκ ἀγγαρεύονται. The last title (fol. 245 b) is, περὶ ὡραρίων (sic) τῶν καὶ ὑποδεκτῶν καλουμένων καὶ περὶ ὡρείων καὶ τῶν ἐν αὐτοῖς ἀποκειμένων εἰδῶν. Prefixed is a table of the titles (foll. 1—11).

At the end (fol. 246) occurs the following note:—τὸ ἴσον τοῦ ἑξηκονταβίβλου τοῦ τοῦ λαμπροτάτου Διέγου Μενδοκίου, τῷ τοῦ Δουάρδου Καλδέρου τοῦ νομικοῦ προστάγματι καταγραφομένου. For Diego de Mendoza's zeal in collecting Greek MSS. see Rose's Biogr. Dict. s. v.

This Synopsis was published by Leunclavius, Basil. 1575.

2. 'αἱ νεαραὶ τοῦ κυροῦ Ῥωμάνου [τοῦ γέροντος] τοῦ βασιλέως.'

Begins (fol. 246):

ἀνθρώποις ἐστὶ ζηλωτὸν... (Leuncl. Novell. Constit. p. 37. Basil. 1575.)

Ends (fol. 249 b):

...λυσιτέλειαν καὶ ὠφελειαν. (Id. p. 43.)

The epigram prefixed in Leunclavius' edition occurs in this MS.

3. 'αἱ νεαραὶ τοῦ κυροῦ Κωνσταντίνου [τοῦ πορφυρογεννήτου] τοῦ βασιλέως.'

Begins (fol. 249 b):

παρὰ πολλῶν ἀνέμαθεν... (Id. p. 14.)

Ends (fol. 250 b):

περὶ τῶν πτωχῶν καὶ δυνατῶν. (Id. p. 17.)

See below, n. 11 c.

4. τοῦ αὐτοῦ 'περὶ στρατιωτῶν.'

Begins (fol. 250 b):

ὥσπερ ἐν σώματι... (Id. p. 17.)

Ends (fol. 253):

...ἐπιτραπῆναι κεχρῆσθαι αὐτῷ. (Id. p. 21.)

5. 'ἐκ τοῦ ἐκφωνηθέντος βασιλικοῦ ἐδίκτου πρὸς τοὺς ἐν τῷ θέματι τῶν Θρακησίων.'

Begins (fol. 253):

ἐάν τινες μερίδας τινας ἀπὸ στρατιωτικῶν...

Ends (fol. 253 b):

...τοῖς στρατεύμασιν ἡμῶν ἐπενεχθήσεται.

This seems not to occur in the collection of Leunclavius or Meursius. (Op. Tom. VI.)

6. 'τοῦ κυροῦ Νικηφόρου [τοῦ Φωκᾶ] τοῦ βασιλέως ἡ νέα νομοθεσία.'

Begins (fol. 254):

ὁ τοῦ Θεοῦ πατρὸς λόγος... (Leuncl. Jus Græco-Rom. Vol. I. p. 113, Franc. 1596.)

Ends (fol. 255 b):

...καὶ τῷ κοινῷ πάντι φθέγξασθαι. (Id. 117.)

7. 'Νεαρὰ τοῦ κυροῦ 'Ρωμανοῦ τοῦ γέροντος περὶ ἐκποιήσεως κτημάτων καὶ προτιμήσεως συγγενῶν,' κ. τ. λ.

Begins (fol. 255 b):

παλαιὸς νόμος ἐστὶν ἵνα μηδεὶς παρὰ συγγενῶν ἢ κοινωνῶν ἐμποδίζεται (sic)... (Leuncl. Novell. Constit. p. 9.)

Ends (fol. 257):

...ἡ ἐκποίησις ἀναιρεῖται. (Id. p. 12.)

In the edition of Leunclavius this novel is assigned not to Romanus Senior, but to Constantine Porphyrogenitus. See below, n. 12.

8. τοῦ αὐτοῦ 'περὶ τῶν κινούντων τὸν εἰς τὸ διπλοῦν ὑπερθεματισμόν.'

Begins (fol. 257):

εἰ μὲν εὑρίσκονται οἱ ἐγκαλέσαντες... (Id. p. 43.)

Ends (fol. 257 b):

...ἀπεπιφωνήτου παραδρομῆς. (Id. p. 44.)

This comprises the novel of Romanus Senior, and the ψῆφος of Cosmas in the edition of Leunclavius.

9. 'τοῦ αὐτοῦ ψῆφος.'

Begins (fol. 257 b):

ζητήσεις δὲ περὶ τούτου· καὶ εἴπερ ἐστὶ τοῦ τόπου μία ὑποταγὴ... (Id. p. 44.)

This piece of a few lines is likewise ascribed to Cosmas in the edition of Leunclavius: on the following page occurs a brief fragment on measures of length, beginning: χρὴ γινώσκειν ὅτι ὁ κάλαμος μέθ' οὗ μετροῦσιν τὴν σκαφεῖσαν γῆν τῶν ἀμπελώνων ὀκτάπους ἐστίν.

10. 'περὶ διαφθορᾶς ἀναγνωσμάτων.'

Begins (fol. 258 b):

μηδεὶς ἀποκρισιάριος ἐναγέσθω ὑπὲρ τοῦ στείλαντος αὐτόν...

Ends (fol. 260):

...οἱ βαλλιστράριοι τοῖς πατράσιν ὑπόκεινται τῶν πόλεων.

This appears by the marginal notes to consist in part of extracts from the Basilica.

11. 'νεαρὰ Ῥωμανοῦ [τοῦ γέροντος] εἴργουσα τοὺς δυνατοὺς ἐξωνήσεις εἰς χωρίου ὁμάδα ποιεῖν.'

Begins (fol. 260):

θεσπίζομεν ἐν πάσῃ πόλει καὶ χώρᾳ...

Ends (fol. 261):

...ὑπὲρ τῆς τῶν ὑπηκόων σωτηρίας.

This is an altered form of n. 2, beginning with the words θεσπίζομεν τοιγαροῦν τοὺς ἐν πάσῃ χώρᾳ καὶ πολιτείᾳ of the other text. See Leuncl. l. c. p. 38.

12. 'νεαρὰ α. Κωνσταντίνου [τοῦ πορφυρογεννήτου] τοῦ βασιλέως περὶ προτιμήσεως.'

Begins (fol. 261):

παλαιὸς νόμος ἐστὶ μηδένα κωλύεσθαι... (Id. p. 12.)

Ends (fol. 262):

...τῷ δημοσίῳ εἰσπραχθήσεται. (Id. p. 14.)

This is an altered form of n. 7, and less authentic, in the opinion of Leunclavius.

13. 'νεαρὰ β. Κωνσταντίνου [τοῦ πορφυρογεννήτου] περὶ τῶν δυνατῶν τῶν εἰσελθόντων εἰς κτῆσιν πενήτων.'

Begins (fol. 262):

θεσπίζομεν ὅσοι ἀπὸ τῆς ἡμετέρας ἀναρρήσεως...

Ends (fol. 263):

...περὶ τῶν πτωχῶν καὶ δυνατῶν ὁρισθείσης εἰς μῆνα μάρτιον, ἰνδ. ε̄.

This also is an altered form of n. 3.

14—20. 'νεαραὶ (γ—ιβ) Κωνσταντίνου [τοῦ πορφυρογεννήτου] περὶ στρατιωτῶν.'

Begins (fol. 263):

θεσπίζομεν τοίνυν ὅπερ ἡ συνήθεια... (Id. p. 17.)

Ends (fol. 264):

...ἐπιτραπῆναι κεχρῆσθαι αὐτῷ. (Id. p. 21.)

The opening sentence of this novel (III.) is wanting in this MS.

After this, ff. 264—267, follow novels IV—XII. as in the edition of Leunclavius, pp. 21—30.

21. 'νεαραὶ (α, β, γ, δ, ε) Νικηφόρου [τοῦ Φωκᾶ] τοῦ βασιλέως.' α begins (fol. 267 b):

θεσπίζομεν ὅσοι τῶν Ἀρμενίκων...

(Leuncl. Jus Græco-Rom. Vol. II. p. 169. Franc. 1596.)

β begins (fol. 267 b):

θεσπίζομεν ὅσοι μοναστήρια...

(Id. Vol. I. p. 113.)

γ begins (fol. 268):

θεσπίζομεν τὴν παρὰ τῶν προβεβασιλευκότων...

(Id. Vol. II. p. 170.)

δ begins (fol. 268):

ἐπειδήπερ τινὲς τῶν κεκωλυμένων... (Id. Vol. II. p. 171.)

ε begins (fol. 268 b):

κελεύομεν ἐπεὶ ἡ τῶν μ. χρόνων παραδρομὴ...

(Id. Vol. II. p. 171.)

22. 'ἐκλογὴ τῶν νεαρῶν Λέοντος τοῦ εὐσεβοῦς βασιλέως.'

The selection contains 55 novels, mostly very short ones.

The collection opens with the words, θεσπίζομεν ἀπὸ τοῦ νῦν καὶ εἰς τὸν ἅπαντα χρόνον (fol. 268 b): and ends with the words ὃς ἄγει τοὺς ὑπηκόους· (fol. 278 b.)

Zachariæ (Anecd. p. xv. Lips. 1843) mentions that the Ecloga Novellarum Leonis has been edited, but without saying where. Those published by Bonefidius and Agylæus (Antv. 1575) and others differ from these in form, though sometimes having the same titles.

23. 'νομοθεσία νεαρὰ Βασιλείου πορφυρογεννητοῦ δεσπότου ἐκφωνηθεῖσα κατὰ τὸν Ἰουαννουάριον μῆνα τῆς θ. ἰνδ. τοῦ ,ϛφδ. ἔτους.'

Begins (fol. 278 b):

ἐπειδήπερ ἡ βασιλεία μου... (Leunc. Jus Græco-Rom. Vol. II. p. 172.)

Ends (fol. 281):

...παρὰ τῶν ἐχόντων αὐτά. (Id. 179.)

24. 'Σισίνιος ἐλέῳ θεοῦ ἀρχιεπίσκοπος Κωνσταντινουπόλεως νέας Ῥώμης εἰς τὴν ἐπ' ὀλέθρῳ τοῦ γάμου ἐπεισφρήσασαν ἤδη τῇ Χριστοῦ ποιμνῇ ἀθεμιτογαμίαν εἴτ' οὖσαν αἱμομιξίαν καὶ πυρὸς δίκην πυρπολοῦσαν τὰ σύμπαντα, ἥτις θεοῦ χάριτι νῦν κανονικῶς καὶ νομίμως συνοδικῇ ἀποφάσει ἐκωλύθη κατὰ τὴν εἰκάδα α τοῦ ,φευρουαρίου μηνὸς τῆς ἐνεστώσης ἰνδ. ι, ἐν ἔτει τῷ ,ϛφε.'

Begins (fol. 281 b):

καὶ ἰατρὸς ἡδίων ἐκεῖνος... (Id. Vol. I. p. 197.)

Ends (fol. 284):

...Ἰωάννης Δέρκου. (Id. p. 203.)

25. 'Δεαστιανίβους (sic, i. e. De actionibus?) περὶ ἰδικῶν ἀγωγῶν.'

Begins (fol. 284):

ἐν τῷ διαπέμπεσθαι βιβλίον ἀνάγκη ὁρίζεσθαι τὴν ἀγωγήν...

Ends (fol. 286):

...ὡς μὴ ἔχων τὸ ἐπόμενον.

This is followed by short pieces, entitled (a) περὶ πλαστοῦ, beginning (fol. 286) ἡ τοῦ πλαστοῦ καὶ ὡσανεὶ πλαστοῦ τιμωρία περιορισμός ἐστι καὶ τελεία δήμευσις: ending (fol. 286) τοῦτο ὁ δικαστής. β τῶν βασιλικῶν ν.π.γ., and (b) περὶ καταχρήσεως καὶ νόμων, beginning (fol. 286 b) ἐάν τις μὴ δύναται (sic): ending (fol. 285 b) ἐπέτρεψεν αὐτὸ κτίσαι: also (c) by a paragraph on the same page, called μέτρον γεωμετρικὸν, beginning ἐχέτω ἡ ὀργυιὰ σπιθαμὰς θ.; and (d) by various morsels taken from the Basilica; from which indeed the other extracts appear to be more or less derived.

26. 'τὸ ἴσον τῆς διαθήκης τοῦ ἁγίου Γρηγορίου τοῦ θεολόγου.'

Begins (fol. 288):

Γρηγόριος ἐπίσκοπος τῆς καθολικῆς ἐκκλησίας... (Greg. Naz. Op. T. II. p. 201. Ed. Bened.)

Ends (fol. 289 b):

...μετεγράφη ἐκ τοῦ ἀρχετύπου τοῦ συγκειμένου ἐν τῇ ἐκκλησίᾳ Ναζιανζοῦ. (See Id. p. 204.)

At the end of the MS. is the following note:

πόνος Νικολάου Τουρριανοῦ τοῦ Κρητὸς ἐν Σαλμαντικῇ, (Salamanca,) ᾳφξδ. (A.D. 1564), οκτωβ. κ.

2054 Kk. v. 12.

A moderate-sized quarto, on paper, of 120 leaves, each page containing two columns of Greek words, with their Latin equivalents in two other columns, (which last, however, are wanting in the latter part of the volume, after a part of the letter ϵ,) the number of lines in a column varying from 24—30, neatly written in a hand which may be referred to the beginning of the XVIth century. The Latin part is not all by one hand, and the later of the two seems to belong to the XVIIth century.

'Glossarium Græco-Latinum Philoxeni.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Ἀβαρὴς, non grauis; ἀβαρὲς, non graue...

Ends (fol. 153):

...ὠχυρωμένος; ὠχρῶς.

After this follows a list of words, beginning ἀλλαγὴ, προς, ἐλευσις, bearing this heading: Εἰσί τινα ὀνόματα ἃ Λατινικῶς μὲν ἀρσενικῷ γένει ἐκφέρονται, Ἑλληνικῶς δὲ θηλυκῷ, and there are other lists similarly contrasted, but the Latin equivalents are not given (see H. Steph. Thes. Ling. Gr. Vol. VIII. p. 346, ed. Valp.). The volume ends with a Latin scrap of 12 lines, beginning, Qui flagitia metuunt, virtutem consequuntur. The names of Hortensius and Varro occur towards the end of it.

The title of the work is written in the hand of J. B. Hautin, whose name occurs inside the cover. On the top of the first page of the book is written, Ex bibliotheca Claudii Sarranii (?), 1647.

On this Glossary of Philoxenus see Du Cange (H. Steph. Thes. Ling. Gr. Vol. VIII. p. III. ed. Valp.)

2055 Kk. v. 13.

A quarto, on vellum, of 117 leaves, (excluding four Greek leaves at the end), each page containing about 26 lines, neatly written in a hand which seems to be of the xth century. The initial letters and other parts of the MS. are rubricated, and various later hands occur in the volume.

'Palladii Rutili Tauri Aemeliani (sic) viri inl. opus Agriculture.'

Begins (fol. 2):

De præceptis rei rusticæ. Pars est prima prudentiæ (Lib. i. tit. 1):

Ends (fol. ult.):

...augeatur, iste decrescat (with the table of hours), (Lib. xiii. tit. 7).

This book seems to have belonged to the library of St Denys at Paris. On the reverse of fol. ult. is written, 'Explicit liber Beati Dyon. Ariop. Pss.'

At the end are four leaves which belong to Ee. iv. 29, almost immediately following the leaf where the MS. breaks off. They are a continuation of the collection of Novels, described above, Vol. ii. p. 163, beginning ἢ ἀνανεάσεως χρεία γένηται, and they end in tit. λβ with the words χρυσίου λιτρῶν: the red paging of the last leaf of Ee. iv. 29 being 369, and the first of these being marked 372; the corresponding Greek pagings being τξ and τξγ.

2056 Kk. v. 14.

A folio, on paper, containing a collection of miscellaneous tracts bound together, written in the xvith century.

1. ff. 2. An Exposition of the Lord's Prayer, signed Th. P.

2. ff. 2. 'Ortus et vita Gulielmi de Wicham olim Episcopi Wyntoniensis, et funditoris novi collegii ibidem,' a Latin Poem by Christopher Jonson, 1564.

Begins:

Qua capit australes comitatu Hamptona Brytannos...

Ends:

...suscipe conatus Wichame dive meos.

This is printed at the end of Ricardi Willeii Poematum Liber. Lond. 1673. Jonson was Master of Winchester School in 1560.

3. ff. 4. 'An Oration in y^e^ Parlement that religion is not to be forced.'

4. ff. 2. 'The Confessyon of Mr Richard Allyngtone Esquyer the xxii of Novembr 1561 abought eyght of the clocke at nyghte before Mr Doctour Caldewell, Mr D. Good, Mr Garth, Mr Hones, and the President of the Rolls.'

5. ff. 10. Notes on the Disputations between Cranmer, Weston, Chedsey, &c. at Oxford, on the Eucharist.

6. ff. 8. 'Disputaciones habitæ Oxoniæ xxii die Aprilis de vera presentia naturalis et organici corporis Christi in sacramento altaris A.D. 1553.' Between Weston, Harpsfylde, Cranmer, Ridley, Latimer, &c.

This will be found in English in Foxe, ed. Townsend, VI. pp. 512 sqq.

7. ff. 10. Disputatio inter Doctores Tresham et Petrum Martyrem de Eucharistia. '1549. die Maii 28.'

ff. 40—45. 'Henrici Hollandi' Carmina 'In adventum serenissimæ Principis Elizabethæ Wodstokium.'

These seem to refer to the Queen's stay at Woodstock on her progress to Oxford, 1566. There are five poems in different metres. The first is in hexameters beginning:

Pandite Musiolæ sublimia pandite tecta;
Clara coloratis splendescant atria gemmis.

The last ends:

Tu quoque culta Graïa Musa, Elizabetham | Greciloquentem Fer super Astra. Finis.

ff. 46—52. Three Historical Tracts.

i. 'Quedam cronica de universitate Cantabrigie.'

Begins:

Quia consuluit apostolus Hebræis rememorari...

Ends:

...Edwardus Senior universitatem Cantabrigiam restauravit.

ii. 'Tractatus declarans quomodo Anglia primo vocabatur Albion.'

Begins:

Anglia modo dicta olim Albion dicebatur et habebat...

Ends:

...et sic veritas rarescit historiæ de primis habitatoribus hujus terre.

iii. Tractatus de Regibus Angliæ.

Begins:

In principio creavit Deus Celum et terram...

Ends:

...coronatio illustris regis Henrici Quarti.

ff. 53—67 a. 'Aulularia' sive 'Querolus.'

'Aululariam hodie sumus acturi non veterem at eadem investigatum Plauti per vestigia.' Prol.

Prologue begins:

Pacem quietemque vobis...

Act 1, sc. 1, begins:

Lar Familiaris. Ego sum custus et cultor domus...

The play ends at the foot of the page, unfinished:

Pantomalus. Ne hereas de re na-...

This seems to be a rough copy. Many passages are cancelled.

2057 Kk. v. 15.

A folio, on vellum, containing ff. 154, in double columns of 30 lines. Date, the xiii th century. The sheets, which are in eights, excepting sheet 16, which has ten leaves, are numbered.

Cassiani Collationes 11—24.

Begins (after an extract 'Ex cathalogo virorum illustrium Gennadii' and two extracts from Cassiodorus):

Cum virtutem perfectionis vestre...

Ends:

...doctrine sue persecutus est.

Opp. ed. Migne, i. Par. 1846, coll. 843—1328.

Collationes 14 and 15 are placed at the end; the rest are in the usual order.

2058 Kk. v. 16.

A large quarto, on parchment, 128 leaves, about 33 lines in each page, written by two or more different hands before the middle of the eighth century (cf. Wanley, p. 228); slightly damaged at the commencement.

Bedæ Historia Ecclesiastica Gentis Anglorum; five books, in Latin.

This is the celebrated MS. which furnished the text of Smith's edition, Cantab. 1722. It is minutely described, with a specimen-plate, (No. XXV.) in the Monument. Britan. p. 72; and also in Stevenson's 'Preface to Beda, ('Church Historians of England'), pp. xxix. xxx. Lond. 1853. It was probably written at Wearmouth a few years after the death of the venerable historian. Before coming into the possession of Bp. Moore, it belonged to some French monastery dedicated in honour of St Julian (fol. 128 b).

The last page of the MS. contains the Saxon (or rather Northumbrian) text of Cædmon's hymn, which had been already paraphrased in Bede, lib. iv. c. 24 (cf. Thorpe's Cædmon, Pref. pp. xxi. xxii.):

Nu scylun hergan

(1) In the same line follow three Latin words, with their Anglo-Saxon equivalents: after which, in the same hand, are certain chronological notes, supplying the length of the reigns of Northumbrian kings from Ida to Ceolwulf, and also dates of other incidents. 'Five of these concur with the year 737, and would thus seem to lead to the inference that this MS. was transcribed in that year; but there are others which cannot be brought into harmony with this calculation, but which point at the years 734, 738, 741, and 748 respectively.'—Stevenson.

(2) Then follow (in a Gallic hand, according to Wanley,) the Sententia of St Isidore (of Seville), De consanguinitate, and certain brief and fragmentary extracts ex Decretis papæ Gregorii junioris, qui nunc Romanam Catholicam regit matrem Ecclesiam.

Although the language seems to favour such a view, allusion cannot here be made to Gregory II., for he died in 731, the very year in which the 'Historia Ecclesiastica' was completed. The pontificate of Gregory III., his successor, extended from 731 to 741 (not as Wanley states, from 769 to 780); so that if these 'excerpta' were really added in Gaul, the MS. must have been carried over immediately after its execution in the North of England.

2059 Kk. v. 17.

A folio, on paper, containing 809 leaves, written in Latin, in various hands of the latter part of the xvith and the beginning of the xviith centuries.

ALLEGATIONES ET CONSILIA JURIS-CONSULTORUM QUORUNDAM CLARISSIMORUM.

They relate chiefly to cases testamentary and the succession to property in the KINGDOM OF SARDINIA and parts adjacent, and contain much genealogical information; but some few relate to criminal cases. Each Article is the original Case and Opinion, and (with a few exceptions) bears the signature of the Advocate.

The following is a list of the names of the Advocates, who were, for the most part, 'Utriusque Legis Doctores': Jacobus Angelius, Gabriel Sanna, Salvator Carcassona, Franciscus Fara, Jacobus Menochius, Angelus Carri, Petrus Selles, Augustinus Alen, Fran. Adieni, Joannes Massons, Michael Angelus Serra, Thomas Liperi, Christoferus Baccallar, Joannes Tanda, Michael Dessi, Anthonius Labata, and two or three others whose autographs cannot with certainty be deciphered.

2060 Kk. v. 18.

A folio, on parchment, containing ff. 141, in double columns, with about 30 and 47 lines respectively in each column. Date, the xiiith century.

EPISTOLÆ SANCTI PAULI Vulgatæ Editionis cum GLOSSA.

The Epistle to the Romans begins f. 1, and that to the Hebrews ends f. 141. Each epistle has an illuminated initial. The text is written on one column, and the gloss on the other. The text of the Hebrews ends with ch. xii. 21, a blank space being left for the rest; the gloss is continued to the end. The Epistles occur in their usual order.

In the cover is written the name B. Twynyhoe: and on f. 1 is an order from Hen. VIII., king of England and France, lord of Ireland, and supreme head on earth of the English church, to Johannes Holder to appear before Thomas Suevyll.

2061 Kk. v. 19.

A quarto, on paper, of 206 leaves, each page containing 26 lines, written in a hand which appears to belong to the latter part of the xvth century. The titles of the books and the slight ornamentations are rubricated.

1. 'Διονισίου (sic) Ἁλικαρνασέως περὶ τῶν Θουκυδίδου συγγραφέως ἰδιωμάτων.' (partly obliterated).

Begins (fol. 1):

Διονύσιος Ἀμμαίῳ τῷ φιλτάτῳ χαίρειν. Ἐγὼ μὲν ὑπελάμβανον. (Dionys. Hal. de iis quæ Thucyd. propr. sunt. c. 1, Vol. VI. p. 47, ed. Lips. 1829.)

Ends (fol. 5 b):

...ὡς ἐπεζήτεις. (c. ult. Id. p. 60.)

2. 'Μαρκελλίνου εἰς Θουκυδίδην τὸν συγγραφέα.'

Begins (fol. 5 b):

Λέγεται τὸν Θουκυδίδην...

Ends (fol. 8 b):

...ὁ Ἀσκλήπιος ἐπέκρινεν.

This life differs from the common text given in the editions of Thucydides.

3. 'Θουκυδίδου βίος.'

Begins (fol. 8 b):

Θουκυδίδης Ἀθηναῖος, Ὀλόρου ἦν παῖς...

Ends (fol. 10):

...Θουκυδίδης Ὀλόρου Ἁλιμνούσιος (sic) ἐνθάδε κεῖται.

Printed in the common editions of Thucydides.

4. 'Θουκυδίδου συγγραφῆς' α—η.

Begins (fol. 10):

Θουκυδίδης Ἀθηναῖος συνέγραψε... (Lib. I. c. 1.)

Ends (fol. ult.):

...ἓν καὶ εἰκοστὸν ἔτος πληροῦται. (Lib. VIII. c. ult.)

After this follows an epigram of four lines on Thucydides, beginning ὦ φίλος, εἰ σοφὸς εἶ. See Anthol. Gr. Pal. Vol. II. p. 207 (Lips. 1814).

On the top of the first leaf is written, 'Benedicti Theocreni.' He was chancellor of the republic of Genoa in 1514, and his MSS. were seized by the Imperialist soldiers in 1522. See Biogr. Univ. s. v. This MS. has been collated by the Rev. R. Shilleto for his intended edition of Thucydides. It was, for the first time, partially made use of by Arnold for the latter part of his edition of Thucydides (see Arnold's Thucyd. Vol. II. p. xii.), and is by him distinguished as T in the critical notes; it was also consulted by Dr Bloomfield, who sent extracts from the whole of it for Poppo's smaller edition. (See Poppo's Thucyd. ed. min. Vol. I. § II. p. xlii. 1843.)

2062 Kk. v. 20.

A folio, of paper, containing 49 pages of about 50 lines. Dated 1677. This is bound with Kk. v. 21.

'Mr John Livingston Minister of the Gospell. Notes of his life writen by himself.'

On the first fly-leaf is written:

This Book was bound at Rotterdam, the 8th of Jully, 1677, and was written by James Falconer. The True coppy of Mr John Livinstoune, his lyfe, taken of the Coppy of the Principle written by Himself.

Printed, Glasgow, 12mo, 1754. And Edinburgh, 8vo, for the Wodrow Society, 1845.

At the end of the MS. is a list of the places where the Author had 'preached' and 'celebratte the Comunione.' Also, The Last Words of Margaret Eliat, Spous to Thomas Steuart of Colt Nesse who dyed the 8th of Jany. 1675.

2063 Kk. v. 21.

A folio, of paper, bound with Kk. v. 20, containing 106 leaves, with about 30 lines. Date, the xviith century.

'The one and twenty battailes of York's Plantagenett, with the unmatchable life and death of Richard Nevill Earle of Warwick, surnamed in his time the darling and favourite of Kings. By Thomas Gainsforde, Esq.'

'Arma virosque cano,' &c.

This book is not in print. It is dedicated to Robert Lord Rich and Earl of Warwick, who obtained that earldom in 1618.

The introduction to the matter begins:

Before I adventure into the sea of theis turmoiles...

The book ends:

If he were innocent he might the sooner be reconciled.

With a quotation from Eurip. Iph. in Aul. in Latin.

Several historical works of the author are in print, dating from 1616.

2064 Kk. v. 22.

A folio, on paper, containing 273 numbered pages, written in a hand of the xviith century. At the end is a joint Table to both Articles.

1. pp. 1—109. 'Haddingtoune's Practicques, from November, 1609, to 1613; and from Januarie, 1622, to the 30 July, 1623.'

See Kk. v. 4.

2. pp. 113—267. 'Ane breife Summ or compend of [Sir Alexander Gibson of] Durie's two volumes of practicques, alphabeticallie digested into titles, &c.'

It contains Decisions of the Lords of Council and Session from 2 July, 1621, to 16 July, 1642. Printed in 1690 in fol. at Edinburgh.

2065 Kk. v. 23.

A folio, on paper, containing 280 leaves (about a fourth of which are blank), written in the middle of the xviiith century.

Reports of Cases argued in the Court of Session in Scotland from February, 1630, to July, 1642.

At the end, written with the book reversed, are, a Case and Opinion on a question of marriage, an Act of the Generall Assemblie at Montrose in 1595, two Acts of the same at Edinburgh, in 1650 and [?], and an Order in Council for the administration of justice in 1655.

2066 Kk. v. 24.

A small folio, on vellum, in double columns, of 107 leaves, each column containing 38 lines, neatly written in a hand which seems to belong to the xiiith century, almost void of contractions. Parts of the MS. are rubricated and coloured, but there is little attempt at ornament. Later hands occur in the margin.

'Gai Suetonii Tranquilli de Vita Cesarum.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Annum agens Cesar... (Lib. i. c. 1.)

Ends (fol. ult.):

...insequentium principum. (Lib. xii. c. ult.)

On fol. ult. b are 44 'Sidonii versus,' beginning 'Cesareos proceres in quorum regna secundis,' and ending 'Expediam series quos tenet imperii.' They are also contained in Dd. x. 41. Their real author is Ausonius. See Carm. 256—260. (Vol. i. pp. 306—313, ed. Valp.)

2067 Kk. v. 25.

A small folio, on silky paper, of 265 leaves, in double columns, each column containing about 43 lines, neatly written in a hand of the xvth century. The initial letters are rubricated, and the MS. is otherwise ornamented, especially at the commencement. The MS. has been a good deal injured by damp.

'Παλαιῶν πάνυ λέξεων' συναγωγή, ascribed to Zonaras.

Begins (fol. 1):

ἄαπτος: ὁ ἀπροσπέλαστος, παρὰ τὸ ἅπτω ἅπτος καὶ ἄαπτος· οὗ οὐκ ἄν τις ἅψαιτο, ἵν' ᾖ ἀπρόσιτος, ἢ ὁ ἄγαν ἀπρόσιτος (leg. ἁπτόμενος) ἐπιτάσει τοῦ ᾱ. (Zonar. Lex. p. 1, ed. Tittm. Lips. 1808.)

Ends (fol. 259, b):

...ὠψωνηκότες: ὀψωνήσαντες δὲ μικρόν. (Id. p. 1900.)

The last six leaves consist of glosses on various books of the New Testament, on Homer, and other matters. The Appendix commences (fol. 259, b) with words beginning with ει arranged according to their genders:

εἴλως: ὁ δοῦλος. (This and much of what follows occurs also in the body of the work.)

Ends (fol. ult. b):

...χοιάχ: δεκέβριος.

2068 Kk. v. 26.

A small folio, on silk paper, of 181 leaves, a few of which are blank or partly so, each page containing from 30 to 40 lines, written by three hands, all belonging to the beginning of the xvith century, or the latter part of the xvth. The edges of the leaves have the original gilding and goffering.

1. ff. 1—18. 'Ἀριστοξένου Ἁρμονικῶν Στοιχείων βιβλία τρία.'

In this part, which is beautifully written, there are 36 lines in a page. The first page is very elegantly illuminated in a Renaissance style. Under the Arms of France is written, Francisci Regis Bibliothecæ dicatus.

Begins:

Τῆς περὶ μέλους ἐπιστήμης πολυμεροῦς οὔσης...

Ends:

...διὰ τετάρτου μέρη πρὸς ἄλληλα ἢ τοσαυταχῶς ῥᾴδιον συνιδεῖν.

This is edited by Meibomius, 4to, Amst. Elzev. MDCLII.

The readings of the present MS. differ slightly from any that he has collated, corresponding the most nearly with his Selden readings.

2. ff. 20—35. A Treatise on Arithmetick by Nicolaus Artabasdus.

In this part there are thirty lines to a page. The calligraphy is inferior. The work is alluded to as unpublished, and one of its problems is cited, by Gilbertus Gualminus ad Eust. Amores. Append. p. 37.

Begins:

Τὴν δήλωσιν τῶν ἐν τοῖς ἀριθμοῖς ζητημάτων λαμπρότατέ μοι Τζαβούχιε...

Ends:

...ἀσφαλῶς τὰ ζητούμενα λύσεις.

This is followed by

Μέθοδος δι' ἧς ἀστειῶς εὑρήσεις ὁποῖον ἀριθμὸν ἔχει τις ἐπὶ νοῦν.

The following seven leaves are blank.

3. ff. 44—51. 'Παράδοσις σύντομος καὶ σαφεστάτη τῆς ψηφορικῆς ἐπιστήμης σχεδιασθεῖσα ἐν Βυζαντίδι τῆς Κωνσταντίνου παρὰ Νικολάου Σμυρναίου Ἀρταβάσδου ἀριθμητικοῦ καὶ γεωμέτρου. τοῦ Ραβδᾶ.'

Begins:

τὴν δήλωσιν τῶν ἐν τοῖς ἀριθμοῖς ζητημάτων...

Ends:

...καὶ ἐπὶ τῶν ἄλλων ὁμοίως. τέλλος.

In this part are included Addition and Multiplication tables, &c.

4. ff. 53—62. 'Μαξίμου Μοναχοῦ τοῦ Πλανούδη ψηφοφορία κατ' Ἰνδοὺς ἡ λεγομένη μεγάλη.'

Begins:

Οἱ τῶν Ἀστρονόμων φιλοσοφώτεροι, ἐπεὶ ὁ μὲν ἀριθμὸς...

Ends:

...καὶ καθεξῆς ἀκολουθῶς ποιῶν εὑρίσεις ἀκριβῶς τὴν ἑκάστου ὀνομασίας.

There follows what seems to be the commencement of a table of powers of numbers. This work is named in Fabricius, Bibl. Græc. Vol. XI. p. 129, ed. Heales.

5. ff. 64—68. 'Ἰσαὰκ Μοναχοῦ τοῦ Ἀργυροῦ μέθοδος ὁπῶς δεῖ εὑρίσκειν τὰς πλευρὰς τῶν μὴ ῥητῶν τετραγώνων.'

See Fabricius, Bibl. Græc. Vol. XI. p. 129. Also Gg. II. 33, which, however, has considerable verbal variations. In this part there are about 31 lines in a page.

Begins:

τῶν μὲν τετραγώνων ἀριθμῶν, τῶν καὶ ῥητῶν λεγομένων...

Ends:

...καὶ ἐπὶ τῶν ἄλλων ὁμοιῶς.

There follow the ἀριθμοὶ Περσικοί, in which the forms of the figures are copied from the Arabick, as is the case also in § 4, but instead of cyphers following a figure to express the hundreds, dots are accumulated over the figure to the number required.

6. ff. 69—73 b. Tracts on Arithmetick.

The first begins:

Ἐπειδήπερ οἱ πολλαπλασιασμοὶ τῶν τε μοιρῶν...

7. ff. 73 b—176. 'Θέωνος Ἀλεξανδρεῶς ἐξήγησις εἰς τὸ πρῶτον βίβλιον τῆς μεγάλης τῷ ὄντι καὶ θαυμαστῆς τοῦ Πτολαιμαίου συντάξεως τὸ προοίμιον εἰς τὸν υἱὸν αὐτοῦ Ἐπιφάνιον οὕτω καλούμενον.'

This is incomplete. The work is published in a fol. volume, with Ptolemy's Μεγάλη σύνταξις, Basil. 1538. See Fabric. Bibl. Græc. Vol. IX. 182.

Begins:

Συνεχέστερον προτρεπόμενος παρὰ τῶν ἀκροατῶν, τέκνον Ἐπιφάνιε...

Ends:

...διὰ τὸ τὴν ἰσημερινὴν ὥραν χρόνων εἶναι ιε̄ ὅπερ ἔδει δεῖξαι.

This is little more than the first 84 pages of the above edition. The texts of the edition and MS. do not correspond very closely.

8. ff. 177—181. 'Ἀψύρτου περὶ ἵππων θεραπείας βιβλίον.'

This is published in the Veterinariæ Medicinæ, Libri duo, edited by Symon Grynæus, 8vo. Basil. 1537. The MS. is incomplete, containing not quite 12 pages of the edition.

Begins:

Στρατευσάμενος ἐν τοῖς τάγμασι...

Ends:

...τῇ ὀριγάνῳ καλύψαντα τὴν κεφαλήν.

2069 Kk. v. 27.

A quarto, on silky paper, of 147 leaves, each containing 23 lines, neatly written in a hand of the XVIth century. The MS. is injured by damp in the latter part.

'Σχόλια εἰς τὸν Πλάτωνος Ἀλκιβιάδην ἀπὸ φωνῆς Ὀλυμπιοδώρου τοῦ μεγάλου φιλοσόφου.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Ὁ μὲν Ἀριστοτέλης ἀρχόμενος τῆς ἑαυτοῦ θεολογίας...

Ends (fol. ult. b):

...μεγάλων παιδικῶν αὐτοῦ κρατήσει. Finis.

Another hand has made various remarks in the margin, by way of correction, &c. Thus (fol. 120 b), 'Hæc (uncis) inclusa superflua sunt, licet in exemplari sint regio.'

These scholia have been published by Creuzer, Frankf. 1821. See Smith's Dict. Gr. and Rom. Biog. s. v. Olympiodorus.

2070 Kk. v. 28.

A small folio, of paper, in 120 leaves, containing about 19 lines in a page. The writing is probably of the xvth century.

TREATISES BY NICOLAUS GERASINUS.

1. ff. 1—88. 'Νικομάχου Γερασινοῦ ἀριθμητικὴ εἰσαγωγή.'

Printed by Christian Wechel, 4to. Paris, 1538. See Fabricius, Bibl. Græc. Vol. v. p. 632. Ed. Harles.

Begins:

Οἱ παλαιοὶ οἱ πρῶτον μεθοδεύσαντες...

Ends:

...τοσαῦτα ἐν πρώτῃ εἰσαγωγῇ ἀρκείτω.

In the margins of the first three pages there are written Greek Scholia.

2. ff. 89—119. 'Νικομάχου Γερασινοῦ Πυθαγορικοῦ ἁρμονικῆς ἐγχειρίδιον.'

This is complete, as edited by Meibomius, among the Antiquæ Musicæ Scriptores, VII. Amstd. 1562.

Begins:

Εἰ καὶ πολύχους καθ' ἑαυτὸν...

Ends:

...καὶ ξύμμετρον ἀπενείματο.

Concerning the name of the author, the following appears in f. 1:—Γερασηνὸς λέγεται ἀπὸ πόλεως ἧς ὄνομα Γέρασα, ἥ ἐστι περὶ Βόστραν καὶ Ἀραβίαν. ἐκλίθη δ' οὕτως ἀπὸ τοῦ τοὺς συστρατεύσαντας τῷ Ἀλεξάνδρῳ μὴ δυνηθέντας πολεμεῖν ἐκεῖ τὴν οἴκησιν ποιήσασθαι.

2071 Kk. v. 29.

A parchment book, in folio, of 124 leaves, written in the XIVth century.

It contains the surveys of several manors belonging to the ABBEY OF ST PETER AT WESTMINSTER.

1. 'Territorium de Holme, Langford, Clifton, Henlowe Ockelesroade, Southynelle et le brome factum tempore ffratris Johannis Fflete custodis maneriorum Regum et Reginarum.' There is nothing to show where these manors are situated, but the first two are in Bedfordshire.—f. 1.

The 10 folios occupied by the above survey appear to form a distinct book from all that follows.

Folio 11 is scribbled over in a disconnected manner on one side and blank on the other.

Folio 12, page a, has at its top a list of the contents of the book as it appears to have been originally written, commencing with folio 16 (No. 6 of this description). The entries between this table of contents and fol. 16 appear to have been added by a later hand; the first excepted, which seems to be of the same date.

2. An exchange of lands between Walter, Abbot of Westminster and the convent and Ralph ffriday de Whethamstede. 22 Edw. I.—f. 12.

3. An extract from the Great Roll of 13 Ric. II. concerning £8 due to the Abbot of Westminster 'pro decima firme de Wychio' in Worcestershire —f. 12 b.

4. A deed of John Bishop of Lincoln reciting a brief of King Henry VI. concerning the sequestration of the church of Aldenham in Hertfordshire, A.D. 1454.—f. 13.

Folio 13 b is blank.

5. An extract from the Records, 49 Edw. III. concerning the taxation of a great number of churches there named which were appropriated to the proper uses of the Abbot and convent of Westminster.—f. 14.

Folio 15 b is blank.

6. 'Extenta de Todyngtone.' The first page of this document is much rubbed and rather illegible.—f. 16.

7. 'Extenta de Echelesforde.' 6 Edw. II.—f. 21.

8. 'Extenta manerii de Hamstede.' 6 Edw. II.—f. 25 b.

9. 'Extenta manerii de Knyghtebrigge cum hameletto de Westeburne.' 6 Edw. II.—f. 31.

10. 'Extenta manerii de Mordone.' 6 Edw. II.—f. 34 b.

11. 'Extenta manerii de Batercheseye.' 6 Edw. II.—f. 39.

12. 'Extenta manerii de Hendone.' 14 Edw. II.—f. 48.

13. 'Extenta manerii de Aldenham' in Hertfordshire. 8 Edw. II.—f. 58 b.

14. 'Extenta manerii de Wathamstede.' 8 Edw. II.—f. 63 b.

15. 'Kenesburne.'—f. 71.

16. 'Extenta manerii de Stivenache,' Herts. 8 Edw. II.—f. 72 b.

17. 'Extenta manerii de Asshwelle,' Herts. 8 Edw. II.—f. 77 b.

The first page of folio 89 is blank.

18. 'Extenta manerii de fferingge.' 17 Edw. I.—f. 89 b.

19. 'Extenta manerii de Kellenedene quod vocatur de Cherthalle.' 22 Edw. I.—f. 106.

20. 'Extenta manerii de Southbemflete.' 8 Edw. II.—f. 110 b.

21. 'ffantone.'—f. 113 b.

22. Grant by Richard Bishop of London of the church of Bemflete to the convent of Westminster.—f. 114 b.

23. Extracts from the records of the court of the Abbot of Westminster at fferynge. 6 Edw. III.—f. 115.

24. 'Combe et mensuracio terre ibidem.'—f. 116.

25. 'Donne in Wandelesworth.'—f. 116 b.

26. 'Stratford Attebowe.'—f. 119 b.

Pages 120 b, 121 a and b, and 122 a, are blank.

27. Appointment of an attorney in the courts of the Abbey at Westminster by Abbot William.—f. 122 b.

There are folios numbered 9, 9*, 59 and 59*

2072 Kk. v. 30.

A quarto, on paper, 325 leaves (excluding prefatory matter), about 36 lines in each page, handwriting chiefly of the xvth century, the rest of the xviith.

'The ancient historie and onely trew and sencere Cronicle off the warres betuix the Gretians and the Trojanes, and subsequentlie off y^e^ firste eversione of the ancient and famous cite of Troye onder Laamedon the King, and last onder Priame: vrettine by Daretus a Trojane and Dictus a Greciane, present [a line appears to have been omitted] by Guido [di Colonna, in his romance entitled Historia Trojana], and now in Englis wers by Ihone Lidgate monk off Burye in England, anno 1451.'

The work is otherwise known as Lydgate's Troy-Boke (see Warton, ii. 291 sq. ed. 1840). The longer title is found in a copy printed at London in 1555.

The beginning and end of the MS. in the later hand was supplied by James Murray, 1612 (see fol. 324 a).

Other entries: 'Kathrin Morton with my hand;' 'Maria Moorrage with my hand:' 'Capitane James Lyell.'

Several scraps of poetry are added at the end of the volume. On a page at the beginning is part of a poem written in a hand of the xviith century, and beginning:

Listine lordings by the dayis off Arthure
Was Britain in greet honoure.

2073

Kk. v. 31.

A small quarto, on silky paper, of 80 leaves (excluding blanks at the beginning and end, which are on a different paper), of which a few are blank, each page containing about 25 lines, exquisitely written in a hand of the middle of the xvith century. The titles of the sections are rubricated. From ff. 17—27 the MS. is written in another, but very inferior, hand of the same period.

1. 'Τὰ Ὀνοσάνδρου στρατηγικά.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Ἱππικῶν μὲν λόγων ἢ κυνηγετικῶν... (c. i. p. 1, ed. Rig.)

Ends (fol. 34 b):

...οὐκ ἀνόητος στρατηγός. (c. ult. Id. p. 118.)

The colophon supplies the title.

The MS. is thus dated: ᾳφξθ (i. e. A.D. 1569) ἐν Λουτετίᾳ τῶν Παρησίων; below, which an early hand has written, 'Nicolaus Bergilius (sic) scripsit.' The scribe's true name was Ἄγγελος Βεργίκιος of Crete, as it appears in his own hand in his superb MS. of Oppian. See Silv. et Champ. Paleogr. Gr. He was brought to Paris by Francis I. and employed by him to catalogue his MSS. His hand served as the model for the types of the Royal press, and his name occasioned the proverb, 'To write like an angel.' (Silv. et Champ. as above.)

2. 'Τὰ Αἰλιανοῦ τακτικά.'

Begins (fol. 39):

προοίμιον τῆς θεωρίας ταύτης πρὸς τὸν αὐτοκράτορα Ἀδριανόν. Τὴν παρὰ τοῖς Ἕλλησι τακτικὴν θεωρίαν. (fol. 1, ed. Robort. Venet. 1552.)

Ends (fol. penult.):

τοῖς ἐναντίοις ἦταν (sic) ἐπάγουσαι. (Id. fol. 60, b.)

The colophon supplies the title. This treatise is likewise in the hand of Angelus Vergicius, who has also added (fol. penult. b) an ἐξήγησις τοῦ ἀντικρὺ σχήματος, but the diagram itself (given in Robortelli's edition of Ælian's Tactics) is wanting. At the beginning and end of this work in a different hand are written scraps, ἐκ τῶν Ἰωσήππου ἀρχαιολογιῶν, ἐκ τοῦ ζ. λόγου, and ἐκ τῶν Φίλωνος περὶ γεωγρίας.

Formerly in the possession of J. B. Hautin.

2074 Kk. v. 32.

A small folio, of 73 leaves, on parchment and vellum, written in the XIth and XIIth centuries.

1. ff. 1—43. 'Duo libri de Arithmetica Ancii Mallii Severini Boetii.'

In this part there are about 33 lines in a page; the initials are green, red, and blue. The figures are chiefly in green and red. The scribe's name appears in the following verses at the conclusion:

Claviger O Petre, cui Christus dixit 'amas me?'
En tuus Edricus parvum tibi confero munus.
Suscipe nec refutes ut pro me dulcius ores.

The MS. contains ff. 1—21 a of the edit. fol. Venet. Gregorii, 1499; i. e. is complete to the end of the Arithmetick.

f. 44 a contains short notes concerning Arithmetick, &c., and some hexameter lines.

f. 44 b contains the Greek numeral letters with their names, and their powers in Greek, written in Roman letters. Also the ecclesiastical termini, with the account of the Angel bringing them to St Pachomius.

This page is in the same hand as the following, which is later than the preceding, and contains 36 lines in the page.

2. ff. 45—48. A Tract on the Church Kalendar.

Begins:

De concurrentibus. Concurrentes sunt qui cum Regularibus...

Ends:

...invenias anno presenti indictione secunda.

The date either of the authorship of this tract, or of the copy from which the present transcript was derived, appears thus: 'Verbi gratia: anni præsentis qui est incarnationis Domini DCCLXXVIII annus. Est quippe indictio prima.'

Then follow a few short notes in double column, but in the same hand. Of these the first is de septem Planetis, which are named Saturnus, Pheton, Hesper, Sol, Lucifer, Mercurius, Luna.

3. ff. 49—60 a. A Kalendar.

The Saxon names are written in the Saxon character. The position of the Sun in the Zodiac for every month is described in a Latin hexameter.

f. 60 b contains a table of Roman weights and measures, partly in Latin and partly in Anglo-Saxon.

4. ff. 61—72. Ciclus Magnus Pascalis.

There are four leaves cut out at the end. Each page contains the period of one Lunar cycle of nineteen years, and there should be 28 pages for the Solar cycle. The vertical columns give the year in the Lunar cycle, the Concurrents, Septuagesima, Quadragesima, Easter, Pentecost, besides two margins, of which the first records the Popes and the Emperors, &c. for the first great cycle after Christ; and the second those for the second cycle beginning A.D. DLI., and also those for the third great cycle as far as to the year 1100, Ob' Will. Rex, junior, but the latter entries appear to be in a later hand than the Kalendar. The years of the cycles with which each page concludes are given at the foot, distinguished by the letters A, B, Γ.

The last leaf contains the fragment of a book de Computo.

The only traces of ownership are in illegible scribblings, unless the following entries in the Kalendar contain possessors' names. 24th and 27th of May, obiit Ælfgifii filia Æþeldie, obiit Ælfflæd, mulier Ælfgari.

2075 Kk. v. 33.

A quarto, on parchment, containing 123 leaves, with 23 lines in a page, written in Latin, in a hand of the XIVth century, with rubricated titles and coloured capitals. This MS. is noticed in the Record edition of the Statutes.

A Collection of Law Tracts, Statutes, &c.

1. 'Tractatus de legibus et consuetudinibus regni Anglie, tempore Henrici Regis Secundi compositus, justicie gubernacula tenente Randulpho de Glanvilla, juris regni et antiquarum consuetudinum eo tempore peritissimo.'

This corresponds generally with the printed copies, except that the books and chapters are not numbered. See note on Ii. VI. 13.

2. f. 69. 'Tractatus de legibus et consuetudinibus Anglie editis tempore Magni Regis Willielmi.'

These are the laws of Edward the Confessor, which were confirmed by William the Conqueror. They are printed in Lambarde's 'ΑΡΧΑΙΟΝΟΜΙΑ, p. 138.

This is written upon eight leaves, in a neat hand of the latter part of the XVIth century, and is an insertion between the preceding and following Articles.

3. f. 77. Registrum Brevium.

4. f. 99. 'Carta Domini Regis Henrici, filii Regis Johannis, de Libertatibus.'

5. f. 103 b. Carta de Foresta Regis Henrici III.

6. f. 106. 'Sententia lata apud Westm. pro libertatibus Dni Regis [Hen. III.] concessis Archiepiscopis, Episcopis, et aliis Ecclesie Prelatis, A.D. 1253.'

7. f. 107. 'Assisa de pane faciendo prolata per pistores Domini Galfridi, filii Petri, et per pistores Stephani de Turneham.'

Stephen de Turneham lived in the reign of Hen. III. Escheat Records.

8. f. 107 b. 'Dioceses totius mundi.—Episcopi sub Romano Pontifice, qui non sunt in alterius provincia.'

9. f. 117 b. 'Nomina eorum qui veniebant in Angliam cum Willielmo Conquestore.'

This is the Roll of Battle Abbey, and is written in a hand of the latter part of the xvith century. It contains 637 names, and differs from the lists given by Leland, Holinshed, and Foxe.

2076

Kk. v. 34.

A small and rather tall quarto on vellum, of 47 leaves, each page containing about 20 lines, neatly but corruptly written in a very early half-Saxon hand, with almost no contractions, which may perhaps be assigned to the ixth or xth century. The titles of the works and the initial letters are simply coloured, without any kind of ornament. Various later hands occur throughout the volume.

1. A patristic comment, of 13 lines, on the parable of the Prodigal Son.

Begins (fol. 1):

Homo habens duos filios Deus est intellegendus habens duos populos, quorum major figuram tenuit Iudaeorum qui permansit in Dei cultura.

This comment is borrowed (with some alterations) from St Augustine. See his Quæst. Evang. Lib. II. c. 33. (Op. Vol. III. p. 1630, ed. Par. 1837.)

2. 'Oratio matutina Ausonii ad Deum omnipotentem.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Omnipotens quem mente colo, Pater unice, rerum...

Ends (fol. 3 b):

Et responsuris ferit aera uocibus amen.

Auson. Carm. 153. Differing from the Bipontine text.

3. 'Monosyllaba Ausonii de gentibus.'

Begins (fol. 3 b), 'Stat Iouis ad ciathum generat quem Dardanius Tros,' taken from Carm. 345, v. 19 to the end.

4. Ausonii 'de Vere.'

Begins (fol. 3 b):

Annus ab exortu cum flore parum (leg. floriparum) reserat uer.'

Auson. Carm. 346; and having the 6th line Iam pelago, &c.

5. Ausonii 'per interrogationem et responsionem.'

Begins (fol. 3 b):

Quis subit in pœnam, &c. Auson. Carm. 347.

6. Ausonii 'Grammaticomestix' (sic).

Begins:

Et loco dedalias (leg. Elogodædalia)... Id. Carm. 349.

7. Ausonii 'Versus monosyllabi et coepti et finiti ita ut a fine uersus ad principium recurrat.'

Begins (fol. 4 b):

Res hominum fragiles... Id. Carm. 339.

8. [Ausonii monosyllaba tantum in fine posita.]

Begins (fol. 5):

Æmula Dis... Id. Carm. 340.

The prose preface is wanting in this MS.

9. Ausonii 'de membris.'

Begins (fol. 5 b):

Indicat in pueris... Id. Carm. 341.

10. Ausonii 'de inconexis' (sic).

Begins (fol. 5 b):

Sæpe in coniugibus... Id. Carm. 342.

11. Ausonii 'de Diis.'

Begins (fol. 6):

Sunt et cælicolum... Id. Carm. 343.

12. Ausonii 'de Cibis.'

Begins (fol. 6):

Nec nostros reticebo... Id. Carm. 344.

13. Ausonii 'de historiis.'

Begins (fol. 6 b):

Solamen tibi... Id. Carm. 345, vv. 1—18.

14. 'Versus L de quodam superbo,' Ioruet vel Ioruert dicto, auctoris Christiani incerti sequioris ævi.

Begins (fol. 7):

Si torpens celeri tigrem superare fugacem...

Ends (f. 10):

...Sordes, parce, precorque iterum mihi talia scribe.

The poem is by a Christian (Christum occurs v. 43), probably by an Englishman (Anglos occurs v. 23); certainly by a poet who had very little skill in his quantities, as Jorbert seems to have perceived (fol. 10 b). Some unusual words are found in it, e. g. babbiger, baburus, barritor (the last not occurring even in the recent edition of Du Cange), and many words taken from the Greek, as diapente, epitritus, syntheca, &c. The eighth century, according to Mr Wright, produced most of the Anglo-Saxon Latin poets, and it seems likely enough that this is a production of that age.

15. Another poem, of 90 short lines of two feet each, by the same author, against Jorbert.

Begins (fol. 10 b):

Gaudia dicto...

Ends (f. 11):

...Lumen in aeuum.

16. An elegiac poem on God and Nature.

Begins (fol. 11 b):

Cuncta creans natura triplex in usiade (sic) simpla;
Est natura Deus, quicquid et ipse creat...

Ends (fol. 16):

Idcirco Dominum rogitemus corde fideli
Prebeat ut famulo gaudia pro merito.

The first line seems to be imitated from Sedulius. See Du Cange, s. v. simplare: usias=οὐσία is hardly found elsewhere. The latter part of the poem relates to the Apostles.

17. 'Res Rufini de ponderibus et mensuris.'

Begins (fol. 16):

Pondera Peonicis ueterum memorata libellis...

Ends (fol. 20):

...Hæc quoque dragmarum simili tibi forma notetur.

Perhaps an unedited work: it is not very clear who this Rufinus is.

18. 'Culex Publii Virgilii Maronis.'

Begins (fol. 20):

Lusimus, Octaui, gracili modulante Thalia... (v. 1.)

Ends (fol. 30 b):

...Funeris officium uitæ pro munere reddat. (v. 413.)

This MS. is just alluded to in Valpy's edition, Vol. VIII. p. 4583: it does not appear to have been collated.

19. 'P. Virgilii Maronis Æthna.'

Begins (fol. 31):

Aethna mihi ruptique cauis fornacibus ignes... (v. 1, fol. 46, ed. Ald.)

Ends (fol. 47):

...Sed curae cessere domus et iura piorum. (v. ult. Id. fol. 56 b.)

Publii Virgilii Maronis Aethna finit. Scriptor qui scripsit.

On this piece (also ascribed to Severus) and the editions of it, see Fabr. Bibl. Lat. Vol. I. p. 372, ed. Ern.

On the margin of fol. 20 is an elegant little poem of 9 lines, beginning, 'Sit mihi talis amica velim,' but written in a hand of the XVIIth century.

2077 Kk. v. 35.

A thick octavo, on paper, containing ff. 403, with 14 lines in a page. Date, the XVth century. The quires are numbered from α to μβ, the leaves of the first half of the quires being separately marked. The quires are in eights, excepting those at the end of S. Matthew, S. Luke, and S. John, which have only four leaves; one leaf is cut off from quire ιη, but by the original scribe, so that the MS. is perfect.

QUATUOR EVANGELIA GRÆCE.

This is the MS. marked 62 by Scholz. See his Prolegomena, p. liv. He states that 'familiæ Constantinopolitanæ adhæret,' and that it was formerly the property 'Henrici Googe.'

At the end is an epigram, beginning:

Ζωὴ καὶ θάνατος ὥς πύλαι δύο...

And a versified list of the Apostles, beginning:

Δώδεκα δ' αὖ Χριστοῖο Θεοῦ μεγάλοιο μαθηταὶ...

both written in red ink.

2078 Kk. v. 36.

A foolscap quarto, on paper, of 69 leaves, dated 1688.

'A TREATISE OF SEVERALL GEOMETRICALL PROBLEMS WHICH ARE MOST NECESSARY FOR THE REGULAR AND IRREGULAR FORTIFICATIONS.' Also, A TREATISE OF FORTIFICATION.

The problems and figures face one another on opposite pages.

Opposite the 43rd leaf is a folding copper engraving, exhibiting the profile of the defences of a town. The name of Harrison is on the first fly-leaf.

2079 Kk. v. 37.

A small quarto, on silky paper, of 149 leaves, each page containing about 24 lines, neatly written in a hand of the end of the xvth, or early part of the xvith century. Various parts of the MS. are rubricated and ornamented.

'Τοῦ μακαριωτάτου φιλοσόφου κυρίου Κωνσταντίνου τοῦ Μανασσῆ σύνοψις χρονικὴ διὰ στίχων, ἀπὸ κτίσεως κόσμου τὴν ἀρχὴν ποιουμένη καὶ διήκουσα μέχρι τῆς βασιλείας τοῦ Βοτανειάτου κυρίου Νικηφόρου. τὸ προοίμιον πρὸς τὴν σεβαστοκρατόρισσαν Κυρᾶν Εἰρήνην τὴν νύμφην βασιλέως Μανουὴλ ἐπὶ τῷ (sic semper) αὐταδέλφῳ αὐτοῦ κυρίῳ Ἀνδρονίκῳ.'

Begins (fol. 1):

ἡ μὲν φιλόϋλος ψυχὴ ταῖς ὕλαις ἐπιχάσκει. (v. 1. p. 3, ed. Bekk.)

Ends (fol. ult.):

οὐ γὰρ περάσιμα φασὶ τὰ τῶν Γαδείρων πέρα. (v. 6733. Id. p. 286.)

At the end is this subscription:

εἴληφε τέλος σὺν θεῷ παντεργάτη βίβλος Μανασσῆ τοῦ γραμματικωτάτου· οἱ δ' ἀναγινώσκοντες ταύτην ἐκ πόθου
δέησιν θεῷ ὑπὲρ ἐμοῦ ποιεῖτε, ὅπως εὕρω ἵλεον αὐτὸν ἐν κρίσει.

2080 Kk. v. 38.

A small quarto, of 467 numbered pages and 228 blank, on paper, written in the xviiith century.

SYLLOGE EPISTOLARUM, &c.

The collector of these was Abednego Sellers, as is attested in a note signed G. Ashby, St John's, written in the fly-leaf. Abednego Sellers was author of a history of Palmyra. His own Index to the volume, on p. 4, is as follows:

2081 Kk. vi. 1.

A small quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 85, with 19 lines in a page. Date, the xivth century. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf; the MS. is imperfect at the end. f. 25 is out of its place, as it belongs apparently to the last quire.

Tractatus de Penitentia, De Matrimonio, de Sacris Ordinibus, &c.

Begins (after a prologue 'Res grandis immo primaria...' addressed to a Decanus Sarum):

Suscipe Domine me miserum peccatorem...

Ends:

...non de loco ad locum pergat: set...

2082 Kk. vi. 2.

A small thick quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 221, with 31 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century. The MS. has lost its first leaf, and is imperfect at the end. There are signatures in eights and catchwords.

Sermons in English on the Gospels throughout the Year.

Begins:

...ne oon of þe knyȝtis...

The obverse of the last leaf is illegible; the last words of the recto are:

...ȝit myche moore he was to...

These sermons are by a Wycliffite. See Kk. vi. 28, and the Preface to Forshall and Madden's edition of the Wycliffe Bible, p. xx. where a specimen will be found.

2083 Kk. vi. 3.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

2084 Kk. vi. 4.

A small thick quarto, on parchment, containing ff. 247, with 22 lines in a page. The quires consist of eight leaves each. A leaf is lost after f. 7, eight leaves after f. 230, several after f. 246, and the MS. is imperfect at the end. Date (according to Scholz), the xith century.

ACTUS APOSTOLORUM ET EPISTOLÆ GRÆCÆ.

This MS. is stated by Scholz to be of the Constantinopolitan family. He has made two MSS. out of it, marking it as 9 in § 63, and 112 in § 64, of his Prolegomena to Vol. II., the one as Kk. VI. 4, and the other as 2068, the number it has in Nasmith's Catalogue. Porson, in the year 1794, established its identity with the MS. marked $\iota\gamma$ in the margin of Robert Stephens' folio edition. See Kidd's Tracts and Criticism of Porson, p. 299. It formerly belonged to Vatablus, whose name appears at the end.

At the beginning is also the name of J. B. Hautin.

The lacunæ are Acts iii. 6—17; 1 Tim. iv. 12—2 Tim. iv. 3; Heb. vii. 20—xi. 10, and all after Heb. xi. 23.

2085 Kk. vi. 5.

A duodecimo, on paper, containing 412 pages, numbered as far as p. 369, written in Latin, in a hand of the xviith century.

'EXPOSITIO IN PANDECTAS JUSTINIANI.'

It is imperfect at the end, the last nine Chapters of Book L. being wanting.

2086 Kk. vi. 6.

A duodecimo, on parchment, containing 58 leaves, with about 26 lines in a page, written in Law-French and Latin, in a hand of the latter part of the xivth century.

1. ff. 2—6. Fragmentum Registri Brevium.

2. ff. 9—45. Statuta Regis EDWARDI III.

This is an abbreviation of all the Statutes of that reign.

3. ff. 47—55. Statutum quartum apud Westm. 31 EDWARDI III.—Ordinatio facta pro Statu Terræ Hiberniæ.

4. ff. 56—58. Tractatus de Ponderibus et Mensuris, et de Assisa Panis.

On f. 55 b is a receipt, in English, 'Ad delendam Maculam in Oculo.'

2087 Kk. vi. 7.

A duodecimo, on paper, of 166 leaves (excluding blanks at both ends), each page containing 30—50 lines, neatly written, in a minute contracted hand of the middle of the xviith century.

1. 'Philosophia Universalis, vulgo Metaphisica a Magistro Hugone Smith dictatæ et a me Roberto Trott[ero' scriptæ].

Begins (fol. 1):

Præludium I. De natura philosophiæ. Quid sit philosophia satis constare potest...

Ends (fol. 91 b):

...movemur et quiescimus. Finis coronat opus.

2. 'Philosophia moralis vulgo Ethica, a Magistro Hugone Smith et a me Roberto Trottero diligenter conscriptæ.'

Begins (fol. 92):

Præludium de ejusdem natura. Præsuppositis iis quæ de philosophia...

Ends (fol. 162 b):

...hic quæri possent ante explicavimus.

These works, begun Dec. 12, 1664, and ended June 15, 1665, are divided into books, and contain many disquisitions, De summo bono, De ente possibili et actuali, De signo et signato, De gaudio et tristitia, De lege positiva humanæ, De justitia, &c., which it is not worth while to describe more particularly.

3. 'Summa Ethicorum Aristotelis.'

Begins (fol. 163):

Hoc (primo) libro agit philosophus de summo bono...

Ends (fol. 166 b):

...ut tyranno invictissimo satisfaceremus monosyllabum illud mors illigitur (?) Finis coronat opus.

The Summa ends with Book v. c. 11 of the Ethics.

2088 Kk. vi. 8.

A small octavo, on paper, containing ff. 70, with about 20 lines in a page. Date, 1517.

'Abbreviatio Magistri Sententiarum, Distinctionum singularum summarios complectens.'

Begins:

Veritas [sic] ac novi Testamenti...

Ends:

...vident in inferno.

This is a very brief summary of the Sentences—to each book is prefixed a sort of Memoria Technica, giving a leading word by which to remember each distinction.

2089 Kk. vi. 9.

A 12mo, on paper, containing ff. 238, with about 25 lines in a page. Date, 1684. The last leaf is lost.

'A new Form of Meditations for every day in the year, written originally in French by R. F. John Crasset S. T., and faithfully put into English by A. H. F. M.'

Begins (after the Preface, 'There are many people already...' and Tables of the Meditations):

The first Meditation, &c. I came from God...

Ends:

...Be in mee and I you. ibid.

2090 Kk. vi. 10.

A 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 152, with 17 lines in each page. It has illuminated initials, and rich borders. Date, the xvth century. Apparently of French workmanship.

'Horæ beatæ Mariæ Virginis secundum consuetudinem Anglye.'

The Kalendar occupies 12 leaves, and the Hours begin f. 13, followed, f. 60, by the Penitential Psalms, Gradual Psalms, and Litany; in f. 83 the 'Vigiliæ Mortuorum' begin, and in f. 112 the 'Commendationes animarum,' the Psalms of the Passion in f. 129, and S. Jerome's Psalter preceded by the usual rubrick in f. 137; after this the MS. ends, f. 151 b, with a prayer to S. Sebastian in a later hand. The illuminations, with the exception of that to the 'Commendationes animarum' and S. Jerome's Psalter, have been cut out.

At the end is—

Iste liber pertinet ad me Joannys Deane.

The last leaf and the inside of the cover form a portion of a leaf of a Breviary.

2091 Kk. vi. 11.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

2092 Kk. vi. 12.

A thick 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 270, with 25 lines in a page. Date, the xvth century.

'Veritas summarum theologie' [Alberti Magni?]

Begins (after the list of chapters, and the Prologue 'Veritatis theologiæ sublimitas...'):

Deum esse multis modis ostenditur...

Ends:

...recipiet secundum merita sine fine.

This treatise, which has been ascribed to various authors, will be found in Jammy's edition of Albertus Magnus, T. xiii. The MS. contains an additional paragraph at the end of the last chapter of Lib. vii. On the blank portions of f. 184, which concludes Lib. v., are two rude outline-drawings, one apparently of Henry VIII., the other a caricature of a monk.

2093 Kk. vi. 13.

A 12mo, on paper, containing ff. 295, with about 30 lines in a page. Date, 1660—1662.

Notes in English (for the most part) on the Gospels and Acts of the Apostles.

Begins (f. 14):

S. Luke i. v. 1. πολλοὶ, do quibus intelligendum sit...

Ends:

...since the Divine and sacred ends here.

Prefixed (ff. 1—3) is 'The Contents of the 4 Evangelists as they are harmonized and divided into sections by Dr Lightfoot.'

At the beginning (f. 13) is the date, 'Sept. 12, 1660.' At the end, 'Sept. 2, 1662.'

2094 Kk. vi. 14.

A small quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 183, with 18 lines in each page. The initial letters are illuminated, and contain very curious figures of David, &c. Date, the xivth century.

Psalterium cum Canticis.

The Kalendar occupies from ff. 3—8, and the Psalter begins f. 9, the initial B containing David and Goliath in the upper loop, and David as king in the lower, and ends f. 166 (the Psalms have all their numbers affixed by a later hand); the Canticles begin f. 166 b, and are followed by the Litany, which ends f. 183.

On the fly-leaves at the end a former possessor has inserted a few prayers; one for his two children, William and Martha.

On f. 1, the same hand that numbered the Psalms has written, in ink that once was red, 'Exemplar vetus—corrupta multa, imperfecta plurima, vide Spalmum (sic) 97.' This refers to Ps. xcvi. 9, which is incorrectly read in this Psalter.

2095 Kk. vi. 15.

A small square volume, of parchment, containing three distinct tracts.

1. 75 leaves, with 29 lines in a page. Date, the xiith century.

FULCHERII CARNOTENSIS 'HISTORIA JERUSALEM.'

The present copy is continued somewhat further than Ii. iv. 48, and extends nearly to the end of the text of Bongarsius, ending abruptly, 'Pascalis servus [servorum] Dei, reverentissimo.' See Duchesne, Vol. iv. p. 878 c. A very few of the initials are coloured red and green. There is no division into books.

Begins:

Anno ab Incarnatione Domini millesimo nonagesimo quinto...

2. 28 leaves, each page containing about 24 lines, written in a small contracted hand of the xivth century. Interlinear and marginal notes abound in the MS.

M. T. CICERONIS LIBER DE SENECTUTE.

Begins (fol. 1):

[O] Tite siquid ego te adiuto (sic) curamve leuasso (c. 1)...

Ends (fol. ult. b):

...re experte probare possitis. Explicit. (c. ult.)

3. 33 leaves, (excluding slips which are interleaved here and there,) each page containing from 20 to 30 lines, written apparently in a hand of the xiiith century, very full of contractions.

a. M. T. Ciceronis Paradoxa.

Begins (fol. 1):

Animaduerti, Brute, sepe Catonem auunculum tuum (c. 1)...

Ends (fol. 12 b):

...pauperes existimandi sunt. Explicit. (c. ult.)

b. Extracts from Pseudo-Seneca, and others.

They are prefaced by a short and absurd notice of Seneca and his letters to St Paul, contained in eight lines (fol. 13) beginning:

Lucius Anneus Seneca de Grecis fuit: locus eius in regione Neronis...

The following extracts have no titles.

Pseudo-Senecæ Constitutio de Moribus.

Begins (fol. 13):

Omne peccatum actio est... (Senecæ, Op. fol. 1, ed. B. de Col. Tarv. 1478.)

Ends (fol. 15 b):

...intergemiscit socius tue beatitudinis. (Id. fol. 1 b.)

This is almost the entire treatise of Pseudo-Seneca, really written by Martinus Dumiensis. See Dd. xv. 21. § 5.

After this follow a multitude of short moral extracts, which may perhaps be worthy of verification or examination; some of them are manifestly from Christian authors, (the words monachus and ecclesiastica occur at fols. 23 and 25). The names of Ambrosius, Xenocrates, Demosthenes, Plato, Aristoteles, Diogenes, Hermogenes, Theophrastus, Seneca, &c. occur at fol. 24 and fol. 32. The last two pages are mostly taken from Pseudo-Seneca de Proverbiis: the concluding words of the MS. (fol. 33) are:

Zelari hominibus viciosum. Senecæ Op. sig. p. 5, b. Ed. B. de Col. Tarv. 1478.

2096 Kk. vi. 16.

A small volume, on parchment, 186 leaves (according to the old pagination), about 30 lines in each page; handwriting of the xivth century.

1. 'Historia Bruti,' so reads the colophon (fol. 170 a): or the History of Geoffrey of Monmouth.

The present scribe completed his task at Worcester in 1327 (Ibid). Several pages appear to have been left blank after fol. 7. They are now filled with historical notes, and a piece of poetry commencing 'O myghty Mars that marrith many a wight:' handwriting of the xvnth century. The history is then resumed at fol. 11, but a gap occurs immediately after, the next leaf being numbered 24.

2. A prophetical poem, without title, handwriting somewhat later, about 50 lines in each page.

Begins (fol. 170 a):

[F]ebribus infectus requies fuerat mihi lectus,
Vexatus mente dormiui nocte sequente...

The following note, almost illegible, occurs on fol. 176 b, in the same hand: 'Istos versus dixit unus Canonicus de Bredlyngton qui fuit quasi fatuus reputatus et jacuit in lecto mortali, circa annum M.CCC.'

3. A prophecy of Becket, Archbp. of Canterbury: no title.

Begins (fol. 177 a):

Quando ego Thomas Cantuariensis archiepiscopus exulatus ab Anglia fugiebam...

4. 'Prophecia quam composuit Holpes philosophus.'

Begins (fol. 178 b):

Gallorum nouitas Germanos justificabit.

At the end (fol. 179 a) is written, 'Prophecia...quam ego Jacobus Jocoze inueni in ecclesia beati Thome Rome, anno primo domini Bonifacii qui nomine est nono' [1389].

5. A short Latin poem with the colophon, 'Prophecia Sancti Thome Martyris' (fol. 179 b).

6. Another, with the colophon, Prophecia quam Gyldas abbas de Glastynberi composuit.'

Then follow several short extracts in different hands.

7. 'Prophetia Willelmi de Stapulton quondam forestarii foreste de Inglewode, anno Dom. M.CCC.LXXIX.': hand of the XVIIth century (fol. 182 b).

On fol. 185 b is part of a 'Prophetia abbatis Joichim [i.e. Joachim, founder of the monastery of Floris] anno Dom. M.C.LXXX.'

Marks of ownership, in a hand of the XVth century, 'Iste liber est Thome Pooche questoris quem accomodauit fratri magistro Lynwode,' &c.

On the last page are written, 'Nicholas Ferrar ex dono magistri Danielis Birkett,' and 'W. Staunton,' both hands of the XVIIth century.

2097 Kk. VI. 17.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 273, in double columns of 33 lines. Date, the XIVth century.

'SUMMA REMUNDI' DE PENNAFORTI.

Begins (after a full table of contents):

Quoniam ut ait Jeronimus secunda post naufragium...

Ends:

...vero perdit sicut ubi dicitur.

Printed, Rome, 1603. The last few lines are not in the MS.

2098 Kk. VI. 18.

A 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 52, with 13 lines in each page. Date, the XIVth century.

'PSALTERIUM BEATI GREGORII EPISCOPI,' the last word having been substituted for 'pape.'

It begins (f. 2):

Comitetur nos quæsumus domine semper gratia tua...

Ends (f. 52):

...O bone Jesu queso ut abluas inquitatem meam. Amen.

There are catchwords at every 8th leaf; 4 leaves are lost between ff. 45 and 46; the last leaf is written in a later hand. f. 1 contains the numbers of the Penitential Psalms, Psalms of Commendation, &c.

On the inside of the cover are six lines, beginning:

Good man fool ass loute
That tearest a book w'out doubte
That dooth displeasse thee...

A small loose leaf in this MS. contains the heads of a Sermon on the parable of Dives and Lazarus, in a XVIIth century hand.

2099 Kk. VI. 19.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 138. Date, the XIVth century. The first leaf is lost.

1. ff. 1—174. 18 lines in a page.

SANCTI BENEDICTI REGULA MONACHORUM.

The beginning of the prologue is lost, the first words being...[no]lite obdurare corda vestra...

After the table of contents the work begins (with an initial letter representing S. Benedict giving his rule to a monk):

Monachorum quatuor esse genera...

Ends:

...culmina deo protegente pervenies. Amen.

The Regula S. Benedicti will be found in the 66th volume of Migne's Patrologia.

2. ff. 75—111. In a different hand, with 23 lines in a page.

'Sancti Bernardi de Precepto et Dispensatione.'

Begins (after the Epistola Domino Abbati Columbensi...and the prologue 'Qua mente jam tacebo?...'):

Prima igitur questio circa regulam...

Ends:

...quod et studui satisfacere voluntati.

Opp. Par. 1839. T. I. coll. 1173—1214.

3. ff. 112—138. Alcuini Liber de Virtutibus et Vitiis.

Begins (after the Prologue 'Dilectissimo filio Vindonii comiti...'):

Primum omnium querendum est homini...

Ends:

...perpetua coronabitur gloria. Amen.

Opp. ed. Migne, Par. 1851. T. II. coll. 613—638.

2100 Kk. vi. 20.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 155, of which the last four are blank, with from 18 to 28 lines in each page. Written in various hands of the xvth century. There are catchwords after every 12th leaf. A leaf is lost between ff. 150 and 151.

A Collection of Theological Tracts, Prayers, &c.

1. ff. 1—7 b. 'Matutine in veneracione nominis Ihesu edite a beato Ricardo de Hampole.'

Begins:

Salutem mentis et corporis donet...

2. ff. 7 b—10. 'Missa de eodem et ab eodem ut creditur edita.'

Begins:

In nomine Ihesu omne genu...

At the end is a rubrick stating that in 1411, Robert Bishop of Salisbury 'in castro suo Shirborne' gave to all making use of this 'missa' forty days indulgence.

3. ff. 11—26 b. 'Orationes excerpte de diversis tractatibus quos composuit Beatus Ricardus heremita ad honorem nominis Ihesu.'

4. ff. 26 b—39 a. 'Orationes excerpte de contemplacionibus beati Bernardi Clarevallensis abbatis.'

5. ff. 39 a—51 a. 'Meditacio Sancti Anselmi ad excitandum timorem.'

This is Meditacio II. of Opp. ed. Migne, T. I. col. 722. Terret me vita mea...

This is followed by the 'Oratio ante Missam.' Summe sacerdos et vere pontifex...Oratio 29. Ibid. I. col. 921. 'Oratio contra desperationem,' 'Oratio dicenda post consecrationem et ante communicationem.' Bede's Prayer on the Seven Words of Our Lord on the Cross. 'Oratio de Maria et Johanne,' followed by a 'Prosa Beate Marie,' beginning,

O Maria mediatrix compos celi glorie
Fons immense pietatis mater indulgentie
Ad te reum fugientem me benigna suscipe.

And another prayer to our Lady.

6. ff. 51 b—60. 'Verba cujusdam sancti ad excitandum compunctionem in cordibus legentium.'

This is followed by prayers, a rubrick from S. Augustine's, 'De laude Psalmorum,' 'Oratio in temptatione,' and other prayers, with the 'Passio domini nostri secundum Johannem,' preceded by a promise of indulgence from Pope John XXII. to all reading or hearing it.

7. ff. 61—92 a. 'Augustinus de cognitione vere vite.'

Begins:

Sapientia Dei que os muti aperuit...

Ends:

...nos omnes ad summum bonum perducat. Amen.

Opp. ed. Par. 1837. v. Append. col. 1465.

8. ff. 93—107 a. 'Quod non manet panis materialis factus de frumento in sacramento altaris post consecrationem.'

This consists of extracts from various fathers. It is followed by some paragraphs 'De Voluntate.'

9. ff. 107 a—109. Sermo in S. Matt. viii. 24: 'secundum Origenem.' Cum multa miranda...

Origen's comment upon this place is wanting in the editions.

10. ff. 110—129 a. 'Liber beati Augustini de vita Christiana.'

Begins:

Et ego peccator et ultimus...

Ends:

...non possumus, conferamus absentes.

Opp. T. VI. Append. col. 1503.

11. ff. 129 b—132. Sermo in 1 Cor. iii. 12.

Multi sunt qui lectionem istam...

12. ff. 133—149 a. 'Tractatus beati Augustini de visitacione infirmorum.'

Begins:

Visitacionis gratia nepoti meo...

Ends:

...justificatus ab ipso qui vivit, &c.

Opp. T. VI. Append. col. 1671.

A few other extracts, de Confessione, from S. Augustine, 'in libro de penitentiæ,' &c. follow.

An extract 'Quomodo Comprehendi potest Deus in hac vita' from the 9th chapter of the 'Flores Beati Bernardi,' follows, and one beginning 'Quid est Deus' ad papam Eugenium. The MS. is imperfect, a note at the end referring to a previous leaf which has been torn away.

2101 Kk. VI. 21.

A 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 437, with 23 lines in each page. Date, 1440. There are a few illuminated initials and borders.

BREVIARUM SECUNDUM USUM SARUM.

The MS. begins imperfectly, f. 1, with the prayer 'Deus auctor pacis et amator...' in the middle of Matins on Advent Sunday, and the Offices follow throughout the year, ending with that 'In dedicacione ecclesie,' which is unfinished, and is followed, f. 145, by commemorations of S. Stephen and S. John Evangelist; and f. 146 the hymns 'O lux beate Trinitas,' and 'Ecce jam noctis tenuatur umbra.' The next 6 leaves contain the Kalendar, and the Psalter begins f. 153, followed by the 'Te Deum,' &c. and Litany. In f. 279 is the note:

Dominus Ricardus Thirlewall scripsit hunc librum a.d. m.cccc^{mo}xl^{o} ad laudem dei qui est benedictus in secula sempiterna. Amen.

The 'Commune Sanctorum' begins f. 280, and the 'Proprium Sanctorum' in f. 326, ending, f. 431 b, with S. Gereon. The MS. ends, f. 435, with a commemoration of S. Thomas of Canterbury, and the translation of S. Osmund.

2102 Kk. VI. 22.

A small duodecimo, on paper, containing 74 leaves (a few of which are blank), with about 14 lines in a page, written A.D. 1635, and dedicated to the Earl of Warwick.

A Treatise on the Jurisdiction and Practice of the Court of Star-Chamber, with the Privileges of the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper therein.

Begins (after the Dedication and Contents):

To sette forth exactly the dignity of the high Court of Star Chamber would require the penne of a deep judgment...

Ends:

...done in open Cort contrary to that which is desired by the peticion, the order thereupon obteyned shall not binde the other party. Finis.

2103 Kk. vi. 23.

A small quarto, on paper, of 67 leaves, a blank one occurring here and there, each page containing about a dozen lines, fairly written in a hand of the xvith century.

1. 'Φιλοστράτου Ἀθηναίου ἐπιστολαί.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Μειρακίῳ. Τὰ ῥόδα ὥσπερ πτεροῖς... (Philost. Epist. i. Op. p. 319, Ed. West.)

Ends (fol. 36 b, abruptly):

...ἡ δὲ Τυρὼ Ἐνιππεῖ ἐπενήξατο. (Epist. xlvii. Id. p. 331.)

This MS. omits the xiith epistle, and contains only the beginning of Epistle xlvii. The first forty-seven epistles are otherwise complete, with trifling exceptions.

2. Certain epistles of Theophylactus Simocatta, without title or author's name.

Begins (fol. 38):

Θέτις Ἀναξάρχῳ. Οὐ δύνασαι Θέτιδος καὶ Γαλατείας... (Epist. Theoph. Sim. in Coll. Epist. Græc. sig. χ. iiii b Ed. Ald.)

Ends (fol. 44):

...τὴν ἄκανθα (sic) εὐλαβούμενος. (Id. sig. χ. vi.)

The Epistles here contained are those of Thetis to Anaxarchus, Pericles to Aspasia, Leander to Pylades, Aristoxenus to Polyxena, Chryseis to Hephæstion, Sosipater to Axiochus, Galatea to Thetis, Poitho to Hippolytus, Plato to Dionysius, and Chrysogone to Terpander. Each of these is contained in the Aldine collection.

3. The sixth Epistle of Pseudo-Æschines.

Begins (fol. 42 b):

Αἰσχίνης. Ἀρίστων οὗτος... (Oratt. Att. p. 477. Ed. Saupp.)

Ends (fol. 43):

...μνήμη καὶ λόγος. (Id.)

4. The Choice of Hercules by Prodicus, preserved by Xenophon.

Begins (fol. 43 b):

Καὶ Πρόδικος δὲ ὁ σοφὸς... (Xenoph. Mem. Socr. Lib. II. c. 1. § 21.)

Ends (fol. 46 b):

...τὴν πόλιν ὠφελητέον. (Id. § 28.)

5. [Λιβανίου] 'περὶ ἐπισταλτικοῦ χαρακτῆρος.'

Begins (fol. 48):

ὁ μὲν ἐπισταλτικὸς χαρακτὴρ ποικίλος...

Ends (fol. ult. b):

...καὶ τῶν καταθυμίων ἀπολαύων.

Referred to Libanius, on the authority of Nasmith. It appears that there is a treatise of Libanius bearing much such a title, which has been printed. See Smith's Dict. Gr. et Rom. Biogr. s. v.

2104 Kk. VI. 24.

A small quarto, on paper, of 89 leaves, each page containing about 27 lines, neatly written in a hand of the latter part of the XVth or beginning of the XVIth century. The latter part of the volume is so much injured by damp and worms, as to be in a great measure illegible.

'Codex de significatione verborum.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Abiurare est res creditas negare periurio. Aliquando abiurare contra ius tenere. Virgi. viij. En. Abiurateque (sic) rapinæ Cœlo ostenduntur...

Ends (fol. ult.):

...Usque: diu. Virg. VI. En. Nec vidisse semel satis est, iuvat usque morari (see Virg. Æn. vi. 487).

The title is supplied by a later hand: in a blank leaf at the beginning is written, 'Ancien grammairien' in the hand of J. B. Hautin (?). On the lower margin of fol. 1 occurs this note: 'Ex bibliotheca Menteliana, Parisiis.'

This work may perhaps deserve some attention in consequence of the number of quotations which are found in it. Thus fol. 4 (s. v. amolior) contains a quotation from Sisenna, lib. IV., which occurs however exactly in the same words in Nonius Marcellus. (See Krause, Fragm. Vet. Historic. Roman. p. 308.) From this work then, (among others,) the present dictionary seems to be compiled.

2105 Kk. VI. 25.

An octavo, on vellum, of 107 leaves, each page containing about 40 lines, neatly written in a hand of the XIIIth century. The initial letters are quaintly illuminated, and the larger capitals are simply coloured. The first leaves of the MS. are wanting. Later hands occur throughout the MS.

1. 'JULII FIRMICI [MATERNI] ASTRONOMICA.'

Begins abruptly (fol. 1):

...suis gaudentes constitute. (Jul. Firm. Mat. Astron. lib. II. c. 3, p. 16, ed. Basil. 1551.)

Ends abruptly (fol. 52 b):

...quas nudas decani reliquerunt. (Id. lib. IV. c. 16, p. 107.)

After which follows a portion of the table.

The title is supplied by a later hand.

2. M. TULLII CICERONIS SOMNIUM SCIPIONIS.

Begins (f. 53):

Cum in Affricam uenissem...

Ends (fol. 56):

...ego somnus solutus sum.

Contains the whole section of the De Republica, usually called Somnium Scipionis.

3. 'AMBROSII MACROBII DE SOMNIO CICERONIS,' Libri II.

Begins (fol. 56 b):

Inter Platonis et Ciceronis libros. (Lib. I. c. 1.)

Ends (fol. ult.):

...philosophie continetur integritas. (Lib. II. c. ult.)

The name of J. B. Hautin occurs at the commencement. On a blank leaf at the end are various astrological diagrams.

2106 Kk. VI. 26.

A small quarto, on paper, with parchment guards at the beginning, end, and middle of each quire, containing ff. 130, with from 23 to 34 lines in each page. The quires are in twelves, and have catchwords and signatures. Date, the XVth century.

A Collection of Theological Tracts in English.

1. ff. 1—8 a. 'A pistle of prayer.'

Begins:

Gostely freynde in god as touchyng thyn askyng...

Ends:

...and occasyon of lettyng in þe name of Ihesu. Amen.

2. ff. 8 b—15 b. 'A tretyse of discrecion in knowcyng of spirites.'

Begins:

For þi þat þ^e^ bene diverse kyndys of spirites...

Ends:

See Ff. vi. 31, § 4.

3. ff. 15 b—26 a. 'A pystle of discrecion in styrrynges.'

Begins:

Gostely freynd in god þ^t^ same grace and joy...

Ends:

...for answer to alle þi letter. The grace of god be &c.

4. ff. 26 b—28 a. 'How man's sawle is made to þe ymage and þe likenes of þe holy trinite.'

Begins:

Nolite confirmari &c. Be ye not in wylle to be made...

Ends:

...it is enoghe at þe fulle. Amen.

5. ff. 28 a—31 a. 'How þe my3tes of mans saule stonden in ye noumbre of fyfe.'

Begins:

Alle þe my3tes of mans soule bene noumbred...

Ends:

...be we fallen for synne. These amend it. Amen.

6. ff. 31 a—46. 'A tretyse of þe stodye of Wysdome þat men clepen Beniamyn.'

Begins:

A grete clerke þat men clepen Richard of Saynt Victor...

Ends:

...Beniamyn þe 3ong childe in raveschyng of mynde. Amen.

This is a translation of the Benjamin Minor of Richard of S. Victor. Opp. ed. Migne, coll. 1—64.

In f. 33 is a pedigree of Jacob's family, interpreted allegorically. ff. 47, 48 are blank.

7. ff. 49—101. 'A boke of contemplacioune þ^t^ whiche is called þe cloude of unknowynge, in þe whiche a saule is unyd wiþ God.'

Begins (after the prayer, God unto whom all hartes...and the Prologue, In þe name of þe father...and the list of chapters):

Gostely freynde in god I praye þe and I beseche þe...

Ends:

...alle god is lovers in erþe. Amen.

This is the treatise ascribed to William Exmeuse and Walter Hilton. See Tanner, Biblioth. p. 272, and Ff. vi. 41, § 2. Also Ii. vi. 39, § 4.

In f. 55 b in the margin is a calculation of the number of hours, minutes, and atoms in a year.

8. ff. 102—121. 'A tretyse of pryvey counseylle.'

Begins:

Gostly frende in god as touchyng þin inwarde occupacion...

Ends:

...þat it schall not mych erre.

See Ii. vi. 31, which contains a few more lines than the present copy.

9. ff. 122—127. 'A translacion of Dynyse hidde dyvynite.'

Begins (after the Preface, This wrytyng þ^t^ next folowe þ...and Seynt Dionyse preyer):

Thow frend Thimothe what tyme þ^t^ þou proposest...

Ends:

...aboven alle affermyng and denynyng.

This is a translation of the 'Mystica Theologia' of S. Dionysius Areopagita.

2107 Kk. vi. 27.

A small quarto, on paper, of 40 leaves, excluding blanks, each page containing from 30 to 40 lines, distinctly written in a not very careful hand of the latter part of the xviiith century.

'Σοφοκλέους Αἴας μαστιγοφόρος.'

Begins (fol. 3):

ἀεὶ μέν, ὦ παῖ Λαρτίου, δέδορκά σε...

Ends (fol. ult.):

...τῶν μελλόντων ὅτι πράξει. Finis Aiacis flagelliferi.

Divided in this MS. into 1436 lines, and seemingly written out for the press. Prefixed (fol. 1) is the argument, (beginning τὸ δρᾶμα τῆς Τρωικῆς ἐστὶν πραγματείας,) and the Dramatis personæ. On the back of fol. ult., perhaps in the same hand, is a fragment of an account-book, headed '1683 M^r. Thom. Snat Deb^r.' He had received £10 'of my brother D^r.'.....Then follows the name, but unfortunately written in cypher. The handwriting is a good deal like Stanley's, especially the Greek: but if it be his, the memorandum cannot be by him, as he died about five years before its date.

2108 Kk. vi. 28.

A small quarto, on vellum, containing ff. 149, in double columns of 31 lines. Date, the xvth century. The MS. is imperfect at both ends.

SERMONS IN ENGLISH ON THE GOSPELS THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.

Begins:

...leve: blessid be he þat is...

Ends:

...diverse tymes in þe bryngynge...

These are the same Sermons as those in Kk. vi. 2.

2109 Kk. vi. 29.

A small quarto, on silky paper, of 163 leaves, each page containing about 20 lines in the former treatise contained in the volume, and about 25 in the latter treatise. The MS. is very neatly written (perhaps not all by one hand) in a small and but little contracted character, and seems to belong to the xiiith century. The two treatises were originally distinct MSS. The titles and initials are rubricated, but there is no attempt at ornament. Later but tolerably early hands occur in the margin, and between the lines of the text.

1. 'Διονυσίου περιηγητοῦ Ἀλεξανδρέως οἰκουμένης περιήγησις.'

Begins (fol. 1):

Ἀρχόμενος γαίάν τε καὶ εὐρέα πόντον ἀείδειν. (Dionys. Perieg. v. 1. p. 9. Ed. Bernh. Lips. 1828.)

Ends (fol. 30 b):

αὐτῶν ἐκ μακάρων ἀντάξιος εἴη ἀμοιβή. (Id. v. 1186, p. 63.)

2. 'Προς τὸν πανσέβαστον σεβαστὸν Δοῦκα κύριον Ἰωάννην, τὸν μετὰ ταῦτα ἐπὶ τῶν δεήσεων, τὸν υἱὸν τοῦ πανσεβασμίου σεβασμίου σεβαστοῦ καὶ μεγάλου δρουγγαρίου, κυρίου Ἀνδρονίκου τοῦ Καματεροῦ, Εὐσταθίου διακόνου ἐπὶ τῶν δεήσεων καὶ μαΐστωρος τῶν ῥητόρων, τοῦ καὶ ὕστερον γεγονότος ἀρχιεπισκόπου Θεσσαλονίκης, ἐπιστολὴ ἐπὶ ταῖς Διονυσίου τοῦ περιηγητοῦ παρεκβολαῖς· μεθ' ἣν τὸ προοίμιον εἰς τὸ πρᾶγμα, καὶ μετὰ τὸ προοίμιον αὗται αἱ παρεκβολαί.'

Begins (fol. 33):

Πινδάρῳ (sic) μὲν τῷ σοφῷ... (Id. p. 67.)

Ends (fol. ult. b):

...ᾄδειν νοεῖσθαι δύναται. (Id. p. 316.)

This MS. of Dionysius Periegetes and of the Commentary upon it by Eustathius is mentioned by Bernhardy in his Index Codicum (as above p. xxxii.) It was one of the MSS. made use of by Thwaites, whose labours were transferred to Hudson's edition of the Geogr. Gr. Min. See Bernh. præf. p. ix. The title of Eustathius' commentary is given in a shorter form in Bernhardy's edition: he erroneously states that this MS. therein has Καματοροῦ.

2110 Kk. vi. 30.

A small quarto, chiefly on paper, containing 141 leaves, irregularly written, in different hands, in the xvth and xvith centuries.

A Collection of Alchemical and Medical Tracts.

ff. 1—35. Various Tracts, written continuously, generally without titles. To some parts the names are attached, Johannes Frynge, and Rector de Wymenton Canonicus. They are in English.

Begins:

In sekyng ouȝte of þe sothenes of this crafte þ^{t} men callen Alkemye.

There are many rude drawings of various descriptions of furnaces and retorts interspersed.

ff. 36—42 b. Incomplete fragments of the Turba Philosophorum, the Notabilia Philosophorum, and the 7 termes, Alphabet, &c. of Alchemy, in English.

ff. 42 b—46. A Fragment of George Ripley's Compendium of Alchemy.

See Ff. ii. 23.

This is written as prose. It extends to the eighth stanza, inclusive, of Congelacyon.

Begins:

In the begynnyng when þ^{a} mad all thyng of noȝghte.

Ends:

Lyeke as in blackenes moystor doth hym shewe
Be colours varyante ay newe and Newe.

ff. 47—50. Medical Receipts and Astrological Notes of Nativities in the years 1483—1504.

ff. 51—62. Medical and Alchemical Tracts.

The first is styled 'A Compendyos Abstract of Alkamy, drawyn out of Latyn.' The name Ramundus, de Lapide, appears on f. 60.

The remaining Tracts are in Latin.

f. 63. 'Scientia ad extrahendum 5^{tam} essentiam de Antimonio, i. e. Marcasita Plumbea.'

ff. 63 b—69. 'Magisterium Lucis Johannis de Rupe scissa.' Printed in Mangetus, Bibl. Chem. Civios, T. II. p. 84.

ff. 71—86. 'Principia Practicalia.'

This is incomplete at both ends. The initial capitals of the second and third books, which appear, are richly illuminated.

The second book begins:

Ablucio enim aque fit distillando...

ff. 87—103 a. 'Breve Breviarium,' R[ogeri] B[acon].

See Tanner, who names this MS.

Begins:

Breve Breviarum breviter abbreviatum sufficit intelligenti...

Ends:

...acute dissolvens custodi igitur ipsum, &c.; et redde Deo gratias.

ff. 103 b—109. Various Alchemical Tracts.

Among these is Secretum secretorum. Pretium impretiabile, &c. On f. 110 are scribbled receipts in Latin and English.

ff. 111—117. Speculativa Arnoldi de Villa Nova.

Begins:

Hic incipit quidam liber abreviatus valde certus...

Ends:

...nullus philosofus meliora dixit.

ff. 118—125. Practica Magistri Arnoldi de Villa Nova.

Begins:

Manifestum est quod lapis...

Ends:

...et esse socius sapientum antiquorum.

The remainder of the volume is filled with miscellaneous receipts. In the earlier part of this volume some receipts have been cut out and abstracted.

2111 Kk. vi. 31.

A small quarto, on paper, containing ff. 93 (paged), with 43 lines in a page. Many of the leaves that remain are destroyed by damp and ill usage, and the first 18 leaves and f. 74 have been torn away.

'S. Thomæ Aquinatis Expositio in Job.'

Begins (cap. v. 12):

possint perducere ad efficacionem...

Ends:

...ad futuram gloriam que durat per omnia secula seculorum. Amen.

Opp. ed. Rom. T. xiii.

2112 Kk. vi. 32.

An octavo, on paper, containing 158 leaves, irregularly numbered, badly written in a hand of the xvith century. It is imperfect at the beginning, the first folio being numbered 14.

A Law Common-Place Book.

2113 Kk. vi. 33.

A small octavo, of vellum, containing altogether 129 leaves written fairly but irregularly, with a good margin.

1. An Almanack in English, calculated for cycles commencing 1463, 1482, and 1501.

The vertical columns for every month are headed 'Number of dayes,' 'dawnyng,' 'Sun risyng,' 'Greis of signes,' 'Houris of Planet,' 'Sun sett,' 'Darknyght,' and on the opposite page appears the year in the three consecutive lunar cycles, and the hour and minute when there is New and Full Moon on any day of the month. The leaves containing August and October are torn out. There follow various tables of Eclipses solar and lunar, &c., also the remains of a volvelle. This part contains at present 14 leaves.

2. A Book of Medical Receipts, with rubricks.

This contains 113 leaves.

Begins:

For to make a bocche to gadere. Take honey and floure...

Ends:

...mynge hem to gyder to þe wounde.

There are several leaves probably written by the same hand inserted irregularly. On one is the commencement of an Alphabetical work de grudibus Simplicium. The first two leaves are filled with receipts in a more modern hand, as well as two paper fly-leaves inserted before § 1. The name of Dullingworth appears on the last leaf.

2114 Kk. vi. 34.

A duodecimo, on silky paper, of 41 leaves, (excluding blanks at both ends, which are mostly of a different paper,) each page containing about 22 lines, written in a hand which seems to belong to the early part of the xvith century. Marginal notes occur in a somewhat later hand.

LONGINUS DE SUBLIMITATE.

Begins (fol. 1):

Τὸ μὲν τοῦ Κεκιλίου (sic)... (c. 1, p. 3. Ed. Weisk. Oxf. 1820.)

Ends (fol. ult. b):

...αὐτοῦ τοῦ ὕψους μοῖραν ἐπεχόντων ὡς ἡμῖν. (c. ult. Id. p. 112.)

The name of Longinus is written (both in Greek and Latin) in the blank leaves at the commencement in a very similar hand, in which (beside references to Longinus) is written the well-known ode of Sappho, beginning Φαίνεταί μοι κεῖνος ἴσος θεοῖσιν, and ending abruptly ἀλλὰ πᾶν τολματὸν, ἐπεὶ πένητας.

This MS. (also called Codex Eliensis from having been in Bp Moore's possession) was consulted by Toup and Hudson, but deserves, according to Weiske (p. xxiv.), a better examination. The later notes in the margin he considers to be taken from the edition of Paulus Manutius. 'Ab hac certe pauca eorum discrepant.'

2115 Kk. vi. 35.

See Catalogue of Oriental MSS.

2116 Kk. vi. 36.

A 12mo, on vellum, containing ff. 36, with 17 lines in a page. Date, the xvith century.

A SERMON IN FRENCH 'SUR LE PASSAGE S. MATHIEU XI.' 28.

Begins:

Je suys daduis le propos estre raisonable...

Ends:

...nous vueille tous conduire. Amen.

The initial letter is illuminated, and round the page there is a very beautiful border.

To f. 1 is pasted the print (1670) of Bishop Hacket.

2117 Kk. vi. 37.

An octavo, on vellum, containing ff. 127, with 26 lines in a page. Many of the leaves are much injured by damp and stains. Date, the xivth century.

TRACTATUS IN DECEM PRECEPTA.

Begins:

Non habebis deos alienos, Exodi 20. In hoc mandato sicut liquet ex glosis diversis...

Ends:

...ut quia ceteros vidit inferiores seipsum preferret in deum.

At the end is a legal 'Certificatorium' respecting two persons 'in villa de Sudbury.'

2118 Kk. vi. 38.

An oblong octavo, on paper, containing 186 leaves (about one-fourth of which are blank), badly written in a contemporary hand.

'A JOURNAL OFF THE HOWSE OF COMMONS ATT THE PARLIAMENT BEGUN ATT WESTMINSTER, 3° NOV. 1640, A°. REGIS CAR. 16°.'

It ends on the 4th January, 1640-41, and, omitting many things recorded in the printed Journal of the House of Commons for that period, contains entries not to be found therein, with short notes of some of the debates.

The writer records himself as 'being returned Burgess for Stamford in Lincolnshire.' The Members for Stamford in that Parliament were Geoffrey Palmer and Sir Thomas Hatcher, Kt. The former was probably the author of this Journal. He reported cases in the King's Bench from 17 JAMES I. to 4 CHARLES I., printed in 1678. He was made Attorney-General and created a Baronet by CHARLES II. in 1660, and died in 1670. His epitaph is given by Le Neve.

At the end of the volume, written with the book reversed, are 17 leaves, containing:

Notes on the law of treason.—The case of the Earl of Strafford, in Westminster Hall, 17 April, 1641.—'The King's Speech, 1 Maii, 1641,' in Strafford's case.—'A protestation made by the Howse of Commons, 3°. Maii, 1641,' for the maintenance of the reformed religion, &c.—'In the case of Mr Percye and others,' upon their 'conspiring to bring up the army to awe the Parliament.'

2119 Kk. vi. 39.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 191, with 16 lines in each page. The initials are illuminated. Date, about 1400. There are catchwords at every 8th leaf.

A book of PSALMS and OFFICES, formerly belonging to some English nunnery. The contents are as follows:

f. 3. Pss. 1—20.

f. 23. The seven Psalms, fifteen Psalms, and Litany.

f. 44. The Office 'In vigiliis defunctorum.'

f. 76 b. 'Commendacio defunctorum.'

f. 92 b. Pss. 110—147.

f. 116 b. 'Quicunque vult,' followed by 'Devotiones ad Crucem,' with promises of indulgence, and a curious representation of the Cross in f. 124 b.

f. 126. Prayers to angels and saints, beginning with S. Michael and ending with S. Sytha.

f. 149. 'Orationes dicende a sacerdotibus ante altare et ante missam.'

ff. 156 to the end are written in a different hand, and contain devotions to our Lady, the cross, and various saints, and lastly to the Holy Spirit, ending with a Litany.

In f. 178 is a prayer for the soul, 'famuli tui henrici regis,' and in f. 191, at the end of the Litany, a prayer, 'ut abbatissam et priorissam nostram conservare et confortare digneris,' with which the MS. ends, the last leaf being lost. A leaf has also been lost after ff. 164 and 169. On f. 26 is written the name George Beckensall.

2120 Kk. vi. 40.

An octavo, on paper, containing 58 leaves (6 of which are blank), neatly written, in an Italian hand, in the reign of CHARLES I.

'REPERTORIUM SIVE ELENCHUS PARLIAMENTORUM DE ANNIS EDW. III., RIC. II., HEN. IV., HEN. V., HEN. VI., ET EDW. IV.'

It is an alphabetical index of the subjects of the Statutes passed in those reigns. On the back of the title-page is a list of the Sovereigns of England from HENRY III. to CHARLES I.

2121 Kk. vi. 41.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 125, with 18 lines in a page. There are catchwords after every 8th leaf. Date, the XVth century.

A COLLECTION OF THEOLOGICAL TRACTS.

1. ff. 1—21. Speculum Peccatoris Ricardi Hampole, erroneously ascribed to S. Bernard in the MS.

Begins:

Quoniam karissime in hujus via vite...

Ends:

...novissima tua prudenter provideas.

This is printed amongst Opp. S. Augustini. Par. 1837. T. VI. Append. coll. 1433—1442. See Dd. xv. 21, § 6.

The next three leaves are blank.

A duodecimo, on paper, containing 310 leaves (some of which are blank), written in Law-French, in a bad hand of the xviiith century.

ABSTRACTS OF LAW READINGS AND MOOT CASES FROM 1613 TO 1621.

The Inns and Readers were the following :—

Lyons Inn: Messrs. Denn, Shilton, Roe, and Davys of the Inner Temple.

New Inn: Messrs. Moody, Bartlet, Jermyn, Mansell, Blacknell, Rives of the Middle Temple, Landen, Whitlock, Hoskins, Savage, and Lane.

Staple Inn: Messrs. Crawley, Whisler, and Fesant.

Davyes [Thavies] Inn: Messrs. Wright and Glanvill.

Clements Inn: Messrs. Martin of the Inner Temple, Chapman, and Wild.

Cliffords Inn: Messrs. Drury, Lane, Foster, Ould, and Merefield.

Furnivals Inn: Readers' names not given.

Bernards Inn: Messrs. Dover, Hudson, Godbolt, and Jenkins.

The names of the Moot-men are not given. There are amongst them a few 'Cubbard Cases.'

The Writer of the book appears to have been himself engaged at the Moots, as he occasionally heads a paragraph with 'Mon Argument,' but his name nowhere occurs. In a former Catalogue the MS. was attributed to Robert Nicholas, who was successively a Baron of the Exchequer and Justice of the Upper Bench in the Commonwealth.

2123 Kk. vi. 43.

A small 12mo, on paper, excepting f. 9 which is parchment, containing ff. 77, with 33 lines in a page. Date, the xvith century.

This is Opusc. v. of Opp. T. XVII.

3. ff. 28—70.

Begins:

Credo in unum Deum, &c. Primum quod necessarium est...

Ends:

...et quod venturus sit ad judicium.

This is Opusc. VI. Ibid.

A list of theological terms and a few notes follow. On f. 77 are memorandums of accounts.

2124 Kk. VI. 44.

A small duodecimo, on parchment, containing 150 leaves (a few of which are blank), with about 30 lines in a page, written in Law-French and Latin, in a hand of the XIVth century. Blanks were left for the initial letters, which have not been supplied. This MS. is not noticed in the Record edition of the Statutes.

A COLLECTION OF ANCIENT STATUTES.

Ff. 1—12 contain the titles of the Chapters of the first five Statutes, and an Index to them all.

1. f. 13. Magna Carta Regis EDWARDI I., A.D. 1297.
2. f. 18. Carta de Foresta Regis EDWARDI I., A.D. 1300.
3. f. 21. Provisiones de Merton. 20 HEN. III., A.D. 1235-6.
4. f. 23 b. Statutum de Marleberg. 52 HEN. III., A.D. 1267.
5. f. 30 b. Statuta Westm. Prima. 3 EDW. I., A.D. 1275.

This is divided into 49 instead of 51 Chapters.

6. f. 44 b. Statuta Gloucestr'. 6 EDW. I., A.D. 1278.
7. f. 48 b. Explanaciones Statutorum Gloucestr'.
8. f. 49 b. Statuta Westm. Secunda. 13 EDW. I., A.D. 1285.
9. f. 78. Statutum de Emptoribus Terrarum. 18 EDW. I., A.D. 1289-90.
10. f. 78 b. Quot Modis Calumpnianda sunt Essonia. (Temp. incert.)
11. f. 79 b. Novum Statutum de Scaccario. (Temp. incert.)
12. f. 83. Districciones Scaccarii.

In some MSS. this is given as a part of the preceding Statute, and not as a separate Instrument. See Record. ED. I. 197.

13. f. 84. Dies Communes in Banco. (Temp. incert.)

14. f. 84 b. Dies Communes in Placito Dotis. (Temp. incert.)

15. f. 85. Nove Ordinaciones. 5 Edw. II., A.D. 1311.

16. f. 96. Articuli super Cartas. 28 Edw. I., A.D. 1300.

17. f. 103. Articuli super Cartam de Foresta. 34 Edw. I., A.D. 1306.
This MS. dates this Statute 4 instead of 34 Edw. I.

18. f. 105 b. Articuli super Constituciones de Merton (quoad quartum Capitulum).

19. f. 106. Statutum Ebor'. 12 Edw. II., A.D. 1318.

20. f. 109. Modus Levandi Fines. (Temp. incert.)

21. f. 109 b. Statutum de Bigamis. 4 Edw. I., A.D. 1276.

22. f. 110 b. Composicio de Ponderibus. (Temp. incert.)

23. f. 111 b. Distinccio Sokagii.

24. f. 112. Tractatus de antiquo dominico Corone.

25. f. 112 b. Exposicio vocabulorum contentorum in Magna Carta.

26. f. 113 b. Statutum de Defensione Juris Amissi. 20 Edw. I., A.D. 1291-2.

27. f. 114 b. Prerogativa Regis. (Temp. incert.)

28. f. 116 b. Statutum Hibernie de Homagiis Participum. 20 Hen. III., A.D. 1236.

29. f. 117. De presentibus vocatis ad Warrantum. 20 Edw. I., A.D. 1291-2.

30. f. 117 b. Articuli pro Clero. 9 Edw. II., A.D. 1315-16.

31. f. 120 b. De Utlagaria.

32. f. 121 b. Statutum de Finibus et Attornatis. (Temp. incert.)

33. f. 122. Statutum de Viris Religiosis. 7 Edw. I., A.D. 1279.

34. f. 123. Vetus Statutum de Scaccario. 10 Edw. I., A.D. 1282.
The title on the Roll is 'Provisiones facte in Scaccario.' See Record Ed. which gives the date 12 Edw. I.

35. f. 124 b. Principium Itineris.

36. f. 125. Discripcio Conspiratorum. 33-34 Edw. I., A.D. 1305-6.

37. f. 125 b. Quo Warranto.
This differs very considerably from the Statute 18 Edw. I.

38. f. 126 b. Statutum de Quo Warranto Novum.

39. f. 126 b. Quedam notabilia de Quo Warranto.

40. f. 127. De Conjunctim Feoffatis.

41. f. 129. Diffinicio Homagii.

42. f. 129 b. Sacramentum Regis in Coronatione sua.

Given in the Record Ed. of the Statutes (I. 168) from a Roll in the Treasury of Canterbury Cathedral.

43. f. 130. Sacramentum Consiliariorum Domini Regis.

Given, with variations, in the Record Ed. (I. 248) ex Rot. Claus. 35 Edw. I. m. 7d.

44. f. 130 b. Sacramentum Justiciariorum.

This is not the same as that given in the Record Ed. in the reign of Edw. III.

45. f. 131. Juramentum Vicecomitum.

Given in the Record Ed. I. 247.

46. f. 131 b. Ubi jacet Duellum, et ubi magna Assisa.

See Record Ed. I. 218.

This appears to have been originally the end of the Volume: the following leaves are of a different size, and written in a different hand.

Ff. 132, 133, which appear to have been fly-leaves, contain a table of the succession of the Kings of England, from William the Conqueror to Richard II., the genealogy of the Virgin Mary, the division of the Earth between the sons of Noah, and a list of English Counties.

47. f. 134. Statutum de Terris amortizandis.

It is dated in this MS. 17 Edw. I., but the printed copies make it 27 Edw. I. See Record Ed. I. 131.

48. f. 135. Statutum Inquisicionum de Terris amortizandis. 20 Edw. I., A.D. 1291-2.

49. f. 137 b. Statutum de Viris Religiosis. 7 Edw. I., A.D. 1279

The same as Article 33.

2125 Kk. vi. 45.

A small 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 147, with 26 lines in each page. Date, the xvth century. A leaf has been torn away between ff. 144 and 145. ff. 1 and 70 have illuminated initials and borders.

Diurnale secundum usum Angliæ

It contains the offices for the diurnal hours throughout the year from Advent to the 24th Sunday after the octave of Pentecost. The Proprium Sanctorum begins f. 70 with S. Nicholas, and ends f. 135 with S. Birinus Episcopus. This is followed by the office 'In dedicatione ecclesie;' and the Commune Sanctorum begins f. 137 a, with which the MS. ends f. 146.

2126 Kk. vi. 46.

An 18mo, on parchment, containing ff. 195, with 17 lines in each page. It has illuminated initials. Date, the xivth century.

PSALTERIUM CUM KALENDARIO.

The first leaf contains the hymn Veni Creator Spiritus, the next six contain the Kalendar, and f. 7 is occupied with the initial B of Ps. 1, the illuminations being injured by damp.

It ends, f. 195 b, incompletely, Ps. cxliv. 15, et tu das escam illorum in tempore opportuno.

2127 Kk. vi. 47.

A 24mo, on parchment, containing 160 ff., with 16 lines in each page. It has rubricated initial letters and a few borders. Date, the xvth century.

HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS.

In f. 3 a former possessor has written the epacts, golden numbers, &c. for the years 1585—1595; the Kalendar occupies ff. 5—16; the Hours begin f. 17 with the rubrick 'Matutine sanctissime virginis marie in honore eiusdem;' in f. 59 the seven penitential Psalms, followed by the 15 Psalms and Litany; f. 82 the Commemoratio Defunctorum; f. 116 Commendaciones Animarum; f. 135 the fifteen Oos; and in f. 148 Bede's prayer on the seven Words in another hand, which has added other prayers, ending f. 157.

In the Kalendar is an obituary notice of Johannes Poulett, and at the end the name of 'Tomas Cordry, vii. Sept. 1584.'

2128 Kk. vi. 48.

A 24mo, on parchment, containing ff. 114, with 17 lines in each page. It has illuminations and borders. Date, the xvth century.

HORÆ BEATÆ VIRGINIS, &c.

The contents are:

ff. 3—14. Kalendarium.

15—18. Hore sancte crucis, with an illumination of the Crucifixion.

19—22. Hore Sancti Spiritus, with an illumination of the day of Pentecost.

23—34. Officium misse Sancte Marie, with an illumination of the B. V. Mary and Child and adoring angels.

ff. 35—40. Obsecro te domine and O Intemerata.

41—82. Hore beate Marie Virginis secundum usum romane ecclesie, with an illumination of the Nativity.

83—97. Septem psalmi cum litania, with an illumination of King David(?) injured by damp.

98—112. Vigilie mortuorum, with the usual illumination.

2129 Kk. vi. 49.

A 12mo, on parchment, containing ff. 489, in double columns with 30 lines in each column. The initial letters are alternately red and blue. Date, the xvth century. There are catchwords at every 8th leaf.

BREVIARIUM [SECUNDUM USUM ROMANUM (?).]

The first five leaves contain the Kalendar, the leaf for September and October being lost. The services for Advent Sunday begin f. 6; and the dominical and ferial offices go on regularly through the year, ending f. 189. The Psalter follows, preceded by the hymns Primo dierum omnium and Nocte surgentes vigilemus omnes, and ends with the Litany f. 276. The obsequium defunctorum follows, and then the Officium beate Marie, and the Officium novit. ordinatus. The series of rubricks respecting the feasts (written in black, but scored under with red ink, as are all the rubricks in this MS.) follows, f. 289, and the Proprium Sanctorum begins f. 294 with the Vigil of S. Saturninus, ending with beatus Petrus Alexander f. 465. A short 'hore beate Virginis Marie a crastino octavum epiphanie usque ad purificationem' follows: then f. 467, the Benedictio salis et aque; and in f. 469, the Commune Sanctorum, with which the MS. ends f. 489.

A leaf is lost between ff. 308 and 309. The MS. is bound in morocco by Hering, and has a silver-gilt clasp; it was formerly in the possession of the Rev. J. Hildyard, late Fellow of Christ's College, whose name is in the beginning, with the date 1839.

THE HOLY SCRIPTURES, &c.

THE CAMBRIDGE PARAGRAPH BIBLE

of the Authorized English Version, with the Text Revised by a Collation of its Early and other Principal Editions, the Use of the Italic Type made uniform, the Marginal References remodelled, and a Critical Introduction prefixed, by the Rev. F. H. SCRIVENER, M.A., LL.D., Editor of the Greek Testament, Codex Augiensis, &c., and one of the Revisers of the Authorized Version. Crown Quarto, cloth, gilt, 21*s.*

From the Times.

"Students of the Bible should be particularly grateful to (the Cambridge University Press) for having produced, with the able assistance of Dr Scrivener, a complete critical edition of the Authorized Version of the English Bible, an edition such as, to use the words of the Editor, 'would have been executed long ago had this version been nothing more than the greatest and best known of English classics.' Falling at a time when the formal revision of this version has been undertaken by a distinguished company of scholars and divines, the publication of this edition must be considered most opportune."

From the Athenæum.

"Apart from its religious importance, the English Bible has the glory, which but few sister versions indeed can claim, of being the chief classic of the language, of having, in conjunction with Shakspeare, and in an immeasurable degree more than he, fixed the language beyond any possibility of important change. Thus the recent contributions to the literature of the subject, by such workers as Mr Francis Fry and Canon Westcott, appeal to a wide range of sympathies; and to these may now be added Dr Scrivener, well known for his labours in the cause of the Greek Testament criticism, who has brought out, for the Syndics of the Cambridge University Press, an edition of the English Bible, according to the text of 1611, revised by a comparison with later issues on principles stated by him in his Introduction. Here he enters at length into the history of the chief editions of the version, and of such features as the marginal notes, the use of italic type, and the changes of orthography, as well as into the most interesting question as to the original texts from which our translation is produced."

From the Methodist Recorder.

"This noble quarto of over 1300 pages is in every respect worthy of editor and publishers alike. The name of the Cambridge University Press is guarantee enough for its perfection in outward form, the name of the editor is equal guarantee for the worth and accuracy of its contents. Without question, it is the best Paragraph Bible ever published, and its reduced price of a guinea brings it within reach of a large number of students. . But the volume is much more than a Paragraph Bible. It is an attempt, and a successful attempt, to give a critical edition of the Authorised English Version, not (let it be marked) a revision, but an exact reproduction of the original Authorised Version, as published in 1611, minus patent mistakes. This is doubly necessary at a time when the version is about to undergo revision. . . To all who at this season seek a suitable volume for presentation to ministers or teachers we earnestly commend this work."

From the London Quarterly Review.

"The work is worthy in every respect of the editor's fame, and of the Cambridge University Press. The noble English Version, to which our country and religion owe so much, was probably never presented before in so perfect a form."

THE CAMBRIDGE PARAGRAPH BIBLE.

STUDENT'S EDITION, on good writing paper, with one column of print and wide margin to each page for MS. notes. This edition will be found of great use to those who are engaged in the task of Biblical criticism. Two Vols. Crown Quarto, cloth, gilt, 31*s.* 6*d.*

FASCICULUS I. In the Press.

"Not only experts in liturgiology, but all persons interested in the history of the Anglican Book of Common Prayer, will be grateful to the Syndicate of the Cambridge University Press for forwarding the publication of the volume which bears the above title, and which has recently appeared under their auspices. . . When the present work is complete in three volumes, of which we have here the first instalment, it will be accessible, as the Sarum Missal is now, thanks to the labours of Mr G. H. Forbes, to every one interested in the subject-matter with which it is connected."—Notes and Queries.

"We have here the first instalment of the celebrated Sarum Breviary, of which no entire edition has hitherto been printed since the year 1557. . . Of the valuable explanatory notes, as well as the learned introduction to this volume, we can only speak in terms of the very highest commendation."—The Examiner.

uniform with the preceding, edited by the Rev. Professor SKEAT. Demy Quarto. 10*s.*

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST JOHN, uniform with the preceding, by the same Editor. Demy Quarto. 10*s.*

"The Gospel according to St John, in Anglo-Saxon and Northumbrian Versions: Edited for the Syndics of the University Press, by the Rev. Walter W. Skeat, M.A., Elrington and Bosworth Professor of Anglo-Saxon in the University of Cambridge, completes an undertaking designed and commenced by that distinguished scholar, J. M. Kemble, some forty years ago. He was not himself permitted to execute his scheme; he died before it was completed for St Matthew. The edition of that Gospel was finished by Mr., subsequently Archdeacon, Hardwick. The remaining Gospels have had the good fortune to be edited by Professor Skeat, whose competency and zeal have left nothing undone to prove himself equal to his reputation, and to produce a work of the highest value to the student of Anglo-Saxon. The design was indeed worthy of its author. It is difficult to exaggerate the value of such a set of parallel texts. . . . Of the particular volume now before us, we can only say it is worthy of its two predecessors. We repeat that the service rendered to the study of Anglo-Saxon by this Synoptic collection cannot easily be overstated."—Contemporary Review.

THE POINTED PRAYER BOOK,

being the Book of Common Prayer with the Psalter or Psalms of David, pointed as they are to be sung or said in Churches. Royal 24mo. Cloth, 1*s.* 6*d.*

The same in square 32mo, cloth, 6*d.*

"The 'Pointed Prayer Book' deserves mention for the new and ingenious system on which the pointing has been marked, and still more for the terseness and clearness of the directions given for using it."—Times.

THE PARAGRAPH PSALTER,

arranged for the use of Choirs by BROOKE FOSS WESTCOTT, D.D., Canon of Peterborough, and Regius Professor of Divinity in the University of Cambridge. Fcap. 4to., 5*s.*

"The Paragraph Psalter exhibits all the care, thought, and learning that those acquainted with the works of the Regius Professor of Divinity at Cambridge would expect to find, and there is not a clergyman or organist in England who should be without this Psalter as a work of reference."—Morning Post.

THE MISSING FRAGMENT OF THE LATIN TRANSLATION OF THE FOURTH BOOK OF EZRA, discovered, and edited with an Introduction and Notes, and a facsimile of the MS., by ROBERT L. BENSLY, M.A., Sub-Librarian of the University Library, and Reader in Hebrew, Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge. Demy Quarto. Cloth, 10*s.*

"Edited with true scholarly completeness."—Westminster Review.

"Wer sich je mit dem 4 Buche Esra eingehender beschäftigt hat, wird durch die obige, in jeder Beziehung musterhafte Publication in freudiges Erstaunen versetzt werden."—Theologische Literaturzeitung.

"It has been said of this book that it has added a new chapter to the Bible, and, startling as the statement may at first sight appear, it is no exaggeration of the actual fact, if by the Bible we understand that of the larger size which contains the Apocrypha, and if the Second Book of Esdras can be fairly called a part of the Apocrypha."—Saturday Review.

THEOLOGY—(ANCIENT).

SAYINGS OF THE JEWISH FATHERS, comprising Pirqe Aboth and Pereq R. Meir in Hebrew and English, with Critical and Illustrative Notes. By CHARLES TAYLOR, M.A. Fellow and Divinity Lecturer of St John's College, Cambridge, and Honorary Fellow of King's College, London. Demy 8vo. cloth. 10*s*.

"It is peculiarly incumbent on those who look to Jerome or Origen for their theology or exegesis to learn something of their Jewish predecessors. The New Testament abounds with sayings which remarkably coincide with, or closely resemble, those of the Jewish Fathers; and these latter probably would furnish more satisfactory and frequent illustrations of its text than the Old Testament."—Saturday Review.

"The 'Masseketh Aboth' stands at the head of Hebrew non-canonical writings. It is of ancient date, claiming to contain the dicta of teachers who flourished from B.C. 200 to the same year of our era. The precise time of its compilation in its present form is, of course, in doubt. Mr Taylor's explanatory and illustrative commentary is very full and satisfactory."—Spectator.

"If we mistake not, this is the first precise translation into the English language accompanied by scholarly notes, of any portion of the Talmud. In other words, it is the first instance of that most valuable and neglected portion of Jewish literature being treated in the same way as a Greek classic in an ordinary critical edition. . . The Talmudic books, which have been so strangely neglected, we foresee will be the most important aids of the future for the proper understanding of the Bible. . . The Sayings of the Jewish Fathers may claim to be scholarly, and, moreover, of a scholarship unusually thorough and finished."—Dublin University Magazine.

"A careful and thorough edition which does credit to English scholarship, of a short treatise from the Mishna, containing a series of sentences or maxims ascribed mostly to Jewish teachers immediately preceding, or immediately following the Christian era. . ."—Contemporary Review.

THEODORE OF MOPSUESTIA'S COMMENTARY ON THE MINOR EPISTLES OF S. PAUL.

The Latin Version with the Greek Fragments, edited from the MSS. with Notes and an Introduction, by H. B. SWETE, D.D., Rector of Ashdon, Essex, and late Fellow of Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge. In Two Volumes. Vol. I., containing the Introduction, with Facsimiles of the MSS., and the Commentary upon Galatians—Colossians. Demy Octavo. 12*s*.

"One result of this disappearance of the works of Diodorus, which his Arian opponents did their utmost to destroy, is to render more conspicuous the figure of Theodore. From the point of view of scientific exegesis there is no figure in all antiquity more interesting."—The Expositor.

"In dem oben verzeichneten Buche liegt uns die erste Hälfte einer vollständigen, ebenso sorgfältig gearbeiteten wie schön ausgestatteten Ausgabe des Commentars mit ausführlichen Prolegomena und reichhaltigen kritischen und erläuternden Anmerkungen vor."—Literarisches Centralblatt.

"Eine sehr sorgfältige Arbeit. Nichts ist dem Verfasser entgangen, auch nicht die in deutscher Sprache geschriebenen Specialschriften über die Antiochener. Druck und Ausstattung sind, wie man das bei der englischen Literatur gewöhnt ist, elegant und musterhaft."—Literarische Rundschau.

"It is the result of thorough, careful, and patient investigation of all the points bearing on the subject, and the results are presented with admirable good sense and modesty. Mr Swete has prepared himself for his task by a serious study of the literature and history which are connected with it; and he has produced a volume of high value to the student, not merely of the theology of the fourth and fifth centuries, but of the effect of this theology on the later developments of doctrine and methods of interpretation, in the ages immediately following, and in the middle ages."—Guardian.

"Auf Grund dieser Quellen ist der Text bei Swete mit musterhafter Akribie hergestellt. Aber auch sonst hat der Herausgeber mit unermüdlichem Fleisse und eingehendster Sachkenntniss sein Werk mit allen denjenigen Zugaben ausgerüstet, welche bei einer solchen Text-Ausgabe nur irgend erwartet werden können. . . . Von den drei Haupthandschriften . . . sind vortreffliche photographische Facsimile's beigegeben, wie überhaupt das ganze Werk von der University Press zu Cambridge mit bekannter Eleganz ausgestattet ist."—Theologische Literaturzeitung.

SELECT DISCOURSES,

by JOHN SMITH, late Fellow of Queens' College, Cambridge. Edited by H. G. WILLIAMS, B.D. late Professor of Arabic. Royal Octavo. 7s. 6d.

"The 'Select Discourses' of John Smith, collected and published from his papers after his death, are, in my opinion, much the most considerable work left to us by this Cambridge School [the Cambridge Platonists]. They have a right to a place in English literary history."—Mr MATTHEW ARNOLD, in the Contemporary Review.

"Of all the products of the Cambridge School, the 'Select Discourses' are perhaps the highest, as they are the most accessible and the most widely appreciated...and indeed no spiritually thoughtful mind can read them unmoved. They carry us so directly into an atmosphere of divine philosophy, luminous with the richest lights of meditative genius... He was one of those rare thinkers in whom largeness of view, and depth, and wealth of poetic and speculative insight, only served to evoke more fully the religious spirit, and while he drew the mould of his thought from Plotinus, he vivified the substance of it from St Paul."—Principal TULLOCH, Rational Theology in England in the 17th Century.

"We may instance Mr Henry Griffin Williams's revised edition of Mr John Smith's 'Select Discourses,' which have won Mr Matthew Arnold's admiration, as an example of worthy work for an University Press to undertake."—Times.

ARABIC AND SANSKRIT.

POEMS OF BEHÁ ED DÍN ZOHEIR OF EGYPT.

With a Metrical Translation, Notes and Introduction, by E. H. PALMER, M.A., Barrister-at-Law of the Middle Temple, Lord Almoner's Professor of Arabic and Fellow of St John's College in the University of Cambridge. 3 vols. Crown Quarto.

Vol. I. The ARABIC TEXT. 10s. 6d.; Cloth extra, 15s.

Vol. II. ENGLISH TRANSLATION. 10s. 6d.; Cloth extra, 15s.

"Professor Palmer's activity in advancing Arabic scholarship has formerly shown itself in the production of his excellent Arabic Grammar, and his Descriptive Catalogue of Arabic MSS. in the Library of Trinity College, Cambridge. He has now produced an admirable text, which illustrates in a remarkable manner the flexibility and graces of the language he loves so well, and of which he seems to be perfect master.... The Syndicate of Cambridge University must not pass without the recognition of their liberality in bringing out, in a worthy form, so important an Arabic text. It is not the first time that Oriental scholarship has thus been wisely subsidised by Cambridge."—Indian Mail.

"It is impossible to quote this edition without an expression of admiration for the perfection to which Arabic typography has been brought in England in this magnificent Oriental work, the production of which redounds to the imperishable credit of the University of Cambridge. It may be pronounced one of the most beautiful Oriental books that have ever been printed in Europe: and the learning of the Editor worthily rivals the technical get-up of the creations of the soul of one of the most tasteful poets of Islâm, the study of which will contribute not a little to save honour of the poetry of the Arabs."—MYTHOLOGY AMONG THE HEBREWS (Engl. Transl.), p. 194.

For ease and facility, for variety of metre, for imitation, either designed or unconscious, of the style of several of our own poets, these versions deserve high praise. We have no hesitation in saying that in both Prof. Palmer has made an addition to Oriental literature for which scholars should be grateful; and that, while his knowledge of Arabic is a sufficient guarantee for his mastery of the original, his English compositions are distinguished by versatility, command of language, rhythmical cadence, and, as we have remarked, by not unskilful imitations of the styles of several of our own favourite poets, living and dead."—Saturday Review.

"This sumptuous edition of the poems of Behá-ed-dín Zoheir is a very welcome addition to the small series of Eastern poets accessible to readers who are not Orientalists. ... In all there is that exquisite finish of which Arabic poetry is susceptible in so rare a degree. The form is almost always beautiful, be the thought what it may. But this, of course, can only be fully appreciated by Orientalists. And this brings us to the translation. It is excellently well done. Mr Palmer has tried to imitate the fall of the original in his selection of the English metre for the various pieces, and thus contrives to convey a faint idea of the graceful flow of the Arabic. Altogether the inside of the book is worthy of the beautiful arabesque binding that rejoices the eye of the lover of Arab art."—Academy.

PRIVATE ORATIONS OF DEMOSTHENES, with Introductions and English Notes, by F. A. PALEY, M.A. Editor of Aeschylus, etc. and J. E. SANDYS, M.A. Fellow and Tutor of St John's College, and Public Orator in the University of Cambridge.

PART I. Contra Phormionem, Lacritum, Pantaenetum, Boeotum de Nomine, Boeotum de Dote, Dionysodorum. Crown Octavo, cloth. 6*s*.

"Mr Paley's scholarship is sound and accurate, his experience of editing wide, and if he is content to devote his learning and abilities to the production of such manuals as these, they will be received with gratitude throughout the higher schools of the country. Mr Sandys is deeply read in the German literature which bears upon his author, and the elucidation of matters of daily life, in the delineation of which Demosthenes is so rich, obtains full justice at his hands. We hope this edition may lead the way to a more general study of these speeches in schools than has hitherto been possible.—Academy.

PART II. Pro Phormione, Contra Stephanum I. II.; Nicostratum, Cononem, Calliclem. 7*s*. 6*d*.

"To give even a brief sketch of these speeches [Pro Phormione and Contra Stephanum] would be incompatible with our limits, though we can hardly conceive a task more useful to the classical or professional scholar than to make one for himself. It is a great boon to those who set themselves to unravel the thread of arguments pro and con to have the aid of Mr Sandys's excellent running commentary and no one can say that he is ever deficient in the needful help which enables us to form a sound estimate of the rights of the case. It is long since we have come upon a work evincing more pains, scholarship, and varied research and illustration than Mr Sandys's contribution to the 'Private Orations of Demosthenes'."—Sat. Rev.

". the edition reflects credit on Cambridge scholarship, and ought to be extensively used."—Athenæum.

PINDAR.

OLYMPIAN AND PYTHIAN ODES. With Notes Explanatory and Critical, Introductions and Introductory Essays. Edited by C. A. M. FENNELL, M.A., late Fellow of Jesus College. Crown Octavo, cloth. 9*s*.

"Mr Fennell deserves the thanks of all classical students for his careful and scholarly edition of the Olympian and Pythian odes. He brings to his task the necessary enthusiasm for his author, great industry, a sound judgment, and, in particular, copious and minute learning in comparative philology. To his qualifications in this last respect every page bears witness."—Athenæum.

"Considered simply as a contribution to the study and criticism of Pindar, Mr Fennell's edition is a work of great merit. But it has a wider interest, as exemplifying the change which has come over the methods and aims of Cambridge scholarship within the last ten or twelve years. . . . The short introductions and arguments to the Odes, which for so discursive an author as Pindar are all but a necessity, are both careful and acute. . . Altogether, this edition is a welcome and wholesome sign of the vitality and development of Cambridge scholarship, and we are glad to see that it is to be continued."—Saturday Review.

"There are many reasons why Mr C. A. M. Fennell's edition of 'Pindar's Olympian and Pythian Odes;' should not go unnoticed, even though our space forbids doing it full justice; as a helpful complement and often corrective of preceding editions, both in its insight into comparative philology, its critical acumen, and its general sobriety of editing. In etymology especially the volume marks a generation later than Donaldson's, though holding in respect his brilliant authority. . . Most helpful, too, is the introductory essay on Pindar's style and dialect, while the chronological sequence of the Odes (pp. xxxi.—xxxii.), and the 'Metrical Schemes,' which immediately precede the text and commentary, leave nothing to be desiderated."—Contemporary Review.

with Introduction, Critical Notes, and Archæological Illustrations, by J. E. SANDYS, M.A., Fellow and Tutor of St John's College, Cambridge, and Public Orator. Crown Octavo, cloth. 10*s.* 6*d.*

"Of the present edition of the Bacchæ by Mr Sandys we may safely say that never before has a Greek play, in England at least, had fuller justice done to its criticism, interpretation, and archæological illustration, whether for the young student or the more advanced scholar. The Cambridge Public Orator may be said to have taken the lead in issuing a complete edition of a Greek play, which is destined perhaps to gain redoubled favour now that the study of ancient monuments has been applied to its illustration."—Saturday Review.

"Thirty-two beautifully executed wood engravings of ancient artistic productions, all of which, as well as others not included in the selection, are briefly but intelligibly described, lend an additional interest to this portion of the book. A careful examination of Mr Sandys' emendations and of the reasons given in support of them must satisfy every scholar that this department of the work has been judiciously and ingeniously managed. The explanatory notes are a mine rich in the results of careful study, varied learning and accurate research."—The Scotsman.

"Mr Sandys has done well by his poet and by his University. He has given a most welcome gift to scholars both at home and abroad. The illustrations are aptly chosen and delicately executed, and the apparatus criticus, in the way both of notes and indices is very complete."—Notes and Queries.

"The volume is interspersed with well-executed woodcuts, and its general attractiveness of form reflects great credit on the University Press. In the notes Mr Sandys has more than sustained his well-earned reputation as a careful and learned editor, and shows considerable advance in freedom and lightness of style. Under such circumstances it is superfluous to say that for the purposes of teachers and advanced students this handsome edition far surpasses all its predecessors. The volume will add to the already wide popularity of a unique drama, and must be reckoned among the most important classical publications of the year."—Athenæum.

THE RHETORIC. With a Commentary by the late E. M. COPE, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, revised and edited by J. E. "This work is in many ways creditable to the University of Cambridge. The solid and extensive erudition of Mr Cope himself bears none the less speaking evidence to the value of the tradition which he continued, if it is not equally accompanied by those qualities of speculative originality and independent judgment which belong more to the individual writer than to his school. And while it must ever be regretted that a work so laborious should not have received the last touches of its author, the warmest admiration is due to Mr Sandys, for the manly, unselfish, and unflinching spirit in which he has performed his most difficult and delicate task. If an English student wishes to have a full conception of what is contained in the Rhetoric of Aristotle, to Mr Cope's edition he must go."—Academy.

"Mr Sandys has performed his arduous duties with marked ability and admirable tact. When the original Commentary stops abruptly three chapters before the end of the third book, Mr Sandys carefully supplies the deficiency, following Mr Cope's general plan and the slightest available indications of his intended treatment. In Appendices he has reprinted from classical journals several articles of Mr Cope's; and, what is better, he has given the best of the late Mr Shilleto's 'Adversaria.' In every part of his work—revising, supplementing, and completing—he has done exceedingly well."—Examiner.

"Such editions as that of which Prof. Mayor has given us the first instalment will doubtless do much to remedy this undeserved neglect. It is one on which great pains and much learning have evidently been expended, and is in every way admirably suited to meet the needs of the student. The notes of the editor are all that could be expected from his well-known learning and scholarship. It is needless, therefore, to say that all points of syntax or of Ciceronian usage which present themselves have been treated with full mastery. The thanks of many students will doubtless be given to Prof. Mayor for the amount of historical and biographical information afforded in the commentary, which is, as it should be, supplemented and not replaced by references to the usual authorities."—Academy.

with Marginal Analysis, an English Commentary, and copious Indices, by H. A. HOLDEN, LL.D. Head Master of Ipswich School, late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, Classical Examiner to the University of London. Third Edition. Revised and considerably enlarged. Crown Octavo. 9*s.*

"Dr Holden truly states that 'Text, Analysis, and Commentary in this third edition have been again subjected to a thorough revision.' It is now certainly the best edition extant. A sufficient apparatus of various readings is placed under the text, and a very careful summary in the margin. The Introduction (after Heine) and notes leave nothing to be desired in point of fulness, accuracy, and neatness; the typographical execution will satisfy the most fastidious eye. A careful index of twenty-four pages makes it easy to use the book as a storehouse of information on points of grammar, history, and philosophy. . . . This edition of the Offices, Mr Reid's Academics, Lælius, and Cato, with the forthcoming editions of the De Finibus and the De Natura Deorum will do much to maintain the study of Cicero's philosophy in Roger Ascham's university."—Notes and Queries.

"Fourier's treatise is one of the very few scientific books which can never be rendered antiquated by the progress of science. It is not only the first and the greatest book on the physical subject of the conduction of Heat, but in every Chapter new views are opened up into vast fields of mathematical speculation."

"Whatever text-books may be written, giving, perhaps, more succinct proofs of Fourier's different equations, Fourier himself will in all time coming retain his unique prerogative of being the guide of his reader into regions inaccessible to meaner men, however expert."—Extract from letter of Professor Clerk Maxwell.

"It is time that Fourier's masterpiece, The Analytical Theory of Heat, translated by Mr Alex. Freeman, should be introduced to those English students of Mathematics who do not follow with freedom a treatise in any language but their own. It is a model of mathematical reasoning applied to physical phenomena, and is remarkable for the ingenuity of the analytical process employed by the author."—Contemporary Review, October, 1878.

"There cannot be two opinions as to the value and importance of the Théorie de la Chaleur. It has been called 'an exquisite mathematical poem,' not once but many times, independently, by mathematicians of different schools. Many of the very greatest of modern mathematicians regard it, justly, as the key which first opened to them the treasure-house of mathematical physics. By J. W. WILLIS-BUND, M.A., LL.B., Barrister-at-Law, Professor of Constitutional Law and History, University College, London. Vol. I. Trials for Treason (1327—1660). Crown 8vo. cloth, 18*s*.

"A great and good service has been done to all students of history, and especially to those of them who look to it in a legal aspect, by Prof. J. W. Willis-Bund in the publication of a Selection of Cases from the State Trials. . . . Professor Willis-Bund has been very careful to give such selections from the State Trials as will best illustrate those points in what may be called the growth of the Law of Treason which he wishes to bring clearly under the notice of the student, and the result is, that there is not a page in the book which has not its own lesson. In all respects, so far as we have been able to test it, this book is admirably done."—Scotsman.

"Mr Willis-Bund has edited 'A Selection of Cases from the State Trials' which is likely to form a very valuable addition to the standard literature. . . . There can be no doubt, therefore, of the interest that can be found in the State trials. But they are large and unwieldy, and it is impossible for the general reader to come across them. Mr Willis-Bund has therefore done good service in making a selection that is in the first volume reduced to a commodious form."—The Examiner.

"Every one engaged, either in teaching or in historical inquiry, must have felt the want of such a book, taken from the unwieldy volumes of the State Trials."—Contemporary Review.

"This work is a very useful contribution to that important branch of the constitutional history of England which is concerned with the growth and development of the law of treason, as it may be gathered from trials before the ordinary courts. The author has very wisely distinguished these cases from those of impeachment for treason before Parliament, which he proposes to treat in a future volume under the general head 'Proceedings in Parliament.'"—The Academy.

"This is a work of such obvious utility that the only wonder is that no one should have undertaken it before. . . . In many respects therefore, although the trials are more or less abridged, this is for the ordinary student's purpose not only a more handy, but a more useful work than Howell's."—Saturday Review.

"Within the boards of this useful and handy book the student will find everything he can desire in the way of lists of cases given at length or referred to, and the statutes bearing on the text arranged chronologically. The work of selecting from Howell's bulky series of volumes has been done with much judgment, merely curious cases being excluded, and all included so treated as to illustrate some important point of constitutional law."—Glasgow Herald.

"Mr Willis-Bund gives a résumé of each case as it comes, only quoting from the reports where the words of the original are important in themselves, and very often stating the point decided in his own words. By following this method he is able to introduce extraneous matter which does not strictly belong to the case in hand, such as Acts of Parliament, and in that way to make his book both more intelligible and more interesting. In the several trials which we have read he has done his work very well. The book should be very interesting to the historical student. . . . From what we have seen of this book we have great pleasure in recommending it."—Guardian.

"Mr Bund's object is not the romance, but the constitutional and legal bearings of that great series of causes célèbres which is unfortunately not within easy reach of readers not happy enough to possess valuable libraries. . . . Of the importance of this subject, or of the want of a book of this kind, referring not vaguely but precisely to the grounds of constitutioual doctrines, both of past and present times, no reader of history can feel any doubt."—Daily News.

THE FRAGMENTS OF THE PERPETUAL EDICT OF SALVIUS JULIANUS, collected, arranged, and annotated by BRYAN WALKER, M.A. LL.D., Law Lecturer of St John's College, and late Fellow of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge. Crown 8vo., Cloth, Price 6*s*.

"This is one of the latest, we believe quite the latest, of the contributions made to legal scholarship by that revived study of the Roman Law at Cambridge which is now so marked a feature in the industrial life of the University. . . . In the present book we have the fruits of the same kind of thorough and well-ordered study which was brought to bear upon the notes to the Commentaries and the Institutes . . . Hitherto the Edict has been almost inaccessible to the ordinary English student, and such a student will be interested as well as perhaps surprised to find how abundantly the extant fragments illustrate and clear up points which have attracted his attention in the Commentaries, or the Institutes, or the Digest."—Law Times.

THE COMMENTARIES OF GAIUS AND RULES OF ULPIAN. (New Edition, revised and enlarged.)

With a Translation and Notes, by J. T. ABDY, LL.D., Judge of County Courts, late Regius Professor of Laws in the University of Cambridge, and BRYAN WALKER, M.A., LL.D., Law Lecturer of St John's College, Cambridge, formerly Law Student of Trinity Hall and Chancellor's Medallist for Legal Studies. Crown Octavo, 16*s*.

"As scholars and as editors Messrs Abdy and Walker have done their work well. For one thing the editors deserve special commendation. They have presented Gaius to the reader with few notes and those merely by way of reference or necessary explanation. Thus the Roman jurist is allowed to speak for himself, and the reader feels that he is really studying Roman law in the original, and not a fanciful representation of it."—Athenæum.

THE INSTITUTES OF JUSTINIAN, translated with Notes by J. T. ABDY, LL.D., Judge of County Courts, late Regius Professor of Laws in the University of Cambridge, and formerly Fellow of Trinity Hall; and BRYAN WALKER, M.A., LL.D., Law Lecturer of St John's College, Cambridge; late Fellow and Lecturer of Corpus Christi College; and formerly Law Student of Trinity Hall. Crown Octavo, 16*s*.

"We welcome here a valuable contribution to the study of jurisprudence. The text of the Institutes is occasionally perplexing, even to practised scholars, whose knowledge of classical models does not always avail them in dealing with the technicalities of legal phraseology. Nor can the ordinary dictionaries be expected to furnish all the help that is wanted. This translation will then be of great use. To the ordinary student, whose attention is distracted from the subject-matter by the difficulty of struggling through the language in which it is contained, it will be almost indispensable."—Spectator.

"The notes are learned and carefully compiled, and this edition will be found useful to students."—Law Times.

"Dr Abdy and Dr Walker have produced a book which is both elegant and useful."—Athenæum.

SELECTED TITLES FROM THE DIGEST, annotated by B. WALKER, M.A., LL.D. Part I. Mandati vel Contra. Digest XVII. 1. Crown 8vo., Cloth, 5*s*.

"This small volume is published as an experiment. The author proposes to publish an annotated edition and translation of several books of the Digest if this one is received with favour. We are pleased to be able to say that Mr Walker deserves credit for the way in which he has performed the task undertaken. The translation, as might be expected, is scholarly." Law Times.

HISTORY.

LIFE AND TIMES OF STEIN, OR GERMANY AND PRUSSIA IN THE NAPOLEONIC AGE,

by J. R. SEELEY, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History in the University of Cambridge, with Portraits and Maps. 3 Vols. Demy 8vo. 48*s.*

"If we could conceive anything similar to a protective system in the intellectual department, we might perhaps look forward to a time when our historians would raise the cry of protection for native industry. Of the unquestionably greatest German men of modern history—I speak of Frederick the Great, Goethe and Stein—the first two found long since in Carlyle and Lewes biographers who have undoubtedly driven their German competitors out of the field. And now in the year just past Professor Seeley of Cambridge has presented us with a biography of Stein which, though it modestly declines competition with German works and disowns the presumption of teaching us Germans our own history, yet casts into the shade by its brilliant superiority all that we have ourselves hitherto written about Stein.... In five long chapters Seeley expounds the legislative and administrative reforms, the emancipation of the person and the soil, the beginnings of free administration and free trade, in short the foundation of modern Prussia, with more exhaustive thoroughness, with more penetrating insight, than any one had done before."—Deutsche Rundschau.

"Dr Busch's volume has made people think and talk even more than usual of Prince Bismarck, and Professor Seeley's very learned work on Stein will turn attention to an earlier and an almost equally eminent German statesman. It is soothing to the national self-respect to find a few Englishmen, such as the late Mr Lewes and Professor Seeley, doing for German as well as English readers what many German scholars have done for us."—Times.

"In a notice of this kind scant justice can be done to a work like the one before us: no short résumé can give even the most meagre notion of the contents of these volumes, which contain no page that is superfluous, and none that is uninteresting. To understand the Germany of to-day one must study the Germany of many yesterdays, and now that study has been made easy by this work, to which no one can hesitate to assign a very high place among those recent histories which have aimed at original research."—Athenæum.

"The book before us fills an important gap in English—nay, European—historical literature, and bridges over the history of Prussia from the time of Frederick the Great to the days of Kaiser Wilhelm. It thus gives the reader standing ground whence he may regard contemporary events in Germany in their proper historic light. We congratulate Cambridge and her Professor of History on the appearance of such a noteworthy production. And we may add that it is something upon which we may congratulate England that on the especial field of the Germans, history, on the history of their own country, by the use of their own literary weapons, an Englishman has produced a history of Germany in the Napoleonic age far superior to any that exists in German."—Examiner.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO THE ROYAL INJUNCTIONS OF 1535, by JAMES BASS MULLINGER, M.A. Demy 8vo. cloth (734 pp.), 12*s.*

"We trust Mr Mullinger will yet continue his history and bring it down to our own day."—Academy.

"He has brought together a mass of instructive details respecting the rise and progress, not only of his own University, but of all the principal Universities of the Middle Ages..... We hope some day that he may continue his labours, and give us a history of the University during the troublous times of the Reformation and the Civil War."—Athenæum.

"Mr Mullinger's work is one of great learning and research, which can hardly fail to become a standard book of reference on the subject.... We can most strongly recommend this book to our readers."—Spectator.

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE OF ST JOHN THE EVANGELIST, by THOMAS BAKER, B.D., Ejected Fellow. Edited by JOHN E. B. MAYOR, M.A., Fellow of St John's. Two Vols. Demy 8vo. 24*s*.

"To antiquaries the book will be a source of almost inexhaustible amusement, by historians it will be found a work of considerable service on questions respecting our social progress in past times; and the care and thoroughness with which Mr Mayor has discharged his editorial functions are creditable to his learning and industry."—Athenæum.

"The work displays very wide reading, and it will be of great use to members of the college and of the university, and, perhaps, of still greater use to students of English history, ecclesiastical, political, social, literary and academical, who have hitherto had to be content with 'Dyer.'"—Academy.

"It may be thought that the history of a college cannot be particularly attractive. The two volumes before us, however, have something more than a mere special interest for those who have been in any way connected with St John's College, Cambridge: they contain much which will be read with pleasure by a far wider circle... The index with which Mr Mayor has furnished this useful work leaves nothing to be desired."—Spectator.

HISTORY OF NEPĀL,

translated by MUNSHĪ SHEW SHUNKER SINGH and PANDIT SHRĪ GUNĀNAND; edited with an Introductory Sketch of the Country and People by Dr D. WRIGHT, late Residency Surgeon at Kāthmāndū, and with facsimiles of native drawings, and portraits of Sir JUNG BAHĀDUR, the KING OF NEPĀL, &c. Super-royal 8vo. Price 21*s*.

"The Cambridge University Press have done well in publishing this work. Such translations are valuable not only to the historian but also to the ethnologist;.....Dr Wright's Introduction is based on personal inquiry and observation, is written intelligently and candidly, and adds much to the value of the volume. The coloured lithographic plates are interesting."—Nature.

"The history has appeared at a very opportune moment...The volume...is beautifully printed, and supplied with portraits of Sir Jung Bahadoor and others, and with excellent coloured sketches illustrating Nepaulese architecture and religion."—Examiner.

SCHOLAE ACADEMICAE:

Some Account of the Studies at the English Universities in the Eighteenth Century. By CHRISTOPHER WORDSWORTH, M.A., Fellow of Peterhouse; Author of "Social Life at the English Universities in the Eighteenth Century." Demy octavo, cloth, 15*s*.

"The general object of Mr Wordsworth's book is sufficiently apparent from its title. He has collected a great quantity of minute and curious information about the working of Cambridge institutions in the last century, with an occasional comparison of the corresponding state of things at Oxford. It is of course impossible that a book of this kind should be altogether entertaining as literature. To a great extent it is purely a book of reference, and as such it will be of permanent value for the historical knowledge of English education and learning."—Saturday Review.

"In the work before us, which is strictly what it professes to be, an account of university studies, we obtain authentic information upon the course and changes of philosophical thought in this country, upon the general estimation of letters, upon the relations of doctrine and science, upon the range and thoroughness of education, and we may add, upon the cat-like tenacity of life of ancient forms.... The particulars Mr Wordsworth gives us in his excellent arrangement are most varied, interesting, and instructive. Among the matters touched upon are Libraries, Lectures, the Tripos, the Trivium, the Senate House, the Schools, text-books, subjects of study, foreign opinions, interior life. We learn even of the various University periodicals that have had their day. And last, but not least, we are given in an appendix a highly interesting series of private letters from a Cambridge student to John Strype, giving a vivid idea of life as an undergraduate and afterwards, as the writer became a graduate and a fellow."—University Magazine.

"Only those who have engaged in like labours will be able fully to appreciate the sustained industry and conscientious accuracy discernible in every page. . . . Of the whole volume it may be said that it is a genuine service rendered to the study of University history, and that the habits of thought of any writer educated at either seat of learning in the last century will, in many cases, be far better understood after a consideration of the materials here collected."—Academy.

THE ARCHITECTURAL HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGES OF CAMBRIDGE, MISCELLANEOUS.

LECTURES ON TEACHING,

Delivered in the University of Cambridge in the Lent Term, 1880. By J. G. FITCH, Her Majesty's Inspector of Schools. Crown 8vo. cloth, 6*s.*

"All who are interested in the management of schools, and all who have made the profession of a teacher the work of their lives, will do well to study with care these results of a large experience and of wide observation. It is not, we are told, a manual of method; rather, we should say, it is that and much more. As a manual of method it is far superior to anything we have seen. Its suggestions of practical means and methods are very valuable; but it has an element which a mere text-book of rules for imparting knowledge does not contain. Its tone is lofty; its spirit religious; its ideal of the teacher's aim and life pure and good . . . The volume is one of great practical value. It should be in the hands of every teacher, and of every one preparing for the office of a teacher. There are many besides these who will find much in it to interest and instruct them, more especially parents who have children whom they can afford to keep at school till their eighteenth or nineteenth year."—The Nonconformist and Independent.

"In the sixteen chapters of which this handsome volume is made up, teachers will find a world of good advice from one who has brought unusual fitness and unflagging enthusiasm to the task of helping and encouraging them. The book contains the results of great experience, and the work itself is an admirable specimen of the art of teaching. To a thoughtful teacher the book will be invaluable . . . Mr Fitch has written a book which all, and not merely professional teachers interested in the training of the young, would do well to read . . . The writer has a noble conception of the dignity and responsibility of the teacher and of his profession."—Sheffield and Rotherham Independent.

"This book is the work of a man who is thoroughly acquainted with the subject of which he treats, and who brings together for its elucidation the results of wide reading, careful study, and practical experience. We can cordially recommend it to all who are engaged in the work of teaching, or who wish to understand the principles on which it should be conducted."—The Cambridge Independent Press.

The Cambridge Bible for Schools.

GENERAL EDITOR: J. J. S. PEROWNE, D.D., DEAN OF PETERBOROUGH.

THE want of an Annotated Edition of the BIBLE, in handy portions, suitable for School use, has long been felt.

In order to provide Text-books for School and Examination purposes, the CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS has arranged to publish the several books of the BIBLE in separate portions at a moderate price, with introductions and explanatory notes.

The Very Reverend J. J. S. PEROWNE, D.D., Dean of Peterborough, has undertaken the general editorial supervision of the work, and will be assisted by a staff of eminent coadjutors. Some of the books have already been undertaken by the following gentlemen:

Rev. A. CARR, M.A., Assistant Master at Wellington College.
Rev. T. K. CHEYNE, Fellow of Balliol College, Oxford.
Rev. S. COX, Nottingham.
Rev. A. B. DAVIDSON, D.D., Professor of Hebrew, Edinburgh.

I. GREEK.

THE ANABASIS OF XENOPHON, Book VII. With a Map and English Notes by Alfred Pretor, M.A., Fellow of St Catharine's College, Cambridge; Editor of Persius and Cicero ad Atticum Book I. Price 2s. 6d.

"In Mr Pretor's edition of the Anabasis the text of Kühner has been followed in the main, while the exhaustive and admirable notes of the great German editor have been largely utilised. These notes deal with the minutest as well as the most important difficulties in construction, and all questions of history, antiquity, and geography are briefly but very effectually elucidated."—The Examiner.

BOOKS I. III. IV. & V. By the same Editor. 2s. each.

BOOKS II. and VI. By the same Editor. Price 2s. 6d. each.

"Mr Pretor's 'Anabasis of Xenophon, Book IV.' displays a union of accurate Cambridge scholarship, with experience of what is required by learners gained in examining middle-class schools. The text is large and clearly printed, and the notes explain all difficulties. . . . Mr Pretor's notes seem to be all that could be wished as regards grammar, geography, and other matters."—The Academy.

"Another Greek text, designed it would seem for students preparing for the local examinations, is 'Xenophon's Anabasis,' Book II., with English Notes, by Alfred Pretor, M.A. The editor has exercised his usual discrimination in utilising the text and notes of Kuhner, with the occasional assistance of the best hints of Schneider, Vollbrecht and Macmichael on critical matters, and of Mr R. W. Taylor on points of history and geography. . . When Mr Pretor commits himself to Commentator's work, he is eminently helpful. . . Had we to introduce a young Greek scholar to Xenophon, we should esteem ourselves fortunate in having Pretor's text-book as our chart and guide."—Contemporary Review.

AGESILAUS OF XENOPHON. The Text revised with Critical and Explanatory Notes, Introduction, Analysis, and Indices. By H. Hailstone, M.A., late Scholar of Peterhouse, Cambridge, Editor of Xenophon's Hellenics, etc. Cloth. 2s. 6d.

LUCIANI SOMNIUM CHARON PISCATOR ET DE LUCTU, with English Notes by W. E. HEITLAND, M.A., Fellow of St John's College, Cambridge. New Edition, with Appendix. 3s. 6d.

II. LATIN.

M. T. CICERONIS DE AMICITIA. Edited by J. S. REID, M.L., Fellow of Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge. Price 3s.

"Mr Reid has decidedly attained his aim, namely, 'a thorough examination of the Latinity of the dialogue.' The revision of the text is most valuable, and comprehends sundry acute corrections. . . . This volume, like Mr Reid's other editions, is a solid gain to the scholarship of the country."—Athenæum.

"A more distinct gain to scholarship is Mr Reid's able and thorough edition of the De Amicitiâ of Cicero, a work of which, whether we regard the exhaustive introduction or the instructive and most suggestive commentary, it would be difficult to speak too highly. . . . When we come to the commentary, we are only amazed by its fulness in proportion to its bulk. Nothing is overlooked which can tend to enlarge the learner's general knowledge of Ciceronian Latin or to elucidate the text."—Saturday Review.

M. T. CICERONIS CATO MAJOR DE SENECTUTE. Edited by J. S. REID, M.L. Price 3s. 6d.

"The notes are excellent and scholarlike, adapted for the upper forms of public schools, and likely to be useful even to more advanced students."—Guardian.

M. T. CICERONIS ORATIO PRO ARCHIA POETA. Edited by J. S. REID, M.L. Price 1s. 6d.

"It is an admirable specimen of careful editing. An Introduction tells us everything we could wish to know about Archias, about Cicero's connexion with him, about the merits of the trial, and the genuineness of the speech. The text is well and carefully printed. The notes are clear and scholar-like. . . . No boy can master this little volume without feeling that he has advanced a long step in scholarship."—The Academy.

M. T. CICERONIS PRO L. CORNELIO BALBO ORATIO. Edited by J. S. REID, M.L. Fellow of Caius College, Cambridge. Price 1s. 6d.

"We are bound to recognize the pains devoted in the annotation of these two orations to the minute and thorough study of their Latinity, both in the ordinary notes and in the textual appendices."—Saturday Review.

M. T. CICERONIS PRO CN. PLANCIO ORATIO. Edited by H. A. HOLDEN, LL.D., Head Master of Ipswich School. Price 4s. 6d.

QUINTUS CURTIUS. A Portion of the History. (ALEXANDER IN INDIA.) By W. E. HEITLAND, M.A., Fellow and Lecturer of St John's College, Cambridge, and T. E. RAVEN, B.A., Assistant Master in Sherborne School. Price 3s. 6d.

"Equally commendable as a genuine addition to the existing stock of school-books is Alexander in India, a compilation from the eighth and ninth books of Q. Curtius, edited for the Pitt Press by Messrs Heitland and Raven. . . . The work of Curtius has merits of its own, which, in former generations, made it a favourite with English scholars, and which still make it a popular text-book in Continental schools. The reputation of Mr Heitland is a sufficient guarantee for the scholarship of the notes, which are ample without being excessive, and the book is well furnished with all that is needful in the nature of maps, indexes, and appendices."—Academy.

London: Cambridge Warehouse, 17 Paternoster Row.

P. OVIDII NASONIS FASTORUM LIBER VI. With a Plan of Rome and Notes by A. SIDGWICK, M.A. Tutor of Corpus Christi College, Oxford. Price 1*s.* 6*d.*

"Mr Sidgwick's editing of the Sixth Book of Ovid's Fasti furnishes a careful and serviceable volume for average students. It eschews 'construes' which supersede the use of the dictionary, but gives full explanation of grammatical usages and historical and mythical allusions, besides illustrating peculiarities of style, true and false derivations, and the more remarkable variations of the text."—Saturday Review.

"It is eminently good and useful. . . . The Introduction is singularly clear on the astronomy of Ovid, which is properly shown to be ignorant and confused; there is an excellent little map of Rome, giving just the places mentioned in the text and no more; the notes are evidently written by a practical schoolmaster."—The Academy.

GAI IULI CAESARIS DE BELLO GALLICO COMMENT. I. II. With English Notes and Map by A. G. PESKETT, M.A., Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge, Editor of Caesar De Bello Gallico, VII. Price 2*s.* 6*d.*

GAI IULI CAESARIS DE BELLO GALLICO COMMENTARIUS SEPTIMUS. With two Plans and English Notes by A. G. PESKETT, M.A. Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge. Price 2*s.*

"In an unusually succinct introduction he gives all the preliminary and collateral information that is likely to be useful to a young student; and, wherever we have examined his notes, we have found them eminently practical and satisfying. . . The book may well be recommended for careful study in school or college."—Saturday Review.

"The notes are scholarly, short, and a real help to the most elementary beginners in Latin prose."—The Examiner.

BOOKS IV. AND V. by the same Editor. Price 2*s.*

BOOKS III. AND VI. by the same Editor. [Preparing.

BEDA'S ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY, BOOKS III., IV., the Text from the very ancient MS. in the Cambridge University Library, collated with six other MSS. Edited, with a life from the German of EBERT, and with Notes, &c. by J. E. B. MAYOR, M.A., Professor of Latin, and J. R. LUMBY, D.D., Norrisian Professor of Divinity. Revised edition. Price 7*s.* 6*d.*

"To young students of English History the illustrative notes will be of great service, while the study of the texts will be a good introduction to Mediæval Latin."—The Nonconformist.

"In Bede's works Englishmen can go back to origines of their history, unequalled for form and matter by any modern European nation. Prof. Mayor has done good service in rendering a part of Bede's greatest work accessible to those who can read Latin with ease. He has adorned this edition of the third and fourth books of the "Ecclesiastical History" with that amazing erudition for which he is unrivalled among Englishmen and rarely equalled by Germans. And however interesting and valuable the text may be, we can certainly apply to his notes the expression, La sauce vaut mieux que le poisson. They are literally crammed with interesting information about early English life. For though ecclesiastical in name, Bede's history treats of all parts of the national life, since the Church had points of contact with all."—Examiner.

P. VERGILI MARONIS AENEIDOS LIBER VIII. Edited with Notes by A. SIDGWICK, M.A. Tutor of Corpus Christi College, Oxford. Cloth. 1*s.* 6*d.*

London: Cambridge Warehouse, 17 Paternoster Row.

BOOKS V., VI., VII., X., XI., XII. by the same Editor. 1s. 6d. each.

"Mr Arthur Sidgwick's 'Vergil, Aeneid, Book XII.' is worthy of his reputation, and is distinguished by the same acuteness and accuracy of knowledge, appreciation of a boy's difficulties and ingenuity and resource in meeting them, which we have on other occasions had reason to praise in these pages."—The Academy.

"As masterly in its clearly divided preface and appendices as in the sound and independent character of its annotations. . . . There is a great deal more in the notes than mere compilation and suggestion. . . . No difficulty is left unnoticed or unhandled."—Saturday Review.

"This edition is admirably adapted for the use of junior students, who will find in it the result of much reading in a condensed form, and clearly expressed."—Cambridge Independent Press.

M. T. CICERONIS ORATIO PRO L. MURENA, with English Introduction and Notes. By W. E. HEITLAND, M.A., Fellow and Classical Lecturer of St John's College, Cambridge. Second Edition, carefully revised. Small 8vo. Price 3s.

"Those students are to be deemed fortunate who have to read Cicero's lively and brilliant oration for L. Murena with Mr Heitland's handy edition, which may be pronounced 'four-square' in point of equipment, and which has, not without good reason, attained the honours of a second edition."—Saturday Review.

M. T. CICERONIS IN Q. CAECILIUM DIVINATIO ET IN C. VERREM ACTIO PRIMA. With Introduction and Notes by W. E. HEITLAND, M.A., and HERBERT COWIE, M.A., Fellows of St John's College, Cambridge. Cloth, extra fcp. 8vo. Price 3s.

LAZARE HOCHE—PAR ÉMILE DE BONNECHOSE. With Three Maps, Introduction and Commentary, by C. COLBECK, M.A., late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; Assistant Master at Harrow School. Price 2s.

HISTOIRE DU SIÈCLE DE LOUIS XIV PAR VOLTAIRE. Chaps. I.—XIII. Edited with Notes Philological and Historical, Biographical and Geographical Indices, etc. by GUSTAVE MASSON, B.A. Univ. Gallic., Officier d'Académie, Assistant Master of Harrow School, and G. W. PROTHERO, M.A., Fellow and Tutor of King's College, Cambridge. 2s. 6d.

"Messrs Masson and Prothero have, to judge from the first part of their work, performed with much discretion and care the task of editing Voltaire's Siècle de Louis XIV for the 'Pitt Press Series.' Besides the usual kind of notes, the editors have in this case, influenced by Voltaire's 'summary way of treating much of the history,' given a good deal of historical information, in which they have, we think, done well. At the beginning of the book will be found excellent and succinct accounts of the constitution of the French army and Parliament at the period treated of."—Saturday Review.

HISTOIRE DU SIÈCLE DE LOUIS XIV PAR VOLTAIRE. Chaps. XIV.—XXIV. With Three Maps of the Period, Notes Philological and Historical, Biographical and Geographical Indices, by G. MASSON, B.A. Univ. LE VERRE D'EAU. A Comedy, by SCRIBE. With a Biographical Memoir, and Grammatical, Literary and Historical Notes. By C. COLBECK, M.A., late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge; Assistant Master at Harrow School. Price 2s.

"It may be national prejudice, but we consider this edition far superior to any of the series which hitherto have been edited exclusively by foreigners. Mr Colbeck seems better to understand the wants and difficulties of an English boy. The etymological notes especially are admirable. . . . The historical notes and introduction are a piece of thorough honest work."—Journal of Education.

"Prussia under Frederick the Great, and France under the Directory, bring us face to face respectively with periods of history which it is right should be known thoroughly, and which are well treated in the Pitt Press volumes. The latter in particular, an extract from the world-known work of Madame de Staël on the French Revolution, is beyond all praise for the excellence both of its style and of its matter."—Times.

DIX ANNEES D'ÉXIL. LIVRE II. CHAPITRES 1—8. Par MADAME LA BARONNE DE STAËL-HOLSTEIN. With a Biographical Sketch of the Author, a Selection of Poetical Fragments by Madame de Staël's Contemporaries, and Notes Historical and Philological. By GUSTAVE MASSON. Price 2s.

"The choice made by M. Masson of the second book of the Memoirs of Madame de Staël appears specially felicitous. . . . This is likely to be one of the most favoured of M. Masson's editions, and deservedly so."—Academy.

Goethe's Knabenjahre. (1749—1759.) GOETHE'S BOYHOOD: being the First Three Books of his Autobiography. Arranged and Annotated by WILHELM WAGNER, Ph. D., late Professor at the Johanneum, Hamburg. Price 2s.

HAUFF. DAS WIRTHSHAUS IM SPESSART. Edited by A. SCHLOTTMANN, Ph.D., Assistant Master at Uppingham School. Price 3s. 6d.

"It is admirably edited, and we note with pleasure that Dr Schlottmann in his explanation always brings out the kinship of the English and German languages by reference to earlier or modern English and German forms as the case may be. The notes are valuable, and tell the student exactly what he will want to know, a merit by no means common."—Examiner.

"As the work abounds in the idiomatic expressions and phrases that are characteristic of modern German, there are few books that can be read with greater advantage by the English student who desires to acquire a thorough knowledge of conversational German. The notes, without being cumbersome, leave no real difficulty unexplained."—School Guardian.

"Certainly no more interesting book could be made the subject of examinations. The story of the First Crusade has an undying interest. The notes are, on the whole, good."—Educational Times.

A BOOK OF BALLADS ON GERMAN HISTORY. Arranged and Annotated by the same Editor. Price 2s.

"It carries the reader rapidly through some of the most important incidents connected with the German race and name, from the invasion of Italy by the Visigoths under their King Alaric, down to the Franco-German War and the installation of the present Emperor. The notes supply very well the connecting links between the successive periods, and exhibit in its various phases of growth and progress, or the reverse, the vast unwieldy mass which constitutes modern Germany."—Times.

DER STAAT FRIEDRICHS DES GROSSEN. By G. FREYTAG. With Notes. By the same Editor. Price 2s.

"Prussia under Frederick the Great, and France under the Directory, bring us face to face respectively with periods of history which it is right should be known thoroughly, and which are well treated in the Pitt Press volumes."—Times.

"Freytag's historical sketches and essays are too well known in England to need any commendation, and the present essay is one of his best. Herr Wagner has made good use of Carlyle's great work in illustration of his author."—Journal of Education.

LOCKE ON EDUCATION. With Introduction and Notes by the Rev. R. H. QUICK, M.A. Price 3s. 6d.

"Mr Quick has made the study of educational matters and the lives of educational reformers a speciality. He has given us an edition of Locke which leaves little to be desired. In addition to an introduction, biographical and critical, and numerous notes, there are two appendices containing Locke's scheme of working schools, and Locke's other writings on education. The passages in Locke bearing upon the physical training of children are annotated in harmony with modern science by Dr J. F. Payne. The book forms one of the Pitt Press Series, and its general get up is worthy of the University Press."—The Schoolmaster.

"The work before us leaves nothing to be desired. It is of convenient form and reasonable price, accurately printed, and accompanied by notes which are admirable. There is no teacher too young to find this book interesting; there is no teacher too old to find it profitable."—The School Bulletin, New York.

THE TWO NOBLE KINSMEN, edited with Introduction and Notes by the Rev. Professor SKEAT, M.A., formerly Fellow of Christ's College, Cambridge. Price 3s. 6d.

"This edition of a play that is well worth study, for more reasons than one, by so careful a scholar as Mr Skeat, deserves a hearty welcome."—Athenæum.

"Mr Skeat is a conscientious editor, and has left no difficulty unexplained."—Times.

BACON'S HISTORY OF THE REIGN OF KING HENRY VII. With Notes by the Rev. J. RAWSON LUMBY, D.D., Norrisian Professor of Divinity; Fellow of St Catharine's College. 3s.

SIR THOMAS MORE'S UTOPIA. With Notes by the Rev. J. RAWSON LUMBY, D.D., Norrisian Professor of Divinity; Fellow of St Catharine's College, Cambridge. Price 3s. 6d.

"To enthusiasts in history matters, who are not content with mere facts, but like to pursue their investigations behind the scenes, as it were, Professor Rawson Lumby has in the work now before us produced a most acceptable contribution to the now constantly increasing store of illustrative reading."—The Cambridge Review.

"To Dr Lumby we must give praise unqualified and unstinted. He has done his work admirably. Every student of history, every politician, every social reformer, every one interested in literary curiosities, every lover of English should buy and carefully read Dr Lumby's edition of the 'Utopia.' We are afraid to say more lest we should be thought extravagant, and our recommendation accordingly lose part of its force."—The Teacher.

"It was originally written in Latin and does not find a place on ordinary bookshelves. A very great boon has therefore been conferred on the general English reader by the managers of the Pitt Press Series, in the issue of a convenient little volume of More's Utopia not in the original Latin, but in the quaint English Translation thereof made by Raphe Robynson, which adds a linguistic interest to the intrinsic merit of the work. . . . All this has been edited in a most complete and scholarly fashion by Dr J. R. Lumby, the Norrisian Professor of Divinity, whose name alone is a sufficient warrant for its accuracy. It is a real addition to the modern stock of classical English literature."—Guardian.
